lurement, &c. Properly, As the fiſh is Entiſed by the bait to ſwallow the Hook; Entiſement to evil. (4) Conception of luſt; viz. A delightful accepting of the Entiſement by the Conſent of heart and will thereunto. (5) The Birth, or Bringing forth of ſin conceived; viz. into Act and Execution. (6) Finiſhing, or Compleating of Sin brought forth and Acted; viz. (a) Going on in an habitual courſe and cuſtome of Sinning, whereby the heart is more and more hardned therein. (7) Death, the wages of ſin. Bernard alſo notably ſets forth Sins ſubtilty and deceitfulneſs, gradually emboldning and hardning the heart in Sin. (a) See (ſaith he) the lapſe, yea fall of an Evil Conſcience, how by little and little, ſtep by ſtep it declines from God: and ſo deſcends into the deep, that the pit ſhuts her mouth upon it. (1) When a man accuſtomed to good grieveouſly ſinneth, it ſeems ſo importable to him, that he ſeems to go down into Hell alive. (2) In proceſs of time, It ſeems not importable, but Heavy: and betwixt importable and Heavy theres no ſmall deſcent. (3) A little after he judgeth it Light; and when he is beaten with frequent ſtripes, he feels not the wounds, heeds not the ſtripes, &c. (4) In a ſhort ſpace of time, he not only feels it not, but that which was bitter, both pleaſeth and becomes ſweet, and that which was ſharp is turned into ſweet. (5) Then it is brought into Cuſtome, that now it not only pleaſeth, but it daily pleaſeth, and he cannot contain himſelf. (6) And at laſt it cannot be pulled away, becauſe cuſtome is turned into Nature: and what was at firſt impoſſible to be done, is now impoſſible to be refrained. Thus he deſcends, yea falls from Jeruſalem to Jericho; Thus he paſſeth unto averſion and Hardneſs of Heart; here the Sinner ſtinks; here he is four-dayes-dead. Here the Stone put upon the Sepulcher admits not thoſe merciful divine rayes of light, &c. unleſs at any time the Mercifull God convert the Stony into a fleſhy heart. So he. Thus the Acquired hardneſs of Heart creeps upon the heart deceitfully and inſenſibly by Degrees. 3. Judicial Hardneſs of Heart, is when God in his juſt judgement gives up hardned impenitent Sinners unto their own Hardneſs, leaves them to themſelves and to Satan to be hardned in ſin more and more. This God doth; Not by infuſing any hardneſs, impenitency or wickedneſs into the Heart, Iam. 1. 13. But, (1) Partly By withholding of his ſoftning Grace, Renewing Grace, which God is not bound to give unto his Creature. Whereupon the Sinner falls by his own corruption: as a ruinous Houſe, when a prop is withheld, falls by his own weight. (2) Partly By (b) giving men up to the ſway and ſwinge of their own luſts. Then God takes off the chain from theſe mad corruptions; and ſeeing they will be vile and hard-hearted, they ſhall be ſo. (3) Partly by laying before men thus forſaken of God ſuch means of Reſtraints, as extreamly (c) irritate and exaſperate Corruption. As the damming up of a torrent makes it ſwell more outragiouſly. As a Lyon or Tyger rageth ſo much the more in chains. (4) Partly by denying them even thoſe means of Reſtraint, Hoſ. 4. 14. Iſa. 1. 5. (5) Partly By blaſting blasting to them the very means of Grace, (whereby others are softned) to their obduration. The very self-same Doctrine and Miracles of Christ that softned and saved the rest of the Apostles, hardned and damned Judas. The same Sun which softens wax, hardens clay: The same Beams and showers, which make a garden smel more fragrantly, make a dunghil stink more odiously. This Natural, Acquired and Iudicial Hardness of heart, is Reigning Hardness, proper to Carnal men. This is taken away, when the stony heart is removed, and the Heart of flesh conferred. II. Hardness of Heart not Reigning, but arising from Reliques of sin, and infirmity of Grace, may be in the best and most tender hearted penitents. The Lord Christ once and again ([d]) reproves his Apostles for the Hardness of their hearts. Such feel the stone in their own hearts, lament and mourn under the sense of their hardness: which is a great evidence of Softness and Tenderness of Heart; for sense of hardness cannot come from a principle of Hardness, but of Tenderness, no more then a Stone can feel it self to be a Stone, or a dead man perceive himself to be dead. There is some true sense, where there is a complaint of numness: Some true life, where there is a complaint of deadness. The Heart of stone, all reigning hardness, may be removed; and yet some reliques of hardness may remain even where there is an heart of flesh.

([d]) Mark 6. 52. & 8. 17.

(5) A Stone is very impenetrable, especially some sorts of Stones, as the Iron-stone, Peble, Flint, Marble, Adamant; they will hardly receive any stamp or impression, Hammers and instruments of Steel will hardly pierce them: So the heart of stone is a very impenetrable heart, will not easily be pierced or wounded, no not with the Hammer of Gods threats and judgements, will not easily receive any sacred impression from God and his Spirit. How ([e]) many dreadfull blows did God strike upon Pharoah's heart of stone by all his Iudgements? yet his heart remained an impenetrable stone notwithstanding all. Nor Promises, nor Threats; nor Mercies, nor Judgements will work upon an hard heart.

([e]) Exod. 7. 13. & 9. 12. & 10. 1, 20, 27. & 11. 10. & 14. 8.

(6) A Stone is inflexible, will break to powder rather then bow or bend; Iron, or Steel, or Brass, though hard and strong, yet by fire they may be made to bend as the workman pleaseth, and capable of any form or impression, still remaining Iron, Steel or Brass: So the heart of stone is a froward, perverse, crooked, inflexible Heart, a wilfull, stubborn, rebellious, intractable Heart. Pharoahs hard heart ([f]) would not be bowed or inclined to let Israel go: and when he was forced to release them, in his hardness of heart he pursued after them, to his own destruction.

([f]) Exod. 11. 10. & 14. 8.

(7) Finally, A Stone is a dry, sapless piece of Condensed Earth, it affords little or no juyce, or moysture; hence the Proverb of Squeezing water out of a Flint or Pumex; insomuch that it was a very great miracle which God wrought for Israel, ([g]) when he Turned the Rock into a standing water, the Flint into a Fountain of waters: So the heart of Stone is a dry, ſapleſs heart, no drop of the oyl of Grace is there, no drop of penitential water can ſpring thence. (h) — But after thine hardneſs and impenitent heart, treaſureſt up unto thy ſelf wrath againſt the day of wrath.

This is the Heart of ſtone which God promiſeth to take away; and theſe are the Properties or Characters of it. So that when God takes away this Heart of ſtone and gives an heart of fleſh, Converts a man from Hardneſs to Tenderneſs of Heart; He may then be ſaid, even (i) of Stones to raiſe up children unto Abraham.

Queſt. 2. What the Heart of fleſh is?

Anſw. An Heart of Fleſh, 1. Doth not here imply a carnal ſinful heart or Soul, that is in a ſtate of ſin and fleſh; As the (k) word [Fleſh] is frequently uſed in the New Teſtament, for the Corruption of Nature, In which ſenſe [Fleſh] is oppoſed to [Spirit;] 2. But it implies a ſoft tender flexible tractable heart or Soul, in reference to God and Spirituals. The word [Fleſh] being here oppoſed to [Stone.] So that by the Heart of Stone already deſcribed, we may eaſily diſcern what the Heart of Fleſh is, viz.

(1) Fleſh is Naturally a living Subſtance; Fleſh is the fitteſt Receptacle of Life, Senſe, Motion, &c. So the Heart of fleſh, is ſpiritually, a living heart, Not a dead heart; It hath in it the true ſupernatural principle of ſpiritual Life, Senſe, Motion, Activity, &c. towards God and all the waies of Godlineſs. Its (l) informed, animated and quickned by the Spirit of God, and accordingly led by him.

(l) Rom. 8. 9, 10, 11, 13, 14.

(2) Fleſh, living fleſh, hath warmth and heat in it, A Natural heat wherein life doth partly conſiſt: So the heart of fleſh hath holy warmth and heat in it, a ſpiritual flame of zeal and fervency, (m) required in Gods people. David, who ſhed ſo many tears for his own and others ſins, Pſal. 6. 6, 7. & 38. 3, 4, 5, 6. Pſal. 51. with Pſal. 119. 136. was ſo warm-hearted towards Religion, that the zeal of Gods houſe did even eat him up, Pſal. 69. 9. (3) Fleſh, living fleſh, is of a more noble and excellent Conſtitution then any inanimate body, doth not only move downwards like a ſtone, but can move upwards, forwards, every way: So the heart of fleſh thats ſpiritually ſoftned, hath a more excellent heavenly Conſtitution then the heart of ſtone, and tends upwards towards God, notably preſſeth forwards in all heavenly wayes. How (n) vehemently did the fleſhy-hearted David thirſt after God, his Ordinances, and all his wayes! How did he ſoar aloft in high celeſtial Contemplations, Affections and Devotions! Holy Paul after his heart of ſtone was removed, and the heart of fleſh conferred upon him, How did he he (o) preſs towards the mark, &c. Yea (p) he laboured more abundantly then all the Apoſtles, yea he attained (q) to ſuch Viſions and Revelations, that he was caught up into the third heaven, which is Paradiſe (in the body or out of the body he could not tell) where he heard things which were not poſsible for him to utter.

(4) Fleſh is a ſoft and tender ſubſtance: So the heart of fleſh is a ſoft and tender heart; not a cloſe compacted obdurate Spirit, but an open ſpirit, quickly wounded and pained. But here, to avoid miſtakes, Conſider, That Fleſhineſs, Softneſs, or Tenderneſs of heart is Twofold, Carnal and Spiritual. I. Carnal Softneſs, Tenderneſs, or Fleſhineſs of heart, is that which may be in a meer Carnal man, in whom the heart of ſtone ſtill remains. And this is threefold eſpecially, viz. Natural, Worldly, and Hypocritical: 1. Natural fleſhineſs and ſoftneſs of heart, is nothing elſe but a meer natural diſpoſition or inclination unto ſoftneſs, tenderneſs and relenting of Soul, ariſing from the natural frame, temper or conſtitution of the bodily heart, eyes, &c. which is in ſome more, in others leſs tender. This Natural tenderneſs diſcovers it ſelf upon Occaſion of any Pathetical Object; ſuch a ſoftly-compoſed heart, is among women rather then men, &c. quickly receives impreſsions of grief, and utters it ſelf in Expreſsions of tears. Such can weep at a Pathetical Sermon, and weep at a Pathetical Tragedy. 2. Worldly fleſhineſs and ſoftneſs of heart, is that which takes its riſe from ſome worldly ground, or occaſion, &c. This may be in the godly and in the wicked. Eſau (r) ſought for Repentance carefully with tears: that is, by tears he ſought to move his Father Iſaac to repentance, and change of his mind, about the bleſſing. Jacob (s) bitterly mourned for Joſeph, ſuppoſing him to be torn in pieces and devoured by ſome wild beaſt. Davids heart did (t) bleed for Abſalom. Rachel (u) wept for her children, and would not be comforted. But all theſe were worldly ſorrows, and (x) worldly ſorrow worketh death. 3. Hypocritical fleſhineſs or ſoftneſs of heart, is nothing elſe but a Counterfeit tenderneſs of heart pretended for Religion: As in (y) Ahab, and the (z) Phariſees. Now all theſe expreſſions of fleſhineſs and tenderneſs, meerly ariſing from Natural Principles, were only Natural: as the waters in the Pipe cannot riſe higher then the head of the Spring. Theſe are not here underſtood. II. Spiritual Fleſhneſs, Softneſs or Tenderneſs of heart, is (a) That ſupernatural fruit of the Spirit of Grace upon the hearts of true Converts, wounding and melting their Souls kindly for ſin, eſpecially as being againſt ſo good a God; So that they can finde no ſatisfactory Reſt or Refreſhment in themſelves or any other Creature, but only in the favour of God pardoning and reconciling them to himſelf in Ieſus Chriſt. This is the right (b) Pricking in the heart. This is the true (c) Godly ſorrow working repentance never to be repented of. This is the true (d) brokenneſs and contrition of Spirit, which is the ſacrifices of God, which God will not deſpiſe. Now this is (1) Habitual. (2) Actual. 1. Habitual ſoftneſs neſs or Tenderneſs, is that Holy Habit or Principle of Contrition or Tender-heartedneſs for ſin, which at firſt Converſion is wrought in the heart by the Spirit of God, whereby the ſoul is diſpoſed deeply to mourn and be in bitterneſs for offending God, and is wrought up unto unfeigned Repentance, Zech. 12. 10, 11, 12. Acts 2. 35, 36, 37. 2 Cor. 7. 10. 2. Actual ſoftneſs, or Tender-heartedneſs, is the Actual exerting, putting forth or expreſſing of this ſoftneſs of heart in (e) relenting for ſin upon particular Occaſions: As did David (f) for his Fall, Joſiah for the ſins of the land, (g) Peter for denying of his Maſter, &c. This Spiritual tender frame of heart; this Habitual tenderneſs, diſpoſed to expreſs it ſelf penitentially upon all juſt occaſions, is the Heart of Fleſh here promiſed.

This ſoftneſs, tenderneſs, fleſhineſs of heart is a moſt excellent Qualification of the Heart. For, 1. This is the Sacrifices of God, To him inſtead of all, and beyond all Ceremonial Sacrifices. A broken heart is more pleaſing to God, then all Burnt-offerings, Sin-offerings, Meat-offerings, Drink-offerings, &c. Pſal. 51. 16, 17. 2. This broken and contrite Spirit God will not deſpiſe, Pſal. 51. 17. That is, the Lord will highly prize and make great reckoning of a contrite ſpirit. A Meioſis. 3. This broken ſpirit is preferred by God before all meer Moral performances and Phariſaical perfections whatſoever, Luke 18. 10. to 15. 4. God hath a ſpecial eye and peculiar reſpect to a tender heart, to a poor and contrite Spirit, Iſa. 66 1, 2. 2 Chron. 34. 27, 28. 2 Chron. 33. 12, 13. Luke 7. 36. to the end. 5. (5) Fleſh, being very ſoft, tender and porous, is eaſily pierced and wounded, is exceeding penetrable; not only ſwords and ſpears, but the leaſt prick with a thorn or ſcratch with a bryer makes it bleed. So the Heart of fleſh is very penetrable, quickly pierced with Godly ſorrow and contrition, and bleeds in penitential tears. Good (i) Joſiah melted at hearing the threats and curſes of the Law read: When (k) Phiraoh melted not under all Gods plagues inflicted on him. Yea (l) Chriſts very look upon Peter after his denial of him, wounded Peters heart; ſo that he went out and wept bitterly. Yea more then that, Davids heart was ſo quickly pierced, that having numbred the people (m) his own heart ſmote him: a fleſhy heart hath a relenting principle within it ſelf, that makes it quickly bleed at the leaſt wound of ſin and Temptation.

(6) Fleſh is ſoft and Flexible: So the Heart of fleſh is a ſoft pliant flexible heart, will take any impreſſion from God, will bend and bow as God ſhall pleaſe. Peters (n) hearers when they were pricked in their hearts, they preſently cry out, to the Apoſtles, Men and brethren what ſhall we do? As if they had ſaid, we are ready to be, and do any thing that the Lord would have us, that we may be delivered from our ſin-guiltineſs: oh direct us what way to take. (7) Finally, Fleſh hath moiſture in it, blood and other humors in it, which are apt to flow forth when it is pierced and wounded: So the heart of fleſh hath a moiſture in it, when it is pierced for ſin, how doth it bleed and melt into tears of repentance! As in the inſtances forementioned, David, Joſiah, Peter, &c. is evident.

This is the Heart of fleſh which here God promiſeth to give his people.

Queſt. 3. Whether none beſides God alone can take away the Heart of Stone, and give the Heart of Fleſh?

Anſw. This Queſtion is for Subſtance the ſame with that 3. Queſt. at large formerly handled, viz. Whether God alone give a new heart, and put a new ſpirit within his people. Thither therefore I refer the Reader for his ſatisfaction. Eſpecially conſidering that this Heart of Fleſh is one Property or perfection in this New heart and New Spirit.

Queſt. 4. How doth God take away the Heart of Stone and give the Heart of fleſh?

Anſw. God takes away the Heart of Stone, and gives the Heart of fleſh, divers waies, and uſually by ſundry gradual Acts.

(1) Divers waies. viz. 1. Efficaciouſly, by his own Spirit, that Spirit of Grace; deſtroying ſtonyneſs, and infuſing ſoftneſs of heart in the great work of Renovation and Converſion, Ezek. 36. 26, 27. Tit. 3. 5. Zech. 12. 10, 11, 12, 13, 14. 2. Inſtrumentally, (1) Sometimes by the Furnace of Afflictions, thawing and melting their obdurate Stony hearts. The furnace melts and diſſolves even Stones of yron and ſteel. Manaſſes himſelf was ſoftned, and humbled himſelf greatly under his Affliction, 2 Chron. 33. 12, 13. ſo, the Prodigal, Luke 15. 11. to 20. The Convert thief upon the Croſs, had his Croſs ſo ſanctified to him, that of a Reviler of Chriſt, he became a Juſtifier of Chriſt, and a Condemner of himſelf, Mat. 27. 44. with Luke 23. 39, 40, 41, 42, 43. (2) Sometimes, By the overcoming ſtreams of Love and Mercy: Suppling inſinuating Oyl in ſome Caſes pierceth deeper then the kneeneſt vinegar. (q) Then ſhall ye remember your own evil waies, and your doings which were not Good, and ſhall loath your ſelves in your own ſight, for your iniquities, and for your abominations. Then! When? (r) When God ſhould ſhould have poured upon them the ſtreams of promiſed Mercies, Spiritual and Temporal: Then they ſhould loath themſelves, &c. (3) Moſt ordinarily, by the word Preached, Acts 2. 37, 38, &c. & 9. 4, 5, 6. This (f) is as fire to melt, An Hammer to Break, and A ſword to penetrate the moſt obdurate heart of ſtone. (f) Jer. 23. 29. Eph. 6. 17.

(q) Ezek. 36. 31.

(r) Ver. 25. to 31.

(2) By ſundry Gradual Acts. God could in a Moment remove the Heart of Stone and give an Heart of Fleſh: but ordinarily, working by means, he proceeds gradually, ſtep by ſtep. As, 1. God ſmites the heart of Stone with ſharp rebukes, with word-rebukes, 2 Chron. 33. 10, &c. Acts 2. 23, 36, &c. and 9. 4, &c. with Rod-Rebukes, 2 Chron. 33. 11, 12, 13. Acts 9. 4, 8, 9. As Moſes with his Rod ſmote the Rock thrice before the waters guſhed out: So God ſmites the Rocky heart before it relent or bleed, not only once or twice, but frequently. 2. Having ſmitten the heart, he Awakens and opens it by Conviction. He Convinceth it of its own ſinfulneſs and vileneſs, John 16. 9. Acts 2. 23, 36, &c. Iob 36. 8, 9. This Conviction was in ſome ſort upon Judas, Mat. 27. 3, 4, 5. And it notably awakens and opens the impenitent brawny and ſtony heart. 3. Having awakened the Heart by Conviction, he wounds the Heart with Compunction, remorſe and Contrition. Thus Peters Hearers, after Conviction were pricked in their Hearts, Acts 2. 37. They were punctually wounded as it were in every part and point of their hearts, as with ſo many ſwords or daggers. Yet this Contrition reached not up to true Repentance, the Apoſtle afterwards putting them upon repentance, Ver. 38. Theſe three degrees may be in Carnal men and hypocrites as well as in true believers. 4. Having wounded the heart of ſtone by Contrition, He New-principleth the Heart with the Spirit of Grace and Renovation, and ſo laies a foundation of ſoftning and ſuppling the Heart of Stone. This is a ſupernatural Principle of ſoftneſs peculiar only to the Elect: By this the heart of fleſh is created, and the heart of ſtone removed fundamentally. Zech. 12. 10, &c. Tit. 3. 5. 5. Having principled the Heart with a Spirit of Grace, the Root of ſoftneſs of Heart, He directs the eye of the Heart and ſoul affectingly to look upon its ſins peculiarly as againſt Chriſt, Zech. 12. 10, &c. Iohn 16. 8, 9. Acts 2. 35, 36, 37. Now to look upon ſin, as peculiarly againſt ſuch a Saviour; As Neglecting and contemning Chriſt the only Redemy againſt ſin, yea, As Piercing and wounding Chriſt with all his ſufferings, Iſa. 53. 4, 5, 6. This muſt needs deeply affect and wound the heart, and overcome the Spirit by the love of Jeſus Chriſt. 6. Having turned the eye of the Soul to look upon him whom it hath pierced, He kindly thaws and melts the heart into a flood of ſincere godly ſorrow and mourning for all Sin, as againſt ſuch a Saviour, Zech. 12, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14. 2 Cor. 7. 9, 10, 11. 7. Having drencht the Soul in godly ſorrow for ſin, He works up the heart to a ſincere and through repentance from ſin, abhorring ſin, and it ſelf for ſin, and for time to come declining all Evil, and all ap-rance of evil, with all fear, care, vigilancy and tenderneſs of heart, 2 Cor. 7. 9, 10, 11. Ezek. 36. 31. Thus God removes the heart of ſtone, and gives an heart of fleſh.

Queſt. 5. Laſtly, How may a man know whether God hath removed this Heart of Stone, and beſtowed upon him this Heart of Fleſh?

Anſw. A man may diſcover this divers waies. As,

(1) By the Removal of the Properties of the Heart of ſtone. If they be removed: The Heart of Stone is taken away. Theſe Properties are deſcribed already in Queſt 1. about this particular.

(2) By the Preſence of the Properties of the Heart of Fleſh; laid down alſo in Queſt. 2. Where the true Properties and Characters of the Heart of Fleſh are; there the Heart of Fleſh is.

(3) By Gods way of Proceeding with a man in Removing the Heart of Stone, and Conferring the Heart of Fleſh. This is alſo deſcribed in Queſt. 4. Try whether God hath proceeded in ſuch Gradual Acts and ſteps with thee to mollifie thine Heart: and this Efficaciouſly by his Spirit; Inſtrumentally by his Afflictions, Mercies, and Word.

(4) By the (t) Aſſociates and Companions of an Heart of Fleſh or broken ſpirit. As, 1. A Spirit of Prayer and ſupplication familiarly accompanies an heart of fleſh, Zech. 12. 10, &c. Luke 15. 17, 18. Acts 9. 11. Luke 22. 44. with Heb. 5. 7. A broken Spirit is a Praying Spirit. 2. Humility and Poverty of Spirit. A broken heart of fleſh is an Humble Heart. Iſa. 57. 15. and 66. 2. 3. Love to Jeſus Chriſt. An heart of fleſh is tenderly affectionate, and entirely loving to Jeſus Chriſt, who was broken and bruiſed for our iniquities, Zech. 12. 10, 11, 12, 13, 14. Luke 7. 37, 38, 44. to 49. Yea Chriſt binds up the broken hearted, Iſa. 61. 1, 2, &c. with Luke 4. 18, 19. 4. Obedience. An heart of fleſh is a Tractable Obediential Heart, Ezek. 11 19, 20. and 36. 26, 27. Acts 9. 6. and 2. 37. It can ſay as Auguſtine, (u) Enable me to do what thou commandeſt: and command me to do what thou wilt. But all theſe Particulars I have (x) elſewhere more fully opened: there ſee. Now an Heart of Stone may be diſcovered by its Contrary Companions, viz. Prayerleſsneſs. Pride. Diſaffection to Chriſt. Diſobedience to God.

(5) Finally, By the Adjuncts of a broken contrite Heart of Fleſh. 1. A Tender fleſhy heart grieves and mourns for the ſins of others, eſpecially for the publike ſins of the times abounding. As David, Pſal. 119. 158, 53, 136. Joſiah, 2 Chron. 34. 19, 20, 21, 27. Thoſe marked Mourners, Ezek. 9 4. 2. A tender fleſhy heart hath cleareſt and ſaddeſt apprehenſions of its own ſinfulneſſes, As thoſe in Zech. 12. 10, 11, 12, 13, 14. David, Pſal. 51. 3, 4, 5, 8. Paul, Rom. 7. 24, 9, 10, 11. 1 Tim. 1. 13, 15. 3. A tender contrite fleſhy heart is moſt perplexed at ſin, as againſt God, as againſt Jeſus Chriſt, Pſal. 51. 4. Zech. 12. 10, 11, 12, &c. 4. A tender fleſhy heart trembleth at Gods Word, Iſa. 66. 2. and at Gods Rod, Ezr. 10. 9. 2 Chron. 34. 27. 5. A tender fleſhy heart kindly wounded for ſin, ſets ſpeedily and ſeriouſly about a real Reformation. As Peter, Mat. 29. 75. with Luke 22. 62. Paul, Acts 9. 20. Theſe things I do but briefly point at, becauſe (y) elſwhere in a Sermon I have more fully inſiſted upon them: and yet I do mention them, becauſe that Sermon may perhaps be very ſcarce. Now an heart of ſtone hath quite contrary Adjuncts and Properties; Rejoyceth in, rather then mourns for, the ſins of others, Rom. 1. ult. Grieves leaſt at its own ſinfulneſs. Is not troubled at ſin as againſt God and Jeſus Chriſt. Hardens it ſelf againſt both Gods Word and Rod. And hates to be Reformed. By theſe particulars we may diſcover notably whether the Heart of ſtone be taken from us, and the Heart of fleſh conferred upon us.

4. Penitentialneſs of Heart. This is intimated in divers expreſſions having reference to this Covenant; (z) ——Then ſhall ye remember your own evil wayes, and your doings that were not good, and ſhall loath your ſelves in your own ſight, for your iniquities, and for your abominations. (a) ——Neither ſhall they defile themſelves any more with their Idols, nor with their deteſtable things, nor with any of their tranſgreſſions: For I will ſave them out of all their dwelling-places, wherein they have ſinned, and will cleanſe them; ſo ſhall they be my people, and I will be their God. (b) ——For they ſhall return unto me with their whole heart. In which paſſages, compared together, note how their Hearty Repentance is deſcribed, I. By the Occaſional Ground and Riſe of it, viz.. The manifold Acts of Divine Grace and Mercy towards them, In bringing them from Babylon to Sion; In enriching them with many Spiritual and Temporal bleſſings: Then ſhall ye remember, &c. Ezek. 36. 24. to 32. As if he had ſaid, when I ſhall thus have redeemed you, and furniſhed you with ſuch and ſuch ſtreams of mercies on every ſide, Then your hearts ſhall be ſo convinced and overcome with my Expreſſions of kindneſſes towards you, that you cannot chuſe but have kindly impreſſions of Repentance for your ſins upon your hearts. Nothing in the world ſo kindly and effectually wounds and melts the heart for ſin, as the loving-kindneſſes and mercies of that God towards us againſt whom we have ſinned. II. By certain gradual Acts of Repentance. As, 1. Remembrance of their own evil wayes and doings. Impenitency forgets: but Repentance (c) remembers and cals to mind iniquities, laies them afreſh before the open view of the Conſcience, though acted long ago; and laies them to heart. 2. Self-loathing, and Self-abhorring for their iniquities and abominations. The Hebrew phraſe is very Emphaticall: And ye ſhall-cuttingly-loath your ſelves in your faces for your iniquities, and for your abominations. The word word נקטתם Nekotothem, ye-ſhall-cuttingly loath-your ſelves, is variouſly rendered. By Junius, (d) ye ſhall be a loathing to your ſelves. By Pagnin, (e) And ye ſhall judge your ſelves in your ſight worthy to be cut off, for, &c. By Montanus, (f) And ye ſhall reprobate your ſelves in your faces. The word קוט Koot, which is the Root of it, properly ſignifies, To caſt-away, to abominate, or to be cut in pieces with trouble, offence, tediouſneſs, &c. Hence our Engliſh word [Cut] may be well derived. And in the New Teſtament (as Mercerus hath well noted) it is rendered, Sometimes πεσοσκοπτω, I was offended, or I was grieved, Heb. 3. 10. from Pſal. 95. 10. Sometimes ἐτροποφορησεν αὐτοὺς —— He ſuffered-their-manners in the wilderneſs (our Tranſlation hath in the Margent, perhaps for ἐτεροφορησεν, As a Nurſe beareth, or feedeth her child) Acts 13. 18. from Pſal. 95. 10. Sometimes by διαπριεσθαι Diſſecari, To be cut-aſunder, Acts 5. 33. and 7. 54. So that, by this word God intimates, how his people ſhould be cut and wounded for their ſins, to the utter loathing and abhorring of themſelves for them. True godly ſorrow and repentance for ſin, makes the Sinner very deſpicable and abominable in his own ſight. The penitent Soul, moſt exactly knowing his own ſinfulneſs, hath more mean and abject thoughts of himſelf then of any other, or then any other can have of him. The Penitent Publican, (h) Would not lift up his eyes to heaven, but ſtood afar off, ſmote his breaſt, and ſaid, God be merciſull to me a Sinner. Job repenting (i) abhorred himſelf as in duſt and aſhes. The Penitent woman (k) applies her ſelf with her tears, her hair, her kiſſes, her oyntment, to the very feet of Chriſt. The Prodigall repenting, confeſſeth to his Father, (l) I am no more worthy to be called thy ſon, make me as one of thine hired Servants. Penitent Paul confeſſeth himſelf to be (m) leſs then the leaſt of all Saints, but (n) chief of Sinners. That pious, holy and penitent Martyr Mr. John Bradford, did ſo extreamly loath himſelf for his own ſinfulneſs, that in the cloſe of his Epiſtles to his Chriſtian friends he was (o) wont to ſtile himſelf; The ſinfull John Bradford: Miſerimus peccator John Bradford: —— A very hypocrite John Bradford: —— A very painted hypocrite John Bradford. —— The moſt miſerable hard-hearted unthankfull ſinner John Bradford. 3. Utter Averſion from all their ſins. Neither ſhall they defile themſelves any more with their Idols, nor with their deteſtable things, nor with any of their tranſgreſſions, Ezek. 37. 23. Then ſin is truly repented of, when it is forſaken; and never till then. 4. Cordial Converſion to God. For, they ſhall return unto me with their whole heart, Jer. 24. 7. This is the compleating Act of Repentance, to (p) turn even unto God. III. The Integrity or Entireneſs of their Repentance: 1. In averſion from ſin; That they ſhall not defile themſelves any more —— with any of their Tranſgreſſions. 2. In Converſion to God; That they ſhall return to him with their whole heart. Heartily, without diſſimulation: Entirely, with the whole heart, without reſervation.

This is that Penitential frame of Heart and Courſe, which God here

5. Oneneſs of Heart and way. This is a fifth notable Influence or Fruit of the Spirit promiſed in this Covenant to the Captive Jews. (t) —— And I will give them one heart, And I will put a new ſpirit within you, &c. (u) —And they ſhall be my people, and I will be their God. And I will give them one heart, and one way, that they may fear me for ever, for the good of them, and of their children after them. And I will make an everlaſting Covenant with them, &c. This Oneneſs of Heart and Way, here promiſed in this Covenant, is deſcribed in theſe Scriptures, 1. By the Efficient Cauſe, or Auther thereof; viz. God and his Spirit; I will give them one heart and one way, —I will put a new ſpirit within you. This oneneſs of heart and way therefore is not at all of our ſelves; it is meerly of God. For (as (x) Calvin notes) It were a needleſs and abſurd Promiſe, For God to ſay he would give that which is our own already, and which every one can conferr upon himſelf. God takes to himſelf the ſole glory of beſtowing it. 2. By the Nature of it, which is, (1) Partly Inward; One heart. (2) Partly Outward; One way. Calvin thinks, that from this place Paul borrowed that expreſſion; It is God that worketh in you both to will and to do, of his good pleaſure, Phil. 2.13. One heart: Theres to will; and becauſe the heart is the ſeat of the affections, it implies alſo the Affections Conſenting. One way: Theres the Outward execution, and Effect of the will reduced to act. Oneneſs of heart, without Oneneſs of way, is fruitleſs: Oneneſs of way without Oneneſs of heart, is but hypocritical. 3. By the end of it, which is twofold, viz. (1) Immediate, That they may fear me for ever. This End ſpecificates the former Oneneſs of heart and way, and declares of what kind or ſort it is. Not any Sinful confederacy or Combination in evil, not any meer Natural, Moral or Civil Oneneſs of heart and way: But a Religious ſpiritual ſupernatural Oneneſs of heart and way. (2) Mediate; For the good of them and their children after them. Oneneſs in heart and way in matters of Religion, brings welfare both upon Parents and their poſterity.

The chief thing here to be Opened, is; The nature of this Oneneſs of heart and way, which is the Bleſſing here Promiſed. To this purpoſe Conſider, 1. What is here meant by Heart and Way? 2. What the Oneneſs of Heart and Way is: and wherein it Conſiſts? 3. How choice and excellent a bleſſing this Oneneſs of Heart and Way is? 4. What Helps and Directions may beſt further the Obtaining and Maintaining of this Oneneſs of Heart and Way among Gods people?

Queſt. 1. What is here meant by Heart and Way?

Anſw.

Answ. Not to mention the various uses and Acceptations of Heart, and Way, in Scripture, thus I conceive: Heart and Way are here mentioned both of them in reference to Religion and the fear of God, Ier. 32. 39. Therefore we must understand them to be an Heart and Way religiously Qualified. Again, Heart and Way are here opposed one to another. Therefore, By Heart, I understand the whole Soul, with all the faculties thereof, Mind, Conscience, Will, and Affections, graciously Qualified; For, Heart, thus taken in its latitude, is most directly opposed to Way, and it seems to import all the inward Habits, Principles, Qualifications and Elicit Acts of Grace in the whole Soul and all the faculties thereof. By Way, I understand all the Outward Imperate Acts and Expressions of Religion in the whole course of life, in Publique or in Private, but especially in the Worship of God. By Heart, understand, All inward Principles and religious Dispositions in the whole Soul: By Way, All outward Expressions and Practises flowing from those Principles. Thus they are very Comprehensive.

Quest. 2. What is this Oneness of Heart and Way, and wherein doth it especially Consist?

Answ. There is a twofold Oneness of Heart and Way, viz. 1. Personal and Individual. 2. Ecclesiastical, and in reference to Christian and Church-Society.

First, Personal Oneness of heart and way in affairs of Religion, is such an Oneness as peculiarly concerns a mans own individual Person only towards God. And this Oneness of Heart and Way implies; 1. The unfeignedness and uprightness of any person in Religion. For, His heart and way are not Divided, but United; they are not two, but One. They are not repugnant, but sweetly correspondent one to another in matters of Religion. Hypocrisie and feignedness of Religion appears in this, That the heart and way are not one, The Principle and Practise contradict one another. Their way Holy, Heavenly, Saint-like, &c. But their heart Wicked, Hellish, Devillish. Such the Pharisees; (y) without fair and beautiful, like green graves, or painted Sepulchers: within full of dead mens bones and all filthiness. They washed the outside of the Cup and Platter: but the inside remained full of ravening and excess. Such, like the Boatman, look one way and row another. 2. The determinate and resolved simplicity or singleness of a persons Religion, both in inward Principle, and outward Practise. He hath not a double heart, and a double way in Religion: but One Heart, and one way. He doth not (z) halt between tw Opinions, doubting which is right, betwixt the Worship of God and of Baal; betwixt Christianity and Antichristianism; betwixt Christ and Belial; He doth not equally (a) love God and the world, (b) serve God and Mammon: But he is determinatively resolved both in heart and way, as Joshuah, (c) to love and serve the Lord only. This is the true religious Oneness and singleness of heart and way, 2 Cor. 1. 12. Opposite unto this single resolved heart, is A Divided heart, heart, Hoſ. 10. 2. An heart and an heart, which is not perfect towards God or Man, Pſal. 12. 2. 1 Chron. 12. 33. with 38. A double-minded man, διψυχος, a wavering man, that wavers hither and thither, like an unſetled wave of the Sea, James 1. 8. Such a man is a Sceptick in Religion; hath his religion to chuſe; is one day of one religion, another day of another religion, till at laſt he become of no religion. But this ſeems not to be that Oneneſs here chiefly intended: and therefore I paſs it.

Secondly, Eccleſiaſtical Oneneſs of Heart and way in reference to a Chriſtian and Church Society, is ſuch an Oneneſs in the (d) Inward Principles and (e) Outward Practiſe or Exerciſe of Religion, as concerns the people of God joyntly and reciprocally in their Church-capacity (f) as joynt-members of Chriſt and one of another. Of this Oneneſs of Heart and Way the Prophet ſeems here eſpecially to ſpeak, in my judgement; 1. Partly, becauſe the Promiſe of One heart and way is not directed to any particular perſons of the Jews in their ſingle Capacity, but to the whole body of the Jews in their joynt Church-Capacity. And I will give them one heart and one away, &c. Jer. 32. 38, 39, 40, &c. 2. Partly, Becauſe the Jews had formerly been a very divided people in heart and way, both from God, and from one another in the matters of Religion: (g) Their heart is divided. The ten tribes under Jeroboam were divided from God and his true worſhip, and from the two Tribes, by their Idolatry in the two Calves. And afterwards in the daies of Elijah and Ahab, how did they halt betwixt two Opinions: betwixt the worſhip of God and Baal, &c. The Sin and Miſery of this diviſion God promiſes now to cure by giving them one Heart and one way. 3. Partly, Becauſe in this Covenant God had promiſed to unite them, that they ſhould be no more two Nations or two Kingdoms, but One under David their Prince, viz. under Chriſt the only true David. And this their Oneneſs in and under Chriſt for ſubſtance agreeing with their Oneneſs of heart and way, is eſpecially an Eccleſiaſtical Oneneſs. Now in this Notion Conſider we, 1. Of Oneneſs of Heart. 2. Of Oneneſs of way.

(g) Hoſ. 10. 2.

Oneneſs of Heart, is an Inward Oneneſs and Sameneſs of Soul amongſt them, whence their outward Oneneſs of Way ſhould flow. This Inward Oneneſs of Heart and Soul, Conſiſts not in the Natural Identity or ſameneſs of the ſoul amongſt them, according to the fond dream of Averroes, That there was but one and the ſame numerical Soul that informed all mens bodies: But in the Spiritual Oneneſs or Sameneſs of Principles, Endowments, Qualifications, &c. in their whole Souls, viz. in their Minds, Wills and Affections, in reference to God, Chriſt and Religion. Not that the People of God have all of them, either an Identity of Gifts, or a gradual equality of Graces; For, (h) the Scripture plainly declares the Contrary: But that there ſhould be in the Hearts of all Gods people, notwithſtanding all the variety of their gifts and graces, a ſweet Conceent, (h) 1 Cor. 12. 4. to 13. Eph. 4. 6, 7.

Concord, Symmetry, Harmony, Agreement Compliance and Correſpondency, as if their Hearts and Principles were but one and the ſame towards God and one another in the affairs of Religion. This Oneneſs of heart the Apoſtle notably deſcribes to the Philippians; (i) ἵνα τὸ αὐτὸ φρονῆτε, τὴν αὐτὴν ἀγάπην ἔχοντες, σύμψυχοι, τὸ ἓν φρονοῦντες.— Fulfill ye my joy, That ye be like-minded, Having the ſame love, Being of one accord, of One mind. In theſe words Oneneſs of heart is excellently ſet forth, and that (as thoſe two learned (k) Authors, Zanchy and Beza think) More Generally, and More Particularly. I. In General, by thoſe words; ἵνα τὸ αὐτὸ φρονῆτε, That ye mind the ſame thing; Our Tranſlation, That ye be like minded, not ſo exactly to the Greek. This is the Genus or General Nature of Oneneſs of heart: thoſe three that follow the Species thereof. (l) For, ſaith Beza, otherwiſe there would be a vain Tautology in the laſt phraſe, τὸ ἓν φρονοῦντες. And the word φρονῆν is referred ſometimes to the Acts of the Will, ſometimes of the Underſtanding. Compare Rom. 12. 16. and 15. 5. and Col. 3. 2. with Rom. 12. 3. This, by Zanchy, is fitly ſtiled Αὐτοφρόνησις Same-mindedneſs, Same-affectionedneſs, &c. Our Engliſh can hardly reach the Emphaſis of this Greek word. This is that Oneneſs of Heart in General, when theres a Sameneſs of Mind, Will and Affections among Gods people towards Religion. II. In Particular, by the ſeveral Species, Sorts or Branches of this Same-heartedneſs, which are here all expreſſed by Participles, as the Genus was expreſſed by the Verb, Theſe Branches are three, Oneneſs of Affection, Will and Mind aſcending upwards from the loweſt to the higheſt, from the Affection to the Will, and from the Will to the Mind; Oneneſs of the Mind in matters of Religion being the Cauſe and Spring-head of both the reſt, 1. Oneneſs of Mind and Judgement. τὸ ἓν φρονοῦντες Minding that one thing. This is not a Tautology with the former expreſſion of Minding the ſame thing, but rather an explication of it, as one ſpecial branch of the General. For, they that mind that One thing, cannot but mind that ſame thing, for in One theres no variety, but in divers: But many may profeſs τὸ αὐτὸ φρονεῖν to mind the ſame thing, who do not altogether mind that one thing. When we recede from minding that one thing, we can never mind the ſame thing, as (m) Zanchy well notes. So that this Oneneſs of Mind, conſiſteth in Minding that one thing, viz. In a joynt Conſent of Mind and Judgement about the truth or Doctrine of Chriſt touching all Matters of Religion, Whether Faith, Practiſe, Worſhip, or Government and Diſcipline, Chriſts Truth and Doctrine extends to all theſe. Falſe teachers and ſeducers among the Philippians had begun to add other Doctrines to the Doctrine of Chriſt preached by the Apoſtle, as touching the keeping of the Law, obſerving Circumciſion, &c. to juſtification: This was not now to mind that One thing, that one Truth and Doctrine of Chriſt, but to have their minds divided and diſtracted about divers Doctrines, divers things. As there is but One (n) Chriſtian Truth, Faith, Faith or Doctrine; So all the profeſſed members of Chriſt ought (ſo far as is poſſible) to have an unanimous Conſent of mind and judgement touching that one Truth of Chriſt in all affairs of Religion; This ſhould be their daily ſtudy and endeavour with all diligence. How vehemently doth Paul urge this; (o) Now I beſeech you brethren by the Name of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, that ye all ſpeak the ſame thing, and that there be no diviſions among you: but that ye be perfectly joyned together in the ſame Mind, and in the ſame Judgement. Here note, (1) The Matter exhorted to. The Apoſtle here aſcends (thinks (p) Beza) in a retrograde courſe, from Speech to Will, and from Will to the Fountain of all, the Judgement of the Mind: and therefore by Mind (ἐν τῷ αὐτῷ νοΐ) he underſtands the Will; and by Judgement (ἐν τῇ αὐτῇ γνώμῃ) the Underſtanding. Calvin (q) contrariwiſe, by Mind, the Underſtanding: and by Judgement, the Will. What if we refer both theſe Expreſſions to the Underſtanding, interpreting Mind of the Theorical or Contemplative Underſtanding, and Judgement of the Practical Underſtanding? Or expounding Mind of the Intellective or Apprehenſive Act of the Underſtanding, and Judgement of the Deciſive, Determinative and Concluſive act? Yea that whatſoever is in the Mind or Underſtanding, viz. Thinking, Apprehending, Diſcourſing, Judging, &c. all might be (as it were) one and the ſame amongſt them touching the Matters of religion. This the Oneneſs of Mind and Judgement here exhorted to. Which is Emphatically amplified by the cloſeneſs and compactedneſs of this Union; But that ye be perfectly joyned together in the ſame mind, &c. ἦτε δὲ κατηρτισμένοι, Properly, But that ye be perfectly-joynted-together. For the word is a Metaphor from bones in joynt. When the bones are in their place they are ſtrong, active, &c. but when they are out of joynt they are weak, uſeleſs, painfull: thus in the myſtical body, the Church, they muſt be carefull to keep all the members and bones well-joynted. A diſlocation in judgement diſturbs the whole body. The other Matter or Duty exhorted to, is Sameneſs of ſpeech about Matters of religion; That ye ſpeak the ſame thing. Sameneſs of mind and judgement cauſeth Sameneſs of ſpeech: but different ſpeeches in new terms, new notions, new diſtinctions, new deſcriptions, &c. in ſingularity, ſtrangeneſs and quaintneſs of expreſſions, miniſters great cauſe of ſuſpition that there are differences of opinions. Some refuſe to ſpeak with others in the Churches plain uſual and received expreſſions, that they may be thought more wiſe then others, and that ſo they may the more plauſibly vent their errours to others. This was the manner of Heretical perſons of old: and is too much taken up amongſt us in theſe dayes. (2) The Miſchief, or Sin dehorted from; That there be no Diviſions (Gr. Schiſms) among you. Schiſm, ſignifies Diſſection, Dilaceration, &c. from σχίζω to Cut-aſunder, Divide, &c. 2. Oneness of Will. (t) σύμψυχοι Being-same-souled. Zanchy refers this, to the Oneness and sameness of will. And the Distribution here used by the Apostle plainly evinceth thus much. Having the same love, being same-souled, Minding that one thing. Heres Oneness of Affection, Will, and Mind. This same-soul'dness, this Oneness of Will in Matters of Religion, consists not in the natural sameness of Soul for Substance, but in the Supernatural Concent and Harmony of their Souls and Wils about all the things of God; when they so comply, conform, and sweetly correspond one with another therein, as if they were informed and acted only by one and the same Soul. This Oneness of Will is highly commended in the Primitive believers; (u) And the multitude of them that believed, were of one heart and of one Soul. There was a sweet and pleasant Consent among them, their wills answered one to another in all religious Matters, and in all Church-affairs, Acts 2. 44. to the end. There was no discord nor jarring string among them; they were all sweetly Unisone. Hereupon Calvin hath a good note; (x) He saith, and the multitude were of one Heart: for this was much more excellent then if there had been Consent among a few, for before he had declared that the Church was increased to 5000. Therefore it was not a little difficult to have concord reign among so great a Number; and sure where Faith reigns, it so reconciles mens minds, that they all will and nill the same thing. For hence are discords, that we are not Governed by one and the same Spirit of Christ. By the Names of Heart and Soul, its sufficiently known that the Will is indicated. So he. Now this Oneness of will doth especially comprize in it these three things; viz. (1) A conformity of their Wills to the will of God, They being Principled and acted by the Spirit of God. This the only foundation of all Union and Oneness of Heart and will: when first they are united in God. (2) A Consequential Compliance and Sameness of wills one with another: willing and nilling, Electing and rejecting the same things, Acts 2. 44, &c. (3) An humble estimation of others above themselves, having respect to others affairs as well as their own. True sameness of Will, produceth these two effects, yea and it is preserved and increased by them, Phil. 2. 2, 3, 4. Thus, of Oneness of Will.

3. Oneness of Affection. (y) τὸν αὐτὸν ἀγάπην ἔχοντες, Having the same love. How could they have the same Love? Not the the ſame numerically, for that could not be, ſith they were divers Subjects. Nor the ſame in Quantity and meaſure, ſeeing one hath this, another hath that degree of love, according to the Meaſure of the gift of Chriſt. But this [ſame Love] may here imply, (1) A like love, an anſwerable proportionable love one towards another, in ſincerity and integrity of affection. Calvin and Beza incline this way. (2) A love of the ſame Objects. When their Hearts were diſtracted and divided after contrary objects, ſome loving Pauls Doctrine, others the Falſe Apoſtles: Some loving Error and Novelty, others Truth, &c. then they had not the ſame love, Their love was not united in the Object. But when all their hearts ſhould love the ſame God, the ſame Chriſt, the ſame Goſpel, the ſame Faith, the ſame Ordinances, &c. now they have the ſame Love indeed. This is (z) Zanchy's Expoſition.

Thus of the Oneneſs of Heart.

Oneneſs of Way, is an Outward Oneneſs flowing from the former Oneneſs of heart: Even that Oneneſs of their whole Courſe together in all the affairs and viſible exerciſe of Religion, in the outward Practiſe of the fear of the Lord, Jer. 32.39. As their Heart had been formerly divided, ſo their way had been divided: ſome hearkning to Gods true Prophets, ſome to falſe Prophets; ſome following the LORD, others hankering after idols, &c. But now God aſſures them, as He would give them one Heart, ſo he would give them one Way: and they ſhould walk ſweetly and Harmoniouſly together in that one Way. By this Metaphor of (way) it is ordinary with the Holy Ghoſt in Scripture to expreſs the (a) whole courſe and exerciſe of Religion by Churches or Particular perſons. More Particularly, this Oneneſs of way implies many things. As, 1. One and the ſame way of expreſſions and Speeches about Religion, (b) Now I beſeech you brethren, — that ye all ſpeak the ſame thing. New coined expreſſions are ſhrewd arguments of new-coind opinions. Confuſion of tongues was Babels calamity, and much more the Churches miſery. Its an high point of wiſdom in the Church for preſerving Truth and Peace, and preventing Diviſion and Errour, to take ſingular care that all ſpeak the ſame thing in common, known, plain and uſuall Expreſſions. 2. One and the ſame way of Profeſſing or Confeſſing the true Chriſtian Faith unto Salvation. (c) With the Heart Man believeth unto righteouſneſs, and with the Mouth Confeſſion is made unto Salvation. Hence its evident, that not only Faith, but alſo the Confeſſion of Faith is of uſe unto Salvation. By Confeſſion of Faith, (1) The Purity and Unity of Faith is declared and preſerved; (2) The contrary Errours to Truth are prevented; (3) Chriſts Truth and Doctrine is to his ſingular glory ſolemnly avouched before all the world; (4) And others are allured to embrace the ſame Faith and Truth. Hence all the Reformed Churches of late, and the Ancient Churches long before, have had their Confeſſions of Faith which they have publiſhed. Among which, That judicious and elaborate

One and the same way of ([f]) Holy and blameless Conversation. O how sweet and comely it is to behold Gods people all walking together Holily and unblamably! This Honours Christ highly; This adorns the Gospel exceedingly. 6. One and the same Guide in this One way, viz. The word and Spirit of Christ. Thus, what this Oneness of Heart and Way is, and wherein it consists.

Quest. 3. How choice and excellent a blessing this Oneness of Heart and way is.

Answ. The singular excellency of this Oneness of Heart and Way among Gods people in the Maters of Religion, may be briefly represented in these Particulars.

First, By the importunity of our Saviours Prayer for this blessing upon all that should believe in him through the Apostles word. His importunity for this blessing implies the excellency of the blessing ([h]) Neither pray I for these alone, but for them also which shall believe on me through their word. That they all may be one, as thou Father art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us: that the world may believe that thou hast sent me. And the glory which thou gavest me, I have given them; that they may be one, even as we are one. I in them, and thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one, and that the world may know that thou hast sent me, and hast loved them as thou hast loved me, &c. From ver. 20. to the end, Christ prayes for all his that should believe on him through the Apostles Doctrine. He begs for them two chief Blessings, viz. 1. Spiritual Unity, here, ver. 21. to 24. 2. Celestial Glory, hereafter, ver. 24, &c. Spiritual Unity; That they all may be one, —— one in us, viz. by the Spirit, Faith, Love, &c. ver. 21. Sin dissipates, dissolves and Divides all things: Christ, the Sinners Saviour, Unites and ([i]) Reconciles all. He is the

and

and o; He is the Author, Continuer, and Perfecter of all Reconcilement and Union. In Chriſt, God and Man are United in one Perſon: that God and Man might be united in one Chriſt. Chriſt (k) dyed to deſtroy ſin, the only Matter of Enmity betwixt God and man. Chriſt (l) gave all his New-Teſtament Miniſters of all ſorts for the final perfecting and compleating of this Unity. For the more clear underſtanding of our Saviours Meaning in this his earneſt Prayer for the Unity of his Apoſtles and Members, Conſider well the words of that acute Reynolds in his Learned Conference with Hart. Saith he: (m) The Unity which the Scriptures do note in God and us, is of three ſorts. The firſt of Perſons in one Nature: The ſecond of Natures in one Perſon: The third of ſundry Natures and Perſons in one Quality. In the firſt is One God, Deut. 6. 41. In the ſecond is One Chriſt, 1 Cor. 8. 6. In the third is One Church, Cant. 6. 4. The Lord received not Peter into the firſt Unity; wherein the Father Son and Holy Ghoſt are one God. Nor into the ſecond; wherein he himſelf conſiſting of two Natures (God and Man) is one Chriſt. Into the third, wherein the Church is One with Chriſt her Head, and the Churches Members are one amongſt themſelves, he did receive Peter: but in Society with his brethren, not without them in ſingularity. The multitude of the believers were of one heart, and of one ſoul, Acts 4. 32. They all are One Body; Sanctified by One Spirit; through the Sacrament of One Baptiſm; Knit to Chriſt by One Faith; To themſelves in one Love, to ſerve together One Lord; In One Hope and expectation of One eternal bliſs and Glory, Epheſ. 4. 4,5. So he. Now Chriſt preſſeth his Father for this Spiritual unity by many Arguments. As, (1) Partly, From ſome anſwerable reſemblance it will have to the union betwixt the Father and Chriſt, ver. 21. As, The Father and Chriſt are One Divine Eſſence, One by perſonal union of the Humane Nature to the ſecond Perſon in the Divine Eſſence, One in Conſent of Will Divine and Humane in Chriſt, One in Purpoſe and Intention of Saving all the Elect in ſuch a way: So they Myſtically and Spiritually might be One with Chriſt their Head, and with one another in Heart and way as members. (2) Partly, From the Glory that hence would redound to Chriſt. By this union of believers, the world ſhould be effectually convinced of Chriſts Authoritative Miſsion from the Father: thus powerfully gathering and uniting all his Elect, ver. 21, 23. (3) Partly, From Chriſts giving or promiſing that Glory to them in order to this Union, which the Father had given him, ver. 22. viz. That (n) glory of his (o) image, Grace, Sonſhip, and all Spirituall accompliſhments, according to their Capacity, which were plenarily heaped upon Chriſt. All which are notably and effectually Uniting. That by Glory here, ſhould be meant, either this (p) Unity, as Some; or (q) Eternal glory, as others; ſeems not ſo appoſite nor agreeable. (4) Partly, From the foundation of this Unity in Chriſt. That as God is in Chriſt eſſentially, &c. ſo Chriſt may be in them Spiritually, knitting them to God, and and one to another, ver. 23. (s) Partly, From the Renown of the Elect, That the world may be convinced that the Father loves them with the ſame love wherewith he loved Chriſt, ver. 23. What Importunity is here? What Arguments here? And all for this Oneneſs of Believers: As if this Oneneſs had in it all other Spiritual Bleſſings, and were beyond all other of greateſt importance. Who can duly conſider this, and not conclude that this Oneneſs, this one only Mercy which Chriſt ſo importunatly begs for his Elect in this world, is moſt excellent?

Secondly, By the ſweet Pattern of this Oneneſs of Heart and Way in the pureſt Primitive Church at Jeruſalem. 1. Oneneſs of Heart among them was admirable. (r) And the multitude of them that believed (viz. 3000. Acts 2. 41. and 5000 men, Acts 4. 4.) were of one heart, and of one ſoul: neither ſaid any of them, that ought of the things which he poſſeſſed was his own, but they had all things common. (s) —— And all that believed were together, and had all things common, &c. Here was the Power of Gods Spirit and Grace, that there ſhould be Oneneſs of Heart among ſo many thouſands; and that Oneneſs ſo one, as if they had all lived but by one Soul, and ſo demonſtrated by Community of Goods, declaring the intenſive integrity of their reciprocal affections, prizing one anothers perſons beyond all their Outward poſſeſſions. This Community was occaſioned by the preſent preſſing poverty and neceſsites of many of thoſe believers, which at that time could not otherwiſe be relieved: which particular obligeth not us or any to imitate, till the Church of God be redacted into the like neceſsitous Condition. 2. Oneneſs of way, wherein they walked, was ſingular. (t) And they Continued ſtedfaſtly in the Apoſtles Doctrine, and Fellowſhip, and Breaking of Bread, and Prayer. (u) —— And they continuing daily with one accord in the Temple, and breaking bread from Houſe to Houſe, did eat their Meat with gladneſs and ſingleneſs of heart, Praying God. Their Oneneſs of way, wherein they continued ſtedfaſtly and unanimouſly, is here ranked under four heads, (which Calvin very fitly (x) ſtiles four Notes or Marks of a True and well Conſtituted viſible Church.) viz. Oneneſs (1) In Doctrine, in the true Apoſtolical Doctrine. This the foundation of all the reſt. Herein was their Oneneſs of Faith. (2) In Communion of Saints: Partly, with the Apoſtles themſelves. ver. 42. Partly with one another, ver. 46, 47. This Communion ſeems to be of a more Private Nature: and oneneſs of fellowſhip ſweetly flows from oneneſs of Faith. (3) In (y) Breaking of Bread, viz. In Receiving the Lord Supper; that (z) ſweet Token of Oneneſs with Chriſt, and One with another, and that excellent Seal of the New Teſtament, and of the Doctrine thereof. How ſweetly and purely did they break bread with the Apoſtles, who heard and ſaw Chriſts Inſtitution of this Ordinance! (4) In Prayers, viz. Publike prayers made by the Apoſtles in the Publike aſſemblies of the Church. Herein was their Oneneſs of heart and way. There was no diſſent diſſent in Opinion, no diſcord in Affection, no diſſonancy of Expreſſions, no diſcrepancy in their Religious Worſhip and Actions: but in all a ſweet Harmony, Sameneſs, Oneneſs every way. Oh! Me thinks it was the very Suburbs of Heaven thus to live in this Primitive Church at Ieruſalem!

Thirdly, By the Many and great Miſchiefs of the Oppoſite Diviſions in Heart and Way, in Matters of Religion. For, 1. Hereby, divers pernicious and damnable (a) works of the fleſh, as Variance, Emulations, Envyings, Wrath, Strife, Seperations, Hereſies, &c. are brought forth and nouriſhed: and profeſſed Chriſtians maintaining or approving ſuch Diviſion, walk (b) as babes, yea as carnal men. 2. Hereby the (c) Temple of God which is holy (whoſe Temple Chriſtians are) is ſinfully defiled, to the endangering of everlaſting deſtruction. For the Spirit of God dwelling in theſe Temples, being an Holy Spirit of Unity, Peace, Love, &c. cannot indure the forementioned filthy fruits of the fleſh. 3. Hereby, Men walk moſt (d) unworthy of the Calling wherewith they are called, whileſt they keep not the Unity of the Spirit in the bond of Peace. Unbelif divides, breaks and ſcatters all; Faith in Chriſt Unites knits and gathers all the elect to Chriſt. 4. Hereby Chriſtianity is ſo ill managed, as (e) if Chriſt were divided, and every ſeveral diviſion of Chriſtians had a ſeveral Chriſt: Or as if ſome Men, ſome Miniſters, &c. were very Chriſts, or had been crucifyed for them; whilſt they more eagerly purſue after the Doctrines and Wayes of thoſe men, then after the naked Doctrines and Wayes of Chriſt, Prizing the Goſpel ordinances, &c. not ſo much for Chriſts ſake as for theirs. 5. Hereby, Men diſcover their want of Oneneſs with Chriſt (f) which is the Foundation of Oneneſs with his Myſtical body and members. Firſt we are one with Chriſt by the Spirit and Faith: and then in Chriſt we are one with his Body and Members. When therefore we divide from them: we diſcover we are divided from Chriſt, and are no better then Chriſtleſs formaliſts. 6. Hereby Men caſt themſelves out of the (g) Society of the Church, (h) Service of the Lord Chriſt, and fellowſhip with God. Mark them which cauſe Diviſions and Offences, contrary to the Doctrine which ye have learned, and avoid them. For they that are ſuch ſerve not our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, but their own belly: and by Good words and fair ſpeeches decieve the hearts of the ſimple. They pretend Chriſt: intend themſelves; Like Boat-men looking one way, but rowing another. Nor can ſuch retain fellowſhip with God. For, Gods Habitation are they, that are builded together through the Spirit, not they that are divided and torn aſunder through the fleſh. (i) In whom you alſo are builded together for an Habitation of God through the Spirit. Fitly to this effect ſaid Cyprian; (k) whoſoever is ſeperated from the Church, and joyned to an adulterous one, He is ſevered from the Churches Promiſes. Nor ſhall he come to the Rewards of Chriſt, who forſakes the Church of Chriſt. He is an alien, He is a Prophane one, He is an Enemy. He cannot now have God for his Father: who hath not the Church for his Mother, &c. 7. Hereby, The ſweet Communion of Saints both Publique and Private, that Eden of ſpiritual delights, and feaſt of fat things, is miſerably deſtroyed. Union is the foundation of all Communion: Diviſion therefore muſt needs be a Deſtruction and Deſolation to all Communion. What life, ſap, growth, or fruitfulneſs hath the branch, when cut off from the tree? Or what ſtrength, life, ſenſe, or motion hath the limb, when cut off from the body? What quickening, comfort, edification, &c. in the Society of Saints can ſuch have, as are ſeperated from them? The ſweet union of the Primitive believers, was that which ſo heightned and improved their ſpiritual Communion together, Acts 4. 32, 34, 35. and 2. 42, 44, 45, 46, 47. Now to be deprived of the manifold benefit of Communion of Saints, is a loſs incomparable. 8. Hereby, That (l) peculiar and excellent bleſſing of Oneneſs of his Elect in him, ſo earneſtly begged of the Father by Jeſus Chriſt, is apparantly ſlighted and deſpiſed. And as Cyprian well; (m) They cannot come to the reward of Peace, who by the fury of diſcord break aſunder the Lords Peace. 9. Hereby, The great End of Chriſts Death for his Church, and of his Donation of his New Teſtament Miniſtry to his Church, is (ſo far as Diviſions prevail) unchriſtianly croſſed and undermined. For, Chriſt dyed, (n) That he might gather into one the children of God that were ſcattered abroad. That ſo at laſt he might bring all his ſheep both of Jews and Gentiles into one Fold; that (o) there might be one Fold, as one Shepheard. And (p) Chriſt gave ſome, Apoſtles; and ſome, Prophets; and ſome, Evangeliſts; and ſome, Paſtors and Teachers, for the perfecting of the Saints, for the work of the Miniſtry, for the edifying of the body of Chriſt: Till we all come in the unity of the Faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the meaſure of the ſtature of the fulneſs of Chriſt. So that one ſpecial aim of Chriſt in giving all his New Teſtament-Miniſtry was, under Chriſt the gathering of all His Elect into one, and bringing them into Unity. 10. Hereby, Finally, The truth of the Goſpel is (q) perverted; Chriſtians minds and hearts are (r) troubled, diſtracted, offended and ſubverted; Chriſtianity is expoſed to the contempt and ſcorn of all that hate it, of Prophane Atheiſts, Papiſts, Turks, and Jews, as daily experience evidenceth; The enemies of the Church, Satan and his Inſtruments ſingularly gratified; And the Church of Chriſt her ſelf expoſed to, yea overwhelmed with all manner of Errour, Hereſie, Blaſphemy, Prophanneſs, Looſneſs, Envyings, Contentions, Revilings, Clamour, Bitterneſs, Diſtraction, and Confuſion. The wofull Diviſions in England about matters of Religion for theſe few years laſt paſt, afford a lamentable experimentall atteſtation to all theſe Particulars. By theſe few miſchiefs of Diviſions in heart and way about Religion, we may judge of the reſt, which are innumerable.

Fourthly, By the many Precious advantages and benefits attending this Religious Oneneſs of heart and way here on earth. For, 1. This, Is the due fulfill ng of the (f) Many Commands of Chriſt in his word. And it is not only our Duty, but our Dignity to be obedient unto Chriſt. And this Oneneſs of heart is Chriſts New Commandment: urged in a new manner, and ſtill to continue New. 2. This, Is a bleſſed Return of Chriſts (t) Prayer upon his Members. And that may comfortably aſſure us of his acceptance with the Father, and of the prevalency of his Interceſſion. 3. This, Is an evident badge or character of Chriſts Diſciples. (u) By this ſhall all men know that ye are my Diſciples, if ye have love one to another. This character was eminent in the Primitive Chriſtians at Jeruſalem. Contrariwiſe by the oppoſite Diviſions, Contentions, Strife, &c. men diſcover themſelves too much to be the Devils Diſciples. 4. This, Is both (x) Good and Pleaſant for brethren to dwel together in Unity. Some things are good, but not pleaſant; as Repentance, Affliction, &c. Some things are Pleaſant, but not Good; As variety of ſins and corruptions: Some neither good nor pleaſant, as Envy, the torture of the Soul: But this Oneneſs of brethren is both good and pleaſant, Double excellent. Like Aarons Holy Oyntment, full of delicious fragrancy. As that ran from his Head to the Skirt of his garment: So this Oneneſs flows from Chriſt our head to his meaneſt member. Yea, like the fruitfull drops and dew upon Hermon and Sion, two very dry and barren Mountains, yet their ſmall and little graſs is nouriſhed and increaſed by dew and ſhowers: So (y) by unity ſmalleſt things grow and are preſerved: by Diſcord greateſt things are waſted and brought to nought. A threefold Cord, a bundle of Rods, is not eaſily broken: an untwiſted Cord, a ſingle Rod, is quickly broken. 5. This, Is a ſpecial Means whereby we may (z) walk worthy of that high and holy Calling wherewith we are called. We are called to be children of Peace, Love, Unity, &c. To be ſons and daughters of One heavenly Father, 2 Cor. 6. 18. Epheſ. 4. 6. 1 Pet. 1. 15, 16, 17. To be brethren of one Chriſt, Heb. 2. 11. This is an High and Holy Calling, and ſtrongly engaging all the Called unto unity among themſelves. And this is a ſpecial Ornament and Honour to this our Calling, that we be in heart and way united: thus we ſhall (a) walk worthily, ſuitably, anſwerably, to our Calling. Oneneſs adorns, Dividedneſs ſhames it. What Honour is it to Chriſt, the Fountain of Unity, to have a company of wranglers, janglers, brawlers lers and contentious perſons to be his Diſciples? 6. This, Promotes Spiritual growth and fruitfulneſs in the Church and members of Chriſt. They are firſt fitly joynted and compacted together in(b) Chriſt, and then they grow up into Chriſt towards compleat perfection, and mutual edification: but a limb ſevered from the body, a branch ſevered from the Tree grows no more, but withereth. 7. This, Is the Sacred Cement of the Saints, conſolidating them in One; The ſtrength of the feeble Church, whereby united weak ones are made invincibly Strong; The admiration of the carnal world, that knows not the Uniting force and efficacy of true Grace; The orient Ornament of the Goſpel, that can produce ſuch ſingular effects; The Spiritual Chariot of Chriſtianity, carrying it on to its perfection with greateſt delight; The Vexation and Envy of the Devil, whoſe great endeavour hath ſtill been to deſtroy the Church of God by curſed Diviſions; And the Delight of God bleſſed for evermore, who carries on his Church by Unity unto perfection. 8. This Oneneſs of heart and way is that unity of the Spirit in the bond of Peace, which is founded upon the Sacred Mount of unities. Happy are they that ſhall aſcend into, and dwell in this holy Mountain; where unities are the foundation, Unity and Peace the Superſtruction! (c) Endeavouring to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of Peace. There is one Body; and one Spirit; Even as ye are called in one Hope of your Calling; One Lord; One Faith; One Baptiſm; One God, and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in you all. 9. This, in a word, Is that ſacred Qualification whereby believers being One in God and Jeſus Chriſt, do in ſome meaſure (d) reſemble that ſupream Unity of unities in God, between Father, Son, and Holy Ghoſt. Now the more we can aſpire to be like God, the more we aſcend to the Perfection of godlineſs.

Fifthly, By the many ſacred Unities urged by the Apoſtle, as cogent Arguments and Motives to the Maintaining of this Spiritual Unity. All which Ones, ſhould ſtrongly incline all the Saints to be One. (e) —— Endeavouring to keep the Unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace. There is One Body; and One Spirit; Even as ye are called in One hope of your calling; One Lord; One Faith; One Baptiſm; One God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in you all. What? ſo many Ones, to incite to Oneneſs of the Spirit? Then doubtleſs this Oneneſs of Spirit is a moſt excellent Oneneſs. Conſider them briefly.

(e) Eph. 4. 1. to 7.

(1) One Body, viz. There's but one (f) Myſtical Body of Chriſt, the General Church viſible or Inviſible, and all believers fellow-members of that one Body. Now it were Monſtrous for Members of the ſame Body to fight one againſt another, the hand againſt the eye, one hand againſt another, one foot againſt another, &c. but it were Mortal for the Members to divide and ſeparate one from another; Union preſerves them, Diviſion deſtroyes them. Fellow-members mutually ſerve, and take care (g) for one another. (2) One

(f) 1 Cor. 12. 12. to the end. Eph. 5.

(g) 1 Cor. 12. 12, &c.

(2) One Spirit, viz. (h) One and the ſame Enlivening Spirit of Chriſt the Head, ſupernaturally Animating and Acting this One body and all the Members thereof. Every member of Chriſt hath not a divers ſpirit, as every man hath a divers Soul: but, as all the natural members of one mans body have but one and the ſame Soul, though manifeſting it ſelf more eminently in ſome then in other Members; ſo it is with the Myſtical members of Chriſt. Chriſt gives not Many Spirits: but One Spirit, with many Operations. And ſhall not they who live Spiritually by one and the ſame Spirit, have one and the ſame Heart and Way?

(h) 1 Cor. 12. 12, 13.

(3) One hope of our Calling, viz. Theres but one Hoped for Heavenly Glory and inheritance unto which we are all called in this life. We ſhall all agree in One eternal Glory: can we not now agree in one Principle, and way of Grace? One Heaven ſhall hold us all then: cannot one Church hold us all Now?

(4) One Lord, viz. Jeſus Chriſt our Onely Lord and Maſter, whom we ſerve and attend upon. Though ſervants of ſeveral Maſters may fall at variance, yet its a great ſhame for fellow-ſervants of one and the ſame Lord and Maſter to be at ſtrife.

(5) One Faith, viz. One Doctrine of Faith, touching Gods Saving of Sinners by Jeſus Chriſt through Faith alone. Thus it takes in the whole body of Chriſtian Doctrine. Now if there be but one Faith: Why are we not United therein in one Judgement? ſhall leſſer differences be of more force to make Diviſion and ſeparation; then the Body of Faith and truth to make Conjunction?

(6) One Baptiſm, viz. One Sacrament of Baptiſm. This is the firſt viſible Chriſtian Cogniſance or Badge, whereby we are diſtinguiſhed from all Paganiſh, Jewiſh, Turkiſh people; and incorporated (i) into the viſible Body and Society of Chriſtians. This is Chriſts Livery. Shall there be ſtrife, diſcord and diviſion among men of one Badge and livery? Shall we unbaptize our ſelves by ſeparating from that Body into which we were Baptized! or tearing aſunder that Body whereunto by Baptiſm we were united?

(i) Cor. 12. 12, 13.

(7) Finally, One God and Father of all, who is above all, &c. viz. (k) One true God in Eſſence, though ſubſiſting in three diſtinct perſons; He is Father of all, and all are his Generation and iſſue by creation and Providence. Above all; By his Special Sovereignty and Authority. Through all; By his Special Providence. In all; By his peculiar Grace and Spirit. For (as (l) Calvin well obſerves) all theſe are here to be reſtrained to the Church, whoſe unity he perſwadeth hereby. And ſhall not this one God and Father who is thus over us, through us, and in us, keep us in unity?

Sixthly and Laſtly, The excellency of this Oneneſs in heart and way may be further demonſtrated by the full Perfection and exact accompliſhment thereof in Heaven. Many Spiritual Gifts and Graces ſhall ceaſe, as Prophecy, Tongues, &c. Faith, Hope, Repentance, &c. there there ſhall be no need of theſe in Heaven: But this Spiritual Oneneſs, for the Subſtance of it, ſhall go with us to Heaven, and be a great part of the Saints Glory and Felicity there. Now thoſe Spirituals which ſhall accompany us both in Earth and Heaven, in this and the world to come, do in excellency far tranſcend thoſe which ſhall only remain and be of uſe to us here on Earth. Unity on Earth is but in part: Unity in Heaven ſhall be perfect and compleat, as (m) all our ſpirituals that ſhall remain there ſhall be perfect. And the more our ſpiritual Oneneſs attains to perfection on Earth, the more it approacheth the Perfect Oneneſs in Heaven. The Oneneſs which is and ſhall be in Heaven is manifold; 1. The Oneneſs of the three Perſons (n) Father, Son, and Holy Ghoſt (over all bleſſed for ever) in the Unity of Eſſence. The Father is not the Son, niether Father nor Son are the Holy Ghoſt: but Father, Son, and Holy-Ghoſt are One God. This is the Higheſt, Happieſt, Perfecteſt, Uncreated Unity in Heaven. 2. The Oneneſs of Chriſt and his glorious myſtical Body (o) made perfect: They are now one Fleſh, Eph. 5. 30, 31, 32. One Body, 1 Cor. 12. 12, 13. One Spirit, 1 Cor. 6. 17. Yea One CHRIST, 1 Cor. 12. 12. Are Chriſt and his Church thus One on Earth: How accurate then ſhall be their Oneneſs in Heaven, where they ſhall be (p) fully like him, where they ſhall beatifically See him as he is, where they ſhall immediately and eternally enjoy him, He in them, and they in him for evermore. 3. The Oneneſs of all the glorious and Triumphant Saints of Chriſt One with another. Then all Cauſes, Occaſions and Fewel of Diviſion, whether Satans Temptations, Humane Seducements, or their own ſins and corruptions, ſhall utterly ceaſe. Then their Minds ſhall not be divided, by the leaſt diſſent of Opinion, becauſe all weakneſs and errour ſhall be wholly removed by the Perfection of glorious light and Truth: Then their Wills and Hearts ſhall not be divided by the leaſt diſaffection or defect of Love; becauſe every one ſhall fully rejoyce in anothers happineſs as in his own, and all of them be raviſhed with the Glory of Chriſt: Then their Way ſhall not be divided by any the leaſt repugnant Practiſes, becauſe they ſhall all walk in the ſame white robes with Palms in their hands, they ſhall all perfectly fulfil Chriſts will with unanimous delight, they ſhall all triumph with the ſame Halelujahs to God and to the Lamb before his Throne for evermore: Then their Names ſhall no more be divided by opprobrious Denominations, as Huſſites, Hugonites, Lutherans, Calviniſts, &c. but ſtill all glory in that bleſſed Uniting Name of CHRISTIAN, Chriſt promiſeth to him that Overcometh; have enough: No Contempt, becauſe every one ſhall be perfectly glorious: no diſcontent, becauſe every one ſtall be ſatisfied with Pleaſures at Gods right hand for evermore: but all ſhall moſt ſweetly and fully acquieſce in God, in Chriſt, and in one another, as wanting nothing that can be deſired, as Having nothing that can be diſeſteemed. They ſhall all Think, and Will, and Love, and Deſire, and Do, as one man, what Chriſt God-man ſhall require.——— Yea they ſhall all be ſo intranſed, raviſhed, overcome, and even ſhallowed up with the bliſsfull Preſence Viſion and Fruition of God in Chriſt, who then ſhall be All in All, that they ſhall have no liſt nor liberty for Diviſion or diſtempers amongſt themſelves (could ſuch defilements poſſibly have any place in Heaven): But ſhall rather by the influences of that Glory be transformed into Unity, Peace, Love and Joy moſt gloriouſly. Sweet and appoſite is that of Auguſtines in his cloſe of his Books of the City of God; (r) There we ſhall Reſt, and See: we ſhall See, and Love: we ſhall Love, and Praiſe. Behold what ſhall be in the end, without end. For what other is our End, then to come to the Kingdom whereof there is no end. O ſweet Conſort: wherein there is not the leaſt jarring! O delicious Melody: when all the ſtrings are ſo exactly tuned and uniſone! Oh happy Harmony: wherein there is not the leaſt diſcrepancy! O glorious Unity: wherein is no Shadow of Diviſion, but all Unity! How ſhould we contend and aſpire after gracious Oneneſs now, that we may attain this glorious Oneneſs for ever? If ſo much of Heavenly Glory be comprized in Perfect unity, how excellent is the very Inchoate Unity of the Saints now that is the firſt-fruits and earneſt of this Perfection!

Queſt. 4. Laſtly, What Directions and Helps may beſt further the Obtaining and Maintaining of this Oneneſs of Heart and Way among Gods people? For as Hierom well notes, upon that of the Apoſtle; Endeavouring to keep the Unity of the Spirit in the Bond of Peace, Eph. 4. 3. Anſw. This is a moſt neceſſary and Seaſonable Queſtion, eſpecially in theſe ſad days of our Spiritual Diviſions and Confuſions, wherein God hath ſo left us to the folly and vanity of our own hearts that ſtill dividing, ſubdividing, crumbling, rending, tearing the Church of God among us into Parties, Sects, Fragments, and ſeperate heaps of backſliders, as dangerouſly threaten the ſubverſion of Religion and Confuſion of the Church amongſt us.

For the Gaining therefore and Retaining of this excellent Oneneſs of heart and way among Chriſts Members, Seriouſly ponder and Sincerely put in actual Execution theſe few brief Directions enſuing, viz.

First, Meditate frequently and ſeriouſly, Of the Excellencies of this union in Heart and Way amongſt the Saints, and of the Miſchiefs of the Contrary Diviſion. Thoſe may ſtrongly allure any ingenuous Spirit unto unto that: Theſe may deter any judicious heart from this. A ſmall taſte of both, I have given already. Why do moſt ſo eaſily burſt aſunder all bonds of ſpiritual Union and Embarke themſelves in Diviſions and Subdiviſions: but becauſe they never adviſedly and deliberately weighed and Conſidered, the Good of Unity, which they are rejecting, and evil of Diviſion, which they are embracing?

Secondly. Piouſly Conſider and be throughly Convinced in thine own Conſcience, What an Excellent and important Duty union is; what an abominable and dangerous ſin Diviſion is. Of both I have given ſome brief touch already. I. How excellent and important a Duty is this unity! Being, 1. Frequently commanded by the Spirit of God, 1 Cor. 1. 10. Eph. 4. 3. Phil. 2. 2, 3, 4. Be of one Mind, live in Peace, 2 Cor. 13. 11. 2. Pathetically preſſed upon the Churches and Saints by the Apoſtle. He ſpeaks not ſo much Words, as Affections; Not ſo much Arguments as forcible Compulſions; Not ſo much ſwaſions as perſwaſions: when he comes upon this Subject. As, To the Saints at Coriuth; (t) Now I beſeech you brethren, by the Name of our Lord Ieſus Chriſt, that ye all ſpeak the ſame thing, and that there be no Diviſions among you, but that ye be perfectly joyned together in the ſame mind, and in the ſame judgement. He beſeecheth; He beſeecheth them as brethren; He beſeecheth by the name of our Lord Ieſus Chriſt. To the Saints at Epheſus; (u) I therefore the Priſoner of the Lord, beſeech you that ye walk worthy of the vocation wherewith ye are called, with all lowlineſs and Meekneſs, with long-ſuffering, forbearing one another in Love; Endeavouring to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of Peace. He beſeecheth them; He beſeecheth them as the Lords Priſoner. As if he had ſaid; If ye will not hear Paul, yet hear his Priſon, Hear his chains for the Lord Chriſt, ſpeaking unity to you. To the Saints at Philippi: (x) If there be therefore any Conſolation in Chriſt, if any Comfort of love, if any fellowſhip of the Spirit, if any bowels and Mercies; fulfill ye my joy, that ye be likeminded, having the ſame love, being of one accord, of one mind. (y) See here (ſaith Chryſoſtom) How Copiouſly, How vehemently, How Sympathetically he ſpeaks. But for what is the Apoſtle thus earneſt? Is it for ſupply of neceſſaries; or deliverance out of Dangers, Bonds, Priſons; or relief againſt Perſecutions, &c? No, no, Not a word of this kind for himſelf: but all for them, their Concord and Unity. 3. Strongly urged by many (z) unities and other Cogent Arguments. 4. Highly Commended by the Holy-Ghoſt, in the (a) Practiſe of the Primitive Church at Jeruſalem. 5. Peculiarly intended by Chriſt in the (b) whole work of all the New-Teſtament Miniſtry, Extraordinary and ordinary. 6. Earneſtly begged by Chriſt in his ſolemn (c) Prayer before his Paſſion. 7. Dearly (d) Purchaſed by Chriſt, at the price of his own precious and invaluable blood. 8. And is clearly aſſured of the ſpecial Preſence of the God of Love, and Peace, by his faithful Promiſe; (e) Be of one Mind, live in Peace: and the God of love and Peace ſhall be with you. What? will the

II. How Abominable and Dangerous a ſin is Diviſion! For as much as, 1. It (f) is ranked among the filthieſt and moſt deteſtable works of the Fleſh. 2. It renders (g) the ſanctified members of the Church, that cheriſh ſtrife, ſchiſm, &c. in a ſort Carnal and babes in Chriſt. 3. It denominates ſuch as (h) Cauſe Diviſion, ſervants, not of Jeſus Chriſt, but of their own bellies, and Deceivers of the ſimple: to be noted and avoided by the Saints. 4 It is a vehement and ſuſpitious ſign of the Hypocriſie of ſuch perſons whole Religion. That they (i) go out from the Church, becauſe they are not of the Church really, but only formally and feignedly. 5. It (k) Diſturbs the Church of God, and tends to ſubvert the Souls of the membes thereof; which Chriſt hath bought with his moſt precious blood. 6. In a word, It is ſo damnable, That they (l) who act and walk in Diviſion, Strife, Hereſies, &c. ſhall not (without ſincere repentance) inherit the Kingdom of God. They are not in Chriſt true Heirs of the Kingdom of Grace now; nor ever ſhall be co-heirs with him of the Kingdom of Glory Hereafter.

Thirdly, Pluck up the very Roots, and cut off all the Occaſions of Diviſion. While the Roots thereof remain, though it be never ſo much topped, it will ſprout again: whilſt the Cauſes and Occaſions thereof Continue, the ill effect muſt needs continue. Remove therefore all the Cauſes and Roots of this miſchievous evil out of thine own breaſt and heart; for in thy heart chiefly the Roots of Strife, Contention and Diviſion are fixed. Corrupt principles and luſts within, are the fountains of theſe wretched Diviſions without. As James ſaid of worldly, ſo may I ſay of this Spiritual, Contention, (m) From whence come wars and brawlings among you? Come they not hence, even of your luſts, that war in your members? Eſpecially, extirpate out of thy heart theſe Principles and bitter Roots of Diviſion, viz.

(m) Jam. 4. 1.

(1) Ignorance, childiſhneſs and babiſhneſs about the great affairs of Chriſtian Religion. They that are (n) children in Religion are (through their good affections and weak judgements) apt to be toſſed to and fro, and carryed about with every wind of Doctrine, by the ſleight and cunning craftineſs of men. And no wonder; For as yet (o) they have not their ſenſes exerciſed to diſcern betwixt good and evil: Nor can they digeſt the ſtrong meat, but only the milk of Chriſtianity. Herenpon the Apoſtle taxes the Corinthians (p) for their carnality and babiſhneſs in their Diviſions; One being for Paul, another for Apollo, another for Cephas, &c. which argued their want of ſolid underſtanding and judgement, to Conſider; That one and the ſame ſpirit wrought in them all their variety of gifts; That they and all their gifts were given to the Church and to them for their ſpiritual Good; That they all were but Miniſters by whom God worketh, not Efficients but Inſtruments, All efficacy upon their gifts and Miniſtrations was only from God, I have planted, Apollo watered, but God gave the increaſe. So that he that planted, and he that watered, the Miniſters were nothing: but God that gave the increaſe, he was All; and on him they ſhould principally have an eye and dependance for ſpiritual fruit and ſucceſs. Therefore be no longer children, but men in underſtanding: Let our ſenſes be exerciſed to diſcern things that differ, &c.

(2) Error of Opinion. This is a bitter Root of Diviſion, as Experience ſadly teſtifies: And Error proceeds from Ignorance in matters of Religion. Now there are eſpecially theſe two grand Errors about Diviſions, which abundantly patronize and cheriſh Diviſions in thoſe that pretend to Religion. 1. Error. That Diviſions are not ſinful, but warrantable, yea gainful and needful to the Church: (q) for there muſt even be Hereſies therein, which are worſe. Anſw. (1) That Diviſions are dangerous and damnable ſins I have already proved here, Direction ſecond. (2) That the Church of God properly and directly can neither need nor gain by any Diviſions or Hereſies: but extreamly loſeth; As did the Church at Corinth, &c. Properly poyſon doth good to no patient. (3) That, when any good comes by Diviſion or Hereſie to the Church, thats meerly by accident as to thoſe Evils, through the mighty overpowring Providence and goodneſs God, who brings light out of darkneſs, good out of evil, Medicines out of Poyſons, &c. but this gives no countenance at all to Diviſions. The expert Phyſitian can digeſt the Viper into a treacle: Is this any encouragement to any one to eat Vipers? 2. Error. That all men ſhould be left at liberty, to the liberty of their own Conſcience, in matters of Religion, without any Force, Reſtraint or Controul. Anſw. (1) Conſcience is either Natural and unſanctified, as in (r) carnal men, and in Pagans: Or, Spiritual and Sanctified, as in true (ſ) Believers: who have a good Conſcience purged from dead works by the blood of Chriſt, and purified by faith to ſerve the living God. Do they mean, that both Sanctified and Unſanctified Conſcience, muſt be left at liberty? Then, Hereby unſanctified Conſcience is made a mans guide and Rule for his Religion. A goodly guide: A goodly Religion, of (t) the Minde and Conſcience which is defiled, and polluted with dead works. A blind and corrupt Guide. Then, Hereby the unſanctified Conſcience is made equal in matters of Religion to the Sanctified Conſcience, which extreamly debaſeth the Grace of God in the purified Conſcience. Then, Hereby the Corrupt Conſcience may freely break out in all prodigious corruptions of Hereſie, Scandal, &c. (for a defiled Conſcience can act and produce nothing but defilements; being corrupt, it can only act corruptly) and yet not be reſtrained. How then ſhall they (u) that ough-ought to reſtrain them, clear themſelves from fellowſhip with the unfruitful works of darkneſs? Do they intend, That only the ſanctified Conſcience muſt be left at liberty? Who can certainly tell, what Conſcience, or whoſe Conſcience is ſanctified, to whom this liberty may be left? Or why ſhould a Sanctified Conſcience be left to the liberty of ſinning without Remedy? what hath the Sanctified Conſcience done to deſerve this miſchief? (a) Conſcience hath two ſorts of Acts, viz. Elicit, and Inward, in the Soul; as (x) To Accuſe, or Excuſe, &c. Imperate and Outward, in the Life; as (y) To live in all good Conſcience before God continually, exerciſing a mans ſelf herein to have a Conſcience void of offence towards God and man; Or, (z) to walk in defilements of Conſcience, putting away a good Conſcience, &c. Now which of theſe Acts do they mean ſhould be left at liberty; the Inward or Outward Acts of Conſcience? If the Inward Acts only: Then, they grant, the Outward Acts ſhould in ſome caſes be reſtrained and forced. Then, they erroneouſly ſuppoſe that the inward elicit Acts of Conſcience may be compelled, &c. which is utterly impoſſible, and deſtroys the very Nature of Conſcience. A man may be compelled and forced in his Outward Act, To be preſent at Maſs, To bow towards an Idol, &c. But the Inward Act and Conſent of his Conſcience cannot be forced. Conſcience may be enlightned and convinced by the Truth, may be ſeduced and deceived with Error, and ſo perſwaded one way or another: but cannot be forced in its inward Acts. If the Outward Acts alſo are to be left at liberty: Then, by what clear ſolid and unwreſted warrant of the holy Scriptures? Then, what ſort of Outward Acts are they wherein Conſcience is to be left at liberty? All ſorts of Outward Acts about Religion are; Neceſſary, Arbitrary or Sinful. Neceſſary; as preſcribed Duties, which God hath limited, and with which none but God can diſpenſe. And where God reſtrains; No creature may grant liberty. Arbitrary and indifferent; as many Circumſtances and Accidents about Gods worſhip, which God hath not particularly determined, but left to our choice; As, calling the Church together, by a Bell, or Trumpet, or otherwiſe; The Churches coming to publike worſhip preciſely at ſuch or ſuch an hour; The performing Acts of worſhip in this or that Order, &c. Herein the Church is free to take that courſe which beſt agrees with the General Rule, (a) That all things be done Decently, In Order, and to Edification; and Herein the Church ſhould not be reſtrained to the prejudice of herſelf or members, but be left at liberty. Sinful, and in themſelves Unlawful; As all things prohibited and condemned in the Table of Religion, containing the four firſt Commandments: Atheiſm, Hereſie, Shiſm, Idolatry, Superſtition, Witch-craft, Blaſphemy, &c. Now if mens conſciences be ſo corrupt and depraved, as to allow them in theſe or like abominations, ſhall ſuch ſins be tolerated under Pretence of liberty of Conſcience? If men ſuppoſe (as once (b) Paul did) that they are (c) bound in Conſcience to Perſe- cute Chriſt in his members to death, &c. muſt they therefore have liberty, and be Tolerated ſo to do? God forbid! This is not properly a Liberty of Conſcience: but licentiouſneſs of corrupt unconſcionable Practiſes againſt a good Conſcience. Not liberty of Conſcience: but liberty of luſts and corruptions. (3) Why ſhould Conſcience be more left at liberty in Matters of Religion immediately relating to God, then in Matters of Righteouſneſs immediately relating to man? Is not Religion, far above civil Righteouſneſs? Is not Gods glory, more to be tendered, endeavoured and provided for, then Mans outward Right? Or is man more dear to us then God? (4) Hath not God both in Old and New Teſtament abundantly declared himſelf againſt ſuch liberty of Conſcience, and Toleration of evils in Religion? Partly, By Commanding ([d]) Idolatry, ([e]) Falſe-Prophets, ([f]) Witches, ([g]) Blaſphemers, &c. to be puniſhed with Death. Partly, By diſprayſing and condemning ſuch as tolerated and ſuffered ſuch ſinful Acts about Religion upon what pretence ſoever, Rev. 2. 20. Partly, By Commending thoſe that could not tolerate falſe Apoſtles, and them that were evil, Rev. 2. 2. (5) Hath it not been the ſubtile Practiſe of Seducers and Seduced Perſons in all ages to cloak and nurſe up all their abominable Errors, Hereſies, Blaſphemies, Diviſions, Scandals, &c. under the Specious pretences of Conſcience, Liberty of Conſcience, Toleration of tender Conſciences, &c. Oh what ſpiritual miſeries, diſtractions and Confuſions, is Religion and the Church of God in England hereby involved into in theſe daies! (6) Among the members of Chriſt ſome are Babes, ſome Men in Underſtanding and ſpiritual exerciſe; ſome are weak, others ſtrong, &c. Hereupon may ariſe diverſity of apprehenſions and difference of opinions about ſome Particulars in Religion; but this ſhould not make a Diviſion among them in ſuch caſe, They that have any ſingular or different Opinion ſhould ([h]) keep it to themſelves before God, endeavouring after ſatisfaction, and not publiſh it to the diſturbance of the Churches Peace: And they that are ſtrong, ([i]) ſhould bear and forbear the weak in love, maintaining Communion with them, wherein they agree, and being ready to help and ſatisfie them wherein they diſagree. This Toleration is not onely tolerable, but warrantable and comfortable.

(3) Spiritual Pride and vain-glory, in regard of mens own, or others Spiritual gifts whom they admire. The more Gifts, Graces and Mercies we have from God Temporal or Spiritual, the more humble we ſhould be, as being greater debtors to God, and under deeper obligations. But alas, how hard is it to have Spiritual Gifts: and not to be puffed up? How hard to admire mens Perſons: and not carnally and vainly to glory in them? ([k]) Knowledge puffeth up. The Corinthians ([l]) excelled in gifts, and their ([m]) Miniſters (which were many) excelled in gifts: therefore they were vainly puffed up one againſt another, and carnally gloried one in this, another in that Teacher; for which vanity and carnality the Apoſtle juſtly and ſharply

Now if thou didſt receive it, why didſt thou glory as if thou hadſt not received it?* And again; (o) — who is Paul, or who is Apollo but Miniſters by whom ye believed, as the Lord gave to every man? I have planted, Apollo watered: but God gave the increaſe. —— Therefore let no man glory in men, for all things are yours, whether Paul, or Apollo, or Cephas, &c. Now this Spiritual Pride, and Vain-glory of the Corinthians in their own and Teachers gifts, cauſed many Diviſions Parties and Fractions amongſt them. (p) I am of Paul, and I of Apollo, and I of Cephas, and I of Chriſt. Pride makes a man think himſelf ſingular; and puts a man upon ſuch ſingularities of way, that others may think him ſingular, and ſome body alſo. Hence ſo many ſingularities, of odd unſound Opinions, of unjuſtifiable Practiſes in the Church, &c. Which will not abide the exact tryal of the Word. Many count it a greater Honor, To be Maſters and Doctors of Error, then Diſciples of Truth: To be Ring-leaders in Separation and Diviſion; then followers of Peace and Union. The Apoſtle therefore wiſely preſcribing a means of Union and Antidote againſt Diviſion, ſaith; (q) Let nothing be done in vain-glory, &c. as intimating that Pride and Vain-glory were great Enemies to Unity, but notorious foundations of Diviſion.

(4) Contentious, Peeviſh, Quarrelſome Diſpoſitions of ſome, who are never well but when they are perverſly diſputing, jangling, wrangling, galling and reviling their brethren and the Truth. The Apoſtle ſtiles ſuch; (r) Gainſayers, Unruly and Vain-talkers, and Mind-Deceivers, —— whoſe mouths muſt be ſtopped, who ſubvert whole Houſes, teaching things which they ought not for filthy lucre ſake. (ſ) —— Theſe reſiſt the Truth, men of corrupt minds, reprobate (or void-of-judgement ἀδόκιμοι) concerning the Faith. Such as theſe are like Salamanders, whoſe delight (as writers ſay) is to lie and live in the fire. They are the Devils Black-ſmiths, ſtill blowing up the flames of Strife and Contention. One ſuch brawling unpeaceable and fiery Spirit is enough to ſet a whole Church on fire, and tear the bond of their ſweeteſt union in pieces. How ſeverely doth the Apoſtle brand ſuch for Church-make-bates? (t) If any man —— conſent not to wholſome words, the words of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, and to the Doctrine which is according to Godlineſs: he is Proud (or (u) He is fanatick) knowing nothing, but doting about Queſtions and Strifes of words, whereof cometh Envy, Strife, Raylings, Evil Surmizings, Perverſe diſputings (Properly (x) Prepoſterous-ſtudies, Prepoſterous-exerciſes, or Mutual-Gallings) of men of corrupt minds, and deſtitute of the Truth And how ſtrictly doth he charge Timothy, (and in him, us,) to ſhun the contentious Practiſes of ſuch Perſons? spute every thing about Religion: In so much that many in this Na- have disputed away a good Conscience, and wrangled away all their Religion.

(5) The Itch of the Ear. This is an evil disease, an itching humor inclining many most intemperately to lust after Novelty of Doctrines, Heaps of teachers, New-fangle waies, courses and crotchets in Religion: to the great detriment of the Churches Peace and Unity. This is an Itch that deserves to be soundly scratched with wholesome reproof. The Apostle prophecied of this Malady long ago: saying; (z) The time will come when they will not endure sound Doctrine, but after their own lusts shall they heap to themselves teachers, having Itching Ears. And they shall turn away their Ears from the Truth, and shall be turned unto Fables. This time is already come upon us with a witness in this Church. How many, Are infected, Not only with itching but with leprous ears? Not only will not endure sound Doctrine, but endeavour to Corrupt and make all Doctrine Unsound? Not only Heap to themselves Teachers, but heap up themselves as Teachers, though they understand not the very Principles of Christs Doctrine? Not only turn their ears from the truth to fables; but to heresies, but to blaspemies also; yea Counting Gods Truths Fables, and Fables Truth? This is a Pestilent Root of Division and Distraction in the Church.

(z) 2 Tim. 4. 3, 4.

(6) Admiration of some mens Persons for the Difference of their gifts. Jude gives this for one character of the Separatists crept in in his dayes, that as they were (a) sensual, Having not the Spirit, so they had mens Persons in Admiration because of Advantage. Let Truths be preached by the Persons admired Oh how sweet, how precious, how choice, &c. are they accounted! (Its well if they value not Truth for their sakes, more then for Christs): But let the same truths be as lively, faithfully and judiciously preached by others, alas they are but dry vulgar ordinary things. Is not this to (b) have the faith of Christ with respect of Persons? This was the Error of the Corinthian Church. (c) One was for Paul, He was a deep man: Another for Apollo, He was an eloquent man: Another for Cephas, He was a Zealous and solid man, &c. Here was a weak and Childish admiring of mens persons, and this fomented strongly those hot Contentions and mischievous Divisions amongst them. Truth is to be accepted and esteemed for Christs sake, the Author of it; and for its own sake and the precious Nature of it. The Preachers of Truth are to be esteemed for the Truth they preach, for the work they do: Not the Truth and work for them.

(7) Causeless prejudice against Jesus Christ, His Church, His Members, or Ordinances. Prejudicating Opinions and hard thoughts without just ground or Cause against these, extreamly obstruct Union, and promote Division. The Jews (d) Prejudice against Christ, kept them from union with him by Faith, yea, occasioned their opposition and persecution of him to the Death. Saints (e) Prejudice against againſt the Church, Members and ordinances of Chriſt, ſet him at ſuch a diſtance from them, that he thought with himſelf that he ought to do many things againſt Jeſus Chriſt in them, which alſo he did, with much inſolency and cruelty. And how far ſuch Prejudice hath eſtranged the hearts of people in this Nation from a ſweet cloſing together in Heart and Way in Matters of Religion, every judicious and obſerving Chriſtian amongſt us knoweth very well. Oh therefore bury all cauſeleſs prejudice: do not fore-judge or fore-condemn any Perſon or Thing; till, after due examination, there be found juſt Cauſe. How many divide from the Church of Chriſt among us with the Anabaptiſts, meerly out of Prejudice againſt Infant-Baptiſm diſgraced by them: who never duly examined nor underſtood the juſt grounds of Infant-Baptiſm? How many depart from us upon Prejudice againſt our Church-Conſtitution: who underſtand not at all ſolidly what a true viſible Church-Conſtitution means, or wherein it conſiſts? How many make Diviſions and diſtractions among us about Church-Government out of meer cauſeleſs prejudice: never duly conſidering what that Government is, which Chriſt hath left to his viſible Church? &c. Now this is a moſt Unchriſtian, inhumane, and irrational-way, to pre-judge and pre-condemn any perſon or Cauſe before a juſt Hearing and deliberate examination.

(8) Finally, Sordid and filthy Cevetouſneſs, Eſpecially in Seducters and falſe teachers, is another Common and Noterious cauſe of Diviſions in the Church. Many deviſe and publiſh new Opinions, New ways in the Church, yea New Ordinances of their own, not of Chriſts: that, under ſpecious pretences of ſingularity, and more then ordinary purity, they may draw Diſciples after them, eſpecially ſuch as are great and rich in this world, by whom they may increaſe in wordly wealth. He is blind that cannot behold theſe deviſes of many in this land in theſe days, to the Renting of the Church in pieces; and thus it was in the Apoſtles times. (f) There are many unruly ones, and vain-talkers, and Deceivers, —— who ſubvert whole Houſes, teaching things which they ought not for filthy Lucres ſake. Paul tels the Philippians with tears that the falſe-teachers which went about to pervert them, were (g) enemies to the Croſs of Chriſt, whoſe End is deſtruction, whoſe God is their Belly, and whoſe glory is in their ſhame, who mind earthly things. And he (h) beſeecheth the Saints at Rome; To mark them which cauſe Diviſions and Offences, contrary to the Doctrine which they had learned, and avoid them. For they that are ſuch, ſerve not our Lord Ieſus Chriſt, but their own belly, and by Good words and fair ſpeeches deceive the Hearts of the ſimple. Jude alſo deſcribing ſuch perſons, ſtiles them, (i) men crept in unawares, and ſaith; wo unto them, for they have gone in the way of Cain, (viz. by their cruelty againſt the Saints;) and ran greedily after the error of Balaam, for Reward, (viz. by their filthy covetouſneſs, and ſelf-ſeeking;) and periſhed in the gain-ſaying of Core; who with his Confederates, were ancient Seperatiſts from the Church of God:

but to their own destruction, for a warning to all that should afterwards make like seperation. Yea this Evil was common and abounding among all false-teachers in the very Primitive Apostolical times, that of such especially Paul complains; (k) All seek their own, not the things which are Jesus Christs. And Peter prophecieth that the Church shall be troubled in after times with such Covetous self-seeking Seducers; (l) But there were false Prophets also among the people, even as there shall be false teachers among you, who privily shall bring in damnable Heresies, even denying the Lord that bought them, and bring upon themselves swift destruction.— And through Covetousness shall they with feigned words make merchandise of you; whose judgement now of a long time lingereth not, and their damnation slumbreth not.

(l) 2 Pet. 2. 1, 2, 3.

These are some of the chief Bitter Roots of Division and Confusion in the Church of God, to be utterly extirpated, in order to Oneness in Heart and Way among believers.

Fourthly, Cherish all the Foundations, Supporters, Preservers and friends of Unity. Hereby Unity shall be maintained and improved. Especially labour, that your selves and others may abound with these eminent Cementing and Uniting Graces, viz.

(1) With solid and judicious Knowledge of Jesus Christ, and of the great Mysterie of Sinners Salvation by him. This (m) Knowledge of the Son of God, (as Paul notes) hath an Uniting Property in it, and tends to the Saints highest perfection: and when the Saints thus become men in understanding, they shall not be any more like children tossed to and fro with every wind of Doctrine, &c. There be many that have a Smattering of Knowledge, a few swimming notions, some ungrounded and infant-apprehensions of Christ, but being not well bottomed, ripened, and fixed, they prove but fewel for Seducements: But do thou labour to be throughly instructed in the very mysterie of Christ. Dive deep into this blessed Secret, so as to be rooted and grounded herein.

(m) Eph. 4. 13, 14, 15. 1 Cor. 1. 10, 11.

(2) With unfeigned Faith. There's a feigned Faith, as in (n) Temporaries, and as in (o) Simon Magus. This no more Unites to Christ or to Christians, than a thred or a piece of clay unites a branch or Cions to the stock of a tree. There's also a (p) Faith unfeigned, peculiar to Gods Elect: This faith in Christ hath an eminent Uniting faculty (q) to knit us to Christ the head, and to make us one with him, which is the foundation of Oneness with his Members. Especially considering that this unfeigned Faith (r) works by Love, both towards Christ and towards his body the Church and all his members, inclining sweetly to close with them and embrace them in dearest sincere affections.

(3) With sincere Love. Love (as (s) Zanchy hath well evidenced) hath in it as it were three Degrees, or three primary Acts which it exerciseth towards any object beloved; viz. 1. Benevolence, or well-willing to the object beloved, for its loveliness, though not possessed or enjoyed. 2. Deſire of Union to it, or enjoyment of it. Amiableneſs attracts and ſnatches the hearts deſires after it 3. Complacency and acquieſcence in the enjoyment of, and Union to, the Object deſired. So that true Love, in the very intrinſecal Nature of it, hath an Uniting Property, kniting the Heart and Object together affectionately, and inclining ſtrongly unto Union of them actually. Paul therefore exhorting the Epheſians unto this Spiritual Unity, he commends Love firſt to them as a ſpecial Help thereunto; (t) I beſeech you that ye walk worthy of the vocation wherewith ye are called, —— forbearing one another in love, endeavouring to keep the Unity of the Spirit in the bond of Peace. And in like ſort to the Philippians; (u) — Fulfill ye my joy, that ye be like-minded, having the ſame Love, being of one accord, of one Mind, &c. Love was the ſacred Sodder and Glue which ſo ſtrongly united the Primitive Chriſtians, (x) that the whole multitude, Even many thouſands, were of one Heart and of one Soul. Where Love decaies: Union decaies. We want ſincere and fervent Love to Chriſt, to his Church, to one another as his Members, to his Truth, Wayes, and Ordinances, &c and therefore it is, that we have ſo little Union, ſo much Diviſion amongſt us. (y) Love or Charity ſuffereth long, and is kind: Charity envieth not: Charity vaunteth not itſelf; is not puffed up; Doth not behave it ſelf unſeemly; Seeketh not her own; Is not eaſily provoked; thinketh no Evil; Rejoyceth not in iniquity, but rejoyceth in the Truth; Beareth all things; Believeth all things; Hopeth all things; Endureth all things. O precious Love! How doth it tread under foot all occaſions of Diſcord and Diviſion! How doth it frame it ſelf every way to gain and maintain unity! Love is (z) the Bond of Perfectneſs The perfecteſt bond of Unity.

(4) With Peace, and Peacable Diſpoſitions. Perſons of a Peaceable and quiet Spirit towards the Church and members of Chriſt are of an excellent Spirit, eſpecially in order to this Spiritual Unity. —— Endeavouring to keep the Unity of the Spirit in the bond of Peace, Eph. 4. 1, 2, 3, &c. Peace is not only a friend of this Unity; but Even a Bond of Unity. How vehemently is Peace urged upon us by God? (a) Be at peace among your ſelves, (b) —— Follow peace with all men, and Holineſs. (c) —— If it be poſſible, as much as in you lies, live peaceably with all men. (d) — Be of one mind, live in Peace, and the God of Love and Peace ſhall be with you. How extreamly therefore are all unquiet, turbulent, contentious, quarrelſome Diſpoſitions and Practiſes offenſive to God? They that love war with the Church, can never Maintain Peace with Chriſt. Paul ſaid of ſuch; (e) *I would they were Even cut off that trouble you. (6) With Meekneſs. Humility and Meekneſs are inſeperable Companions in the Soul, and are often ([o]) joyned together in Scripture. Some ſay, Humility is the mother, Meekneſs the daughter: Humility the Root, Meekneſs the fruit. None can be meek, that is not firſt Humble. As Humility repreſſeth pride and diſpoſeth to Lowlineſs: So Meekneſs repreſſeth anger and diſpoſeth to a gentle quietneſs. Meekneſs is a Sanctifying grace, repreſſing anger, revenge, &c. and diſpoſing to Quietneſs, Gentleneſs, towards God and Man, Mat. 11. 28, 29. Iob 1. 21. 1 Pet. 2. 23. 1 Pet. 3. 4. Meekneſs therefore in the Nature of it, is a ſingular furtherance to Unity. Meekneſs*, like oyl, pierceth deeper, then the vinegar of wrath. Meekneſs is an excellent Quench-fire to ſtrife and contention: and is not eaſily diſturbed, no not with many provocations. Therefore ([q]) Learn me of Chriſt, who was Meek and lowly of Heart. For ([r]) a Meek and Quiet Spirit is an Ornament in the Sight of God of Great price.

(7) Finally, Abound with Long-ſuffering one towards another. There will ariſe, even in the Church, and among the members of Chriſt, offences, provocations, vexations, diſcontents, &c. ſometimes from the Weak, ſometimes from the Strong: In ſuch caſes it is the excellency of Long-ſuffering not to be ſoon inflamed with every ſpark, but to endure and paſs by much, with a long forbearance. one another in love, Endeavouring to keep the Unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace. Mutual forbearance in love ſeems here to be pointed at as a Primary Act of Long-ſuffering for furthering of Unity. Now we are in love to forbear One another, 1. In (t) inſtructing againſt Errour of Opinion, if the Errour be not very dangerous. Uſing ſtrength of Arguments, but forbearing paſſion and harſhneſs of words. 2. In caſe of (u) weakneſs of Conſcience. Forbearing to urge to the Practiſe of any thing, wherein Conſcience is doubtfull and unſatisfied. Yet exhorting to the diligent uſe of all means of ſatisfaction. 3. In caſe of Lapſes into ſin againſt God. When a man doth not ſo much overtake ſin, as Sin (x) overtake him, he is to be reſtored with a Spirit of Meekneſs: conſidering our ſelves, leſt we alſo be tempted. In ſuch Caſes we are to bear one anothers burdens: not to countenance one another in Sin, but to encourage, comfort and ſtrengthen one another againſt ſin. 4. In caſe of Private wrongs, or perſonal injuries. Forbearing ſometimes ſtrictneſs of Right, alwaies extremities of revenge: (y) Being kind one to another, tender-hearted, forgiving one another, Even as God for Chriſts ſake hath forgiven us.

Fifthly, (z) Note them that cauſe Diviſions and offences contrary to the true Doctrine of Chriſt, and avoid them, Go not forth after them. Such ſerve not Chriſt, but their own luſts and belly; Deceive the ſimple; Subvert whole houſes; Through Coveteouſneſs make Merchandiſe of Souls; Draw away Diſciples after them; and hereby endeavour to cut aſunder the Sinnews and Bands by which Chriſts myſtical body is knit together. Theſe the Apoſtle calls, (a) Satans Deacons, or Miniſters. Satan the envious one ſows the tares of diſſention in the Field of the Church: And theſe are his Seedſmen. Theſe are his ſubtile Foxes with fire-brands. Theſe are his Factors, and Agents, who act with all poſſible (b) Subtilty and cunning craftineſs to deceive the weak and ſimple, and to deſtroy the purity, peace and unity of the Church. Oh fly ſuch, as Holy John fled from that Heretical Cerinthus in the Bath at Epheſus, leaping out of it unwaſht, and ſaying, (c) Let us flee, leſt the Bath fall, becauſe Cerinthus the Enemy of the Truth is in it. And cleave cloſe to the Rule of Chriſt recorded by Iohn, (d) If there come any unto you, and bring not this Doctrine: (viz. the Doctrine of Chriſt, ver. 9. not in pretence, but in reality,) Receive him not into your Houſe, neither bid him God-ſpeed. For he that biddeth him God-ſpeed, is partaker of his evil deeds. And if they that bring not Chriſts Doctrine, but falſe Doctrine, Muſt neither be entertained in our Houſes, Nor bidden, God-ſpeed: Much leſs muſt their Doctrine be heard or entertained, ſeeing that their perſons are to be rejected for their Doctrine.

Sixthly, If it come to paſs, that thou ſhalt at any time be Otherwiſe minded, and have a Faith or Opinion different from the Church of God and Generality of the Saints; trouble not the Church or the members thereof with thy Divulging of it, but keep it to thy ſelf, uſing Means of In- formation, and expecting till God shall reveal even this unto thee. Thus the Apostle directs; (e) Hast thou Faith? Have it to thy self before God. And elsewhere; (f) —— And if in any thing ye be otherwise-minded, God shall reveal even this unto you. Having of different Opinions, is unavoidable; by reason of different Light in the Saints, some being (g) babes, weak and unexercised, others by reason of use having their spiritual senses exercised, being Strong and men in understanding: But Divulging, publishing, spreading of different opinions is intolerable; Hereby the strong are grieved, the weak and unstable staggered and endangered, Error is countenanced, Truth called in Question, and a great disturbance made against the Peace and unity of the Church. Therefore Pride not thy self in thine own private conceptions, Idolize not, dote not upon thine own Opinions so far, as to prefer them above the general judgement of the Church, and Saints of God, or to disquiet them therewith. A multitude may Err: but a single person is in much more danger and suspition of erring. True Piety will not in matters of Religion build upon mans judgement, but on the word of God: And yet true Humility dare not ascribe more to a mans own single judgement, then to the unanimous judgement of Gods Ministers and people. (h) For if a man think himself to be something, when he is nothing, he deceiveth himself. Had this Wisdom, Sobriety and Humility been amongst us in this Nation, we should never have so profusely vented such swarms of private unsound opinions, (the fruit of wanton minds, the froth of empty corrupt hearts, and the spawn of old rotten Heresies and Errors) to the distracting of the Church, and dividing of the people of God. The Press is so oppressed daily with the Devils Libels against God, Christ, Gospel, Ordinances of Christ, and the whole Truth; and they are so dispersed throughout the Nation: that the whole Land stinks because of them in the nostrils of the Churches of Christ round about us; much more then the Land of Ægypt stank by reason of the dead frogs, in the nostrils of the Israelites.

(h) Gal. 6. 3.

Seventhly, Let all the people of God be careful to avoid New-minted Words and Notions in matters of Religion, especially in matters of Faith: speaking the same thing unanimously. When Paul prescribed his Remedies against the Divisions in the Church of Corinth, this was the very First of all; (i) Now I beseech you brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, That ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no Divisions among you. They speak different things; (k) One said, I am of Paul: another, I of Apollo: another, I of Cephas: another, I of Christ. Here were different speakings: whereby Divisions were produced; as Babels different languages occasioned their Dispersion and scattering upon the face of the earth. Likewise when men devise new fashioned words and phrases, its a shrewd sign and ground of Suspition that they intend to broach some new-devised Doctrines and Opinions. Let all sober-minded Christians speak the same thing thing with the Church, and with each other: And the ſame thing in the common uſual known expreſſions.

(i) 1 Cor. 1. 10.
(k) 1 Cor. 3. 12.

Eighthly, (l) Whereunto the faithful have attained already, let them mind the ſame thing, walk by the ſame Rule: according to the Apoſtles excellent adviſe. This one Golden Rule fully and faithfully obſerved, would wonderfully unite all the true members of Chriſt in Faith, Worſhip and Government in ſome Comfortable meaſure. For, though there may be among them ſome difference of Opinions, according to their different degrees of light; yet there are ſome, yea many things wherein they all agree, both in Doctrine, Worſhip and Church Government. So far therefore as they have attained to the ſame concord and conſent in any of theſe, let them unanimouſly walk together and maintain Church-Communion by one and the ſame Rule. And ſo far as they have not attained, but diſſent in ſome things one from another: Let them endeavour in a way of love and ſweetneſs to ſatisfie one another, bearing one with another, till Satisfaction and Conſent be obtained. But let them take heed of Seperating from Communion for every Difference. Seperation and Abſciſion is the laſt Remedy. There are eſpecially two clear caſes wherein Seperation from a viſible Church is warrantable and neceſſary, viz. 1. When the whole frame of Religion therein, both in Doctrine, Worſhip and Diſcipline, is ſo generally corrupted and depraved, that a man cannot hold communion therewith, but he muſt neceſſarily drink poyſon, partake of her corruptions, and infringe his communion with the Head Jeſus Chriſt himſelf. For, There were ſome Corruptions in Government and Tolerations of Scandals, ſome Schiſms and Diviſions, yea there was ſome Hereſie in the Church of Corinth in Pauls time: and yet it was a true Church of Chriſt, and ſuch a Church as from which none could ſeperate without great ſin, notwithſtanding all thoſe Corruptions. 2. When a pure and through Reformation of ſuch General corruptions according to the Scriptures hath been deſired by the Godly from a Church ſo corrupted, and yet is refuſed by ſuch a Church. When a Church is thus ſick, and will not be cured; Thus polluted and will not be cleanſed As the Church of Rome was before the Reformation was attempted: In ſuch caſe the faithful may depart and ſeperate from her Communion, as our firſt Proteſtant Reformers did from Rome. Except in theſe two caſes, and they both Concurring, it will hardly be proved warrantable to Divide and Seperate.

(l) Phil. 3. 16.

Ninthly, (m) Let every one look not only on his own things, but on the things of others. This (as the Apoſtle intimates) will conduce much to Church-Unity. As the (n) members of the ſame body have a mutual love, tenderneſs and care one of another; if one member ſuffer, all the members ſuffer with it; if one member be honoured, all the members rejoyce with it: So it ought to be among the members of the body of Chriſt, for ſo is that intended. The hand is ready to defend the head or heart, though to its own hazzard:

(m) Phil. 2. 1, 2, 3, 4.

(n) 1 Cor. 12. 12. to the end.

hazzard: the eye is ready to help the foot, never objecting the Diſtance: The foot is ready to convey the body from place to place, not repining at the burden, &c. Why then ſhould not Chriſtians take like mutual care one for another, wiſely conſidering what may be moſt ſuitable and comfortable to one anothers Condition? Minde therefore not only what may pleaſe your ſelves: but may profit others. Minde the things of the weak: to bear with them and ſtrengthen them. Minde the things of the doubtful and ſtaggering: to ſettle, reſolve and ſtabliſh them. Minde the things of the Tempted: to adviſe and encourage them. Minde the things of the lapſed: to recover and reſtore them, &c. This will ſweetly link the people of God together.

Tenthly, Let all ſeek the things of Chriſt, before their own Concernments. Chriſts Kingdom, not their own Dominion: Chriſts Honor, not their own Glory: Chriſts Truth, and Goſpel, not their own private Opinions: Chriſts Ordinances, not their own Inventions: Chriſts Worſhip, not their own Superſtitions: The Proſperity and Unity of Chriſts Houſe, Temple and Myſtical body the Church, not the carnal proſperity of your own houſes, much leſs of the Synagogues of Satan, &c. The want of this made Paul complain, (o) All men ſeek their own things, and not the things that are Jeſus Chriſts. The neglect of this made God complain, (p) Is it time for you, O ye, to dwell in ſeiled houſes: and my houſe lye waſte? The Chriſt-neglecting and Self-ſeeking diſpoſitions of men in this Land, aiming only or principally at their own Power, Profit, Glory, Greatneſs, Carnal Liberty, &c. Have wretchedly undone this Church, and torn it all to pieces. But alas what are all our things, our nothings, to the things of Chriſt? Did not Chriſt ſeek our things, before his own: Our Redemption, Our Reconcilement to God, Our Righteouſneſs, Our Adoption, Our Salvation and eternal Happineſs, before his own Liberty, Reputation among men, Livelihood in this world, Natural Relations, Precious Blood or Deareſt Life it ſelf? Shall not we deny our ſelves for him, and chiefly ſeek the things of Chriſt; Who thus denyed himſelf for us, and ſought every way our felicity; eſpecially if ever we taſted how pleaſant and gratious the Lord Chriſt is; in his Perſon, in his Office, in his Blood, in his Graces, in his Smiles, in his Comforts, in his Spirit, and in his Promiſes?

By theſe and like Directions ſincerely walk, and this excellent Oneneſs in Heart and way will be ſucceſsfully both obtained and maintained.

Thus of this Oneneſs of Heart and way the Spirits fifth Notable Influence promiſed. Wherein I have the more enlarged, becauſe this is a Matter of ſo high Importance to the Saints, and the manifold Diviſions in Heart and Way have been long, and ſtill are moſt predominant and pernicious ro the Church of God in this Land.

6. The

6. The constant fear of God. This is a sixth Influence or fruit of the Spirit here promised, as an Effect or Consequent ensuing upon Oneneſs of Heart and Way. (q) And I will give them one Heart, and one Way, that they may fear me for ever (Heb. All daies) for the good of them and of their children after them. And I will make an everlaſting Covenant with them, &c. This Fear of God is here deſcribed, 1. By the Root or Principle of it, viz. One Heart. That is, That holy frame of heart within, by the principles and Habits of Grace infuſed, which ſhould be harmoniouſly One in them; this ſhould produce the Actual fear of God. Their inward Habits ſhould not be idle, but ſhould break forth into the Outward Acts of Religious Fear. 2. By the Conſtancy of it. All daies. Conſtancy and Perſeverance in Grace, is of Gods gift, as well as grace it ſelf; He is both (r) Author, and Finiſher thereof. And Conſtancy is one eminent diſtinctive Character betwixt true and counterfeit Grace. 3. By the Commodity of it, viz. Partly their own, Partly their childrens Good after them. [Good] may extend to Temporals, Spirituals and Eternals; all the reſults of the Fear of God: but Temporal welfare and proſperity ſeems here ſpecially to be intended. All outward good upon our ſelves and poſterity depends upon our true Fear of the Lord. The Fear of God procures all Welfare and Proſperity both to Parents and Poſterity.

(q) Jer. 32. 39, 40, 41.

(r) Heb. 12. 2.

Fear, hath many various acceptations in Scripture, (as I have (f) elſewhere evidenced, and whereto I refer the Reader) But here it ſeems peculiarly to denote The Actual Exerciſe of that gracious Habit of Religious fear, planted in the ſanctified Heart, whereby the Saints are afraid to offend God their Heavenly Father for his goodneſs, mercy, &c. And are careful to do thoſe things which are well pleaſing in his ſight, Pſal. 130. 4. Job 1. 1. Deut. 6. 13, 14. Eccleſ. 12. 13. Acts 10. 8.

(f) In my Believers Evidences for eternal life. Ch. 6. §. 11. p. 203, &c.

Now, God promiſing this Fear, this Conſtant fear of God to them; Did Promiſe them an excellent bleſſing indeed, a very Rich Spiritual jewel. As may briefly appear by theſe few Conſiderations. For,

(1) The fear of the Lord makes men truly bleſſed, Prov. 28. 14. Pſal. 112. throughout. & 128. throughout.

(2) The fearers of the Lord are in high account and much ſet by with God, Acts 10. 8. God ſets ſo much ſtore by them that fear him, That, 1. He dwels with them, Iſa. 66. 2. 2. He imparts his Secrets to them, Pſal. 25. 14. 3. His goodneſs is great towards them, even to admiration, Pſal. 31. 19. 4. His vigilant eye and protection is over them, Pſal. 33. 18. & 60. 4. His Salvation is neer them, Pſal. 85. 9. 5. They ſhall never want any good thing: which the wiſeſt God knows to be good for them, Pſal. 34. 9. 6. The mercy and pitty of the Lord is moſt fatherly, moſt tenderly upon them from everlaſting to everlaſting, and his righteouſneſs to childrens children, Pſal. 103. 13, 17.

7. The Lord hath placed his delight and pleaſure upon them peculiarly, Pſal. 147. 11. 8. Finally, they that fear the Lord are his Segullah, his peculiar treaſure. His jewels, Malach. 3. 16, 17.

(3) Many great and pretious Promiſes are made to them that fear God. The Lord hath promiſed theſe things to them that fear him. 1. To reveal to them his Covenant. Which is the Marrow and Myſterie of the whole Scriptures, Pſal. 25. 14. 2. To let them want no good thing, Pſal. 34. 9, 10. 3. To bleſs them, both ſmall and great, Pſal. 115. 13. 4. To fulfil their deſire, hear their cry, and ſave them, Pſal. 145. 19. 5. To take and acknowledge them for his own, in the day, when he makes up his jewels, Mal. 3. 16, 17. and to Record them in his Book of Remembrance for that end. And is it a ſmall matter to be inveſted with theſe Promiſes?

(4) The true fear of God ſprings from an excellent Root, viz. Partly, The true and ſaving knowledge of God, which fils the heart with a Reverential awe of him, Deut. 31. 11, 12, 13. Partly, Unfeigned Repentance. The bitterneſs of Repenting for ſins paſt, makes fearful of offending for time to come, 2 Cor. 7. 11.

(5) The true fear of God produceth many bleſſed effects. The fruit thereof is moſt ſweet and pleaſant to the right ſpiritual taſte, The effects and fruits thereof are theſe, and ſuch like, viz. 1. It poſſeſſeth the Heart with a moſt awful Reverence of God for his mercy and Goodneſs, as well as for his Majeſty and Greatneſs, Pſal. 130. 4. Hoſ. 3. 5. Pſal. 76. 7. 2. It makes a man uſe the Glorious and fearful name of God with Dread and Reverence, Deut. 28. 58. 3. It cauſeth a man continually to ſet himſelf before God, as in his eye and preſence. —— That fear God, that fear before him, Eccleſ. 8. 12. 4. It forceth a man even to tremble at Gods word, becauſe of the Infinite Purity, Wiſdom, Majeſty, &c. of God reſplendent therein, Iſai. 66. 2. 5. It diverts a man mightily from evil, from evil of ſin, and wickedneſs. The fear of God is as walls and bars againſt ſin, Prov. 3. 7. & 14. 16. & 16. 6. Job 1. 1. 6. It effectually inclines a man to all good, to all ſincere obedience towards God, Deut. 6. 13, 14. Eccleſ. 12. 13. 7. Finally, to add no more, It makes a man conſtant with God, and perſevering in all his waies, Jer. 32. 40.

(6) Finally, The Companions which Scripture aſſociates with the fear of God, are very Eminent: and make the fear of the Lord very illuſtrious. As, 1. Hope and affiance in Gods Mercy, Pſal. 33. 18. 2. Vehement deſires after more and more Grace, Pſal. 86. 11. 3. Sincere and entire love to God, with all the heart, and with all the ſoul, Deut. 10. 12, &c. 4. Entire and unfeigned Serving of God, walking in all his waies, Deut. 10. 12. 5. Great delight and pleaſure in Gods Commandments. The true fearers of the Lord, not only do his Commandments, ments, but delight in them, greatly delight in them, Pſal. 112. 1, 6. Humility. The Special Ornament of the Saints: Be ye cloathed with Humility, Prov. 22. 4. 7. Sincerity, Uprightneſs, and Integrity, Prov. 14. 2. Job 1. 1. The very Crown of all the Graces. 8. The Comforts of the Holy Ghoſt, which are the very fore-taſtes and Suburbs of Heaven, Acts 14. 22. With theſe choice aſſociates, is the fear of God ranked by the Holy Scripture. Whence we may eaſily diſcern, what an admirable Grace the Fear of the Lord is, that conſorts with ſuch illuſtrious Companions.

By all this its apparent, That this fruit of the Spirit, The conſtant Fear of the Lord, promiſed in this Covenant, was a ſingular Bleſſing and Mercy to be highly accounted of.

Hereby alſo, as by ſo many Marks or Characters, we may try and diſcover, whether we our ſelves do truly Fear the Lord or no.

7. Finally, The laſt Influence or Fruit of the Spirit, which I ſhall here mention; as promiſed in this Covenant, was Obedience, or, Obedientialneſs towards God. This is plain by the Prophet Ezekiel; (t) And I will put my Spirit within you, and cauſe you to walk in my Statutes, and ye ſhall keep my Judgements and do them. And elſewhere; (u) And I will give them one Heart, and I will put a new Spirit within you; and I will take the ſtony heart out of their fleſh, and I will give them an heart of fleſh: That they may walk in my Statutes and keep mine Ordinances and do them: and they ſhall be my people, and I will be their God. Here we may See, that Gods Spirit Cauſeth Obedience to God: And the Inward Habits of Grace, thoſe ſacred effects and Influences of his Spirit, are therefore Promiſed and Beſtowed upon Gods Covenant-people, that they thereby might become really dutiful, and practically obedient to God.

(t) Ezek. 36. 27.

(u) Ezek. 11. 19, 20.

If there be never ſo much Grace within, and yet no works of Obedience; if never ſo much Profeſſion without, and yet no Practiſe: All this is not ſatisfactory to God, He muſt have Obedience, Practiſe, Doing. 1. Obedience is that, which God (x) hath ſo frequently called for, and Commanded. 2. Obedience is that, which God hath ſo highly Commended and Approved, 1 Sam. 15. 22. Behold, to obey is better then ſacrifice, &c. Chriſt commends the Obedient (y) Doer of the word to a wiſe man that buildeth on the Rock. 3. The Obedient are Chriſts Special friends, John 15. 14. And Chriſt is the Author of eternal Salvation to them all, Heb. 5. 9. 4. Heaps of ſweet and excellent Promiſes are made to the Obedient, See Deut. 28. 1. to 15. & 5. 10. with Exod. 20. 6. Deut. 4. 40. & 5. 29, 33. & 6. 2, 3. Lev. 26. 3, 4, 5, &c. Exod. 19. 5, 6. 5. Obedient Perſons, are happy perſons. (z) O the bleſſednesſes of the perfect in the way, walking in the Law of the LORD! O the bleſſedneſs of them that keep his Teſtimonies, and that ſeek him with the whole heart. (a) ——If ye know theſe things, happy are ye if ye do them. (b) —— Bleſſed are they that do his Commandments, that they may have right to the Tree of Life, and may enter in through the Gates into the City.

Therefore, in Covenanting to make them obedient, God promiſed a Great Mercy to them. But touching the Nature of Obedience to God, I ſhall here need to enlarge no further, Having more fully inſiſted upon this Subject heretofore; both in opening (c) Abrahams walking before God in Obedience, and in unfolding (d) Iſraels Obedience to Gods Commands which they ſo ſolemnly reſtipulated to God. Let the Reader diligently conſult thoſe two places.

Hitherto, of Gods putting his Spirit within them, for New-framing and Spiritualizing of their Heart: and of the Sacred Influences of his Spirit here Covenanted to that end. Wherein I have been the more Full, becauſe of the Spirituality, Uſefulneſs and Comfortableneſs of theſe Sublime Spiritual Myſteries. This is the fourth Covenant-Mercy.

V. Gods Preſence and Reſidence in his Sanctuary and Tabernacle among his people, by his Spirit, Word, and publique Miniſtry for ever. This is a fifth Covenant-Mercy here promiſed. (e) —— Moreover, I will make a Covenant of Peace with them, it ſhall be an everlaſting Covenant with them, and I will place them and multiply them, and will ſet my Sanctuary in the midſt of them for evermore. My Tabernacle alſo ſhall be with them: yea, I will be their God, and they ſhall be my People. And the Heathen ſhall know, that I the LORD (f) do ſanctifie Iſrael, when my Sanctuary ſhall be in the midſt of them for evermore. Here God aſſures the Captives of his everlaſting Covenant of Peace with them; And in this paſſage Promiſeth theſe bleſſings, viz. (1) Placing them in Canaan. (2) Multiplying them there. Of both theſe I have ſpoken formerly; in opening the ſecond Covenant-Mercy. (3) Setting his Sanctuary in the midſt of them for ever, and his Tabernacle with them: that the Heathen might know that the LORD Sanctifies Iſrael. This the bleſſing now to be unfolded. (4) His being their God, and they his People. Of which hereafter. And by Iſaiah it is ſaid; (g) And the Redeemer ſhall come to Sion, and unto them that turn from tranſgreſſion in Jacob, ſaith the LORD. As for me, this is my Covenant with them, ſaith the LORD, My Spirit that is upon thee, and my words which I have put in thy mouth, ſhall not depart out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy Seed, nor out of the mouth of thy Seeds Seed (ſaith the LORD) from henceforth and for ever. In theſe words there's ſome obſcurity and difficulty. But its plain, God therein Covenants to give his Zion, his Church, theſe three bleſſings, viz. (1) The Redeemer, to all that turn from tranſgreſſion. What Redeemer? Anſ. Typically, Cyrus to Redeem and deliver the Penitent Jews out of Babylon. Truly, or Antitypically Chriſt, who Re-

Redeems Sinners from Sin and Death, and turns away ungodliness from Jacob. As (h) Paul interprets and applies this Text, touching Christs restoring the Jews after the Gentiles Fulness. (2) The Spirit of God: and (3) The word of God, which was now conferred upon the Church; to be both of them continued still to the Church from Generation to Generation. This Interpretation I prefer before any other. Now in this sence this Covenant assures of the Continuance of Gods Ordinance his word among his Redeemed people; and the Continuance of his Spirit, whereby the word becomes effectual. Add hereunto, In the Prophet (i) Jeremiah, the Continuance of the Publike Ministry, under the notion of the Priests the Levites, is also Covenanted and promised very Pathetically by God to these his Captive people.

(j) Jerem. 33. 17. to 23.

Thus the Lord hath promised in this Covenant to the Captive Jews after their Redemption, 1. His Tabernacle and Sanctuary to be among them, in the midst of them. 2. His Spirit to remain upon them and their Seed. 3. His Word, not to depart from them, &c. 4. His publike Ministry to be successively continued to them, for the managing of his word and ordinances in his Tabernacle and Sanctuary. And all these for ever.

Now here consider, 1. The Greatness and Excellency of this promised Mercy. 2. How this Promise may be conceived to be fulfilled to the Captive Jews, when he hath long since taken away both his Tabernacle, Sanctuary, Spirit, Word, and publike Ministry from them to this day.

1. The Greatness and excellency of this promised Mercy of Gods setting his Sanctuary in the midst of them, &c. is evident, (1) By the excellency of Gods Tabernacle, and the manifold advantages of Gods special Presence and Residence therein amongst them: as I have (k) already shewed in seven particulars implyed in this Presence and Residence of God among them.

(k) Book III. chap. 4. Aph. 4. §. 1. N. 5. & 6. pag. 832, &c.

(2) By the singular benefit of Gods Spirit remaining upon and in his Church. For, 1. Hereby The ordinances of God are made (l) lively and effectual unto Gods people, in order to their Salvation. Which without Gods Spirit are but as a Dead letter; or as a body without a Soul. 2. Hereby, The understandings of men in the Church are notably illuminated in Divine Mysteries, and have them plentifully revealed to them, Ephes. 1. 17, 18, 19. 1 Cor. 2. 8. to the end. 3. Hereby, The Hearts and Souls of Gods Elected are New framed, Sanctified and Spirituallized, being furnished with many admirable Fruits and Influences of the Spirit of God. As I have (m) at large demonstrated. 4. Hereby, The Saints and Sons of God are supernaturally acted, led and guided in all the waies of God, Rom. 8. 14. 5. Hereby, variety of Gifts and Spiritual endowments are bestowed upon the several members of Christ for the Good of his whole Mystical Body, 1 Cor. 12. 4. to 14. 6. Hereby, the Church is Comforted continually in the wayes of well-doing,

(3) By the great advantage of the enjoyment of the word. This Paul counts a (n) chief Priviledge of the Jews, that the Oracles of God were committed of trust to them. And no wonder. For 1. The word of God is all (o) Inspired of God. Therefore of unquestionable Authority, Verity, Infallibility. 2. The word is (p) a light shining in a dark place: a light to our feet, a lanthorn to our paths, in the darkness of this world. 3. The word is that (Fundamentum Quo) secundary (q) foundation whereby we are founded upon Christ the (r) word converting the Sinner, and working Faith in him. 4. The word is an Edifying (s) means of Grace, able to build us up, and to give us an inheritance among all them which are Sanctified. 5. The word is most usefull and (t) profitable, for Doctrine of the truth, for Conviction of Error, for Correction of ill doing, for Instruction in righteousnes, for Consolation of the disconsolate: That the man of God may be perfect, throughly furnished to all good works. 6. The word is the (u) Sword of the Spirit, whereby we not only defend our selves, but offend Satan in our Spiritual Conflict with his Temptations. 7. The word is a singular (x) purifier and preserver from Sin and Corruption. 8. And what shall I say? The word is able to make a foolish Sinner (y) wise unto Salvation. And these are eminent advantages.

(4) By the Commodity and Priviledge of enjoying the Publike Ministry of the Word and Ordinances of God. Paul reckoning up the Priviledges of the Corinthians, makes the first of all in his Catalogue, the Ministry, (z) All things are yours, whether Paul, or Apollo, or Cephas, or the world, &c. The Ministers of the Gospel are a great Priviledge to any people: For, 1. They are (a) Seers; as anciently they were called. And as Moses said to Jethro in the wilderness; (b) thou maist be to us instead of eyes: So Ministers are instead of (c) eyes to the mystical body of Christ in the wilderness of this world, to guide it in the right way. Spiritual (d) Guides to happiness. 2. They are the Lords (e) Angels and Ambassadors to his Churches and Elect, beseeching them in Christs stead to be reconciled to God. This the intent of their Embassy, Peace and Unity with God for evermore in Christ. 3. They are (f) Co-workers, labourers together with God, in the Spiritual Husbandry, and Building of the Church of God. 4. They are (g) Stewards of the Mysteries of God. These Mysteries are (h) rich Treasures, though in earthy vessels. 5. They are Gods (i) watchmen to the House of Israel, To warn them from God, of their sins and the judgements of God thereby deserved, of their Duties and the Rewards of God thereunto promised. 6. They are (k) Instruments whereby God enables his Elect to believe and be converted, to be built and perfected till the day of Christ. They are (l) Fathers begetting spiritual Children to God, and espousing them as a chaste virgin unto Christ; and they are (m) Nurses that bring them up and educate them in Christ, cherishing them with all affectionate tenderness. 7. They are, in a word, Eminent evidences of the presence of God and Christ with a people. 2. How may we conceive that Gods Promise of Continuing his Tabernacle, Sanctuary, Spirit, Word, and Ministry to the Captive Iews, should be accomplished: when all these have been long since taken away from them? Yea and Jesus Christ the Great Shepheard of the sheep, did by his Prophet Zechariah threaten prophetically to (o) cast-off this flock of the Jews; and to cease his Pastoral care over them, Cutting asunder his two Pastoral staves (called BEAUTY and BANDS) thereby symbolically representing his utter rejection of them, that he would feed them no longer, but would break his Covenant which he had made with all the People.

(o) Zech 11. 6. to 15.

Answ. This hath some difficulty in it, because The history of these Jews sad Condition after Christ, deprived of all these blessings, is quite repugnant to these Promises. But, may we not thus Resolve?

(1) These Promises were not absolute but conditional, upon Condition of their walking worthy of such blessings and enjoyments, by Faith, Obedience, Fruitfulness, &c. therefore in after ages their posterity becoming enemies to (p) the Prophets and Messengers of God, Yea to Christ himself, and waxing barren under all these Means of Grace, Christ tels them, the Kingdom of God should be taken from them, and given to a Nation bringing forth the fruits thereof.—And this is in substance that which was intended by Christ in the Prophet Zechary, Zech. 11. 7. to 15. In which Paragraph the Scope or intent of the Holy-Ghost is to shew, How Christ would utterly reject and cast-off his Covenant-people the Jews, and break his Covenant with them judicially: because they would at last utterly reject Christ for a base price of thirty pieces of Silver, and so brake Covenant with him most perfidiously. More particularly in the words Consider; 1. The description of Christs Pastoral office over the Jews his Spiritual flock, by his taking of two Staves. By Staff, understand, His Shepheards staff or crook. Every Shepheard hath one staff: but Christ had two, to shew (as (q) Calvin well notes) that he did not ply his pastoral office in a vulgar manner, but herein excelled all Shepheards, in feeding and guiding that people. One staff he called BEAUTY: as denoting the beauty and comlines of his Ordinances whereby he ordered them. The other BANDS: as implying the union betwixt Judah and Israel by this Covenant, vers. 7. 14. 2. Christs removal of three, that is, many false shepheards, from over that people, among whom Pharises, Saduces and Essenes were principal, ver. 8.

(2) By the cauſe thereof, their wicked contempt and rejection of Chriſt, for a baſe price of thirty pieces of ſilver, ver. 12, 13. compare herewith, Mat. 26. 15. and 27. 5. to 11.

(2) When theſe bleſſings were taken away from the Jews, they were more Spiritually (r) conferred upon the Gentiles, who became fellow-heirs with the Jews, and of the ſame Body. The Gentiles then being incorporated into one Church-body with the Jews, (though the Jews afterwards broke themſelves off by unbelief,) theſe bleſſings being ſtill continued to the Gentiles, of the ſame body, may in a ſort be ſaid to be continued unto the Jews.

Interprets and applies it Mediately to the Jews Calling and Re-ingraffing into Chriſt, after the Gentiles fulneſs ſhould be come in, Rom. 11. 25, 26, 27. Which notably inſinuates to us, that the Jews miſery in, and Recovery out of Babylon; were Types of their future miſery in being broken off from Chriſt by unbelief, and of their happy reviving and being re-ingraffed into Chriſt by Faith. After which reſtauration of the Jews by their Converſion, all theſe promiſed bleſſings of Gods Tabernacle, Spirit, Word and publique Miniſtry ſhall be continued unto them, but much more ſpiritually till the end of the world.

VI. Gods greateſt Covenant-Relation betwixt himſelf and them; viz. That he would be their God, and they ſhould be his people. This is a ſixth great Covenant-Mercy often inculcated to the Captives. As by Jeremiah; (u) Behold I will gather them out of all Countries, —— And they ſhall be my people, and I will be their God. —— And I will make an everlaſting Covenant with them, &c. By Ezekiel alſo again and again, (x) —— Moreover I will make a Covenant of Peace with them, it ſhall be an everlaſting Covenant with them: —— My Tabernacle alſo ſhall be with them; yea I will be their God, and they ſhall be my people.

This

This Covenant-Mercy is the chief Excellency and Glory of all Covenant-Mercies. This Covenant-Relation is the moſt Perfect and tranſcendent of all Relations. With this ſweeteſt Promiſe God ſupports his Captives in Babylon: and it is the beſt and richeſt Cordial in the world.

But touching this Relation, I have (y) already in divers places inſiſted largely in the unfolding of it: Having ſhewed, I. Concerning the Lords being a Covenant-God, 1. In whom, or through what means the Lord becomes a Covenant God to a people. 2. What the Lord Promiſed, in Promiſing to be a God in Covenant. 3. Why the Lord Covenanted to be ſuch a God to his people. 4. Many Inferences from the whole. II. Concerning a people's being Gods Covenant-People, I have alſo (z) explained; 1. What it implies, to be a Covenant-people to God: and this in many Particulars. 2. Why its requiſite that all who enter into Covenant with God, ſhould ſo be his Covenant-people. 3. Inferences hence. Among the reſt, Many Directions and Motives, for becoming Gods Covenant-People: And twelve Diſcoveries whereby we may try whether we are Gods Covenant-People or no? To all which I refer the diligent Reader hereof, for his fuller Satisfaction.

Thus of the Greateſt Covenant-Relation betwixt God and the Captives: He becoming their God, and they his People in Covenant.

VII. Finally, the ſeventh and laſt Covenant-Bleſſing, which the Lord in this Covenant promiſed to his Captives, was; The mutual Covenant-Conſtancy betwixt God and them in this Everlaſting Covenant: He would not turn from them, and they ſhould not depart from him. This is very clearly expreſſed by the Lord in the Prophet Jeremiah, ſaying; (a) — And I will make an everlaſting Covenant with them; that I will not turn away from them, (Heb. from after them,) to do them good: And I will put my fear in their hearts, that they ſhall not depart from me, &c.

(a) Jer. 32. 40. &c.

Here note, I. The Perpetuity of this Covenant Promiſed, An Everlaſting Covenant. Which alſo is elſewhere pathetically aſſured them; (b) For, the Mountains ſhall depart, and the Hills be removed, but my kindneſs ſhall not depart from thee; neither ſhall the Covenant of my Peace be removed, ſaith the LORD, that hath mercy on thee. This Covenant ſhall be more conſtant, firm and unmoveable then the very Hills and higheſt Mountains. II. The Ground or Foundation of this Covenants Perpetuity, which is twofold, 1. On Gods part. His Covenant-conſtancy towards them. He will not turn away from them to do them Good. Why? Becauſe he will not. His own meer grace and good pleaſure of his will is the ſole motive inclining him hereunto: not any thing at all in them. And if God will not turn away from them; then his Love, his Grace, his Aſſiſtance, his Protection, &c. ſhall not turn away from them. Yea, if God turn not away from them, then God will be with them: and (c) if God be with them, who ſhall be prevailingly againſt againſt them? Not Sin, Death, Hell, Satan or all the powers of darkneſs. They can never want any requiſites for their eſtabliſhment, conſtancy, and perſeverance in his Covenant, that enjoy God with them and for them, according to his Covenant. 2. On their part. Their Covenant Conſtancy towards God; and that ariſing from Gods fear, which he promiſeth to put into their Hearts. The true Religious fear of God. (which here in this (d) Chapter is formerly opened,) comprizing much of true Religion in it, when once ſavingly planted in the Heart, is a prevalent Antidote againſt Apoſtacy, and ſtrong preſervative in Conſtancy, Job 1. 1. Jer. 32. 40. But this Fear is not of themſelves, it is the gift of God: God puts it into their heart, Spiritually; it grows not in their hearts, Naturally. And from this fear of Gods implanting there, they ſhall be ſo confirmed, as they ſhall not depart from him. O what unqueſtionable Security is here, by Gods own promiſes, for Gods conſtancy with them, their Perſeverance with him, and the Perpetuity of this Covenant between both! He will not forſake them: They ſhall not forſake him, He will ſo ſecure their hearts by his fear implanted there. God undertakes for both Parties, for himſelf and Them: He will not, They ſhall not. How inviolable this Covenant: though they could undertake for no ſide at all! In the very Marriage-Relation the man and woman do not either of them undertake for both Parties, though their love be never ſo entire and affectionate; but the Husband only can undertake for himſelf, and the wife for herſelf. Yet here this Covenant-Relation, betwixt God and his people, is ſo far beyond the Marriage-Relation, that therein God undertakes for both Sides, for both Parties: For himſelf, that he will not depart from them; For them, that they ſhall not depart from him. And then what ſhall ſeperate betwixt God and them? what ſhall change or overthrow this Covenant wherein all is undertaken by the unchangable and omnipotent God? O happy! thrice happy are Gods Covenant-people, whoſe Conſtancy, Perſeverance and Performances towards God, are thus undertaken by God! How may this raiſe and revive them againſt all their own infirmities? They can perform nothing, but their God will perform all for them and in them.

Thus of The mutual Covenant-Conſtancy betwixt the Fœderates; viz. God and his Captives in Babylon.

Hitherto, the Subject-Matter of this Covenant, on Gods Part, Conſiſting in many choice Covenant-Mercies, hath been at large unfolded in this Firſt Section. Next, The Covenant-Duties required and reſtipulated from the Captive-Jews on their part towards God, come under Conſideration in the Second Section. And the Inferences (for brevity ſake) will conveniently be drawn from them both together.

SECT.

Section II.

II. The Subject-Matter or Substance of this Covenant, on the Part of Gods Captive-People, Consisted in Sundry Covenant-Duties Required and Restipulated from them to God. Which Fœderal-Duties were especially these. viz. 1. Faith in the Messiah Promised. 2. Repentance from all their former iniquities. 3. True Obedience unto God. 4. Becoming Gods Covenant-People. 5. Enquiring of God for doing all his Promised Mercies unto them. I shall speak a little to them very briefly: having had occasion more fully to insist upon most of them heretofore.

1. Faith in the Messiah Promised. The blessed Messiah was not only promised in all the fore-going, but also even in this present Covenant: and that very eminently, viz. 1. As their compleat Covenant-Redeemer, that should ransome them not only from Babylon, but chiefly from all their Spiritual, and more then Babylonish bondage; 2. As the sure mercies of David, whereon Gods Everlasting Covenant is founded and built; 3. As a Branch of Righteousness growing up to David, and as a Plant of Renown raised up unto them; 4. As DAVID their Shepheard, Prince and King for ever. Now the Messiah, that peculiar object of saving Faith, being in this Covenant so notably Promised and tendered on Gods part to them: they on their part were Consequently obliged, in the Nature of the thing, (1) To embrace these Promises, and accept this Tender of the Messiah by Faith. (2) To live by this Faith.

1. To embrace these Promises, and accept this Tender of the Messiah in this Covenant by Faith. Gods Fœderal tender of Christ, and of many benefits in him to his people, Implies and consequentially requires their answerable acceptance of Christ by believing, and of all other blessings tendered with him. Besides, (remembring still that the Prophecy of Isaiah, from Chap. 49. to the end of the Book, hath very remarkable reference to this present Covenant with the Babylonish Captives, as hath been noted,) It's evident: 1. That God (e) Required all thirsty souls to come to Christ, as to Waters, Wine, Milk, Bread and Fatness: which (f) Coming to Christ, is believing in him. 2. That, God promised Justification by Faith in Jesus Christ, unto many (g) By his knowledge (viz. by the knowledge of him through Faith, for Faith hath in it Knowledge, Assent and Affiance) shall my righteous servant justifie many, for he shall bear their iniquities, &c. 3. That, the not believing in Christ is sharply blamed, (h) who hath believed our Report? and to whom hath the arm of the LORD been Revealed? For he shall grow up before him as a tender plant, &c. Thus Faith is here required. And when this Covenant had at last exhibited the Messiah unto the world (before the New Covenant began to Commence) How (i) often did Jeſus Chriſt invite and importune his own people the Jews, the poſterity of the Captives redeemed from Babylon, to come unto him and believe in him for life and Salvation?

(i) Matth. 11. 28, 29, 30. & 23. 37. John 3. 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 36. & 6. 35, 37, 47. to 59.

But touching true Faith in Chriſt Jeſus the Meſſiah, I have (k) already ſhewed at large; 1. What Juſtifying or Saving Faith in Chriſt is. 2. How we are Juſtified by believing.

(k) In Book III. Chap. 3. Aph. 5. Queſt. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7.

2. To live by this Faith. The righteous under their Captivity are required to live by faith, though their bondage was heavy, and their deliverance delayed, becauſe at laſt (when the viſion's appointed time ſhould come) they ſhould certainly be delivered by the Meſſiah. (l) —— The viſion is yet for an appointed time, but at the end it ſhall ſpeak and not lye: though it tarry, wait for it; becauſe it will ſurely come, it will not tarry. Behold his Soul which is lifted up, is not upright in him: but the juſt ſhall live by his Faith. This laſt ſentence is famouſly (m) alledged in the New Teſtament, by the Apoſtle Paul, To prove life and juſtification by Faith. The words may be Conſidered; 1. Partly, as a Promiſe. And ſo, they may be again underſtood two waies; for the word [By his Faith] in the Hebrew ſtanding in the midſt between the Subject and the Predicate here, may be referred to either. (1) To the Subject, thus; The juſt by his Faith. And ſo it declares the Inſtrumental Mean whereby a man is juſtified, viz. by his Faith. (2) To the Predicate, thus; By his Faith ſhall live. And ſo it implies to the Captives in Babylon, that the juſt among them ſhould by Faith live, and out-live their Captivity, and be delivered according to Gods Covenant, yea live Eternally and Spiritually, their Redemption from Babylon being a Type of their eternal Redemption. 2. Partly, as a Precept or Command, to the righteous which were in Babylon, that in the midſt their affliction there they ſhould wait upon God for deliverance, and by Faith live upon God, upon Chriſt, upon his Covenant, and upon his Promiſes, till the appointed time of the viſion ſhould come, although they were as dead and buried in their Graves in Babylon; For Gods elect ſhould by the Meſſiah be certainly delivered both from Babyloniſh and from Helliſh bondage.

More Generally, how they that are juſtified by Faith do live by Faith, eſpecially in five chief Acts of Faith; I have (n) already ſhewed.

(n) In Bo. III. Chap. 3. Aph. 3. Sect. 2. p. 441.

More Particularly, How the juſt ſhould live by Faith, in Times of Affliction, and miſery upon themſelves and the Church of God, may in part appear by theſe Acts of true Faith, which in ſuch caſes are to be exerted and exerciſed. For in ſuch ſort Believers of old have lived by Faith, upon God, Chriſt, Covenant and Promiſes in troublous and afflicting times.

(1) Faith, being forewarned of Affliction, fore-arms againſt it. Puts upon providing an Ark, before the flood come, Heb. 11. 7.

(2) Faith, encourages againſt all viſible fears and troubles by beholding him that is inviſible, Heb. 11. 27.

(3) Faith

(3) Faith leans and reſts upon God in Chriſt in the ſaddeſt wilderneſs of wo and diſtreſs, as on the only Rock of ſupport and ſafety, Cant. 8. 5. Iſa. 50. 10. Pſal. 73. 25, 26. Enables to truſt in God, though he ſlay us, Iob 13. 15.

(4) Faith puts upon fervent Prayer unto God in afflictions, Pſal. 116. 10.

(5) Faith accounts the afflictions of Gods people, the reproach of Chriſt: and prefers that reproach of Chriſt beyond all earthly treaſures, having reſpect to the recompence of Reward, Heb. 11. 24, 25, 26.

(6) Faith, eying the Promiſes (though afar off) is ſo perſwaded of them, and ſo embraces them; as to enable Gods people to live as afflicted Pilgrims and ſtrangers in this world, denying Earthly comforts, and enduring much hardneſs, becauſe they look for a City that hath foundations, and for a better, that is an heavenly Country, Heb. 11. 8, 9, 10, 13. to 17.

(7) Faith lightens the heavieſt, and ſweetens the bittereſt diſtreſſes and Tribulations, Rom. 5. 1, 2, 3, 4. Faithfull Paul gloried in the Croſs of Chriſt, Gal. 5. 14, 17. Took pleaſure in Reproaches, in Neceſſities, in Perſecutions, in Diſtreſſes for Chriſts ſake; 2 Cor. 12. 10.

(8) Faith ſupports and bears up the Heart under all ſorts of afflictions with Spiritual Conſolations, which are not ſmall; 2 Cor. 1. 4, 5, 6. 1 Sam. 30. 6. Eſpecially upon theſe and like grounds of Comfort, viz. 1. By former experiences, 2 Cor. 1. 10. 2 Tim. 4. 17, 18. 2. By Gods promiſes, Heb. 13. 5, 6. Luke 21. 15, 18. Mat. 10. 19, 32. Mark. 10. 29, 30. Rev. 2. 10. 3. By Gods preſence with us in affliction, and ſymphathizing, Iſa. 43. 1, 2, 3. Act. 18. 9, 10. Iſa. 63. 9. 4. By the Nature of Affliction. (9) Faith enables patiently to undergo all varieties and extremities of miſeries for obtaining of the Promiſes, Heb. 11. 35. to 40. And to refuſe deliverance from tortures in hope of a better Reſurrection, Heb. 11. 35.

(10) Faith makes the Saints rejoyce under ſufferings, through aſſurance of their future reward, Heb. 10. 32. to 36. and 12. 2. Rom. 5. 1, 2, 3.

(11) Faith looks upon all afflictions, as Inflicted for Good, Iob 23. 10. Ier. 24. 5. Heb. 12. 10. 2 Cor. 4. 16, 17, 18.

(12) Faith waites for Gods time of deliverance, as fitteſt: and makes not haſte out of trouble by indirect means, Iob 14. 14. Iſa. 28. 16. Hab. 2. 2, 3, 4.

II. Repentance from all their former Sins and Iniquities. Its very obſervable, That after the Lord promiſed his peoples Deliverance out of Captivity, Planting in their own land, with many excellent Spiritual Mercies; He declares how his people ſhall be affected with deep ſelf-abhorring, and ſincere Penitential Diſpoſitions at the conſideration of Gods overcoming Love and kindneſſes. (o) —— And I will give them an heart to know me, that I am the LORD; and they ſhall be my people and I will be their God: For, they ſhall return unto me with their whole heart. Not formally, feignedly or hypocritically; but Cordially, Entirely, with their heart, and with their whole heart. Notable is that in Ezekiel; (p) —— Then (that is, when God had redeemed them from Babylon, reſtored them to Sion, ſprinkled clean water upon them, and heaped all thoſe fore-promiſed Bleſſings upon them) Then ſhall ye remember your own evil wayes, and your doings that were not Good, and ſhall loath your ſelves in your own ſight, for your iniquites, and for your abominations. Nothing more kindly and throughly melts the Heart of a Sinner into Penitential Tears, Self-loathings, and Self-debaſings, then the infinite flames of Gods gratuitous Love and bowels of Mercy once Savingly felt, and Influences thereof (q) Shed abroad upon the heart. Love breeds Love, as naturally as fire breeds fire. (r) We love God, becauſe he hath loved us firſt. And Love to God makes us hate and loath whatſoever is Contrary to that bleſſed God whom we entirely Love. Hence it is, that we cannot chuſe but hate and loath our ſins and our ſelves for them, when we come to a true ſence, and apprehenſion of them: as being againſt God, (ſ) who is all Purity, all Goodneſs, all Love.

But having (t) formerly ſpoken of the Nature of Repentance in ſundry Particulars, I need not here to ſuperadd further.

III. True Obedience unto God. This Covenant-Duty is divers times mentioned. (u) —— And David my ſervant ſhall be King over them: and they all ſhall have one ſhepheard: They ſhall alſo walk in my judgements and obſerve my ſtatutes and do them. —— Moreover I will make a Covenant of Peace with them, &c. Here, their Obedience ſhall ariſe from their enjoying Chriſt the true DAVID to be their King and Shepheard. (x) —— And I will put my Spirit within you, and cauſe you to walk in my ſtatutes: and ye ſhall keep my judgements and do them. (y) —— And I will give them one heart, And I will put a New Spirit within you; And I will take the Stony heart out of their fleſh, and will give them an heart of fleſh: That they may walk in my ſtatutes, and keep mine Ordinances and do them: and they ſhall be my People and I will be their God. Here Their Obedience ſhall alſo Spring from Gods Spirit of Renovation and Sanctification in them. In theſe Paſſages, Their Obedience is ſpoken of in a double Notion, viz. 1. As a Mercy Promiſed from God to them. God Promiſeth to give them Chriſt, his Spirit, Newneſs of heart, Tenderneſs of Heart, &c. and all to work them up to ſincere univerſal Obedience. He will will furnish them with these excellent inward Principles and Abilities for Obedience. 2. As a Duty required from them by God. Being thus Principled and enabled, they are to return true and upright Obedience unto God, as their Covenant-Duty.

But touching this Covenant-Duty of Obedience, I shall here need to enlarge no further: (z) Having largley Opened this Particular Duty, both in Gods Covenant with Abraham, and with Israel at Mount Sinai.

IV. Becoming Gods Covenant-People. Its their Covenant Priviledge that they may be his People: Its their Covenant-Duty also to become his People and behave themselves towards him accordingly. Shall the Lord Covenant to be their God, which is the greatest and fullest of all Mercies Promisable: And shall not they Restipulate to be his People, which is the greatest and fullest duty repromisable? (a) Relatives do mutually infer and remove one another. (b) —Moreover I will make a Covenant of Peace with them, it shall be an everlasting Covenant with them. —My Tabernacle also shall be with them: Yea, I will be their God, and they shall be my People. This is also (c) elsewhere often inculcated; whereby they may see that God insists much upon it.

(c) Ezek. 11. 20. & 36. 28. & 37.23.

This Covenant-Duty of being Gods people; is a sweet and ample Theam, and here I should have contentedly paus'd a while, had I not unfolded touching this Covenant-Duty already, these things, viz. 1. What it implies, to be a Covenant-people to God. 2. Why God makes us his Covenant-People. 3. Certain Inferences; among which are twelve Characters, whereby we may discover whether we are Gods Covenant-people or no? and all in Opening the (d) Sinai-Covenant. Let the Diligent Reader return thither for his Satisfaction.

(d) Book III. chap.4. Aph.4. §.1.

V. Lastly, Enquiring of God, for Doing all his Covenanted Mercies unto them. God will do much for his people of his own meer Grace; Yea he is, not only (e) able, but wont to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think: But yet he loves to be sought unto by his people, that he may stream his blessings upon them. Hereupon, after he had made many promises to his Captives of high Concernment, he subjoyned; (f) Thus saith the Lord GOD, I will yet for this be inquired of by the House of Israel, to do it for them. As a great King proffers many royal favours to his Subjects; but yet, they that mean to partake them, must Petition for them: Or as a rich possessioner holds a Manner in libero soccagio, in free soccage, but yet he must perform to such a Court, or he must pay a pound of Pepper, A Red-Rose in Rose-time, &c. as a chief Rent; So here God will be honoured by Petitions, in his Court of Requests; He will have his Rent and his Homage from his people in order to the Performance of his Promised Mercies to his People. God gives not his blessings for their Prayers: though he will not give them without their their Prayers. When our hearts are fervently put upon Prayer for Covenant-bleſſings, its a good argument we are not far from enjoying ſuch Covenant-bleſſings. And what we reap by Prayer, 1. Is beſt diſcerned whence it comes; 2. Is double ſweet when it comes; 3. Is more carefully retained and improved, as not obtained without many wraſtlings, Prayers and Tears; 4. And doth moſt redound to the glory of the giver, enlarging our hearts by many thankſgivings unto God.

Thus of the Matter of this Covenant on the Captives Part, viz. Their Covenant-Duties required from them towards God.

Sect. III.

Inferences from the whole Matter of this COVENANT.

Conclude we now this whole Subject-Matter of this Covenant both on Gods Part, and on the Part of his Captive-people, with ſome brief Inferences, thence offering themſelves to us. As,

I. Hence, JESUS CHRIST was Promiſed in this Covenant with ſpecial reference to DAVID, and to the Performance of Gods former Covenant made with him in Chriſt. For, CHRIST is herein Promiſed, 1. As the (g) Sure Mercies of David, whereon Gods Everlaſting Covenant is founded and built. 2. As a (h) Branch of Righteouſneſs growing up to DAVID, and a Plant of Renown raiſed up to them. 3. As (i) DAVID their Shepheard, Prince and King for ever. CHRIST is a ſecond DAVID; Yea, the only true DAVID. All which Particulars have been here already explained. Now why is Chriſt thus Promiſed with ſuch reference unto DAVID: but becauſe God would thereby let us ſee, That Gods Govenant with David and his Seed was not forgotten, no not in his Seeds woful Captivity and ſeeming rejection, but ſhould certainly be fulfilled: And that it ſhould have its chief accompliſhment in Jeſus Chriſt? For indeed, under this Covenant-Diſpenſation Jeſus Chriſt was not only further Promiſed then in the Covenant with David, but alſo actually performed and exhibited in Humane fleſh of the Seed of David, according to all the former Promiſes that went of Chriſt.

II. Hence, CHRIST alone was the Covenant-Redeemer of Gods Captives from Babylon to Sion, who or what ever were the Inſtruments imployed in that their Redemption. Cyrus the Perſian, and Darius the Mede with their Armies were their inſtrumental Redeemers, (k) They took Babylon; deſtroyed their King Belſhazzar; Proclaimed liberty for the Captive-Jews, both to depart out of Babylon, and to return return into Canaan, to build the house of God, &c. But Jesus Christ, who ordered and over-ruled all these things was their Principal Redeemer, as that Prophecy in (l) Isaiah, formerly opened, doth especially manifest. As he of old was the Principal Redeemer of his people out of Egypts bondage, witness the Type of the (m) Paschal Lamb, although Moses and Aaron were therein very instrumental to him. Hereupon the ransomed Captives (n) owe all the praise of the Return of their Captivity to the LORD alone. Oh how vehemently is Christ pleased with the Office of a Redeemer: that Redeems from Egypt; Redeems from Babylon; Redeems from Hell.

(l) Isai. 49. 8. to 18, &c.

(m) Exod. 12.

(n) Psal. 126. 1, 2, 3, &c.

III. Hence, The Great and wonderfull Redemption of Captive-Iews from Babylon to Canaan, was an eminent Type of Christs Greater and more wonderful Redemption of Captive-Sinners from Sin to Grace, from Satan to God, from Death to Life, from Hell to Heaven. This (o) Typicalness hath been already proved, and the Parallel made betwixt these two Redemptions. The Jews of old might notably Spell out their Spiritual Redemption from Sin and Misery, in their Corporal Redemptions from Egypt and Babylon. These were to them, not only Mercies, but Mysteries: Not only Restaurations for the present, but Instructions also for the future. And when we read this great work of God in Redeeming his Captives from Babylons Graves: remember we and admire much more Christs Stupendious work in Redeeming his Elect from the Grave of Sin and gulph of Hell.

(o) See in this Aph. Sect 1. Covenant-Mercy II.

IV. Hence, No Difficulties whatsoever or seeming impossibilites can hinder the accomplishment of Gods Covenants and Promises. God in this Covenant promised to bring his People out of Babylon into Canaan, and to place them there, &c. Alas! how hard and impossible a thing might this seem unto them? Canaan was wasted and depopulated; The Holy City and Temple destroyed and laid on Heaps; The Jews carried Captive into Babylon and there intombed like (p) dead persons in their Graves; The Babylonian Kingdom being at that time the great and potent Empire over the world, unlikely to be subdued by any visible Power; And Babylon it self the Royal Seat of the Empire being so strongly fortified, Naturally by the great River Euphrates, Artificially by walls extraordinarily thick and high; &c. Yet notwithstanding all these difficulties and visible impossibilities, Gods Covenant and Promises for the Jews deliverance were exactly performed when the seventy years were accomplished, Cyrus and Darius taking Babylon in (q) that night after Belshazzar and his Lords had sensually feasted and quaffed in the silver and golden vessels of the Temple: immediately after which (r) Cyrus proclaims liberty to the Captives to return into Canaan for rebuilding of the Temple and Jerusalem. So they were placed in their own land, and (though they had troublous times, and many subtile malicious and potent adversaries, whereby the work was was long obstructed and retarded, yet) they ([f]) builded, prospered and finished. Zerubbabel laid the foundation, and the topstone.

([f]) Zech. 4.6, 7,8,9,10. Ezr.6.14, 15.

When therefore any Difficulties or seeming impossibilities stand in the way betwixt the Promises of God, and his Performances thereof: let not our Faith Stagger or be discomfited, God will engage his Omniscience and his Omnipotency: rather then there shall be the least violation of his Fidelity. So that even against reason, and sence, and hope, in hope, we may most Confidently rely upon him.

V. Hence, Christs redeemed People, become his cleansed People. Sin is the Sinners only spiritual Defilement. When Christ Redeems any Sinner, he cleanses him from his Sins: Partly ([t]) by his own blood, unto Justification; Partly ([u]) by his Spirit unto Sanctification. Christ Redeemed these Jews so from their misery: as withall to ([x]) cleanse them from all their iniquities. Christ Redeems the Sinner, so as to Renew the Sinner. He doth purchase us; Not to protect us in Sin, but to purge us from Sin. Jesus Christ ([y]) gave himself for us, that he might Redeem us from all iniquity: and purifie unto himself a peculiar people zealous of good works. And Christs Redemption is actually applyed to none, but only to such as are effectually called and cleansed. Redeemed Jews, must abandon their Idols. Redeemed Sinners must forsake their sins. To pretend to be Redeemed by Christ, and yet to allow our selves in sin: Is great Hypocrisie in us; And brings great infamy upon Christ, as if he were a Patron of Sin and wickedness.

([t]) Rev.1.5. Heb.9.14.
([u]) 1 Pet 1. 18,19,22. Tit.3.4,5,6.
([x]) See before in the III. promised Mercy.
([y]) Tit.2. 13,14.

VI. Hence, That the Iews (who extreamly doted upon Idolatry) were weaned from Idolatry, is meerly to be ascribed to the Grace and Covenant of God. Not the loss of Canaan, Jerusalem and the Temple; Not the Miseries of their Chaldean Bondage; not the good example of the Chaldeans, who were ([z]) extreamly addicted to idolatry and superstition: but only Gods free Grace and Covenant, promising this mercy, did accordingly divorce them from their idolatry. When nothing Else can do it, The Grace and Promise of God can estrange us utterly from our iniquities. Wait we therefore upon his Grace, and Covenant for attainment of this blessing to our selves and others.

([z]) Dan. 3.1, 2, &c.

VII. Hence, Gods Spirit, or the Spirit of Christ, was not only Promised, but also performed to Gods Redeemed under the Old Testament, For besides what hath been evidenced to this effect in opening of former Covenants, its plain this Spirit of God and Christ was Promised and Performed under this Covenant. This is diligently to be noted against the Socinians, ([a]) who falsly assert That the Spirit was not promised under the Old Testament. What could be more expres then this? ([b])—A new heart also will I give you, and a New Spirit will I put within you; and I will take away the stony heart out of your flesh, and I will give you an heart of flesh. And I will put my Spirit within you, and cause you to walk in my statutes, &c. See the fourth Covenant-Mercy.

([a]) Catech. Rakoviens. Quest. X.

VIII. Hence,

VIII. Hence, When Gods Spirit is put within the Heart, he brings many sacred endowments and blessed Influences with himself into that Heart. I have here in this Covenant ([c]) noted and opened seven such Holy Influences introduced into the soul by the Spirit of God, and all of very precious Consequence. The Spirit is the Spring and immediate Author of ([d]) all Gifts and Graces. He that once is possessed of this Spring: hath all the streams of grace thence flowing. Its therefore a very great and complexive Mercy, to enjoy the Spirit of God according to Gods Covenant. Our Saviour intimates, that Gods ([e]) giving of his Spirit to them that ask him, is the great attainment by Prayer. He that can pray down this blessing upon his heart, may have any thing of God. And Paul Sums up the whole Blessing of Abraham, that was to come upon the Gentiles through Christ, his most blessed Seed, in this One; ([f]) The Receiving of the Promise of the Spirit (i. e. the Promised Spirit) through Faith. The Promised Spirit enjoy'd, enstates believers in the whole blessing of Abraham, and makes them every way blessed with Abraham.

IX. Hence, The Lord delights to afford his Special Presence among his Covenant-People ([g]) His Tabernacle shall be with them, and his Sanctuary in the midst of them for evermore: And hereby God affords his Special presence with his Covenant-people, as ([h]) hath been explained. Now Gods presence is his peoples Protection, Psal. 46. 5. Their encouragement and Consolation against all evils, even in the valley of the shadow of Death, Psal. 23. 4. And a special token of Gods discriminating favour to them, seperating them from all the people on the face of the earth, Exod. 33. 16. Moses set so much store by this presence of God, that he was not willing to go out of the wilderness towards Canaan it self without it, ([i]) If thy presence go not up with me, carry us not up hence. Ezekiel having described the New Temple, New Worship and Ministry, New Land, and New City, (as ([k]) elsewhere I have shewed) shuts up his Description of the New City, with the blessed denomination given to it; ([l]) And the name of the City from that day, shall be, JEHOVAH-SHAMMAH. i. e. The LORD is there. Hereby intimating, that Gods Presence and Residence in this City, should be the High-excellency, and chief glory of this City, In stead of all Blessings.

X. Hence, Gods Covenant with a people, advanceth them to the highest Covenant-Relation with God. For what Relation can any People have towards God, or with God, like this: ([m]) That he should be their Covenant-God, and they his Covenant-People? And this Relation betwixt God and his Captives is sweetly stablished in this Covenant, Ezek. 37. 23, 26, 27. & 36. 28. & 34. 30, 31. Oh how comfortable, sweet and blessed is this Relation! What a Miracle of Mercy is it, that the most Holy, Holy, Holy Lord God, should ever admit sinful dust and ashes into such a Relation to himself?

([i]) Exod. 33. 15.

([k]) In my Key of the Bible on Ezek. § V.

([l]) Ezek. 48. 35.

([m]) See formerly, in the sixth Covenant-Mercy.

How excellent is Gods Covenant, that is the myſterious foundation in Chriſt of this Relation betwixt God and man! Surely, to be effectually called, and ſavingly brought into Covenant, and Covenant-relation with God indeed; is ſo complexive a Mercy, that it comprizeth all other ſaving Bleſſings in its Boſome, and is the very Gate of Heaven it ſelf.

XI. Hence, God ſo requires Covenant-Duties from us, That he undertakes all our Covenant-performances for us. As God on his part will beſtow Covenant-Mercies: ſo his Covenant-people on their part muſt return Covenant-Duties. The obligation muſt be mutual and reciprocal. But here's the Myſterie: God undertakes for both ſides. (n) He will be their God, and they ſhall be his People: (o) He will not turn away from them to do them Good, and they (his fear being put into their hearts,) ſhall not depart from him. O happy Covenant! wherein God undertakes the Covenant-performances on his peoples part, as well as on his own. In this point no Covenant in the world can compare with this Covenant of God. In all Covenants betwixt man and man, no man undertakes for his Confederate, but only for himſelf; In all Covenants betwixt man and wife, no husband undertakes for his wife, no wife undertakes for her husband, but the husband only for himſelf, and the wife only for herſelf: But in Gods Covenant he undertakes for himſelf and for us alſo. Though, our ſins be never ſo many; our infirmities and weakneſſes never ſo preſſing; our temptations never ſo violent; our duties never ſo great and difficult: yet he will ſo furniſh us with his fear and grace, that we ſhall do what he requires, and not depart from him. Oh what a comfort and ſtay may this be to our hearts! depend we upon this Covenant faithfully, urge we the Lord upon this his Covenant importunately, that he will honor himſelf and his truth in performing all things for us. Let him enable us to do, what he requireth: and let him require us to do, what he pleaſeth.

(n) Ezek. 37. 23, 26, 27.
(o) Jer. 32. 40.

XII. Hence, Gods Covenant in Chriſt is an everlaſting Covenant, and cannot be diſannulled. The outward Form or Manner of Miniſtration may be changed and annulled: but the Eſſence and Subſtance of it cannot be violated. (p) God will not turn from them: they ſhall not depart from God: All other things in the world cannot divide betwixt God and his People, or deſtroy his Covenant. This Perpetuity of Gods Covenant with his Captives, exceedingly augments the Sweetneſs, Comfortableneſs and Benefit of all the Covenant-Mercies.

(p) Jer. 32. 40. Ezek. 37. 26, 27, 28.

XIII. Hence, Finally, we may clearly take notice of many eminent points of Chriſtian Religion which are revealed in and under this Covenant. Conſider well the Covenant-Mercies Promiſed: and ſee if they amount not to a Conſiderable Goſpel, and brief Abſtract of Chriſtianity. It ſhall ſuffice only to mention theſe points now, becauſe I have, in opening this Covenant's-Mercies, and in ſundry other Covenants, explained them already. In

In and under this Covenant, theſe points of Chriſtian Religion are diſcloſed;

1. The Perſon and office of Jeſus Chriſt the Meſſiah. I. His Perſon. That he ſhould be true man, of the Seed of David; (q) A branch of Righteouſneſs growing up to DAVID. (r) The ſure Mercies of David, &c. II. His Office of Mediatorſhip. For, he is called; THE LORD OUR RIGHTEOUSNESS, Jer. 33. 16, 17. And he is the Covenant-Redeemer of his Captives from ſpiritual thraldom, Iſa. 49. 8. to 18. More Particularly, That he ſhould be, 1. A Prophet. Behold I have given him for a witneſs to the People, Iſai. 55. 1, 2, 3, 4. John 7. 16, 17. & 12. 49, 56. 2. A Prieſt. This is implied in that Denomination given him: The ſure Mercies of David. Which implies his Reſurrection from the dead, Iſa. 55. 1, 2, 3, 4. with Acts 13. 34. And this conſequently preſuppoſes his Death. Chriſt dyed, To ſatisfie for our ſins, Rom. 4. 25. & 8. 3. Heb. 9. 14. & 10. 10, 12, 14. Chriſt Roſe again from the Dead, That he might ever live to make Interceſſion for us, Heb. 7. 25. & 9. 24. Now Chriſts Satisfaction for Sin, and Interceſſion for Sinners, are the two grand Parts or Acts of his Prieſthood. 3. A King. A Leader and Commander of the People, Iſa. 55. 1, 2, 3, 4. Yea he is promiſed, as another DAVID, their Shepheard, Prince, and King for ever, Ezek. 34. 23, 24, 25, &c. & 37. 24, 25, 26. Jer. 33. 17, 20, 21, 22, 25, 26.

2. The great work of Redemption. That Gods elect ſhould be (s) Redeemed from their ſpiritual bondage by Chriſt, is primarily intended to be revealed to the Jews, under Chriſts promiſed Redeeming of the Captive-Jews from Babylon, the Type thereof, Iſa. 49. 8. to 24. Ezek. 37. 21, 25, 26. & 34. 11. to 19. 23, &c. Jer. 23. 7, 8. & 16. 14, 15.

5. Juſtification. That all their Iniquities ſhould be cleanſed and pardoned, Jer. 33. 7, 8. And that Chriſts Righteouſneſs ſhould ſo effectually be made theirs, that Chriſt himſelf ſhould be the LORD their RIGHTEOUSNESS, Jer. 33. 16, 17. And Juſtification doth eſpecially conſiſt in theſe two things, viz. Non-Imputing of our Sins to us, but to Chriſt: and Imputing of Chriſts Righteouſneſs unto us, as the matter of our Righteouſneſs before God.

6. Sanctification, and Spiritual (u) cleanſing from their Sinful Uncleanneſſes, Not to defile themſelves any longer therewith, but to walk in newneſs of life and obedience, Ezek. 36. 27. More Particularly they ſhould be ſo Sanctified, as, 1. To know God, that he

9. Perseverance with God in his Covenant, Jer. 32. 40, &c.

These, among other points of Christian Doctrine, are Revealed in this Covenant. And therefore it may very justly be accounted and made use of as an Evangelical and Christian Covenant.

But hitherto of the Substance, or Subject-Matter of this Covenant.

APHORISM III.

3. The Form of Gods Covenant with his Captive-people.

THE Form of Gods Covenant with his Captive-people the Jews, was Inwardly, The mutual Obligation of the Federates one to another: Outwardly, The manner of this Covenants Manifestation, Confirmation and Administration. This Aphorism I explain as followeth.

Concerning this Form of Gods Covenant with his Captive-people the Jews, I need not say much. It is, 1. Inward, 2. Outward.

I. Inward. The more Inward and essential Form of this Covenant, consisted in the Mutual Obligation of the Fœderates one to another: of God to the Captive Jews by Stipulation of Mercies, and of the Captive Iews to God by Re-stipulation of Duties. Which Mercies and Duties, have both of them been already explained. The High excellency and glory of all which Mercies and Duties, is set forth in that clause, often recited in this Covenant; (x) —— I will be their God, and they shall be my People.

(x) Ezek. 37. 26, 27. 23. & 11. 20, & 14. 11. & 36. 28.

II. Outward. The More Outward and Accidental Form of this Covenant, stood in the Manner of Gods 1. Manifestation, 2. Confirmation, 3. Administration of this Covenant to the Captive-Iews.

1. Gods Manifestation of this Covenant to the Captive-Iews, was not, Immediate by his own immediate Revelation or voice to them, As to Adam, Noah, Abraham, and to Israel at Mount-Sinai: But Mediat diate, by the miniſtry of his Prophets, eſpecially Iſaiah, Jeremiah, and Ezekiel, as (y) hath been already evidenced. As God firſt made known the former Covenant to his Prophet Nathan, and then by him to David: So here God firſt Revealed this Covenant to theſe his Prophets, and then by them to the Captive-Jews. God delights to impart his Covenant-Myſteries unto his people by the Miniſtry of his Prophets; Unto men by men; 1. Partly, That they may not be daſhed, terrified and amazed, at the terrible Majeſty of the Lord, as (z) once Iſrael was. 2. Partly, That the Lord may condeſcend more-familiarly unto his people in his Covenant-dealings with them, as he did with David, 2 Sam. 7. 19. 3. Partly, To teach his people to prize, love, and hearken to his Prophets, by whom the richeſt Treaſures of Goſpel Truth and Covenant-aſſurances of their Salvation in Chriſt, are Revealed to them. Who would not highly value thoſe Ambaſſadors, that ſhall come from God with a Covenant of Faith, purpoſely to aſſure them of their eternal Happineſs by Chriſt through believing?

(y) Book III. Chap. VI. In the Preface to this Covenants Explanation.

(z) Exod. 20. 18, 19, 20, 21. Deut. 5. 22, to the end.

2. Gods Confirmation of this Covenant to his People the Captive-Jews, was various: chiefly fourfold. 1. By exegetical Repetitions of it. 2. By Divers Illuſtrating Symbols and Similitudes. 3. By ſundry Ratifying Promiſes. 4. By Gods Sacred and inviolable Oath.

(1) By Exegetical Repetitions of it. God made known this Covenant by his Prophets to his people, not only once, but often. He ſpake it frequently: that he might confirm it to them firmly. And his following Repetitions were not only Confirmations, but alſo Explanations of the foregoing Diſcoveries of this Covenant. God made known this Covenant, eſpecially to three Prophets. 1. To Iſaiah before the Captivity: often Repeating it by him. 2. To Ezekiel, and 3. To Jeremiah, both during the Captivity. Often ingeminating it to them All which I have particularly ſhewed in the beginning of this VI. Chapter, in the Preface there. Now why ſhould God thus often ingeminate and repeat this Covenant, but to put his people out of doubt of the certainty of it?

(2) By Divers Illuſtrating Symbols and Similitudes. Parables, or Similitudes, illuſtrate much: and conſequently obtain ſome kind of force for Confirmation of things illuſtrated, and for perſwaſion of our hearts thereunto. God uſed eſpecially theſe Parables, Symbols or Similitudes for Confirming and aſſuring of divers Covenant-Mercies to the Captive-Jews, viz. 1. The Symbole (a) of two Baskets of figs ſet before the Temple; the one very good, the other very bad. The good figs repreſenting the Captives in Babylon, towards whom God had thoughts and purpoſes of much good, To redeem them from Babylon, to bring them into their own land, &c. The bad figs repreſenting Zedekiah and his Princes, and the reſidue of Jeruſalem, which remained ſtill in the land, &c. Whom God would would consume and make fit for nothing. 2. The Symbole (b) of two sticks, written on, The one for Judah, The other for Ephraim: both of them becoming one in the Prophet Ezekiels hand. Hereby God assuring them that Judah and Israel should no longer remain two Kingdoms or two Nations, but they should both become one in the hand of God under the true DAVID Jesus Christ thir Prince. This was another eminent Mercy promised in this Covenant. 3. The Symbole (c) of Dry bones in the valley, reviving at Ezekiels Prophecying, and standing up an exceeding great army. Hereby the Lord assuring the Captive-Jews, that though they were as it were dead and buried in their Graves in Babylon, and their Condition visibly as helpless and hopeless as of these dead dry bones; yet God would open their Graves, bring them out of their Graves, make their dead and dry bones live, and redeem them from Babylon. This was another grand Covenant-Mercy promised.

(b) Ezek. 37. 15. to the end of the chap.

(c) Ezek. 37. 1. to 15.

(3) By sundry Ratifying Promises. I mean such promises as were annexed to, or inserted in this Covenant, purposely to ratifie, confirm and assure them of the certainty and inviolable stability of this Covenant. As, when God promised the Perpetuity of this Covenant and the Covenant-mercies in Christ, the true DAVID; (d) And they shall dwell in the land that I have given unto Jacob my servant, wherein your fathers have dwelt, and they shall dwell therein, even they and their children, and their childrens children for ever, and my servant DAVID shall be their Prince for ever. Moreover I will make a Covenant of Peace with them, it shall be an everlasting Covenant with them, &c. And again; —— I will make an everlasting Covenant with you, even the sure Mercies of David, Isa. 55. 3. And elsewhere God ratifies this Covenant, by Promising greater and more immovable stability to it, then to the very Mountains and Hills; (e) For the Mountains shall depart, and the Hills be removed: but my kindness shall not depart from thee, neither shall the Covenant of my peace be removed, saith the LORD, that hath mercy on thee. How sweet are these Promises!

(d) Ezek. 37. 25, 26.

(e) Isa. 54. 10.

(4) By Gods sacred and inviolable Oath. For, God comforting his people by his Covenant and Promises against the Babylonish Captivity, confirms that his Covenant and the Promises thereof by his holy Oath, saying; (f) —— For this is as the waters of Noah unto me: for as I have sworn that the waters of Noah shall no more go over the earth; so have I sworn that I would not be wroth with thee, nor rebuke thee. For the Mountains shall depart, and the Hils be removed, &c. Now God, interposing himself by these (g) two immutable things, his Promise and his Oath, intended his peoples strong Consolation in this Covenant.

(f) Isa. 54. 5. to 11.

(g) Heb. 6. 17, 18.

3. Gods Administration of this Covenant with the Captive Jews, (as well as of his former Covenant with David) was for substance the same with that of the Sinai-Covenant, which determined not till till Christs Death, when the New-Covenant began to Commence. For both these Covenants were, as it were, Under-Covenants to the Sinai-Covenant. This Covenant then was administred, 1. With a Typical and Outward Sanctuary. 2. With a Levitical Priesthood, Ordinarily: and many Prophets, Extraordinarily. 3. With Levitical Ordinances of divine worship, and Ceremonies, &c. 4. With Temporal and Typical Promises touching Canaan, their Rest there, &c. 5. With ordinary Covenant-Tokens, Circumcision, and the Passover. All which (except the Prophets) remained still in use till the Incarnation and Death of JESUS CHRIST.

Nevertheless this Covenants Administration was greatly raised and heightned by some Perfective Alterations and Additionals, above all fore-going Covenant-Administrations. For under this Covenant,

(1) The People, Priests and worship of God were more fully ([h]) cleansed from Idolatry then ever since their Redemption from Ægypt.

(h) Ezek. 37. 23, &c.

(2) The Temple of Zerubbabel wherein they had their Solemn worship, was far more glorious then the Temple of Solomon under the former Covenant. Not in regard of Fabrick and Structure; therein Solomons excelled: but in regard of use, the most glorious Son of God Iesus Christ glorifying this Latter Temple with his own blessed Presence and Ministry in it. ([i]) ——And I will shake all Nations, and THE DESIRE OF ALL NTIONS shall come, and I will fill this House with Glory, saith the LORD of Hosts. The Silver is mine, and the Gold is mine, saith the LORD of Hosts, The Glory of this Latter House shall be greater then of the Former, saith the LORD of Hosts: And in this place will I give peace, saith the LORD of Hosts.

(i) Hag. 2. 7, 8, 9.

(3) The Promises of this Covenant (which is the very next door to the New-Covenant) do run in a far more ([k]) Spiritual strain touching Spiritual blessings in heavenly things in Christ, then did the Promises of any former Covenant whatsoever. And do determinately point out the very time of the ([l]) Messiahs suffering: which in no other Covenant-administration was done before.

(k) Read diligently Ezek. 36. & 37. Jer. 32. & Isa. 49. to the end of his Prophecy.

(l) Dan. 9. 24, 25, 26, 27.

(4) The chief Passover that ever was sacrificed since the Institution of the Passover, was offered up under this Covenant. For under it ([m]) Christ our passover was sacrificed for us. Never Passover like this Passover. All they were but Types and Shadows: This alone was the Truth and Substance of them all.

(m) 1 Cor. 5. 7.

(5) Finally, Under this Covenant the Political Government of the Common-wealth of Israel was transmitted to the true ([n]) DAVID, viz. JESUS CHRIST, Lord of Lords and King of Kings: In whose Spiritual, Heavenly and Everlasting Kingdom the outward Kingdom and Government of Judah and Israel determined, and was swallowed up for evermore.

1. Hence, The bounty of Gods Grace was very illustrious towards his people in this Covenant, which he so often revealed to them. Heres not a seldom, but a frequent Covenant-Manifestation: whereby Gods Covenant-Grace obtained not a penurious, but a bounteous demonstration. Gods often tenders of his Grace, do eminently imply the riches and bounty of that Grace. He often offered, what he was most willing to bestow.

2. Hence, The Truth and certainty of this Covenant was altogether infallible and unquestionable. Being revealed by three several Prophets; Repeated several times; And Confirmed sundry waies, by Symbolical Tokens, Ratifying Promises, and the Oath of God himself: how could they doubt of its faithfull accomplishment?

3. Hence, The Lord in this Covenant abundantly provided for his Captives support and consolation. Not only the Matter of it was exceeding Comfortable to them, In regard both of the rich Mercies Promised, and of Gods undertaking for their Constancy in Covenant: But the very Form of this Covenant was most Comfortable also, being so importunately manifested, so strongly confirmed, and so sweetly administred. What people could more (o) need consolation? And what way could be more effectual then this Covenant way which God took for their consolation?

(o) Isa. 54. 6, 7, 8, &c.

4. Hence, This Covenant with the Captives did not only explain, but also highly improve the Sinai-Covenant unto much Evangelical Spirituality. As the former Covenant with David, so this with the Captives was Explanatory to the Sinai-Covenant. But this Covenant hath highly advanced and raised up the Sinai-Covenant with many sublime Spiritual Promises. So that when that Old-Covenant was to wear away, and to be swallowed up by the new, it was become very Spiritual.

5. Hence, The subsequent-Covenants still had their Special excellencies above those that were foregoing. That with David surpassed all that went before, which also still excelled one another: But this transcends that Covenant with David, as appears in those five forementioned Particulars. The substance of the Covenant of Faith is still the same: but yet it still more and more exels it self in gradual Perfections, till it attain to the most perfect of all dispensations, the New Covenant.

6. Hence, Finally, When the mutual tie and obligation between the Fœderates was broken, the very Essence of this Covenant was violated and overthrown. For in this mutual obligation of Fœderates, the Essential form and being of this and of all Covenants Consists. When therefore the (p) Jews rejected the Messiah actually exhibited, sold him for a base price of thirty pieces of Silver, set him at nought, and cruelly murdered him with wicked hands. (so far were they from believing in him;) No wonder that God cut asunder his two staves of Beauty and Bands, Brake his Covenant with them, and utterly cast them off till the fulness of the Gentiles be accomplished.

APHORISM

APHORISM IV.

4. The End or Scope of Gods Covenant with his Captive-people in Babylon.

GOds End and intended Scope in this Covenant with his Captives in Babylon was; More Immediately, A further Diſcovery of the promiſed Meſsiah Jeſus Chriſt: More Mediately, The promoting of their preſent Conſolation and future Salvation: And the Advancement of Gods Glory in all. This Aphoriſm I thus in brief Explicate.

I. The more Immediate End, intended by God in this Covenant was: A further Diſcovery of the Promiſed Meſsiah Jeſus Chriſt. Every Covenant tends to improve and advance in ſome regard or other, the further Revelation of Chriſt: As I have (q) ſhewed in the Ends of the Several Cvenants; and ſpecially in gods Covenant with David, which the Reader may Conſult. CHRIST, and Sinners happineſs by him, is the great myſterie of all Diſcoveries of the Covenant of Faith.

(q) Book III. chap. 5. Aph. 6.

This Covenant, together with the Promiſes Reducible and appertaining to it, tends to make a further Diſcovery of Chriſt, in regard of his 1. Perſon, 2. Office, and 3. Actual Appearing in Humane fleſh.

1. In regard of Chriſts Perſon, according to the Fleſh: This Covenant and the Promiſes thereunto belonging do diſcover, 1. His Deſcent. That he ſhall not only, as a (r) Branch of Righteouſneſs, grow up to David, but alſo that he ſhould deſcend of David by (ſ) Zerubbabel, a ſpecial Type, and fore-father of Chriſt: as that paſſage of Haggai, being ſolidly underſtood, doth intimate; for it is chiefly applicable to, and intended of Chriſt the true Zerubbabel. 2. His Properties. (t) Righteous, Having Salvation, Lowly, Speaking peace to the Heathen, being wounded for our iniquities, &c.

(r) Ier. 33. 15, 16, 17.

(ſ) Hag. 2. 21, 22, 23.

(t) Zech. 9. 9, 10. Iſa. 53. 11. 4, 5, 6, &c.

2. In regard of Chriſts office: This Covenant and the Promiſes annexed thereunto do Reveal; 1 More Generally, That Chriſt ſhould be (u) a Redeemer, not only of his People the Jews from Babyloniſh bondage, but alſo of all his Elect from ſinfull and helliſh thraldom, by the blood of the Covenant. 2. More Particularly, That Jeſus Chriſt the Meſſiah ſhould be, (x) A Prophet. (y) A witneſs to the People; (y) The Meſſenger, or Angel of the Covenant, delighted in. (z) A Prieſt for ever. Becoming (z) an offering for ſin, and Making Interceſſion for the Tranſgreſſors.

(u) Iſa. 49. 8. to 18. &c. Zech. 9. 11.

(x) Iſa. 55. 4.

(which are the two grand Acts of his Priesthood) Whence he is said, (a) To send Prisoners out of the pit wherein there is no water by the blood of the Covenant. And to be (b) The Sure Mercies of David. (3) A King. (c) A Leader and Commander to the people. Yea that he as a (d) true DAVID should be their Shepheard, Prince and King for ever: Under whose Dominion the divided Kingdoms of Judah and Israel should be united and made one, as at first they were under David. Thus, though the Sinai-Covenant discovered Christ as a Prophet and Priest, under the Types of Moses and Aaron; and the Covenant with David reveal Christ as an Everlasting King: Yet this Covenant doth as much as both, and sets him forth as Prophet, Priest and King for ever. Herein therefore Christ is revealed more fully then in either of those Covenants.

(d) Ezek. 34. 23, 24, &c. & 37. 24, 25, 26.

3. In regard of Christs Actual appearing in Humane flesh: This Covenant and the Promises thereto belonging, discover; 1. That, (e) From the going forth of the Commandments to restore and to build Jerusalem unto the Messiah the Prince, shall be seven weeks; (that is thinks (f) Calvin from the second year of Cyrus till the baptism of Christ, when he began publikely to appear in his Mediatory office,) and threescore and two weeks the Street shall be built again, and the wall, even in troublous times. And after threescore and two weeks shall Messiah be cut off, but not for himself, &c. Here, the determinate time of the Messiah's appearing and Suffering for sin, is revealed to Daniel about the time of the Jews release from Babylon: which was never done before under any former Covenant. 2. That, Christ, (g) the DESIRE OF ALL NATIONS should come, and by his Presence fill the Later Temple built by Zerubbabel with more Glory, then ever the first Temple had which was built by Solomon. 3. That, Christ (h) Zion's King should come to Jerusalem, being just, having Salvation, Lowly, and riding upon an Ass, and upon a colt the foal of an Ass. 3. That (i) The LORD (whom they sought; Even the Angel of the Covenant, whom they delighted in, should suddenly come to his Temple. Malachi, the last Prophet of the old Testament, tels them, that now Christs coming was nigh at hand, he would come suddenly without delay. And (k) Elijah the Prophet (that is, John Baptist in the Spirit and power of Elijah, Luke 1. 17. Mat. 11. 10. to 15.) as Christs Herauld or Harbinger, should come to prepare Christs way before him. And the next tidings which the Scripture brings in the History of the four Evangelists is, The manifestation of John the Baptist, the second Elijah, and shortly after him the Incarnation and Nativity, &c. of JESUS CHRIST. These, besides other discoveries this Covenant made of Christ, beyond all foregoing Covenants.

II. The more Mediate End intended by God in this Covenant, was twofold, viz. 1. Subordinate, 2. Ultimate.

1. Sub-

1. Subordinate: The Captive's 1. Preſent conſolation, and 2. Future Salvation of them and their Poſterity.

(1) The Preſent Conſolation of Gods Captives in Babylon. As they were there greatly afflicted: ſo they were deeply dejected. They were then, (l) as a woman forſaken and grieved in Spirit, and as a wife of youth refuſed; Yea forſaken of God, who in wrath for that ſeaſon hid his face from them. So that (m) when they ſate down by the Rivers of Babylon, they wept when they remembred Sion. They hanged their harps upon the willows in the midſt thereof. ——They could not ſing the LORD'S ſong in a ſtrange land. They ſaid, (n) Our bones are dryed and our hope is loſt, we are cut off for our parts. Thus they were even drowned in ſorrow, and ſwallowed up in diſcomfort. Therefore God purpoſely ſets himſelf to Comfort them with good words, and comfortable words in this Covenant. See Iſaiah 54. throughout. and Zech. 1. 12. to the end of the chapter, and Iſai. 49 8. to 18. where Chriſt is promiſed as a Covenant of the People, to eſtabliſh the Land, to cauſe to inherit the Deſolate heritages: To ſay to the Priſoners, go forth: To them that are in darkneſs, ſhew your ſelves, &c. and at laſt this Triumphant cloſe is added; Sing, O heavens; and be joyful, O earth; and break forth into ſinging, O Mountains: For God hath comforted his people, and will have mercy on his afflicted, ver. 13. Seriouſly conſider all the Covenant-Mercies formerly unfolded, How ſuitable and full Remedies they were againſt all their Babyloniſh diſtreſſes: and then it muſt needs be confeſſed that in this Covenant God ſingularly intended his afflicted peoples Conſolation.

(2) The Future Salvation of the Captives and their Poſterity. God in this Covenant aimed at an higher End and Advantage to his people then their preſent Conſolation: even their and their Seeds eternal Salvation. And therefore (o) under their corporal Redemption from Babyloniſh Bondage to Canaans Liberty and Reſt; He repreſents typically their Spiritual Redemption from Sinfull and Helliſh Bondage to Heaven by Jeſus Chriſt, As I have already manifeſted. And this is extended to them, and to their children, and to their childrens children, Ezek. 37. 25, 26. Iſa. 59. 20, 21. And if the Spirituality of the Promiſes of this Covenant be well weighed: half an eye may ſee; That in this Covenant God intended much more Their Spiritual Redemption by Chriſt, then their corporal Deliverance by Cyrus: And that he had a far greater deſire to lead his people and their ſeed unto, and place them in, the Heavenly, rather then the Earthly Canaan.

2. Ultimate. Gods higheſt and laſt End, in this, as in all Covenants, was the Advancement of his own Glory. Therefore, when the Lord was about to propound the ſweet Promiſes of this Covenant, touching the Jews Redemption from Babylon to Si[illegible]rom Chaldea and other Countries to Canaan: he tels them that herein he had principal reſpect to his own Holy Name and Glory, which through them was profaned among the Heathen. (p) ——But I had pitty for mine holy name, which the houſe of Iſrael had profaned among the Heathen whither whither they went. Therefore say unto the House of Israel, Thus saith the Lord GOD, I do not this for your sakes O house of Israel, but for mine Holy name's sake which ye have profaned among the Heathen whither ye went. And I will sanctifie my great Name which was profaned among the Heathen, which ye have profaned in the midst of them: and the Heathen shall know that I am the LORD, saith the Lord GOD, when I shall be sanctified in you before their eyes. For I will take you from among the Heathen, &c. So that God made this Covenant, and made it good: that he might sanctifie, exalt and glorifie his own great name. More Particularly by this Covenant God intended; 1. The Glory of his free-Grace; without, yea contrary to their deserts, Ezek. 36. 22, 31, 32. 2. The Glory of his rich Mercy, Compassion and Loving-kindness, Isai. 49. 13, 15, 16. Zech. 1. 12. to 17. All the Covenanted Blessings demonstrate this. 3. The Glory of his Power: that he would open their Graves, and bring them out of their Graves, Ezek. 37. 1. to 15. 4. The Glory of his Faithfulness: not only in the sight of his own people, Ezek. 37. 14. but also in the sight of the very Heathen, Ezek. 36. 33. to 37. 5. The Glory of his Justice and Severity. In that for their Contempt of Christ at last, God would cut asunder his two staves of BEAUTY and BANDS, and break his Covenant which he made with all the People, Zech. 11. 6. to 15.

Inferences.

1. Hence, See how this Covenent Answers, yea excels the fore-going Covenants in the Immediate End thereof. It Answers and agrees with them, in that it tends to Reveal Christ to the Jews: It excels them, in that it tends to make an higher and further Revelation of Christ then ever any did before; yea and at last before its expiration, actually exhibits Christ incarnate according to all the faithful's expectation. So that in the perusal of this Covenant, you must not only look at Christ promised, but at Christ Promised as neer at hand, and (q) Suddenly to come into his Temple. Yea in this Covenant are the last Promises of Christ to come in the flesh. Under this Covenant Christ was so promised that he was Actually Performed. Therefore under this Covenant you may with Good old Simeon take Jesus Christ in your Arms, and bless the Lord for his Salvation.

(q) Mal. 3. 1.

2. Hence, This Covenant was the Captives (r) Cordial, and great Master of rejoycing. Herein God peculiarly intended their Comfort and their joy over all their afflictions. And if they fainted after the Publication of this Covenant: that must needs be a great reproach unto their Faith and Spiritual Courage. This Covenant also, primarily intending Spirituals in that Corporal Redemption from Babylon and Return of the Captives to Canaan, &c. may be improved by us as a Singular cordial to our selves in reference to our al-sufficient redemption by Christ from spiritual thraldom, and our investiture into all Spiritual Priviledges by him.

(r) Isa. 49. 9, 9, 10, &c. 13.

3. Hence, Though God in his Covenants and Promises hath a tender care care of his Peoples present Consolation, yet therein he principally provides for their future and eternal Salvation.

4. Hence, When we read and ponder upon this Covenant, Let us ascribe to God the glory due unto his great name, from his Excellent Contrivance and Revelation of this Covenant, and the Mysteries thereof.

Thus of Gods intended Scope and End in this Covenant.

APHORISM V.

Fifthly General Inferences from the whole of this Covenant with the Captive-Jews.

HAving thus at large unfolded this Covenant of God with his Captive-Jews in Babylon, in regard of the 1. Author, 2. Occasion, 3. Impulsive Cause, 4. Fœderates to it, 5. Nature of it, 6. Subject-Matter on Gods Part and on Theirs, 7. Form, and 8. End thereof: I shall now briefly Conclude my Discourse about this Covenant-Discovery, with certain General Inferences resulting from the Whole that hath been Spoken, wrapping them up in this ensuing Aphorism, viz.

Hence, From all that hath been proved concerning this Covenant with the Captive-Jews these things are Evident. 1. That, This was a Covenant of Faith. 2. That, The Substance of Gods Covenants of Faith was but one: Though the Circumstances divers. 3. That, God may change the outward condition of his People: and yet not change the Substance of his Covenant with his people. 4. That, Davids Royal Seed and Diadem were continued in Christ. 5. That, As Gods Covenant with David was the Royal, so this was the Redeeming, Uncaptivating Covenant. 6. That, Gods sweetest Consolations are showred on his People, in their sharpest Tribulations. 7. What The Properties of this Covenant are. 8. What Agreement or Disagreement, this Covenant hath, with, or from all fore-going Covenants. 9. What Preheminences this Covenant had beyond the former Covenants. 10. That, This Covenant and the Promises thereof approach most neer to the New Covenant, and the Promises thereof. These I briefly thus explain;

1. That, This Covenant with the Captives was a Covenant of Faith in Christ; purely Evangelical, and not a Covenant of works: Yea and the last of the Covenants of Promise, under which Christ promised promiſed was exhibited. This I have already (f) ſufficiently cleared.

II. That, The Subſtance of Gods Covenants of Faith was but one: Though the circumſtances of the ſeveral diſcoveries were divers. The ſeveral Covenant-Diſcoveries of Gods Covenant of Faith, were in ſeveral Times, To ſeveral Perſons, In ſeveral Places, upon ſeveral Occaſions, In ſeveral waies of Manifeſtation, Confirmation and Adminiſtration according to the wiſe pleaſure of the Lord for his peoples beſt advantage; The Circumſtances were very various: But the Eſſence and Subſtance of them all was one and the ſame, viz. The Revealing and tendering of one and the ſame Meſſiah Jeſus Chriſt to his people, as their only al-ſufficient Saviour through Faith. Herein this preſent Covenant with the Captives was one and the ſame with all former Covenant-Diſpenſations: though in ſome Circumſtances differing from them. And it was meet, that the Covenant-diſcoveries ſhould be ſtill more and more full, perfect, clear and glorious: as the Incarnation of the Meſſiah approached neerer and neerer, who is the Perfection and Glory of them all. It is but one Sun that ſhines in the ſky from the ſhorteſt to the longeſt day in the year: Yet this one Sun Riſes every morning earlier and earlier, climbs up in the Heavens ſtill Higher and Higher, ſhines ſtill hotter and hotter, and runs his race ſtill longer and longer: Like here conceive of Chriſt the Sun of righteouſneſs in the ſeveral Covenant-expreſſures.

III. That, God may change the Outward Condition of his people, and yet not change the Subſtance of his Covenant with his People. When God made Covenant with Iſrael at Sinai, They were a newly Redeemed people: when he Covenanted with David, They were a people advanced to high Proſperity and peace under a Royal Government: But when he Covenanted with theſe Captives, they were in an afflicted and Enthralled Condition. Then at Sinai, After at Sion: now, in Babylon. Then, in an Anarchy, without any ſettled Government: After, under a Monarchy, under Kingly Government: but now, under Tyrannie, Even the cruel Babyloniſh Government. Yet though thus God had changed their Outward Condition: he changed not the Subſtance of his Covenant with them. In all varieties of their State he ſtill Reveals the ſame Meſſiah and the ſame ſalvation by him through Faith. To let all know, that in reference to God and happineſs, the Outward Condition is as nothing: Its only Chriſt and enjoyment of him through Faith according to his Covenant, that makes people happy in any Condition, and makes every Condition ſweet and comfortable.

IV. That, Davids Royal Seed and Diadem chiefly had their continuance and perpetuity in Chriſt. From the Captivity till Chriſts Incarnation Davids (t) Throne was thrown down; His (u) Diadem removed; and his Seed (as a Royal Seed) ſeemed to ceaſe, being only (x) Governors not Kings, over that people of Judah: By all which which God ſeemed in outward appearance to make void his Covenant with David and his Seed, in regard of the Perpetuity of his Royal Seed and Kingdom, Pſal. 89. 39, &c. But Davids ruined Throne was exalted, His removed Diadem and Crown was Reſtored, and his Royal Seed Revived; at the appearing of Jeſus Chriſt (his Primary Seed) in the fleſh: And in Jeſus Chriſt the Perpetuity of Davids Seed, Throne, Crown, and Covenant, had its chiefeſt and fulleſt accompliſhment, according to the (y) Tenour of this Covenant. So faithfull is God in his Promiſes, that he cannot ſuffer his Covenant to fail.

(y) Ier. 33. 15 to the end. with Ier. 32. 37. to the end. Ezek 21. 26, 27.

V. That, As Gods Covenant with DAVID was peculiarly the Royal Covenant (as hath been manifeſted): ſo this Covenant with the Captives was the Redeeming or Uncaptivating Covenant. The main ſtream of Promiſes in that Covenant did run upon the Kingdom of David and of his Seed: and a chief burden of the Promiſes in this Covenant was upon the Captives Redemption and Return from Babylon to Sion, from Chaldea to Canaan, &c. And as they were ſeventy years in Babylon, and then corporally Redeemed thence by Cyrus, eſpecially by the Meſſiah: So (z) from their Redemption out of Babylon till Chriſt were ſeventy weeks of years accompliſhed, and then all the Elect of Jews and Gentiles were Spiritually redeemed from Sin and Death by Jeſus Chriſt. That, was as a Type of This: and whileſt Daniel was the Praying for Performance of the former, he Received from God a punctual Promiſe of the latter.

(z) Dan. 9. 20. to the end.

VI. That, Gods ſweeteſt Conſolations are uſually ſhowred on his People in their ſharpeſt Tribulations. This moſt Conſolatory Covenant was then revealed to Gods people the Jews, when they were moſt diſconſolate Captives in their Graves in Babylon. When Abrahams Seed ſhould become (a) as a ſmoaking furnace, Then God aſſures Abraham that he would be to them a Burning Lamp. When the Church in the wilderneſs and afterwards, ſhould become (b) as a Buſh burning with the fire of Affliction, Then God aſſures Moſes that the LORD himſelf would be in the midſt of the Burning Buſh that it ſhould not be conſumed. Tender parents are moſt affectionatly compaſſionate and comforting to their children in ſickneſſes and diſtreſſes: So the heavenly father then yerns over his people (c) with tendereſt bowels when they are involved and wrackt up in deepeſt ſufferings and Sorrows. God thus ſpake to the Nations that ſpoyled his people in Chaldea, &c. (d) He that toucheth you, toucheth the apple of his eye: and thats a moſt tender part. The afflictions of Gods people, go very neer the Heart of God. While (e) they ſmart: he bleeds. While they (f) ſuffer: he cries out. When they ſigh: he binds up their Hearts with ſweeteſt Conſolations. And no wonder; For,

1. Then is the time when his Conſolations are moſt needful.
2. Then is the time when his Conſolations will be moſt effectual.
3. Then is the Seaſon when his Conſolations will be moſt welcome to the toſſed and wearied Soul. Therefore when our troubles are are moſt preſſing upon us; let us conclude, that Gods Comforts are moſt haſtening to us: as the night is oftimes darkeſt towards the break of Day. (g) Light is ſown for the righteous, and gladneſs for the upright in Heart. The light of joy and comfort is as Seed ſown for the juſt and upright: it may be hid and buried a while under the clods, but at laſt it will Sprout and Spring up. When? Even under the very ſhowers of affliction. For, (h) Unto the upright there ariſeth light in the darkneſs. Our darkneſs, is the very Seaſon for Gods Light to ſhine out in.

VII. That, Hence its very evident, what the Properties and excellent Perfections of this Covenant are, viz. It is, 1. Divine. 2. Gratuitous. 3. Evangelical 4 Holy. 5. Sure and faithful. 6. Spiritual. 7. Reconciliatory. 8. Redemptory. 9. Conſolatory. 10. Everlaſting. I need but briefly to touch at theſe, and paſs; becauſe much hath been already ſpoken to this Effect.

1. Divine, of Divine Authority. For God himſelf was the Sole Author and Revealer of it to his Captives by his Prophets: as hath been (i) evidenced. Therefore the Promiſes thereof were to be believed and depended upon without ſtaggering.

(i) In Aphoriſ. 1. of this chap.

2. Gratuitous. Not at all from any Deſert, Motive or Impulſive cauſe in them: but meerly from his own gracious inclination, Ezek. 36. 31, 32.

3. Evangelical, not Legal: of Faith, not of Works. It hath been (k) already proved, that this Covenant was a Covenant of Faith in Chriſt Promiſed, and not as then exhibited, when this Covenant was Revealed: and therefore its meerly Evangelical, and pure Goſpel in Chriſt to come afterwards.

(k) In this chap. Aph. 1. V.

4. Holy. The Author, Fœderates, Matter, Form, End, Even the whole of this Covenant being (l) Holy: How can it chuſe but be Holy?

5. Sure and Faithfull. For, 1. God that cannot lye hath made it, is the Sole Author of it. See Aphoriſm 1. of this chap. Tit. 1. 2. 2. God, that cannot change, hath ſworn it, Iſa. 54. 9, 10. 3. Chriſt as the Sure Mercies of David, is the foundation and Matter of it, Iſa. 55. 3.

6. Spiritual. The greateſt number of the Promiſes in this Covenant are about ſublime (m) Spiritual things, And thoſe Promiſes about deliverance from Captivity in the Earthly Babylon, and Reſtauration of the Captive-Jews to their Earthly Canaan, did chiefly intend Spiritual Myſteries: viz. Chriſts Redemption of his Spiritual Captives from the bondage of Sin and Death, to Life and heavenly glory: as hath been formerly manifeſted.

(m) Iſa. 55. 3, 4, &c. Ier. 32. 38, 39, 40. Ezek. 36. 25, 26, 27. & 37. 22. to the end.

7. Reconciliatory. God intended this as a Covenant of Reconciliation betwixt himſelf and the Captives that had deeply offended him (n) before their Captivity. For herein he promiſeth to ſprinkle clean water upon them, and to cleanſe them from all their Idols and filthineſs, Ezek. 16. 25. and 37. 23. And ſtiles this, A

Covenant

Covenant of Peace with them, Ezek. 37. 26. & 34. 25. Iſaiah 54. 10.

8. Redemptory. In this Covenant God aſſures the Captives often (as (o) hath been ſhewed already) of their Deliverance and Redemption from Babylon: and under the Type of that, of their Spiritual Redemption by Chriſt. Betwixt which two Redemptions there is great ſimilitude and reſemblance. How fitly is this Redeeming Covenant placed laſt of all the Covenants of Promiſe, which brings the great Redeemer of ſinners Jeſus Chriſt into the world as in its Arms!

9. Conſolatory. This Covenant is full of Conſolation: Partly, againſt the outward earthly Diſcomforts of the Jews Babyloniſh Captivity; Partly, againſt the inward Spiritual Diſconſolations of Gods Elect, whether Jews or Gentiles under the bondage of Sin and Death. Duly Read and Conſider the (p) Promiſes of this Covenant: and you will finde them all very rich Cordials.

10. Finally, Everlaſting. God divers times ſtiles this Covenant, An Everlaſting Covenant, Ezek. 37. 26. Iſa. 55. 3, 4. Jer. 32. 40. This Covenant for the Subſtance of it, is ſo ſtrongly confirmed and eſtabliſhed (q) by Gods Repetitions of it, Symbols or Similitudes, Ratifying Promiſes, and his inviolable Oath: That, the waters of Noah ſhall ſooner return a ſecond time to drown the whole world: The Mountains and Hills ſhall ſooner be removed out of their places, Iſa. 54. 9, 10. Gods Covenant of day and night, that there ſhould not be day and night in their Seaſon, ſhall ſooner be broken, Jer. 33. 17. to 23. And his Ordinances of Heaven and Earth ſhall ſooner fail, Jer. 33. 25, 26. Then this Covenant with the Captives and people of God, for the Subſtance of it, ſhall fail, be broken, or removed.

VIII. What Agreement or Diſagreement this Covenant hath, with, or from all foregoing Covenants. This Covenant, being an (r) Additional and Explanatory Covenant to the Snai-Covenant, (as was alſo the former Covenant with David,) and under the ſame Adminiſtration; muſt needs have in effect the ſame Agreements and Diſagreements with and from all foregoing Covenants, which the Sinai-Covenant hath with and from them. Therefore judiciouſly (ſ) Conſult the Sinai-Covenant, and the Covenant with David, as to this point: and there will be found ſufficient Satisfaction. I muſt avoid Repetition of things ſpoken already: and Contract what is poſſible.

IX. What Prehominencies this Covenant had beyond the former Covenants. This, being the laſt Expreſſure of the (t) Covenants of Promiſe, had ſome ſpecial Excellencies in it, above all that went before it. For,

1. The Promiſed Mercies in the Body of this Covenant, and which under this Covenant-diſpenſation are revealed as appertaining thereunto, are far more Plentiful and abundant, then in or under any foregoing Covenant-Expreſſure. As, 1. Promiſes comprized in the body of this Covenant, See in Isa. 49. 8. to 18. & 54. 7. to the end. & 55. 1. to 6. Jerem. 32. 36. to the end. & 33. throughout. Ezek. 34. & 36. & 37. throughout. 2. Promises revealed under this Covenant-dispensation: and which are to be ranked and referred thereunto, See in Isaiah from chap. 49. to the end of his Prophecy, which hath a special eye all along to the matters of this Covenant: and also in the whole Books of those (u) Prophets which Prophecyed neer-upon, under or after the Babylonish Captivity, as Jeremiah, Ezekiel, Daniel, Obadiah, Haggai, Zachariah and Malachi.

(u) See my Key of the Bible, in the chronological Table before Isaiah.

2. The Promises of this Covenant are far more Spiritual, then in former Covenants: as the former places, containing Promises in the body of this Covenant, abundantly evidence.

3. The Redemption and Deliverance of Gods people from Babylonish Bondage under this Covenant, far surpassed all their former deliverances, yea even that Miraculous one from the Ægyptian yoke, Jer. 16. 14, 15. & 23. 7, 8.

4. The Place of Gods publike worship, viz. The Temple built by Zerubbabel, did far excel in glory (through Christs personal Presence therein) all former places of worship, even the Magnificent Temple of Solomon it self, Hag. 2. 6, 7, 8, 9.

5. The great Mysterie of Christ and Sinners Salvation by him through Faith is more fully and clearly laid open, in and under this, then in any former Covenant: as the Promises in the places forealleaged in the 1. Particular will easily evince.

6. The punctual time and end of the Messiah's Manifestation and Death is more determinately declared under this Covenant, then ever before, Dan. 9. 1, 2, &c. 20. to the end.

(x) See all the four Evangelists testifying thus much.

7. Finally, (x) JESUS CHRIST, the soul of this, and all foregoing Covenants of Promise, was under this Covenant Actually Performed and Exhibited: and thereby all former Covenants had their great accomplishment in him. So that under this Covenant The Seed of the woman came, to bruise the Serpents head; The true Noah came, into the Ark of his Church to save his Elect Remnant; The Seed of Abraham came, to bless all the Nations and Kindreds of the Earth; The Great Prophet, like Moses, came, to Reveal compleatly all the blessed Counsels and Contrivances of God, necessary to be known unto Salvation; The Primary Seed of David came, to sit upon his Throne for ever; yea, now CHRIST, the true DAVID, the son of the Highest came, to (y) possess the Kingdom of his father David, and to reign over the House of Jacob, the Church, for evermore.

(y) Luke 1. 32, 33.

These were the Preheminencies of this Covenant, above all foregoing: In which regard, this Covenant must needs be confessed to be a Covenant far excelling.

X. That, Finally, This Covenant and the Promises thereof, approach most neer, (as in time, so in their excellent, clear, full, heavenly, spiri- ritual Nature) to the new Covenant and the Promiſes thereof. This is moſt apparent by all that hath been ſaid. This is as the very brink, borders, or ſuburbs of the New Covenant. This is almoſt the bright-Noon-tide of Gods Covenant-Expreſſures. This exhibits Chriſt under the Old Covenant, that he might bring all his People under the New-Covenant: yea repreſents Chriſt as Abrogating the Old, and Inſtituting the New-Covenant by his Death. This Covenant ſhakes hands with the New-Covenant: And ſo ſhall I invite my Reader now to ſhake hands with, Salute, and Embrace the Compleateſt and Sweeteſt New-Covenant Adminiſtration; To turn his eyes from (z) Hagar the Bond-woman, to Sarah the Free-woman; And to paſs on from Mount Sinai, to Mount Sion. And it is our eminent Happineſs, That we are not under the Old but New-Covenant; That (†) we are not children of the Bond-woman, but of the Free.

Of the Diſcovery and Adminiſtration of the NEW-COVENANT, in the ſeventh and laſt Period of time moſt remarkable; viz.

From the Death of Jeſus Chriſt, till the End of the World.

Now the Churches (d) Non-age and Minority is over: Her Full age and Maturity takes place. Now therefore let us proportionably bring New apprehenſions, New heart and affections, New diſpoſitions and inclinations for embracing and entertaining of this NEW-COVENANT. 6. But now hath he obtained a more excellent Miniſtry, by how much alſo he is the Mediator of a better Covenant, which was eſtabliſhed upon better Promiſes.

7. For if that First Covenant had been faultleſs, then ſhould no place have been ſought for the ſecond. But finding fault with them, he ſaith;

8. Behold, the daies come (ſaith

ſaith the LORD, that I will make a NEW-COVENANT with the houſe of Iſrael, and with the houſe of Juah.

32. Not according to the Covenant that I made with their Fathers in the day that I took them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt, (which my Covenant they brake, although I was an huſband unto them, ſaith the LORD.)

33. But THIS ſhall be the Covenant that I will make with the Houſe of Iſrael, After thoſe daies, ſaith the LORD, I will put my Law in their inward parts, and write it in their hearts, and will be their God, and they ſhall be my people.

34. And they ſhall teach no more every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, ſaying, Know the LORD: for they ſhall all know me from the leaſt of them unto the greateſt of them, ſaith the LORD: For I will forgive their iniquity, and I will remember their Sin no more.

(ſaith the Lord) when I will make a NEW-COVENANT with the House of Iſrael and the House of Judah.

9. Not according to the Covenant that I made with their Fathers in the day when I took thm by the hand to lead them out of the land of Egypt, becauſe they continued not in my Covenant, and I regarded them not, ſaith the Lord.

10. But THIS is the COVENANT that I will make with the Houſe of Iſrael after Thoſe daies, ſaith the Lord: I will give my Laws into their minde, and write them in (or upon) their Hearts: And I will be to them a God, & they ſhall be to me a People.

11. And they ſhall not teach every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, ſaying, Know the Lord: For all ſhall know me from the leaſt to the greateſt.

12. For I will be merciful to their unrighteouſneſſes, and their Sins and their Iniquities will I remember no more.

13. In that he ſaith, A New Covenant, he hath made the Firſt, Old. Now that which decayeth and waxeth old, is ready to vaniſh away.

This

This is the Subſtance of this NEW-COVENANT, and thus the Lord did fore-promiſe it by Ieremiah; and after-expound it by Paul. Some ſmall difference there is in their words, as this Parallel ſhews; but the ſenſe is one and the ſame, as hereafter will appear. The words of Paul, and in them the words of Jeremiah, I have (1) elſewhere Analytically explained; whither for brevity ſake, I refer the Reader. And upon theſe words eſpecially, I ſhall ground my enſuing Diſcourſe about the New Covenant: though not preciſely inſiſting in the very Method of the Apoſtle's laying them down.

(1) In my Key of the Bible on the Epiſt. to the Hebr. §. VI. p. 951. Lond. 1649.

Now from Pauls Expoſitory Recital and Narrative of the NEW-COVENANT, For the more clear and orderly unfolding of this Laſt and Higheſt Covenant-Expreſſure, I ſhall inſiſt upon, 1. The Terms, 2. The Names and General Nature, 3. The Author, or Efficient Cauſe, together with the Occaſion and Impulſive Cauſes, 4. The Fœderates, 5. The Matter, 6. The Mediator, Surety or Teſtator, 7. The Form, 8. The End of this moſt precious NEW-COVENANT, And 9. Laſtly, Certain General Inferences from the whole of this New Covenant, ſhall cloſe up this Book, and this whole Treatiſe of Gods Holy Covenants.

In this Chapter I ſhall begin with the Firſt of theſe, viz. The Terms or Bounds of time peculiar to the New Covenant, And here I ſhall ſhew, 1. What theſe Terms or Limits of time, peculiar to the New Teſtament, are. 2. That, Theſe terms of time for the New Covenant are of all other Revolutions of time moſt Remarkable. And thoſe in two diſtinct Aphoriſms.

APHORISM I.

The Terms Bounds or Limits of time for and during which the NEW-COVENANT became and remains of force, are eſpecially from the Death of our Lord and only Saviour JESUS CHRIST, until the End of the World.

THeſe Terms, Bounds or Limits of time for the New Covenant are hinted both by the Prophet Ieremiah and the Apoſtle Paul, Repeating the New Covenant, viz. (1) The Terminus à Quo, or Term of time, whence it takes its beginning, in theſe words, (m) Behold the dayes come ſaith the LORD, that I will make a NEW-COVENANT, &c. What (n) Daies were here intended? Peculiarly the daies of Chriſts manifeſtation in the fleſh, when he ſhould dedicate and ſtabliſh his New Covenant or Teſtament in his

(m) Ier. 31. 31. Heb. 8. 8.

(n) Per dies iſtos quorum meminit prophetа Intentus omnes deſignari Chriſti regnum. Joh. Calv. Com. in Heb. 8, 8.

his own blood. Which in fulness of time Christ hath performed. (o) The Terminus ad quem, or Term of time unto which it will be continued, and when it will end: is intimated in those words; (o) That I will make a New Covenant with —— That is, A Covenant that shall still continue New, and never wax old or wear away, as the former did, Heb. 8. 13. And such a Covenant, alwaies remaining new, must needs be continued till the worlds End. As also in those words; (p) —— And their Sins and their Iniquities will I remember no more, That is, Though in the Sacrifices of the Old Covenant there was a remembrance again made of Sins every year, those Sacrifices being unable to take away Sin, Heb. 10. 3,4. Yet by the New Covenants one Sacrifice for Sins for ever, even by the offering of the body of Iesus Christ once for all, Christ shall perfect for ever them that are sanctified. —— That there shall need no more expiatory offering for sin, Heb. 10. 10. to 19. So then, This New Covenant bringing in everlasting remission of sins, by the everlasting efficacy and vertue of Christs one Sacrifice of himself once for all; this New Covenant must needs, for the Substance of it, continue for ever; and for the administration of it, endure till the end of the world, without any other succeeding Covenant to antiquate the same.

(p) Ier. 31. 34. Heb. 8. 12.

Let me now a little Explain, and then Confirm this Aphorism.

I. For Explanation hereof, Consider; 1. That, when I fetch the Date or Beginning of the New-Covenant from the Death of Christ, I understand the Death of Jesus Christ, (in the same latitude as I have (q) formerly expressed in defining the Terms and Bounds of the Old Testament,) As comprizing also his Resurrection, Ascension, Session at the Right hand of God, and his Pouring forth his Spirit on the Feast of Pentecost: All which were within a few daies after Christs Death. So that, at, or neer upon Christs Death, this New-Covenant Commenced and began to be of force: as I have formerly said. 2. That, The beginning of this New-Covenant, or the Terminus à quo, The Term of Time from which this New-Covenant became Authentick and of force, was (as I have (r) formerly noted) either, (1) More Incompleat: Partly, From the beginning of John Baptists Ministry, who by his Doctrine and Baptism made way for Christ and his New Testament-Kingdom, as a middle Prophet betwixt those of the Old and of the New Covenant. Partly, From the beginning of Christs own Ministry, and of his Disciples, who by Doctrine, Miracles, and Baptism (the initiating Token of the New-Covenant) began to lay a foundation for the New-Covenant-Administration. (2) Or More Compleat; viz. From the Death of Jesus Christ, and from his Actions neer thereunto: As in the fore-cited place I have already proved. Or thus more Briefly; The Term of the New-Covenants Beginning, comprizeth in it three things, viz. (1) The Preparation to it: which was by the Ministry of John Baptist, of Jesus Christ and of his Disciples. (2) The Dedication or Sanction of it: which was properly by the Death and blood of Jesus Christ, the great New-Covenants-Sacrifice, (s) The Solemn Publication of it, which was on the Solemn Feast-day of Pentecost (fifty daies after Christ our Passover was Sacrificed, as the old Covenant was given at Sinai fifty daies after the Typical Passover was offered) when (f) the Holy Ghost fell upon the Apostles in shape of fiery cloven tongues, enabling them in all Languages to preach the Doctrine and Mysteries of the New-Covenant to Jews devout men then assembled at Jerusalem out of every Nation under Heaven. Then this New-Covenant (which was to take in all Nations) was solemnly Published unto a very great Assembly gathered together out of all Nations. 3. That, the Terminus ad quem, The Term of time until which this New-Covenant shall continue and remain in force, is the End of this world, and Christs coming to the General Judgement.

(f) Acts 2. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, &c. to the end of the chapter.

II. For Confirmation of this, These two Terms of the New-Covenants Continuance; viz. 1. The Term From which it takes its beginning: 2. The Term to which it shall be still carryed on; are to be proved.

I. The Term of Time from which. The New-Covenant Properly took its beginning from the Death of our blessed Lord and Saviour JESUS CHRIST, and near thereunto. For,

1. The New-Covenant Administration began, when the Old Covenant Administration ended, and was Abrogated: For, the (t) New-Covenant immediately succeeds the Old, and vacates the Old. But the Old Covenant Administration ended and was abrogated at and neer upon the Death of Jesus Christ: For, 1. Then, Christ said, (u) It is finished, viz. The Redemption of Gods Elect by Christs Death is finished; and the Old Covenant-Dispensation is finished; All the Typical Sacrifices thereof being fulfilled, vacated and disanulled by the Anti-type of them all the true Sacrifice of Jesus Christ himself offered once for all. There being no more use of shadows, when Christ crucified the Body and Substance of all those Adumbrations was come. 2. Then, (x) The veil of the Temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom. Importing: Partly, The Abrogation of all the Levitical Administrations of the Old Covenant. Holy things should now no longer be under a veil, but be (y) openly manifested to all people by the Un-veiled New-Covenant-Expressure. Partly, Christs removing (z) the veil of ignorance and infidelity from the hearts of Jews and all others that should believe in him. Partly, Christs (a) entring by his Death, and opening a way also for us by the veil of his flesh, Rent, into the true Holyest of Holies, Heaven it self. 3. Then, Christ abrogated the Passover, the Token of the Old Covenant, Instituting instead thereof the (b) Lords Supper, as a Token of the New-Covenant, as the New Testament in his blood. 4. Then, (c) God would no longer have Sacrifice and Offering, in Burnt-Offerings and Sacrifices for sin he could could take no pleasure: But in the Body of Christ prepared. He takes away the First (viz. The Sacrifices of the Old Covenant,) that he may establish the Second, (that is, Christs Sacrifice of himself, the only propitiatory Sacrifice of the New-Covenant.) By the which will we are Sanctified, through the offering of the Body of Jesus Christ once for all.

2. The New Covenant most properly then began, when ([d]) it had its Dedication and Solemn Sanction by Blood and Sacrifice: For both Old and New-Covenant are established by blood and Sacrifice; The Old by Typical Blood and Sacrifices of slain beasts, The New, by the better Blood and Sacrifice of Christ himself. But the New-Covenant had its Solemn Sanction and Establishment only at Christs Death by the effusion of his blood (called ([e]) the blood of the New-Covenant) and by the Sacrifice of himself, Heb. 10. 18, &c.

([e]) Math. 27, 28.

3. The New-Covenant is Testamentary; Its so a Covenant, that it is also a Testament: Christs Last Will and ([f]) New Testament, as after will appear: Christ himself being Testator. Therefore as a mans Last Will and Testament is of no force while the Testator liveth, but begins to be of force as soon as he is dead, so that there can be no Addition to it, Detraction from it, nor Alteration of it: So Christs Last Will, the New Testament began to be of force assoon as Christ the Testator was dead: His Death hath irrevocably and unalterably established it for ever, till the End of the world.

([f]) Heb. 9. 15, 16, 17.

4. Lastly, Jesus Christ Immediately upon his Death, ([g]) gave Commission to his Apostles to Preach the Gospel of the New-Covenant, and to Administer the Tokens thereof, Baptism and the Lords Supper to all Nations; Instructed them and ([h]) gave Commandments to them concerning the Kingdom of God; ([i]) gave gifts to men, even all sorts of his New-Covenant Officers; and Poured forth the ([k]) promised Spirit upon his Ministers and Members in most Eminent and Extraordinary Manner: All which being peculiar to the New-Covenant, demonstrate clearly the Commencing and Date of the New-Covenant to be from the Death of Jesus Christ.

This is the Terminus à quo, The Term of time from which the New-Covenant takes its beginning, viz. Most properly from the Death of Jesus Christ.

II. The Term of Time to which. The New-Covenant shall remain and continue of force and full efficacy without Revocation or Repeal till the End of the world. This is the Terminus ad Quem, The Term of time to which this New-Covenant shall be continued. For,

1. The Denominations of this Covenant intimate the Perpetuity of its Nature. The Lord is wont to signifie the Natures of Spiritual Mysteries in their very Names. Now this Covenant is stiled, 1. The ([l]) New-Covenant, and ([m]) New Testament.

([l]) Jer. 31. 31. Heb. 8. 8, 10.

([m]) Mat. 26. 28.

Why? For this Reaſon eſpecially among others: Becauſe it is ſtill to continue NEW, and never to wax old or wear away ſo long as this world ſhall continue. Nor doth the Holy Scripture any where Reveal another Covenant or Teſtament which ſhall ſucceed this New-Covenant to antiquate the ſame. 2. The Everlaſting Covenant or Teſtament. (n) —— Now the God of peace that brought again from the dead our Lord Jeſus, that great ſhepheard of the ſheep, through the blood of the Everlaſting Covenant, &c. The Subſtance of this Covenant ſhall be, a part-poſt, Abſolutely Everlaſting, and ſhall continue for ever in heaven in the world to come: And the Adminiſtration of it ſhall be Reſpectively Everlaſting, and ſhall endure ſo long on Earth as this preſent world ſhall continue.

(n) Heb. 13. 20.

2. The Mediator or Surety of this New-Covenant Jeſus Chriſt, is not Mortal or Mutable as was Moſes the Typical Mediator of the Old Covenant; but he is everlaſting and everliving in his Mediation, or Mediatory office. (o) —Thou art a Prieſt for ever after the order of Melchizedeck. (p) —But this man, becauſe he continueth ever, hath an unchangeable Prieſthood. —He ever liveth to make Interceſſion for us. —— But the word of the Oath, which was ſince the Law, maketh the Son, who is conſecrated for evermore. In like ſort his Mediatory King-ſhip is everlaſting. (q) —— He ſhall be called the Son of the Higheſt, and the Lord God ſhall give unto him the Throne of his father David. And he ſhall reign over the Houſe of Jacob for ever; and of his Kingdom there ſhall be no end. His Mediatory Kingdom as to the Eſſence and Subſtance of it ſhall be endleſs and abſolutely everlaſting: but as to the Manner of Adminiſtration thereof by his New-Covenant Ordinances, The word Preached, Sacraments and Cenſures diſpenſed, by his effuſion of his Spirit, &c. ſo he ſhall only reign till he hath put death and all his enemies under his feet, till the end of the world; And then (r) he ſhall deliver up this his Diſpenſatory Kingdom to the Father, And there ſhall be an end thereof at the end of the world as to the preſent Manner of Adminiſtration. Now if Jeſus Chriſt the Mediator of this New-Covenant be Immortal, Immutable and everlaſting, and his Mediation according to the preſent manner of new-Covenant Adminiſtrations, ſhall continue till the end of the world: Conſequently this New-Covenant muſt needs continue for ever till the end of the world.

3. The (ſ) Doctrine and Sacramental Tokens of the New-Covenant are ſtill to be diſpenſed to all Nations till Chriſt come, till the End of the world: And whileſt the New-Covenant-Doctrine ſhall be Preached, the New-Covenant Tokens Adminiſtred; ſo long the New-Covenant it ſelf muſt needs be of force and continue.

(ſ) Math. 28. 19, 20. with 1 Cor. 11. 26.

4. The New-Covenant-Miniſtry; Extraordinary, as (t) Apoſtles, Prophets, Evangeliſts; and Ordinary, as Paſtors and Teachers were given of Chriſt to his Church, for the perfecting of the Saints, for the work of the Miniſtry, for the edifying of the Body of Chriſt: till we all

all come in the unity of the Faith, and of the Knowledge of the Son of God, unto a Perfect man, unto the meaſure of the ſtature of the fulneſs of Chriſt. This building up of Chriſts Myſtical body, Perfecting of Saints, and bringing all the Elect to the meaſure of the ſtature of the fulneſs of Chriſt, was inchoate by the Extraordinary Miniſtry, ſhall be conſummate by the Ordinary: but it ſhall not be fully compleated till the worlds End, till when all the Elect ſhall not be fully called and brought in to Chriſt. Conſequently the New-Covenant-Adminiſtration ſhall laſt ſo long, even till the end of the world.

5. Finally, Jeſus Chriſt hath promiſed to (u) be with his New-Covenant-Miniſtry (viz. by his ſpecial Preſence, Grace, Aſſiſtance, Bleſſing, Protection, &c. alwaies (Gr. all daies) even unto the end of the world, Amen. And therefore, as there muſt be a conſtant Succeſſion of his New-Covenant-Miniſtry, and a conſtant Adminiſtration of the New-Covenant-Ordinances by that Miniſtry, and a continued Preſence of Jeſus Chriſt himſelf with this his Miniſtry: So there ſhall be a like continuance of this New-Covenant it ſelf, till the end of the world.

Inferences. Doth the New-Covenant take place from the Death of Jeſus Chriſt, and remain of force till the end of the world? Then,

I. Hence, The Inchoation, Duration, and Determnation of the New-Covenant, was, is and ſhall be, of all other moſt excellent and illuſtrious.

1. The Inchoation of the New-Covenant was moſt excellent and illuſtrious above the Riſe and Beginning of all former Covenants. This is evident by the three degrees of its Inchoation: viz. 1. By the (x) Preparation for it, by the Miniſtry of John Baptiſt, and of Jeſus Chriſt himſelf: Both of them (y) Preaching the Doctrine of the New-Covenant and kingdom of God approaching; and both of them (z) Adminiſtring by themſelves or their Diſciples, the firſt Fœderal Token of the New-Covenant, Baptiſm with water. And theſe Preparations were tranſacted for about the ſpace of three years and an half, till the Death of Chriſt. Now how great were theſe two! and How eminent their Preparations for this New-Covenant! John Baptiſt was, by Chriſts own Teſtimony, (a) More then a Prophet, and among them that are born of women there aroſe not a greater then John the Baptiſt: notwithſtanding he that is leaſt in the Kingdom of Heaven is greater then he. That is, John Baptiſt was greater then all the Prophets of the Old Covenant, becauſe he came as a Miniſter and Meſſenger to prepare Chriſts way before him, pointing out the Meſſiah the Lamb of God with his finger, and as an Harbinger and Herald of the New-Covenant, So that he is ranked as in a ſort betwixt the Old and New-Covenant in his Miniſtration: But the leaſt Miniſter of the New-Covenant is greater then John the Baptiſt. JESUS CHRIST alſo was the (b) Great Prophet of Prophets, the fountain of all Prophecy under old and New Teſtament:

ment: in comparison of whom all other Prophets were but as Shadows and Ciphers. John's Administration was lively and powerful, Mat. 3. 1, &c. But CHRIST's was with Divine (c) Authority and Majesty, to his hearers astonishment, insomuch that his very adversaries that went to apprehend him, Confessed; (d) Never man spake like this man. The Preparations therefore for this New-Covenant by such a Ministry of two such Persons as John Baptist and Jesus Christ, and that for so long time excels all Preparations for all former Covenant Dispensations. Only the Sinai-Covenant, of all that went before, had a Preparation preceding: But that Preparation (e) was managed only by Moses, and that only for about three daies space. That three daies Preparation of the people by Moses shewed the great Glory of the Old Covenants Dispensation: But this three years Preparation of the People by Iohn Baptist, and Iesus Christ, evidenced the (f) far greater and more excelling glory of the New-Covenants Administration. 2. By the (g) Sanction, Dedication or Establishment of it, in and by the blood and Death of JESUS CHRIST himself, God-man in one Person, whereupon his Blood is accounted the (h) Blood of God. Divers of the Covenants of Promise fore-going, but chiefly the Old Covenant at Sinai, (i) were established by blood and sacrifices of slain Beasts: But alas how mean and despicable that Blood, those Sacrifices! At best, they were but Types, and (k) Shadows of good things to come in Jesus Christ. But this New Covenant was established by the most precious blood of the most perfect Sacrifice Jesus Christ himself crucified. Never Blood like this Blood: Never Sacrifice like this Sacrifice: Never Covenant-Sanction like this New-Covenant Sanction. 3. By the Solemn Publication of it, by the Apostles Preaching it (l) to people assembled at Jerusalem out of all nations under Heaven on the Solemn Feast of Pentecost, after the Holy Ghost had been miraculously and abundantly poured forth upon the Apostles. The Sinai-Covenant, or Old Covenant had an (m) Eminent Publication; But this of the New-Covenant did far transcend. For, (1) That Publication was in the wilderness; This in Canaan, in Ierusalem it self. (2) That was fifty daies after the Typical Passover: This fifty daies after the Sacrificing of Jesus Christ the true Passover. (3) That was only to one Nation of the Jews newly come out of Egypt: This was to devout men out of all Nations under Heaven, So that it was in a sort published to all Nations of the world at once. (4) That was with Terrour: This with Familiar Sweetness. (5) That (n) affrighted the hearts of the hearers even unto aversion and flight from God: This pricked the hearts of the Hearers unto Conversion to God, so that on that day 3000 Souls were added to the Church, Acts 2. 37, 41. Thus the Inchoation of this New-Covenant was most illustrious.

2. The Duration of the New-Covenant is also most excellent and illustrious, surpassing every other Covenant-Expressure. All other Cove-

Covenant-Adminiſtrations have waxen old and worn away: Only this Covenant-Adminiſtration remains ſtill freſh and New, and ſhall not vaniſh away till the worlds End. This New-Covenant ſucceeds and ſupercedes them all: But no other ſhall ſucceed or ſupercede this New-Covenant. Yea, The New-Covenant hath already obtained a longer continuance then any former Covenant-Adminiſtration. For, 1. Gods (o) Covenant-Adminiſtration from Adam till Noah, which was longeſt of them all, laſted but about 1536 years. 2. From Noah till Abram, about 542 years. 3. From Abram, till the Old Covenant at Mount Sinai, preciſely 430 years, Gen. 3. 16, 17. 4. From the Old Covenant at Mount Sinai, till the Death of Jeſus Chriſt, when the New-Covenant Commenced, about 1444 years. 5. But from the Date of the New-Covenant at the Death of CHRIST to this preſent year, 1656. it already hath continued about 1623 years. And how many years longer it may continue, till the worlds End, Who can tell?

(o) See Book III. Chap. 1. & 2. & 3. & 4. at the beginning.

3. The Determination of the New-Covenant-Adminiſtration will likewiſe be tranſcendently excellent and illuſtrious. For it ſhall not Expire and Determine till the worlds End. The world and it ſhall end together. Now The world ſhall End; 1. With Chriſts ſecond Coming to Judge the whole world, (p) deſcending from Heaven, in his own and his Fathers Glory and all the Holy Angels with him; 2. With a (q) ſhout of the Lord Chriſt himſelf, with the voice of the Arch-Angel and the Trumpet of God; 3 With the (r) Reſurrection of the Dead; 4. With the (s) change of the living, from corruptible to incorruptibility; 5. With the (t) catching up of all the Elect, both Rayſed, and Changed, to meet the Lord in the Air, and to attend upon him, to his dreadful Tribunal; 6. With Chriſts (u) Convention of all, both Elect and Reprobate, as well Angels as Men, before his Judgement Seat, The Elect being ſet at his right hand, the Reprobate at his left; 7. With Chriſts (x) final doom and ſentence upon them all, either to everlaſting Punniſhment, or to life Eternal, which ſhall then be executed accordingly; 8. With the (y) Paſſing away of the Heavens with a great noyſe, Melting of the Elements with fervent heat, Conflagration of the earth and works therein with fire, and Diſſolution of the whole frame of the preſent Creation. O therefore what a glorious time, what a dreadful day will that be, when this world ſhall be diſſolved, and when this New-Covenant-Adminiſtration ſhall determine!

II. Hence, None can certainly define or punctually determine how long the Interval or ſpace of time for the New-Covenants Duration ſhall be. We know when it began, at Chriſts Death: but cannot know when it ſhall end. For it ſhall laſt till the end of the world, and who, beſides God alone, can tell when the world ſhall end? times, times, There ([a]) were ſome temerarious and bold aſſertors, upon pretence of the Spirit, Word or Letter as from the Apoſtle, that affirmed, The day of Chriſt was at hand: and thereby did ſhake the minds, and trouble the Spirits of the Theſſalonians. But Paul aſſures them, That day ſhould not come, Except there come a Falling away firſt, (viz. a General Apoſtacy of the greateſt part of the Chriſtian world from Faith, Purity of worſhip, and Obedience towards God, in Jeſus Chriſt.) And that man of ſin be revealed, the Son of Perdition: (viz. the Romane Antichriſt.) And after the Apoſtles daies it went for an Oracle among the prophane Pagans, that the Chriſtian Religion ſhould laſt but 365 years; whence ſome Chriſtians concluded that the world alſo ſhould then end. This fond conceit ([b]) Auguſtine reports, refutes and derides: and time hath diſcovered the falſhood of it. In the daies of ([c]) Cyprian, the Opinion was, that the world ſhould continue but a while, and the laſt judgement haſtened. In the daies of ([d]) Lactantius Firmianus, which were about 317 years after Chriſt, it was ſuppoſed, that the world ſhould laſt after that but about 200 years. Theſe and many like groundleſs gueſſes and uncertain conjectures we finde in Ancient and Modern writers touching the time of the worlds end and day of judgement: But God having kept this under the Seal of his own ſecret Counſels, It is not for us curiouſly to enquire into ([e]) the times and ſeaſons which the father hath put in his own power. ([f]) Secret things belong to God; things revealed, unto us and to our children, &c. But till this world end, we ſhall ſee no end of this New-Covenant.

III. Hence, The New-Covenant is a far better Covenant then the Old, as in other reſpects, ſo in regard of the Date, Duration and Determination thereof. This New-Covenant is better then the Old, in other regards: For it is called, ([g]) A better Covenant; as being ſtabliſhed upon better Promiſes; As being more ([h]) ſtrong, profitable and perfect; then the Old Covenant, which was weak, unprofitable, and made nothing perfect, &c. This New-Covenant alſo is better in this reſpect, That it continues for ever, from the Death of Chriſt till the end of the world: foraſmuch as ([i]) Chriſt Jeſus the Surety of this Covenant, was made an everlaſting Prieſt with an Oath, whereof God will never repent; The Lord ſware and will not repent, thou art a Prieſt for ever after the order of Melchizedeck; By ſo much was Jeſus made a Surety of a better Teſtament. Chriſts New Teſtament-Prieſthood is everlaſting and unchangeable: Conſequently the New Teſtament itſelf is everlaſting and unchangeable. The Adminiſtration of it ſhall ſtill laſt till the end of the world: but the Subſtance of it ſhall continue even in heaven for evermore. Therefore this Covenant-adminiſtration is far better in regard of its continuance, then any that went before. It began when Jeſus Chriſt, at his firſt Coming, was judged by the world; and it ſhall end when Jeſus Chriſt at his ſecond Coming, ſhall be the judge of all the world.

([g]) Heb. 8. 6.

([h]) Heb. 7. 18, 19, 20.—22.

([i]) Heb. 7. 20, 21, 22.

IV. Hence, Believers under the New-Covenant, are, in regard of of the terms and continuance thereof, much more Happy, then the Beleivers that lived under any former Covenant-Diſpenſations. For, 1. The Sanction and foundation of this Covenant was in the precious blood of Jeſus Chriſt himſelf, infinitely beyond all the Typical blood of all former Covenants. And how much happier are they that have the true blood of Chriſt himſelf: then they that had only the Typical blood of ſlain beaſts? 2. The Duration of this Covenant is longer then in any other as hath been ſhewed. And duration of mercies enjoyed, ſtill augments the happineſs of the enjoyer. 3. The Determination of the New-Covenant ſhall not be till the world determine. And that determination ſhall be ſwallowed up in the Final Conſummation of the Happineſs of all Gods true Covenant-people. Where this New-Covenant ſhall End: there their New Kingdom ſhall begin.

V. Hence, How comfortable may this be, both to our ſelves and all our Chriſtian Poſterity, that both we and they from generation to generation ſhall ſtill live under the Adminiſtration of the New-Covenant. For, this New-Covenant under which we live, ſhall live and laſt from Chriſts Death till the worlds end. Therefore, 1. We and they ſhall live under the ſelf-ſame Covenant, under which the bleſſed Apoſtles, the pureſt Primitive Churches, and the Holy Martyrs of Jeſus Chriſt themſelves lived; who are now triumphant in glory. Now what a comfort is it, to be made to ſit down with ſuch bleſſed Society in Chriſts New-Covenant Kingdom? 2. We and they ſhell live under the Higheſt, Cleareſt, Fulleſt, Sweeteſt and every way the moſt excellent Covenant-Adminiſtration. For all other Adminiſtrations give way to this of the New-Covenant: but the New-Covenant Adminiſtration gives way to none; ſhall be laſt and compleateſt of all. And how comfortable is it, that we and ours ſhall ſtill be under the Guidance, Bleſſing, Grace and Influence of the beſt and compleateſt Covenant?

VI. Hence, In theſe laſt times of the world, No Doctrine ſhould be taught, No Worſhip or Practiſe ſhould be entertained, No future Events, Occurrents or change of things ſhould be expected, in the Church of God, which are inconſiſtent with the New-Covenant-Adminiſtration. Why? Becauſe this New-Covenant or New-Teſtament-Adminiſtration, is the only Adminiſtration of theſe laſt times, from Chriſts Death till his ſecond Coming: And therefore all Doctrine, Worſhip, Practiſe and future Events, in the Church, during this New-Covenant, muſt be conform and agreeable to this New-Covenant or New Teſtament, and to the Explanations thereof in the Books of the New-Teſtament.

1. No other Doctrine ſhould be taught in the Church till the worlds end, but the New-Covenant-Doctrine and Truth, in Chriſt exhibited. If any teach not according to this Rule: it is becauſe they have no light in them. Such Doctrine as is not Homogeneal to, and founded upon the New-Teſtament, but repugnant thereunto: is but (k) Wood, Hay, and Stubble, inſtead of Gold, Silver and precious Stones, and shall be consumed. Hence, The Doctrines of Judaism, Mahumedism, Popery, Pelagianism, Arminianism, Socinianism, Quakerism, &c. are justly to be rejected when ever they shall be obtruded upon the Church, because they are inconsistent with the New-Covenant of Christ, the Rule of all true Christian Doctrine.

2. No other Worship or Practise should be used in the Church till the worlds end, but the New-Covenant Worship and Practise. 1. The New-Covenant (l) Worship, is the Worshipping of the only true God in Jesus Christ in Spirit and Truth in every place according to the Tenour of the New Testament. Therefore it is not lawful to exercise any Iewish, Mahumedan, Antichristian, Popish, Idolatrous, Superstitious, Paganish, or false Worship, in the Church of God: or to (m) Tolerate the same to be done in the Church. 2. The New-Testament Practise required, is, (n) To cast away the works of Darkness, and put on the Armour of Light, To walk honestly as in the day, and as children of the light, putting on the Lord Iesus, &c. To Repent, Believe in Christ exhibited, live by Faith in him, walk in love and all upright Obedience as the workmanship of God, created in Christ Iesus unto good works, &c. To (o) walk as Christ walked; To walk (p) worthy of God, of his Gospel and Kingdom, &c. And in a word, To keep truly the (q) Feast (even all this spiritual Festival time of the New-Testament) with the unleavened bread of Sincerity and Truth, purging out the old leaven of malice and wickedness, (as the Jews typically kept, after their Passover the Feast of unleavened bread,) forasmuch as Christ our Passover is Sacrificed for us.

3. No future Events or Occurrents in or to the Church of God, are to be expected till the worlds end, but what are according to the Prophecies, Predictions, Revelations and Nature of the New Testament, continuing in force till the worlds End. Hence, I. The Iewish expectation of the Messiah to be hereafter revealed in the Flesh, being utterly inconsistent with the New-Covenant established by Christs Death and blood already revealed: is altogether unwarrantable. Christ Jesus (r) came in fulness of time to his own people the Jews, and they received him not. Christ was incarnate and cut off precisely at the time prefixed by Daniel's (s) Prophecy. Therefore the Jews rejecting Christ; rejected, or at least understood not, Daniel's weeks. And whatsoever Christ shall rise up hereafter under the New Testament stablished by the blood of the only true Christ, must needs be a false Christ and an Antichrist. II. The Chiliasts or Millenaries Expectation of Christs Personal Reign on earth in his Humane Nature and present Glory, with all his Martyrs and many Saints, for a thousand years together, from the year one thousand six hundred and seventeen, or one thousand six hundred and fifty, or one thousand six hundred ninty four, or at farthest one thousand six hundred ninty five, &c. being being inconſiſtent with the Doctrine, Prophecies and Nature of the New-Teſtament; (as divers Authors, eſpecially theſe (t) here mentioned in the Margin have already manifeſted) is wholly groundleſs. For what ſolid foundation can we have for this thouſand years perſonal Reign of Chriſt on earth with his Martyrs and and Saints, (which is counted the fifth Monarchy) during this Term of the New Teſtament or New-Covenant, but from the New-Teſtament it ſelf?

(t) Doctor Prideaux in Lect. xiii. de mille annis Apocalypticis, States this Queſtion, Refutes the Error by many Arguments, and Anſwers the contrary Arguments. Mr. Robert Boyſy Miniſter at Glaſgow in Scotland, hath alſo derived the Original riſe of this Opinion from Cerinthus the Heretique; laid down the Opinion it ſelf in terms as now it is held; Confutes it by many Arguments; And Anſwers ſuch Arguments or Scriptures as are produced for defence of it. Let the diligent Reader conſult him, in his Diſſwaſive from the Errours of the time, London 1645. Chap. xi. throughout. p. 224, &c.

Thus I have ſhewed, what the Terms or Limits of time proper and peculiar to the New Teſtament are: viz. From the Death of Jeſus Chriſt till the very end of the world. Next I ſhall ſhew, That this Interval or Space of time during which the New-Covenant or New-Teſtament-Adminiſtration remains of force, is the moſt remarkable Revolution of Time of all other allotted to any Covenant-Adminiſtration foregoing.

APHORISM II.

The Interval, Space or Revolution of time, From the Death of Jeſus Chriſt till the end of the world, during which the New-Covenant-Adminiſtration continues, is of all other Revolutions or Interbals of time, during which any other foregoing Covenant-Adminiſtration continued, moſt Conſiderable and Remarkable.

FOR, This Interval or ſpace of time during which the New-Covenant Continues, From Chriſts death till the worlds end, over and beyond all other, 1. Hath moſt Eminent Terms and Bounds for its Beginning and Ending. 2. Hath already had the largeſt prolongation. 3. Doth comprize in its Circuit or Compaſs the moſt Admirable Events and Occurrents by Divine Diſpenſation, in and to the Church of God. 4. Approacheth moſt neer, as in Contiguity of time, ſo in excellency of Covenant-Adminiſtration, and the Churches condition under it, even unto the ſupream cœleſtial Perfection of the Church Triumphant in Glory.

I. This New-Covenant-Time hath most Eminent Terms and Bounds for its Beginning and Ending No foregoing Covenant ever had such Terms, such a Beginning, such an Ending.

1. This New-Covenant Began from the Death of Jesus Christ, and had its Sanction in his Blood: as hath been manifested. Now, how eminent was this Death and Blood of Christ, and that, in Solemnity, Dignity, Efficacy! I. In Solemnity. Great was the (u) Solemnity of the Death of Sacrifices, when God made Covenant with Abram. Greater was the (x) Solemnity of killing Sacrifices and sprinkling their blood, at the Dedication of the old Covenant at Mount Sinai: as I have at large explained in opening that Covenant. But Greatest of all was the (y) Solemnity of Christs Death and Blood-shed, at the Sanction and establishment of the New-Covenant: who did hang upon the cursed Cross, at least six hours together, dying. For, 1. Then, Christ miraculously converted (z) one of the Thieves that were crucified with him, assuring him; This day shalt thou be with me in Paradise. One, that none might despair: but one, that none might presume. 2. Then, There was an unusual and preternatural (a) Darkness over all the earth from the sixth, till the ninth hour. From our mid-day, till about our three of the clock afternoon. The Sun it self puts on Sables and as it were mourns, to see his maker so shamefully abused. At this darkness Dionysius was so astonished, that he said; (b) Either the God of Nature suffers, or the whole fabrick of the world will be dissolved. 3. Then, Christ with a loud cry yielded up the Ghost, to the Centurions conviction, Mark 15. 37, 39. 4. Then, the veil of the Temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom, Matth. 27. 51. Denoting, Christs opening a way into the Holiest of all, heaven it self for us by his flesh Rent; and Christs accomplishing and abrogating the Types and Ceremonies by his Death. 5. Then, The Earth did Quake. 6. Then, The Rocks did Rend. 7. Then, The Graves were opened. To shew, That (d) Jesus Christ had the Keys of the Grave and Death, And many bodies of Saints which slept arose, and came out of the Graves after his Resurrection, and went into the Holy City and appeared unto many. These were Trophies of Christs miraculous Resurrection. Thus, both Jews and Gentiles; both Godly and Wicked; both the Living and the Dead: both Heaven and Earth, were shaken, moved and as it were passionately affected, yea astonished: when JESUS CHRIST dyed. What Solemnity of Death and Sacrificing, was ever like this of Christs Dying and Sacrificing of himself for the establishment of his New-Covenant! II. In Dignity. The Sacrifices by whose Death and blood former Covenants were established, were only (e) brute beasts or fowls, &c. and therefore, as themselves, so their death and blood, were but very mean and despicable: But this Sacrifice of Jesus Christ

Chriſt himſelf, by whoſe (f) Death and Blood the New-Covenant was dedicated and confirmed, was the ſupream Sacrifice of the Son of God. Chriſt is God as well as man: Therefore the infinite dignity of his perſon, made his Sacrifice and blood of infinite worth and value, ſo that it is accounted Gods (g) own blood. In this regard, if all the fowls of the air, and all the beaſts of the field, had been put into one Sacrifice, and the blood of them all put together: All this would have been as nothing to this incomparable Sacrifice and blood of Chriſt. Yea if all the men on earth from Adam, till the judgement day, and all the Angels in Heaven, ſhould ſuffer Death for ever: yet this is as nothing to Chriſts ſuffering of Death for a time: Chriſts perſon being the infinite God, and they but finite Creatures; now betwixt God and the Creature, betwixt finite and infinite theres no proportion.

III. In Efficacy. The Death and blood of Jeſus Chriſt incomparably excels the Death and blood of all other Sacrifices whatſoever in all kinds of vertue and degrees of efficacy. The Ceremonial Commandment (h) was diſanulled becauſe it was weak, unprofitable, and made nothing perfect: but the bringing in of a better hope did, by which we draw nigh to God. The Ceremonial Waſhings, Purifications, Blood, Sacrifices, &c. (i) could not make the comers thereunto Perfect; could not purge the Conſcience of the worſhippers from Sin; Did only (k) Sanctifie to the Purifying of the fleſh; Did (l) renew a remembrance of ſins every year; Did but (m) make way into the Typical Holieſt of all on earth: But the Death and blood of Jeſus Chriſt contrariwiſe was very efficacious. For, 1. Hereby (n) God was moſt abundantly ſatisfied and well-pleaſed: having no delight at all in any Levitical Sacrifices in compariſon of this Sacrifice. 2. Hereby, He (o) hath obtained for us eternal Redemption. 3. Hereby, he (p) hath wrought the Attonement, having reconciled us to God, though enemies, by his own Death. 4. Hereby, (q) we are juſtified, our Conſciences purged from dead works to ſerve the living God, and we being ſanctified are for ever perfected, So that our ſins ſhall be remembred to us no more, nor ſhall there need any more offering for ſin. 5. Hereby, he mortifies and ſubdues our ſins and corruptions daily, (r) Our old man is crucified with him, that the body of ſin might be deſtroyed, that henceforth we ſhould not ſerve ſin. For, he that is dead is freed from ſin. 6. Hereby, Chriſt (s) ſubdued Death, and him that had the power of Death, that is the Devil, having ſpoiled Principalities and Powers, and triumphed over them openly upon the Croſs. 7. Hereby, (t) Chriſt entred, not into the Holy places made with hands, which were figures of the true, But into Heaven it ſelf, now to appear in the preſence of God for us, As our ever-living Interceſſor and Advocate: As alſo to make way for us, even a (u) new and living way which he hath conſecrated for us through the veil, that is to ſay, his fleſh, into the Holieſt of all, Heaven it ſelf, there to ſerve and glorifie God triumphantly for ever. saving efficacy indeed in the blood and death of Christ, whereby the New-Covenant was established. Never Covenant besides, had such a Sanction, such an Inchoation.

2. This New-Covenant-Administration shall not end till the end of the world, which will be at the Judgement of the great day, the General Assize of the world. And that shall be a Day of Daies, a most famous day indeed, as I have already intimated in eight particulars in the First Aphorism. Never Covenant-Administration had such an Ending, such a Determination. It began with Christs Humiliation: but it shall end with Christs Exaltation. It began with Christs being judged by the world: but it shall end with Christs general judgeing of the world. It began when Christ was (x) once offered to bear the sins of many: but it shall end, when unto them that look for him, he shall appear the second time without Sin unto Salvation.

(x) Heb. 9. 28.

Thus this New-Covenant-Time hath most eminent Terms and Bounds for its Beginning and Ending, beyond all other Covenants.

II. This New-Covenant-Time hath already had (as hath been shewed) the largest Prolongation. And how far further it may yet be extended till the worlds End; who knows, but he alone, that (y) knows, and hath determined, when the world shall End?

III. This New-Covenant-time doth comprise within its Circuit and Compass the most admirable Events and Occurrents by divine Dispensation in and to the Church of God. During the Time of former Covenants many rare Events appeared even under every Covenant-Dispensation, as hath been manifested: But the admirable and excellent Events under this New-Covenant far transcend them all, From Christs Death till the worlds End. Shall I briefly point out some particulars? Under and during the New-Covenant-Administration these among other Occurrents Come to pass. viz.

1. The (z) Resurrection of Jesus Christ on the third day from the Dead by his Divine power, as the First fruits of them that slept: shewing (a) himself alive after his Passion, to many witnesses, but especially to his Apostles, by many infallible proofs, being seen of them fourty daies, and speaking of the things pertaining to the Kingdom of God. Many (b) bodies of the Saints also which slept arose, coming out of their graves after his Resurrection, and appearing unto many in the Holy City, were the First-fruits, Experiments and Trophies of Christs Resurrection.

after him, two Angels said to them; ye men of Galilee, why stand ye gazing up into Heaven? This same Iesus which is taken up from you into heaven, shall so come in like manner as ye have seen him go into Heaven.

3. Christs ([d]) sitting down on the right hand of the Throne of the Majesty in the Heavens. For, God by his mighty power ([e]) *having raised him from the dead, set him at his own right hand in heavenly places, far above all principality, and power, and might, and dominion, and every name that is named, not only in this world, but also in that which is to come. (f) Act. 2. 1. to 37.

5. The Solemn Publication of the Doctrine of the New Covenant in the blood and Death of Jesus Christ, by the Apostles, to devout Jews out of Every Nation under Heaven, met together by special Providence at Jerusalem, on the Feast of Pentecost. Peter ([g]) in his Sermon, Preaching Jesus of Nazareth's Life, Death, Resurrection, Exaltation on Gods right hand, Receiving from the Father, and shedding forth the promise of the Holy-Ghost; assures them that God had made that same Jesus, whom they had crucified, both Lord and Christ: and therefore exhorts them to repent and be baptized, because the Promise, or Covenant, was to them and to their children, as also to the Gentiles afar off, as many as the Lord our God shall call, and consequently to their children.

(g) Act. 2. 1. to 40.

6. The wonderfull Conversion ([h]) of 3000 Souls, at the first Preaching and publication of the Doctrine of the New Covenant in Christ crucified, as also of many thousands more afterwards by the Disciples Preaching and Miracles: which Converts, professing their Faith in Jesus Christ, were ([i]) visibly implanted into his mystical body the Church by Baptism, the Initiating token of the New-Covenant.

And ſaid Behold, I ſee the Heavens opened, and the Son of man ſtanding on the right hand of God.* This bleſſed viſion ſupported him againſt that ſhower of ſtones by which he fell on ſleep.

Chriſt gave him an extraordinary call: whom he had intended for an Extraordinary work of the Miniſtry among the Gentiles; Wherein (p) he laboured more abundantly then all the Apoſtles. Yea, Paul, the Teacher of the Gentiles, highly magnifies this myſterie of Chriſt, which in other ages was not made known unto the ſons of men, as it is now revealed by his holy Apoſtles and Prophets by the Spirit; That the Gentiles ſhould be fellow heirs and of the ſame Body, and Partakers of his promiſe in Chriſt, by the Goſpel, &c. calls it; The myſterie which from the beginning of the world, hath been hid in God, Eph. 3. 1. to 13. The more Pure and Regular ſtate of the Primitive Church and of Religion therein, for the firſt 300. years after the Death of Chriſt, repreſented by the ([x]) Meaſuring of the Temple of God, the Altar, and the Worſhippers therein. In this time every thing was more exactly according to Sanctuary Meaſure, and Scripture-Rule. But yet the Church, ([y]) during this time, was grieveouſly afflicted, eſpecially with ten cruel Perſecutions of the Heatheniſh Romane Emperours, then under the Dominion of the Dragon the Devil, who endevoured to devour the Man-child, Chriſt myſtical, aſſoon as he ſhould be born & brought forth into the Romane world. Christs ([e]) deliverance of his Church at last out of all these dolefull distresses and calamities, by destroying all her Enemies with seven vials of the wrath of God and other judgements poured forth upon them, for their persecuting Cruelties. Especially these grand Enemies, I. The great whore of Babylon, viz. Rome, Rev. ch. 17. and 18. II. The beast and the false Prophet with him, Rev. 19. viz. The Romane Empire and the Papacy. III. The Dragon himself, that old Serpent the Devil and Satan, with his Gog and Magog, Rev. 20. 1. to the end.

17. The ([f]) First Resurrection, during the Lords carrying on of the Dragons Destruction, viz. The corporal Resurrection of two sorts of Christs peculiar favorites, His Martyrs, and Pure-worshippers; To reign with Christ a thousand years, whilest the Dragon is under the Chain and judgement of Christ. But understand not here Christs personal reign on Earth: as I have formerly intimated in Aphorism I.

18. The Churches ([g]) Happy Condition, after her full deliverance from all these her Enemies, and their Destruction: In the New Heavens, New Earth, New Jerusalem coming down from God out of Heaven, and the New Condition of all the Citizens inhabiting that New Jerusalem.

19. The calling of the Jews and ([h]) re-implanting them by Faith in their own Olive-tree, the Church, when once the fulness of the Gentiles is come in, that all the elect Israel may be saved. Their Fall and diminution was the riches of us Gentiles: How much more their fulness? — Their Casting away, was the reconciling of the world: what then shall their receiving be, but life from the dead? — We have obtained Mercy, through their unbelief: That through our Mercy, they also may obtain Mercy.

20. The ([i]) Finishing of the Mysterie of God, at the sounding of the seventh Trumpet, the Kingdoms of this world becoming our Lord's and his Christs, and he shall reign for ever and ever. And his whole Church, in all her elect members, shall be compleated: when we shall ([k]) all come in the unity of the Faith, and of the Knowledge of the Son of God unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ.

21. The dreadfull ([l]) Signs of Christs coming to Judgement, and of the End of the world, viz. I. More Mediately, 1. The Darkning of the Sun. 2. The not shining of the Moon. 3. The falling of the stars from Heaven. 4. The shaking of the Powers of Heaven; the strong firmament it self, which at last ([m]) shall vanish like a scroul, &c. 5. The ([n]) Sea and the waves roaring. 6. And upon the earth distress of Nations, with perplexity, Mens hearts failing them for fear, and for looking after those things which are coming on the Earth. II. More Immediately, The ([o]) Sign of the Son of man in Heaven shall appear. What Sign, that day will discover. After this Sign this immediate Harbinger of the great Judge, The Son of man himself

Theſe admirable and unparalleld Occurrents ſhall come to paſs during this New-Covenant's adminiſtration. The like are not to be found in any or all the foregoing Covenants.

IV. Finally, This Revolution or Period of the New Covenant's continuance, approacheth neereſt, as in Contiguity of time, ſo in excellency of Covenant Adminiſtration, and of the Churches Condition under it, unto the ſupream Celeſtial Perfection of the Church Triumphant in Glory.

1. In contiguity of time, This New Covenant Seaſon approacheth neereſt to the Heavenly Perfection of the Triumphant Church in glory. For, at the (p) End of the World, when this New Covenant-Adminiſtration ſhall ceaſe, The compleat Perfection of the whole Church in Glory both of Soul and Body ſhall begin: So that this ſhall immediately ſucceed that.

(p) Mat. 25. 31. to the end. 1 Theſ. 4. 14, 15, 16, 17.

2. In excellency of Covenant-Adminiſtration, This of the New Covenant comes neereſt to celeſtial Perfection. For, This Covenant (as hereafter in the General Inferences will appear) far excels all that went before, In 1. Clarity, 2. Spirituality, 3. Spiritual Liberty, 4. Compleatneſs, 5. Extenſiveneſs, 6. Efficatiouſneſs, 7. Comfortableneſs, 8. Durableneſs, and 9. Glorioſuneſs: And all theſe are celeſtial ingredients, which (among others) do eminently make up the Heavenly happineſs and Perfection of the Triumphant Church in Paradiſe.

3. In excellency of the Churches Condition under this New Covenant Diſpenſation, it comes neereſt to Heavenly Perfection. For, God in his Covenant-Expreſſures ſtill proceeded from the more Imperfect, to the more Perfect, till he at laſt had brought his Church to this New Conenant the Higheſt and Perfecteſt federal expreſſure in this world. And in all this, he had ſpecial reſpect to his Churches Capacity and Condition; which, under the three firſt Covenants, was only Domeſtical, A Family-Church; under the Old Covenant at Sinai, &c. was only National, A National Church only of the Jewiſh Nation; but under this New Covenant became Oecumenical, an Univerſal Church throghout all the Nations of the world. The Church of God in her Family-ſtate under the firſt three Covenants, was but in her Infancy: In her National-ſtate, was but in her youth; in both but in her (q) Minority, like an heir under age, under Tutors and Governours: But in her Oecumenical ſtate, ſhe is come to Maturity and fulneſs of age under this New Covenant. In her Non-age ſhe (r) Received a Spirit of bondage: In her Full-age a Spirit of Adoption whereby we cry Abba Father. Now this ripe-age, this full age of the Church under the New Covenant, evidently approacheth neereſt to her Compleateſt fulneſs and perfection which ſhe ſhall have in Glory. The Apoſtle, not obſcurely, ſig-signifies thus much to the New Teſtament-Church, ſaying; (f) For ye are not come unto the Mount that might be touched, and that burned with fire, nor unto blackneſs, and darkneſs, and tempeſt, and the ſound of a Trumpet, and the voice of words, which words they that heard, intreated that the word ſhould not be ſpoken to them any more, &c. ——— But ye are come unto Mount Sion; and unto the City of the living God, the heavenly Jeruſalem: and to an innumerable company of Angels; To the General Aſſembly and Church of the Firſt-born, which are written in Heaven; and to God the judge of all; and to the Spirits of juſt men made perfect; and to JESUS the Mediator of the New-Covenant; And to the blood of ſprinkling that ſpeaketh better things then that of Abel. So that the Churches Condition under this New Covenant not only far tranſcends her former Condition under the Old Covenant, and conſequently under all former Covenants, in Liberty, Spirituality, &c. But alſo becomes very celeſtial, ſhe having Communion with ſuch Perſons and Things as are moſt celeſtial.

1. Hence, Behold the wiſdom and goodneſs of God in his Covenant-Diſpenſations. Every Covenant-Diſcovery of the Covenants of Faith from firſt to laſt, riſing up to an higher degree of excellency and perfection; but this New Covenant being moſt perfect and far excelling them all. The Lord hath reſerved his good wine until now: his admirable New Covenant till theſe latter daies, till our daies. Oh, how great goodneſs hath God kept in ſtore for his people in this laſt age of the world: that Chriſt promiſed in all former ages, ſhould be performed only in this, and all thoſe admirable Occurrents ſhould enſue upon his Performance! The Saints of old (t) obtained a good report through Faith, but received not the Promiſe, (viz. eſpecially, not Chriſt promiſed; Chriſt was not exhibited in fleſh unto them, as unto us;) God having provided ſome better thing for us, that they without us ſhould not be made perfect.

2. Hence, All Gods people that live under and in theſe New-Covenant times, ſhould ſet their hearts exceedingly upon this New-Covenant-Adminiſtration, highly to admire and eſteem it, judiciouſly and ſeriouſly to conſider it. Foraſmuch, as of all other Covenants it is moſt admirable and conſiderable; not only in regard of the Nature, Matter, Form, and End thereof (as after will in due place appear:) but alſo in regard of the Revolution or Space of time during which it doth continue, as hath been now explained. The Magnalia Dei, Myſteria Chriſti, Miraculoſa Evangelii, & Glorioſa Eccleſiæ, That is, The Great things of God, The Myſteries of Chriſt, The Miraculous effects of the Goſpel, and the Glorious Events prepared for the Church; have been, are, and hereafter ſhall be moſt eminently tranſacted and brought to paſs in theſe times of the New-Covenant. This New-Covenant-time therefore is unto the Church, an extraordinary time: Before it, there never was ſince the foundation of the world, ſuch a time. Have deep and fixed thoughts upon it; Pry diligently into

I offer both in theſe two ſuccinct Aphoriſms enſuing, with all poſſible brevity.

APHORISM I.

In divers reſpects and Conſiderations this Covenant is repreſented to us in holy Scriptures under variety of Names: Being Denominated, 1. A NEW-COVENANT; 2. A NEW-TESTAMENT; 3. The Second Covenant, or Teſtament; 4. A Better Covenant; 5. The Everlaſting Covenant; 6. The Miniſtration far ſurpaſsing the Miniſtration of the Old Teſtament.

THE four firſt of theſe Denominations (x) are expreſſed in the Narrative of this Covenant by Jeremiah and Paul: and give us Occaſion to add the two laſt from other Scriptures. Now becauſe (y) Names fitly given; do ſingularly denote and ſignifie to us us the very Natures of Things; and are as the Shell, which being opened discovers to us the Kernel therein comprized: let me a little explain and open these Names in order.

I. A NEW-COVENANT. Jeremiah calls it ברית חדשה (a) Berith chadasha; The Apostle also stiles it (b) Διαθήκην καινήν: The English Translators in both places render it, A New-Covenant. 1. It is a Covenant: that's more then a bare naked Promise. For a Promise may be the Act of one alone: A Covenant properly is the Act and Agreement of more then one. A Promise may be Absolute, binding only the Promiser: but a Covenant properly is Conditional: containing in it the Mutual and reciprocal Terms and Conditions upon which the Federates contract and agree. The true Meaning of this (c) Hebrew and Greek word, for Covenant, I have already declared: there see. 2. It is A NEW-COVENANT. Now I am specially to speak to the Newness of it. This Covenant is already above 1600 years old: and yet it is still NEW. It is called A New-Covenant;

1. Because, It is a recent and lately established Covenant; A Covenant lately, last of all other Covenants Dedicated. In Scripture, late, fresh, recent things, lately done or made, or lately begun: are called New. So, fruit lately brought forth, is called (d) New fruit; Ioseph of Arimethea's Tomb lately made, is called (e) A New Tomb; An house lately builded is called (f) A New House; A wife lately marryed, is stiled, (g) A New wife, &c. So this Covenant, being, in Comparison of all other Covenants of God with man, but lately made and confirmed in the blood of the Mediator Jesus Christ, and the last Covenant that ever God made, (though above 1600. years ago,) is justly called, A NEW-COVENANT.

2. Because, It succeeds, and antiquates or makes old the former Covenant, which was given at Mount Sinai. The Apostle intimates this Reason, in these wods; (h) ——In that he saith, A New-Covenant, He hath made the first Old. Now that which decayeth and waxeth Old, is ready to vanish away. As the Sinai Covenant is counted Old, because it gives place to this Covenant to succeed: So this Covenant is called New, because it supercedes and comes in place of the Sinai-Covenant.

3. Because, This Covenant is another and very divers from that Sinai-Covenant which it succeeds, supercedes and antiquates. In Scripture phrase, that which is another, divers, or any way different from what was before, is called New. So, Other tongues, Acts 2.4. are called (i) New Tongues; Another King in Egypt, as the Septuagint hath it ἕτερον, is called, (k) A New King; The command of mutual brotherly love urged by our Saviour in another way, not only to love one another as themselves, but to love one another as Christ hath loved them, is called (l) A New Commandment; And elsewhere John calls this both an Old Commandment and a New: Old, for the Matter and Substance, New, for the Manner and Circumstance of urging it it upon them, &c. In this ſenſe, this Covenant, being another and a very divers Covenant, both from the Old Covenant and from all that went before; Not in Subſtance, but in Circumſtance; Not in Eſſence, but in Accidents: Not in Inward Conſtitution, but in Outward Adminiſtration; is called a NEW-COVENANT. For, This New-Covenant

(1) Is ſtabliſhed upon New Promiſes, (m) better Promiſes, then thoſe of the Old Covenant. 1. Thoſe Promiſes of the Old Covenant were more Carnal and Temporal, principally running upon viſible outward earthly bleſſings, as The earthly land of Canaan, The outward Reſt, Peace, Settlement and Proſperity which they ſhould have there, The viſible Place of worſhip in Canaan, &c. Theſe Promiſes of the New-Covenant more Spiritual and heavenly, chiefly running in a Spiritual ſtrain, about ſpiritual bleſſings in heavenly things in Chriſt, the ſpiritual beauty and glory of his Church, and the eternal Reſt and bliſs of the Elect in Heaven. As in thoſe there was very little mention of Spirituals: So in theſe there is very ſparing mention of Temporals. 2. Thoſe were made in Chriſt to be exhibited afterwards: Theſe in Chriſt actually exhibited in humane Fleſh already. 3. Thoſe were more Reſtrictively directed to that one Nation of the Iews: Theſe are more amply and univerſally extended to all Nations of the Gentiles alſo.

(2) Is Dedicated with (n) New Blood and Death of a New Sacrifice, even with the moſt precious Blood and Death of Ieſus Chriſt, The Mediator and Teſtator, the Sacrifice of Sacrifices, once offered up to God to bear the Sins of many. Hence Chriſt ſaid; (o) This is my blood of the New-Teſtament. And the Apoſtle calls Chriſts blood, (p) The blood of the everlaſting Covenant.

(3) Is written upon New Tables. Not (as the old Covenant) in Tables of Stone, denoting the peoples Obdurate, Stony, Hard hearts: but in the Soft, Plyant, Yielding, Fleſhy Tables of the Minde and Heart, (q) I will put my Laws into their Minde and write them in their Hearts.

(q) Ier. 31. 33. Heb. 8. 10.

(4) Is publiſhed and tendered to a (r) new people, to the Houſe of Iſrael, and to the Houſe of Judah. By theſe two Houſes we are to underſtand both the People of the Iews and the People of the Gentiles, which ſhould be reduced into one Body, and coaleſce into one Church, under this New-Covenant. For, theſe two Houſes of Iſrael and Iudah, were divided one from the other in the daies of Rehoboam, ten Tribes revolting from Davids houſe, called the Houſe of Iſrael: Two tribes remaining, Iudah and Benjamin, called the Houſe of Iudah. Iudah ſtill continued Gods people, before, under, and after the Babyloniſh Captivity till the daies of Chriſt and his Apoſtles: Iſrael for their great defection from God, and his Covenant, were as it were caſt off comparatively, (though God did ſomewhat acknowledge them) and were diſperſed among the Gentiles in Aſſyria, Media, &c. So that, under the Houſe of Iſrael, God ſeems to deſign and intend the Nations of the Gentiles: as, under the Houſe of Iudah, the Nation of the Iews, or, by Houſe of Iſrael and Houſe of Iudah, he underſtands the whole Church under the New-Teſtament, becauſe anciently the whole Church was contained in theſe two Houſes of Iſrael and Iudah, and the Church is called now, The Iſrael of God, Gal. 6. 10. To this effect this is alſo interpreted by (f) others. Now this is a New-people, not Iſrael after the fleſh, but Spiritual Iſrael of Iews and Gentiles incorporated together into one Church under this one Covenant: and therefore in this regard it may well be called a New Covenant.

(5) Is taught to this New people in a New way and Manner. Not obſcurely, darkly, typically, and under a veil of Ceremonial Types, Shadows, &c. as Moſes ſpake the Old-Covenant Doctrine to the old Iſrael, having his face all the while covered with a veil: But clearly, plainly, familiarly, and as with open face is this New-Covenant Doctrine manifeſted in the face of Chriſt.(t) —We uſe great plainneſs of ſpeech. And not as Moſes, which put a veil over his face, that the children of Iſrael could not ſtedfaſtly look to the end of that which is aboliſhed. But their minds were blinded: for until this day remaineth the ſame veil untaken away, in the reading of the Old Teſtament: Which veil is done away in Chriſt. ——— But we all with open face, beholding as in a glaſs the glory of the Lord, are changed into the ſame image, from Glory to Glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord.

(6) Is Applyed and Confirmed to the Heart by a New Spirit of God, viz. By New degrees and New Effects of the ſame Spirit's Manifeſtation and Operation. Under the Old Covenant the ſpirit of God was given but ſo ſparingly, ſo reſtrictively, To an handful of People the Jews, and in ſuch ſmall meaſure, and producing ſo few and ſmall effects; that it is ſaid, not to be given; (u) for the Holy Ghoſt was not yet given, becauſe Ieſus was not yet glorified. But under the New Covenant the (x) Spirit was ſhed forth abundantly, in great variety of Graces and Gifts, both upon Jews and Gentiles, beginning at Pentecoſt to be poured forth upon the Apoſtles, and afterwards falling upon private believers. Nor is it a Spirit of bondage to fear, as under the Old Covenant, but a Spirit of Adoption whereby we cry, Abba Father, with filial confidence and boldneſs, which is given now under the New Covenant;

(7) Finally, This New Covenant is Viſibly ratified by New Covenant Tokens, viz. Not Circumciſion and the Paſſover, Dark ſhadows of Chriſt to come afterwards: But (y) Baptiſm, and the Lords Supper: Clear Repreſentations of Chriſt exhibited and come in the fleſh already. That of Auguſtines is very appoſite here; (z) But the firſt Sacraments obſerved and celebrated by the Law, were prenunciative of Chriſt to come: which, when Chriſt had fulfilled by his coming, they are taken away; and therefore taken away, becauſe fulfilled; for he came not to deſtroy, but to fulfill the Law: And others are inſtituted, In vertue, Greater; in utility, better; In act, eaſier; In number, fewer; &c. And elſewhere; But in this time after the moſt manifeſt judgement of our liberty hath ſhined out by the Reſurrection of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, we are not burdened with the grievous operation of thoſe ſigns which we now underſtand: But The Lord and Apoſtolical Doctrine hath delivered Some Few, for many; and thoſe, In doing, Moſt eaſie; In Underſtanding, Moſt ſtately; In obſerving, Moſt chaſte: As is the Sacrament of Baptiſm, and the celebration of the body and blood of the Lord.

Thus, this Covenant, being quite another Covenant, Not in Eſſence and Inward Conſtitution, but in Accidents and Outward Adminiſtration having wholly a New Form and Manner of diſpenſation; is juſtly called A New Covenant.

4. Becauſe, This Covenant doth advance the Church of God and Members of Chriſt to a New ſtate and condition. Under this Covenant The Church is ſo Reformed, Refined, (a) Renewed, and the whole face of all things in the Church made New: that Effectively it may well be called, a New Covenant. As the gracious Image of God infuſed into us is called (b) The New Man: becauſe it renews the whole man. To this effect, this time of the New Covenant is called (c) the time of Reformation. Which Reformation not only corrects and redreſſes (d) the weakneſs, infirmities and inſufficiencies of the Levitical Prieſthood, Sacrifices, &c. by the better and moſt perfect Prieſthood, Sacrifice, and Miniſtration of Chriſt, in the Church; But alſo much more efficaciouſly reforms and Renews every thing in the elect, ſo that they more fully partake New Natures, New Minds, New Spirits, New Hearts, New Princi- ples, &c. become ([e]) New Creatures, walk in Newneſs of life, old things paſs away, and all things become New.

5. Becauſe, This Covenant was a very unknown Covenant, and wholly unheard of by the Church of the Jews till the dayes of ([f]) Jeremiah, who firſt mentions the ſame prophetically. Now things unknown and unheard-of, are called New: as the ([g]) Athenians and ſtrangers ſpent their time in nothing elſe but to tell or hear ſome New thing; So the Apoſtles Doctrine of Jeſus and the Reſurrection; unknown and unheard of by the Athenians, is called ([h]) New Doctrine. Thus, the New Covenant Doctrine which was to be publiſhed both to Jew and Gentile, to reduce them all in to one body of the Church; is called ([i]) a Myſterie, The myſterie of Chriſt, which in other ages was not made known unto the ſons of men, as it is now revealed to his holy Apoſtles and Prophets by the Spirit; That the Gentiles ſhould be fellow-heirs, and of the ſame Body, and partakers of his PROMISE in Chriſt by the Goſpel.

6. Becauſe, This Covenant is eminent, excellent, admirable, far ſurpaſſing all former Covenant-Expreſſures: therefore it may fitly be called a New COVENANT. In Scripture-language choice, rare, eminent, excellent, admirable things, are called New. So ([k]) A New Name, and my New Name, that is, An excellent Name; my excellent Name. ([l]) A New Song: that is a choice, eminent Song. New wine, Pſal. 4. 7. As Chriſt ſaid: ([m]) I will not drink henceforth of this fruit of the Vine, until that day when I drink it new with you in my Fathers Kingdom: that is, moſt excellent, admirable wine indeed. See alſo the word New uſed in this ſenſe, in Jer. 31. 22. Iſa. 48. 6, 9. Now this Covenant-Adminiſtration is beyond all foregoing, moſt eminent, excellent, illuſtrious, and that in many regards; as hereafter in the General Inferences will appear: and therefore its a New Covenant in this ſenſe.

7. Finally, Becauſe this Covenant is ſtill to continue recent, freſh, vigorous, New; and never to wax old or wear away while this world laſts: therefore in a ſpecial manner it is called New; as ([n]) the former by reaſon of its waxing old, and wearing away, is called Old. Mark the Apoſtles words; In that he ſaith, A New Covenant, he hath made the Firſt Old: now that which decayeth and waxeth old, is ready to vaniſh away. Nor is it unuſual with Scripture, to ſtile things New in this ſenſe. As ([o]) The New Heavens and New Earth, which the Lord hath promiſed to Create: are ſo called, not only becauſe of their admirable excellency, and the perfection of their renewed ſtate; but alſo in regard of their Conſtant Continuance, they ſhall ſtill remain before the Lord; as it were freſh, vigorous, New, &c. Iſa. 66. 22.

For theſe Reaſons this Covenant may fitly be ſtiled A NEW COVENANT. And unto theſe Reaſons certain others may be annexed, out of the Learned and judicious ([p]) Annotator upon the Prophet

([p]) A NEW COVENANT Not ſimply in regard of the ſubſtance of it: for the main matter and Subſtance of the former was as here, ver. 33. So Gen. 17. 7. Deut. 26. 17, 18. & 29. 13. And this Old Covenant was ratified, as well as the

the New by the blood of the Meſſias, (who was ever the ſame, Heb. 13.8. 2 Cor. 1.19,20.) that blood of his being in thoſe times, as well as typified by the blood of the Sacrifice, as by another Element is in theſe dayes obſigned. See the ſame words in a manner to this effect of either, Exod. 24. 8. compared with Mat. 26. 28. Luke 22. 20. 1 Cor. 11. 25. Heb. 9. 20. But it is in divers reſpects called a New Covenant: as the Commandment of Love is in ſome reſpects called A New Commandment, though in Nature and Subſtance the ſame ſtill that it was ever, Levit. 19 18. Mat. 22. 39. Luke 10. 27. John 13. 34. 1 John 2. 7, 8. And ſo is it with this Covenant, though in Nature and eſſence it continue the ſame, to wit, of remiſſion of ſin and eternal Salvation by the Meſſias, upon condition of Faith in him, Repentance and Newneſs of life; yet is it in divers regards ſaid to be New:

1. In that it is ratified by the death of our Savour exhibited, which was but in Expectation before: The Faith of Gods people being Then fixed on the Meſſias to come, and to be Sacrificed for their ſins, Iſai. 53. 10, 12. John 8. 36. Acts 15. 11. The faith of Chriſtians Now reſting on Chriſt already come in the fleſh, having been ſacrificed for them, and being aſcended up into Heaven, John 1. 14. Acts 13. 31. —— 34. Rom. 10. 9. 1 Cor. 5. 7. 1 Tim. 3. 16. Heb. 9. 11. —— 14. and 11. 13, 39, 40. 1 John 4. 2. 7

2. In that the Doctrine of the Goſpel is now more fully, diſtinctly, and clearly revealed, then formerly it had been; when it was more darkly, confuſedly, and in Generalities only by that dimmer Candle-light which then they enjoyed, with moſt that then lived, apprehended and diſcerned, Mal. 4. 2. John 3. 19. 2 Cor. 3. 18. 2 Pet. 1. 19.

3. In that the former Covenant comprehended together with thoſe Spiritual Promiſes, which yet were the principal part of it, many Temporal Bleſſings, As the Poſſeſſion of the land of Canaan, and Multiplicity of iſſue, and Outward proſperity, Gen. 15. 5, 7, 8. and 17. 2, 7, 8, Pſal. 105. 8. 11. Deut. 28. 1. 14. Whereas this latter runneth wholly upon the Spiritual and Celeſtial Bleſſings, Rom. 3. 24, 25. and 5. 1, 2. Eph. 1. 3. Heb. 8. 6.

4. In regard of thoſe manifold Ceremonies and ſhadows, to the obſervation whereof they that lived under that Covenant were thereby ſtrictly obliged: whereas in this latter they are all taken away, and a ſervice of God more Spiritual ſubſtituted in the room of them, chap. 3. 26. John 1. 14, 17. and 4. 21, 23. Gal. 3. 24, 25. and 4. 1. —— 9. and 5. 1, 5. Heb. 9. 1. —— 12. and 10. 1. —— 10.

5. In regard of the dilatation and Enlargement of it, it being in thoſe dayes confined to the Jewiſh Nation and State, and ſome few Proſelytes that adjoyned themſelves thereunto, Deut. 33. 4. Pſal. 76. 1, 2. and 147. 19, 20. Rom. 3. 1, 2. and 9. 4. Eph. 4. 12. 6. In regard of that large meaſure of Spiritual Endowments and variety of Gifts, ſo plentifully exhibited after Chriſts Aſcenſion, ſuch as the like had never been known nor heard of before, Iſai. 11. 6. Joel 2. 28. John 7. 38, 39. Acts 2. 4, 16, 17, 33. 1 Cor. 12. 4. to 10. 28.

7. In regard of the efficacy of the Spirit accompanying the uſe of theſe gifts, whereby ſo many millions have been out of all places converted unto Chriſt, Acts 2. 41. and 4. 4. and 8. 6. 12. and 9. 35. and 10. 21, 24, 26. and 19. 20. and 21. 20.

8. Laſtly, In regard of Continuance. The Government of Gods Church by the Evangelical Miniſtry, (ſucceeding in the room of the Levitical Prieſthood, and Miniſtry now aboliſhed; and the worſhip of God ſettled in place of the Moſaical Rites, now abandoned:) being to continue without change in the Church, end among the People of God, until the end of the world, and the Conſummation of all things at Chriſts ſecond coming, Mat. 28. 18, 19, 20. 1 Cor. 11. 26. Epheſ. 4. 11, 13. See the large London Annotations on Jer. 31. 31.

II. A NEW TESTAMENT ἡ καινὴ Διαθήκη. As it is ſtiled by Luke and Paul, reciting the Inſtitution of the Lords Supper; (q) This cup is the NEW TESTAMENT in my blood; that is, This wine in this Cup is a Sign, Token, Seal, &c. of my blood, by which the New Teſtament is eſtabliſhed and confirmed. Mathew and Mark a little vary the phraſe, but not the ſenſe, in their recital of the Inſtitution; (r) This is my blood of the New Teſtament. And Paul elſewhere expreſſeth this denomination more clearly; (ſ) And for this cauſe he is the Mediator of the NEW TESTAMENT, that by means of death, for the Redemption of the Trangreſſions that were under the Firſt Teſtament, they which are called might receive the Promiſe of the eternal inheritance.

(r) Mat.26. 28. Mark. 14.24.

(ſ) Heb.9.15.

This Greek word Διαθήκη Diatheke, properly ſignifies a Diſpoſition, or Diſpoſal of things: and that either, 1. Fœderal, and ſo its often tranſlated, A Covenant, As Heb. 8.6, 7, 8, 9, 10. and 9. 1, 4. and 10. 16. and 12. 24. and 13.20. Eph. 2.12. Gal. 3. 15, 17. and 4. 24. Or 2. Teſtamental, and ſo its often rendred, A Teſtament, As, 2 Cor. 3. 6, 14. Heb. 7.22. and 9. 15, 16, 17, 18. Rev. 11. 19. and in the places formerly alleadged. By this Greek word, the Septuagint in the Old Teſtament, and alſo the Penmen of the Holy Ghoſt in the New Teſtament, do ſtill render the Hebrew word ברית Berith, Covenant; as I have (t) formerly noted. And this New Covenant, hath in it the Nature of a Teſtament, as well as of a Covenant: and is A Teſtamental-Covenant, or a Fœderal Teſtament. It is called, 1. A Covenant, in reſpect of God and his People in Chriſt, agreeing therein as Fœderates upon Terms, A Teſtament in reſpect of Jeſus Chriſt the Teſtator of this Teſtament. 2. A Covenant, in regard of the fœderal manner of Agreement: A Teſtament, in regard of the Teſtamental manner of confirmation by the Teſtators death. Teſtamentum, A Teſtament is a Law-Term originally. Lawyers ſay (u) it is Teſtatio-mentis, &c. (i.) A Teſtification of the mind or will, which is made upon no fear of preſent peril, but only upon thought of Mortality. Every Teſtament is conſummated by death, A Teſtament is a mans laſt Diſpoſal or Deviſing of his eſtate real or Perſonal, according to his own will and pleaſure, before competent witneſſes, by word or writing: Which Teſtament becomes of force when he is dead. In alluſion to, and in Analogy or proportion with a Mans Teſtament, This New Couenant is called, A Teſtament. Conſider we now, 1. Why it is called a Teſtament. 2. Why its ſtiled a New Teſtament.

(t) In Book.1. chap. 2. Aph. 1 Sect. 1.

(u) Teſtamentum, (i.) teſtatio mêtis, which is made nullo preſentis metu periculi, ſed ſola cogitatione mortalitatis. Omne Teſtamentum morte Conſummatum. Cooks Inſtitutes 1 Part lib. 3. cap. 10. Sect. 586.

1. Why this New Covenant is called A Teſtament. This is from the Teſtamental nature of this Covenant, having ſuch Analogy, reſemblance to, and agreement with a mans laſt Will or Teſtament. For,

(1) As

(1) As in an Humane Teſtament, there is a Teſtator that makes his Will or Teſtament; Teſtator and Teſtament being Relatives: So in this Divine Teſtament Jeſus Chriſt himſelf is Teſtator, Heb. 9. 15, 16. and 7. 22. Mat. 26. 28. Luke 22. 20.

(2) As in an Humane Teſtament, the Teſtator is preſuppoſed to be veſted with the poſſeſſion or right of ſome eſtate in lands or goods which he doth deviſe by will; For he that hath nothing, can Give and Deviſe nothing: So in this New Teſtament, Jeſus Chriſt the Teſtator is preſuppoſed to be fully veſted with poſſeſſion and right of all things, Temporal, Spiritual and Eternal, deviſed, diſpoſed and bequeathed in this New Teſtament. (x) God hath made him Lord and Chriſt. (y) ——He is Lord of all. (z) —Him God hath appointed heir of all things. (a) —He hath put all things under his feet, and gave him to be head over all things to the Church. (b) —It pleaſed the Father that in him ſhould all fulneſs dwell. (c) —The Father loveth the ſon, and hath given all things into his hand.—The Father judgeth no man, but hath committed all judgment to the Son. And Chriſt after his Reſurrection teſtifyed; (d) All power (or, Authority) is given to me in Heaven and in Earth.

(x) Acts 2. 36.
(y) Acts 10. 36.
(z) Heb. 1. 2.
(a) Eph. 1. 20, 21, 22, 23.
(b) Col. 1. 19.
(c) John 3. 35. & 5. 22.
(d) Mat. 28. 18.

(3) As in Humane Teſtaments, The Diſpoſal of things is made according to the ſole will and meer pleaſure of the Teſtator; no other can impoſe a Teſtament upon him: So this New Teſtament was made of the meer Grace, good will, and pleaſure of Jeſus Chriſt the Teſtator. He of his meer good pleaſure, preached the Doctrine of this New-Teſtament, Mark 1. 14, 15. and 16. 16. Joh. 3. 16, &c. He of his own will annexed Baptiſm and the Lords ſupper; as ſeals to his New Teſtament; Mat. 28. 18, 19, 20. and 26. 26. to 31. 1 Cor. 11. 23, &c. He voluntarily laid down his life (no man took it from him, he laid it down of himſelf; having power to lay it down, and power to take it up again, John 10. 18.) and ſhed his blood for the eſtabliſhment of his New Teſtament to all that are called, Heb. 9. 15, 16, 17.

(4) As by Humane Teſtaments Men ſet their Houſes in order, Diſpoſe and ſettle their inheritance, lands or goods upon wife, children, allies, friends, &c. to be poſſeſſed by them after the Teſtators deceaſe: So Jeſus Chriſt by this New Teſtament (e) hath Diſpoſed and ſettled upon his ſpiritual ſpouſe, the Church, his ſpiritual children, members, friends, and called ones, all good things for the life preſent and to come. So that as he is appointed heir of all things: So they are made Heirs of God, Co heirs with Chriſt.

(e) Heb. 8. 6. to the end. 2 Cor. 1. 20. 2 Pet. 1. 3, 4. 1 Tim. 4. 8. Rom. 8. 16, 17.

(5) As in Mens Teſtaments theres uſually before witneſſes, a Signification of their wills in writing, and an obſignation thereof under hand and Seal: So Jeſus Chriſt hath Signified his laſt will and Teſtament in the (f) Sacred Scriptures of the New Teſtament; Theſe Books are his Teſtamental-Tables; And he ſealeth his New Teſtament, Inwardly and Privately by his Spirit, Epheſ. 1. 13, 14. Rom. 8. 15, 16. Outwardly and Publikely by Baptiſm and the Lords

(f) Heb 8. 6. to the end. Mat. 26. 26. to 31.

Lords Supper, Mark 16. 15, 16. Mat. 28. 19, 20. and 26. 26. to 31. And his Apoſtles were undoubted witneſſes of theſe things.

(6) As in mens Teſtaments, they are of no force while the Teſtator liveth, but begin to be of force aſſoon as the Teſtator is dead: So this New Teſtament of Chriſt became of force by and after the Death of Jeſus Chriſt. Hence called, (g) The new Teſtament in his blood. The Old Teſtamant had its Conſummation; and the New Teſtament its Inchoation by the Death of Jeſus Chriſt. And this is a ſtrong argument, why this New Covenant ſhould commence from Chriſts Death, becauſe it is Chriſts New Teſtament, and therefore began to be of force aſſoon as Chriſt the Teſtator was dead, Heb. 9. 15, 16, 17, 18, &c.

(g) Luke 22. 20. 1 Cor. 11. 25, 26.

(7) Finally, As in Mens Teſtaments, after the Teſtators Death, theres firſt an authentique Approbation, and then an Execution of the Teſtament: So in this Teſtament of Jeſus Chriſt, There was firſt a Solemn Demonſtration and Approbation of it at the (h) Feaſt of Pentecoſt, and afterwards an effectual execution of it by the Holy Ghoſt efficaciouſly applying to Gods Elect all the Bleſſed Legacies and bequeſts of Chriſt in this his laſt Will and Teſtament.

(h) Acts 2. throughout. See alſo the enſuing Hyſtory of the Acts of the Apoſt.

2. Why this New Covenant is ſtiled, A New Teſtament. Why its ſtiled, A Teſtament, I have ſhewed: Now, why A NEW TESTAMENT, will briefly appear.

It is called a New Teſtament, in oppoſition to the Old Teſtament, which was made at Mount Sinai; Even that (i) Firſt Teſtament, not Dedicated without blood. For when Moſes had ſpoken every Precept to all the People, according to the Law, he took the blood of Calves and of goats, with water and Scralet wooll, and Hyſop, and ſprinkled both the Book and all the People, Saying, This is the blood of the Teſtament which God hath enjoyned unto you, &c. Among all Gods Covenant-Expreſſures, theſe two only, viz. The Covenant given at Mount Sinai, called the Old Covenant, and this New Covenant, have the Nature of A Teſtament. Theſe two are Fœderal Teſtaments, or Teſtamental Covenants. Theſe two, being in Subſtance the ſame, though in Accidents divers, had for Subſtance One and the ſame Mediator, one and the ſame Teſtator, viz. Jeſus Chriſt: but differently conſidered. Jeſus Chriſt Promiſed was Mediator and (k) Teſtator of the Old Teſtament, Typically and obſcurely; under the Types of Moſes of the Death of Levitical Sacrifices, and of their Blood ſprinkled, &c. But Ieſus Chriſt actually exhibited and Performed in the fleſh is the Mediator and (l) Teſtator of this New Covenant, Truly and clearly, without Types or adumbrations, even by means of his own Death and Blood, that they which are called may receive the Promiſe of the Eternal inheritance.

(i) Heb. 9. 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, &c.

(k) Heb. 9. 11. to the end. & 10, 1, &c. 7. 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, &c.

(l) Heb. 9. 11. to 18.

Hence, As this is called a New Covenant, in oppoſition to this Old Covenant: So upon all the ſame grounds it may juſtly be ſtiled A New Teſtament, in oppoſition to that Old Teſtament. For, 1. It is moſt lately, laſt of all eſtabliſhed. 2. It Antiquates and Re-

Revokes the Old Teſtament. 3. It is very divers from that Old Teſtament revoked by it. Being, (1) ſtabliſhed on better Promiſes; (2) Dedicated with new Death and Blood of Chriſt; (3) Written upon New Tables; (4) Tendred and publiſhed to a New People; (5) Taught in a New manner; (6) Applyed and confirmed to the heart by a New Spirit; and (7) Ratified viſibly by New Teſtamental Seals. 4. It advanceth the Church and members of Chriſt to a New Condition. 5. It was very ſtrange and unknown till theſe later dayes. 6. It eminently excels in many regards the Old Teſtament. 7. And this Teſtament, is never to wax old, to be antiquated or revoked, but ſtill to remain New till Chriſts ſecond coming. All theſe as they are grounds, why this Covenant is called, New; ſo are as fit grounds why this Teſtament and laſt will of Jeſus Chriſt is called New.

III. The Second Covenant. This Denomination the Apoſtle ſignifies to us in his Explanation of this New-Covenant, ſaying; (m) For if that Firſt Covenant had been faultleſs, then ſhould no place have been ſought for the Second, &c. By the following expreſſions, in ver. 8, 9, 10. Its evident, that he calls that Sinai-Covenant the Firſt Covenant, and the New Covenant, The Second. (m) Heb. 8. 7, &c.

But how can we underſtand this; Seeing the Sinai-Covenant was not the Firſt Covenant; Gods Covenants with Adam, Noah and Abram going before it: Nor is the New Covenant the Second after the Sinai-Covenant; Gods Covenants with David, and with his Captives in Babylon, coming between them? Anſw. There are two things which may be fitly replyed to this Objection, for clearing and removing this Doubt. 1. Theſe two Covenants, viz. The Sinai-Covenant, and The New Covenant, are the two moſt illuſtrious, famous and eminent Covenant-expreſſures among all the Reſt. For, (1) Theſe were made with greateſt Solemnities. (2) Theſe were tendered to the greateſt number of People: The Old Covenant to the whole National Church of Iſrael, The New Covenant, to the whole Oecumenical or General Church gathered out of all Nations in the world Jewiſh and Gentiliſh. Whereas the Covenants with Adam, Noah, Abram, David, were directed but to their Particular Perſons, Families and their Seed. And the Covenant with the Captives was tendered to a people comparatively very few in number, very mean, obſcure, deſpicable and inconſiderable in Condition. (3) Theſe two Covenants, beyond all other, (n) were managed with peculiar Adminiſtrations moſt remarkably diſtinct and oppoſite to each other. The three Covenants preceding the Sinai-Covenant being Preparatory and Homogeneal in their Miniſtrations to it: The two Covenants next following the Sinai-Covenant being additional Explanations of it, and (as hath been already manifeſted) under the ſame Miniſtration. So that in theſe regards, theſe two Covenants may (n) Heb. 12. 18. to 25. 2 Cor. 3.

may be called The First, and Second Covenant: because they are the First and Second most illustrious Covenants; although in regard of Time, and Order of Discovery, The Old Covenant was not precisely the First; nor this New, the Second. 2. The Greek word Διαθήκη translated Covenant, in the (o) said Scripture alledged for this Denomination, may also as well be rendered Testament. For if that First Testament had been faultless, then should no place have been sought for the Second. And thus the same Greek word is often translated Testament. As, Heb. 9. 15, 16, 17, 18, 20. Luke 22. 40. 1 Cor. 11. 25, 26. Math. 26. 27. And then the difficulty is easily removed. For these two Covenants being the only Testamental Covenants, The Old Covenant was the First Testament, and the New Covenant, the Second Testament.

(o) Heb. 8. 6, 7.

IV. A Better Covenant; or, A Better Testament. The Greek for this Denomination, is rendered both waies. As; (p) But now hath he obtained a more excellent Ministry, by how much also he is the Mediator of a better Covenant, which was established upon better Promises. And elsewhere; (q) — By so much was Jesus made Surety of a better Testament.

(p) Heb. 8. 6.

(q) Heb. 7. 22.

Now this New Covenant is called a Better Covenant and Testament in opposition to the Old Covenant and Testament. And this, not in Essence and Substance: but in Accidents and Circumstances, viz.

(r) Heb 8. 6

1. Because, It is (r) stablished upon better Promises. The Promises of the Old Covenant were, 1. More carnal and earthly; 2. More obscure, in Christ to come afterwards; 3. More restrained, to one Nation of the Jews: as (s) I have formerly noted. But the promises of this New-Covenant are 1. More Spiritual and Heavenly; 2. More Clear and Conspicuous in Christ come already; 3. More extensive and universal, to all Nations.

(s) In this Book IV. Ch. 1. Sect. 2. Partic. IV.

2. Because, It is not an Earthly, Servile, Slavish, Terrible Dispensation, bringing into Communion only with things Terrible and Terrified, as the Old Covenant: but an Heavenly, Free, Filial and comfortable Dispensation, bringing into a more sweet and happy Communion, As (t) elsewhere I have explained that eminent passage of the Apostle, Heb. 12. 18. to 25.

(t) In my Key of the Bible, on Heb. 12. 18, &c.

3. Because, It was dedicated with better Sacrifice and Blood, then the Old Covenant. Not (u) with the Typical Sacrifices and Blood of slain Beasts: But with the true Sacrifice and Blood of Jesus Christ crucified, most acceptable to God, and most available for our Redemption, Reconciliation and eternal Salvation.

(u) Heb. 9. 11. to the end & 10. 1. to 22

4. Because, It is Administred by a Better Priesthood, even the (x) Perfect, Everlasting, Unchangable Melchizedeckian Priesthood of Jesus Christ himself made Priest with the sacred Oath of God, whereof he will never repent: Not by the Imperfect, Mortal, Mutable, Levitical Priesthood consecrated without an Oath. And therefore fore Hence this New-Teſtament is called a Better Teſtament, Heb. 7. 20, 21, 22. And Chriſts better Prieſthood which makes this A Better Teſtament, is called, The bringing in of a Better Hope, which perfects us (when the Law made nothing perfect,) and brings us nigh unto God, Heb. 7. 19.

(x) Heb. 7. 20. 21, 22, 23, &c.

5. Becauſe, upon all the grounds why its called, A New Covenant, it may alſo deſervedly be counted a Better Covenant.

6. Becauſe, It hath many Excellencies, Priviledges and Prerogatives above the Old Covenant, as after will appear in the General Inferences: and therefore in all thoſe regards it muſt needs be a Better Covenant.

V. The Everlaſting Covenant: or, Everlaſting Teſtament. So the Apoſtle Paul denominates this New-Covenant; (y) Now the God of Peace that brought again from the dead our Lord Jeſus, that great Shepherd of the Sheep, through the blood of the everlaſting Covenant, (or Teſtament) make you Perfect, &c. But in what ſenſe is this New-Covenant Everlaſting? Anſw. This New Covenant is Everlaſting in a Double ſenſe; viz. 1. Abſolutely Everlaſting, ſo as it ſhall never know any end, in regard of the primary eſſence and ſubſtance of it. The Lord (z) will be their God, and they his people for ever, even in glory: They ſhall have his Law in their hearts for ever: Their ſins ſhall be remembred to them no more for ever, &c. 2. Reſpectively Everlaſting, ſo as it ſhall laſt for a long time, even ſo long as this world ſhall laſt; and ſhall never have an End, till this world have an End. And thus it is Everlaſting in reſpect of the very Accidents, Circumſtances and Adminiſtration of it: This New Teſtament Miniſtration, by Preaching Chriſt Crucified, Dead, Buried, Riſen, Aſcended, Sitting at Gods right hand, and this to all Nations: by Diſpenſing the New Covenant-Tokens, Baptiſm, and the Lords Supper; By the New-Covenants Spiritual way of worſhip, &c. Shall continue till the worlds End. The Old Teſtament Miniſtration is called, (a) That which is done away: The New Teſtaments Miniſtration is called, That which doth Remain.

(z) Heb. 8. 10, 11, 12.

(a) 2 Cor. 3 11.

VI. The Miniſtration far ſurpaſsing the Miniſtration of the Old Teſtament. The Apoſtle Paul in (b) divers places entring a parallel betwixt the Old Covenant given at Mount Sinai, and this New Covenant from Mount Sion; doth far prefer This Miniſtration of the New Covenant or Teſtament, before That Miniſtration of the Old. Let me briefly point at them particularly;

1. This New Covenant-Miniſtration is A Miniſtration of the Spirit: That Old-Covenant Miniſtration was a Miniſtration of the (c) Let-

(b) 2 Cor. 3. 6. to the end. Gal. 4. 21. to the end. Heb. 12. 18. to the end.

(c) Non intelligit Paulus illic ſimplicem & genuinum ſenſum Legis; Sed vocat Literam ita ratione, quia tantum propoſuerat hominum oculis, quid rectum eſſet, deinde etiam aures ipſas docuerit. Sed nomen Literæ refertur ad Scriptum: quaſi diceret, Scripta fuit lex in lapidibus: fuit igitur Litera. Evangelium autem quid? eſt Spiritus: h. e. Deus non tantum dirigit ſermonem ad aures & oculos hominum in Evangelio, ſed intus etiam docet corda ipſa & mentes. Calv. in Jer. 31. 33.

ter, 2 Cor. 3. 6, 7, 8. (1) That, being only written in dead Letters upon dead Stones had no Spirit, Life and Efficacy in it: This, being engraven in the Minde and Heart by the Spirit of God, works many Spiritual effects there, as Faith, Love, &c. (2) That, Literally declared what was to be done, but gave no Spiritual Ability for Doing and Performing of it; This, Spiritually furnisheth with ability for performance of what is required. (3) That, afforded so much Letter, so little Spirit, that it seemed to be no Spirit, but all Letter: This, affords so little Letter, so much Spirit, that it seems to be no Letter but all Spirit.

2. This, a Ministration of Life: That of Death, 2 Cor. 3. 6, 7.

(d) Heb. 8. 10. Ier. 31. 33. 3. This, a Ministration engraven in the (d) Heart and Minde: That, engraven in stones; in two Tables of Stone, 2 Cor. 3. 7.

4. This, A Ministration excelling in gloriousnes, in inward unveiled and durable Gloriousnes: That, comparatively inglorious, having only an outward, veiled and perishable gloriousnes, represented by the glory of Moses face which was to be done away, 2 Cor. 3. 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 18.

(e) Heb. 10. throughout. 5. This, A Ministration of Righteousnes and Justification in the (e) blood of Jesus Christ taking away sin for ever, that it shall never be remembred or imputed to them any more: That a Ministration of Condemnation, 2 Cor. 3. 9. Not only in detection of (f) sin, and Denunciation of the (g) curse; but also in the (h) Repetition of the Levitical Sacrifices, which were so far from taking away sin as pertaining to the Conscience, that in those Sacrifices there was a remembrance again made of sins every year.

(f) Rom. 3. 20. (g) Gal. 3. 10. (h) Heb. 10. 1, 2, 3, 4, &c.

6. This, A Ministration Remaining: That abolished, and done away, 2 Cor. 3. 11.

7. This, A Ministration clear, perspicuous, with open face: That, Dark, obscure and under a veil of Types and Ceremonies; which veil is done away in Christ, 2 Cor. 3. 12. to the end.

(i) John 8. 36. 8. This, A Ministration most Free, Filial, Gendring unto true Spiritual Liberty, Freedom and Adoption in Jesus Christ; (i) If the son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed; Hence this Covenant is, in the Apostles Allegory, compared to Sarah the Free-woman: That, A Ministration most servile and slavish, Gendring unto bondage, resembled unto Hagar the Bond-woman, Gal. 4. 21. to the end.

9. This, A Ministration most Sweet, Comfortable and Delectable: That, A Ministration most Harsh, Terrible and Intolerable, Heb. 12. 18. to the end.

In all these respects this New Covenant Ministration did far surpass and excel, That of the Old. And under these various Denominations the Holy Scriptures represent the NEW-COVENANT unto us.

Thus of the Names given to this Covenant.

APHORISM

APHORISM II.

Having thus considered the Names: next consider we briefly the Nature of this NEW COVENANT more Generally; in this Aphorism.

THE Nature of this NEW COVENANT considered more Generally, may be comprized in this or the like Description: viz. The NEW COVENANT, is Gods ([k]) last and most ([l]) excellent expressure of the Covenant of Faith, as a New Testamental-Covenant, ([m]) antiquating the Old Testament-administration, in JESUS CHRIST as Mediator, Surety and Testator thereof, ([n]) actually Incarnate, Crucified, Dead, Buried, Risen from the Dead, Ascended into Heaven, sitting at Gods right hand, and shedding forth his Spirit upon his Elect: To and with the ([o]) Houses of Israel and Judah, even the whole Church in all Nations of the world, ([p]) from Christs Death till the worlds End: wherein he promiseth, to ([q]) all that shall Believe in Jesus Christ already exhibited, shall Repent of their Sins, and shall love and obey him in Christ as his New-Covenant-people; ([r]) To write his Laws in their Hearts and Inwards; To make them all small and great know the Lord; To be merciful to their unrighteousnesses, and remember their sins no more; Yea to be to them a God, and make them be to him a people, All which he Confirmeth; Visibly, by the New Covenant's Tokens, ([s]) Baptism and the Lords Supper; Invisibly, by the Operation of the ([t]) Holy Ghost.

([k]) Jer. 31. 31. Heb. 8. 8. & 13. 20. ([l]) Heb. 8. 8, 9, 10. Gal. 4. 22. to the end. 2 Cor. 3. 6. to the end. Heb. 12. 18. to the end. ([m]) Heb. 9. 14, 15, 16, 17, & 8. 13. & 7. 22. ([n]) Heb. 9. 14, 15. & 10. 9, 10 to 22. Gal. 4. 4, 5, 6. & 3. 13, 14. 1 Cor. 15. 3, 4, &c. Eph. 4. 8, 9, 10, 11. Acts 2. 1, 2, &c. 33. ([o]) Heb. 8. 8. Jer. 31. 31. ([p]) As hath been already evidenced, In this IV. Book, Chapt. I. Aph. 1. ([q]) John 3. 16. 36. Mark 16. 15, 16. Acts 2. 38. & 3. 19, 20, 26. Gal. 5. 6. 1 Cor. 2. 9 10. Math. 10. 37. Luke 14. 26. Tit. 2. 14. Ephes. 2. 10. ([r]) Heb. 8. 10, 11, 12. Jer. 31. 33, 34. ([s]) Math. 28. 19, 20. & 26. 26. to 31. 1 Cor. 11. 20, 23, &c. ([t]) Ephes. 1. 13, 14. Rom 8. 15, 16. Gal. 4. 6, &c.

Now the Nature of the New Covenant, according to this Description thus confirmed by Scriptures, consists, especially in these few Particulars following, viz.

1. In the order and time of Manifestation. The New Covenant being the last Covenant-Expressure of all other.

2. In excellency of Constitution and Administration. The New Covenant in many respects and degrees far transcending not only the Old Covenant, but all Covenants that went before: As hath been intimated in part, and hereafter may more fully appear. Its an Expressure of the Covenant of Faith,] Herein it agrees in the General

Nature of it, with all the (u) Covenants of Promiſe foregoing, which were as ſo many diſtinct Expreſſures of the Covenant of Faith. Its the moſt excellent expreſſure of the Covenant of Faith,] Herein it tranſcends them all, and differs from them all, both in Conſtitution and Adminiſtration. 1. In Conſtitution; For, (1) Its a (x) better Covenant, ſtabliſhed upon better Promiſes, in a better Mediator. (2) Its a (y) better Teſtament, even a New Teſtament antiquating and revoking the Old in regard of its Legal Rigour, Rites and gravaminous Ceremonies, furniſhed with better Bequeſts and Legacies, and confirmed by the Death and Blood of the Beſt Teſtator in the world, Jeſus Chriſt. A Fœderal Teſtament; and a Teſtamentary Covenant. 2. In Adminiſtration; For, This New Covenant beyond all other is Adminiſtred, (1) Moſt Clearly; (2) Moſt Spiritually; (3) Moſt Freely, with greateſt Spiritual Liberty; (4) Moſt Fully and Perfectly; (5) Moſt Extenſively to all ſorts of Nations; (6) Moſt Efficaciouſly, under this Covenant, the Holy Ghoſt being moſt plentifully given; (7) Moſt Comfortably, in the fulleſt Communication of the Comforter; (8) Moſt Durably, even till the worlds end; (9) Moſt Glorioufly, in regard of true laſting inward Spiritual Glory: As hereafter will be evidenced more at large.

3. In the New kind or way of Doctrine; More open, plain, full, ſpiritual, evangelical, &c. touching Gods gratuitous bleſſings in Jeſus Chriſt the Meſſiah; Not Promiſed, But Performed; Not expected for future, But exhibited already; Not to come afterwards, But actually come in the fleſh, Crucified, Dead, Buried, Riſen, Aſcended, and ſet down on the right hand of the throne of the Majeſty in the Heavens, Heb. 8. 1.

4. In the amplitude, extenſiveneſs and enlargement of the Fœderates, viz. The New Teſtament Church (z) throughout all Nations of the world. Whereas all former Covenants were limited to particular Families, or to that one Nation of the Jews alone: This is extended not only to the Houſe of Iudah, but alſo to the Houſe of Iſrael; Yea to the univerſal Church in all Nations, Heb. 8. 8. Ier. 31. 31.

5. In the peculiar Eminency of (a) Covenant-Bleſſings Promiſed, viz. (1) Compleat Sanctification of their Minds and Inwards to be Conform to his Covenant fully: (2) Eminent and General Illumination of their underſtandings in the Knowledge of the Lord: (3) Full and final Expiation and Remiſſion of their ſins, and Removal of the Curſe for ever, even Perfect Iuſtification, by the Sacrifice of Chriſt offered once for all, ſo that they ſhall never more be remembred to us, as the ſins of the Jews were again remembred to them every year; (4) The higheſt Covenant-Relation poſſible betwixt God and his Creatures, (5) And (b) The Promiſe of the eternal Inheritance, not in Canaan, but in Heaven it ſelf.

6. In the New Ratification of this Covenant; Outwardly, by Baptiſm and the Lords Supper; Inwardly, By the New Operations of the Holy Ghoſt.

7. Finally,

(u) Eph. 2. 12.

(x) Heb. 8. 6.

(y) Heb. 7. 19, 20, 21, 22. & 8. 13. & 9. 15, 16, 17, &c.

(z) Math. 28. 18. Mark 16. 15, 16.

(a) Heb. 8. 10, 11, 12. Ier. 31. 33, 34. Heb. 9. 14, 15. & 10. 1. to 21.

(b) Heb. 9. 14, 15.

7. Finally, In the Peculiar Duration of this New Covenant-Adminiſtration, viz. From Chriſts Death, till the end of the world. For, in this, all former Adminiſtrations are ſwallowed up for ever.

In theſe eſpecially the Nature of this New Covenant or New Teſtament Conſiſts; as the Scriptures, and particularly thoſe annexed to the Deſcription of the New Covenant, do abundantly evince. And therefore the Reſtrictive limitation of the Nature of this New Covenant, only to three of theſe Particulars, (as is done (c) by D. Pareus, and after him by (d) Mr. Ball,) is very prejudicial and derogatory to this excellent New Covenant.

(c) Hæc deſcriptio Novi Teſtamenti naturam perſpicuè explicat, eamque in tribus his potiſſimum conſiſtere oſtendit. I. In genere Doctrinæ, aperto & plano, merè Evangelico de beneficiis gratuitis Meſſiæ exhibiti. II. In immunitate à maledictione legis, & ab onere legalium rituum, & politiæ Moſaicæ. III. In Eccleſiæ Novæ amplitudine ſeu dilatatione per totum orbem, unde Catholica dicitur. D. Pareus in Prolegom. General. ante Ep. ad Rom. pag. 42. a. Francofurt. 1647.

(d) The Nature of this Teſtament ſtands principally in three things. 1. The kinde of Doctrine, plain, full, and meerly Evangelical. 2. In freedom from the curſe of the Law, and freedom from legal Rites. 3. In the amplitude and enlargement of the New Church, throughout all Nations of the world. M. Joh. Ball in his Treatiſe of the New Covenant. Chap. 1. pag. 198. London, 1645.

What Inferences might be drawn from theſe two Aphoriſms in this Chapter, will more properly offer themſelves hereafter in opening the Matter, Form, &c. of this Covenant: and therefore here they are wholly waved.

CHAP. III.

Of the Author or Efficient; the Occaſion, and Impulſive Cauſes of this NEW COVENANT.

HAving thus viewed, the (1) Terms, (2) Denominations, and (3) Nature of this NEW COVENANT more Generally: Deſcend we now to the opening of this New Covenant, more Particularly; As touching, 1. The efficient Cauſe; 2. The Fœderates, or Parties to this Covenant; 3. The Matter; 4. The Mediator, Surety, and Teſtator; 5. The Form; 6. The End, or Intended Scope of this NEW COVENANT. Theſe more General and remote Conſiderations afford much light to this New Covenant: But theſe more Particular and neer Conſiderations will yield much more.

The Efficient Cauſe of this New Covenant, will beſt be diſcovered by notice-taking of theſe two things eſpecially, viz. 1. Who was the efficient Cauſe or Author of the New Covenant. 2. Upon what what Occaſions and impulſives this New Covenant was Authorized. Theſe ſhall be briefly and plainly reſolved in two diſtinct Aphoriſms, viz.

APHORISM I.

The LORD God, viz. God the Father, in the Son Jeſus Chriſt, by the Holy Ghoſt is the ſole efficient Cauſe or Author of this New Covenant: Promiſing it of old, Eſtabliſhing it in fulneſs of time, and applying it in due time to his called people.

IN this Aphoriſm (that I may a little explain and confirm it) two things are intimated to us. 1. That, God, Father, Son and holy Ghoſt is ſole Author of the New Covenant. 2. How God acteth unto the Effecting or Authorizing of it. Both theſe are to be cleared.

I. That, The LORD God, viz. God the Father, in the Son Jeſus Chriſt, by the Holy Ghoſt is ſole Efficient Cauſe or Author of the New Covenant, may divers waies be evinced. As,

1. By the expreſs Teſtimony of Holy Scriptures. The Scriptures teſtifie, 1. That, God promiſed to make this New Covenant, and peculiarly appropriates it to him as his work; (e) Behold the daies come (ſaith the LORD*) when I will make a New Covenant, with the houſe of* Iſrael, &c. ——— This is the Covenant that I will make with the houſe of Iſrael, after thoſe daies ſaith the LORD, &c. In that he ſaith; I will make a New Covenant, he excludes all others, and declares himſelf the only Author of it. 2. That, Jeſus Chriſt, as Teſtator, is author of this his New Teſtament, confirmed and compleated by his own death and blood. (f) ——— And for this cauſe he is the Mediator of the New Teſtament, that by means of Death for the redemption of the tranſgreſſions that were under the firſt Teſtament, they which are called might receive the promiſe of eternal inheritance. For where a Teſtament is, there muſt alſo of neceſſity be the death of the Teſtator. For a Teſtament is of force after men are dead: otherwiſe it is of no ſtrength at all while the Teſtator liveth. Here the Apoſtle ſhews that Jeſus Chriſt the Mediator, is alſo Teſtator of the New Teſtament, making it of force (as men their Teſtaments) by death. And who can be Author of any Teſtament, but the Teſtator himſelf? 3. That, The Holy Ghoſt alſo made this New Covenant, and the benefits thereof in Chriſt, known to the Church: (g) ——For by one offering he hath perfected for ever them that are ſanctified.

(e) Ier. 31. 31, 33. Heb. 8. 8, 9.

(f) Heb. 9. 15, 16, 17.

(g) Heb. 10. 14, 15, 16, 17.

tified. Whereof the Holy Ghoſt alſo is a witneſs to us; For after that he had ſaid before, This is the Covenant that I will make with them after thoſe daies, ſaith the Lord: I will put my Laws into their Hearts, and in their minds will I write them, &c. And the Holy Ghoſt making this New Covenant known, Revealing it by his own Authority to the Prophet, muſt needs be the Author of it.

2. By the plain Current of the New Covenant it ſelf. For therein the Promiſes are uttered by the Lord himſelf in the firſt Perſon, as from himſelf, ſaying, (h) I will put my laws into their mind, — I will be to them a God, —— I will be mercifull to their unrighteouſneſſes, and their ſins and their iniquities will I remember no more. Now, the ſame Lord God, that promiſeth to perform the New Covenant bleſſings himſelf, he muſt needs be ſole Author of the New Covenant.

(h) Ier. 31. 33, 34. Heb. 8. 10, 11, 12. & 10. 16, 17.

3. By the Form or Name in which Baptiſm, the Firſt New-Covenant-Token, is to be adminiſtred, by Chriſts own appointment after his Reſurrection. (i) Go ye therefore (ſaith he to the 11. Apoſtles) and Diſciple ye all Nations, Baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghoſt: Teaching them to obſerve all things whatſoever I have commanded you, &c. Why, in the Name of Father, Son and Holy Ghoſt? But, Partly becauſe Baptiſm is to be diſpenſed by warrant and authority of all theſe three. Partly, becauſe all the New Covenant Benefits, ſignified, ſealed and Convayed by Baptiſm are from all three. Partly, becauſe the Reſtipulation and Fœderal Obligation of the Baptized, in regard of Faith, Repentance, and all other New Covenant Duties conditioned, is to be made to all the three perſons in the bleſſed Trinity. Now if The LORD God, Father, Son and Holy Ghoſt, be ſole Author of Baptiſm, and of the benefits thereof, which is the New-Covenant-Token: Conſequently he is ſole Author of the New Covenant it ſelf. Who can Authorize the Covenant-Token, but the Author of the Covenant?

(i) Mat. 28. 18, 19, 20.

4. By the joynt undertakings of the three moſt Sacred Perſons, Father Son and Holy Ghoſt in this New Covenant. They joyntly undertake to perform all New-Covenant-bleſſings to the Fœderates: but yet in their own peculiar Order and proper Way of Working, which is (k) according to the order of their ſubſiſting. The Father eternally ſubſiſteth firſt in order, of himſelf, Mat. 28. 19. 1 John 5. 7. not begotten, nor proceeding: The Son eternally ſubſiſteth from the Father, Second in order, being eternally and ineffably begotten of the Father, Heb. 1. 5, 6. John 1. 18. and 3. 16. and 17. 5. The Holy Ghoſt eternally ſubſiſteth from the Father and the Son. the third in order, proceeding eternally and unconceivably from the Father and the Son, John 15. 26. and 14. 26. According to this order of their ſubſiſting, is their order of working: as the Apoſtle intimateth; (l) —To us there is but one God, The Father, of whom are all things, and we in (or, for) him; And one Lord Jeſus Chriſt, through whom are all things, and we through him; And proportionably, (k) See John Forbes his Treatiſe of Juſtification, chap. 10. more fully clearing this.

nably, One Holy Ghoſt by whom are all things, and we by him. And elſewhere he ſhews that our acceſs to God is anſwerable to this order; (m) —For through him (viz. The Son Jeſus Chriſt) we both have an acceſs by one ſpirit unto the Father. Now in this New Covenant; I. God the Father undertakes, 1. To be a (n) Covenant-God and Father in Jeſus Chriſt his only ſon, unto all that ſhall truly believe, repent and obey him as his people, Accepting them as his Covenant-people, and Adopting them as his ſons and daughters into his family. 2. To beſtow Jeſus Chriſt upon them (who was given up freely for them, Rom. 8. 32.) as their al-ſufficient Saviour and Redeemer: Making him unto them, Wiſdom, and Righteouſneſs, and Sanctification, and Redemption; John 6. 44. Tit. 3. 4, 5, 6, 7, &c. II. God the Son undertakes, 1. To Redeem his Elect Sheep, and make them free indeed, from Sin, Curſe, Wrath, and condemnation, by the invaluable price of his own Death and blood, John 10. 11, 18. Heb. 10. 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, &c. and 9. 14, 15. 1 Pet. 1. 18, 19, 20. Eph. 5. 2. Act. 20. 28. Tit. 2. 13, 14. John 8. 36. 2. To reſcue them actually and effectually from the power and Tyranny of Sin, Satan, &c. bringing them unto everlaſtnig Reconcilement to, and favour with God, Acts 26. 17, 18. Rom. 5. 1, 2, 10, 11. 2 Cor. 5. 20, 21. 3. To be the Material Mean (o) of their Righteouſneſs, Juſtification, and ſpiritual cleanſing from the guilt of their ſins: that they may be the righteouſneſs of God in him, 2 Cor. 5. 21. 4. To give them eternal life, and to preſerve them ſo ſecurely that they ſhall never periſh, nor ſhall any pluck them out of his hand, John 10. 27, 28, 29. 5. To be their way unto the Father, that now they may enjoy him graciouſly, John 14. 6. Epheſ. 2. 18. being acceptable to God through him in all their Spiritual Sacrifices, 1 Pet. 2. 5. And that hereafter they may come by this New and living way to enjoy him glorioufly in Heaven it ſelf, Heb. 10. 19, 20, &c. III. The Holy Ghoſt undertakes for theſe redeemed of Chriſt Jeſus. 1. To (p) cleanſe and ſanctifie them, by purging them from their ſinful defilements, and repairing the image of God in them. 2. To lead, act and guide them, as the children of God, into all Truth, and in all the waies of God; that they may walk in, and after the Spirit, Rom. 8. 14. Thoſe and ſuch like New Covenant-Benefits God the Father, Son and Holy Ghoſt undertakes to perform to the Fœderates with them in this New Covenant; and therefore God alone is author and Primary Efficient of this New Covenant. For who can perform or make good this Covenants Benefits but he that made the Covenant?

5. By the joynt influence and concurrence of the whole Trinity unto all works ad extra, that are without the Trinity. According to that known Maxime, (q) The works of the Trinity without are undivided. The works of the Trinity within themſelves, as to beget, to be begotten, to proceed, are ſo proper and peculiar to one Perſon, as they are not nor can be belonging to another: But the works of the Trinity without themſelves, as Decree, Creation, Providence, &c. (among which alſo Covenant-Making is one) are common to all the perſons, they all act therein, but in their peculiar way of working proper to each perſon. The Father acts of himſelf through the Son by the Spirit; The Son from the Father by the Spirit: The Holy Ghoſt from the Father and the Son. (r) The Son can do nothing of himſelf, but what he ſeeth the Father do: For whatſoever he doth, thoſe alſo doth the Son likewiſe. Therefore if God the Father, or Son, &c. be author of this New Covenant: then all the three perſons conſequently muſt needs be authors of it; viz. God the Father, in and through his ſon Jeſus Chriſt, by the Holy Ghoſt.

II. That, The LORD God, Father, Son and Holy Ghoſt do act unto the effecting of this New Covenant, eſpecially three waies: viz. 1. Of Old, Promiſing it; 2. In fulneſs of Time, eſtabliſhing it; 3. In due time, Applying it to his called People. All the three Perſons do joyntly concur in every of theſe three Acts. But yet ſo, as that the Fathers Influence and Activity doth chiefly appear, in Promiſing this Covenant of old; The Sons in eſtabliſhing it in fulneſs of time; The Holy Ghoſts, in Applying it efficaciouſly to Gods called in due time.

1. God the Father Promiſed this New Covenant of old, by the Prophet Jeremiah. (s) Behold the daies come ſaith the LORD, that I will make a New Covenant with the houſe of Iſrael, and with the houſe of Judah, &c. Herein the LORD promiſed long aforehand that he would make a New Covenant with Iſrael and Judah. This Promiſe was revealed by the Lord to Jeremiah; and by him to Gods people when they were in their Babyloniſh Captivity: as the (t) Context ſhews abundantly. The Old Covenant was not ſufficiently comfortable and ſupporting to them in their deep diſtreſſes in Chriſt promiſed: God therefore promiſeth to them in after times A New Covenant, more effectually comfortable in Chriſt exhibited. But this Promiſe of making a New Covenant, had not its its accompliſhment till the Death of Chriſt. So then, the LORD was the Principal efficient or Author of this New Covenant, Contriving it by his infinite wiſdom, and Revealing the Promiſe of it, to the Prophet Jeremiah, and by him as his Inſtrument unto his people.

2. God the ſon Jeſus Chriſt eſtabliſhed this New Covenant in fulneſs of time by his Death and Blood, And this he did (u) as Mediator, Surety, and Teſtator of this New Teſtamental-Covenant, or Fœderal Teſtament. Upon which account alſo the ſame night wherein he was betrayed, he annexed The Lords Supper as a viſible ſeal to this New Covenant, ſaying; (x) This is my blood of the New Teſtament which is ſhed for many for remiſſion of ſins. Hereby intimating that this New Covenant was dedicated and ſolemnly ſtabliſhed in the blood of Jeſus Chriſt himſelf: as the Old Teſtament formerly (y) was dedicated and ſtabliſhed with the typical blood of Sacrifices, Moſes ſaying; (z) Behold the blood of the Covenant which the LORD hath made with you, &c. or as Paul alleadgeth it; This is the blood of the Teſtament, which God hath enjoyned unto you.

3. God the Holy Ghoſt in due time actually and effectually applieth unto the Called of God this New Covenant, with all the Benefits thereof. 1. That The New Covenant and benefits thereof are effectually applyed to them that are called; is evident. Partly, by that of Pauls; (a) — And for this cauſe he is the Mediator of the New Teſtament, that by means of Death, for the Redemption of the tranſgreſſions under the firſt Teſtament, they which are called might receive the promiſe of eternal inheritance. Partly, be that of Peters on the day of Pentecoſt; (b) Repent and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jeſus Chriſt, for the remiſſion of ſins, and ye ſhall receive the gift of the Holy Ghoſt: For the Promiſe is to you and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God ſhall call. Here its plain, that the Gift of the Holy-Ghoſt, and the Promiſe of the eternal inheritance, are the promiſed benefits of the New Covenant, forasmuch as both theſe promiſes, though made of old, yet are now confirmed by, accompliſhed in, and digeſted into the New Covenant: And that theſe benefits are actually received only by them that are actually called. 2. That now they that are actually and effectually called, are So called by the Holy Spirit of God, and that ordinarily by the Goſpel-Truth and Word preached: is plain alſo. For, Paul tells the Theſſalonians. (c) — God hath from the beginning choſen you to ſalvation, through Sanctification of the Spirit and belief of the Truth, Whereunto he called you by our Goſpel, to the obtaining of the glory of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt. Here the Apoſtle evidenceth their Election, by their effectual Vocation: Their Effectual vocation is deſcribed; Partly, by the Cauſes whereby it is wrought; viz. 1. Efficaciouſly and inwardly, by the Sanctification of the Spirit; 2. Inſtrumentally and outwardly, by the Goſpel preached. Partly, by the laſt term, end or iſſue whereto their calling tends; viz. obtaining the glory glory of Chriſt, that is conformity to and communion with Chriſt in Glory. The Holy Ghoſt then is the immediate efficient cauſe of Effectual Calling: and By Effectual Calling the New Teſtament and the benefits thereof are applyed actually and effectually. Therefore they are actually and effectually applyed by the Holy Ghoſt.

Inferences from this, and the next Aphoriſm, ſhall be laid down together.

APHORISM II.

The LORD God, Father, Son and Holy-Ghoſt, took Occaſion, From his own peoples afflicted Condition, The Old Teſtaments inſufficiency, and the greatneſs of mans Miſery, To Promiſe, Eſtabliſh, and Apply this New Covenant to them that are called: of his meer Grace, in and for the merit of Jeſus Chriſt.

IN this Aphoriſm are expreſſed, 1. The Occaſion; 2. The Impulſive or Moving Cauſes inclining God to make this New Covenant.

I. The Occaſion which God took of Promiſing, Eſtabliſhing and Applying this New Covenant, is threefold. The firſt more peculiarly concerning his people the Jews. The ſecond properly reſpecting the Nature of the Old Covenant. The third Generally referring to Mankind.

1. The afflicted Condition of Gods own people the Jews. When God firſt revealed his purpoſe and Promiſe to Jeremiah, of making a New Covenant in after times with Iſrael and Judah; At that time both Iſrael and Iudah were under great affliction and diſtreſs. Judah was in ſad (d) Captivity in Babylon where they were as dead dry bones in their graves, when this New Covenant was firſt promiſed, Jer. 31. 31, &c. with the context before and after. And Iſrael long before that, had been carried Captive into (e) Aſſyriah by Shalmaneſar King of Aſſyriah, and were placed in Halah and Habor and the Cities of the Medes, becauſe they tranſgreſſed Gods Covenant; and there they remained in thraldom among the Gentiles: Nor read we of their return, till Iudah returned out of Babylon, when (f) probably ſome of Iſrael returned alſo, as I have heretofore obſerved in opening Gods Covenant with the Captives in Babylon.

(d) See Jer. ch. 29. to ch. 34. &c Ezek. 37.

(e) 2 King. 17 1 to 24. & 18. 9 to 13.

(f) Ezek 37. 15. to the end.

This was the diſtreſſed condition of Iſrael and Judah: Againſt which the LORD having propounded many Promiſes of their deliverance thence, of their Reduction into, and proſperity in their own land, of their Union again as at firſt under David into one Nation and one Kingdom, &c. To which effect he at that time made a Covenant with his Captives, for their ſupport and comfort; (g) at laſt, that he might advance their Conſolations beyond all their Tribulations, he Promiſeth that the daies ſhould come, wherein he would make a New Covenant with the Houſe of Iſrael, and the Houſe of Judah, Jer. 31.31,32,33,34. Hereby intimating to them, that they were not only to look at the preſent Covenant and Promiſes tendered to them for their Comfort: but that they were to look further beyond this, to the New Covenant which ſhould be made in after daies with them in Jeſus Chriſt exhibited, who ſhould redeem them from the Bondage of Sin, Satan, Death, Wrath, Curſe, Hell, &c. infinitely worſe then the Bondage of Babylon; and upon this Covenant they ſhould principally ground their Comforts and Hopes, in all their Adverſities. That Covenant aſſured them of their Reduction from Babylon to Canaan: This of their Reduction from Sin, Death, Hell, &c. unto Heaven. God would have his afflicted to be ſtrongly and abundantly comforted: therefore over and beyond all other Promiſes, he Promiſeth in after daies to make with them A New Covenant. This was the firſt and moſt immediate Occaſion.

(g) To this effect Calvin in Com. in Jer. 31. 31, &c. Expounds this occaſion of Gods Promiſing this New Covenant.

2. The Old Teſtament's, or Old Covenant's inſufficiency, weakneſs, unprofitableneſs and imperfection, was another Occaſion of the Lords eſtabliſhing this more ſufficient profitable and perfect New Covenant. This the Apoſtle Notably declares to us, ſaying; (h) —— There is verily a diſanulling of the Commandment going before, for the weakneſs and unprofitableneſs thereof. For the Law made nothing perfect: but the bringing in of a better hope did; By the which we draw nigh unto God. And yet more fully afterwards; (i) —— He is the Mediator of a better Covenant, which was eſtabliſhed upon better Promiſes. For if the Firſt Covenant had been faultleſs, then ſhould no place have been ſought for the ſecond. But finding fault with them, he ſaith; Behold the daies come ſaith Lord, when I will make a New Covenant with the Houſe of Iſrael, and the Houſe of Judah: Not according to the Covenant that I made with their Fathers, &c. God in Covenant-making ſtill proceeded from the more Imperfect, to the more Perfect; and at laſt to the moſt Perfect. In the Old Teſtament there was much imperfection and inſufficiency: It made nothing (k) Perfect, as pertaining to the Conſcience: having but a ſhadow of good things to come. It required Duty, but furniſhed not with Ability for it: Hence, the Fœderates continued not in it, but brake it, thereby bringing Gods diſpleaſure upon themſelves, 2 Cor. 3. 6, 7, 8, 9. Heb. 8. 7, 8, 9. Hereupon God took occaſion to eſtabliſh a better Covenant, even this perfect New Covenant in the blood of Chriſt, (who (l) by one offering perfected for ever them that are Sanctified;) which Covenant not only only requires duty, but alſo (being not ingraven in ſtones, but (m) written in the Minde and Heart) furniſheth the Fœderates with ability for performance; and at laſt (n) gives entrance by Chriſts new and living way into the Holyeſt of all, Heaven it ſelf.

3. The Greatneſs of mans miſery under Sin, Death and the Wrath of God, was another occaſion of this New Covenants eſtabliſhment and application. The greatneſs of mans Spiritual miſery under Sin, Death, &c. is abundantly ſet forth in the Scriptures. See Rom. 5. 12, 13, 14. & 6. 23. & 3. 9. to 20. Epheſ. 2. 1, 2, 3. 2 Tim. 2. 25. Acts 8. 23. Gal. 3. 10. and many like paſſages. This greatneſs of mans Spiritual Miſery can be removed by no other Remedy in the world, but only by the Meritorious Death and Mediation of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, becoming ſin, and being made a Curſe for his Elect, that they might become the righteouſneſs of God in him, and be redeemed from the Curſe, Acts 4. 11, 12. Rom. 8. 3. 2 Cor. 5. 21. Gal. 3. 13, 14. No other Covenant repreſents Chriſt actually ſacrificed, and his blood actually ſhed for us, but only this New Covenant, which was ſtabliſhed in his blood, (former Covenants repreſenting Chriſt and his blood only in Promiſes and Types, as to come afterwards.) Matth. 26. 28. Heb. 9. 14, 15, 16, 17. & 10. 1. to 22. Whereupon, all other former Covenants of Promiſe being herein Imperfect and Defective, God took occaſion to bring in this New Covenant, ſwallowing up all former Covenants, and actually exhibiting a full and perfect Remedy againſt mans ſin and miſery in Chriſt crucified. (o) How much more ſhall the blood of Chriſt, who through the eternal Spirit offered himſelf without ſpot to God, purge your conſcience from dead works, to ſerve the living God? And for this cauſe he is the Mediator of the New Teſtament, that by means of Death, for the redemption of the tranſgreſſions that were under the Firſt Teſtament, they which are called might receive the Promiſe of eternal Inheritance. Not only the ſins under this New Covenant, but thoſe alſo under the Old Covenant that Firſt Teſtament, are (p) not purged away but only by the price of Chriſts Redemption performed in ſtabliſhing this New Covenant. Thus (q) mans deep ſin and miſery occaſioned Gods great

(p) Prævaricationum ſub veteri Fœdere.] An vero patribus prævaricationes non fuerant remiſſæ? & cur prævaricationum veteris Fœderis potius meminit, quam Novi, cum Novi Fœderis Mediator videatur potius Novi Fœderis prævaricationes expiare debuiſſe? Reſpond. Non hoc vult, quaſi prævacationes Novi Fœderis non etiam explarit. Id enim dubitatione vacat. Ad veteres vero prævaricationes mortem Chriſti extendit, ne ad novi duntaxat Teſtamenti tempus ejus vigorem adſtrictum putemus. Dixerat, λύτρωσις veteres peccata eluere, Conſcientias purgare non potuiſſe: Deus quoque ſub Novo demum Fœdere prævaricationum remiſſionem promiſerat. Hinc videbatur patribus negata peccatorum remiſſio. Non, inquit, negata fuit eis remiſſio, ſed ſub Novum Fœdus ſuſpenſa fuit vera peccatorum explatio. Quare patribus obtigit quidem promiſſa propitiatio: non vero propter λύτρωσις, victimas, purgationes, lotiones typicas; ſed propter mortem Mediatoris Novi Teſtamenti. Locus non abſimilis eſt Apoſtoli, Rom. 3. 25. —per remiſſionem peccatorum præcedentium. id eſt, eorum, quæ ſub veteri Fœdere remiſſi quidem, ſed nondum explata fuerant Mediatoris Sanguine. &c. D. Pareus in cum. ad Heb. 9. 15.

(q) There is nothing in man to move God to ſhew mercy, but only miſery; which might be an Occaſion but can be no Cauſe, either why mercy is promiſed, or ſalvation granted. If man had not fallen from Grace and ſtate of innocency, God had never ſent his Son to redeem him, nor ſhewed mercy, reaching to the pardon and covering of his iniquity; If he had not loſt himſelf, Chriſt had never come to find and reſtore him; If he had not wounded himſelf, he had not been healed and repaired of Grace. Man then is a Subject on whom God beſtows Grace, and in whom he works it; and his miſery an Occaſion that the Lord took of manifeſting his Mercy, in ſuccouring and lifting him up out of that diſtreſs; But the Free-grace and love of God is the Sole cauſe of what the Lord hath promiſed in this New Covenant, and doth give according to Promiſe. Mr. Joh. Ball in his Treat. of the New Covenant, Chap. 1. p. 199, 200. Lond. 1645.

great New Covenant-Remedy. Had not man Sinned; Christ had not Suffered: Had not man brought himself under the Curse; Christ had not been made a Curse to redeem him from it, &c.

Thus of the Occasion of this New Covenant.

II. The Impulsive or Moving Causes, inclining the LORD to Promise, Establish or Apply this New Covenant; were not any thing at all in the Jews or Gentiles, to whom this Covenant is extended, but only his own meer Grace and good pleasure, and the Meritorious Mediation of Jesus Christ. This thing therefore may be cleared, 1. Negatively, 2. Affirmatively.

1. Negatively; That there was nothing at all in Jews or Gentiles, to whom this New-Covenant is extended, moving or inclining God by way of Causality, to Promise, Establish or Apply this New Covenant unto them: is very evident. For,

(1) The Jews, to whom the Promise of Gods future making A New Covenant was first revealed by Jeremiah from the Lord, (though they were at that time Gods own and only Covenant-people, yet) had nothing at all in themselves of worth or dignity, that might move the Lord to reveal this Promise to them, or afterwards to establish it for them. For, 1. Their Fathers were, in Gods first promise of making a New Covenant, (r) found fault with all as a Covenant-breaking People, that continued not in Gods Covenant, and therefore God regarded them not. And themselves are taxed for being polluted with Idolatry, like their fathers, Ezek. 20. 30, 31, 32. compared with ver. 1. to 30. Dan. 9. 4. to 20. So that neither their fathers nor they themselves had any worth in them, which might move the Lord to promise A New Covenant to them. 2. These Captive Jews had nothing in themselves inviting and inclining God to make his Uncaptivating Covenant with them when they were in Babylon; (s) — I do not this for your sakes O house of Israel, but for mine holy Name's sake; — Not for your sakes do I this, saith the Lord GOD, be it known unto you; be ashamed and confounded for your own wales O house of Israel: Much less could they have any Motives or Impulsive causes in themselves inclining God to Promise the New Covenant, which is a far more perfect and excellent Covenant-Expressure then that, or any that went before.

(2) The Gentiles, (who at that time when this New-Covenant was first Promised, (t) were afar off from God, were not his people, had not obtained mercy, were dead in trespasses and sins, were without Christ, being aliens from the Common-wealth of Israel, and strangers from the Covenants of Promise, Having no hope, and without God in the world;) were much more destitute then the Jews of all worth and excellency in themselves, which might move God to Promise or stablish this New Covenant with them.

2. Affirmatively; That, The LORD's own meer Grace, and the Meritorious Mediation of Jesus Christ, were the sole Impulsive Causes Moving

Moving and Inclining him to Promiſe, ſtabliſh and apply this New Covenant to his called of Jews and Gentiles: is alſo very apparent. For,

(1) The meer Grace and Good-pleaſure of Gods will is evidently hinted in the tenour of this New Covenant to be the Inward Impulſive or Moving Cauſe of his Promiſing and making of it. He ſaith; (u) — The daies come when I will make a New Covenant; — But this is the Covenant that I will make with the Houſe of Iſrael after thoſe daies; — I will put my Laws into their hearts, and in their minds will I write them; — I will be to them a God; — I will be merciful to their unrighteouſneſſes, and their ſins and iniquities will I remember no more. Here the Lord ſaith (I will) ſeven ſeveral times in the tenour of the New Covenant, and gives this ſtill as the ground or Motive why he made this New Covenant, becauſe ſo it is his meer will and pleaſure. He fetches all Impulſives from himſelf, from his own free love, rich grace, and meer good-pleaſure of his will, for making this New Covenant. I have formerly ſhewed, That even his Covenant of Works with man before his fall was originally of Grace, Ex Gratia favoris, of the Grace of Gods favour, which the innocent Creature could not deſerve; And that Gods Covenant of Faith with man ſince his fall, in all the foregoing Diſcoveries and Periods of it, was originally of grace much more, viz. Ex gratia commiſerationis, of his meer Grace of Commiſeration and pitty, the ſinful creature deſerving the quite contrary: Now therefore conſequently, This New Covenant, the height, Perfection and Accompliſhment of all Covenants, muſt needs be of grace, of Favour and Commiſeration moſt of all. In this fulleſt expreſſure of Covenant, is Gods fulleſt expreſſure of Grace, Mercy and Love.

(u) Heb. 8. 8, 10, 12. & 10. 16, 17.

Under former Covenants God made ſome Diſcovery of his Grace, Mercy, Love, Loving kindneſs, &c. Adam had a promiſe of Mercy in the (x) Seed of the woman againſt the Serpent; Noah and his family (y) found fœderal favour in Gods ſight, to be ſaved, when all the world was drowned; Abraham (z) was taken into Covenant with God, and juſtified by Faith without the works of the Law; Iſrael, though the feweſt of all people, were brought into Covenant with God, who loved them, becauſe he loved them, being merciful to whom he would be merciful, and proclaiming himſelf Gracious, Merciful, long ſuffering, abundant in goodneſs and Truth, forgiving iniquity tranſgreſſion and Sin, Deut 7. 6, 7, 8. Exod. 33. 19. and 34. 4, 5, 6, 7. David brought into ſpecial Covenant with God, confeſſed; (a) O LORD, for thy ſervants ſake, and according to thine own heart, haſt thou done all this greatneſs, in making known all theſe greatneſſes; And the Captive-Jews were brought into Covenant with God and partakers of his promiſes, (b) not for their ſakes, but for his holy names ſake. Thus God expreſſed his Grace, Mercy, Love, &c. in all theſe former Covenant-Adminiſtrations. But Come now to this New Covenant, excelling the reſt as far as the light

(h) —— His great love wherewith he loved us. (i) —— God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him, should not perish, but have everlasting life. (k) —— He that spared not his own Son, but delivered him up for us all: how shall he not with him also freely give us all things? And elsewhere John admires Gods familiar sweet fatherly love to us in Christ, saying; (l) Behold, what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God, &c. And of Christs Love, it is said; (m) —Who loved us, and washed us from our sins in his own blood. (n) —— Greater love hath no man then this, that a man lay down his life for his friends. But —— when we were without strength, in due time Christ dyed for the ungodly. For scarcely for a righteous man will one die: yet peradventure for a good man some would even dare to die. But God commendeth his love towards us, in that while we were yet Sinners, Christ dyed for us. (o) —— I bow my knees unto the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, —— That Christ may dwell in your hearts by Faith, that ye being rooted and grounded in Love, may be able to comprehend with all Saints, what is the breadth and length, and depth, and height: and to know the love of Christ which passeth knowledge, that ye might be filled with all the fulness of God. (p) Philosophy hath but three dimensions, Length, Breadth, Depth: but here Paul ascribes four Dimensions to the love of Christ, adding Height. He would have us know that Christs Love is beyond all Dimensions; as it is beyond all knowledge and Comprehensions. in it; Becauſe, (f) Love brought him as low as Earth, as low as Grave, as low as Hell, becoming a Man of Sorrows, a crucified dead and buried man, and a Conflicter with the powers of darkneſs for our ſakes; that we may be ſpiritually quickned, at laſt corporally raiſed and eternally redeemed: and beyond all theſe ordinary dimenſions Chriſts Love hath in it an Height alſo; Becauſe he hath (t) aſcended up far above all Heavens, that he might fill all things, be our everlaſting advocate with the Father, Prepare a place for us, and take us home at laſt to himſelf, that where he is we may be alſo, to behold his Glory, & enjoy him for ever gloriouſly. This the free-grace, Mercy, Love and Goodneſs of God is diſplayed moſt oriently, magnifically, and illuſtriouſly in the New Covenant. And this rich grace and love of God to us, was the ſole Inward Impulſive Cauſe, (the Cauſa αἰτιωμένη) Moving him to make this New Covenant.

(2) The Meritorious Mediation of Ieſus Chriſt was, (the only Cauſa αἰτιατικὴ) the ſole Outward Impulſive or Moving Cauſe of Gods making this New Covenant, and making it good to his fœderates. For, 1. All the (u) Promiſes of God in Chriſt are yea, and in him Amen. He ſpeaks not of Gods Promiſes made to man before, but after his Fall. All ſuch Promiſes, eſpecially and principally the Promiſes of the New Covenant, are in Chriſt yea, and in him Amen. That is, they are in him certain Truth, yea: not an uncertain, doubtfull, Tea and Nay: and in him they are Aſſurance, or firm ground of aſſured dependance, Amen. Or, according to the divers reading the Greek, (x) Wherefore alſo through him let them be Amen: that is, let us, let the Church aſſent and ſubſcribe to this Truth and certainty of God Promiſes in Chriſt. Calvin, (y) prefers this latter interpretation, and Reading. Now how are all the Promiſes of God, yea, certain Truth in Chriſt? Anſw. Divers wayes; (1) Partly, In that Jeſus Chriſt (yeſterday, to day, and ever the ſame, Heb. 13. 8.) is the Principal Myſterie and Matter of the Promiſes. One way or other they all tend to him, terminate in him, and Center themſelves upon him. He being ſtill yea, and Amen; the Promiſes in him are ſtill yea, and Amen alſo. (2) Partly, In that Jeſus Chriſt, as he is the chief Matter, ſo he is the chief Object to and with whom, and the great Motive in and for whom he makes his Promiſes and Covenant. The Covenant of Faith and the Promiſes thereof, are firſt made with and to Chriſt, and then to all his ſpiritual ſeed in him and for his ſake, as hath been (z) formerly proved. (3) Partly, In that the Covenant of Faith, but eſpecially this New Covenant and the Promiſes thereof, have their aſſured foundation, firm eſtabliſhment, and unalterable Ratification or Sanction, in the Death and blood of Jeſus Chriſt the Mediator, Surety and Teſtator thereof, Gal. 3. 17. Heb. 9. 15, 16, 17. and 7. 22. Thus The Efficient Cauſe or Author, The Occaſion, & Impulſive Cauſes of this New Covenant have been unfolded & cleared in theſe two Aphoriſms: Now condſider a few Inferences from them both together.

Inferences.

I. Hence, The NEW-COVENANT, thus Authorized and erected, thus Promiſed, Eſtabliſhed and Applyed by God Father Son and Holy Ghoſt, muſt needs be an exceeding Wiſe, Holy, Faithfull, Gratuitous, and Righteous Covenant.

1. An exceeding Wiſe Covenant. For, Its contrived by (d) the only wiſe God, and by the joynt Counſel of the whole Trinity of the bleſſed Perſons in the Godhead. The (e) Father of lights (even of all lights, Natural, Spiritual, and Celeſtial) hath clothed it with the beams of his light and brightneſs: The Son, (f) The wiſdom of God in whom are hid all treaſures of wiſdom and knowledge, hath imprinted his wiſdom upon it: The Holy Ghoſt, that (g) Spirit of Truth, wiſdom and underſtanding, hath ſecured it from all errour and folly. Every Covenant of God is Wiſe: but this New Covenant is eminently wiſe. For, 1. The defects of all former Covenants are fully ſupplyed in this. 2. The wiſdom and Perfections of all former Covenants are digeſted and moulded into this. 3. Compleatneſs of Proviſion for Sinners Salvation is comprized ultimately in this both for Jews and Gentiles: no other being to ſucceed and vacate it till the worlds end. 4. The brighteſt (h) Glory of divine wiſdom in the face of Ieſus Chriſt ſhines out moſt clearly in this. 5. By this New Covenant the Fœderates are aſſured of more ſaving (i) wiſdom and General knowledge of the Lord then in all former Covenants. 6. And by this New Covenant the Lord hath ſo fully provided provided for the peace and Conſolation of a poor bruiſed, wounded and broken-hearted Sinner, that no Temptations, Scruples or Objections can aſſault him, but by the help of this New Covenant skilfully improved, they may be reſiſted and removed.

2. An exceeding Holy Covenant. It is very pure, Holy, and ſeperate from all ſinfull pollution, Not onely in regard of the Fœderates, Matter, Form and End thereof, which are very Holy, but eſpecially in regard of the Author and Mediator thereof which are (k) moſt holy. The LORD is (l) —— holy in all his works: Eſpecially in his Spiritual works, ſuch as are his Covenant-contrivances. The moſt Holy God imprints an holy character upon every Ordinance that comes out of his hand.

3. An exceeding Firm and Faithfull Covenant. For, 1. The (n) Surety, Mediator and Teſtator of it is Jeſus Chriſt, who hath eſtabliſhed it by his own death and blood, paſt all revocation or alteration. 3. 4. An exceeding Gratuitous Covenant. Being bottomed or grounded upon nothing, procured by nothing at all in man, Jew or Gentile: but wholly flowing from the fountain of Gods rich free-grace, according to the meer good pleaſure of his (o) will; as hath been ſhewed.

I only touch at theſe things now, and paſs: beauſe theſe, with many ſuch like, will hereafter come under conſideration in opening the Properties and Perfections of this New Covenant.

II. Hence, The NEW COVENANT is an excellent Antidote againſt the greateſt adverſities and afflictions of Gods Covenant-people. This Inference flows clearly from the firſt Occaſion which God took of Promiſing this New Covenant (r) by the Prophet Ieremiah to his Covenant-people the Jews. They were at that time in extream diſtreſs in their Babyloniſh Captivity, they ſaw no viſible way or poſſibility of deliverance, they were even as helpleſs and hopeleſs as dead dry bones in their Graves, ſaying; (ſ) Our bones are dryed, and our hope is loſt, we are cut off for our parts. Now at that time God had made an Un-captivating Covenant with them, ſtored with many choice and comfortable promiſes for their ſupport againſt their preſent preſſing diſtreſſes; wich Covenant and Promiſes he did much in-culcate and re-iterate to them, as is evident in Ier. 29. and 30. and 31. and 32. and 33. Notwithſtanding the Lord thought not this enough for their Conſolation and ſupport; and therefore over and above all (that he might advance their comforts eminently indeed,) he Promiſeth, that the dayes ſhould come, wherein he would make a New Covenant with the houſe of Iſrael and Judah, far ſurpaſſing that Sinai-Covenant, that Old Covenant, under which they were: upon this Covenant chiefly they ſhould ſet their minds and Hearts; Hence they ſhould extract their ſweeteſt conſolations, againſt all their preſent Tribulations. As if the Lord had told them; O mine afflicted Captives, I have ſpread before you many Conſolations in the Promiſes both of the Old Covenant made when I brought your Fathers out of Ægypt, and of my preſent Covenant made with you under your Captivity: but further I tell you for your comfort, I have better Promiſes, and a better Covenant, affording better comforts, in ſtore for you hereafter; I will make a New Covenant with you in the after-dayes, I will keep my beſt wine till then, I have treaſured up my choiceſt Cordials therein, Come therefore to theſe wells of Salvation and draw waters with joy; No Covenant-Conſolations againſt diſtreſſes can compare with my New-Covenant-Conſolations.

(r) Ier. 31. 31. with the context foregoing and following.

But whence or whereupon is it, that this New Covenant is ſo eminently Conſolatory, ſuch an excellent Antidote, againſt the greateſt Afflictions of Gods Covenant-people? Anſw. This comes to paſs from the Nature and Perfections of the New Covenant, far excelling all fore-going Covenants. The New Covenant is a very ſhop or Treaſury of richeſt Cordials, of moſt Soveraign Antidotes. For,

1. The New Covenant moſt fully and ſweetly removes all our tranſgreſſions, the procuring cauſe of all our Afflictions. Sin, is the (t) original Cauſe and inlet of all ſorrow, and of Death it ſelf: and is the very (u) Gall of bitterneſs, poyſon of Trouble, and Sting of Death. If ſin be removed, the ſoul and venom of all affliction is removed: and nothing but the bare Carkeis, Name, and ſhadow of affliction remains. The removal of the cauſe of the diſeaſe, makes the perfecteſt cure. Now this New Covenant removes all our tranſgreſſions, ſo fully, that there needs no more Sacrifice for ſins; So ſweetly, that the Lord will remember them no more. (x) This is the Covenant that I will make with them after thoſe dayes, ſaith the Lord: I will put my laws into their hearts, and in their Minds will I write them: And their ſins and iniquities will I remember no more. Now where Remiſſion of theſe is, there is no more offering for Sin. The Old Covenant (y) renewed Sacrifices yearly, daily; and remembred their ſins yearly and daily, and therefore could not ſo fully comfort againſt the fruit of Sin, Affliction: but this New Covenant admits no more Sacrifice for ſin, Chriſts once offering up of himſelf being enough for ever; and therefore blots out our ſins for ever. O how ſweet is this to an afflicted Soul, in Covenant! My Covenant-God and Father layes his chaſtiſements upon me; but my comfort is the bitterneſs of all Sorrow and Death is paſt, He will remember my ſins no more unto me.

2. The

2. The New Covenant moſt Spiritually repreſents to us, and aſſures us of our Reſtauration from deepeſt Miſeries, to greateſt Mercies: and therefore of all others is moſt Comfortable againſt Miſeries and Diſtreſſes. Other Covenants ſet forth mans Reſtauration from Miſeries to Mercies; as from (z) the Serpents Head, from (a) the General Deluge of waters, from the (b) Ægyptian Servitude to Canaan, from (c) the wilderneſs to the land of Reſt and place which God ſhould chooſe, from (d) Babyloniſh Captivity to Canaans Liberty, and under theſe their Reſtauration from Spiritual Miſeries, to Spiritual and heavenly Mercies was obſcurely adumbrated: But this New Covenant moſt Spiritually and plainly deſcribes our Redemption and Reſtauration, From (e) Darkneſs to Light, from Sin to Grace, from the power of Satan to God, from the (f) wrath of God to his fatherly love and favour; from the (g) Curſe, to the Bleſſing of Abraham, yea of Jeſus Chriſt, from (h) Death to Life, from (i) Condemnation to Salvation, and from Hell to the higheſt Heaven it ſelf. Now this New Covenant affording moſt comfortable aſſurance of our Recovery from deepeſt Spiritual Miſeries to greateſt heavenly and eternal Mercies, it muſt needs be moſt comfortable of all other againſt all leſſer and outward afflictions. That Covenant which is moſt comfortable againſt the wrath of God, torments of Hell, &c. muſt needs be moſt comfortable againſt the wrath of man, Babylons Bondage, &c.

3. The New Covenant moſt fully diſplaies and conveyes Jeſus Chriſt to us; who is our Primary Hope, and Rock of all Conſolation. Chriſt was in former Covenants diſplayed obſcurely under remote Promiſes and Types, and conveyed ſparingly to that one ſelect Nation of the Jews, ſcarce an handful to the reſt of the world; and accordingly their comforts were obſcure and ſparing: but in this New Covenant Chriſt in all his Spiritual glory is diſplayed openly (k) with open face as exhibited already, and conveyed liberally even to people in (l) all Nations of the world. Now the more fully Chriſt is diſplayed and conveyed in any Covenant, the more fully is that Covenant comfortable in all Caſes of Diſconſolation, Afflictions or others. For Jeſus Chriſt is our (m) Hope, The very Rock and Root of all our Conſolation from God, Phil. 2. 1. 2 Theſ. 2. 16, 17. His Comforts are applyed and proportioned to our Croſſes, (n) For as the ſufferings of Chriſt abound in us, ſo our Conſolation alſo aboundeth by Chriſt. The ſufferings of Chriſtians, are counted the ſufferings of Chriſt; So near is his Union and Relation to them, ſo dear are his Sympathizings with them. And for their abounding Croſſes, Chriſt hath abounding Comforts. What then though our tribulations abound, whilſt Chriſts Conſolations under them do alſo equally abound or ſuper-abound? After Holy Stephen, the Proto-Martyr, (o) had ſeen heaven opened and Jeſus ſtanding at the right hand of God, This bleſſed glimpſ of Chriſt in Glory, upheld his Spirit victoriouſly and triumphantly againſt that cruel ſhower of ſtones by which he fell on Sleep.

Sleep. Yea so strong and predominant are Christs Consolations, that being throughly shed abroad in the heart, they are able to make such an intransed Soul follow Christ, not only through torments, and Death, but (if it were possible) through Hell it self. Hence, notably Ignatius inflamed with the Love, and upheld with the Comforts of Christ, said; (p) —— Now begin I to be a Disciple, being zealous after nothing of visibles or invisibles, that I may obtain Jesus Christ. Let Fire and Cross, and the Joynt-insurrection of wild-beasts, Anatomies, Dilacerations, Dissipations of my bones, Dissections of my members, Dissolutions of my whole body, and the punishment of the Devil, come upon me; that I may obtain Jesus Christ.

4. The New Covenant most plenteously confers upon the Fœderates the Holy Ghost. The former Covenants afforded as it were some drops and sprinklings of the (q) Spirit, in some dark, sparing and seldome Promises: But under this New Covenant the Holy Ghost is plentifully (r) shed forth, poured out abundantly in showers and rivers upon believers. Hence Christ said: (s) whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him, shall never thirst: but the water that I shall give him shall be in him a well of water Springing up into everlasting life. And elsewhere more fully; (t) — He that believeth on me, as the Scripture hath said; out of his belly shall flow rivers of living water. But this spake he of the spirit, which they that believed on him should receive: for the Holy Ghost was not yet given, because Jesus was not yet glorified. That is, the Holy Ghost was not yet so plentifully and abundantly given till Christs Ascension, which was not to be till Christ had established his New Covenant by his Death. Now the Holy Ghost being most plenteously given under this New Covenant, consequently this New Covenant must needs afford the most full and plenteous comforts against, not only the Fœderates afflictions, but also all other their disconsolate cases and conditions whatsoever. For,

1. The Holy Ghost is the (u) comforter, by office, abiding in the hearts of Christs Disciples for ever. They that have this comforter in them for ever, must needs have a fountain, an inexhausted Treasury of all saving comfort in them for ever. 2. The Holy Ghost peculiarly enables to that work, which is most proper and useful to ease and support an afflicted Soul, viz. Prayer; (x) is any afflicted, let him pray: for (y) the Spirit helps our infirmities, and specially our Prayer-infirmities, enabling us with groans unutterable to cry Abba Father. 3. The Holy Ghost notably assures us of our good childlike Condition and Relation towards God, and of our everlasting inheritance in the highest Heavens: being a (z) witness with our Spirits that we are the children of God, And (a) a Seal after our believing, and an Earnest of our inheritance until the possession of the Purchased Redemption. Now when once these two Grand Priviledges are clearly and strongly assured to us, viz. That we our selves are the children of God, and That the Everlasting heavenly inheritance is ours: what

ſhocks of Trouble ſhall we not abide? what extremities of Diſtreſſes ſhall not we very eaſily overcome?

5. The New Covenant moſt powerfully diſpoſeth and raiſeth up the Soul to a Capacity of Conſolation in all Conditions, and at laſt moſt effectually laies a foundation of Sweet Support and Comfort therein. This is very evident in the whole body of the New-Covenant-Mercies promiſed: which are all of them moſt admirable Cordials to the Fœderates. For, this (b) New Covenant aſſureth, 1. That, from the greateſt to the leaſt, they ſhall all know the Lord. Now the right knowledge of the Lord; of his Perfections in himſelf, of his proceedings with his people in all regards, and particularly in their afflictions, makes them wiſely conſider that all is from his fatherly hand in love, and faithfulneſs, and prudence for their ſpiritual and eternal good, Heb. 12. 5. to 12. 1 Cor. 10. 13. Pſal. 119. 75, 67, 71. Iſaiah 28. 24. to the end. Rom. 5. 3, 4, 5. 2 Cor. 4. 16, 17, 18. Now this diſpoſeth and raiſeth up the ſoul exceedingly to a Capacity of Conſolation. 2. That, God will put his Laws into their minds and write them in their hearts. Their hearts ſhall have in them as it were a Counter-pane of Gods Laws, there ſhall be an harmonious conſent betwixt God Laws and their Hearts, betwixt his will & their wills, that they ſhall have an inward Principle of Sanctification and grace inclining them readily and chearfully to do and endure what the Lord ſhall pleaſe. Heres now an excellent diſpoſition to, and foundation of Contentment and Conſolation. For uſually, its the ſtubborneſs, perverſneſs, frowardneſs, hardneſs and untractableneſs of our hearts, that makes our conditions, eſpecially our afflicted conditions ſo harſh, grievous and uncomfortable to us. Our vexing and chafing at the yoke, proves more afflicting then the very yoke it ſelf. Chriſt himſelf (c) firſt had the Law of God in his heart, in the midſt of his bowels: and then he delighted to do the will of his father, yea to endure his will alſo in that ſharpeſt conflict of laying down his life and pouring out his blood for us. 3. That, God will be merciful to our unrighteouſneſſes, and will remember our ſins and tranſgreſſions no more. Sin unpardoned, is the Affliction of Affliction: nothing in the world is ſo bitter upon the Spirit, and lies ſo heavy upon the Heart as this. When ſin is pardoned, in (d) heaven and in the heart, then the Storm is over, though the waves of affliction daſh never ſo impetuouſly. Then the toſſed Soul can liſt up Head and Heart above water with this Conſolation: (e) I am troubled on every ſide, yet not diſtreſſed; Perplexed, but not in deſpair; Perſecuted, but not forſaken; caſt down, but not deſtroyed; I am ſore pained, but yet all my ſins are pardoned; I am (f) chaſtened by the Lord, but I ſhall not be condemned with the world. 4. That, The Lord will be to me a God, and I ſhall be to him one of his Covenant-people. O this affords, not only a Spring, but even a Sea of Comfort againſt all Afflictions and diſconſolate conditions. If God be mine, what can I want? If I be Gods, what can me hurt? &c. but this Ocean of Comfort

6. The New Covenant judiciouſly conſidered and improved, moſt ſatisfactorily anſwereth all the perplexing Scruples and Objections of the Afflicted. The Doubts and Objections of the afflicted under afflictions, are the ſad aggravations of their afflictions: for theſe diſtreſs the heart, that ſhould bear up all the reſt above diſtreſs. If then this New Covenant be ſo ſweetly contrived by the Lord, that its ſufficient to repel and remove all the troubleſom Doubts and Scruples of the afflicted: How excellent an Antidote and Cordial is it againſt all afflictions! Thy afflictions may be, 1. παιδεία, fatherly chaſtiſements, Teaching-chaſtiſements, Heb. 12. 5, 7. 2. Δοκιμαί, Probations, or Trials, 2 Cor. 8. 2. 3. Πειρασμοί, Temptations, 1 Cor. 10. 13. Jam. 1. 2, 12. Rev. 3. 10. But they ſhall not be properly, 4. Τιμωρίαι, The Puniſhments of an angry Sin-revenging God, Heb. 10. 29.

Object. 2. But I want a gracious and ſanctified Heart, patiently, contentedly and ſilently to bear the indignation of the Lord without murmuring, repining, fainting, &c. my principles are very bad.

(l) Heb. 8. 10.

Anſw. The New Covenant aſſures thee; That God (l) will give his Laws into thy Minde, and write them in thine Heart. And this brings the whole frame of Sanctification, and all the treaſures of Grace into thy Soul. And of all other theſe are the beſt Principles.

Object. 3. I want wiſdom and skill, to know why the Lord contends with me, and to improve mine afflictions for my ſpiritual and eternal advantage.

(m) Heb. 8. 11.

Anſw. This New Covenant Promiſeth; 1. That thou ſhalt (m) know the Lord. And that will make thee wiſe to diſcern the Lords intendments, and skilful in the managing of all his chaſtiſements advantagiouſly, James 1. 2, 3, 4, 5. 2. That, He

(n) will give his Laws into thine Heart and Minde. And therefore his Laws within, will inſtruct thee: as his rod without doth correct thee, Bleſſed is the man whom thou chaſteneſt, O L O R D; and teacheſt him him out of thy Law, Pſal. 94. 12. Oh its a happy thing indeed when the Lords Inſtruction accompanyeth the Lords Correction!

Object. 4. Oh I ſhall never hold out under all this ſore and long Trial: my heart will break, my ſpirit will fail, (o) one day I ſhall periſh in theſe extremities. (p) Oh that my grief were throughly weighed, and my calamity laid in the ballances together! For now it would be heavier then the ſand of the Sea, therefore my words are ſwallowed up.

(o) 1 Sam 27. 1.
(p) Job 6. 2, 3.

Anſw. Yet this New Covenant affords thee a Rock of Refreſhment. He (q) will be thy God, and thou ſhalt be one of his Covenant-people. What? Cannot thy God contract and conclude thy tryals when he pleaſeth? and cannot he mean while keep up thine heart? Is not he the Father of mercies and the God of all Conſolations? 2 Cor. 1, 3. And are the Conſolations of God ſmall with thee? Job 15. 11. If God be for thee, who ſhall be againſt thee? Rom. 8. 32. If God uphold thee, who ſhall caſt thee down? Say with David; Mine heart and my ſtrength faileth me, but God is the Rock of mine heart, and my portion for ever, Pſal. 73. 26.

(q) Heb. 8. 10.

Object. 5. Alas, now you touch me to the quick, now you wound me to the Heart. (r) Oh, if the Lord be with me, if he be my God, why then is all this befallen me? (ſ) —The LORD hath forſaken me, and my God hath forgotten me. Oh, (t) —Wherefore hideſt thou thy face, and holdeſt me for thine enemy?

(r) Judg. 6. 13.
(ſ) Iſa. 49. 14.
(t) Iob 13. 24.

Anſw. This New Covenant is not a changeable or vaniſhing, but an (u) Everlaſting Covenant. And therefore, if ever thou waſt perſwaded upon good grounds, that the Lord was thy God according to this Covenant, he is thy God ſtill, and will be thy God for evermore. He may for a while hide his face, and ſuſpend thy ſence of his wonted favours for a little moment: but (x) with everlaſting kindneſs will he have mercy upon thee. He cannot forſake thee, nor forget thee, nor count thee for his Enemy, no more then he can forget this his everlaſting Covenant, no more then the blood of this Covenant can be ſhed a ſecond time. Harken not to thy preſent Senſe, conſult not with fleſh and blood: but live by faith, and cleave cloſe to this Covenant. Afflicted Sion ſaid; (y) The LORD hath forſaken me, and my Lord hath forgotten me. But what ſaid the Anſwer of the Lord? Can a woman forget her ſucking child, that ſhe ſhould not have compaſſion on the ſon of her womb? yea, they may forget, yet will I not forget thee. Behold, I have graven thee upon the palms of my hands: thy walls are continually before me. This was Gods comfort to his afflicted Sion: let it be thy conſolation O diſtreſſed Soul.

(u) Heb. 13. 20.
(x) Iſa. 54. 7, 8.
(y) Iſa. 49. 14, 15, 16.

7. Finally, This New Covenant eſtabliſheth the moſt conſtant and laſting Conſolation to its Fœderates: becauſe it ſhall not be broken and laid aſide as the Old Covenant was, but ſhall ſtill continue New, and remain till the end of the world, Math. 28. 18, 19, 20. 1 Cor. 11. 26. Heb. 13. 20. Now thoſe Conſolations, that are moſt Continuing, are moſt Conſolatory.

III. Hence, The New Covenant-Adminiſtration far excels that of the Old: and the Good Condition of the New Covenant-people far surpasseth that of the Jews under the Old Covenant. The divine Influences of Father, Son, and Holy Ghost, unto the Promising, Stablishing and Applying of this New Covenant, as also the riches of Divine Grace thereunto, being more clearly, plenarily and gloriously manifested, then in reference to the Old. But I shall hereafter have more fit and full occasion to speak to this particular: and therefore now I add no more.

CHAP. IV.

Of the Fœderates, or Parties to this New Covenant.

After the particular handling of the Efficient or Author of this New Covenant, together with the Occasion taken, and Impulsives Moving thereunto. In the next place, The Fœderates or Covenanting-Parties, to this New Covenant, are to come under Consideration. In every Covenant properly so called, and so in this New Covenant, these things are necessarily required: viz. 1. Parties Covenanting. A Covenant is not of one alone, but of two at least, or of more then two. 2. The Mutual consent and agreement of such Parties upon certain Matters, Articles, Points, Terms or Conditions propounded reciprocally. 3. The Interposing or Intervening of some fit Middle Person having interest in both Parties to bring on and make up this Agreement: when otherwise the Parties are at too great a distance one from another, or either of them proves unable to perform the Agreement without a Surety undertaking for the impotent Party. This is the case betwixt God and Man: The (z) distance between them is extreamly Great; Man of himself is utterly (a) unable to undertake and perform the Covenant Terms or Conditions with God; Christ (b) God-man a fit Middle Person having sufficient interest in both God and Man interposeth as Mediator to bring them together in a sweet Covenant-Agreement; undertaking for man the impotent party that he shall Perform, as a (c) Surety of the Covenant. The First of these, The Fœderates, shall be treated on in this fourth Chapter; The Second, The Matters or Terms Agreed and Consented to, in the fifth Chapter; The Third, viz. The Mediator and Surety of of the Covenant, Chriſt Jeſus, in the ſixth Chapter (The bleſſed Lord and Mediator of this New Covenant aſſiſting.)

The Federates, or Parties to this New Covenant, are expreſſed both by Ieremiah and Paul in their mentioning of the New Covenant; (d) —— Behold the dayes come, ſaith IEHOVAH, that I will make a New Covenant with the houſe of Iſrael and the houſe of Judah: Not according to the Covenant that I made with their Fathers, &c. —ſaith IEHOVAH, But this ſhall be the Covenant that I will make with the Houſe of Iſrael, after thoſe daies, ſaith IEHOVAH; I will put my Law in their inward parts, &c. Here it is evident, who are the Fœderates, or Parties to this New Covenant: viz. I. The Firſt and Principal Party, is God, as JEHOVAH —— ſaith IEHOVAH, I will make a New Covenant, &c. Not according to the Covenant, &c. ſaith JEHOVAH: —— But this the Covenant that I will make — ſaith JEHOVAH. God makes, Man accepts this Covenant; God therefore is the Principal Fœderate. He makes it as IEHOVAH, as the LORD: this is thrice expreſſed, (ſaith IEHOVAH.) I will not peremptorily aver, that herein the Trinity of Perſons is intimated, every of which Perſons is IEHOVAH: but yet God IEHOVAH, Father Son and Holy Ghoſt (as hath been ſhewed) do concurr in making this New Covenant. This God the LORD is the Primary Party, touching which there is no difficulty. II. The Second and leſs Principal Party is expreſſed two waies, viz. 1. The houſe of Iſrael and the houſe of Judah, Ier. 31. 31. Heb. 8. 8. Both are mentioned as the joint Covenanting Party on the other hand, with God the LORD. 2. The houſe of Iſrael, Ier. 31. 33. Heb. 8. 10. This alone is mentioned in the Repetition of the phraſe, without recital of the houſe of Judah. In the former expreſſion, The houſe of Iſrael is Diſcretive diſtinctly oppoſite to the houſe of Judah: In the latter, The houſe of Iſrael ſeems to be Collective and Complexive, as comprizing in it the houſe of Judah alſo. So that for Subſtance both theſe expreſſions amount to one and the ſame. We ſhall ſo underſtand the Meaning of theſe Phraſes, in the explanation of this enſuing Aphoriſm touching the Fœderates or Parties to this New Covenant.

(d) Ier. 31. 31, 32. 33. & Heb 8. 8, 9, 10, &c.

APHORISM I.

The Confederates, or Federate-Parties to the NEW-COVENANT, are, On the one hand God the LORD, or God as JEHOVAH, the Principal Party: On the other hand, The House of Israel, and the House of Judah, in Christ, the less Principal Party: that is, the Jews Israel and Iudah united, and their Seed; as also the Gentiles that shall be called and their Seed. This Aphorism I explain and confirm, as followeth.

I. THE First and Principal Fœderate, is God the LORD; or, God as the LORD; or, as JEHOVAH.

1. That God, as JEHOVAH, or as the LORD; in that precise Notion and Consideration here offers himself as the chief Fœderate Party, is plain in the (e) words wherein he promised at first to make this New Covenant.

(e) Ier.31,31, 32,33. Heb.8. 8,9,10.

2. What this imports, That he is the chief Fœderate, as the LORD; or, as IEHOVAH: hath been (f) heretofore sufficiently explained in opening of the Old Covenant. The substance whereof is applicable here analogically.

(f) In Book III. ch.4. Aph.3.

II. The Second and less Principal Fœderate-Party is the House of Israel and the house of Judah, Jer.31.31,33. Heb 8.8,10. The Sense of these Terms and Phrases may be thus in brief represented.

Israel, that is, One-that-as-a-Prince-hath-power-with God. I. It was (g) First given by the Lord as a Surname to Jacob, upon occasion of Jacobs wrastling in Prayer with the Angel, and prevailing for a blessing from him: and at the same time the Interpretation of the Name was annexed. II. And it is afterwards applied 1. Sometimes, More Restrictively to all the Natural Seed or Posterity of the Patriarch Iacob, that is, Israel: and thus the People of God the Jews, even the whole Jewish Church under the Old Testament, are often stiled Israel, because they descended of Israel, As Psal. 25.22. and 128. 6. Isai. 1.3. and 14. 1. and often in the Old Testament. As also in the New Testament, Mat. 8. 10. and 27. 9. Luke 1. 80. and 2. 34. and 7. 9. John 1. 31, 35. and 9. 15. Rom. 9. 31. and 10. 1, 19, 21. and 11. 1. 25, 26. In this sense they are called sometimes Israel and Judah, because the (h) Tribe of Judah (which was part of Israel) was a very potent tribe, wherein the Royal line was setled in David and his seed, and whence Christ according to the flesh should come. As 2 Sam. 11. 11. and 12. 8.

(g) Gen.32. 24. to 30.

(h) Gen.49.8. to 13. Iudges 1.1,2, &c. 2 Sam. 2.4, &c. & 7.5.10 18. Heb 7.14.

and 24.1. 1 Kings 1.35. and 4.20,25. Pſal. 114. 2. But eſpecially they are called Iſrael and Iudah, after the renting of the Kingdom in the daies of Ieroboam, the ten tribes departing from Iudah and from Davids Family, As, Jer. 36.2. and 51.5. Hoſ. 1.11. Zech. 1.19. and 11.14. and in this ſenſe they are here ſtiled, Iſrael and Iudah, in this New Covenant, Jer. 31.31,33. Heb. 8.8,10. God having reference to their former Diviſion, promiſeth in this Covenant again to re-unite them, as one Covenant-people. 2. Sometimes, More Comprehenſively and largely, to the whole Chriſtian Church of God both of Jews and Gentiles. Thus the whole Chriſtian Church is called, The Iſrael of God, Gal. 6.16. and The houſe of Jacob or Iſrael, Luke 1.33. Unto which is oppoſed, Iſrael according to the fleſh, viz. the carnal Poſterity of Iſrael, who believed not, but reſted in outward formalities of Religion, 1 Cor. 10.18. And in this Comprehenſive ſenſe the word Iſrael, ſeems here to be taken, Heb. 8.8,10. Ier. 31.31,33. as hereafter I ſhall endeavour to make more fully appear.

Houſe of Iſrael, and Houſe of Iudah.] Houſe is taken in Scripture, I. Properly, For an Edifice, Structure or Building erected to dwell in. As Judg. 16. 26,27,29,30. 2 Sam. 15.16. and 20.3. 2 Chron. 8.15. Neh. 12.37. Pſal. 132.3. II. Improperly, by a Metonymy, For them that are contained, and dwell in the Houſe. The Inhabitants, the Family, are called the Houſe, As, Gen. 7. 1. and 18.19. John 24.15. John 4.53. Acts 10.2. 1 Cor. 1.16. Heb. 11.7. thus its uſed very frequently. According to this ſenſe, Houſe is put, 1. Sometimes, for the Family, Stock or Anceſtors whence one deſcends, As, Gen 12.1. and 20.13. Luke 15.17,18. and 16.27. 2. Sometimes, for the Poſterity, Seed or Iſſue of ſuch Anceſtors, Whether amounting only to A Family, As, Gen. 7. 1, 7. Joſh. 24.15. Or to a Tribe, As The Houſe of Iſſachar, that is, The Tribe of Iſſachar, 1 King. 15.27. The Houſe of Judah, that is, The Tribe of Iudah, 2 Sam. 2.7,10,11. Hoſ. 1.7. and 5.12,14. or, The Kingdom of Iudah, as, Iſa. 37.31. Ezek. 4.6. and thus its uſed here for the Kingdom of Iudah, diſtinct from Iſrael, Jer. 31.31. Heb. 8 8. The houſe of Iſrael, that is, The ten Tribes which deſcended of Iſrael, but fell off from the Houſe of David, 1 Kings 12.21. and 20.31. Iſa. 46.3. thus the Houſe of Iſrael is oppoſed to the Houſe of Judah, as Ier. 31.31. Heb. 8.8. Or the Houſe of Iſrael, that is, The whole 12. Tribes, Iudah alſo being comprehended in the phraſe, As, Exod. 16.31. Joſh. 21.45. and often. Thus largely alſo, the houſe of Iſrael is to be taken in the latter mention of the Fœderates of this New Covenant, Jer. 31.33. Heb 8.10. This is the ſence and uſe of theſe words and Phraſes, (Iſrael, Iudah, Houſe of Iſrael, Houſe of Judah,) in Scripture, which may more ſpecially help us to underſtand here, whom God intends for his Fœderates in this New Covenant, By Houſe of Iſrael, and Houſe of Judah.

Now therefore that I may more diſtinctly and clearly diſcover theſe theſe New Covenant-Fœderates, with God, who they are: I ſhall lay down and make good theſe Poſitions following, viz. 1. That, Iſrael and Iudah, even the whole body of the Iews United in one, in Chriſt, were firſt and immediately intended to be Fœderates with God in this New Covenant. 2. That, The Gentiles, whom afterwards God ſhould call and incorporate into one Church-body with the Iews in Chriſt, were next intended to be confœderates, with the Iews in this New Covenant. 3. That, The Houſe, Poſterity, Iſſue or Seed of Iews united, and Gentiles called, were with their Parents or Anceſtors intended by God to be taken in as confœderates, in this New Covenant. By House of Iſrael and House of Judah, 1. The Jews united; 2. The Gentiles called, as well as Jews; 3. The Poſterity and children of both ſuch Jews and Gentiles; are intended to be Fœderates with God in this New Covenant.

Poſition I. That Iſrael and Iudah, or The houſe of Iſrael and Judah, that is, The whole body of the Iews or Iewiſh Church, united in Chriſt, were firſt and immediately intended to be Fœderates with God in this New Covenant: is evident upon theſe grounds.

1. Becauſe, theſe phraſes, The houſe of Iſrael and the houſe of Judah, (under which God deſcribes his New Covenant-Fœderates,) do in their original, Literal and moſt uſual acceptation in Scriptures denote the whole Church and body of the Jews joyntly together, As, 2 Sam. 12.8. Ier. 31.27. Zech. 8.13. Ezek. 9.9. and therefore here in this Promiſe of the New Covenant directed ſpecially at firſt unto the Jews, Ier. 31.31, 33. Heb. 8.8,10. the whole Church of the Jews, both of Iſrael and Iudah, to be reduced again into one by Chriſt, muſt needs be immediately and primarily intended in theſe phraſes, as Fœderates with God in this New Covenant, and that in the firſt place before any other people. For it is but in a Secondary place that theſe phraſes denote the whole Chriſtian Church of Jews and Gentiles: in regard of the (i) Gentiles after-incorporation into the ſame body with the Jews, Gal. 6. 16.

(i) Rom. 11. 17,24. Epheſ. 3.6. & 2.13: to the end.

2. Becauſe, The Lord God in his Covenant with his Captives in Babylon, next preceding this New Covenant, (k) Promiſed this great Mercy to them, under the Parable of two ſticks united in the Prophets hands, the collection and Union of the diſperſed of Judah and Iſrael into one Nation and one Kingdom under DAVID their King and Prince for ever: and that they ſhould no more be two Nations, or two Kingdoms. This cannot be underſtood literally of David, who was dead long before: nor hath this Promiſe its full accompliſhment but only in Chriſt Ieſus the true DAVID ſpiritually, who by his New Covenant gathered and United the Scattered of Iudah and Iſrael into one Spiritual Kingdom and Church under himſelf: as I have formerly manifeſted in opening that Covenant. This great work began to be effected moſt notably (l) on the Feaſt of Pentecoſt.

(k) Ezek. 37. 15. to the end of the chapter.

3. Becauſe,

3. Becauſe, When this New Covenant was firſt Promiſed to the aptives of Judah in Babylon for their Comfort; the then divided Houſes of Iſrael and Iudah are joyned together in that Promiſe, as thoſe that hereafter ſhould be joynt Fœderates in this New Covenant. That the Houſes of Iſrael and Iudah were then ([m]) divided, is plain: for, from the time of Rehoboam when the ten tribes called Iſrael, revolted, till that day, they remained ſtill actually divided; Iſrael being captivated and diſperſed in Aſſyriah, Media, &c. and Iudah in Chaldea. That God promiſeth they ſhould be joynt-Fœderates united in this New Covenant, is alſo clear. For ([n]) Behold the dayes come, ſaith the LORD, that I will make a New Covenant with the Houſe of Iſrael and the Houſe of Judah. Here they are expreſſed in two phraſes, as United Fœderates. And after; ([o]) But this ſhall be the Covenant that I will make with the houſe of Iſrael, after thoſe dayes, &c. here they are both comprized in one phraſe. Though hitherto they have been two Houſes, two Nations, two Kingdoms: Yet by my New Covenant after thoſe dayes, they ſhall be one Houſe of Iſrael in Covenant with me.

4. Becauſe, The Doctrine and Bleſſings of the New Covenant founded and eſtabliſhed by Chriſts Death, ([p]) were firſt ſolemnly publiſhed and effectually applied to a very conſiderable body of the Iews met at Jeruſalem on the Feaſt of Pentecoſt, not only out of Iudea, but alſo out of every Nation under Heaven. This was a moſt Solemn Tranſaction, all things duly conſidered. For, 1. As the Lord God, fifty dayes after the Sacrificing of the Firſt Paſſover, appeared to all Iſrael like devouring fire, and ſpake his law that Old Covenant to them out of the midſt of the fire, So the Holy Ghoſt, fifty dayes after the Sacrificing of our great Paſſover Jeſus Chriſt for us, appeared to all this Conflux of Iews in the ſhape of cloven tongues, as of fire ſitting upon the heads of the Apoſtles, ſpeaking in all their languages the wonderful works of God, and myſteries of the New Covenant; as is ſpecially evident in Peters Sermon, preaching Chriſts Life, Paſſion, Death, Burial, Reſurrection, Exaltation at Gods right hand in higheſt glory as Lord and Chriſt, whence he had ſhed forth thoſe admirable endowments of the Holy Ghoſt. 2. It was a Singular and ſtrange Providence of God, that ſo great a body of Jews from all Nations under Heaven, not of Judah only, but of Iſrael, ſhould meet at Jeruſalem at that time, when this New Covenant Doctrine in Chriſt ſhould be ſo ſolemnly publiſhed after the eſtabliſhment of it. Since the Death of Jeſus Chriſt the like Convention of Jews is not ſtoried in all the New Teſtament. 3. The New Covenant Doctrine was moſt effectually applied to them, to the Conviction, Contrition and Converſion of 3000. Souls who were Baptized and added to the Chriſtian Church under this New Covenant the ſelf-ſame day: Beſides the many thouſands which were added afterwards. This Publication and Application of New Covenant Doctrine and Mercies cies is first made to the Jews of Judah and Israel united in Christ before the tender thereof was made to any Gentiles.

5. Because, On that day of Pentecost, when the Jews (q) pricked in their hearts, cried out to the Apostles for a Remedy, Men and brethren what shall we do? Peter prescribed to them spiritual Remedies, the New-Covenant-Remedies, Repentance and Baptism, assuring them of those two great Blessings of the New Covenant thereupon, viz. Remission of Sins, and the Gift of the Holy Ghost: and this, because The Promise, viz. The (r) Covenant-Promise made to Abraham and his Seed was first to them and to their children, and then to the Gentiles afar off whom God should call, and to their Seed proportionably—— Then Peter said unto them, Repent and be Baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ, for remission of sins, and ye shall receive the Gift of the Holy Ghost: For the Promise is unto you and to your children; and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God shall call, Acts 2. 38, 29 The words contain a spiritual Remedy prescribed against a spiritual Malady. I. The Malady was, Trouble of Heart and Conscience for Sin, and particularly for their guilt of Christs blood in crucifying him, ver. 36, 37. II. The Spiritual New-Covenant-Remedy against this Malady, is both Propounded and Proved. 1. Propounded and Directed, Partly by commanding and imposing upon them a double New-Covenant-duty towards God, viz. To Repent, and to be baptized in the name of Iesus Christ. Partly by Promising to them thereupon a double New-Covenant-Blessing from God, viz. Remission of Sins, and the gift of the Holy Ghost, ver. 38. 2. Proved and Demonstrated, to be their New-Covenant-Duty which they ought to perform to God, and to be their New Covenant blessing which they may expect from God; from the Nature and large Extent of the Promise. First to them and their children, and then to the Gentiles afar off whom God shall call, and consequently to their children, ver. 39. As if Peter had said; O ye Jews, pricked in heart for crucifying of Christ, heres your New-Covenant-Remedy, Repent and be Baptized in the name of Christ, so your sins shall be remitted, and the gift of the Holy Ghost shall be conferred upon you: For God hath intended and extended his Covenant-Promise (requiring these Duties, and assuring of these Mercies) generally both to Jews and Gentiles, but first to you and your Children, and then to all that are afar off, viz. The Gentiles whom the Lord shall call; and proportionably to their children. This I judge to be the clear genuine sense and intent of the words, without vexing or forcing of them. By [Promise] I understand, Not that particular Promise in Ioel precisely, which is fore-cited in this Chapter, but the Ancient (t) Covenant-promise made to Abraham, Isaac, and Iacob, and their Seed, and to all Nations in them. And my Reasons are; 1. Because This Promise is said to be to them and to their children, and to all afar off whom God shall call

(This is the tenour of the Covenant with Abraham, Iſaac and Iacob which is made with their ſeed, both of Jews and Gentiles.) 2. Becauſe, From their intereſt in this Promiſe, they are exhorted and commanded to be baptized. Now no intereſt in any foregoing Promiſe or Covenant, except (r) Thoſe Promiſes which are confirmed by Chriſt in the New Covenant, can be a ſufficient warrant for partaking of Baptiſm, which is peculiarly one of the Tokens of the New Covenant only.

(r) Rom. 15. 8,9,10,11,12.

6. Becauſe, The New Covenant-Doctrine in Chriſt exhibited was firſt Preached, and the New Covenant-Tokens were firſt Adminiſtred, to the Jews: before they were tendered and diſpenſed to the Gentiles at all. For, 1. The New Covenant-Doctrine was Preached by John Baptiſt, Jeſus Chriſt, and his Apoſtles more Preparatorily before Chriſts Death to the Jews only, by John Baptiſt, John 1. 6, 7, 8, &c. ver. 15, 16, &c. ver. 26. to 38. Math. 3. 1, 2, 3, 10, 11, 12. John 3. 26. to the end. By Jeſus Chriſt, Math 4. 17, 23. & 5. 2, &c. See alſo the Hiſtory of Chriſt throughout all the four Evangeliſts teſtifying of Chriſts New Covenant-Doctrine. By the Apoſtles alſo, (u) whom Chriſt ſent forth and Commanded them, ſaying; Go not into the way of the Gentiles, and into any City of the Samaritans, enter ye not: But go rather to the loſt ſheep of the Houſe of Iſrael. And as ye go, Preach, ſaying; the kingdome of Heaven is at hand, &c. 2. Although Chriſt had enlarged the Apoſtles Commiſſion after his Reſurrection, (x) To the Diſcipling, Baptizing and Teaching all Nations, yet notwithſtanding the Apoſtles (y) preached the New Covenant-Doctrine more plenarily after Chriſts Aſcenſion, to the Jews only at the Firſt. And afterwards to certain (z) Proſelites of the Grecians and Gentiles, and to the (a) Samaritans. But they did not purpoſely and throughly ſet to the work of Preaching the New Covenant-Doctrine to the Gentiles, till (b) Chriſt by ſpecial viſion from Heaven ſent Peter to Preach to Cornelius and his Company, being Gentiles: and till the Jews began to reject the Apoſtles Doctrine (c) contradicting and blaſpheming; Then Paul and Barnabas waxed bold, and ſaid, It was neceſſary that the word of God ſhould firſt have been ſpoken to you, but ſeeing ye put it from you, and judge your ſelves unworthy of everlaſting life; lo, we turn to the Gentiles. For ſo hath the Lord commanded us, ſaying, I have ſet thee to be a light of the Gentiles, that thou ſhouldſt be for Salvation to the ends of the earth. And when the Gentiles heard this, they were glad, and glorified the word of the Lord: and as many as were ordained to eternal life believed. 3. The New Covenant-Tokens, viz. Baptiſm and the Lords Supper, were firſt adminiſtred to the Jews only, (d) before Chriſts Death: and for a good while alſo (e) after his Death to them and none other. Now by this Preaching of the New Covenant-Doctrine, and Diſpenſing Baptiſm and the Lords Supper the New Covenant-Tokens, Firſt unto the Jews only, it is plain that firſt and immediately God intended the Jews to be Fœderates in this New Covenant with him. To this effect, that ſpeech of Peter to the Jews, is very obſervable; (f) —— Ye are the children of the Prophets, and of the Covenant which God made with our Fathers, ſaying unto Abraham, *And in thy ſeed ſhall all the kindreds of the Earth be bleſſed. 7. Becauſe, The Jews the (g) Natural Branches of the good Olive-tree, were ſome of them firſt broken off through unbelief; before the Gentiles, the branches of the Olive-tree wild by Nature, were graffed in, in their ſtead by Faith; (their (h) fall being the Gentiles Riſe, their diminution the riches of the Gentiles, & their caſting away the reconciling of the world:) Nor were the Jews totally and finally broken off, but only (i) till the fulneſs of the Gentiles be come in, that the Salvation of the Gentiles may provoke the Jews to jealouſie; & at laſt all Iſrael may be ſaved. Now the Jews being the Natural branches, Gentiles Wilde branches: Jews firſt broken off, ere Gentiles were graffed in: & after the Gentiles fulneſs, the Jews being to be graffed in again: it is evident that firſt and immediately God looked at the Iews as his Fœderates in this New Covenant.

Conſider all theſe ſix Arguments together, and they fully prove the firſt Poſition.

Poſition II. That, The Gentiles, whom afterwards God ſhould call and incorporate into one Church-body with the Iews by Chriſt, were next intended to be joynt Fœderates with the Iews in this New Covenant with God. This may be evinced by ſeveral Arguments. For,

1. The word (Iſrael) in Gods (k) Promiſe of the New Covenant, not only well may, but needs muſt comprize in it the Gentiles whom God ſhould call, as well as the Iews. Foraſmuch as, 1. This word (Iſrael) is ſometimes uſed in ſuch latitude, as to comprehend the whole Church of God both of Jews and Gentiles; as Gal.6.16. and why ſhould it be reſtrained here, where God expreſſeth who ſhall be his New Covenant-Fœderates? Doth not God under theſe terms, (Iſrael, and Iudah,) and then under one word (Iſrael) fully comprize all that ſhould be Fœderates with him? certainly other Scriptures abundantly declare that God intended all the Gentiles which ſhould be called to be Fœderates as well as Iews in this New Covenant, as after will appear: & this many ſufficiently expound to us, what God here intended by this word, Iſrael; viz. All called Gentiles, as well as Jews in Chriſt. 2. The Gentiles were (according to Gods frequent Promiſes) to be Iſraelitized, to be made part of the Iſrael of God, by (l) being ingraffed into the good Olive-tree, to partake the root & fatneſs of the Olive-tree: That is, by being ingraffed into the true Church of Iſrael in Covenant with God, to partake all Church-priviledges with Iſrael. This the Apoſtle excellently expreſſeth, ſaying; (m) —— That the Gentiles ſhould be fellow heirs, and of the ſame body, and partakers of his Promiſe in Chriſt by the Goſpel. And ſome are of Opinion, (n) that, Ephraim, the ten tribes, or Iſrael were in a ſort a Type of the Gentiles. Nor doth there there want a reſemblance betwixt them, For; (1) Iſrael were many more then Iudah, So Gentiles many moe then the Church of God: (2) Iſrael departed and ſeparated themſelves from under the Rule of Davids Houſe, So Gentiles were actually ſevered from, and at enmity with the Rule of Chriſt the true David, Eph. 2. 11, 12 (3) Iſrael was very idolatrous, not only worſhipping the true God falſly in the two Calves; but worſhipping falſe Gods, as Baal, Aſhtaroth, &c. So Gentiles were carried away to theſe dumb Idols even as they were led, 1 Cor. 12. 2. Now God intending the Gentiles union with Iſrael, that Jews and Gentiles ſhould become One Iſrael, One Church under the New Teſtament: how great cauſe have we to conclude, that under this Name Iſrael God intended his whole Church of Iews & Gent. to be confœderates with him in this N. Cov. 3. Learned and judicious writers, as (o) Calvin, (p) Pareus, and (q) others underſtand by Iſrael, and Iudah (which then comprized the whole Church of God,) the whole Church which ſhould be made up after Chriſts Death both of Iews and Gentiles.

2. The Calling and Coverſion of the Gentiles by the Goſpel to partake with the Jews the Grace, Bleſſings and Benefits of the New Covenant in Jeſus Chriſt, was from the beginning of the world intended by God, the fellowſhip of this Myſterie from the beginning of the world being hid in God, Eph. 3. 9. with ver. 4, 5, 6, 7, 8. Of Iapheth came the Gentiles, eſpecially the European Gentiles, In Shem's poſterity eſpecially true Religion and the true Church was continued: God himſelf ſhould at laſt by his word and Spirit perſwade Gentiles to embrace the true Religion, and to dwell in the true Church as members thereof. So God told Abram; (s) In thee ſhall all the families of the earth be bleſſed. Elſewhere, (t) In thy Seed ſhall all the Nations of the earth be bleſſed. This the Apoſtle Applies to the Gentiles, ſaying; (u) And the Scripture foreſeeing that God would juſtifie the Heathen through Faith, Preached before the Goſpel unto Abraham, ſaying, In thee ſhall all Nations be bleſſed. God ſaid elſewhere to Christ;(x) — Ask of me, and I will give thee the Heathen for thine Inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth for thy possession. And again; (y) — It is a light thing that thou shouldst be my servant, to raise up the Tribes of Jacob, & to restore the preserved of Israel: I will also give thee for a light to the Gent. that thou maist be my Salvation unto the end of the earth. Christ also tells the Jews;(z) — And other sheep I have, which are not of this fold, (viz. The Gentiles:) them also I must bring, & they shall hear my voice; and there shall be one fold, & one shepherd. That of Pauls (to add no more) is pregnant;(a) — Now I say that J. Christ was a Minister of the Circumcision for the truth of God, to confirm the Promises made unto the Fathers: And that the Gentiles might glorifie God for his mercy, as it is written;(b) for this cause I will confess to thee among the Gentiles, & sing unto thy Name. And again he saith,(c) Rejoyce ye Gent. with his people. And again;(d) Praise the Lord all ye Gent. and laud him all ye People. And again Isaiah saith; (e) There shall be a Root of Iesse, & he that shall rise to reign over the Gentiles, in him shall the Gent. trust. The Scriptures abound with Testimonies to this effect. Consequently, all such Prophecies and Promises touching the Gentiles calling by Christ to partake the N. Cov. Grace and Mercies, must needs have their accomplishment in their becoming joynt Fœderates with the Jews in this New Cov.

3. Jesus Christ by his Death, did Meritoriously, Virtually and Fundamentally incorporate the Gentiles into one Church-body with the Jews: (f) of twain, making them One New man; of forreigners and strangers, making them fellow-Citizens with the Saints, and of the Houshold of God. fellow heirs and of the same body. This great and blessed Union of Iews and Gentiles Christ Iesus Meritoriously wrought by his Death, divers waies, viz. 1. By bringing the Gentiles Nigh unto God, as the Iews were a people neer unto him, Psal. 148. 14.(g) — Remember that ye being in time passed Gentiles in the flesh, — That at that time ye were without Christ, &c. — But now in Christ Iesus ye who sometimes were afar off, are made nigh by the blood of Christ For he is our Peace who hath made both one. 2. By redeeming the Gentiles as well as the Jews, from the Curse: that they as well as Jews might share in the blessing of Abraham. (h) Christ hath redeemed us from the curse of the Law: being made a curse for us: for it is written, cursed is every one that hangeth on a tree: That the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles through J. Christ; that we might receive the Promise of the Spirit through Faith. 3. By Reconciling the Gentiles as well as the Jews unto God: who were originally one as well as the other enemies to God,(i) — And that he might reconcile both unto God in one body by the Cross, having slain the enmity thereby, or, in himself. Even the Enmity betwixt God and them, by reason of sin: and not only the enmity betwixt Jews and Gentiles by reason of the Ceremonial Law. 4. By demolishing the Partition-wall of Levitical Ordinances & Ceremonies, which divided and distinguishing the Iews from all other Nations, and set them at odds and enmity with all the Gentiles.(k) — For he is our peace, who hath made both one, and hath broken down the middle wall of Partition between us: Having abolished in his flesh the Enmity, even the Law of Com- mandments contained in Ordinances, for to make in himſelf of twain, one New-man, ſo making Peace. This was Chriſts way, he takes away the Partition and Enmity that was betwixt Iew and Gentile by reaſon of Circumciſion and other Ceremonials, & ſo conſolidates them in one: As a man that would make two rooms one, or two fields one; he pulls down the partition wall, and plucks up the hedge, and then its done.

5. By vouchſafing unto the Gentile as well as the Jew a ſweet acceſs unto God as to a Father in all their ſuits and requeſts (l) For through him (i.e. Chriſt) we both (viz. Iew & Gentile) have an acceſs by one Spirit unto the Father. Now therefore ye are no more Strangers & Forreigners, but fellow-Citizens with the Saints, and of the Houſhold of God, &c. Thus, As J. Chriſt by his Death eſtabliſhed his N. Cov. founding it in his blood; So by his death he reduced Jews and Gentiles into one body Myſtical, that they might be equally joynt Fœderates in his N. Cov.

(l) Epheſ. 2. 18, 19, 20, 21, 22.

4. Ieſus Chriſt, having by his Death, both actually eſtabliſhed his New Covenant, and Meritoriouſly united Jews and Gentiles into one body to be Fœderates in his New Covenant; in the next place he proceeds to call the Gentiles by the Preaching of his Goſpel, that they might formally & actually be united to the Iews by his N. Covenant. And therefore being riſen from the dead, before he aſcended into Heaven, he gave Commiſſion to his Apoſtles, to Diſciple, Baptize and Teach all Nations. (m) Go ye into all the world, and preath the Goſpel to every Creature, &c. (n) — Go ye therefore and Diſciple ye all Nations, Baptizing them in the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghoſt: Teaching them to obſerve all things whatſoever I have commanded you. And lo, I am with you all daies, even unto the end of the world, Amen. And ſpeedily after his Aſcenſion he cauſed his Apoſtles actually to execute this his Commiſſion, as is evident in the Hiſtory of their Acts. But more eſpecially, he (o) Commanded Peter by viſion from Heaven to go Preach his N. Covenant Doctrine to Cornelius and his Company: And by (p) extraordinary voice and apparition from Heaven he called Paul to be the great Teacher of the Gentiles. — Delivering thee from the People and from the Gentiles, unto whom now I ſend thee, To open their eyes, and to turn them from darkneſs to light: and from the power of Satan unto God; that they may receive forgiveneſs of Sins, and Inheritance among them that are Sanctified through Faith that is in me, Acts 26. 15, 16, 17, 18. Accordingly the Apoſtles and Diſciples preached this New Covenant-Doctrine to the Gentiles far and neer: and the Lord (q) crowned their labours, eſpecially Pauls, with wonderful Succeſs in Converting the Gentiles moſt abundantly throughout the world, Rom. 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20. This their Preaching of the New Covenant Doctrine both to Iews and Gentiles, was ſo Authorized, Commanded, Aſſiſted, Bleſt, Proſpered and Owned by Chriſt, was ſo much Chriſts: that in their going and Preaching, Chriſt himſelf is ſaid to come and Preach; (r) — And coming (that is, Chriſt coming by his Authority, Spirit, Efficacy and Spiritual preſence with his Apoſtles and Miniſters) he Evangelized Peace to you which were afar off, and to them which are nigh. Why did did Christ take all this care after his Death speedily to have the Gentiles called by the Preaching of the New Covenant-Doctrine to them: but that he might actually enstate them with the Iews in all his New Covenant-Priviledges setled on them both by his Death?

5. The Promise, (that is, The Promise made to Abraham, Isaac and Iacob, touching Gods blessing all Nations, in their Seed, confirmed and fulfilled in the New Covenant,) equally belongs and is extended to the Gentiles that should be called, and to the Iews; It is made to both: Therefore Gentiles as well as Iews are Fœderates therein. Hence Peter Preaching on the Feast of Pentecost to that great Assembly of Iews, wherein also were some Gentilish Proselites, Acts 2. 1, 5, 9, 10, 11. said; (f) Repent and be Baptized every one of you in the name of Iesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost: For, the Promise is unto you, and to your children; and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God shall call. This Promise, confirmed, fulfilled in, and digested into, the New Covenant belongs both to Iews and called Gentiles and to their children: and this is here urged as a ground why they should be Baptized, and so actually installed into the New Covenant.

(f) Acts 2. 38, 39.

6. The Gentiles called by the Gospel, actually partake New Covenant Graces, Priviledges and Benefits of all sorts, as well as the Iews; therefore God made them Fœderates therein with himself, equally with the Iews, (t) putting no difference betwixt Iew and Gentile. Gentiles believed as well as Iews, Acts 15 7. & 13:48. with 2.41, 44. & 4.4. Gentiles had their hearts purified by faith, and were justified by Faith without the deeds of the Law: as well as Iews, Acts 15. 9. Gal. 3. 8. with 2. 16. Gentiles Received the Holy-Ghost, as well as Iews, Acts 10.44,45,46,47,48. Gentiles were Baptized as well as Iews, Acts 10.47,48. & 16.14,15,32,33. with Acts 2.41. Gentiles Received the Lords Supper, therein maintaining Communion with Christ and one with another: as well as Iews, Acts 20.7. with 2. 42. And in a word, The Gentiles came behinde the Iews in no New Covenant-Blessing: How then can any imagine but that Gentiles as well as Jews were Fœderates in this New Covenant?

7. Finally, Paul declares to us, (u) That Abraham had two sons, viz. Ishmael and Isaac; that by a Bond-maid, Hagar, This by a free-woman Sarah; That after the flesh, This after the Spirit and by Promise: & That these things are an Allegory; The two Mothers are two Covenants, or resemble to us Gods two Covenants, viz. Hagar the bond-woman typed out the servile Old Covenant from M. Sinai, Sarah the Free-woman figured out the Free New Covenant from Mount Sion; The two sons shadowed out the two sorts of Churches and their Conditions under these two Covenants: Ishmael, the Jewish Church, the Jerusalem below in a state of bondage under the Old Covenants servile dispensation; Isaac, the Christian Church, the Jerusalem above, which is free, the mother of us all, whether Jews or Gen. (z) Gal. 5. 1, &c.

Put all theſe ſeven Particulars together, and the Second Poſition is clear beyond Contradiction.

Poſition III. The Poſterity, Seed or children both of believing Iews and called Gentiles, are with their Parents, Fœderates in this New Covenant. As Iewiſh and Gentiliſh parents believing are in this New Covenant with God; ſo their Seed, their children with them are in the ſame New Covenant. Both parents and children, both Root and Branches are Fœderates with God in this N. Covenant, and ſo accounted by him. Although ſome would fain void this N. Cov. Charter as to their children; and blot their intereſt out of Chriſts laſt will and Teſtament.

This Poſition may briefly be confirmed by theſe enſuing Arguments, drawn, Partly from the N. Cov. it-ſelf; Partly from other Scriptures.

1. Argument. All ſorts of Perſons which are neceſſarily comprized under thoſe New Covenant-phraſes, [I will make a New Covenant with the Houſe of Iſrael and with the Houſe of Iudah, Ier. 31. 31, 33. Heb. 8. 8, 10.] muſt needs be Fœderates with God in this New Covenant. This Propoſition is evident. For, in theſe phraſes, The Houſe of Iſrael and Houſe of Iudah, God expreſſeth all his New Covenant Fœderates. Conſequently, All ſorts of perſons, which here are neceſſarily comprized in and under theſe phraſes, muſt needs be his New Covenant-Fœderates. Who can better ſignifie to us in fit, full and comprehenſive terms or phraſes Gods New Covenant Fœderates, then God himſelf the Author of this Covenant?

But the Seed, Poſterity or children of believing Iews and called Gentiles are neceſſarily comprized under theſe New Covenant-phraſes, [The Houſe of Iſrael, and the Houſe of Iudah.] For, 1. Houſe or Family moſt properly conſiſts of Parents and their Seed, Poſterity or Children. God ſaid to Noah; (a) Come thou and all thine Houſe into the Ark: and who went in, but parents and children? And Noah went in, and his ſons, and his wife, and his ſons wives with him. Theſe were all. David ſaid (b) Although my houſe be not ſo with God, &c. that is, although I and my poſterity are not as yet in this excellent flouriſhing Condition, &c. yet Gods Covenant with me and my Seed is ſure. He by houſe underſtood himſelf and his Seed. Scriptures abound with like inſtances. Parents and their children are the integral parts of the Houſe: Servants are but accidentals. 2. Otherwiſe, when this New Covenant was made, it was made only with the preſent Parents then in being: their Poſterity being wholly left out of the Covenant. But this is abſurd: For, then the children of the New Covenant-Fœderates were in Nature and Condition altogether (c) Chriſtleſs, Covenantleſs, Church-leſs, Hopeleſs, Godleſs, as the very children of Heathens; which is abominable to aſſert. 3. Otherwiſe alſo, The Chriſtianized Iews ſhould become come great losers by exchanging their Old-Covenant-Condition and Interest with this New Covenant Condition. For, by this means their children are shut out of Covenant with God, and have no Covenant-state or Priviledge under this New Covenant, Which yet the Old Covenant afforded to them, Deut. 5. 2, 22. & 29. 10, 11, 12, 13, &c. with Gen. 17. 7, 8. This would have been small encouragement to the Iew to have become a Christian. This would have been an intollerable stumbling block before the Iew against the New Covenant. But doubtless the New Covenant Priviledges and advantages must needs be every way greater and larger, then those of any fore-going Covenant whatsoever: The New Covenant being the highest, fullest, perfectest, last and best of all Covenant expressures. Therefore, The children of believing Iews and called Gentiles must needs be Fœderates with God in this New Covenant.

2. Argument. All such sorts of Persons as God admitted Fœderates in the more imperfect expressures of the Covenant of Faith, are intended by God to be Fœderates still in this most perfect expressure of the Covenant of Faith, the New Covenant. 1. That this New Covenant is the most perfect expressure of the Covenant of Faith, and all Covenant-expressures that went before were comparatively more imperfect; hath already been manifested, and will afterwards be more fully cleared, and is in it self so evident that I think no rationall man that's acquainted with the Scripture can Contradict it. 2. That such sorts of persons as were admitted by God Fœderates in Covenants more imperfect, are intended still to be Fœderates in this most perfect New Covenant; is a Sequele so clear and cogent, From the less to the greater affirmatively, that it cannot rationally be denyed. For the Most perfect in any kind must needs comprize in it all Perfections of the less perfect, and some perfections further. If it want any perfections or excellencies of that is less perfect, it cannot be any longer most perfect.

But the Seed, Posterity or children of professed believing Parents both Jewish and Gentilish are a sort of persons which were with their Parents admitted Fœderates by God in the more imperfect expressures of the Covenant of Faith. This is evident, I. Of the Seed and children of Abraham, Isaac, Israel. 1. In Gods Covenant with Abraham. God established it (d) with him and with his Seed after him in their Generations. And (e) in Isaac his Covenant-Seed was called: This is one Limitation of the Covenant-Seed of Abraham. Again the Lord limited the Covenant-Seed of Isaac unto Iacob, (f) For when Rebeckah had conceived by one, by our Father Isaac, —— It was said to her, the elder shall serve the yonger; as it is written, Jacob have I loved, but Esau have I hated. And so the Covenant was settled on Iacob and all his Seed without limitation, till they should break themselves off by unbelief. Thus all the Seed of Abraham by Isaac and Jacob (except such as should cast off Gods Covenant by infidelity) till the time of the New Covenant were still admitted Fœderates rates with their Parents. 2. In Gods Covenant with Iſrael at Mount-Sinai: which was made, not only with Parents, but with their Poſterity and children; Promiſing (as I have (g) formerly ſhewed) to be a God to them and their children. See Deut. 5. 2, 3. —— 6, &c. The Covenant was made with the whole body of Iſrael old and young. Even with their Captains of Tribes, Elders, Officers, Men, Little-ones, Wives, Strangers, Deut. 29. 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, &c. 3. In Gods Covenant with David: which was made with him and his Seed, Pſal. 89. 3, 4, 28, 29. to 38. & 132. 11, 12. 4. In Gods Covenant with the Captives in Babylon; which was made with them and their children, and childrens children, Ezek. 37. 25, 26, 27. Iſa. 59. 20, 21. Thus the children of Abraham, Iſaac, Iſrael and the Iews, were with their Parents admitted Fœderates in theſe four leſs perfect expreſſures of the Covenant of Faith. II. Of the Seed of Gentiliſh Proſelites, joyning themſelves to the Seed of Abraham the Church, this is alſo evident, That not only they themſelves, but alſo their children were taken in by God into the ſame Covenant, (as (h) Mr. William Lyford, hath well obſerved) their Gen. 17. 7. betwixt God and Abraham, between me and thee, and thy Seed, to be a God unto you. What Seed meaneth he? His Infant-Seed, ver. 12. He that is eight dayes old, whether it be a child of thy loyns, or of a Stranger, a proſelite, which is not of thy ſeed. This Covenant was firſt made with Abraham, Gen. 12. 3. Wherein God promiſed that in his Seed ſhould all the Nations of the earth be bleſſed, i. e. in Chriſt; and it was renewed with the ſign of Circumciſion added unto it, Gen. 17. 7, 12. Wherein obſerve three things.

(g) In Book III. ch. 4 Aph. 4. Sect 1. p. 801.

(h) God took into the Covenant of Grace, Not the parents only, but with them their Infant-Seed; This is the expreſs Tenour of the Covenant,

1. That the Covenant made with Abraham, was the Goſpel-Covenant, wherein bleſſedneſs was promiſed in and through Chriſt the promiſed Seed. For, God preached the Goſpel to Abraham when he ſaid; In thy ſeed ſhall all Nations be bleſſed, as Saint Paul reaſoneth, Gal. 3. 8. The which Covenant ſeeing it was 430. years before the Law, and not diſanulled by the coming of the Law, it was to endure till the Seed ſhould come to whom the Promiſe was made, ver. 17, 19. and conſequently to the end of the world, becauſe Chriſt came to eſtabliſh the Covenant made to the Fathers, Rom. 15. 8. and after Chriſt no more changes to be expected.

2. That the perſons with whom that Goſpel-Covenant was made, were Abraham and his Infant-Seed, and all Nations, even us Engliſhmen and our Infant-Seed, as appears, Gen. 17. 4, 11. My Covenant is with thee and with thy Seed in their Generations, and with the ſtranger that is not thy Seed, all of them muſt be circumciſed, compared with Rom. 15. 8, 15. Now I ſay that Jeſus Chriſt was a Miniſter of the Circumciſion (i. e. of the Jews) for the Truth of God, to confirm the Promiſes (of the Covenant) made unto the Fathers, and that the Gentiles might glorifie God for his Mercy, being made partakers with them of the ſame Promiſes, according as it is written, Rejoyce ye Gentiles with his people, &c. Now this Covenant of Promiſes made with the Fathers, Chriſt ſhould not confirm, but clip and curtail it, if ſo great a part as all our Infants be left out and excluded. But if God take our Infants into Covenant; who ſhall dare to exclude them?

3. When God at firſt gave that Covenant to Abraham and to the Nations, he gave withall a Commandment that the initial mark of the Covenant ſhould be ſet upon all whom he had taken into Covenant, both Jews and Gentiles, and their Infants. The Covenant it ſelf and the mark of th Covenant are alike extended to all the the ſame perſons, whether young or old, Gen. 17. 12. Note further, that when Chriſt renewed and eſtabliſhed that Covenant in his own blood, though he changed the Sign, yet he repealed not that Commandment: Nay he added a New Commandment, enjoyning the New ſign Baptiſm to be given to all Nations,

Mat. 28.19. without exception of any persons formerly received into Covenant. So that we are under a twofold Commandment to Baptize our Infants: One, Of God who first made the Covenant, and gave that Commandment, the which is still so of force, that if Christ the Lord of the House had not changed it, we were all bound at this day to be circumcised. And seeing he hath changed that Sign into Baptism, but not the Covenant it self, nor the Commandment thereto annexed; it followeth, That by the Old Commandment enjoyning Infants to be marked, and by Christs New Commandment enjoyning Baptism to be that Mark: All, that are not excepted out of the Covenant, stand bound to receive it, &c, Mr. William Lyford in his Apologie for our Publike Ministry and Infant-Baptism. Quest. 2. p. 32, 33.

Males being Circumcised, ——— He that is eight dayes old shall be circumcised among you, every man-child in your Generations, he that is born in the House, or bought with money of any stranger, which is not of thy Seed. He that is born in thy house, and (i) he that is bought with thy money must needs be circumcised, &c. Gen. 17.10,11,12,13,14. This Stranger, not of Abraham's Seed, yet bought by Abraham's money must be circumcised: that is, if he accepted Abraham's God, Religion and Covenant as a Proselite; otherwise they were not to be forced; and they being Circumcised, all their males also were to be circumcised when they were eight dayes old, as the males of Abrahams Seed, Exod. 12. 48, 49.

(i) This is to be understood of the children of strangers, for none of them, if of age to consent or dissent, was to be compelled to be circumcised. For Circumcision was to be used but as a token of the Covenant, ver. 11. And he that was out of the Covenant, (as all those who were not of Abrahams Seed by the free-woman were, unless they were Proselites, and willingly betook themselves to the profession of the Religion of Abraham, and then they were Abrahams spiritual, though not his carnal posterity) was kept out from Circumision also. Large Lond. Annotat. on Gen. 17.13.

Therefore, The Seed, Posterity or children of profest believing parents, both Iewish and Gentilish are intended by God to be Fœderates, as well as their parents in this most perfect expressure of the Covenant of Faith, the New-Covenant.

3. Argument. All such sorts of persons as God hath heretofore taken into the Covenant of Faith, and hath never since excluded or debarred them from it, are still intended by him to be Fœderates in this New Covenant also. This proposition cannot rationally be denied; 1. Because, The Nature of the Covenant of Faith, as to the essence and Substance of it, is one & the same in this New-Covenant-Expressure, and in all the foregoing expressures of the Covenants of Promise, though their accidentals and Circumstantials are different. Therefore Parents and their children being once admitted Fœderates in the Covenant of Faith, and never after debarred, are still intended to be Fœderates therein; in this New Covenant as well as in any other, yea rather then in any other, this being the top-excellency of the Covenant of Faith. 2. Because, God the Author of the Covenant of Faith hath all and sole Authority of admitting and excluding, what sorts of persons he pleaseth, into and from the Covenant of Faith in every gradual discovery thereof. Its his peculiar prerogative-Royal to appoint and declare, who shall, and who shall not, be Fœderates with him in his Covenant. He admits, and he debars whom he pleaseth: without

Controul,

Controul. If therefore God hath once admitted the Seed and children of believing Parents Iewiſh or Gentiliſh into the Covenant of Faith as well as their Parents; and after ſuch Admiſsion hath no where excluded or debarred them from the Covenant of Faith: then ſuch Seed and children are ſtill intended by him to be Fœderates within that Covenant of Faith in all the folloiwng diſpenſations thereof, and ſo in this New Covenant.

But the Seed, Poſterity or children of profeſt believing parents, whether Iews or Proſelite-Gentiles, are a ſort of perſons which God hath heretofore taken into the Covenant of Faith, and hath never ſince excluded or debarred them from it. This Aſſumption alſo muſt needs be granted. For, 1. That, the Seed, Poſterity or children of profeſt believers, Iews or Genteliſh proſelites, have been heretofore admitted or taken into the Covenant of Faith by God; is plain. For, Gods Covenants with Abraham, with Iſrael, with David, with the Captives, were all of them Covenants of Faith, into which God admitted heretofore the children of ſuch parents, with their parents, as I have (k) already proved. 2. That, Since ſuch admiſſion of children with their parents into the Covenant of Faith, he hath never after excluded or debarred them from the Covenant of Faith, in all the Scripture, is alſo evident. For; where, or by what Scriptures hath the Lord excluded and debarred children of Believing parents from his Covenant of Faith: Hath God any where ſaid to this effect; I have heretofore accepted all the the Infants of profeſt believers into Covenant, but now under the New Covenant I will accept them no longer? The adverſaries of Infants-Covenant-ſtate cannot ſolidly produce any Such Scriptures, excluding or debarring them. God hath once put ſuch children into poſſeſsion of this Covenant-Intereſt: and never ſince put them out of poſſeſsion.

(k) In the Aſſumption of the ſecond Argument.

Therefore, The Seed, Poſterity or children of profeſt believing parents Iews or proſelite Gentiles, are ſtill intended of God to be Fœderates in this New Covenant.

4. Argument. All ſuch ſorts of perſons as God declares to be Covenant-Saints, or Fœderally holy under the New Covenant, are accepted and accounted by God to be Fœderates with him in his New Covenant. For clearing of this Propoſition, I ſhal ſhew, (1) What I intend by Covenant-Saints, or Fœderally Holy. (2) That all ſuch as God declares to be Covenant-Saints under the New Covenant, are accounted and accepted by him as Fœderates in the New Covenant. I. What I intend by Covenant Saints, or Fœderally Holy; I ſhall the better diſcover, by noting briefly ſome various uſes and acceptations of the word [Holy;] and [Sanctified,] in the Scriptures, as it is applyed unto Men or Women. Men are Holy, or Sanctified, 1. By Segregation, Seperation, or Calling: And this, (1). Either when they are viſibly and outwardly called and ſeperated, from the profane, paganiſh, unbelieving, impure maſs of the world, to the worſhip and ſervice of the true God in Chriſt, to be a people neer to God. So all within the Church viſible are Holy and ſanctified, Deut. 7. 6. & 14. 2. & 26. 19. Rom. 1. 6, 7. 2 Tim. 1. 9. (2) Or when they are ſeperated, ſet apart or dedicated from the common ſort in the viſible Church, to ſome ſpecial ſervice or peculiar office about holy things. As, Holy Prieſts, Exod. 22. 31. Levit. 21. 6, 7. Numb. 16. 5, 7. Pſal. 106. 16. Holy Prophets, Luke 1. 70. Acts 3. 21. Holy Apoſtles, Eph. 3. 5. Rev. 18. 20. (3) Or when perſons, (as well as things) are ſegregated, ſeperated, and allowed to the lawfull and warrantable uſe of believers: ſo that they may uſe them purely, lawfully, conſcientiouſly without ſin, &c. thus, (l) the unbelieving husband is ſanctified by the believing wife, and the unbelieving wife is ſanctified by the believing husband, viz. ſanctified to cohabitation and propagation of an holy Covenant-Seed, that the believers iſſue by the Infidel ſhould not be counted an Infidel, but a Chriſtian-Seed. Thus, (m) Every creature is ſaid to be ſanctified by the word and prayer, &c. to the pure. 2. By Profeſſion; when men make an Holy Profeſſion of Faith, Love, Obedience, and Religion towards God, Jeſus Chriſt, &c. then they are called Saints, Holy, Sanctified, &c. Deut. 26. 17, 18, 19. 1 Cor. 1. 2. with 3. 3. Heb. 10. 29. 3. By Fœderation with the moſt holy God, in his (n) Holy Covenant. They that are ſevered from the profane unbelieving world, unto God, by accepting his Covenant, are Covenant-Saints, Fœderally Holy, yea though they want the true inward Holineſs. Thus all Iſrael were Holy, Gods Saints, Exod. 19. 4, 6. Pſal. 50. 5. Gather my Saints together unto me, thoſe that have made a Covenant with me by Sacrifice. So the children of parents, whereof one was a Believer the other a Pagan, are counted (o) Holy, becauſe ſuch children are taken into Gods Covenant with the believing parent. (p) And if the Root be Holy, ſo are the branches; that is, If Abraham, Iſaac, Jacob and other Fathers of the Jews were holy Fœderates with God, ſo are their Poſterity the Jews Fœderally holy alſo. 4. By Infuſion and real participation of true inward Holineſs, part of the image of God, 1 Cor. 6. 1, 11. Eph. 4. 24. 2 Pet. 1. 4. Thus it is evident what I mean, by Covenant-Saints, or Fœderally Holy: viz. Thoſe that become Holy by Fœderation, as in the third particular. II. That all ſuch as God declares to be Covenant-Saints, or Fœderally Holy under the New Covenant, are accounted by God Fœderates in the New Covenant; is plain. For, they are therefore accounted Covenant-Saints, or Fœderally Holy, becauſe they are brought within Gods holy Covenant, and thereby ſeperated from the unholineſs of the Covenantleſs world. Covenant-Holineſs doth not precede, but follow upon a Covenant-State. Firſt men are in Covenant, and then they are Fœderate-Saints, by that Covenant. The Covenant can denominate none Holy that are out of Covenant.

But the Seed, Poſterity or children of Fœderate Parents, profeſt believers, Jewiſh or Gentiliſh, are a ſort of perſons declared by God to be Fœderally holy or Covenant-Saints Now under the New Covenant. This Aſſumption is evident. For God hath declared ſuch children Covenant-Saints, or Fœderally Holy, in ſundry paſſages of the New Teſtament. I. In that to the Romans; (q) — For if the firſt-fruit be Holy, the Lump is alſo Holy: and if the Root be Holy, ſo are the branches. For underſtanding of this, Note; 1. That theſe words are brought in as an Argument, both Proving that the Jews (though broken off from their root) ſhall again be graffed in and called; and alſo Inciting the Apoſtle to endeavour their calling. This Argument is couched in a double Similitude; The one of the Firſt fruit, and the lump; The other, of the Root and Branches. Such as is the Firſt-fruit, ſuch is the Lump; and ſuch as is the Root, ſuch the Branches: Therefore if the firſt fruit and Root of the Church of the Iews were Holy, that is Fœderally Holy, the whole lump and branches thereof muſt needs be Holy in like manner, Fœderally Holy. And conſequently the Jews were not cut off from all Hope, Becauſe the Covenant and Promiſes made to their Root belonged in ſome ſort to them the Branches; who therefore ſhould in Gods due time be graffed in again upon their Root. 2. That this Firſt-fruit and Lump, this Root and Branches, are Parents and their Seed brought into Covenant with God, and Making up his Church. (r) The Firſt-Fruit and Root of this Olive tree, The Parents, were Abraham, Iſaac, and Iacob eſpecially and joyntly conſidered: for (r) Iſmael the ſon of Abraham, and Eſau the ſon of Iſaac, are excluded from this Priviledge. Why are theſe compared to the Firſt-Fruit and Root? Becauſe they are the General Root of the Church, The Covenant being made to to them and to their Seed, Gen. 17. 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13. & 21. 12. with 17. 21. & 28. 13, 14. Theſe were the Parents. (s) The Lump, the Branches, the Seed, were Natural or Graffed. The (t) Natural Branches were the Jews or Iſraelites, naturally deſcending of the Common Root Abraham, Iſaac and Jacob. Theſe made up the Church of the Jews. The (t) Graffed Branches or Spiritual Seed, are all the believing Gentiles, heirs of Abraham's Faith, and ſo his children. Theſe make up the Church of the Gentiles, graffed into the good olive tree with the Jews, and of the ſame body. Now, as the Root was holy, So all the Branches, both Natural of Jews, and Graffed of Gentiles, were holy likewiſe with the Root. Root and branches are alike. 3. That, This Holineſs of Root and branches, could not be any Infuſed and inherent holineſs; for, ſuch Holineſs cannot be derived and propagated from the Root to the branches, as this Holineſs is here implied to be: But muſt needs be a Covenant-Holineſs, belonging to all the branches, becauſe branches of that Holy Root in Covenant with God. Covenant-Holineſs is conveyable and deſcendable from Parents to children: Inherent holineſs is not. So then, As the Parents are in Church-ſtate and Fœderally Holy: ſo the children are with them in Church-ſtate and Fœderally holy, whether among Jews or Gentiles. II. ſanctified by the husband: Elſe were your children unclean, but now are they Holy. For clearing of this, Conſider, 1. That theſe words, together with the context from ver. 12. to 18. are the Apoſtles Anſwer to a caſe of Conſcience put to him, touching Continuance of Marriage betwixt a Pagan unbeliever and a profeſt Chriſtian Believer. It was a frequent caſe in thoſe times among the Heathens, that after Marriage one of the Married parties was Converted from Paganiſm to Chriſtianiſm: thence doubts and ſcruples did ariſe to the Believing parties. Here now the Queſtion or Caſe of Conſcience put to the Apoſtle (as appears by his Anſwer) was this, or to this effect, viz. Q. Whether ſuch a Marriage-Society betwixt a Believer and an unbeliever, that is, betwixt a profeſt believing Chriſtian and an Infidel-Pagan was to be continued or diſſolved? There being ſome doubt and ſcruple, Partly touching their iſſue in ſuch Marriage-ſtate, leſt hereby they ſhould be reckoned among the unclean Sinners of the Gentiles, and not among the believing Saints, as under the Old Teſtament it was in a much like caſe reſolved, Ezr.9.1,2,3.&c. with 10.1, 2, 3. Partly touching themſelves, leſt they ſhould be perverted and Seduced to Idolatry by their Idolatrous yoke-fellows reſpectively, As, Neh. 13. 26. See alſo Deut.7. 13. The Apoſtle (x) anſwers, (1) That they ſhould dwell together as Man and Wife; Becauſe the Infidel-Pagan in ſuch Caſe was thereunto Sanctified by the Believing Chriſtian, as to the propagating of an Holy Covenant-iſſue. The iſſue being reckoned with the better, not with the worſe parent: becoming Fœderally holy with the believer, not remaining paganiſhly unclean with the believer, ver. 12, 13, 14. Thus he removes their Scruple about their children and iſſue. (2) That in caſe the Infidel-pagan voluntarily depart, the believing Chriſtian in ſuch caſe is free, ver. 15. (3) That there was great hopes and probability of the Infidels converſion by the Believer, which therefore was to be endeavoured by their cohabitation. ver. 16. Thus he removes their Scruple, as to themſelves. 2. That the children of ſuch Parents, whereof one was ſtill an Infidel-Pagan, the other a Profeſt believing Chriſtian, were not unclean as Gentiles out of Covenant, but clean and Holy, that is, Relatively and Fœderally Holy and in Covenant with God together with the believing Parent. This is the plain and direct ſenſe and intent of the Apoſtle in theſe words, (y) Elſe were your children unclean, but now are they Holy. That is, Now ſith one parent is a Fœderate believer, ſuch children are no longer unclean but holy, no longer Pagans but Chriſtians, no longer without, but within Gods Covenant; although the other parent remain a pagan. The great diſpute here is about the word Holy, in what ſence it is to be taken, and how their children are here ſtiled Holy. There are three Interpretations given, two extream, one middle betwixt the extreams. One, that they are Holy Qualitatively, by Holineſs infuſed and inherent: Another, That they are Holy Matrimonially, by a kind of Marriage Holineſs, your children are Holy, that is, Legitimate: Another, that they are Holy Relatively

(x) See the Series of the Context to this effect in my Key of the Bible. on 1 Cor.7. 12. to 18.

(y) See this Scripture judiciouſly vindicated from miſinterpretations by my Godly and learned friend Mr. Tho. Blake in his vindic. Fœderis. chap. 39.

Relatively or Fœderally by being within Covenant with their believing parent: that is, they are joyned with God in Covenant, dedicated to his ſervice, are viſible Church-members, diſtinguiſhed from Pagans, Turks and all Infidels. The Firſt advanceth their childrens Holineſs here too high: The Second Debaſeth their Holineſs too low: The Third ſets their Holineſs in its due place and ſtate. For, (1) Their children were not aſſerted by the Apoſtle here to be Holy Qualitatively, by a true infuſed inherent Holineſs; Firſt, Becauſe the true infuſed and inherent Holineſs of Regeneration is wholly (2) ſupernatural: and cannot be propagated or derived from parents to children by naturall Generation. True Grace and Regeneration is not univerſally, nor moſtly, drawn through the loyns of the Elect. But here the Apoſtle intends ſuch an Holineſs as belongs to the children of a Believer, becauſe children of a believer, and Conſequently to all the children of a believer. A Quatenus ad Omne, valet Argumentum. Secondly, Becauſe ſhould the Apoſtle here have intended their childrens inherent Holineſs of Regeneration, he had not anſwered to their Queſtion ſo as to remove their Scruple. Their Scruple was not touching children of parents, profeſſing one and the ſame Religion, one of them really, the other only formally, whether ſuch children were really or onely formally Holy: but it was touching children of Parents of ſeveral Religions, the one a Pagan Idolater, the other a profeſt Chriſtian believer, whether ſuch children were to be counted unclean Paganiſh children out of Covenant with God, or Holy Chriſtian children in Covenant with God. The Apoſtle Reſolves them, that becauſe one parent was a Believer, the children were an Holy Seed of ſuch a Root, fœderally Holy. (2) Their children were not here on the other hand aſſerted or intended by the Apoſtle to be Matrimonially Holy, that is, Legitimate children, not Spurious and Baſtards. Firſt, Becauſe thus, and in this ſenſe their children had been Holy, that is, Matrimonially Holy, Legitimate, and not Baſtards, if both parents had remained Infidel-Pagans, and neither of them had become a profeſt believing Chriſtian. Marriage being an ordinance of a civil not of a ſpiritual or Eccleſiaſtical Nature, common to Heathens as well as to Chriſtians; the children of Parents lawfully married, whether Pagans or Chriſtians, are Legitimate, and no Baſtards. Secondly, Becauſe the Apoſtle devolves and grounds the Holineſs of the children here peculiarly upon the Priviledge and intereſt of the believing Parent only. Its the believer, the profeſt Chriſtian by whom the unbeliever was ſanctified to cohabitation and propagation of an holy Covenant-Seed: Its the Believer, upon whoſe intereſt the children are Holy, and not unclean. Elſe, (that is, otherwiſe, if it were not ſo, that one of the Parents at leaſt were a Believer, a profeſt Chriſtian) your children ſhould have been all unclean, unholy, un-Covenanted Pagans; but now, that one parent is a believer, they alſo are with their parent Fœderally holy. Therefore the Apoſtle could not intend Legitimateneſs of the children here, the benefit of Legitimation mation equally flowing from both parents, but this Holineſs peculiarly from the believer. Thirdly, Becauſe the Scriptures do not any where, that I can remember, ſtile the children Holy, becauſe the Parents are lawfully joyned together in Marriage, and may warrantably dwell together as man and wife. Fourthly, Becauſe the Uncleaneſs of children here oppoſed to their Holineſs, is not intended of a Matrimonial or Civil uncleaneſs, that all the children born at Corinth of Infidel parents were an illegitimate impure ſpurious off-ſpring of Baſtards, which were abſurd to aſſert; but is meant of a Pagan-uncleaneſs, that they were not comprized within Gods holy Covenant, but altogether ſtrangers to it and to God. Conſequently the childrens Holineſs here cannot be meant of their Matrimonial or Civil Holineſs, of their Legitimation. And the phraſe, [But now are they Holy,] is emphatical, and denotes a preheminence of all the children of believing Chriſtians above thoſe of Infidel-Pagans: and what preheminence can be rationally imagined, but their holy intereſt in Gods Covenant into which they are ſtaken with their Parents? Fifthly, Becauſe ſhould the Apoſtle here have underſtood and intended Matrimonial Holineſs, that their children were legitimate and not baſtards, it had not at all ſatisfied the doubt or Scruple of the Corinthians. For their doubt was not, whether if they continued in their Marriage-Society their children ſhould be Baſtards or Legitimate? but whether thy ſhould be Paganiſh-Sinners, or Chriſtian-Saints? (3) Their children therefore were declared here by the Apoſtle to be Holy by Covenant, Covenant-Saints, Fœderally Holy, with their believing and Fœderate parent. For, Their Holineſs is here bottomed upon the peculiar priviledge and intereſt of the believing Parent, being in Covenant. Again, Their Holineſs is univerſally extended to all children of ſuch a Parent, without exception or Limitation: elſe were your children unclean, but now are they holy; even all of them. Both which Reaſons agree only to Fœderall holineſs. Finally, Their Fœderal holineſs here aſſerted, anſwers properly and fully to their propoſed doubt and Scruple, (a) as Mr. Robert Baily my godly and learned freind hath well obſerved. And therefore by [Holy] the Apoſtle here intends only Fœderally Holy: not Inherently Holy, nor Matrimonially Holy.

(2) John 1. 12, 13. & 3. 3, 5, 6.

(a) The Corinthians had propounded to the Apoſtle their doubt; If a believing husband might lawfully cohabit with his unbelieving wife. The Apoſtles Anſwer is affirmative: And the Reaſon of the Anſwer is, becauſe what ever the unbelieving parties may be in themſelves, yet their cohabitation is ſanctified to believers. And of this Sanctification the Holineſs of their children is brought for an Evidence: Since the Lord counted their children holy and in Covenant with him, the believers might reſt aſſured, that their abode with their Companions (though unbelieving) was acceptable unto God.

The Apoſtle here is ſpeaking of Husbands and Wives, not of Men and Whores.—To have ſaid, that children was lawful, was no more then that their Marriage was lawful, which was not the Queſtion: But to ſay that the children of their lawful Marriage were Holy, did infer not only the lawfulneſs of the Marriage, but the Sanctified uſe of the marriage, and that now their cohabitation was without ſin, and acceptable to God. Mr. Rob. Baily in his Anabaptiſm unſealed. chap. 5. p. 138.

Thus the Aſſumption is Proved; viz. That the Seed, Poſterity or children of Fœderall Parents, profeſſed Believers, Jewiſh or Gentiliſh, are are a sort of persons declared by God to be Covenant-Saints or Fœderally holy now under the New Covenant. I conclude.

Therefore, The Seed, Posterity or children of Fœderate Parents, profest Believers Jewish or Gentilish are accepted and accounted of God to be Fœderates with him in the New Covenant.

5. Argument. All sorts of Persons to whom in the time of the New Covenant, that ancient Covenant-Promise, made to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob and to their Seed touching the Blessing of all Nations in their Seed, and being a God to them and their Seed, doth appertain, are intended by God to be Fœderates with him in his New Covenant. This Proposition is firm; 1. Because That ancient (b) Covenant-Promise made to Abraham, Isaac and Iacob and to their Seed touching the blessing of all Nations, in their Seed, and being a God to them and to their Seed in theer Generations, is ratified, confirmed and hath its full accomplishment upon Jews & Gentiles by Jesus Christ under the New Covenant. Yea, it is digested by Christ into the New Covenant, & is perpetuated in and with the New Covenant to the end of the world. (c) — Now I say that Iesus Christ was a Minister of the circumcision for the Truth of God, to confirm the Promises made unto the Fathers: And that the Gentiles might glorifie God for his Mercy: as it is written, For this cause I will confess to thee among the Gentiles, and sing unto thy name. And again he saith, Rejoyce ye Gentiles with his people. And again, Praise the Lord all ye Gentiles, and laud him all ye people. And again Isaias saith; There shall be a Root of Jesse, and he that shall rise to reign over the Gentiles, in him shall the Gentiles trust, where its plain; (1) That Iesus Christ was a Minister of the Circumcision for the truth of God: that is, a Minister of the Jews by the discharge of his Mediatory office in his Prophecy, Priesthood and Kingship both in state of Humiliation & exaltation, that the Jews might be saved, and the Truth of God in Christ be verified, by his confirming the Promises made unto the Fathers. What Promise? Especially those Promises made to (d) Abraham, Isaac, Jacob and their Seed touching his blessing of all Nations therein; & his being a God to them, and to their Seed in their Generations. How did Christ confirm these Promises? Especially by his Death, Resurrection, &c. whereby Jews and Gentiles were redeemed, & by the Application of these effectually unto them, whereby they became actually partakers of the blessing of Abraham, compare Gal. 3. 13, 14. with Acts 3. 25, 26. Now this he doth; by establishing his New Covenant by his blood: By publishing his New Covenant by his Ministers: By applying his New Covenant by his Spirit. In all which the Promises made to the Fathers were confirmed & ratified. (2) That, Christs Ministry to the Jews for confirming the Promises made to the Fathers, had a special intent to the gaining also of the Gentiles. That they might partake the same Promises and glorifie God for his Mercy as well as the Jews, Rom. 15. 9, 10, 11, 12. This was fulfilled by his calling the Gentiles by his New Covenant to partake the blessing of Abraham, Acts 3. 25, 26. Gal. 3. 13, 14. Seeing therefore the Promises made to the Fathers, touching the bleſſing of all Nations in their Seed, were confirmed to, and accompliſhed upon both Jews & Gentiles by Jeſus Chriſt in his New Covenant; it is plain, thoſe Promiſes, and ſo the New Covenant, appertained to ſuch Jews and Gentiles: and that God intended them to be Fœderates in his New Covenant. 2. Becauſe, In and under the New Covenant, Peter exhorted his hearers to perform the New Covenant-duty of Repenting, and to partake the New Covenant-Token of being baptized for remiſſion of Sins, Promiſing thereupon the New-Covenant bleſſing, the gift of the Holy Ghoſt: & all this becauſe the Promiſe (viz. the ([e]) Covenant-Promiſe made to Abraham, Iſaac, Jacob, and their Seed touching the bleſsing of all Nations in their Seed, and being a God to them and to their Seed in their Generations,) was to them and to their children, and to the Gentiles afar off, whom God ſhould call, and proportionably to their children. ([f]) — Then Peter ſaid; Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jeſus Chriſt for the Remiſsion of Sins, and ye ſhall receive the gift of the Holy Ghoſt: For, the Promiſe is unto you and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God ſhall call. Becauſe the Promiſe made to the Fathers, appertained to them, was to them; therefore they are urged to receive the New Covenant-Token, Baptiſm: and aſſured of the New Covenant benefit the Gift of the Holy-Ghoſt: which peculiarly belonged to the Fœderates of the New Covenant. Conſequently, all ſuch Jews or Gentiles under the New Teſtament to whom that Promiſe was, were intended of God to be Fœderates in his New Covenant. Otherwiſe that Promiſes being unto them, &c. was not a ſufficient ground for the Apoſtles exhortation of them to New-Covenant Duties, or for his aſſurance given them of New Covenant Bleſsings.

But the Seed, Poſterity and children of Jews and called Gentiles are a ſort of Perſons, to whom in the time of the New Covenant the Promiſe made to Abraham, Iſaac, Jacob and their Seed touching the bleſsing of all Nations in their Seed, and his being a God to them and their Seed in their Generation, doth appertain. This is evident in the words of Peter to his hearers at Pentecoſt, both ([g]) Jews and Proſelites, ſaying; ([h]) Repent, &c. —— for the Promiſe is to you and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God ſhal call. Theſe words I have ([i]) formerly explained according to the plain genuine ſenſe of them: there See. Now I am to prove ſome points of that explanation for the confirming of this Aſſumption: Eſpecially theſe, viz. 1. That, The Promiſe here ſpoken off was eſpecially Gods Promiſe made of Old to Abraham, Iſaac, Jacob and their Seed. 2. That, This Promiſe belonged to the children of the Iews and of the called Gentiles, as well as to their parents. 3. That, This Promiſe appertains to ſuch children of Iews and Gentiles in this time of the New Teſtament. I. That The Promiſe here ſpoken off, was eſpecially Gods ([k]) ancient Covenant-Promiſe to Abraham. Iſaac, Jacob and their Seed, touching his bleſsing of all Nations in their Seed, and his being a God to them and to their Seed in their Generations, I thus prove.

1. Becauſe,

1. Becauſe, of all foregoing Promiſes mentioned in Scriptures, this Covenant-Promiſe made to Abraham, Iſaac, Jacob and to their Seed touching the Bleſſing of all Nations in their Seed, &c. is moſt congruous, appoſite and ſuitable here to this paſſage, and to Peters intent therein. For, (1) This of all other foregoing Promiſes was moſt eminent and famous among the Jews (the chief (1) hearers of Peter at that time) who greatly gloried in their being Abrahams children. See Gal. 3. 8, 9, 16, 17. And here the Apoſtle ſpeaks not of any obſcure, but of an eminent, famous and noted Promiſe well known to them. (2) This of all other fore-going Promiſes was moſt notably extended; both to Jews and Gentiles, In their Seed all the Nations of the earth Jews or Gentiles ſhould be bleſſed; As alſo to Parents Jews or Proſelites and to their Seed, Gen. 17. 7, 8, 12. Exod. 12. 48, 49. And this Promiſe here mentioned is urged with this extenſiveneſs, to Jews and Gentiles, to Parents and their children (3) This of all other foregoing Promiſes was moſt obſervably Confirmed and fulfilled by Jeſus Chriſt under the New Covenant, Rom. 15. 8. to 13. Hence ſaid Paul; Chriſt hath redeemed us from the Curſe of the Law, being made a curſe for us: ——That the bleſſing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles through Ieſus Chriſt, that we might receive the Promiſe of the Spirit through Faith, Gal. 3. 8, 13, 14. And the Promiſe here mentioned is implyed to be ſo confirmed by Chriſt and by his New Teſtament, yea ſo incorporated into his New Covenant, that from this promiſe to them and their children, they are exhorted to accept the Firſt Token of the New Covenant, viz. Baptiſm. (4) This Promiſe here urged, ſeems in the next chapter to be interpreted by Peter in his Sermon of like Nature, of Gods Promiſe with Abraham, whence the Jews are again urged to Repentance and Converſion; (m) ye are the children of the Prophets, and of the Covenant which God made with our Fathers, ſaying unto Abraham, And in thy Seed ſhall all the Kindreds of the earth be bleſſed. Unto you firſt, God having raiſed up his ſon Ieſus, ſent him to bleſs you, in turning away every one of you from his iniquities. 2. Becauſe this promiſe cannot be meant of that Particular Promiſe of the extraordinary gifts of the Holy Ghoſt, formerly (n) alledged by Peter out of Joel: no not although it be ſaid in the verſe immediately foregoing, —— And ye ſhall receive the gift of the Holy Ghoſt. For, (1) This Promiſe is to Jews and Gentiles, even to all Gentiles whom the Lord ſhall call till the worlds end: Here's no limitation of time. But the extraordinary gifts of the Holy Ghoſt are not here promiſed to be given and continued to Jews and Gentiles till the worlds end. (2) This Promiſe is to called Parents and to all their children, even to Infant-children as well as to Adult-children: But children, eſpecially Infant-children, are leſs capable of the extraordinary gifts of the Holy Ghoſt, then of his ordinary gifts and graces. (3) This Promiſe is here urged as a ground or reaſon why they ſhould be Baptized, and the gift of the Holy Ghoſt is aſſured them them upon ſuch their Baptiſm: But (o) Baptiſm is grounded upon, and annexed to only the Doctrine and Promiſes of the New Covenant, or on the Promiſes made to the Fathers confirmed by the New Covenant; And though the ordinary gifts of the Holy Ghoſt are ſometimes imparted to the Baptized upon their Baptiſm, As Acts 2.41. to the end. & 8. 38, 39. & 16. 33, 34. Yet where do we finde in all the New Teſtament theſe extraordinary Miraculous gifts of the Holy Ghoſt annexed to, or communicated with Baptiſm? Sometimes they were poured forth at the Preaching of the word, before Baptiſm, As Acts 10.45,46, 47, 48. Sometimes at or upon Impoſition of hands, after Baptiſm, As Acts 8. 16, 17. & 19. 6. Sometimes upon occaſion of fervent praying, Acts 4. 31. (4) Theſe Hearers of Peter here, Received upon their Baptiſm the ordinary gifts of the Holy Ghoſt, Acts 2.41. to the end of the chapt. But the extraordinary Miraculous gifts of the Holy Ghoſt were not (that we read) conferred upon them: therefore not the extraordinary, but only the ordinary gifts of the Holy Ghoſt were here promiſed to them, for doubtleſs they Received what was promiſed. (5) The Promiſe here mentioned and made to them was ſuch as was moſt pertinent and ſuitable to the comfort of Peters hearers (p) pricked in heart, and crying men and brethren what ſhall we do? Now, the Promiſe of the extraordinary gifts of the Holy Ghoſt (which may poſſibly befall Reprobates, Math. 7. 22, 23. 1 Cor. 13. 1, 2.) could not be ſuitable to their comfort; but the Promiſe of the ordinary were moſt ſuitable, and the Covenant-Promiſe of bleſſedneſs by Chriſt, Abrahams Seed to all Nations, in Remiſſion of Sins, Sanctification and aſſurance thereof by the Holy Ghoſt were moſt proper and comfortable. And this exceeding fitly agrees to the current of other Scriptures. Compare Iſaiah 44. 3. Ezek. 11. 19. & 36. 27. with Gal. 3. 13, 14. Acts 3. 25, 26. (6) That Promiſe of the extraordinary gifts of the Spirit alledged out of Joel, is interpreted by Peter here to have been fulfilled by Gods pouring forth his Spirit upon the Apoſtles, Acts 2. 15. to 34. And for theſe Reaſons it ſeems clear to me, That this Promiſe was not the Promiſe of extraordinary gifts of the Spirit alledged out of Joel, but eſpecially the Covenant-Promiſe to Abraham, Iſaac, Jacob and their Seed, touching Gods bleſſing of all Nations in his Seed, and being a God to them and their Seed, &c.

II. That, This Promiſe belonged to the children of the Jews, and of the Gentiles that ſhould be called, as well as to their Parents. 1. That it belonged to the children of the Jews, as well as to the Parents, is evident beyond all contradiction; Partly by theſe expreſs words directed by Peter here eſpecially to the Jews; (q) The Promiſe is to you and to your children. Partly by the Tenor of Gods Covenant with Abraham, which (r) was with him and his Seed in their Generations. 2. That it belonged alſo to the children of the Gentiles (called here, as elſewhere, afar off, Epheſ 2.13,17.) as well as to their parents whom God ſhould call, muſt needs Conſequently be granted. For,

(q) Acts 2. 39.

(r) Gen. 17. 7, 8, &c.

(1) Here Peter as to that Promiſe, puts the Gentiles that afterwards ſhould be called, into an equality or Sameneſs of Covenant-intereſt and Covenant conditition with the Jews, only giving the Priority or Precedency of Covenant-ſtate to the Jews. Therefore as the Promiſe was to the Jewiſh parents and their children; ſo it was to the Gentiliſh parents afar off, when they ſhould be called, and to their children. The Gentiles children, though they be not here expreſſed, yet are they not here excluded, but muſt needs be here implied, as much reaſon being for the Covenant-Priviledge of the one as of the other. (2) Gods Covenant-Promiſe with Abraham, &c. is (f) extended to Parents and their Seed both Iews and Gentiles. Hence all Proſelite-Gentiles and their Seed were to be Circumciſed as well as the Jews, Gen. 17. 12, 13. Exod. 12. 48, 49. Thus the ſecond thing is clear, That this Promiſe belonged to the children of Jews and of Gentiles that ſhould be called, as well as to their parents. III. That This Covenant-Promiſe belongs to the children of Jews and of called Gentiles now in this time of the New Covenant: is plain. 1. Becauſe Peter, in the time of the New Covenant already eſtabliſhed by the blood and Death of Jeſus Chriſt, declares that this Promiſe belongs to ſuch children. 2. Becauſe Peter here urgeth his hearers, from their intereſt in this Promiſe, to accept Baptiſm, the Token of the New Covenant. 3. Becauſe Ieſus Chriſt by his New Covenant Confirms this Promiſe both to Iew and Gentile, Receiving them as his people, Rom. 15. 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12. Thus the Aſſumption is proved.

(f) Gen. 17. 7, 8, 12. & 12. 2, 3. & 22. 16, 17.

Therefore The Seed, Poſterity and Children of Jews and called Gentiles are a ſort of Perſons intended by God to be Fœderates with him in the New Covenant.

6. Argument. All ſort of Perſons, ſince Chriſt, which are cauſeleſly and abſurdly denyed to be in Covenant with God, ought to be acknowledged Fœderates with God in his New Covenant. For, 1. No ſorts of perſons under the New Teſtament ſince Chriſt can be juſtly denyed their Covenant-ſtate and intereſt, but upon ſome juſt cauſe or ground from Scripture, wherein God the Lord and ſole Author of the Covenant hath ſufficiently declared, whom he accepts as Fœderates in his New Covenant, whom he rejects. Whom God accepts in Covenant, men are to acknowledge to be Fœderates, whom God rejects and excludes from his Covenant, men may deny to be Fœderates: Men muſt not preſume to admit or exclude Declaratively, but only whom God admits or excludes Authoritatively. 2. Gods proceedings in his New Covenant as to admiſſion or excluſion of men in point of Fœderation, though they be above Reaſon, yet are they not againſt Reaſon. (t) Chriſtianity admits not, but condemns all abſurdity and irrationality. Therefore Chriſtians, as they muſt do and declare nothing Cauſeleſly, without juſt Reaſon, ſo they muſt do and declare nothing abſurdly, againſt juſt ground and Reaſon: touching the New Covenant-ſtate of any ſort of Perſons: 3. The New Cove-

Covenant is the only Covenant since Christ, wherein men are Fœderates with God.

But the Seed, Posterity and Children of profest believing Parents Iewish or Gentilish are a sort of Persons since Christ which are Causelesly and Absurdly denyed to be in Covenant with God. I. Causelesly are the children of profest believers Jewish or Gentilish denyed to be in Covenant with God: there being no just and sufficient cause of their exclusion from Covenant-state either in regard of God, Christ, the Covenant, or such children themselves: and what other cause can be imagined or pretended: 1. No Cause in regard of God, the Lord and Author of the Covenant. For, (1) God hath before Christ still admitted children from (u) Abraham till the coming of Christ into Covenant as well as their parents: And since Christ God hath never excluded or debarred children from his Covenant. (2) God hath since Christ declared by his Spirit, That such children are (x) Holy, that is, Fœderally Holy: and that the (y) Covenant-promise is to such children as well as to their parents. 2. No cause in regard of Jesus Christ the Mediator of the New Covenant. For, (1) Jesus Christ hath not contracted, limited or curtaild the Covenant of God by his Death, Resurrection and New-Covenant-Administrations, which he should have done extreamly if he had excluded so great a part of Fœderates as all the children of Fœderate parents, but he hath (z) Confirmed and enlarged the same exceedingly, even to Gentiles and their children, as well as to Jews and theirs. (2) Jesus Christ hath declared the Infant-children of Fœderate parents to be such persons, as (a) of whom is the Kingdom of God; and therefore judged them capable of being brought to him, for his Embracements, Imposition of hands, and Benediction: And can Christ be rationally imagined to seclude such from his Covenant, as he took up in his arms, put his hands upon, blessed, and declared to be within the Kngdom of God? 3. No Cause in regard of Gods Covenant since Christ. For, (1) The New Covenant Administration no where hath excluded the children and Seed of Fœderate parents from Covenant-state. (2) The New Covenant of all other Covenant-administrations, being fullest, largest, perfectest, most extensive and comprehensive, must needs in the Nature of it take in all sorts of Fœderates and more then the Old Covenant or former Covenants. They took in the Jews and Proselites with their children: but this takes in both Jews and Gentiles called of all Nations, and their children. The New Covenant is stiled, the better Covenant, the better Testament, Heb. 7.22. & 8.6. Whereupon saith my worthy friend Mr. Baylie very pertinently and judiciously; (b) The Covenant of Grace for the Substance was ever the same, but for the manner of its Administration it was the longer the better, and after Christs incarnation best of all: but it had been evidently worse after that time in a very great and main particular, if all Iewish infants which before were Church-members and partakers of the Sacrifices and Sacraments, ments, as the Elect ones of them were of the Spiritual Promiſes, ſhould have loſt theſe Priviledges after the coming of Chriſt; and have been ſo far then unchurched, that neither Covenant, Sacrament, Promiſe, nor any ſuch benefit could belong to them before their years of Diſcretion. So he. 4. Finally, Theres no juſt cauſe in regard of the children themſelves of profeſt believing Parents, why they ſhould be diſcovenanted ſince Chriſt. For, the children of profeſt believers ſince Chriſt under the New Covenant, are every whit as Capable and Receptive of the New Covenant, the Initiating Token, Baptiſm and the Benefits thereof, as ever the children of Abraham, Iſaac, Iacob, and of the Jews were of former Covenants, Circumciſion, and the benefits thereof. All objections againſt thoſe, militate as ſtrongly againſt theſe. Thus its evident, that the children of profeſt believers Jewiſh or Gentiliſh are Cauſeleſly denyed to be in Covenant with God in this New Covenant. II. Abſurdly alſo are ſuch children denyed to be Fœderates with God in his New Covenant. For, 1. Hereby, the diſpenſations of Divine Grace ſince Chriſt, are made more ſtrait and narrow then they were before Chriſt. But thats abſurd. God having reſerved his moſt large, liberal, extenſive, diffuſe diſpenſations of his Grace for the times of Chriſt. 2. Hereby, Jeſus Chriſt, by his Coming and eſtabliſhment of his New Covenant, is neceſſarily ſuppoſed to diminiſh, not to increaſe the Priviledges of his Church. But thats abſurd. Chriſt every way increaſing his Churches Priviledges by the New Covenant. 3. Hereby, a Jewiſh Diſciple of the Old Covenant, becoming a Chriſtian Diſciple of the New Covenant, ſhall wholly deprive his children and poſterity (till they come of years of diſcretion to Repent and believe) of their Covenant-ſtate and Priviledges. Before he accepted the New Covenant, all his children as well as himſelf were in Covenant with God, Circumciſed and marked for Gods people, dedicated to him, ſeparated from the world, &c. But as ſoon as he had embraced the New Covenant, all his children are preſently diſcovenanted both from the Old Covenant and New. But this is notoriouſly Abſurd. For, Thus the Jew loſeth by Chriſts Coming; Thus the New Covenant diminiſheth his Priviledge and Comfort that he had in regard of his Children under the Old Covenant; Thus the Jew might juſtly be deterred and diſcouraged for ever from embracing the Chriſtian faith, or becoming a Chriſtian under the New Covenant, becauſe by ſo doing he ſhould preſently (for ought he knows) undo all his children, ſhutting them out of Covenant-ſtate with God, out of Church-membership, and from all the benefits and advantages of both. 4. Hereby, The condition of children of Fœderate parents Jews or Gentiles, ſhould be, not better under the New and better Covenant, but much worſe then the condition of the Jews under der the Old Covenant. These were Fœderates with God: but they are diſcovenanted; yea they are reduced into as bad a Condition as the Covenantleſs children of Pagans and Heathens, without God in the world. But this is abominably Abſurd. Shall Jews be (c) Chriſtianized, and ſhall their children thereby, or thereupon, be Paganized? Shall Parents become Chriſtians, and their Poſterity remain Heathens? The New Teſtament affords better tidings and Comfort to the children of Believers, Acts 2. 38, 39. 1 Cor. 7. 14. Rom. 11. 16.

(c) It is (ſaid one well) Gods great work to Church the world; and the Devils counter-work is to Heatheniſe the Church. It troubles the Devil much, That children from their Infancy ſhould be under an engagement, To receive Nurture and Admonition in the Lord, To frequent the ordinances, and to own Ieſus Chriſt by an external profeſſion. If he could but contrive to prevent their coming in to that Engagement, he might hope more eaſily to keep them out, when they are grown up, then to work them out (ſo grown up) to a renouncing of Chriſtianity, which yet he hath brought ſome unto. A Treat. entituled, A Blow at the Root; or, A Diſcovery of Satans Devices. p. 154.

Therefore, The Seed, Poſterity and Children of profeſt believing Parents Jewiſh or Gentiliſh, ought to be acknowledged Fœderates with God in his New Covenant.

And thus I hope it is ſufficiently cleared to any ſober judgement, That not only Iews, Judah and Iſrael united, but Gentiles that ſhall be called; Not only Parents Iewiſh and Gentiliſh, but with them, their Seed, Poſterity and Children alſo, even their Infant-children; All which thoſe phraſes (The Houſe of Iſrael and the Houſe of Judah) do comprehend, are intended by God, and ought to be acknowledged by man, to be Fœderates with God in his New Covenant. This New Covenant State of the children of Fœderate parents, I have inſiſted upon the more largely, and laid down my Arguments for it the more Formally, becauſe that eſpecially is oppoſed by Catabaptiſtical and Anabaptiſtical Spirits: yet I have purpoſely declined all Polemical Diſputes againſt particular perſons, as being beſides my intention in this work, wherein I have propounded to my ſelf Poſitively to aſſert the Truth, without intereſſing my ſelf in the frivolous janglings and fruitleſs wranglements of particular Adverſaries.

Inferences.

Foraſmuch then, as The Confœderates or Fœderate-Parties to the New Covenant are, On the one hand, God the LORD; or God as JEHOVAH, the Principal Party: On the other hand, The houſe of Iſrael and the houſe of Judah, in Chriſt; That is, The Iews, Iſrael and Judah united and their Seed, as alſo the Gentiles that ſhall be called, and their Seed, the Spiritual Iſrael of God, the leſs principal Party: Hence, Divers Inferences of great Conſequence naturally reſult, which I ſhall comprize in this enſuing Aphoriſm.

APHORISM

APHORISM II.

Hence, 1. The New-Covenant is moſt Sure and Faithful; 2. Moſt compleat and comprehenſive; 3. Moſt uniting and conſolidating to the Church and People of God; 4. And is, beyond all other Covenant-diſpenſations, Greateſt Matter of Conſolation, Joy and Thankfulneſs to the Gentiles. 5. In and under which, All the Infant-childzen of New-Covenant-Federates, being in Covenant with their Parents, ought to be ſigned and marked with the Firſt New-Covenant-Token, Baptiſm, as well as their Parents.

Theſe five Inferences in this Aphoriſm I explain and evince as followeth.

I. HEnce, The New Covenant is moſt ſure and faithful. Why? Becauſe the chief Fœderate-Party therein is God the LORD, or God as JEHOVAH. The Nature of God is ſuch, The Nature of this (d) JEHOVAH is ſuch, actually fulfilling, giving being & ſubſiſtence to all his Promiſes: that he can as ſoon lay aſide his very Nature, Eſſence and Being, as break his New Covenant, or ſuffer the Promiſes thereof to fail. Why doth God in his (e) Promiſe of the New Covenant ſo often repeat that Confirming and Enſuring phraſe, in his own great and glorious Name, (Saith JEHOVAH, or Saith the LORD) even four times over: But to let us know, that becauſe the Author and chief Fœderate of this New Covenant is IEHOVAH, therefore this Covenant ſhould be certain, and all the Promiſes thereof infallibly faithful and ſure? There are many other grounds of this New Covenant s Sureneſs and Faithfulneſs, which I ſhall have cauſe hereafter to inſiſt upon, but at preſent this is one eminent cauſe thereof; IEHOVAH himſelf hath ſaid it, hath engaged himſelf as the chief Fœderate in it, therefore it cannot fail, we may certainly depend and rely upon it. But of the Sureneſs of Gods Covenant, from the Nature of God, and his Name IEHOVAH, I have (f) ſpoken enough already: and its applicable here.

II. Hence, The New Covenant is, beyond all other Covenants, moſt Compleat, Comprehenſive and Extenſive. Why? Becauſe this New Covenant is extended by God moſt comprehenſively to the moſt ample and numerous multitude of Fœderates. Former Covenants were more limited and reſtrained; Some to Particular Families, As Gods Covenants with (g) Adam, with (h) Noah, with (i) Abraham, with (k) David; Some to Particular Tribes, or a part of a Nation, As (l) Gods Covenant with his Captives of Iudah and Ie-

Ieruſalem, &c in Babylon; Some to a Particular Nation ſingled out from among all the Nations of the world, As (m) Gods Sinai-Covenant made with the whole Nation of Iſrael in the wilderneſs: But this New Covenant is to the utmoſt enlarged and extended to (n) Jews and Gentiles, even to all ſorts of People of all Nations Tongues and Languages throughout the whole world, whom the Lord our God ſhall call to the Faith, and Profeſſion of the Goſpel, from the Death of Jeſus Chriſt, till the end of the world. Some few (o) Gentiliſh Proſelites, ſome gleanings of the Gentiles, that willingly came in and joyned themſelves to the God, Religion, and People of Abraham, were taken into Covenant, & enfranchized with the Jews heretofore: But the ſtreams and floods of the Gentiles came not in till theſe New Covenant times. The Proſelites offered themſelves to Gods former Covenants: But this New Covenant is offered and preached by Chriſts appointment (p) to all Nations, to all the world; According to that eminent Promiſe of the Lord. (q) —— I will gather all Nations and Tongues, and they ſhall come and ſee my Glory. And I will ſet a Sign among them, and I will ſend thoſe that eſcape of them, unto the Nations, To Tarſhiſh, Pul, and Lud, that draw the bow, To Tubal and Javan, To the Iſles afar off, that have not heard my fame, neither have ſeen my Glory; and they ſhall declare my Glory among the Gentiles. And they ſhall bring all your brethren for an offering unto the LORD, out of all Nations, upon horſes and in chariots, and in litters, and upon mules, and upon ſwift beaſts, to my holy Mountain Jeruſalem, ſaith the LORD, as the children of Iſrael bring an offering in a clean veſſel into the houſe of the LORD. And I will alſo take of them for Prieſts and for Levites ſaith the LORD. This Promiſe had its eminent performance and accompliſhment in the Apoſtles preaching the New Covenant-Doctrine to all Nations: But (r) firſt unto the Jews, and then unto the Gentiles.

III. Hence, The New Covenant is to Gods Church and people the moſt uniting and conſolidating Covenant of all others. And this chiefly in two reſpects, viz.

1. In reſpect of Iſrael and Iudah. God rent ten Tribes from Solomon (s) for his Idolatry, and gave them to Ieroboam, Solomon's ſervant, which ten Tribes were uſually called Iſrael, in oppoſition to the other two Tribes continued to Davids houſe, which were called Iudah. Theſe, Iſrael and Iudah: continued two diſtinct Kingdoms, under two diſtinct ſorts of Kings, and two ſorts of Religions; never after united till they were both carried away into Captivity out of Cannan: Iſrael into (t) Aſſyria and the Cities of the Medes; Iudah into (u) Babylon. During the Babyloniſh Captivity, God made a Covenant with his Captives: wherein, among other Bleſſings, (x) The uniting of Iſrael and Iudah, that they ſhould no longer be two Nations and two Kingdoms, but One Nation, and One Kingdom, under one Shepherd, Prince and King DAVID (that is, Ieſus Chriſt the true David) for ever. Perhaps many of Iſrael came in in and joyned themſelves with Iudah; when they returned from Babylon: but the primary and moſt plenary accompliſhment hereof was in the time of this New Covenant, (y) when Iews from all Nations under heaven were Converted unto Chriſt, at the Feaſt of Pentecoſt and afterwards; ſo that not only many thouſands, but many myriads, viz. Many ten thouſands, accepted Ieſus Chriſt as their Shepherd, Prince and King, and became (z) One Spiritual Kingdom, One holy Nation, One peculiar people under Ieſus Chriſt, THE DAVID. Thus Ieſus Chriſt, by his New Covenant made an eminent union and conſolidation of the Houſe of Iſrael and of the Houſe of Iudah, that they became joynt Fœderates with God in his New Covenant: (a) Behold the daies come ſaith the LORD, that I will make a New Covenant with the Houſe of Iſrael and with the Houſe of Iudah. Thus the divided Nations and Kingdoms of Iudah and Iſrael were united and conſolidate in one under Chriſt THE DAVID by the New Covenant. And this conſolidation will have its final conſummation, when by the New Covenant Doctrine the (b) unbelieving Iews broken off, ſhall again be called and graffed into their own natural ſtock, and ſo all Iſrael ſhall be ſaved.

2. In reſpect of Iews and Gentiles. There was an extream Diviſion and Diſtance betwixt theſe, till the daies of Ieſus Chriſt and the time of the New Covenant, Iews (c) were neer to God; Gentiles afar off from him: Iews (d) were the children; Gentiles, dogs: Iews were (e) Saints; Gentiles, Sinners: Iews (f) were the Church, to whom pertained the Adoption, and the Glory, and the Covenants, and the giving of the Law, and the ſervice of God, and the promiſes, &c. Gentiles, the world, without Chriſt, aliens from the Common-wealth of Iſrael, and ſtrangers from the Covenants of Promiſe, having no hope, and without God in the world. And betwixt Iews and Gentiles there was (g) a Middle wall of Partition, that ſevered them; An Enmity that hindred their Unity, even the Law of Commandments contained in Ordinances, Circumciſion, the Ceremonial Law, and the whole Levitical Service: but Chriſt by his Death and blood, not only (h) broke down this Middle wall of Partition, and deſtroyed this Enmity, all thoſe Ceremonies, Types and Shadows receiving their plenary accompliſhment in him, but alſo (i) reconciled both Jews and Gentiles unto God in one Body by the Croſs, ſtabliſhed his New Covenant in his blood, whereby he preached peace and union to them which were afar off, and to them which were nigh: So that, both have acceſs by one Spirit, unto the Father; and Gentiles are no more ſtrangers and forreigners, but fellow-citizens with the Saints, and of the Houſhold of God; and are built upon the foundation of the Prophets and Apoſtles, Jeſus Chriſt himſelf being the chief corner-ſtone. Thus the Gentiles are through Chriſt, by his New Covenant incorporated, and conſolidate with the Jews, into one Church-body. This is the (k) Myſterie, That Myſterie of Chriſt, The Myſterie which from the beginning of the world hath been hid in God, which in other ages, was not made known unto the ſons of men, as it is now revealed unto his holy Apoſtles and Prophets by the Spirit; that the Gentiles ſhould be fellow-heirs, and of the ſame body, and Partakers of his Promiſe in Chriſt by the Goſpel. O how Paul, The Teacher of the Gentiles, admires and magnifies this ſweet myſterie! And the whole New Covenant-Miniſtry both Extraordinary and Ordinary, were given by Chriſt, for the compleating of this Union fully and finally; (l) —And he gave ſome, Apoſtles; and ſome, Prophets; and ſome, Evangeliſts; and ſome, Paſtors and Teachers: For the perfecting of the Saints, for the work of the Miniſtry, for the edifying of the Body of Chriſt; Till we all come in the Unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the ſon of God, unto a Perfect man; unto the meaſure of the ſtature of the fulneſs of Chriſt.

(l) Epheſ. 4. 11, 12, 13.

IV. Hence, The New Covenant, beyond all other Covenant-Diſpenſations, is Greateſt Matter of Conſolation, Joy and Thankfulneſs to the Gentiles. For, till the New Covenant came, The Gentiles (except ſome few gleanings of Proſelytes,) were wholly deſtitute(m) of Chriſt, God, Church-Priviledges, true Religion and hope of Salvation. But by the New Covenant in and through Chriſts Death and blood, (n) they are incorporated into one and the ſame Myſtical Body of Chriſt, adopted into the ſame Houſhold of God, enfranchized in the ſame Spiritual City and Common-wealth of the Saints, and partakers of all the Promiſed Mercies, Priviledges and Ordinances of the New Covenant. God (o) putting no difference betwixt Gentiles and Jews, purifying their hearts by faith, and giving them the great bleſsing of Abraham, the Promiſed Spirit through faith, as well as to the Jews. Now therefore this New Covenant is the Gentiles door of hope. Other Covenants left them out: The New Covenant takes them in. Other Covenants ſeparated them from the Church: This New Covenant unites them to the Church, &c. Therefore, this New Covenant Miniſters matter of unſpeakable, everlaſting Spiritual Conſolation, Joy and Thankfulneſs to the Gentiles, more then all other Covenants: As, both the (p) Scriptures abundantly intimate, and the (q) Experience of called Gentiles doth eminently Teſtifie. Oh! then, Let us Gentiles account this New Covenant, Our Cordial, Our Triumph, Our Jubile: Let us ſuck the Hony and Oyl of true refreſhing Conſolation out of this Rock; Let us triumphantly rejoyce in this full Sunſhine of Mercy; Let us in heart word and life return all poſſible thankſgivings unto God, for this Covenant of Covenants, The NEW COVENANT.

V. Hence, All the Infant-children of New-Covenant-Fœderates, being in Covenant with God, as their parents, ought to be Signed and marked with the Firſt New-Covenant-Token, Baptiſm, as well as their Parents. I have (r) already proved, That the Confœderates with God in this New Covenant (ſ) were, Not only Jews, but Gentiles, even all that are afar off, whom the Lord our God ſhall call; And not only ſuch Jewiſh and Gentiliſh parents, but alſo all their children.

(r) In this fourth Chap. Aph. 1.

(ſ) Acts 2. 38, 39.

Pro-

Profeſſed believing Jews and Gentiles, and the children of them both, come under the phraſe of (t) the houſe of Iſrael, and the houſe of Judah, with whom God makes his New Covenant. And therefore, Not only Profeſſed believing Jews and Gentiles, but all their children alſo ought to be ſigned and marked with the Firſt New Covenant Token, Baptiſm. This Inference I ſhall further evince briefly by theſe few Arguments, viz.

(t) Ier. 31 31, 32, &c. Heb. 8. 8, 10.

Argument I. All ſorts of Perſons that are Fœderates with God in the New Covenant, ought to be initiated, ſigned, marked and diſtinguiſhed by Baptiſm; the Firſt Token of the New Covenant. This Propoſition I confirm, Partly, By ſhewing, That Baptiſm is the firſt Token of the New Covenant. Partly, By proving, That all ſorts of Fœderates with God in the New Covenant, ought to be ſigned with that firſt Token, the initiating Token of the New Covenant. I. That, Baptiſm, viz. Baptiſm with water, in the Name of Father, Son and Holy Ghoſt, is the Firſt Token, the initiating Token of the New Covenant: is evident divers waies. For, 1. Baptiſm was Firſt inſtituted, before the Lords Supper was inſtituted. Baptiſm was inſtituted in the beginning of John Baptiſt's Miniſtry. Iohn himſelf ſaid; (u) — But he (viz. God) that ſent me to Baptize with water. Chriſts Command therefore to his Diſciples after his Reſurrection, (x) to Diſciple and Baptize all Nations, was not the Firſt Inſtitution of Baptiſm, but only an Enlargement of their former Commiſſion. Now they ſhould not only Baptize Iews but all Nations. Now the Lords-Supper was not inſtituted till the latter end of Chriſts Miniſtry, till the very (y) night wherein he was betrayed. 2. Baptiſm was Firſt Accepted and Sanctified by Chriſt in his own (z) Perſon, viz. At the beginning of his publick Miniſtry whereby he began to preach the New Covenant-Doctrine: The Lords Supper, not (a) till the latter end of his publick Miniſtry. 3. Baptiſm was firſt diſpenſed in Order and Time to Gods New Covenant-people, before the Lords Supper was adminiſtred to them. See Math. 3. 5, 6, &c. with Math. 26. 26. to 31. Thus Peter's converts, firſt were Baptized; and after admitted to the breaking of that Sacramental bread, Acts 2. 41, 42. Nor do we read in all the New Teſtament of any that firſt received the Lords Supper, and then were Baptized. 4. Baptiſm in the Nature of it precedes the Lords Supper. Baptiſm ſignifies, our (b) Implantation into Chriſt: The Lords Supper our Nouriſhment in and by Chriſt, 1 Cor. 11. 20, 23, 24, 25, 26. Baptiſm ſignifies, our (c) Putting on Chriſt, and union to him: The Lords Supper our Continued Communion with him, 1 Cor. 10. 16. Baptiſm ſignifies, Our (d) Regeneration, and New-birth in Chriſt: The Lords Supper, our Continuation and Augmentation in Chriſt, 1 Cor. 10. 16, 17. & 11. 20, 24, 25, 26. Baptiſm denotes our Admiſſion into the Myſtical body of Chriſt the Church: The Lords Supper, our Spiritual maintenance and continuance in that body, 1 Cor. 12. 13.

Now

Now our Implantation into Chriſt, Union to Chriſt, Regeneration in Chriſt, and Admiſsion in Chriſts Myſtical body; do in Nature go before our Nouriſhment by Chriſt, our Communion with Chriſt, our Augmentation in Chriſt, and our Continuation in his Myſtical Body: Conſequently Baptiſm precedes as the Firſt New-Covenant-Token in order of Nature, and the Lords-Supper follows, as the Second. Thus the firſt is ſo clear, that few adverſaries (if any at all) will be found to oppoſe. II. That, All ſorts of perſons which are Fœderates with God in the New Covenant, ought to be ſigned, marked & diſtinguiſhed by Baptiſm, this firſt Token of the New Covenant: is alſo evident. For, 1. When (e) God brought Abraham and his Seed into Covenant with himſelf, he alſo appointed that all ſorts of perſons ſo brought into Covenant, whether Abraham and his Seed, or ſtrangers Proſelites and their Seed, ſhould be ſigned, marked and diſtinguiſhed from all others by Circumciſion the firſt Token of that Covenant. This was the Initiating token of the Covenant. And this Courſe was afterwards continued both with Abrahams Covenant-Seed, and with Proſelites and their Seed (f) till the dayes of Jeſus Chriſt, under the Covenant with Abraham, Iſrael, David and the Captives. Conſequently, As all ſorts of Fœderates in former Covenants were to be ſigned, marked and diſtinguiſhed by the Firſt-Covenant-Token, before Chriſt: ſo all ſorts of Fœderates in the New Covenant are to be ſigned, marked and diſtinguiſhed by the Firſt New Covenant-Token after Chriſt. The Covenant both before and after Chriſt, being for ſubſtance one and the ſame: though the Adminiſtration, and therein the Fœderal Tokens, be changed. And, although the Fœderate Women before Chriſt were not Actually ſigned and marked with the Firſt Token of the Covenant: Yet virtually they were marked and Circumciſed, in the Males, and ſo reputed of God as Circumciſed: as is plain; Partly, In that (g) the whole houſe of Iſrael are intimated to be Circumciſed in the Fleſh. Partly, In that the whole Jewiſh Nation is called (h) The Circumciſion, in oppoſition to the Gentiles called the uncircumciſion. Partly, In that their (i) Females as well as Males did eat the Paſſover, which no Uncircumciſed perſon might do. 2. When Jeſus Chriſt Commiſſionated and Authorized his Apoſtles to go and gather his New Covenant Church out of all Nations, even of Gentiles as well Jews, he commanded them to Sign, Mark and Diſtinguiſh all ſuch ſorts as they ſhould make Diſciples with the Firſt initiating Token of the New Covenant Baptiſm (k) —— Go therefore, diſciple ye all Nations, baptizing them into the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy-Ghoſt. &c. All that ſhould be made Chriſts Diſciples, and Fœderates in his New Covenant, out of all Nations, Jews or Gentiles, Male or Female, bond or free, young or old, all ſuch muſt be marked with Baptiſm the Firſt New Covenant-Token. Chriſt will have all his Fœderates and diſciples hereby Dedicated to God and his Service, Matriculated and ſolemnly entred into his Church, And diſtinguiſhed from from all Covenantleſs perſons which remain the Devils Diſciples and People. 3. Anſwerably, The Apoſtles Practiſe in the gathering and Planting of the New Covenant Church was to mark, Sign, Initiate, and Diſtinguiſh all ſorts with Baptiſm that were Converted to the Faith of the New Covenant in Chriſt, both particulars Perſons, and whole (m) Families. thereby ſeperating them viſibly from the world to God and Jeſus Chriſt. 4. A New Covenant ſtate or Fœderation of any ſorts of perſons, is the primary, moſt direct, clear, proper and unqueſtionable ground for their Initiation, Signing and obſignation by Baptiſm the Firſt New Covenant Token. (n) Repent and be Baptized—— For the Promiſe is to you and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God ſhall call. Whence I argue; If their Intereſt in the ancient Covenant Promiſe made to Abraham, Iſaac and Jacob (there intended as (o) I have ſhewed) confirmed and fulfilled by Chriſt in the New Covenant, and digeſted into the New Covenant, were a ground to them for their being Baptized: much more their intereſt in the New Covenant it ſelf muſt needs be a plenary and ſufficient ground for their Baptiſm. Its an Argument from the leſs to the greater, affirmatively. Thus the Propoſition is firm.

But the Seed, Poſterity, children yea Infant-children of profeſſed believers Jews or Gentiles are a ſort of Perſons that are Fœderates with God in his New Covenant. This Aſſumption (p) I have already proved by many Arguments: ſo that I need here to add no more.

Therefore, The Seed, Poſterity, children, yea Infant-children of profeſs'd believers Iews or Gentiles ought to be Initiated, Signed, Marked and Diſtingued from all others by Baptiſm the firſt token of the New Covenant.

Argument II. All ſorts of perſons for whom Chriſts enlarged New Covenant Commiſſion in Mat. 28.19,20. was intended, ought to be baptized. This Propoſition is clear in the Text, and cannot be denied. (q) Go therefore, diſciple ye all Nations, baptizing them into the name of the Father and of the Son and holy Ghoſt; Teaching them to obſerve all things, &c. Here, Diſcipling and Baptizing are of the ſame equal extent; and both alike commanded and joyntly given in Commiſſion by Jeſus Chriſt, to his Miniſters, viz. with intention and reference to all Nations.

(q) Mat. 28. 19,20.

But the children, yea the Infant-children of profeſt believers Jews or Gentiles are a ſort of Perſons for whom as well as for their parents Chriſts enlarged New Covenant Commiſſion in Mat. 28. 19, 20. was intended. This Aſſumption I prove, Partly, From the Extent of the Object of the Miniſterial work here intended, All Nations. Partly from the firſt Act or Effect required from the Miniſters about this Object, Diſcipling them. Partly, From the Order of proceeding directed to the Miniſters in this Commiſſion, Firſt Diſciple them, Then Baptize them, Then Teach them. I. The Object for whom this enlarged Commiſſion of Chriſt was intended, is expreſſed ſo extenſively and and largely, as to comprehend in it Children, Infant-Children, as well as their parents, whether Jews or Gentiles; All Nations. He doth not say, The parents in all Nations; The adult grown or riper persons come to years of Discretion in all Nations; for then there would have been some colour here for excluding of children, especially Infant-Children: But he saith, All Nations, without adding any Restriction or limitation to these or those sorts of people in all those Nations. Herein Christ seems to intend the whole body of those Nations of the Gentiles respectively. (r) Mr. S. Marshal hath very well argued. That as the whole Nation of the Iews, Male and Female, Parents and children, &c. were visibly taken in as his Covenant-people heretofore under the Old Testament: so the whole Nations of the Gentiles, children as well as parents, One as well as another, might be visibly taken in as his Covenant-people and disciples now under the New Testament. And this is the rather so to be judged, because the Gentiles were to be graffed into the Church of the Jews, Rom. 11. and to be fellow-heirs and of the same Body, &c. Ephes. 3. 6. Certainly Children are a very Considerable parts, Yea usually the major part of Nations: why then should not children as well as parents be here intended and comprized in this Complexive word [Nations,] there being nothing here in Christs Commission to exclude them? II. The First Act which Christ commands his Apostles and Ministers to perform towards or upon this Object, All Nations, is such, as may agree to children, yea to Infant-children, as well as to Parents, (t) πορευθέντες ἐν μαθητεύσατε πάντα τὰ ἔθνη, βαπτίζοντες αὐτους, &c. Therefore going, Disciple yee all Nations, baptizing them, &c. Thus the word (as (u) Beza hath well noted) may properly be rendred. Our translation, Teach ye all Nations, &c. interprets it not so fitly and axactly here: another word being used in the next verse for Teaching, διδάσκοντες. H. Grotius hath noted, (u) That theres a twofold way of teaching, the One by way of Initiation in the first Elements or Principles, the other by way of Doctrine and that the former seems to be indicated in the word

(r)—Secondly, we have The persons to whom they were to do this, All Nations, whereas before the Church was tyed to one Nation, One Nation only were disciples, Now their Commission was extended to make all Nations Disciples; Every Nation which should receive the Faith, should be to him now, as the peculiar Nation of the Jews had been to him in time past. In a word, Nations here are opposed to the One Nation before. Now we know that when that one Nation of the Jews were made disciples and Circumcised, their Infants were made Disciples (made to belong to Gods school) and Circumcised with them. When that Nation was made Disciples in Abrahams loyns, and Circumcised, their Seed also was the same; When that Nation was taken out of Egypt, and actually made disciples, their children were also with them; and we know that in every Nation the children make a great part of the Nation, and are alwayes included under every administration to the Nation, whether Promises or Threatnings, Priviledges or Burdens, Mercies or Iudgements, unless they be excepted. So are they in Cities, in Families, it being the way of the Scripture, when speaking indefinitely of a People, Nation, City, or Family, to be either saved or damned, to receive Mercies or Punishments, expressly to except Infants when they are to be excepted, as we see in the judgement that befell Israel in the wilderness, when all that rebellious company that came out of Egypt, was to perish by Gods righteous doom, their little ones were expressly excepted, Numb. 14. 31. and in the Covenant actually entred into by the body of the Nation, Neh. 10. 28. its expressly limited to them who had knowledge and understanding, &c. Mr. Steven Marshall in his Sermon of the baptizing of Infants. p. 38, &c.

(s) Mat. 28. 19. 20. (t) μαθητεύειν ergo hoc loco non Neutro passive pro Discipulum esse, Sed active accipitur, quasi in Conjugatione Hiphil, ac si dicas, Discipulare, &c. Bez. Annot. in Mat. 28. 19. (u) Cum duplex sit docendi ratio, Alia per modum εἰσαγωγῆς τῶν κατηχουμένων, Alia per modum διδασκαλίας; Prior supra videtur indicare, verbo μαθητεύειν id enim est velut in disciplinam initiare, & baptismo præponitur; Posterior verbo διδάσκειν, quod hic post Baptismum Locatur. Hug. Grotius in Annot. in Mat. 28. 19.

μαθητεύειν, to initiate into discipline, and is set before baptism; The latter in the word διδάσκειν, which is here placed after Baptism. The former word (thinks (x) Beza) by proper and peculiar command belonged to the Apostles, who by promulgation of the New Covenant were to lay the foundation of the Catholike Church in the whole world, 1 Cor. 3. 10. Eph. 2. 22. Hence believers at first were called Disciples, not of this or that Apostle, 1 Cor. 3. 4. & Eph. 2. 20. but of Christ; and afterwards more significantly they were called Christians. The latter word διδάσκειν he thinks to be more generally intended to Pastors and Teachers, yet the former word μαθητεύειν (in my judgement) ought secondarily to be extended to Pastors and teachers, who sometimes lay foundations of Churches among Pagans: and the later word διδάσκειν well agrees to the whole New Testament Ministry. Now this First Act here injoyned by Christ to his Ministers towards All Nations, is To Disciple them, to make them Christs Disciples: Disciple ye all Nations. He doth not say, Disciple ye all Parents, all grown Persons, all intelligent persons, all of years of Discretion, &c. but all Nations, which comprizeth children as well as parents: they all were to be discipled, to be brought in as Disciples to Christ. But First the Parents and adult persons, Actually, Formally, &c. by initiating them in the Principles and first Elements of Christianity, of the New Covenant-Doctrine: And then their children, even their Infant-children, in and with their parents, virtually, Fundamentally, &c. are made Disciples. This is plain. For, 1. The children of Christs Disciples are with their parents in the same school of Christ: to be trained up publikely and privately in the nurture and admonition of the Lord Christ, Ephes. 6. 4. 2. Little children are accounted by Christ Church-Members, of such is the Kingdom of God, Mark. 10. 14. And are not all Church-Members, Christs Disciples? 3. The Scripture ranks children, even Infant-children in the number of disciples: calling all them Disciples, upon whose neck the men of Iudea would have put the yoke of Circumcision after the manner of Moses, Acts 15. 1, 10. and we all know that Infant-children were to be Circumcised as well as their parents, Gen. 17. 7. to 15. and this yoke of Circumcision lay most upon the Infant-children. Thus not only parnts in all Nations, but also their children, even their Infant-children, are capable of being made Disciples. So that the First Ministerial Act, of Discipling all Nations is such, as whereof children are in a sort capable in and with their parents, and therefore we may conclude that this part of the Commission took in the children with their parents in all Nations, and was in part intended for them. III. The Order of Ministerial proceedings directed in this Commission towards all Nations (viz. First Disciple them, Then Baptize them, Then Teach them,) doth also further manifest that this Commission of our Saviour was intended for children, Even Infant-children as well as for their Parents and adult persons in all Nations. First, Disciple them, initiating them into the Elements of the Christian New Covenant-Doctrine: Then

(x) Discipul s facite μαθητεύσατε. id est? Discipulos mihi facite ex omnibus gentibus. Vulg. Docete διδάξατε, nimium generali interpretatione. Est enim hoc munus omnibus Pastoribus & Doctoribus in Ecclesia impositum; illud vero proprio & peculiari mandato ad Apostolos spectat utpote fundamentum Ecclesiæ Catholicæ jacturos, &c. Bez. An. in Mat. 28. 19.

Baptize them, &c. upon their profeſsing of the Chriſtian Faith according to thoſe principles, that ſo they may be ſeparated from the world, dedicated to God, entred into his Church: Then Teach them to obſerve all things whatſoever I have commanded you; carry them on unto further perfection of knowledge by more compleat and perfect inſtruction. Hence, Chriſts intention in this commiſsion is plain, viz. 1. That all Nations ſhould be Diſcipled, or made his Diſciples; therefore children, Infant-children as well as parents, children being parts of the Nations, and capable of being made Chriſts Diſciples in their kind as well as their parents. 2. That all the Nations which ſhould be Diſcipled, and all the parts of Nations (children as well as adult perſons) which ſhould become Diſciples, ſhould be Baptized, &c. 3. That all who ſhould be ſo diſcipled, and Baptized, ſhould be afterwards more fully, compleatly & perfectly taught to obſerve all Chriſts commands. 4. That this courſe ſhould be obſerved (as occaſion ſhould require) till the end of the world, The Lord promiſing his (y) continual preſence with his Apoſtles and his ſucceſsive Miniſters, Paſtors and Teachers to that effect, till the end of the world, Math. 28. 19, 20. from all I conclude;

(y) Hinc autem manifeſtiſſime apparet, voluiſſe Chriſtum ut Apoſtoli aliis, illi rurſum aliis πιστοῖς ἀνθρώποις καὶ ἱκανοῖς ἑτέρους διδάξαι munus illud magiſterii commendarent, ut videre eſt, 2 Tim. 2. 2. Nam cum promiſſio hæc ad conſummationem ſæculi ſe extendat, Apoſtoli autem tam diu victuri non eſſent, omnino hic Chriſtus in Apoſtolorum perſona cenſendus eſt etiam Succeſſores ejus Muneris compellaſſe. H. Grotius in Annotat. in Math. 28. 20.

Argument III. All ſorts of Perſons to whom the Promiſe is (which was anciently made to Abraham, Iſaac, Jacob and to their Seed, &c. and after confirmed by Jeſus Chriſt in his New Covenant,) ought to be baptized. This Propoſition is in effect the Apoſtle Peters, Acts 2. 38, 39. Repent and be baptized every one of you, &c. for the Promiſe is to you and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God ſhall call. Here Peter exhorts and commands them to be Baptized, upon this ground, and for this very Reaſon, Becauſe the Promiſe was to them and to their children, &c. For the Promiſe is to you and to your children, &c. (viz. The Promiſe made to the Fathers, and confirmed by Chriſt, as I have (z) formerly proved.) If therefore they were to be Baptized, becauſe that Promiſe was to them: Then (a) all ſorts conſequently ought to be Baptized, to whom that Promiſe is, and appertains.

But the children, infants as well as adult children of profeſt Believers, Jews or Gentiles, are a ſort of Perſons to whom the Promiſe is, (which was anciently made to Abraham, Iſaac, Jacob and to their Seed, &c. and after Confirmed by Jeſus Chriſt in his New Covenant.) This Aſſumption alſo for Subſtance is the Apoſtle Peters; (b) —for the Promiſe is to

to you and to your children, &c. And I have (c) formerly ſhewed for the clearing of this particular, 1. That, This Promiſe belonged to the children of believers whether Jews or Gentiles, as well as to their Parents. 2. That, this Promiſe belongs to the children of believing Jews and Gentiles now under the New Teſtament as well as to their parents. There ſee.

Therefore, The children, infants as well as adult children, of Profeſt Believers, Jews or Gentiles, are a ſort of perſons which ought to be Baptized.

Argument IV. All ſorts of Perſons that were once admitted by God to the Initiating Sacrament or Firſt Covenant-Token of the Covenant of Faith, and were never ſince by him debarred, ought ſtill to be admitted to the firſt Token of the Covenant of Faith, what ever it be, under all ſorts of enſuing Fœderal Adminiſtrations. This Propoſition cannot well be denyed. For, 1. God alone hath Supream Prerogative to Admit and Debar what ſorts of perſons he pleaſeth both to, and from his Covenant of Faith, and all Covenant-Tokens thereof. If he admit once, and never after debar, who ſhall exclude? 2. The Covenant of Faith, as it is ſubſtantially and eſſentially ſtill one and the ſame in all ages ſince the fall, & in all the expreſſures thereof, though circumſtantially and accidentally divers; ſo God hath ſtill raiſed and advanced the after Adminiſtrations of the Covenant of faith to an higher degree of excellency and perfection then thoſe that went before, till he brought forth his New Covenant the moſt excellent and perfect of them all. This (d) I have formerly manifeſted. Therefore the Covenant of Faith under all adminiſtrations being one and the ſame, and the latter ſtill perfecter then the former; All ſorts of perſons once admitted to the Firſt Covenant-Token thereof, muſt be admitted ſtill to the Firſt Covenant Token of that Covenant of Faith what ever it be. The Covenant is ſtill the ſame, though the Fœderal token be changed. Yea that Covenant is ſtill more and more perfect: and therefore the Sacramental initiation of Fœderates into it muſt not become defective and imperfect, but be anſwerably more and more perfect. 3. Though the Firſt Fœderal Tokens of the Covenant of Faith be divers under ſeveral adminiſtrations, yet the ground of Gods admitting any ſorts of perſons thereunto is ſtill the ſame, viz. Gods accepting and accounting of ſuch ſorts of perſons to be within his Covenant, therefore he will have them marked and diſtinguiſhed by his Firſt initiating Covenant-Token. Fœderate perſons loſe not their Fœderate-ſtate or priviledges, when God changes his Covenant-adminiſtrations and Tokens, but advance their Covenant-ſtate and priviledges of all ſorts to a higher degree of perfection.

(d) In Book II. Chap. 2. Aph. 2. Sect. 4. 1. p. 98, 99, 100.

But the children, the Infant-children of Profeſt believers, both Jews and Gentiles, are a ſort of Perſons which were once admitted by God to the initiating Sacrament or Firſt-Covenant-Token of the Covenant of Faith, and were never since by him debarred. This Assumption I prove in both the branches of it: viz. I. That, The Infant-children of profest believers, Jews and Gentiles, were once admitted by God to the First Covenant-Token of the Covenant of Faith. For, 1. Gods Covenant with Abraham, and so the Sinai-Covenant or old Covenant, were Covenants of Faith, (e) as I have formerly proved: but God admitted Infant-children of profest believers Jews and Gentiles to Circumcision, the First Covenant-Token of those Covenants, Gen. 17. 7. to 15. Exod. 12. 48, 49. Luke 2. 21. & 1. 59. Phil. 3. 5. And from Abraham till Christ this admission of children to the First fœderal Token was continued. 2. When the Covenant of Faith came under a new administration, even that of the New Covenant after Christ, so that the First Fœderal-Token was changed from Circumcision to Baptism, The Apostles in the Primitive Churches admitted not only particular profest believers, but also their whole Families (though their actual Faith be not recorded) to the initiating Sacrament of the New Covenant, Baptism. When Governors of Families were converted, not only they, but their Families were Baptized also: As Cornelius and his Company, Acts 10. 1, 2, 24, 44. to the end. Lydia and her household, Acts 16. 14, 15. The jaylor, and all his, Acts 16. 33. Stephanas and his household, 1 Cor. 1. 16. Now when, not only the Governors of Families, but their whole Families with them were Baptized, can we rationally imagine that none of their children, of their Infant-children, were Baptized? Do not parents and their children most properly make up the Family, servants being only as accidental forreigners thereunto? Take away children from the Family, do not you usually take away the greatest part of the Family? when their Households are said to be baptized, of whom can we understand it but chiefly of their children? II. That, children, yea infant-children of profest believers, Jews or Gentiles were never, since their first admission, debarred by God from the initiating Token of the Covenant of Faith: may thus be cleared. For, 1. When did God debar them? (1) Not in all the Old Testament, from (f) Abraham till the dayes of Christ: Infant-children being all that while Circumcised. (2) Not in all the New Testament: for where's the Prohibition that can be pleaded in bar against them in all the New Testament? The adversaries of Infant-Baptism cannot produce any Divine-Inhibition of Infant-children from the First Covenant-Token, either in expres Terms, or by any just and necessary Consequence, in all the New Testament. They cry, where is Infant-Baptism commanded? Nay rather we say, Infants are (g) by Gods command once put into possession of the initiating Token of the Covenant of Faith: and where hath God ever since dispossessed them? why then should they not keep their possession still, without any New command? 2. How, wherewith, or whereby hath God debarred them? (1) Not by straitning the succesive Covenant-administrations or Priviledges thereof. For, they have been gradually still ſtill more and more enlarged. (2) Not by diſcovenanting of Infant-children of believers. For the New Covenant ſtill declares, that they are Fœderally (h) holy, and that (i) the Promiſe is to them. (3) Not by withdrawing his Covenant-grace from them. For, they are counted Saints, 1 Cor. 7. 14. and Chriſt ſaith, of ſuch is the Kingdom of God, Mark 10. 14. (4) Not by preſcribing any ſtricter Qualifications of children, for their Baptiſm under the New Covenant, then were required in children for their Circumciſion under the Old Covenant. Children deſcended of Fœderate Parents, were, becauſe children of ſuch parents, ſufficiently Qualified for the initiating Sacrament or Firſt Covenant-Token, both under Old, and New Covenant. And though (k) Faith and Repentance be pre-required unto Baptiſm in the New Teſtament; yet theſe preparatory Qualifications are only required in Adult or grown perſons that ſhould be called from Judaiſm or Paganiſm unto the Communion of the Chriſtian Church under the New Covenant, either at the firſt planting of the New-Covenant-Church, or afterwards. But we no where read that Faith and Repentance are pre-required in Infants of profeſt believing parents, as to fit them for their Baptiſm: they being taken into Covenant and admitted to the Firſt token thereof with their parents, as the Jewiſh children were of Old. And for ſtrengthning of this, I deſire the Reader further to obſerve; That he ſhall not finde one Inſtance in all the New Teſtament, of any Infant-child of a Baptized parent that was kept or debarred from Baptiſm till years of Diſcretion, and then upon actual profeſſion of Faith Baptized. (5) Not by reaſon of infant-childrens incapacity for Baptiſm. For, They are every way as capable of Baptiſm, as Jewiſh children were of Circumciſion; And, (l) The Promiſe belongs to children, therefore Baptiſm belongs to them. By none of theſe waies, nor by any other that can be juſtly alledged, are Infant-children of believers excluded or debarred by God from the Initiating Token or Sacrament of the Covenant of Faith, ſince he firſt admitted them thereunto. We may juſtly conclude;

Therefore, The children, The infant-children of profeſt believers, Jews and Gentiles, are a ſort of perſons, that ought ſtill to be admitted to the firſt Token of the Covenant of faith, what ever it be, under all ſorts of enſuing Fœderal Adminiſtrations. And therefore to Baptiſm under the New Covenant.

Argument V. All ſorts of perſons that were Circumciſed before and under the Old Covenant Adminiſtration even until the daies of Chriſt, ought to be baptized under the New Covenant Adminiſtration ſince the daies of Chriſt. This Propoſition and the Sequel thereof, may ſtrongly be confirmed by divers grounds from Scripture. For, 1. The Covenant of God with Abraham, under which (m) Circumciſion was firſt inſtituted; The Sinai-Covenant or Old Covenant, under which (n) it was after continued till the Death of Chriſt; and the New Cove-

Covenant under which Circumcision was abrogated, Acts 15. Gal. 5. 1, 2, 3, 4. and Baptism appointed, John 1. 33. Math. 28. 19. Are but all one Covenant of Faith substantially and essentially; though distinct administrations of that Covenant, differing circumstantially and accidentally, (as I have often shewed) but the latter Administrations being still more compleat and perfect then the former. Now, (1) These Covenants being for substance the same, The Tokens of these Covenants consequently are for substance the same, and The admission of Fœderates to the first Fœderal tokens must be for substance the same: As therefore the Infant-children of Fœderate-Jews were Circumcised, so the Infant-children of Fœderate Jews and Gentiles are to be Baptized. (2) Besides, The New Covenant being more compleat and perfect in all Covenant-priviledges, Infant-children under the New Covenant must needs as fully at least enjoy the initiating Priviledge of Baptism, as the Infant-children before and under the Old Covenant enjoyed the initiating Priviledge of Circumcision. Otherwise the Fœderal Priviledges of ensuing Covenants should not be enlarged, but contracted and abridged: which is utterly repugnant to Gods order of Fœderal administrations. 2. Gods Command, which did formally oblige Abraham to Sign and Seal his infant-children (o) with Circumcision, the initiating Token of the Covenant of Faith under that Administration; doth virtually oblige Christians to Sign and Seal their Infants with Baptism, the initiating Token of the same Covenant of Faith under this New Covenant Administration. And if Christ had not changed the initiating Token from Circumcision to Baptism, we ought still to have Circumcised our Infants. Now though the Token be changed, yet the Covenant is not substantially changed, nor is Gods command of initiating the Infants of Fœderates substantially changed. Therefore God under the former Covenants commanding infants to be Sacramentally Signed and initially Marked, and under the New Covenant appointing Baptism to be that initial Mark or Sign, to all Nations, without any exception at all of infants; the Infants of believers ought now to be Baptized by vertue of that first command, as well as Infants of Fœderates ought then to be Circumcised. As the (p) fourth Commandment requiring A Sabbath to be Sanctified; viz. Any Sabbath which God should appoint; and formally in expreß terms requiring the seventh day of every week to be that Sabbath during the Old Testament-administration; doth virtually require and command us Christians since Christ to Sanctifie the First day of every week for the Sabbath, Christ having changed the particular day from the seventh to the first upon a greater ground, but not abrogated the Substance of the fourth Commandment. 3. Baptism doth clearly succeed in the Room and Stead of Circumcision (q) — In whom also ye are Circumcised with the Circumcision made without hands, in putting off the Body of the sins of the flesh by the Circumcision of Christ; συνταφεντες αὐτῷ ἐν τῷ βαπτισματι, &c. Being Buried together with him in Baptism,

Here (as I have (r) elſewhere ſhewed) Paul diſſwades them from Moſaical Ceremonies, eſpecially from Circumciſion, as needleſs to Chriſtians, becauſe they have in Chriſt a Circumciſion far better, in reſpect of the (1) Author, Chriſt; (2) Manner, Made without hands; (3) Effect, True Sanctification, in putting off the body of the ſins of the fleſh; (4) Viſible ſign, viz. Baptiſm, wherein they are Sacramentally Buried with Chriſt, and Raiſed with Chriſt. That phraſe is much to be noted, —— In whom ye are Circumciſed, —— being Baptized. Whence he gives them to underſtand, That Baptiſm is our Chriſtian Circumciſion; Baptiſm is Chriſts Circumciſion: Chriſt hath appointed Baptiſm inſtead of Circumciſion. And the Analogy or Similitude betwixt them is clear and obſervable. (1) Circumciſion was a Token of the Covenant of Faith, Gen. 17. 7. to 15. So Baptiſm, Mark 16. 15, 16. Math. 28. 19, 20. Acts 2. 38, 39. (2) Circumciſion was the Firſt Token, the initiating token of the Covenant, Gen. 17. 7. to 15. Exod. 12. 48, 49. They muſt firſt be Circumciſed before they might eat the Paſſover: So Baptiſm is the firſt Token, the initiating Token of the Covenant (as (s) I have already proved) they muſt firſt be Baptized, before they may eat the Lords Supper, Acts 2. 41, 42. (3) Circumciſion ſignified and Sealed Regeneration and Sanctification, Deut. 30. 6. Col. 2. 11. Baptiſm alſo ſignifies and Seals the ſame, John 3. 3, 5. Col. 2. 12. Tit. 3. 5. 1 Pet. 3. 21. (4) Circumciſion was only once applyed to particular Perſons: So Baptiſm. (5) Circumciſion ſignified and Sealed the righteouſneſs of Faith in Chriſts blood, Rom. 4. 11. So Baptiſm, Math. 28. 19. Rom. 6. 3, 4, 5, 6. Gal. 3. 26, 27. 1 Pet. 3. 21. So that the Analogy and anſwerable reſemblance betwixt them is very great and palpable. Thus the Propoſition is confirmed.

But the Infant-children of all Fœderate parents Iews or Gentiliſh Proſelites are a ſort of perſons that were Circumciſed before and under the Old Covenant-Adminiſtration, even until the daies of Chriſt. This Aſſumption is undeniably evident in (t) many Scriptures.

Therefore, The Infant-children of all Fœderate parents Iews or Gentiles are a ſort of perſons that ought to be baptized under the New Covenant-Adminiſtration ſince the dayes of Chriſt.

Argument VI. All ſorts of perſons to whom the Mercies, Benefits and bleſſings promiſed in the New Covenant, and Signified in this firſt New-Covenant-Token, Baptiſm, appertain and are communicated, ought to be Baptized. This Propoſition is firm. For, 1. The Apoſtle Peter argues, that Cornelius and his company were to be Baptized, becauſe they had received the New Covenant Mercy promiſed; (u) Can any man forbid water, that theſe ſhould not be Baptized, who have received the Holy Ghoſt as well as we? And elſewhere; (x) Foraſmuch as God gave them the like gifts as he did unto us, what was I that I could could withstand God? And in another place; (y)—If thou believest with all thine heart, thou maist. That is, If thou hast the Faith of the New Covenant, thou maist have the Baptism of the New Covenant. 2. Where God gives the blessings signified, will he not allow the Signs thereof? Shall God give the Inward, Spiritual, Heavenly and most excellent part of Baptism to any: and shall the Outward, Earthly and meanest part of Baptism be withheld from such? Its an Argument (à Majori ad minus) from the greater to the lesser. If God admit to the Greater, he will not exclude from the Lesser. 3. Some of the learnedst (z) Anabaptists confess, That if they knew any Infants to have received the inward Grace, they durst not deny them the outward Sign; and that those particular Infants which Christ took up in his arms and blessed, Mar. 10. might have been baptized.

But the Infant-children of Fœderate parents, Iews or Gentiles, are a sort of Persons to whom the Mercies, Benefits and Blessings promised in the New Covenant, and signified in this first New Covenant-Token, Baptism, appertain and are Communicated. This Assumption is also firm, For, 1. The (a) Promise, confirmed and accomplished by Christ under the New Covenant, is to such children, as well as to their Parents: therefore the promised blessings therein belong to them. 2. Children, even Infant-children of Fœderate parents are Covenant-Saints, Fœderally (b) Holy. And Fœderal Holiness is one benefit of the New Covenant as well as of the Old. 3. Little children, Infant-children may partake all such spiritual Blessings and Benefits belonging to the initiation and being of Christians, as are signified and sealed in Baptism; Whether Regeneration and Sanctification, Iohn 3. 5. Tit. 3. 5. Col. 2. 12. Remission of Sins and Justification, Acts 2. 38. Union to, and Communion with Christ, Gal. 3. 27. Rom. 6. 2, 3, 4, 5. These and such like Spiritual blessings are signified and Sealed (as these Scriptures shew) by Baptism: Now of all these, Little children may be partakers, for as much as Christ tells us; (c) Of such is the Kingdom of God, of such is the Kingdom of Heaven, and therefore he put his hands upon them and blessed them. But without Regeneration, Sanctification, &c. none can enter into, or be members of the Kingdom of Heaven, Iohn 3. 3, 5. Heb. 12. 14. therefore little children, of whom, as well as of grown persons the Kingdom of Heaven is, must needs partake these and all such like New Covenant benefits, fitting them for the Kingdom of God. 4. Should not the Saving benefits and blessings promised in New Covenant, and sealed in Baptism, appertain and be Communicated to the Infant children of Fœderate parents, no such children dying in their Infancy before years of discretion could be saved: which to assert or imagine, were very horrid, unscriptural, and uncharitable. I conclude,

Therefore, The Infant-children of Fœderate parents, Jews or Gentiles, are a sort of persons that ought to be Baptized.

Ar-

Argument VII. All ſorts of Perſons, whom God hath expreſly or virtually commanded to be baptized, ought to be baptized. This Propoſition is evident. For, 1. Gods Command in all parts of his worſhip ought to be obeyed, and obſerved as the Rule of his worſhip. We can have no clearer warrant for any Religious undertaking, then Gods Command. Anabaptiſts will confeſs this. 2. Gods virtual Commands by clear and neceſſary conſequence, are to be obſerved and obeyed, as well as his expreſs commands in ſo many words and ſyllables. Otherwiſe, What warrant have we in the New Teſtament, For Sanctifying a weekly Sabbath; For Obſerving the Firſt day of the week for our Chriſtian Sabbath; For Miniſters preaching twice, viz. Morning and Evening, on the Lords-day-Sabbath; For Womens Participation of the Lords Supper; For publike Collections of Alms on the firſt day of the week; For Obſerving the Laws of Forbidden degrees in Marriage; For Taking an Oath before a Magiſtrate or Otherwiſe, for determining of ſtrife, &c. For we have no expreſs ſyllabical command for theſe and many like things in all the New Teſtament: and yet we hold them ſufficiently warranted and authorized by Gods virtual and implicit Commands laid down in the New Teſtament by good and undeniable Conſequence. 3. The Apoſtle Paul and Barnabas held themſelves obliged, by a meer virtual and implicit command to turn from the Jews and preach to the Gentiles; (d) —Lo, we turn to the Gentiles. For ſo hath the Lord commanded us, ſaying, I have ſet thee to be a light of the Gentiles, that thou ſhouldſt be for ſalvation to the ends of the Earth. Heres an expreſs Promiſe, no Expreſs but only an implicit and virtual command: yet this they held themſelves bound to obey.

(d) Acts 13. 46, 47.

But children, even the Infant-children of Fœderate parents, or of profeſt believers Jews or Gentiles, are a ſort of perſons whom God hath expreſly or virtually commanded to be baptized. This Aſſumption I prove by ſeveral Implicit and virtual Commands of God for Baptizing of ſuch Infant-children. 1. (e) Go diſciple ye all Nations, Baptizing them, &c. Heres Chriſts expreſs formal command for diſcipling and Baptizing of all Nations: and heres Chriſts implicit virtual command for Baptizing the Infant-children of all profeſt believers in all Nations. Unleſs we ſhall deny, Their Infants to be any parts of the Nations, or in any Capacity of being made Chriſts diſciples, Of both which enough (f) formerly. 2. (g) Repent and be baptized every one of you (ſaid Peter to his heart-pricked hearers) —For the Promiſe is to you and to your children, &c. Heres another implicit virtual command for baptizing of their Infant-children. The words I have Analytically explained (h) heretofore. Heres a Command, Repent and be baptized, &c. A Promiſe, and ye ſhall receive, &c. And the ground of both; for the Promiſe is to you and to your children, &c. whence I note theſe three things. (1) That A Right to Baptiſm, and a Duty of being baptized, are Conſequences reſulting from a Covenant-ſtate, and intereſt in the Promiſe.

(f) See in this fourth chap. Inference V. Argument 2.

(g) Acts 2. 38, 39.

(h) In this fourth chap. Inference V. Argument 3.

(2) That, children, even Infant-children, of profeſt believers as well as their parents, have now under the New Covenant a Covenant-ſtate and intereſt in the Promiſe. (3) That, The Promiſe (which is here the ground of Baptiſm) being to children as well as to their Parents, The command of being Baptized equally reacheth to the children and to the parents. 3. Finally, God (i) Commanding Abraham to Sign or mark his Covenant-Seed and Infant-children with the initiating token of the Covenant, Circumciſion; did implicitely and virtually Command us under the New Covenant to Sign our New Covenant-Seed and Infant-children with the initiating token of the New Covenant, Baptiſm. For, (1) The Covenant is ſtill for ſubſtance the ſame, but now under a more perfect Adminiſtration. (2) The Command for an initiating marking of Fœderate children with the Firſt Covenant-Token, ſtill remains unrepealed: only Chriſt hath changed the initiating Covenant-token, from Circumciſion to Baptiſm, from which he hath no where excluded believers Infant-children. (3) And Baptiſm (k) ſucceeds in place of Circumciſion, being moſt analogous thereunto, yet afar excelling it. From all which it is evident, That God expreſly and formally commanding Abraham to Circumciſe his Infant-children, doth implicitely and virtually command us Chriſtians now to Baptize our Infant-children alſo.

(i) Gen. 17. 7. to 15.

(k) Col. 2. 11, 12.

Therefore, children, Infant-children, of profeſt believers, Jews or Gentiles, are a ſort of perſons that ought to be baptized.

By theſe ſeven Arguments (to add no more) I hope it will be evidently clear to all ſober un-pre-engaged judgements: That, As Infant-children of profeſt believers Jews or Gentiles are of the Houſe of Iſrael and Judah, and Fœderates as well as their Parents in this New Covenant: So They ought to be Signed, Marked and Diſtinguiſhed from all others by the Firſt Sacrament, or initiating-Token of the New Covenant, Baptiſm.

Such Objections, as may poſſibly be made againſt theſe or any of theſe Arguments, may eaſily be removed and refelled by what hath been ſaid in Explanation and Confirmation of theſe Arguments.

Hitherto of the Fœderates, or Parties to the New Covenant: viz. God the LORD, on the one hand; Profeſt believers Jews and Gentiles with their children, on the other.

CHAP.

CHAP. V.

Of the Matter, or Substance of the New COVENANT.

THE Substance or Matter of the New Covenant comes next in order under Consideration. Herein the very Marrow and Kernel of the New Covenant is comprized. The Matter of the New Covenant is laid down; (1) Partly, In the Body of the New Covenant, Promised by (m) Jeremiah, and Recited by (n) Paul: (2) Partly, In the Explanations of the Nature of this New Covenant in the Holy Scriptures, especially those of the New Testament: In opening of this Matter of the New Covenant, I shall have recourse to both (as occasion shall require) for the fuller clearing and unfolding thereof: But Primarily to the former, viz. To the Body of the New Covenant, as Promised and Recited; and then Secondarily to such Explanations thereof, as are more Necessary and apposite to Explicate, Illustrate and unfold the same. And this I must be forced unto the rather, because The Matter of the New Covenant is expressed so Concisely in words, but comprehensively in Sense, both by the Prophet and Apostle.

The Matter of the NEW COVENANT is chiefly laid down in the Body of the Covenant. (o) Behold the dayes come, saith the Lord, when (p) I will make a New Covenant with the House of Israel and the House of Judah. Not according to the Covenant that (q) I made with their Fathers in the day when I took them by the hand, to lead them out of the Land of Egypt, because they continued not in my Covenant, and I regarded them not, saith the Lord. For this is the (r) Covenant that I will make with the House of Israel after those dayes, saith the Lord: I will Give my Laws into their Mind, and I will inscribe them upon their Hearts, (καὶ ἐπὶ καρδίας αὐτῶν ἐπιγράψω αὐτούς): And I will be to them for a God (εἰς Θεὸν,) and they shall be to me for a People. And they shall not teach every one his Neighbour, and every one his brother, saying: Know thou the Lord: For all shall know me from the least of them to the greatest of them. For I will be mercifull (ἵλεως ἔσομαι ταῖς ἀδικίαις αὐτῶν) I will be propitiatorily-pacified, or, I will be propitious) to their unrighteousnesses, and their Sins and their transgressions I will remember no more. (οὐ μὴ μνησθῶ ἔτι, I will not remember again, or, any more.) that is, I will never remember them again. In these words, according to the Emphasis and Propriety of the Greek Original, The Matter of the New Covenant is declared to us.

(p) συντελέσω] I will finish, I will perfect, or I will consummate. So properly; very significantly; For by this New Covenant God did perfect, finish and Consummate all his Covenant Administrations. This the last & compleatest of them all
(q) ἐποίησα] I made.
(r) διαθήκην ἣν διαθήσομαι] The Covenant which I will Cov. Or The Covenant which I will dispose. It may have reference both to a Fœderal establishment, and to a Testamentary dispossal. And so it agrees well with this New Covenant, which is a Fœderal Testament or, a Testamentary Covenant.

us. The parallel betwixt the words of Paul and Jeremiah, See in chap. 1.

For the more clear Delineation and Deſcription of the Matter of this New Covenant, I ſhall do three things, viz. 1. I ſhall Analytically explain theſe words briefly. 2. I ſhall lay down (Notanda quædam Generalia) Certain Generals to be noted and diligently obſerved touching the Matter of the New Covenant, as repreſented in this Narrative thereof. 3. Laſtly, I ſhall deſcend to the Unfolding of the Matter of this New Covenant Particularly, Both Promiſed by God to his Fœderates, and Reſtipulated by them unto God. And theſe I ſhall digeſt into three diſtinct Sections.

Section I.

FIRST, As to the brief (f) Analytical Explication of the Apoſtles recited words, Conſider, That

The NEW COVENANT is here ſet forth, with a note of Excellency, and Attention; Behold. And is Deſcribed by the 1. Time, 2. Author, 3. Fœderates, 4. Name, and 5. Nature thereof.

I. By the time when it ſhould be made and eſtabliſhed. The dayes come, ſaith the Lord, when I will make, &c. Heb. 8 9. The Apoſtle alleadgeth this out of Jeremiah: Jeremiah herein prophecied of future dayes, viz. the dayes of Chriſt, when this New Covenant ſhould begin to Commence. Theſe dayes were already actually come and fulfilled in Pauls dayes: Chriſt had ſtabliſhed his New Covenant, Preparatorily by his publike Miniſtry, Compleatly by his Death, Reſurrection, Aſcenſion and Effuſion of his Spirit. As I have (t) formerly evidenced.

II. By the Author, or Efficient Cauſe of it, The Lord;—ſaith the Lord, when I will make a New Covenant, &c. Heb. 8. 9, 10. of this (u) Formerly.

III. By the Fœderates with whom the Lord would make this New Covenaut; With the Houſe of Iſrael, and with the Houſe of Judah, Heb. 8. 9, 10. Even with all Profeſt believers, Jews and Gentiles, and with their children: as I have (x) already proved.

IV. By the Denomination or Name given to this Covenant. —I will make a A NEW COVENANT, Heb. 8. 8. In what ſenſe its called a New Covenant, I have (y) heretofore explained at large: as alſo the Nature of it more Generally.

V. By the Nature of this New Covenant, which is laid down, 1. Negatively, 2. Affirmatively, 1. Negatively, He declares what Manner of Covenant this New Covenant ſhould not be, viz. Not ſuch a Covenant as was the Sinai-Covenant, that old Covenant. Not according to the Covenant that I made with their Fathers, &c. Heb. 8. 9. This New Covenant ſhould not be according to that Covenant, not like like that Covenant, but very different from it, and far before it. In all this Negative the Holy Ghoſt ſeems to have reſpect to the Form and Adminiſtration (of which I ſhall ſpeak when I come to the Form of this New Covenant) Not to the Matter and Subſtance of the New Covenant, which is after laid down in the Affirmative. That this may the better appear, He ſets forth that Old Covenant divers wayes, viz.

(f) See this done, but much more briefly in my Key of the Bible on Hebrews, Sect. VI.

1. By the Author of it; God. —— which I made.
2. By the Fœderates with whom God made it; —— That I made with their Fathers, viz. with the Iſraelites at Mount Sinai, after they were brought out of Egypt.
3. By the time when this old Covenant was made with them: In the day when I took them by the hand to lead them out of the land of Egypt. The word [Day] here is not to be taken properly, preciſely and ſtrictly for the very Day when God brought Iſrael out of Egypt, for in that day this Covenant was not made, but about fifty dayes after: but Synecdochically, for that time that was a time of Gods ſpecial love to their Fathers, Redeeming them ſtrangers from Egypt, Conducting them wonderfully towards Canaan, and by the way bringing them into Covenant with himſelf: and therefore (z) by Gods Commemoration of theſe his great favours and kindneſſes to them, he notably aggravates their unkind Covenant-breaking with him after mentioned.

(z) Tanti beneficii commemoratione, crimen defectionis exaggerat. Joan. Calv. Com. in Heb. 8. 9.

4. By the evill event of this Covenant as to their Fathers, which is given in here as a Reaſon why God would afterwards make a New Covenant: This ill Event is twofold, 1 Their ſinful Breach of this Covenant; Becauſe they continued not in my Covenant. This hath reference, not only to that notorious breach of this Covenant at firſt in the Golden Calf, Exod. 32. but alſo to all their reitered and aggravated Idolatries afterwards till their Captivity in Babylon. They promiſed to do all that God in this Covenant required, Exod. 24. but they knew not their own weakneſs and the Lawes exactneſs. They attained not to Gods righteouſneſs, becauſe they ſought it as it were by the deeds of of the Law. This Covenant required Duty, but furniſhed them not with Ability, &c. So that, this Covenant becoming faulty, defective and inſufficient, through their infirmity and faultineſs, this was one Cauſe why there was place ſought for the Second Covenant. Heb. 8. 7, 8. This Firſt Covenant becoming ſo weak, unprofitable and ineffectual to them, Heb. 7. 18, 19. 2. Gods juſt diſpleaſure and judgement upon them for this Breach of Covenant; And I regarded them not, ſaith the Lord. Under Gods diſregard of them, all ſorts of puniſhments, judgements and afflictions that afterwards came upon them for their Idolatries and breach of Covenant with God from Generation to Generation, are comprized. The Hebrew phraſe in Jeremiah is somewhat different from this of the Greek: Although I was an husband to them. Or, should I have continued an husband to them? Both, our Translation. But the Hebrew ואנכי בעלתי בם is better rendred by Pagnin and Montanus, Et ego dominatus sum in eos, And I Lorded it over them, that is, (a) I used my Husbandly and Lordly authority over them, and so misregarded them. For this phrase, the LXX have, καγὼ ἠμέλησα αὐτῶν and I disregarded them: which the Apostle also follows, Heb. 8. 9. So then, Gods Lordly and Husbandly Authority not only obligeth to Covenant-keeping, but also afflicteth for Covenant-breaking. And, when God puts forth his authority against Covenant-breakers, he disregards them, counts them as not in Covenant with him: which disregard from God, comprizeth in it as it were all sorts of Gods judgements. Thus, though the phrases in Ieremiah and Paul differ, yet the Sense agrees.

(a) D. Dickson on Heb. 8. 9.

2. Affirmatively and Positively, He shews what this New Covenant should be. For this is the Covenant that I will make with the House of Israel, after those dayes, saith the Lord, Heb 8. 10. The words import a surpassing eminency and excellency in this New Covenant, beyond what was in the Old. (b) For this is the Covenant: The expression in the Hebrew and Greek is very emphatical. But what is this Covenant? Or wherein doth the Nature and Matter of it Consist? Principally in four exceeding great and precious Promises of God laid down here altogether, Heb. 8. 10, 11, 12. viz. Here God promiseth,

(q) בזאת הברית ὅτι αὕτη ἡ διαθήκη

1. His Donation and inscription of his Laws in their inwards, Mind and Hearts. I will give my Laws into their Mind, and write them upon their Hearts, Heb. 8. 10. I will give my Law into their inward-part, and upon their Heart will I write it, Jer. 31. 33. Here note, 1. The Agent, God; I will give, I will inscribe—. 2. The Act twofold, Giving: I will give.—— Inscribing: I will inscribe——. 3. The Object of this Act, about which this act shall be exerted and put forth, Gods Laws: My Laws Distributively, as Paul hath it. My Law collectively, as Ieremiah hath it. Both importing the same thing, viz. Gods Moral-Law especially, formerly written in Stony Tables; and the whole word of God Generally, wherein the Moral Law is expounded. The Moral Law is the Abridgement of the word of God: The word of God is the explanatory Enlargement of the Moral Law. 4. The Subject whereinto this Law of God shall be given, and wherein it shall be written by God: In their Mind, or (c) Inward-part: The mind being most inward: and in their Hearts. That, denoting, The Understanding: This, The Will and Affections.

(c) Hebr. בקרבם This word קרב is significant. Medium, venter, Sic appellatus, quod sit in medio corporis; & Metaphorice nonnunquam Cogitatio. Sic appellatur quicquid est propinquissimum & intimum, ut Cor, & exta, ac viscera; unde ad mentem & Cogitationem humani cordis, quæ in homine intima est, significandam tranfertur sicut & autor epist. ad Hebr. vertit διάνοιαν. Pagnin. Thesaur. ad verb.

2. The great Fœderal Relation, Union, Communion and Interest betwixt God and his Fœderates reciprocally. And will be unto them them for a God, and they shall be to me for a people, Heb 8. 10. viz. I will be to them All, whatsoever, a God can be, or can need to be, to his Covenant-people: and they shall be to me All, whatsoever, a people in Covenant can or should be to their God. I will, —— They shall: —— God here promiseth both, undertakes for both: for himself, and for his Fœderates. O sweet and blessed New Covenant!

3. His Fœderate peoples more excellent & more universal knowledge of the LORD, then formerly under the Old Covenant. This hath in it two things, viz. 1 The surpassing excellency of the New Covenant knowledge of the Lord, beyond that of the Old, And they shall not teach every one his neighbour, and every one his brother, saying, know the Lord, Heb. 8. 11. The word [Not] here, is not a Simple and Absolute Negative, as if hereby the New Covenant excluded all Humane Teaching; For thats most repugnant to New Covenant Doctrine, as ([d]) elsewhere I have shewed; and shall afterwards farther manifest: But it is rather a Comparative (as its divers times used in Scripture, See Iohn 9. 41. 1 Cor. 1. 17.) importing, That the former teaching under the Old Covenant should be comparatively as no teaching at all, as nothing to the Divine Teaching of Gods Fœderates under his New Covenant. Then they were taught the Elements, first principles and A B C of Divine Knowledge, as a people in Minority: but now Gods Fœderates shall be instructed in the abstruse and more perfect Mysteries of God, as a people in Maturity. Under the New Covenant, The Divine Revelation is more clear and compleat, The Donation of the Spirit, more full, and proportionably the Spiritual illumination of their mindes more perfect and accurate. 2. The Generality of this knowledge of the Lord among all sorts under the New Covenant; For all shall know me from the least of them to the greatest of them, Heb. 8. 11. God will indifferently illuminate small and great: One as well as the other must be beholding to him herein. Some particular persons under the New Covenant may be grosly ignorant, through natural Incapacity or want of Ministerial Instruction, or contempt of the New Covenant, but here the Holy Ghost intends the ([e])whole New Covenant-dispensation, which generally shall introduce such a Knowledge of the Lord as the Generality of Fœderates never had under the Old Covenant. Now this promise, though it have wonderful accomplishments under the New Covenant, yet shall not have (as ([f]) Pareus well advertiseth) its plenary accomplishment till we come to Heaven, when we shall all be perfectly taught of God, being beyond all humane Instruction publick and private, when we shall know as we are known, and see God as he is, 1 Cor. 13. 12. 1 Iohn 3. 2, 3.

4. Finally, God promiseth (as a foundation, ground or cause of all

([f]) Tertia Promissio: cujus complementum etsi futuræ vitæ reservatur; quando omnes erimus perfecti θεοδίδακτοι, nec opus erit Ministerio publico vel institutione privata; sed omnes intuebimur Deum sicuti est; tamen etiam in hac vita illustria futuri complementi initia & incrementa præstantur Ecclesiæ novæ; quoniam non ut olim paucis, sed pluribus; uno omnibus Ecclesiæ civibus Deus luculenter in Christo se patefecit. all the former Benefits,) His own gratuitous Propitiousneſs in Chriſt to them in the utter Remiſſion and Oblivion, Forgiving and forgetting all ſorts of their ſins; For I will be propitiouſly-merciful to their unrighteouſneſſes, and their ſins and their tranſgreſſions will I remember no more, Heb. 8. 12. Here note, 1. The Agent or Author of this Benefit, God; I will be propitiouſly merciful, I will not remember —— God alone is the God of Pardons, Neh. 9. 17. Who can forgive ſins like him? Mich. 7. 18. or beſides him? Mark 2. 7. Luke 5. 21. Pardon of ſin is Gods peculiar Prerogative. 2. The Act of grace expreſſed in two phraſes, viz. (1) I-will-be-propitiouſly-merciful, ἵλεως ἔσομαι. The Greek word, (as alſo the Hebrew word, סלח Ier. 31. 34.) denotes ſuch a mercy in God as hath reſpect to Chriſts Propitiation, propitiatory expiation of, and Satisfaction for ſin; who is called ἱλασμὸς A Propitiation for our Sins, &c. 1 Joh. 2. 2. And ἱλαστήριον A Propitiatory, or Mercy-ſeat, Rom. 3. 25. Whoſe offering up of himſelf once was ſo ſatisfactory to God, that it was an odour of a ſweet ſmell to God, Eph. 5. 2. And that thereby he hath for ever perfected them that are ſanctified, Heb 10. 13, 14. (2) I will not remember again, οὐ μὴ μνησθῶ ἔτι. That is, I will never remember again to them, ſo as to impute them to them. I will forgive and forget. I will paſs an Act of utter Oblivion upon them for ever. This is Gods free Pardoning and Remiſſion of ſin in and for Chriſts Meritorious Satisfaction. 3. The Object about which this Act of Grace ſhall be exerciſed: which is expreſſed by two Hebrew words, viz. עונם Guavonam, ſignifying properly, Perverſeneſſes, crookedneſſes, perverſe-iniquities, &c. And חטאתם Chattatham, properly Errors, Stray-ſins, wherein they miſs the mark: both theſe are in Ier. 31. 34. But this Object is expreſſed in three words in the Greek, ἀδικίας, ἁμαρτιῶν, ἀνομιῶν, which properly ſignifie, Unrighteouſneſſes, Sinful-Errors, Unlawfulneſſes. The words are very comprehenſive, they take in all ſorts of ſins whatſoever: God will forgive and forget them all. 4. The Connexion of this Promiſe to the Promiſes foregoing, in the Cauſal particle, ὅτι, For, Becauſe. This lets us know, That Gods gratuitous Mercy in purging away and pardoning all the ſins of his people in Chriſt, is the foundation of all the fore-Covenanted Benefits.

Thus I have Analytically explained in brief the words wherein The NEW-COVENANT is deſcribed to us both by Jeremiah and Paul, Oh! How Significant, How Comprehenſive, How Emphatical, How Proper and ſuitable, How ſweet and Comfortable are theſe words for a New Covenant expreſſure! Hence we ſhall eaſily borrow much light for the clearing of all enſuing Particulars.

SECT.

Section II.

Secondly, As for those Generals to be noted and observed diligently, in this Narrative or Description of the NEW COVENANT by the Prophet and Apostle, touching the Matter or Substance of this New Covenant, I shall clearly and briefly represent them in this ensuing Aphorism.

In General, touching the Matter of the New Covenant, as here described by the Prophet Jeremiah and the Apostle Paul, we are diligently to note and observe these things, viz. 1. That, The matter of the New Covenant is here set forth very compendiously in words, but most comprehensively in sense. 2. That, The whole matter of the New Covenant is represented only in Promises. 3. That, All these New Covenant-Promises, in their express terms, run wholly upon Spirituals. 4. That, These New Covenant-Promises have a sweet Harmony and Correspondency with the Priesthood, Prophecy and Kingship of Christs Mediatory office: In actual performance of which Promises to us, we also are made unto God Priests, Prophets and Kings by Jesus Christ. 5. That, The Matter of the New Covenant is so contrived in these Promises, as may sufficiently remove all the principal Doubts, Discouragements and Objections which either a bleeding heart-wounded Sinner, Or a distressed Saint, may make against his Salvation. 6. That, These New Covenant Promises are so expressed, as virtually to contain in them the Agreement and Difference betwixt the Old and New Covenant, yea the preheminencies of the New above the Old. 7. That, All these New Covenant Promises are wholly grounded upon the meer grace and good pleasure of Gods will in Jesus Christ alone.

I shall a little explain these seven Generals, because the right and clear understanding of them is very Necessary and Advantagious to the true understanding of the NEW COVENANT.

I. That, The Matter of the New Covenant is here set forth very Compendiously in words, but most comprehensively in sense. This was one excellency of the Old Covenant promulged at Mount Sinai by God himself, That it comprized all duties of Religion towards God, and Righteousness towards man, in (g) Ten words, or Ten sayings: Proportionably this is a great excellency of the New Covenant, That it comprehendeth all saving Mercies and blessings from God to his Fœderates, and all answerable duties of his Fœderates to him, in four sententious Sayings, in four precious Promises. The words are very few, But the meaning much. Mountains of Sense, under Mole-hils of Sentences. These Sentences are but as four drops: The Senſe under them is as a very Sea. The very firſt Article comprizeth in it the whole Law of God, not only the Letter, but the Spirit of the Law; (h) I will give my Laws into their minde, &c. Who then can ſadom what is comprized in all the reſt?

(g) Heb. הדברים Deut. 4. 13.

(h) Heb. 8. 10.

(i) Heb. 8. 10, 11, 12.

1. Here, we have, A ſecret and Myſterious (i) Diſcovery of the bleſſed co-operation of Father, Son and Holy Ghoſt to the Felicity of the New Covenant Fœderates, Iews and Gentiles. The Father Promiſing pardon of their ſins, for the Sons expiation of them, whereby the wrath of God is pacified, Heb. 8. 12. The Holy Ghoſt effectually applying Chriſt in the Renovation, Heb. 8. 10.

(k) Heb. 8. 10, 12.

2. Here, we have the (k) meer free-grace of God and good-pleaſure of his will diſplayed, as the prime Original and fundamental Cauſe of all the Fœderal happineſs here promiſed.

(l) Heb. 8. 10, 11, 12.

3. Here, The Mediatory office of Jeſus Chriſt is tacitly implyed, in the proper and peculiar (l) fruits of his Prieſthood, Prophecy and Kingſhip: viz. Remiſsion of Sins, wrought by his Prieſthood; Knowledge of the Lord, by his Prophecy; and conformity of Minde and Heart to the Law of God, by his Kingſhip.

(m) Heb. 8. 10, 11.

4. Here, The plentiful donation and effuſion of the Spirit upon all ſorts Jews and Gentiles is diſcovered: by the many (m) effects of the Spirit upon their Minds, Wills and Hearts here promiſed.

(n) Heb. 8. 10, 11, 12.

5. Here, The ſacred knot of Saving Benefits and Spiritual bleſsings in heavenly things in Chriſt is aſſured to the Fœderates: viz. (n) Conviction, Illumination, Converſion, Regeneration, Effectual vocation, Sanctification, Conformity to Gods Law, Cordial ſincerity, Adoption into the number of Gods people and children, Juſtification, Union and Communion with God; and Conſequently all good things for the life preſent, and all Glory for the life to come. What is not promiſed, when God himſelf is promiſed?

(o) Heb. 8. 10, 11, 12.

6. Here, Conſequently, all anſwerable (o) New Covenant Duties, Diſpoſitions, Inclinations, Affections, Endeavours, Actions, Deportments and Performances of theſe Fœderates towards God, are virtually, yet vigorouſly enjoyned.

7. Here, Finally, in few words are couched all Neceſſaries to ſinners happineſs and eternal Salvation.

II. That, The whole Matter of the New Covenant is repreſented here only in Promiſes. This New Covenant is ſo Deſcribed by Ieremiah and Paul, that the Matter and Subſtance thereof is ſet forth in nothing but Promiſes. Mark it well; Here's not one Threatning expreſſed: Not one Commandment or Precept expreſſed: but all that is expreſſed is only Promiſes. It runs all upon Promiſes, it conſiſts all in Promiſes; This New Covenant is a knot, a bundle of Promiſes, a rich chain or jewel made up of nothing but Promiſes. Here are four grand Articles of Promiſes: and thats all all the Matter and Substance of the New Covenant here expressed. No wonder, that the New Covenant is said to be (p) established upon Promises: for we finde it in nothing else. All the New Covenant Mercies and Blessings which God stipulates to his Fœderates, And all the New Covenant Duties which his Fœderates restipulate and condition with God; they are all digested into Promises, contained in Promises, and to be extracted out of Promises, either formally or virtually, Directly or Consequentially, Explicitly or Implicitly. Yea all New Covenant Duties required or restipulated, are proportionably to be collected from New Covenant-mercies promised. All our Duties, as well as Gods Mercies are founded in his Promises. God promiseth his Fœderates shall Generally know the Lord; proportionably it is their Duty to know God. God promiseth many blessings; proportionably its their Duty to believe these Promises: The Promises and Faith are Relatives. God promiseth Remission and Obliteration of all their sins; proportionably they are to Repent of these sins, and accept that promised Remission by Faith. God promiseth to write his Laws in their Hearts; proportionably it is their Duty to love and observe sincerely the Laws of God in newness of life. God promiseth he will be their God, they shall be his people; proportionably its their Duty to accept him, and demean themselves every way towards him, as to their God, and wholly to devote and resign up themselves to in him soul and body, in life and death as his people. O what an admirable dispensation of grace is this! That all our Duties should flow from Gods Blessings, all Gods Blessings from his Promises; and all his Promises from the meer Grace and good pleasure of his will in Jesus Christ! Who can sufficiently value this New Covenant Administration in this regard? For, (p) Heb. 8. 10, 11, 12. Ier. 31. 33, 34.

(q) Heb. 8. 6.

1. Hence, How far doth this New Covenant excell the Old! The (r) Old Covenant ran chiefly upon Precepts and Commands, requiring Duties from the Fœderates: This New Covenant runs altogether upon Promises, Imparting Mercies & Blessings to the Fœderates.

(r) Exod. 20. 1. to 18. Deut. 5, 1. to 22.

2. Hence, God in this New Covenant affords Ability, as well as requires Duty. He requires Duty only implicitly and virtually; But he assures of Ability for that Duty expresly and formally; yea he first assures them of Ability, before he calls for any Duty. This is a sweet dispensation indeed, according to which all our Duties take their first Rise from Gods Mercies. It was not thus in the Old Covenant Dispensation; there was much Duty required, little Ability promised or afforded, but in case of failing the dreadful Curse denounced. Hereupon (s) the Apostle, entring a parallel betwixt that Old and this New Ministration of Gods Covenant, highly prefers this before that in many particulars: two whereof are observable here, viz. 1. That Old, was a Ministration of the Letter: this New, A Ministration of the Spirit. That is, In that Old Covenant there was a strict Law promulged by God, written in Tables of stone, and repeated by Moses, there was Precept upon Precept,

(s) 2 Cor. 3. 6. to the end. See my Key of the Bible on that chapt. §. V.

Commandment upon Commandment, but there was not any inward ability, inclination, diſpoſition or aptneſs promiſed for the performance of theſe Commands. All this was but a Miniſtration of the Letter, a dead, liveleſs, ſpiritleſs Miniſtration. But In this New Covenant heres ability, fitneſs and diſpoſedneſs to perform Gods Law; heres a Law within the heart anſwering to that Law without, inclining and enabling to obſerve and perform: heres the Spirit of the Law as well as the Letter. This is a Miniſtration of the Spirit.

(t) 2 Cor. 3. 7, 9.

2. That old, was a (t) Miniſtration of Death and Condemnation: This New, A Miniſtration of Life and Righteouſneſs. That is, the Old Covenant holding forth many ſtrict Commandments, and a ſevere curſe in caſe of failing, but giving no ability or ſufficiency to the performance, diſcovers mans Sin, together with his deſerved Death and Condemnation: ſo it terrifies him, fights with him, condemns him, kills him; Thus it is a Miniſtration of Death and condemnation. Thus, (u) its all clothed with fire, fils with terrour and amazement; ſo that Iſrael was affrighted and fled back, and Moſes himſelf did exceedingly fear and quake. The fault is not in the Law, which is a perfect Rule: but in the (x) infirmity of our fleſh, we are not able to keep it. As a brittle glaſs or potſheard daſhed againſt a Rock, is broken: the fault is not in the Rock, a Rock ſhould be hard and ſtrong, but the glaſs or potſheard is weak. On the other hand, this New Covenant diſcovers to us a way of ſatisfying Divine juſtice and fulfilling the Law by the Death and Obedience of our Surety Jeſus Chriſt, for all our tranſgreſſions againſt the Law, ſo that theſe tranſgreſſions ſhall not be imputed to us, but Chriſts righteouſneſs, Heb. 8. 12. It alſo aſſures of an inward principle and ability by the inſcription of the Law in our hearts, whereby (y) the righteouſneſs of the Law may in uprightneſs be fulfilled in us who walk not after the fleſh but after the ſpirit. Thus its a Miniſtration of Life and Righteouſneſs.

(u) Heb. 12. 18, 19, 20, 21. with Exod. 20. 18. to the end.

(x) Rom. 8. 3.

(y) Rom. 8. 4.

3. Hence, In this New Covenant God in effect undertakes all: not only for himſelf, but for his Fœderates alſo; He will, and They ſhall. In the Old Covenant, God undertook his part, Iſrael their part: but in this New Covenant God undertakes both parts; his own, that he will perform ſuch Mercies; his Fœderates, that they ſhall perform ſuch Duties; Why? Becauſe he hath digeſted and moulded this New Covenant only into Promiſes, which formally aſſures of Mercies from God, virtually aſſures of Duties from us, which derives all our Duties from Promiſed Mercies and Abilities. In all other Covenants betwixt Husband and Wife, Maſter and Servant, Man and Man, Nation and Nation, each party undertakes only for himſelf: but this Covenant of God is herein altogether ſingular and extraordinary, that God undertakes all both for himſelf and his Fœderates. O this is a ſweet foundation of comfort to us againſt all our infirmities, frailties, inſufficiencies and failings; that though we can do nothing, God will do all. Let God enable us to do what he commands; mands; and then let him command us what he pleaseth.

4. Hence, In all our Defects, Impotencies, Inabilities, &c. unto Spiritual performances, as Repentance, Mortification of sin, vivification of Grace, New Obedience, Walking with God in Communion, Self-resignation, &c. we see here whither to have recourse for supplies: viz. To the Promises, and promised Mercies in this New Covenant. Here God undertakes for our Ability: He hath implyed and wrapped up all our strength and sufficiency in his Promised Mercies. Therefore we must not think to subdue this sin, to increase this grace, to dispatch this duty, &c. upon our own interest, by our own endeavours, resolutions, wrestlings, &c. but we must go to work upon Gods interest, upon his Promise-interest in this New Covenant. Lord, thou hast undertaken for me in thy New Covenant; I have no power against all these strong lusts and corruptions, &c. but mine eyes are to thee, I rest on thee, do thou perform all for me.

5. Hence, Faith is of greatest importance and necessity for extracting all Influences from the New Covenant, and appropriating them to our selves. All our Salvation and Happiness is contained in this New Covenant; All this New Covenant is contained in Promises, and nothing but Promises; Gods Mercies are promised expressly, Our Duties are promised in those Mercies virtually and implicitly: Now wherewithall shall we extract all the vertue, strength and sweetness from these Promises, and make all our own, but only by Faith? (z) What the Law of Works commands by Threatning, the Law of Faith obtains by believing. Faith is the hand, whereby we milk these Promises, Faith is the Arms, whereby we clasp and (a) embrace these Promises; Faith is the mouth, whereby we suck the breasts of these Promises; Faith is the bucket, whereby we draw waters out of these wells of the Promises; Faith will reach though this well be deep; In a word, Faith is the spiritual Fire whereby we extract the celestial Spirits and Quintescence of these Promises. If this New Covenant were laid down in Threatnings and Menaces only, then Fear and Trembling would be of chief use: If it were set forth in Precepts and Commandments only, Then Love and Obedience would be of chief use: But sith its represented in Promises only, therefore Faith, the daughter of the Promises is of chief use. Bring Faith to these Promises, and then take all thats in these Promises: and I am sure thats enough. Faith was of principal necessity and utility in all Covenant-expressures since the Fall: but most eminently in this New Covenant, which is all Promises, yea comparatively (b) Faith (the Doctrine of Faith, of Life and Righteousness by Faith, &c.) is not said to come, or to be revealed, till this New Covenant came and was revealed. Before, Faith did but sparkle like a twinkling star: but now Faith shines out gloriously like the Sun.

III. That, All these New Covenant Promises in their express terms, run only upon Spirituals. View all these Articles and bundles of Promises, heres not one express Promise about about Temporals, about the Outward good things of this preſent life: but every of them is about Spirituals. I know, That all the good things of this life are virtually, implicitly and conſequentially included in Spirituals, as the leſſer in the Greater; but here's no expreſs mention of any thing but only of Spirituals, viz. of (c) The Knowledge of God, The Law in the Heart, The Covenant intereſt in God, The Remiſſion of ſins, &c. Temporals are too low a Subject for the New Covenant to inſiſt upon and be expreſſive in: it delights to ſoar aloft towards Heaven, and to raiſe up the Church (now (d) come to ripeneſs and Maturity) from things below to things above, from Carnals to Spirituals, from periſhables to eternals.

(c) Heb. 8. 10, 11, 12.

(d) Gal. 4. 1, 2, 3.

1. Hence, The New Covenant is deſervedly ſaid to be (e) eſtabliſhed upon Better Promiſes, viz. upon Better Promiſes then the Old Covenant was ſtabliſhed upon. Why? For this Reaſon eſpecially; Becauſe The Old Covenant did principally run upon Promiſes of outward and Temporal Bleſſings, as (f) The inheritance of the Land of Canaan, long life there, honor, wealth, peace and all outward proſperity there, &c. Now and then there were ſome few drops of Spiritual Promiſes ſparingly ſprinkled among them, but the main ſtream of the Promiſes ran upon Temporals: But here the whole current of the New Covenant runs only upon Spirituals. That, was a more Carnal, This, a more Spiritual Covenant: That, had more of earth in it, This, more of Heaven: That, bred low earth-creeping Principles, This, breeds ſublime high heaven-aſpiring Principles. The old Covenant-people were happier then all other people, but the New-Covenant-people far happier then the Old Covenant-people.

2. Hence, As the New Covenant Promiſes, for the expreſs terms thereof, were wholly of Spirituals: So the New Covenant Fœderates proportionably ſhould tend chiefly (yea if it were poſſible, only) to Spirituals. Shall the New Covenant be only Spiritual; and ſhall the Covenanters be only Carnal? Shall the New Covenant be only above; and ſhall the Covenanters be only below? Shall the New Covenant be all for Heaven; and ſhall the Covenanters be all for Earth? When we come to the New Covenant, whither are we come? To a touchable Sinai, to a viſible fire, to an earthly Canaan, to an earthly Jeruſalem? &c. No, No. (u) We are come unto Mount Sion; And unto the City of the living God, the Heavenly Jeruſalem; And to an innumerable company of Angels; To the General aſſembly and Church of the Firſt-born, which are enrolled in Heaven; And to God, the judge of all; And to the Spirits of juſt men made perfect; And to Jeſus the Mediator of the New Covenant: And to the blood of ſprinkling, that ſpeaketh better things then that of Abel. Behold, all things here are Sublime, Spiritual, Heavenly: And ſhall not we be elevated? ſhall not we be Spiritualized by all this Fœderal Spirituality? Hath God underſtand by this New Covenant diſpenſation, (x) Quickned us together with Chriſt, and Raiſed us up together, and made us ſit together in Heavenly places in Christ Jesus: and shall not we be elevated above this earth; shall not we (y) seek and set our affections on things above? Shall not we (z) have our Conversation, (our πολίτευμα whole business) in Heaven? Oh! Let our Minds, Wills, and Affections be all Spiritual; Let our Inward furniture, Principles and Dispositions, be all Spiritual; Let our Thoughts, Words, and Actions be all Spiritual; Let our Designs, Tendencies and Intentions be all Spiritual: Let us be wholly swallowed up with Spirituality. Then shall we be Covenanters Answerable to this New Covenant and Promises thereof, which are wholly Spiritual.

IV. That, These New Covenant-Promises have a sweet Harmony and correspondency with the Priesthood, Prophecy and King-ship of Christs mediatory Office; In actual performance of which Promises to us, we also are made unto God Priests, Prophets and Kings by Jesus Christ. The greatest and most eminent publike blessings which God in ancient time was pleased to conferr upon his Church and people, were most usually imparted to them by Priests, Prophets and Kings, those three renowned sorts of officers. By a (a) Priest and a King Melchizedeck, was Abraham the Father of all the Faithfull blessed. By A Priest, (b) A Prophet, and A King was Israel brought out of Ægypt; conducted through the Red-Sea on Dry ground; espoused to God at Mount Sinai by Covenant; Governed as a Church in the wilderness, and as the Commonwealth of God, by administration of Morals, Ceremonials and Judicials: and led as a flock through the wilderness, (c) by the hand of Moses and Aaron: (d) Aaron being Priest, and Moses both Priest, Prophet and King in Jesurun. By (e) a Priest and a King was Israel brought to inherit the land of Canaan, and it was divided to them by Lot: even by Eleazar the Priest, and Joshuah the successor of Moses, who was a mighty Prince in Israel. By (f) Priests were all the Affairs of Religion mannaged in the Tabernacle and Temple from the dayes of Moses till the Death of Christ. By the (g) Prophets and Prophetical persons were all the Holy Scriptures revealed from God, and recorded for the Church. By (h) Kings and Kingly Rulers was the Common-wealth of Israel guided and governed till Shiloh came. Now all these and such like dispensations were but Types and shadows of better things in Christ: who is the Priest of Priests, The Prophet of Prophets, The King of Kings: By whose Mediatory Priesthood, Prophecy, and Kingship, All sorts and degrees of blessings and Mercies are Procured, Revealed and effectually Applied to his Church and people for their Happiness in this and in the world to come.

This profound and excellent Mysterie is very obsevably suggested to us in this Body of the New Covenant and Promises thereof. For. I. The Mercies here Promised are such, and so answerable to these Mediatory offices of Christ, that we may evidently conclude them to be the proper fruits and effects of his Priesthood, Prophecy, and Kingſhip, viz. 1. Remiſſion of ſins, upon pacifying of God for them: promiſed in the fourth Article, Heb 8.12. Is the proper fruit of his Prieſthood. 2. The ſupernatural and ſaving Knowledge of the Lord promiſed in the third Article, Heb. 8.11. is the proper effect of his Prophecy. 3. The powerfull conforming of our hearts to the will of God in all things, by his inſcribing of his Laws in our inwards, Mind, and Hearts, efficaciouſly applying his Graces and benefits to the Soul, promiſed in the firſt Article, Heb. 8.10. Is the proper Influence of his Kingly Office. 4. And The Fœderal Relation, Intereſt, Union and Communion betwixt God and his New Covenant Fœderates reciprocally, which is promiſed in the ſecond Article, Heb. 8.10. Is the Common and bleſſed Reſult of all theſe three together, viz. of his Prieſthood, Prophecy and Kingſhip. Thus in the Matter of the New Covenant, as here expreſſed, we have an obſervable Idea, Model or Repreſentation of Chriſts Mediatory Office in all the three Primary branches thereof. II. Theſe Promiſed New Covenant Mercies, being actually performed to us, do alſo imprint an Holy Image and reſemblance of all Chriſts offices upon us, So that we alſo are made unto our God Prieſts, Prophets and Kings, by Jeſus Chriſt. The character and print of theſe offices is engraven upon us: when once this Matter of the New Covenant is actually applied to us, and effectually fulfilled in us. For,

1. When Chriſt, as our great High-prieſt, (i) hath waſhed us from our ſins in his own blood, and purged our Conſciences from dead works to ſerve the living God, having forgiven us all our treſpaſſes, Heb. 8.12. He makes us Kings and Prieſts, or a Royal Prieſthood to our God, to offer up Spiritual Sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jeſus Chriſt. 2. When Chriſt as our Prophet hath brought us ſavingly to know the Lord, Heb. 8.11. He makes us alſo Prophets, by giving us an (k) Annointing that teacheth us all things neceſſary to ſalvation, whereby we are alſo enabled to teach and inſtruct others. 3. When Chriſt as our King hath ſubdued our Minds and hearts ſo far as to make them Conform and anſwerable to his Law, Heb. 8.10. Thereby he makes us alſo Spiritual (l) Kings, to Rule over and Subdue our Corruptions more and more, and Conquer our Spiritual enemies.

1. Hence, The Matter of the New Covenant, theſe Spiritual Promiſes are an excellent glaſs wherein we may ſee the beauteous face of our Mediatour Chriſt Jeſus, and an excellent Map delineating forth unto us his Officers of Mediatourſhip: yea the vigour, force and Efficacy of thoſe offices. What greater diſcovery can we have of their excellency and efficacy, then 1. In the fruits and effects thereof upon us, Remitting our Sins, as a Prieſt: Making us know the Lord, as a Prophet: and writing his Laws in our Minds and Hearts, as a King, Heb. 8.10, 11, 12. 2. In transforming us hereby into the Similitude of his offices, to become Prieſts, Prophets and Kings by him unto our God. All the expreſſures of the Covenant of Faith, were as ſo many Draughts and Pourtraytures of IESUS CHRIST. The

Firſt

First Covenants with Adam and Abraham, declare his Natures: viz. That he ſhould be man, expreſly: (m) The Seed of the woman — The Seed of Abraham: That he is God, implicitly: being able to Bruiſe the Serpents head, and to bleſs all the Nations of the earth. The After Covenants with Iſrael, David and the Captives, declare his Offices of Prieſthood, Prophecy and Kingſhip: His Prieſthood, under the Type of Aaron's: His Prophecy, under the type of Moſes: and his Kingſhip, under the type of David's. But this New Covenant with Jews and Gentiles, declares the Influences, vertues and efficacy of all theſe his Offices of Prieſthood, Prophecy and Kingſhip, In Remiſſion of Sins and Juſtification, In knowledge of the Lord and ſupernaturall illumination, In Converſion, Regeneration and Sanctification. So that, as Jeſus Chriſt and his Mediation can never be rightly underſtood wirhout the ſound knowledge of the Covenants of Faith, eſpecially of this New Covenant: So no expreſſures of the Covenant of Faith, leaſt of all this New Covenant, can ever be judiciouſly underſtood without the ſolid knowledge of Ieſus Chriſt and his Mediation.

(m) Gen. 3. 15. & 12. 2, 3. & 27. 18.

2. Hence, The Effects of Chriſts offices applyed unto us, and Conforming us according to our Meaſure unto Chriſt, are ſingular Evidences of our Good New-Covenant-State. For, The Spiritual Mercies Promiſed in this New Covenant, are the Proper or Common effects of Chriſts Prieſthood, Prophecy and Kingſhip. When therefore Jeſus Chriſt is become our Prieſt, our Prophet, and our King actually: Then we are become Gods New Covenant Fœderates, not formally but effectually. Hereby then let us examine, whether we have a ſaving intereſt in the New Covenant.

V. That, The Matter of the New Covenant is ſo contriued in theſe Promiſes, as it may moſt ſweetly and ſufficientlyremove all the principall Doubts, Diſcouragements and Objections, which either a Bleeding heart-wounded Sinner, or a Diſtreſſed Saint, may make againſt his own Salvation. For better clearing of this particular, which is of very great Conſequence, I deſire theſe three things may be ſeriouſly conſidered, viz. I. That, When God Converts a Sinner to himſelf, Moſt uſually he prepares the Sinner for that great work of Converſion by previous Conviction of his Mind and Conſcience of his Sin and Miſery, and Contrition of Heart and Spirit for that Sin and Miſery; So that the heart is wounded deeply and bleeds exceedingly. He firſt (n) breaks the Heart: Then binds up the broken hearted, He firſt Captivates the Soul, and brings it into a ſpiritual Priſon or dungeon under chains of guilt and horrour: Then he proclaims liberty to the Captives, and the opening of the priſon to them that are bound, and the acceptable year (even the ſpiritual Jubilee-year) of the LORD: He firſt makes him mourn, and fills him with a ſpirit of Heavineſs; And then appoints to him that mourns in Sion, to give unto him beauty for aſhes, the oyl of joy for mourning, the garments of praiſe for the ſpirit of heavineſs. He firſt (o) burdens the ſoul; and then gives Eaſe and Reſt of Soul to the weary and heavy laden. He firſt (p) pricks him in the heart; and then brings him to gladneſs and ſingleneſs of heart in Chriſt. He firſt gives him (q) the Spirit of Bondage to Fear; and then the Spirit of Adoption, whereby we cry Abba Father. This is Gods ordinary way in a Sinners Converſion; Thus he dealt with the Prodigal Son, Luke 15. 13 to the end. With the Sinful woman, Luke 7. 37, &c. With Peters hearers, Act. 2. 36, 37, 41, 46. With perſecuting Saul, Act. 9. 3. to 20. And thus (r) he will do with the Jews when their families ſhall more fully return unto the Lord and be called, Zech. 12. 10, 11, 12, 13. & 13. 1. This is Gods uſual way, to bring Sinners towards Heaven by the very Gates of Hell. II. That, Even after Converſion, Gods people oft times meet with many ſad and dangerous plunges, that greatly diſtract and diſtreſs them about their Spiritual State, and Eternal Salvation. Eſpecially in theſe three Caſes, viz. 1. In caſe of ſome ſinful relapſe. As it was, with (s) David; his very bones were broken, the joy of Gods Salvation was removed, and his ſin was ever before him; with (t) Peter his denyal of Jeſus Chriſt, coſt many bitter tears. 2. In caſe of ſome violent Temptation of the Fleſh, World or Satan, which ſometimes ſtaggers the Servants of God, and makes them call in Queſtion their condition towards God. As (u) David, beholding the proſperity of the wicked, and his own adverſity, was almoſt gone, had almoſt condemned the Generation of the righteous, and concluded that he had waſhed his hands in vain, &c. 3. In caſe of ſome ſad Diſertion ſome paſsive Diſertion, when God himſelf ſeems to hide his face, withdraw himſelf from them, and forſake them, in withholding the ſweet gleams and influences of his wonted grace, favour and conſolations from them. Whence they are apt ſometimes to conclude, that God hath utterly caſt them off, and will never more be merciful unto them, &c. As it was with (x) Aſaph; with (y) Heman the Ezrahite; with (z) Mr. Peacock in his laſt ſickneſs, till within a little before his Diſſolution; and with many (a) others of the dear ſervants of the Lord. III. That, The Lord (to whom a broken heart is Sacrifices indeed, who will not deſpiſe a broken and a contrite heart, Pſal. 51. 17. Who delights to dwell with him that is of a contrite and humble Spirit, to revive the Spirit of the humble, and to revive the heart of the contrite ones, &c. Iſaiah 57. 15, 16. & 66. 2.) The Lord, I ſay, that is the Father of tender-mercies, and the God of all conſolations, 2 Cor. 1. 3. Hath ſufficiently provided againſt all theſe Spiritual Diſtreſſes of wounded Sinners, and perplexed Saints, in his NEW COVENANT. For the Lord hath ſo wiſely contrived the Matter of the New Covenant in a ſweet conjunction of Promiſes; That, all the Principal, Conſiderable and moſt Dangerous Doubts, Diſcouragements or Objections, which a Bleeding Sinner, or a Diſtreſſed Saint, may commonly many make against their own present Comfort or future Salvation, may hence receive very Satisfactory Resolutions. Their most perplexing and puzling Doubts, Discouragements and Objections are about, 1. Their Sins. 2. The wrath of God. 3. Their gross ignorance of God, and all the things of God. 4. The Deadness, Hardness, Deceitfulness and Manifold Vileness of their own Hearts. 5. The want of all Spiritual Abilities, Excellencies and Duties which might commend them to God. 6. The great Distance betwixt them and God, betwixt them and Christ. 7. The Difficulty and seeming impossibility of ever obtaining any Assurance of their Salvation. Now you shall see, what an Antidote this New Covenant is against all these. God, that knows the troubles of all mens hearts, hath such pertinent, fit and sufficient Cordials against all these faintings of soul in his New Covenant Promises, as if they had been devised for this and no other purpose in the world.

1. Doubt: About Sin. Oh (thinks the wounded Sinner, and the distressed Saint) Mine (b) iniquities are increased over mine head, and my guiltiness is grown up unto the Heavens. They are more then the hairs of mine head, they are heavier then the sand. The acts of them in thought, word and deed, are innumerable; The venom, poyson, and sinfulnesses of them are unutterable; The circumstances and black aggravations of them are intolerable. I have sinned against the God that hath made me (c) curiously, and preserved me to this day graciously: I have kicked against the bowels of mercy, that should pitty me: I have trampled upon the precious blood that should wash me, I have grieved the Holy Spirit, that should comfort and Sanctifie me: I have despised the riches of free grace, that should save me. Oh (d) my sin is ever before me! In the morning, In the evening, In my house, In the field, In society, but especially in my solitariness: Oh how it grates upon my Spirit, how it flashes in my Conscience, how it kills and murders my Soul! Are there any Sins in the world, like my Sins? Is there any possibility they should be forgiven? Is there any Mercy, any Pardon, any Cure, any Comfort, any Hope, any Salvation, for such a Wretch, such a Miscreant, such a Monster of wickedness as I am?

Resolution. Stay a little thou sin-bruised Soul, yet theres hope in Israel concerning all this. O hark, what the blessed God hath Said, hath Promised, hath Covenanted, hath Confirmed by the irrevocable Death of Iesus Christ; (e) I will be propitiously-merciful to their unrighteousnesses, and their sinful-errors and their unlawfulnesses will I remember no more. Read this Act of Divine grace, Ponder upon it deliberately, Mark it heedfully: if thou canst believe it and apply it to thy self, heres enough against all thy sins. We had better lose the Sun and Moon out of Gods Firmament, then this glorious Promise out of Gods Covenant. Here's Pardon, Divine Pardon, Free Pardon, Full Pardon, Final Pardon, for all thine iniquities: Now draw near, and touch the top of this Golden Scepter, and thou ſhalt live. 1. Heres, Pardon and Remiſſion of ſin offered. (f) —I will be propitious-merciful, — I will remember their ſins, &c. no more. This non-remembring of ſins, the Apoſtle interprets to be Remiſsion of ſins. What can be more ſeaſonable, more ſuitable, more acceptable to a guilty Self-condemned ſinner then Pardon? Pardoned ſin (g) ſhall not be any more imputed; the Pardoned Sinner (h) ſhall not be condemned, hath Peace with God, and is a Bleſſed Soul. O graſp this Pardon tendered: and then all thy ſins ſhall be, as if they had never been. 2. Heres Gods Pardon. I will be mercciful, — I will remember no more, — ſaith God. Thy ſins that diſtreſs thee, thy great ſins that kill thy heart, are in their utmoſt extremity but the ſins of a finite man: But the pardon here promiſed, is the pardon of an Infinite God. Theres ſome proportion betwixt one drop of water, and the whole Ocean; or betwixt one grain of duſt and the whole earthly Globe; but betwixt Gods pardons and thy ſins theres no proportion or compariſon. He is (i) A God of Pardons: can create and give Pardons, not as a man, not as a Judge, not as a King, but as a God. Diſhonour not this God of Pardons, by doubting of his Pardons. Do not be mercileſs to thine own Soul, when God will be merciful to thine unrighteouſneſſes: Do not ſtill pore upon thy ſins, when God will remember them no more. What creature can charge thee, if God will clear thee and diſcharge thee? (k) Who ſhall lay any thing to the charge of Gods Elect? It is God that juſtifieth: who is he that condemneth? 3. Heres Free pardon. God ſaith; I will be merciful, — I will remember their ſins no more. Why will God do it? Heres no other Reaſon given, but he will do it. He doth not ſay, Thou muſt bring ſo many Sighs, ſo many Tears, ſo much Contrition, ſo much Repentance, &c. or elſe heres no Remiſſion: but, I will be merciful, I will remember no more; That is, I will do all this freely for mine own ſake. Thou muſt (l) Repent, but God pardons the penitent for his (m) own ſake. Thy Pardon coſt Chriſt dear, his liberty, his blood, his life, and herewith God was fully ſatisfied and pacified: But thy pardon ſhall coſt thee nothing; come, Believe, Repent and take it freely. 4. Heres full pardon. God will not only pardon this or that Sin, but all Sin: Unrighteouſneſſes, Sinful-errors and Unlawfulneſſes. (n) Where God forgives one ſin, he forgives all without exception. Do not theſe three words reach all thy ſins of whatſoever Sort, Degree or Aggravation? 5. Heres Final Pardon alſo. God will not remember their ſins any more. God will not only forgive, but forget, and that for ever. God will paſs an everlaſting Act of Oblivion upon all thine unrighteouſneſſes for ever, which no tract of time ſhall repeal. Men may remember thy ſins, to reproach and upbraid thee for them; Thou thy ſelf maiſt remember thy ſins again and again to ſigh and mourn for them, to loath and abhor thy ſelf for them: but thy God will remember them no more; he (o) will not mention them any more

(e) Heb. 8. 12.

2. Doubt: About the wrath of God. Alas (thinks the bruiſed Sinner and perplexed Saint) By mine audacious rebellions againſt God, Chriſt, and the Spirit of Grace, &c. I have wofully implunged my ſelf into Gods deep diſpleaſure. I have been ſuch a deſperate enemy to God, that I have provoked God to be an utter (q) enemy to me. I have made my ſelf a Butt for all the Arrows of his Threats, (r) Curſes and Judgements which are denounced in his Book. I cannot look up to him, but as to an angry ſin-revenging Judge, as to (ſ) a Conſuming fire. I am conſumed with the burning heat of his indignation, (t) For the arrows of the Almighty are within me, the poyſon whereof drinketh up my Spirit: The terrors of God do ſet themſelves in array againſt me. (u) His wrath lyeth hard upon me, and he afflicteth me with all his waves. My Conſcience is full of horror! I tremble day and night: I am afraid of Darkneſs and Solitarineſs, leſt God ſhould turn Satan looſe upon me: when I ſit down to eat, when I lie down to ſleep, when I bow down to pray, &c. me thinks the wrath and curſe of God is ſtill purſuing me and ready to overtake me. Reſolution. O why doſt thou thus caſt down thy ſelf? and why is thine heart thus diſquieted within thee? Once more caſt an eye upon the former Conſolation; (y) I will be propitiouſly-merciful to their unrighteouſneſſes, and their ſinful-errors, and their unlawfulneſſes will I remember no more. Here thou art aſſured, 1. That, the Lord himſelf will Freely, Fully and Finally Pardon and Obliterate all ſorts and degrees of thy ſins, if thou wilt but accept this Pardon, this Promiſe. And if ſin be pardoned, The ſtorm of Gods wrath is over. Where God remits the ſin, he remits alſo the puniſhment. (z) Comfort ye, Comfort ye, my people. Speak ye to the heart of Jeruſalem, and cry unto her, that her war-fare is accompliſhed, that her ſin is pardoned. Where ſin is pardoned, Gods wrath is removed; (a) I will heal their backſliding, I will love them freely, for mine anger is turned away from him. Where ſin is pardoned, the ſinner is juſtified and at peace with God; (b) Being juſtified by Faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jeſus Chriſt. Canſt thou believe Gods pardon here promiſed? then, all Gods wrath is turned into love. 2. That, God will pardon thy ſins, upon ſatisfaction of his wrath and juſtice for them in Chriſt. I will be propitiouſly-merciful to their unrighteouſneſſes: ἱλεως ἐσομαι, I will be propitious, I will be pacified, &c. The word (as was formerly noted) hath reference to Chriſts (c) Propitiation, whereby God is ſo fully ſatisfied and appeaſed for ever, that there needs needs no more offering for ſin while the world ſtands. This one Sacrifice of Chriſt hath more pleaſed and pacified God, then all the Levitical Sacrifices whatſoever. The ſtream of Chriſts moſt precious blood, hath quenched the flame of Gods wrath for ever, to all that will accept Chriſt by believing. Be of good cheer therefore, Thy provocation of Gods wrath is great: but Chriſts pacification of Gods provoked wrath is greater, for (by reaſon of the infiniteneſs of his perſon) it is infinite. Oh graſp this infinite Satisfaction: and then God cannot chuſe but have all thoughts of love, and peace, and fatherlineſs towards thee.

3 Doubt: About their groſs ignorance of God, and of all the things of God. Alas! how ſhould I be ſaved that know nothing of God, nor of his waies, I am altogether blind, ſottiſh, inapprehenſive, incapable of diſcerning ſpirituals: they are hidden Myſteries, Riddles, Paradoxes to me; I know not what they mean. O what ſhall I do, (d) When the Lord Jeſus ſhall be revealed from Heaven, with his mighty angels, in flaming fire, taking vengeance of them that know not God.

(d) 2 Theſ. 1.7, 8.

Reſolution. O thou ignorant and dark ſoul, God hath promiſed here alſo to open thine eyes, and give ſight to the blind. Look into this New Covenant: Theres a ſufficient Remedy; (e) And they ſhall not teach every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, ſaying, know the Lord; For all ſhall know me from the leaſt, to the greateſt. O what an Antidote againſt a blind, dark, blockiſh underſtanding! What an admirable knowledge of God, for ſort, for degree, for extent, is here promiſed! Waſh the eyes of thy underſtanding daily with the Spirits of this Promiſe, and ſee if the ſcales of ignorance ſhall not by little and little fall away. 1. The ſort of the knowledge of God here promiſed, is more then Humane; Its not ſuch as every one may teach his neighbour or brother, touching God: (f) Therefore it muſt needs be Divine, ſuch as God teacheth, touching himſelf. (g) God will teach thee, God will (h) annoint thee with eye-ſalve that thou maiſt ſee, God will open thine underſtanding: he will annoint thee with the Holy Ghoſt, that annointing that ſhall teach thee all things. He will ſo teach thee, as man cannot teach thee, as fleſh and blood cannot teach thee. He will (i) illuminate thee, he will ſhine into thine heart, he will give thee a ſaving (k) experimental knowledge of himſelf: He will (l) ſo teach thee, as to make thee come to him, and come to Chriſt, and taſte how pleaſant the Lord is. No knowledge in the world can compare with ſuch Knowlege of God, and of the things of God, as God himſelf will vouchſafe thee. And uſually when God firſt converts a ſinner to himſelf, he then moſt obſervably (m) opens his eyes and turns him from darkneſs to light; then he rubs off the ſcales of ignorance, (n) recovers ſight to the blind touching God and Spirituals, that (like a priſoner brought out of a moſt darkſom dungeon into the bright Sun-ſhine) he thinks himſelf as in another world. Then a man begins gins to know God and the things of God, to his own and others admiration. Here God assures such a sort of knowledge unto thee. 2. The degree of the knowledge of God here promised, is not only an initial, elementary, ABC-knowledge of God, according to first principles and fundamentals; as the Jews knowledge for the most part was, the Church being then till Christ, (o) as a childe under age, under Elements and Rudiments: but a more ripe, perfect and plenary knowledge of God, penetrating into the abstruse, secret and excellent mysteries of godliness. This is notably insinuated (thinks (p) Calvin) in that phrase; Know the Lord; which seems to denote the first rudiments of Faith, or celestial Doctrine, taught them by others, in the time of the Old Testament. But now the Fœderates under the New Covenant shall comparatively need no such elementary instruction, their knowledge shall attain such Maturity and perfection; God will make them Scholars in a higher form, &c. As for kind, so for degree, they shall be taught more perfectly. 3. The Extent of this knowledge to all the Fœderates; All shall know me from the least to the greatest. That is, This New Covenant-knowledge shall be very General and Universal to all sorts and degrees of Fœderates, small, and great, in comparison of the knowledge that was under the Old Covenant, which was but narrow and confined to the Jews, an handful of people to the Gentiles. As to this knowledge, No mans greatness shall help him, No mans meanness shall hinder him. The Spirit of God shall be poured forth so plenteously, that the knowledge of the Lord shall cover the earth, as the waters cover the sea. Here then God undertakes, To Instruct all sorts of his Fœderates, even the meanest of them, and consequently to teach thee that art so ignorant and incapable; To give them a sort of knowledge more then Humane; To afford them a degree of knowledge more then Elementary, usual in former times: wherefore yield up thy self to God to be his Disciple; Despise not his word, Grieve not his Spirit; Then that God, that caused light to shine out of darkness, will shine into thine heart, with the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ.

4. Doubt: About the deadness, hardness, deceitfulness and manifold vileness of their own hearts. Ah (thinks the wounded and perplexed soul) I have a most vile and naughty heart: its as hard and dead, as untractable and inflexible, to any good, as a very stone. How deceitful, How crooked, How rebellious, How unbelieving, How impenitent, How abominably wicked is it? Is it possible that any in the world should have so bad an heart, as I have? How can any of my thoughts words or works, How can any of my Prayers or Religious Services, be good or acceptable in the ſight of God, which flow from ſo corrupt a fountain?

Reſolution. Its moſt true, an unbelieving impenitent, rebellious, dead, hard ſtony heart, is a very vile heart: and naturally every man hath (q) ſuch an heart. But in this New Covenant God hath provided an excelleent and effectual cure for ſuch a diſtempered heart; — I will give my Laws into their minde, and write them upon their Hearts, Heb. 8. 10. Note here three things, viz. Gods Inſcription of his Laws in their Minde and Hearts. His Preparation of the Minde and Heart for ſuch Inſcription. The Hearts Temper and Diſpoſition after ſuch Inſcription. 1. Gods Inſcription of his Laws in their Minde and Heart. The Minds and Hearts of all by Nature are vile and naught: But the Laws of God are (r) Holy, and Juſt, and Good: And theſe Laws God (who hath abſolute Command, Soveraignty and Dominion over all mens Minds and Hearts,) will inſcribe in theſe Hearts and Minds. Mark, God doth not write his Laws in their Mindes and Hearts becauſe they are good; but that they may be made good. An holy Law ſhall be written in an unholy Heart, to make it Holy; A juſt and ſtraight Law, in an unrighteous and crooked Heart, to make it ſtraight and righteous; A good Law in a bad Heart, to make the bad Heart good. The Laws of God ſhall be given and written in the Minde and Heart, that the Minde and Heart may have better Principles, Rules and Directions ſupernaturally, then ever they had naturally. And Gods writing will be, (1) Moſt gratuitous, without, yea contrary to deſert, I will give, — I will write; his own meer will and good-pleaſure is the cauſe why it ſhall be done: (2) Moſt efficacious, he can make the heart take what Inſcription and Impreſſion he pleaſeth: (3) Moſt advantagious, There ſhall be a draught of his own Laws delineated upon them. 2. Gods Preparation of the Minde and Heart for this Inſcription. This is implyed and preſuppoſed. When God ſaith, I will write my Laws, he implies, that he will fit and prepare the Heart for this writing. Mans Heart by Nature is extream uncapable of Gods writing, being ſo blurred and blotted with contrary Laws, ſo ſtony and obdurate. God therefore prepares the Heart for his own Laws: (1) Partly by obliteration of all contrary Laws. (f) The Law of Sin, The Law of the Members, The Law and (t) Luſts of Satan, &c. Theſe are contrary Laws to the Laws of God, they cannot be written both at once on the ſame Hearts; therefore, as in Table-books we firſt wipe out the old writing, ere we can write new, ſo God firſt wipes out theſe old abominable Laws and principles out of the Heart, by (u) Self-denyal and Repentance, and then writes his own bleſſed Laws there. (2) Partly, By Mollification and ſoftening the Heart that it may take Gods impreſſion: till the heart be ſoftened it will take no Spiritual Stamp, but afterwards it will receive any. God therefore (x) takes away the heart of ſtone, and gives an heart of fleſh. 3. The Hearts

Hearts Temper and Diſpoſition after ſuch inſcription of Gods Laws therein, is univerſally conform to Gods Laws written therein. Theres a Law within anſwerable to Gods Law without: The temper and diſpoſition is now Holy, Juſt, Good, Spiritual, Heavenly. As the wax anſwers to the Seal, as the Printed characters anſwer to the ſtamp: So the heart and mind Anſwer to Gods Laws, to Act or Omit, as God ſhall pleaſe. Then the heart bends towards the will of God, willingly, delightfully, ſincerely, univerſally, conſtantly. If the heart be never ſo bad before; now all is mended by Gods writing his Laws there. And therefore put thine heart into Gods hand, beſeech him, To prepare it for this writing, By Obliteration, By Mollification; To write his Laws therein; To make it Conform every way to his Laws and will: and then thou ſhalt have an holy, a good heart indeed. And all this God hath Covenanted to do.

5. Doubt. About the want of all ſpiritual Excellencies Abilities & Duties which might commend them to God. Alas (ſaith the bruiſed Soul) If I had any ſpiritual beauty & lovelineſs, if I had any true worth and excellency in me, If I had any Strength or Ability to believe, to repent to love and obey him, to reſign up my ſelf ſincerely unto him: then I might draw neer to him, then I might lay hold of his N. Cov. and of Jeſus Chriſt therein, then I might hopefully wait for his acceptation of me: but I have no ſuch thing in me, a poor, worthleſs, uſeleſs, ſtrengthleſs creature. Ah, what ſhal I do, that I may be ſaved?

Reſolution. To this I reply divers things, viz. I. Thou thinkeſt thou mighteſt come to God, and accept his Covenant, his Chriſt, &c. if thou hadſt a ſpiritual excellency and worth in thee, &c. Alas poor Soul! Doſt thou think, thou maieſt not draw neer to God and to this Covenant, without a Bribe? Doſt think Chriſt Jeſus will not be had, without Money and without price? Thou art quite miſtaken. Doſt thou thirſt after him, doſt thou earneſtly deſire him, and long for him? Then thou art one, whom he bids (y) come to the waters: yea though thou haſt no money, yet thou maiſt come, buy and eat, yea come buy wine and milk without money and without price. God doth not ſell himſelf, his Chriſt, his Covenant, his favours, his Salvation to the Sinner; but he gives all theſe freely. He doth not bring a Sinner into Covenant with himſelf, becauſe he finds him excellent and worthy: but by bringing him into Covenant, of vile & unworthy he makes him excellent and worthy. If thou ſtayſt from God and his Covenant, till thou beeſt worthy: thou ſhalt never come while the world ſtands. Accept & lay hold of this Covenant, and this Covenant aſſures thee, that (z) God will write his Laws in thine heart, will make thee know the Lord, will forgive and forget all thy ſins, will be thy God, and thou ſhalt be one of his people; and all this becauſe he will do it; not for any thing in thee, but for his own ſake, for his Chriſts ſake. And theſe, theſe are the things that will make thee excellent & worthy indeed. Doth the patient come to the Phyſitian becauſe he is ſound? or not rather becauſe he is ſick: that he maybe ſound? Doth the beggar cry at the rich mans door, becauſe he is full and well clothed, or not rather becauſe he is hungry and naked: that he may be fed and clothed? And haſt thou forgot Chriſts ſaying: (a) The whole need not the Phyſitian, but they that are ſick: I came not to call the righteous, but ſinners to Repentance? II. This New Covenant, embraced by thee, will furniſh thee with all Spiritual ſufficiency and ability for Duties: as well as with ſpiritual excellencies. Hence thou ſhalt be enabled, To believe, To repent, To Obey, To do and be any thing that God ſhall pleaſe. In his explicit Promiſes of Mercy and Sufficiency of Spirituals to thee, thou haſt his implicit Promiſes of thy Duties and Performances to him. He undertakes for both Parties: for himſelf, to give thee Mercy and ability: for thee, that thou ſhalt perform Duty to him from that Mercy. As, 1. That, Thou ſhalt know him: Becauſe (b) his Laws ſhall be in thy mind, and all ſhall know him. 2. That, Thou ſhalt believe in him and in Chriſt. 3. That, Thou ſhalt Repent ſincerely of all thy ſins. 4. That, Thou ſhalt love and obey him uprightly: and all becauſe he (c) will write his laws in thy mind and heart; which act of Grace will abundantly furniſh thee and incite unto all theſe performances, that (d) thou canſt not chuſe but do them delightfully, becauſe his Law is in thy heart, in thine inwards: 5. That, Thou ſhalt reſign up thy ſelf unto him acceptably: becauſe (e) thou ſhalt be one of his people. Thus thou art not to contrive ſo much to bring Ability and Duty to this New Covenant: as to fetch and derive all ability and duty from this New Covenant. Though this New Covenant find thee empty: it will ſend thee full and rich away.

6. Doubt. About the great diſtance betwixt them and God, them and Chriſt. For thus thinks the bruiſed and perplexed heart: Although I be now ſomewhat ſatisfied and quieted with all this that hath been ſpoken, yet there is ſuch an infinite Diſtance and diſparity betwixt God and me, Chriſt and me: that I tremble and quake to think of approaching neer unto him, or his Covenant. For, He is the (f) Holy, Holy, Holy JEHOVAH: I am a ſinful lump of defiled duſt and aſhes: He is all (g) light, and in him is no darkneſs at all: I am all (h) darkneſs, and in me is no light at all, in me dwelleth no good thing: He is all Life: I am all deadneſs, ſinfull deadneſs: He is all beauty: I am all Deformity: He is all Majeſty: I am all Meaneſs: He is all Might: I am all Weakneſs: He is all Juſtice: I am all Guiltineſs: He is (i) a Conſuming fire: and I as dry ſtubble before a devouring fire: and will this great, this glorious, this infinite God caſt an eye upon ſuch a worm, ſuch a dead dog, ſuch a filthy dunghill of corruption as I am? How ſhould I expect it?

Reſolution. True: The diſtance, the diſparity betwixt God and a Sinner, betwixt Chriſt and a Sinner is infinite: and God knows this moſt exactly: yet notwithſtanding all this diſtance which he perfectly obſerves, God tels all poor ſinners that will embrace his New Covenant and Promiſes thereof: (k) And I will be to them for a God, and they ſhall be to me for a people. As if God had ſaid: I will not ſtand upon any terms of Diſtance and Diſparity betwixt my ſelf and poor Sinners, though it be infinite: but I will paſs by it all, it ſhall not come into Conſideration with me, to exclude them from my New Covenant: For, I will not diſdain to be theirs, Nor will I be aſhamed to account them mine, I will condeſcend to them, I will deal familiarly with them in a Covenant-way, I will contract and Marry them unto my ſelf, there ſhall be an indiſſoluble Relation ſtabliſhed betwixt us: All that I am and have ſhall be theirs, And all that they are and have ſhall be mine. And all this, becauſe ſo it pleaſeth me. O glorious Promiſe! O bliſsful enjoyment! What can God Promiſe beyond himſelf: what can a poor Soul enjoy beyond, or equal to God? Oh ſaid (l) Auſtin: What is better then this Goodneſs: What is happier then this happineſs? If God will not Object this diſtance againſt afflicted Sinners: why ſhould they object it againſt themſelves? Cloſe then with God, O trembling Soul, and ſay to him: Behold the ſervant of the Lord, be it unto me even according to thy word.

7. Doubt. About the Difficulty and ſeeming impoſsibility of ever obtaining any Aſſurance of their Salvation. But alas (ſaith the wounded Sinner & perplexed Saint) though God ſhould forgive my Sins, Remove his Wrath, Heal the blindneſs of my mind, cure the vileneſs of my heart, Furniſh with Spiritual ſufficiency and Ability, and become a Covenant-God unto me; though I ſay, God ſhould do all this for me; yet if I have no Aſſurance hereof unto my ſelf, if I have no evident diſcovery hereof within my ſelf, what comfort or advantage can I have thereby? If Chriſt would audibly ſay to me as once to Zacheus, (m) This day is Salvation come to this houſe; Or as once to the (n) Palſy-man, and to the (o) penitent woman; Thy Sins are forgiven thee: Or if Chriſt would diſcloſe the certainty of my Salvation unto me by an Angel, by ſome voice from Heaven, by Revelation, or by ſome Miracle: Then I ſhould walk ſweetly and chearfully in the joy of his Salvation, then I ſhould (p) run with patience and triumph the race that is ſet before me. But alas I am wholly ſwallowed up with doubts, fears, jealouſies and ſad apprehenſions, that I am ſtill in a loſt and reprobate condition: I would not care what I did do, or endure: what I ſhould gain, or loſe; whether I ſhould live or die: ſo I might but have a certain aſſurance of mine Eternal Salvation. But is it ever poſſible, that ſuch Aſſurance ſhould be rooted in my Staggering and Unbelieving Soul?

Reſolution. To this alſo I reply: I. That, This New Covenant is ſo laid down in theſe Promiſes, as (being judiciouſly improved) may be a ſtrong foundation of this deſired Aſſurance to a perplexed Soul. For, 1. In his New Covenant here are (q) four excellent Topicks or Common-places of Aſſurance; viz. (1) The Divine Inſcription of Gods Laws in the Heart: (2) The Supernatural Knowledge of the Lord: (3) The gratuitous Remiſsion of all Sin: (4) And the grand Co- venant-Relation unto God. He that upon Good grounds can diſcover, Theſe Laws of God written in his heart by the finger of God, This Knowledge of the Lord ſhining in the Mind by ſupernatural inſtruction, This Remiſſion of Sin through the blood of Chriſt ſprinkled upon the Conſcience by Faith, And this Covenant-Relation and mutual intereſt eſtabliſhed betwixt God and the Soul: He, I ſay, that can ſolidly diſcover in himſelf theſe things, may undoubtedly Aſſure himſelf of his own eternal Salvation: foraſmuch as theſe New Covenant benefits, are in effect one and the ſame with effectual (r) Vocation, Sanctification and Juſtification, which unqueſtionably determine in Glorification. 2. Theſe Promiſed bleſſings of the New Covenant, are the peculiar and ſaving effects of Chriſts (f) Mediation, which as Prieſt, Prophet and King he enricheth all his Members withall. Now the enjoying of theſe peculiar and ſaving fruits of Chriſts Mediation, is an undoubted evidence of the enjoyers endleſs Salvation. 3. All theſe grounds of Aſſurance & evidences of Happineſs, Promiſed in this New Covenant are therein moſt infallibly aſcertained to every ſincere Fœderate. Not by Revelation, Miracle, voice from Heaven, or Teſtimony of an Angel, (all which Satan might counterfeit, and ſo undo the Soul for ever:) But by (t) Gods own immutable Promiſe and Covenant upon record in writing both in Old and New Teſtament, in (u) which it is impoſſible for God to ly, which is ten thouſand times more ſure, infallible and unqueſtionable then all. Wouldſt thou believe an Angel or a voice from Heaven? and wilt thou not much more believe unto all aſſurance, the everliving God himſelf, and this his (x) more ſure word of Prophecy? II. (y) I knew a Chriſtian above thirty years ago, who in the infancy of his Chriſtianity ſo vehemently panted after the infallible Aſſurance of Gods favour in Chriſt, of his own Election and Salvation, that for a long time together he moſt earneſtly deſired ſome voice from heaven, yea, ſome miraculous voice from trees or ſtones in the Field, or ſome other extraordinary Teſtimony, for eſtabliſhing and confirming his Spirit in the undoubted Aſſurance of his eternal Happineſs. This after many deſires and longings, was denied; but a better grounded Aſſurance was afterwards afforded; 1 Partly, By the ſweet Atteſtation and Obſignation of the Spirit of God, and that eſpecially vouchſafed in his Prayers and tears, perſwading him of his Comfortable and ſaving Condition towards God, *Rom.*8.15,16. *Eph.*1.13,14. Which Teſtimony of the ſpirit of God did ſo abundantly fill and ſatisfie the thirſtings of his Soul, That not only his former deſires after extraordinary and miraculous waies of Aſſurance did ceaſe, through the ſurpaſſing ſweetneſs of the Spirits Certioration ſecretly refreſhing him at his heart-root; but alſo whilſt that activity of the Spirits witneſs remained upon his Soul, whilſt this ſacred fire was burning, and this heavenly light ſhining there, he was ſo powerfully poſſeſt of the Love of God ſhed abroad in his heart, that he could have done and endured any thing for God, yea could have been contented (if it had been poſſible, and if God had ſo pleaſed) to have been dragged through the very torments of Hell for the immediate viſion and fruition of Chriſt. 2. Partly, By an Experimental Argumentation from the Holy Scriptures. The Scriptures Dictating to him The Propoſition, in ſome Characters and Diſcoveries of a gracious and ſaving Condition; As, he that believes ſhall be ſaved, Mark.16.16. He that truly loves his brother (a Chriſtian for his Chriſtianity) is paſſed from death to life, 1 John 3.14. His Conſcience furniſhing him out of his own experience with The Aſſumption, from his Agreement with the Scripture-characters; But I believe,——But I truly love my Chriſtian brother for his Chriſtianity, &c. Whereupon the heart was able to make a comfortable concluſion touching his own good ſpiritual eſtate. And this Diſcourſe and reaſoning from Scripture-evidence, and his own Experience joyned together, he found to be a very Convincing comfortable and continuing ground of Aſſurance to his Soul.

from God to that end, that their assurance of their Salvation might be past all possibility of Doubt or Question. But this Desire of theirs might possibly arise: 1. Partly, from their ignorance of, and unacquaintedness with, The Holy Scriptures, and the wayes of God. They not understanding (in their Infancy of grace) what abundant unquestionable and infallible foundations of assurance are treasured up and provided for Gods People in the Scriptures: And how the Lord is never wont to work extraordinarily in Temporals or Spirituals, when his Ordinary Provisions are sufficient and abundant. 2. Partly, from the Subtilty of Satan, who might cunningly put young beginners in Grace, to seek for Assurance by Miracle or extraordinary unwarranted wayes: that so he might take the advantage of their disapointments, to drive them to dispair, Saying, You see God will give you no Miracle, no voice from heaven to assure you of your Salvation, and therefore you are but reprobates and castawayes, only to expect damnation. But at last they have comfortably overcome these infirmities and Temptations, upon further experience in the Mysteries of Christianity: and by judicious comparing the Holy Scriptures and their own hearts experiments together, have been invincibly established in Assurance of their Salvation, and in sweet Peace with God in Jesus Christ.

VI. That, These New Covenant-Promises are so exprest, as virtually to contain in them, The Agreement and Difference betwixt the Old and New Covenant, yea the Preheminences of the New above the Old. This Agreement, Difference, and Preheminence may thus in brief be evinced, from the words of the Covenant.

1. The Agreement betwixt the Old and New Covenant, for the Substance of them, is expreſt in two Particulars especially, viz. 1. In the Sum and Glorious Abstract of the Covenants; (z) I will be to them a God, and they shall be to me a People. This is the Sum of both Old and New Covenant in expres terms. 2. In the Laws of this Covenant promised to be written in their Hearts; (a) And I will give my Laws into their minds, and write them in their Hearts. What Laws? Even the same Moral Laws which were given for (b) a Covenant to Israel at Mount Sinai, which was the Old Covenant. God doth not say (as (c) Calvin excellently observes) I will give another Law: but I will write my Law: viz. the same which was anciently given to the Fathers. He speaks of a Law of his that was famous, eminent, well-known amongst them: which best agrees to that Moral Law, which is as an Abridgement of the Scripture.

2. The Difference also betwixt the Old and New Covenant is here purposely expressed, and this, More Generally, and more Particularly. 1. More Generally, in those words; (d) I will make a New Covenant with the House of Israel and with the House of Judah: Not according to the Covenant that I made with their fathers in the day when I took them by the hand to lead them out of the land of Egypt, &c. Here the Lord plainly plainly declares in the General, that he would make A New Covenant with them, which ſhould be another manner of Covenant, a very different Covenant from that old Covenant. II. More Particularly. He ſtates this Difference in three Points expreſly, as (e) Calvin hath very well noted, viz. 1. In the Inſcription of Gods Laws. In both Old and New Covenant there is a writing of Gods Laws: but, In the Old Covenant they were (f) written in Tables of ſtone, In this New Covenant upon (g) the fleſhy Tables of their Mind and Heart. That, was only a literal and ineffectuall writing, that ſhewed Duty, but gave no Ability: This, is a ſpiritual and efficacious writing, that affords Ability for the required Duty. 2. In the Inſtruction of the Fœderates. In that Old Covenant they had moſtly (h) an Humane Inſtruction, and that but in Principles of the Knowledge of the Lord; they were Alphabetarians, children under age, capable only of Elements and Rudiments: But under this New Covenant the generality of the Fœderates have a more then Humane, even a Divine Teaching promiſed them touching the Lord, they are come to age, ſhall be put up into an higher Form, and have inſight into higher myſteries. 3. In the Ablation or taking away of Sins. In the Old Covenant there were (i) many Sacrifices for expiation of Sin which were repeated every year, every day, being unable to take away Sin, but rather becoming renewed Remembrances of Sin, year by year, day by day: But in this New Covenant, Chriſt by that one Sacrifice of himſelf once offered, and never to be repeated, hath purged (k) away the Sins of his Elect for ever, So that they ſhall need no more Sacrifice for expiation, and that God will remember them no more.

3. The Preheminence of the New Covenant alſo above the Old, doth ſtand in all thoſe three points of difference fore-expreſſed: In all which this New Covenant far excelleth. But of this more hereafter in the General Inferences.

VII. That, All theſe New Covenant Promiſes are wholly grounded upon the meer grace and good pleaſure of Gods will in Jeſus Chriſt alone. The Covenant-Expreſſions evince: 1. That, All theſe Promiſes are founded upon the meer Grace and good-pleaſure of Gods will. Becauſe Gods will is ſtill declared as the Cauſe of Gods making them: (l) —I will give my Laws.—I will write them. — I will be their God. —— They ſhall be my people.— All ſhall know me. —— I will be merciful, — I will remember no more. Heres no Cauſe, no Reaſon, no Motive at all drawn from the Houſe of Iſrael or Judah, from the Fœderates themſelves, but all from God. 2. That, All theſe Promiſes are alſo gratuitouſly made in Jeſus Chriſt alone, and with reference to his Meritorious Mediation. Partly, Becauſe All theſe Promiſed bleſſings have an excellent ſuitableneſs and Anſwerableneſs to Chriſts Prieſtly, Prophetical and Kingly offices: as hath been (m) already ſhewed. Partly, Becauſe Remiſſion of ſins and juſtification here freely pro-

Thus far of the Generals which are more Neceſſary and helpful to the clear underſtanding of the Matters of the New Covenant, as here deſcribed by the Prophet and Apoſtle.

Section III.

THirdly, Having Analytically explained the words wherein the Prophet and Apoſtle deſcribe this New Covenant, and having unfolded ſuch Generals as much conduce to the right underſtanding of the Matter of the New Covenant; Now in the laſt place I ſhall proceed to the Opening of the Matter of the New Covenant; More Particularly, and this with the greater evidence and perſpicuity.

THE MATTER or Subſtance of the NEW COVENANT, as here deſcribed by (o) Jeremiah and Paul, is wholly contained in Promiſes. Heres nothing elſe expreſſed, Not one Precept or Commandment, not one Threatning; but all Promiſes, And thoſe Promiſes from God unto his Fœderates. Yet theſe Promiſes are not meer Abſolute Promiſes, as ſome others are; but Conditional Promiſes, having implicitly in them certain conditioned Duties which the Fœderates ſhould perform towards God, Anſwerable to his Bleſſings Promiſed unto them. Explicitly theſe Promiſes contain Gods Covenant-Mercies to his Fœderates: Implicitly they alſo contain the Fœderates Duties towards God. This muſt needs be ſo; 1. Becauſe, Theſe Promiſes here laid down are Covenant-Promiſes. God cals them, his New-Covenant; (p) — I will make a New-Covenant. — But this ſhall be the Covenant that I will make with the Houſe of Iſrael, after thoſe dates, ſaith the Lord; I will give my Laws into their mind, &c. And whats this Covenant: but theſe Promiſes? Now all Covenant-Promiſes, in the Nature of them, are Conditional; either expreſly Conditional, when the Condition is expreſſed; As Gen. 6. 18, &c. & 17. 1, 2, &c. Deut. 5. 2, 3, 4, 6, &c. Pſal. 132. 11, 12. Or Implicitly Conditional, when the Condition required and expected on the part of the Fœderates is only implyed. As Gen. 3. 15. And here Heb. 8. 10, 11, 12. For in Covenants there is ſtill a mutual Agreement betwixt the Fœderates upon certain Terms to be performed by each party. It cannot rationally be imagined, that God ſhould be tyed by his Promiſes, and his Fœderates altogether remain remain at liberty unobliged, for that would destroy the very Nature of a Covenant. 2. Because, The explanations of this New Covenant, in the Books of the New Testament, do express the conditions required and to be performed by us towards God, which in this Description of the New Covenant are only implyed: As, Knowledge, Faith, Repentance, New obedience, Self-resignation to God, &c. As hereafter in the second Aphorism of this Section will more at large appear. Now Gods explanations of his New Covenant, are (next unto the Description of the body of the Covenant it self) the best discovery and indication of the Nature of the Covenant, both in regard of Gods Promises and Stipulations, and of his Fœderates Restipulations.

(o) Ier. 31. 31, 32, 33, 34. Heb. 8. 8, 9, 10, 11, 12.

(p) Ier. 31. 31, 32, 33, 34. Heb. 8. 8, 9, 10, 11, 12.

Now therefore, THE MATTER of this NEW COVENANT consists, 1. In certain Mercies or Blessings therein promised expresly on Gods part to his New Covenant-Fœderates. 2. In certain Duties therein implicitly here required from, and restipulated by the New Covenant Fœderates unto God. These two I shall lay down and explain in two distinct Aphorisms.

APHORISM I.

I. THe Matter of the New Covenant, on Gods part, Consists in certain New Covenant-Mercies or Blessings Promised by him to his Federates: viz. In, 1. Gods giving and inscribing of his Laws in their Mind and Hearts. 2. His Federate peoples more excellent and more universal Knowledge of the LORD, then formerly under the Old Covenant. 3. His Mercy or Propitiousness unto them, in his utter Remission and Oblivion, forgiving and forgetting all their sins for ever. 4. The Grand Federal Relation, Union, Communion and Interest established betwixt God and his Federates reciprocally, He being their God and they his people.

These are the four Great Articles of Agreement in this New Covenant, and the four Great New Covenant Blessings which God promiseth on his part. I shall handle them in this order as I have here propounded them: wherein I shall only in one particular vary from the Order of the Text, viz. In purting the second Article last; Because it is the (q) General Sum of the Covenant, comprehending in it all the rest. All the other particulars follow one another in a clear natural order of their dependancy one upon another.

Article

Article 1. Of God's writing his Laws in their Mind and Hearts.

The First Particular, but more Complexive, New Covenant-Bleſſing Promiſed by God, wherein this New Covenant differs from, and excels the old Covenant, is; His giving his Laws into their Mind, and writing them upon their Hearts. (r) I will give my Laws into their Mind, and write them upon their Hearts. This Article hath in it, Illumination, Effectual Calling, Regeneration, Renovation, New-creation, Sanctification, and ſuch like leading Mercies, Initiating Bleſſings, in the Kingdom of God: and therefore this very Properly comes firſt under Conſideration. For clearing whereof, I ſhall chiefly unfold theſe Queſtions, viz. 1. What is here meant, by Mind and Hearts? 2. What Laws of God are here intended? 3. What ſort of writing this is, whereby God writes his Laws in the Mind and Hearts of his Fœderates: and how he writes them there? 4. Whether Gods Laws were not written in his Peoples hearts before the time of this New Covenant? 5. Why the Lord will write his Laws in the Mind and Hearts of his Fœderates, now under the New Covenant? 6. How we may know, whether God hath written his Laws in our Mind and Hearts? Theſe Queſtions (divers whereof are caſes of Conſcience) being unfolded and reſolved; this Firſt Article will be very clear.

(r) Heb 8. 10. Jer 31.33. See the explanation of theſe words in §. 2. of this fifth chapter.

1 Queſtion. What is here meant by [Mind and Hearts?]

Anſwer. For Reſolution herein, Note; I. That, what Paul calls διάνοιαν (s) Mind, Jeremiah calls קרב Kereb, (t) Inward-part. The Hebrew word properly ſignifies, (u) The Middle of any thing: that which is moſt neer, moſt intimate, moſt inward; As the Heart, Intrals, Bowels, &c. And thence its Metaphorically tranſlated to ſignifie, The Minde, Thought, Reaſon or Underſtanding of man, which is moſt intimate and inward to him: and ſo here Paul renders it, according to the meaning of the Holy Ghoſt, διάνοια Mind. This word, Mind, in Scripture hath Many various Acceptations. It is uſed; 1. For the Soul. (x) — Gird up the loyns of your Mind. — That is, Let your Souls be in a fitted and prepared poſture to walk on in waies of grace to glory. 2. For the intellective faculty, The Reaſon, the Underſtanding, &c. whereby we think, know, reaſon, diſcourſe, &c. (y) The peace of God — — ſhall keep your Hearts and Minds through Chriſt Jeſus. That is, that ye think not, reaſon not any thing unfitly againſt Gods juſtice and providential diſpenſations. So; (z) He opened their Mind, to underſtand the Scriptures. And in this ſenſe (to mention no more acceptations of the word Mind in Scripture) the Lord here ſaith; (a) I will give my Laws into their Mind, and write them in their Minds. For, Mind is here contradiſtinct from their Hearts, and therefore imports the whole intellective faculty, The Superior Powers in the Turret of the Soul. II. That, The word [Heart] alſo is uſed in Scripture in many several senses. As, 1. Sometimes, Properly for the corporal Heart, that fountain of vital Spirits, (b) That first lives and last dies; (c) ——— Wine that maketh glad the Heart of man, — And bread which strengtheneth mans Heart. 2. Sometimes, Metonymically, for the Soul, which (according to some) is principally seated in the Heart. (f) —Circumcise the fore-skin of your heart, i. e. Of your Soul. 3. Sometimes, for the Minde and Understanding. As, (g) ——— The eyes of the Heart being illuminated, &c. (h) ——— That every imagination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually. 4. Sometimes, for the Conscience; As, (i) Davids Heart smote him, viz. His Conscience checked him, &c. (k) —If our Heart (viz. our Conscience) condemn us, God is greater then our heart, and knoweth all things. 5. Sometimes, for the Memory, which is as the treasury of the Soul where we lay up and keep things that we would not forget. (l) ——— But his mother kept all these sayings in her heart. 6. Sometimes, for the will and affections: because the Heart is the Special Seat and Receptacle of the affections. As, (m) ——— Whose heart the Lord opened, that she attended unto the things which were spoken of Paul: That is, whose will and affections the Lord efficaciously bowed, moved, inclined, &c. to hear and believe. And in this sense the word (Heart) is often used in Scripture. Now, As The Minde takes in the Understanding and all the Superiour Faculties of the Soul: So The Heart, here contradistinguished from it, takes in the will and affections, and all the inferiour Faculties. But both Minde and Heart are here mentioned, because God by this his New Covenant intends the whole Soul and all the Faculties, Powers, Affections and Capacities thereof to be the Subject or Receptacle of his Laws. All of them, according to their manner and measure of Receiving, shall have the characters, impressions, image, portraiture, and counter-pane of Gods Laws within them. III. That, Probably all the Faculties, Powers and Affections of the Soul are here reduced to two Heads, Minde and Heart, in allusion to the former Tables wherein the Law was written: That as under the Old Covenant, Gods (n) Laws were literally written in Two Tables of stone, so under this New Covenant Gods Laws shall be Spiritually written in Two new Tables of flesh, The Minde and Heart.

II. Question. What Laws of God are here intended to be written in their Minde and Heart?

Answ. For Resolution herein, Note; I. That, The Law of God hath many several Acceptations in Holy Scriptures, (as I have (o) heretofore at large manifested,) But as to our present purpose, Consider some few. 1. Generally, it is used for any or all Divine Doctrine or Instruction Revealed by God, especially in his written ten word, As Pſal. 1. 2. & 19. 8, 9. & 119. 70, 72, 77, &c. Rom. 3. 27. Iſa. 2. 3. & 42. 4. Gal. 2. 20. 2. Particularly, It is taken, (1) Sometimes, for the whole Law given by Moſes; Morals, Ceremonials and Judicials. As, Exod. 24. 12. Deut. 33. 2, 4. & 4. 44, 45. (2) Sometimes, More ſtrictly for the Moral Law which God wrote in Two Tables of ſtone; (p) ——I will give thee Tables of Stone, and a Law, and Commandments which I have written. Now God thus wrote only the Moral Law, the ten Commandments, Deut. 4. 13. Thus, Law, in Malachy contradiſtinguiſhed from Statutes and Judgements, denotes the Moral Law, Mal. 4. 4. But of theſe and other acceptations of the Law of God, I have ſpoken more fully in the place fore-mentioned, whither I refer the Reader for his fuller Satisfaction. II. That, By Gods (q) Law, or (r) Laws here promiſed in the New Covenant to be written in the hearts of Gods New Covenant-Fœderates, Gods Moral Law or Laws ſeem (in my judgement) moſt eſpecially to be intended. I will not exclude Gods whole Doctrine and Inſtruction revealed in his written word, which is a large Commentary upon Gods Moral Law that Abſtract Epitome and Abridgement of the Holy Scriptures: But more ſpecially and peculiarly the Moral Law ſeems here to be intended by the Holy Ghoſt: And this I judge for theſe Reaſons.

(p) Exod. 24. 12.

(q) Jer. 31. 33. (r) Heb. 8. 10. & 10. 16.

1. Becauſe, This Promiſe here, (s) I will give my Laws, or Law: and —I will write them, &c. doth not import any New, Strange, Unknown, Unheard of, or obſcure Law of God; but ſome Ancient, Familiar, Well-known, Noted and Famous Law of God. And what Law or Laws of God, were ever more Famous, Eminent, Noted, Known, &c. among the people of God, then his Moral Laws? Calvin hath well obſerved; (t) He ſaith afterwards, I will put my Law into their inwards. By theſe words he confirms what I have ſaid, namely that the Newneſs which he before mentioned is not placed in the Subſtance, but only in the Form, For God doth not here ſay, I will give another Law; But, I will write my Law: namely the ſame which was anciently delivered to the Fathers.

(t) Dicit poſtea, Ponam legem meam in viſceribus eorum. Confirmat his verbis quod diximus, nempe novitatem cujus meminit antea non in ſubſtantia eſſe poſitum, ſed in forma duntaxat. Neque enim dicit hic Deus, Legem aliam Dabo: Sed ſcribam legem meam, nempe eandem quæ tradita olim fuerat Patribus. Joan. Cal. Com. in Jer. 31. 33.

2. Becauſe, This writing of his Laws in their hearts, cannot have reference either to Gods Ceremonial or Judicial Laws: but to his Moral Laws. Foraſmuch as this writing of his Laws here Promiſed, was to be performed to the Houſe of Iſrael after thoſe daies, Heb. 8. 10. & 10. 16. Jer. 31. 33. viz. After thoſe daies of the Old Covenant: for this New Covenant was not to be according to that Old, but to ſucceed, ſuperſede and vacate that Old Covenant; which was done at the Death of Jeſus Chriſt, whereby he eſtabliſhed this New Covenant in his own blood. Now after the Death of Jeſus Chriſt, and the Commencing of the New Covenant, The Ceremonials vaniſhed, and the Judicials, together with the Jewiſh Common-wealth ceaſed: And therefore theſe dying and vaniſhing Laws of God could never be intended to be written in their hearts, but ſome other Law that was not vaniſhing and decaying; and what Law is that, but the Moral Law?

3. Becauſe, This writing of Gods Laws in their minds and hearts, is here laid down as one Great (u) Difference and Prehemineney of the New Covenant, from and above the Old: viz. Not in eſſence or ſubſtance, that there ſhould be a New Law given under the New Covenant; but in Accidents, and Circumſtance, that there ſhould be New Tables for this Old Law to be written in, and a New Form or Manner of writing this Law therein; Then, Gods Law was written Literally in two dead and hard (x) Tables of Stone; but Now, this Law ſhould be written Spiritually in two Living and fleſhy Tables of the minde and heart. Herein this New Covenant ſhould not be according to that Old Covenant which they brake, but far differing and far excelling.

4. Becauſe, Gods writing of his Moral Law in his peoples minds and hearts by Chriſt the Second Adam, recovers them neereſt to the Perfection which they at firſt had, but ſpeedily loſt in the firſt Adam. The Firſt Adam was made (y) in the image of God, upright and ſtraight, every way conform and anſwering to his will & Law, without any crookedneſs or deviation: So that the Moral Law for ſubſtance was written in his heart perfectly; as appears by the imperfect remains and reliques thereof (z) written in the very hearts of Pagans, who never had Gods written Law imparted to them. Now God recovering lapſed man out of his loſt condition in Adam, raiſes him up to as good and a better condition in Chriſt; who as mans Surety, hath (a) Gods Law perfectly written in his heart, which he perfectly fulfilled in his whole life, and ſatisfied the penalty of the Law by his Death for our breach thereof; ſo (b) redeeming us from it; and who conforms his Elect unto himſelf, writing this Law effectually in their Hearts by his Spirit, that the righteouſneſs of the Law may (in integrity and uprightneſs) be fulfilled alſo in them, not walking after the fleſh but after the Spirit, Rom. 8. 2, 3, 4.

III. Queſtion. What ſort of writing this is, whereby God writes his Laws in the Minde and Hearts of his Fœderates: And how he writes his Laws therein?

Anſw. Gods writing of his Laws in their minds and hearts that are his Covenant-people, is an excellent Myſterie, and worthy of moſt diligent Conſideration. For, this is a Primary Bleſſing of the New Covenant, and one excellent way whereby we may certainly diſcover, that we are Gods New Covenant-people. Gods writing his Laws in our minds and hearts is an improper, Metaphorical form of Speech, borrowed from mens writing of their Laws and Edicts in Books or upon Tables, or from Gods (c) writing his Laws of old in Tables of Stone. Now for the clearing and opening hereof more particularly, Note theſe things, viz.

(c) Deut. 4. 13.

1. That, God here in his New Covenant uſeth two expreſſions to to one and the same effect: ([d]) I will give my Laws into their mind, and write them in their hearts. He contents not himself to say only, I will give my Laws, or only, I will write my Laws: but he useth both words, I will give, and I will write. Hereby he seems to denote unto us The Difficulty, Efficacy and Excellency of this work. 1. The ([e]) Difficulty of this work of bringing mans heart and life to be conform to his Law and Will. Gods Law is so razed out of mans heart by the Fall, The prints thereof are so obliterated, dimmed and defaced, and so few reliques thereof remaining; yea Naturally theres so much enmity, contrariety and repugnancy in mans heart against the Law of God, The φρονημα σαρκος the wisdom of the flesh, the high-excellency of the flesh, is Enmity against God, and is not subject to the Law of God, nor indeed can be, Rom. 8. 6, 7. That its a very great and hard work to bring mans refractory heart to agree with Gods Law. God must give his Law into his heart; yea, thats not enough, God must write it in his heart, printing and fixing it there: or else this work will not be done. 2. The Efficacy and Excellency of this work. God himself will give it, and he will write it: God will both convay his Law into their minds and hearts, thats his giving; and confirm, root and stablish his Law in their hearts, thats his writing of it. Heres power and divine efficacy indeed, that brings minde and heart into sweet conformity to the Law of God. This is an excellent work, beyond the creatures activity: and as Calvin saith, its a kind of Renovation of the world, when men suffer themselves to be governed of God. They cannot give or write Gods Laws in their own hearts by any Power or Free will of their own: But God alone will do all, this belongs only to him.

([d]) Heb. 8. 10 & 10. 16. Jer. 31. 33.

([e]) Ponit autem duas locutiones, Quod Legem suam ponet in visceribus & scribet in cordibus, quia scimus quam difficile sit hominem sic formari in obedientiam justitiæ, ut consentiat ejus vita cum lege Dei. Omnes enim affectus carnis totidem sunt inimicitiæ, quemadmodum dicit Paulus ad Rom. 8. 7. quæ pugnant cum Deo. Cum igitur omnes sensus nostri ita bellum gerunt cum Deo; est quædam mundi Renovatio, ubi homines patiuntur se divinitus regi. Et scimus quid dicat Scriptura (Matth. 6. 24. Luke 14. 26, 27.) Non fore nos Christi discipulos, donec renunciaverimus & nobis, & mundo & abnegaverimus nos ipsos. Hæc ratio est, cur Proph. non fuerit contentus una voce duntaxat, sed dixerit, Ponam in visceribus, Scribam in Cordibus. Ioan. Calvin. Com. in Ier. 31. 33.

2. That, God, by this giving and writing his Laws in their minds and hearts here promised, intends a far better and more excellent Inscription of his Laws now under the New Covenant, then he had ever made before under any Covenant fore-going, Heb. 8. 8, 9, 10. Jer. 31. 31, 32, 33. The New Covenant is the last and most excellent of all Covenants: Therefore Gods writing of his Laws for his Fœderates under this New Covenant must answerably be the most excellent writing. The Scriptures signifie to us Gods threefold writing of his Moral Laws, viz. 1. In the Soul of Adam by his creation, under the Covenant of Works. For if ([f]) Pagans since the Fall, that never had the written Law of God made known to them, do by Nature the things contained in the Law, thereby shewing the work of the Law written in their hearts: how much more had Adam before the Fall this Law perfectly written in his heart? 2. In ([g]) two Tables of stone at Mount Sinai, under the Old Covenant, or Old Testament.

([f]) Rom. 2. 14, 15. with Gen. 1. 26, 27. Eccl. 7. 29.

([g]) Deut. 4. 13. 2 Cor. 3. 7.

ment. 3. In two Spirituall Tables of the (h) Mind and Heart now under the New Covenant: The First writing was Natural, or Connatural. The Second writing was Literal: This Third writing s Spiritual and supernatural. The First writing was, to enable Adam to keep the Covenant of Works: The Second writing was, to enable Israel to keep the Old Covenant: The third witing is to enable the spiritual Israel of Jews and Gentiles to keep the New Covenant. The First writing was in the heart of man, without Christ: The Second was in Tables of stone, (i) without man, but leading to Christ: The third is in the Spiritual Tables of their Mind and Heart that are brought to Christ, and actually partakers of him. The First writing was not continuing, but quickly obliterated by the Fall: The Second writing was not Effectual, but only discovered their Sin and Duty, yet neither enabling them against the one nor unto the other: The Third writing is both effectual and continuing; Effectual in furnishing with ability for Duty discovered; and continuing, in enabling them to persevere in well-doing continually. So that this last Inscription of Gods Laws in the Minds and Hearts of the New Covenant Fœderates, doth far excell all that went before.

(i) Deut.4.13. Gal.3.24,25.

3. That Gods most excellent Giving and Writing of his Laws in his Peoples Minds and Hearts according to this New Covenant, comprizeth in it divers things: viz. 1. Gods Preparing of their Minds and Hearts for this writing; 2. Gods Manner and Way of Writing his Laws in the Mind and Heart so prepared; 3. The Consequents and Effects upon the Mind and Heart, when Gods Laws shall be thus written upon them.

(1) Gods Preparing of Mens Minds and hearts, for his giving and writing his Laws in them. When God would write his Law Naturally in Adam's heart, there was first a kind of Preparation for it. A divine (k) Consultation to create man in Gods own image: And when God was about to write his Law, his Ten words in the two Tables of stone, he first (l) Prepared the Tables by his own immediate workmanship, he made them apt and fit for that purpose, and then wrote his Laws upon them with his own finger: So proportionably, when God doth actually go about the writing of his laws in the Minds and Hearts of his New Covenant-people, he first previously prepares, fits & disposes their minds and hearts for such inscription. Now God Prepares and Fits their Minds and hearts for his own writing of his Laws in them: By Hewing them, By Razing all other writings out of them, and By Mollifying them to receive this better writing of his holy Laws. I. God Hews these Tables of Mind and Heart by the (m) Spirit of Bondage working fear and terrour. Mens minds and hearts are Naturally like (n) stones in the Quarry, rough, rugged, uneaven, crooked, &c. very unfit to have any thing engraven or written upon them, till they be hewen, squared, polished and their ruggedness be taken away. God therefore comes with his spirit of Bondage, which layes their (o) Sins and the agrravations thereof before their naked Consciences: Layes the (p) Curse, the wrath wrath of God, and the wages of sin, death, before their eyes: Hereupon their hearts are pricked, and punctually wounded in every part, like the hearts of Peters hearers, Acts 2. 35, 36. They are full of fear, horrour, trembling and astonishment, like the Jaylour. Acts 16. 29. and like Saul, Acts 9. 5, 9. They are in excessive bitterness for their Sins against God and Jesus Christ, like those, Zech. 12. 10. to the end. Thus this Spirit of bondage rough-hews their minds and hearts, (q) takes down their pride and exalting imaginations, takes off the knobbedness, ruggedness and crookedness of their Spirits, and brings them unto some more smoothness, evenes and fittedness for this writing then Naturally they had. Thus God hews the Tables. II. God obliterateth and razeth all other Laws and writings out of their minds and hearts, repugnant to, and inconsistent with his Laws, As (r) the Law of Sin in their members, (s) The lusts of Satan, The (t) lusts and wills of the flesh, (u) Self-opinion, self-love, self-righteousness, and all manner of self-fulness: All these vile law & writings wherewith the Mind & heart is naturally blotted and blurred, God wipes out by a Spirit of self-denial, as men wipe out the old writings in their Table-books, or pare off the Old Letters in a stone before they can write New therein. Without this self-emptying, self-denial (x) none can be Christs Disciple, as Christ himself hath often intimated: This is a Primary Preparative unto Christianity. Thus the disciples left all, for Christ, Mark 10. 28, 29, 30. Thus Paul suffered the loss of all things which were formerly gain to him, accounting all things but loss and dung that he might win Christ, Phil. 3. 4. to 10. When a mans mind and heart is thus razed, when Contrary laws and writings are thus expunged and defaced out of them, then these Tables are in an excellent degree of preparedness for Gods writing of his Laws therein. For till this be done, theres no room for Gods Laws: divers Laws, contrary Laws cannot both at once be there written. This is that which God notably intimates in his excellent Promise; (y) —And the LORD thy God will circumcise thine heart, and the heart of thy Seed, To love the LORD thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, that thou mayst live. Mark, God will first Circumcise the heart of them and their seed, that is, He will raze out all other Laws of sin, the world and Satan, he will pare off the old blots and blurs of corruption, he will wipe out and deface the old writing, &c. And then they shall love the LORD with all their heart, and with all their Soul: That is, when the heart shall be thus Circumcised, thus razed, then it will be prepared for the Inscription of the Law therein, then the sincere and entire Love of God which is the great Commandment of the Law shall be graven there, shall be acting there, and shall have dominion there. III. Finally, God mollifieth and softneth the mind and heart, he makes them pliant and flexible to receive this better writing of his Laws upon them. God turns the hearts (z) stoninesse into fleshiness. A stony heart will take no impression of Gods Laws: A fleshy heart heart will receive any. Now God moſt kindly melts and thaws the heart of a Sinner by his Covenant of Faith, and eſpecially by his New Covenant, through the co-operation of his Spirit applying it. For, The Covenant of Faith, lets him See, The Riches of Gods free-grace in Jeſus Chriſt as the Sinners Surety, enduring the Curſe, Appeaſing Gods Wrath, Fulfilling all righteouſneſs, &c. for the Sinner, that the Sinner may be adopted into Gods family in the right of Chriſt, may be juſtified in the ſight of God by Chriſts righteouſneſs through Faith, and may be eternally ſaved by Chriſts merits. The Covenant of Faith tells him, (a) God will inwardly frame his heart with Grace, to obſerve all his Laws; will ſupernaturally inſtruct him in the knowledge of the Lord; will in Chriſt be pacified towards all ſorts and degrees of his Sins, ſo as to remember them no more, but forgive and forget them for ever; yea that he will be his God, and he ſhall be one of his people. Now when the poor Sinner perceives ſuch a door of hope opened for him, ſuch a flood of mercy and grace flowing in upon him, that God will do all this becauſe he will, becauſe it is his meer pleaſure; Oh how this infinite goodneſs of God in Chriſt, laid to heart by the Spirits aſſiſtance, melts, ſoftens and even overcomes the Soul. Now his mind and heart, his Opinion, his Affection, his Diſpoſition is wonderfully altered towards God, towards Chriſt, towards his Law, towards all his wayes. Now he counts not God, as formerly, an enemy or an hard Maſter, but a friend indeed, a moſt gracious and compaſſionate God, not only requiring Duty, but giving Ability: not only diſcovering Miſery, but aſſuring of the eternal and al-ſufficient Remedy againſt it. Now he looks not upon the Law of God, as a rigorous, harſh and heavy yoke: but as holy juſt and good, as a ſweet and eaſie yoke in Chriſt, and as a Comforrable Rule of life and obedience. Now when the Mind and Heart are thus prepared, by Hewing, by Razing, by ſoftning them: Then comes the Spirit of God and gives his Laws into their Minds, writes them in their Hearts. This is very obſervable, if we compare this clauſe of this New Covenant: (b) I will give my Laws into their Mind, and write them upon their hearts, together with that paſſage of Paul elſwhere: (c) ye are our Epiſtle, written in our Hearts, known and read of all men. Foraſmuch as ye are manifeſtly declared to be the Epiſtle of Chriſt, miniſtred by us, written not with Ink, but with the Spirit of the living God: Not in Tables of ſtone, but in fleſhly Tables of the heart. Hereby he intimates to us. 1. That the heart muſt firſt be prepared as Tables to write on: 2. That Theſe Tables of the heart are then eſpecially prepared for this writing, when they are not hard, ſtony, but ſoft fleſhly Tables: Then the Spirit writes Gods Laws there, then they become Chriſts own Epiſtle. Thus of Gods preparing their Minds and Hearts, for writing his Laws therein. This is the Firſt thing.

well obſerves) to the Promiſe of the New Covenant in Jeremiah, I will give my Law into their inwards, and write it in their hearts: and to the Promiſe in Ezekiel, I will take away their heart of ſtone, and will give them an heart of fleſh, ſhews that this New Covenant-Promiſe was fulfilled upon the Corinthians by means of his Miniſtry among them, and that therefore, he was a Miniſter of the New Teſtament, not of the old; of the Spirit, not of the Letter unto them: ſaying: (e) Ye are our Epiſtle written in our hearts, known and read of all men. Foraſmuch as ye are manifeſtly declared to be the Epiſtle of Chriſt, miniſtred by us, written not with Ink, but with the Spirit of the living God: Not in Tables of ſtone, but in fleſhly Tables of the heart. In which words alſo he tacitly gives us to underſtand, Gods ordinary way and manner of writing his Laws in his Peoples hearts, now under this New Covenant, viz. 1. That, The Tables whereon this Law is written, are not Tables of ſtone, but fleſhly Tables of the heart. The (f) Epithet (Fleſhly) is not here taken in a bad but in a good ſenſe, and ſignifies a ſoft, flexible, tractable heart, here oppoſed to ſtony, that is, an hard, ſtubborn, contumacious heart, as mans heart by Nature is till it be ſubdued by the Spirit of God. Mans heart muſt firſt become fleſhly and flexible before Gods Law can be written therein. 2. That, The Pen or Inſtrument wherewith uſually Gods Law is written in the Heart, is the Miniſter of Chriſt. The Epiſtle of Chriſt, miniſtred by us. Miniſters are the Inſtrumental Mean, the Pen in the hand of God, in the hand of Chriſt, in this writing: They (g) can do nothing of themſelves, they cannot print this writing upon the Mind and Heart, but as Chriſt guides them, acts them, uſes them, & accompanies their Miniſtry by his Spirit to make it pierce into the heart, and render it effectual there. 3. That, The Spiritual Ink wherewith this writing is immediately drawn, is the Spirit of the living God. What Ink doth upon the Paper: That the Spirit of God doth upon the mind and Heart. Its Ink that makes the Characters, the lines, the words, the writing: and leaves them remaining upon the Paper that they may be read: if there be no Ink in the Pen, there can be no writing, though the Pen be uſed never ſo much. Its the Spirit of God that effectually writes the Prints and characters of Gods Laws upon the mind and heart: without this Spirit the Miniſtry of man can write nothing there, not one law there: They are (h) but Miniſters by whom men believe, but its God only that gives the increaſe. The inſtruments in this point are nothing: (i) All the power, vertue and efficacy thereof is only of God by his Spirit. 4. That, The writer, the efficient of this writing, is God in Chriſt by his Spirit. They are all three here mentioned: The writing is the Epiſtle of Chriſt, written by the Spirit of the living God; They all three co-operate, and Miniſters co-operate with them all, and all to produce this great work of writing Gods Laws in theſe fleſhly Tables. Whenſoever therefore this bleſſed writing is delineated upon any mans heart, he is to look upon it as a Mighty work of God, and not as the work of man upon his heart:

He cannot write theſe Laws upon his own heart; Nor can the moſt excellent Miniſters in the world, no not Apoſtles themſelves, do it without God; And Ordinarily God will not do it without his Miniſters. Hence, Miniſters are Neceſſary Inſtruments, as Pens in the hand of Chriſt, for this writing: To deſpiſe them, will be to deprive our ſelves of this Inſcription, and to deſpiſe Gods way of giving his Laws into our Minds and Hearts. Thus, The Laws of God, are the writing: Fleſhly hearts, are the Tables: Miniſters of the Goſpel, are the Pens: The Spirit of God, is as the Ink: and God in Chriſt the writer. Theres much of Chriſt in the Mind and Heart when the Laws of God are written there. This is Gods uſual way.

(3) The Conſequents and effects of this writing of Gods Laws upon the Mind and heart, are divers, and very conſiderable. As, 1. The univerſal Anſwerableneſs of the Heart within, to Gods Law without. 2. The Renovation of the whole Soul. 3. True knowledge of the will and all the wayes of God, and Unfeigned Love to God and man. 4. Sincerity of Obedience from right Principles. 5. A chearful delight in the Law of God. 6. Legibleneſs of the writing. 7. Firmneſs and durableneſs of the Impreſſion. Let me open theſe Particulars a little. I. An univerſal anſwerableneſs of the Mind and Heart within, to Gods Laws without. Mark, he doth not ſay, I will write this Law, or that Law, this Table, or that Table: but indefinitely, I will give and write my Laws: that is, All my Laws, heres none excepted. Again, he doth not ſay, I will write them in their Minds alone, or Wils alone, or Affections alone: but in their Mind and Hearts: that is, in their whole Souls and all the Powers or Faculties thereof. As under the Old Covenant, when Gods Laws were written on Tables of ſtone, (k) The Tables were written on both their Sides, on the one ſide and on the other were they written: The Tables were written all over, they were all full of the Law, there was no vacant ſpace: So here under the New Covenant, the Spiritual Tables ſhall be written on every ſide, on every faculty and affection, the whole Law ſhall be written all over them, the mind and heart ſhall be full of the Law. Before this writing, there was an univerſal Contrariety: but ſince, theres an univerſal Correſpondency, betwixt Gods Laws and their Hearts. Now theres a Spiritual Law within, called (l) The Law of the Mind, anſwering in every point to the Literal Law without: As the Counterpain anſwers to the Original Deed, as the Print anſwers to the Stamps, As the impreſſion in the wax anſwers to the Seal, as the Image in the glaſs anſwers to the Face, eye for eye, part for part, proportion for proportion, colour for colour. There is ſuch a general conformity, compliancy, and tendency of the mind and heart to and with the Laws of God, that they have a ſweet aptneſs and diſpoſedneſs to have reſpect to them all. (m) Then ſhall I not be aſhamed, when I have reſpect to all thy Commandments. II. The (n) Renovation of the Mind and heart, even of the whole Soul by the Holy Ghoſt, according to the image of God in knowledge, righteouſneſs, and true Holineſs. This is another conſequent or concomitant of Gods writing his Law in the Heart. Whilſt Adam had the Law of God in his heart, he retained the Image of God in his heart wherein he was created: and when man receives the Law of God ſupernaturally written in his heart, he Receives the image of God alſo into his heart, wherein he is New-created. There cannot be a ſupernatural writing of the Law in the Heart, and conformity of the Heart to the Law, but withal there muſt needs be the Image of God renewed there, wherein this Conformity conſiſts. Holineſs conforms the Heart to the whole Firſt Table, Righteouſneſs conforms it to the whole Second Table, and Knowledge compleats this conformity to both. This Renewing of the whole Soul, Mind and heart after the Image of God, is (as I ſaid) another Conſequent following, or a concomitant accompanying Gods writing of his Law in the mind and heart. It may be accounted a Conſequent following upon it, foraſmuch as this Inſcription of Gods Laws in the heart leaves this renewed ſtate behind it upon the heart, the Image of God remains there, and abides there ever after: It may alſo be counted a Concomitant accompanying it, foraſmuch as Gods writing his Law in the Heart and Mind, and his Renewing the whole Soul, are effects of divine Grace wrought both at once in the Soul; yea for ſubſtance they are both one, This (o) Renewing of the Holy Ghoſt being the hearts Conformity to the Law of God. By this its evident, that this promiſed Bleſſing of writing Gods Laws in their Minds and Hearts, is very comprehenſive, It comprizeth in it, 1. Gods giving of his Spirit into their hearts, (p) whereby this writing of the Law ſhall be delineated there: 2. The Supernatural Principles and Habits of ſaving Grace infuſed into the Soul: which are called The Image of God, Epheſ. 4. 24. Col. 3. 10. The New man, Eph. 4. 24. The Law of their mind, Rom. 7. 23. The Life of God, Eph. 4. 18. The Divine Nature, 2 Pet. 1. 4. The Law of the Spirit of Life in Chriſt, Rom. 8. 2. 3. As alſo the original and fundamental actings of the Spirit to the Infuſion of theſe Principles, which acts are ſtiled, Renovation, Tit. 3. 5. Regeneration, Tit. 3. 5. John 3. 3, 5. & 1. 12. New-Creation, 2 Cor. 5. 17. Vocation, viz. Effectual vocation, Rom. 8. 30. 1 Pet. 2. 9. Sanctification, 1 Pet. 1. 2. 1 Cor. 6. 11. All theſe and ſuch like particulars are comprehended in this ſweet Promiſe of Gods writing his Laws in his peoples Minds and hearts. So that this is a very pregnant, full and rich Promiſe.

III. True knowledge of Gods will and all his wayes, in Chriſt: and Unfeigned love to God and man. 1. Gods Laws are given into their Mind: Hence, the Mind muſt needs have a true knowledge of Gods will and all his wayes, in Chriſt. For, Gods Laws do ſummarily comprize in them the will and waies of God wherein we ſhould walk; viz. All his wayes of Religion towards God, in the Firſt Table; and all his wayes of Righteouſneſs towards man, in the Second Table; When the Laws of God are within the mind, theres a true, inward, radical and infallible principle of Knowledge there: and this a Knowledge in Christ; foraſmuch as, when men have the Laws of God thus written in their Minds and hearts, they (q) are the Epiſtle of Christ, this writing there is the ſpecial work of Christ by his Spirit, this is part of Christs New Covenant-work. This knowledge is an excellent inlet into Obedience, and conſequently unto happineſs. (r) If ye know theſe things, happy are ye if ye do them. 2. Gods Laws are written in their hearts: Hence, Unfeigned love to God and man (which is the very (s) Summ and abſtract of all Gods Laws) muſt needs be deeply engraven in their hearts alſo. For Love is the life of the Law, the end of the Law, The fulfilling of the Law, The Subſtance and abridgement of the whole Law: (x) Love to God with all the heart, ſoul, mind and might, is the Firſt and great Commandment, viz. The Summ of the Firſt Table; And love to our neighbour as to our ſelves is the ſecond like unto it, viz. The Summ of the Second Table. So that the Law of God cannot be written in any heart: but conſequently the Love of God and Man muſt needs be deeply engraven upon that heart. Now this twofold love muſt be Unfeigned: for what is written in the mind and heart, is real, cordial, unfeigned, without diſſimulation, formality or hypocriſie. By the ſincerity of this Love in the heart, we may notably diſcover that the Laws of God are written there alſo. IV. Sincerity of Obedience from right principles of true knowledge and unfeigned Love. This is another excellent effect of Gods writing his Law in the mind and heart: It makes him ſincerely obedient from right Principles. Before Gods Law be written in the heart, a man may perform many acts of Obedience to the Law; As, (y) Herod did many things; So the (z) Phariſees performed many things; and Paul before his Converſion, was touching the Law a Phariſee, touching the righteouſneſs of the Law blameleſs, but all that they did was from wrong principles, from fear of men, hope of popular applauſe, carnal expectation of juſtification by the work done, &c. theſe are but odd accidental and carnal principles to act upon; and all ſuch actions are but forced and violent Motions, as of a ſtone caſt upwards, which is contrary to its Natural Motion and inward principle, they are unſound & hypocritical, therefore God diſregards and abhors them. But after the Law of God is written in a mans heart, then he obeyes ſincerely from a right inward and cordial Principle which is in his heart. The Law of God is within, therefore he cordially, inwardly, connaturally obeys this Law. His motion is not a violent and forced, but a Natural Motion. His obedience ſprings out of his heart, He obeys in knowledge, (a) He knows, and then does: (b) He obeys in love, out of a pure heart and a good Conſcience, and faith unfeigned, here are right principles: ſuch obedience is ſincere, the heart and the act, the inward principle and the outward Practiſe do agree, heres no hypocriſie, no counterfeit deportment in ſuch Obedience. Thats the pureſt honey that drops from the comb freely without ſqueezing, thats the the pureſt and moſt generous wine that flows from the grape freely with the leaſt preſſing, thats the pureſt and moſt genuine Motion that comes from an innate inward principle of Nature, without external forcing: So thats the moſt ſincere pure obedience to God, that naturally flows from the Principle of the Law within, from the image of God, true Grace, and love within the heart and Soul: Theſe principles breed an aptneſs, a proneneſs, a familiar, habitual, connatural diſpoſedneſs in the Soul to obey, and it cannot chuſe but incline to ſuch obedience from this ſupernatural Byas that is ſet upon the Heart. V. A chearful delight in the Law of God, and in the obedience thereof. This is another effect of Gods Law in the Heart: it makes a man delight exceedingly in it, delight to know it, delight to Meditate in it, delight to be conform to it, delight to do it, and perform the will of God in it. Paul ſaid: (c) I delight in the Law of God after the inward man. The truly Godly and bleſſed man hath this Property: (d) His delight is in the Law of the LORD, and in that Law will he meditate day and night. David alſo acknowledged that from Gods Law written within, he had a delight to do Gods will; (e) I delight to do thy will, O my God: yea thy Law is in the midſt of my bowels, or within my heart. Herein David was a ſpecial (f) Type of Jeſus Chriſt, whoſe meat was to do the will of him that ſent him, and to finiſh his work. When Gods Law is in the heart, Then the very bent, diſpoſition, inclination, tendency, and whole Stream of the heart and affections is towards this Law of God, and the obſervance of it, and that chearfully, pleaſantly, delightfully. Whatſoever a man doth from this inward Principle of Gods Law and ingraffed Propenſity of the heart, he doth not only in uprightneſs, but alſo with great alacrity and delightfulneſs: Its his meat and drink to be doing it, and beyond his appointed food. He delights in it, as the fiſh in the water, as the foul in the air, which is their proper Element: So the Law of God is his Element, he would ſtill be and live in this Element: He delights to know God, to believe in him, to love him, to obſerve him, to worſhip him according to his will, to honour his name, to ſanctifie his Sabbaths, to be doing all good to his brother: He is never well, but when he is dutifully walking with God, and uſing Means to further his Obedience. If there were no heaven to reward obedience, no hell to puniſh diſobedience, yet he would (g) Fear the LORD, and delight greatly in his Commandments. Oh what (h) high eſteem had David of the Laws of God, beyond honey and honey-comb, beyond rich ſpoils, beyond thouſands of gold and ſilver, beyond all riches; he counted them his Counſellours, his heritage for ever, and the rejoycing of his heart; His ſpirit was endeared to them, and raviſhed with them exceedingly, I love them exceedingly.—Oh how love I thy Law, it is my Meditation all the day,—My Soul breaketh for the longing that it hath unto thy judgements at all times. But now on the contrary when Gods Law is not written in the heart, there is an extream antipathy, averſneſs and (i) enmity to it, a man counts it it an hard rigorous Law, an intolerable yoke, could wish there never had been any such Law to chain him up, and restrain him from his lusts and corruptions; he hates it, and the obedience thereof, it is very bitter, burdensome and gravaminous to his Spirit. VI. The Legibleness of this writing. When God writes his Laws in mens hearts, he makes them Legible and discernable there; they may be seen and read there: As when he wrote the (k) Law upon the two Tables of stone, it was Legible there, Moses was able to read it. Now this Law written in their Hearts is Legible, of God, of Themselves, and of Others. 1. Legible of God. The Lord exactly discerns and reads his own writings in the Heart. He fully (l) knows what is in man, he (m) searcheth the reigns and hearts of all men, but he specially beholds with favourable acceptation such persons hearts as have his Law in them, his image, his graces, his sanctifying endowments, &c. to such will he look; such are (o) men after his own heart, (as David was) to fulfill all his will. 2. Legible of themselves. They that have the Law of God written in their hearts, can Read it and discern it there. As David did: (p) Thy Law is within my heart: Hebr. Thy Law is in the midst of my bowels, There is a (q) white stone given by Christ to some, and in the stone a New name written, which no man knoweth (viz. certainly and infallibly) but he that receiveth it. Now a man may discover the Law of God thats written in his Heart, Partly, by the Apprehensiveness of his own Spirit and Conscience. (r) What man knoweth the things of a man, save the Spirit of man which is in him? Partly, by the Evidence and Discoveries thereof by the Spirit of God. (s) Now we have Received, not the Spirit of the world, but the Spirit which is of God, that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God. Partly, By the light of the Law written in the heart. The Law put in the heart brings a spiritual light with it, whereby it may be discovered: as a Diamond set in gold brings an orient sparkling with it, whereby it may be discerned. (t) The Commandment of the LORD is pure, enlightning the eyes. (u) —The entrance of thy words giveth light, it giveth understanding unto the simple. When the Sun or a star ariseth, they bring their natural light with them, and thereby discover themselves to the world: so when the day-star of grace and Law of God arise in a mans heart, they bring their spiritual light with them, and so manifest themselves unto the Soul. Partly, By the great and wonderful alteration which is made in the heart and Soul by the writing of the Law therein. It was stony, it is fleshly: It was rebellious, it is obsequious: It was full of hatred and enmity against God, it is full of Amity and love to God, &c. Theres a mighty change. Now great Alterations of State, are great Demonstrations: A passage from one contrary State to another is very conspicuous. 3. Legible also to others. Though others cannot infallibly read the Law of God written in their hearts, yet charitatively and probably they may read it, by the Preparatives, Properties and Consequents of such writing. Hence said ſaid Paul to his Corinthians: (x) — Ye are our Epiſtle, written in our hearts, ſeen and read of all men; foraſmuch as ye are manifeſtly declared to be the Epiſtle of Chriſt miniſtred by us, &c. Thus the Law of God written in the heart is Legible. And yet its true, It is not alwaies alike Legible to our ſelves and others: Sometimes, as in infancy of Grace, the characters are very ſmall: Sometimes, they are ſo blured and rubbed off by lapſes and Infirmities, that its much ado to diſcover the writing, although there be a true writing there. VII. Finally, The Firmneſs and durableneſs of the Laws impreſſion upon the Mind and Heart. (y) God gives it, God writes it in mind and heart. By theſe two expreſſions he intimates how firmly and ſtrongly he conveyes his Laws into the Mind and heart, that they may never be oblitered or worn out. Writings in the duſt may be blown out with a puff of wind, writings in Paper may be fetched out by art, yea writings in Marble or dead Materials may wear away: but God will write his Laws in laſting Tables, in Mind and heart, there they ſhall be engraven deeply and indelibly, more deeply then any acquired Habits; they ſhall become connatural to the heart, they ſhall be incorporated into the very frame of the Soul, they ſhall make ſuch impreſſion as ſhall never out, nay death it ſelf ſhall not be able to deface this Record, but the Laws of God once written by God upon the Mind and heart, ſhall remain as long as thoſe ſpiritual Tables ſhall remain, that is, for evermore. Theſe are the excellent fruits, effects or Conſequents of Gods writing his Laws in his Fœderates minds and hearts.

IV. Queſtion. Whether Gods Laws were not written in his Peoples Minds and Hearts before the time of this New Covenant?

The Reaſon of this Queſtion is, becauſe this New Covenant is here ſaid to be (z) not according to the Covenant made with the Fathers, &c. and this is laid down as the firſt particular point wherein the New Covenant ſhould differ from the Old, viz. That now God would give his Laws into their Mind, and write them in their hearts, which ſeems to import that his Laws were never ſo written in the heart before. Which to aſſert, ſeems very ſtrange; eſpecially ſeeing the New Covenant is ſubſtantially one and the ſame with former Covenants: And Gods Fœderates of Old were Partakers of Renonation in and after the image of God, as well as ſince the New Covenant.

(z) Heb. 8. 8, 9, 10. Ier. 31. 31, 32, 33.

Anſw. For clear Reſolution to this Queſtion, theſe two things are to be heedfully Conſidered, viz.

1. That, Before the time of this New Covenant there was ſome kind and manner of Gods writing his Laws in the Hearts of his People. As, 1. A Natural writing of the Subſtance of his Moral Laws in the Heart of Adam in his innocency, under the Covenant of Works. This is evident, Partly by the (a) integrity and uprightneſs of man in his firſt Creation in the image of God: which was his conformity to Gods Law

(a) Eccl. 7. 29. Gen. 1. 26, 27.

Law. Partly, by the ([b]) Work of the Law in some measure written upon the hearts of Pagans, who never had the written Law. If so much of the Law remain in mans corrupt Nature; how compleatly was it written in mans perfect Nature? Now this writing of the Law in Adams heart, was only Natural, and Concreated; it was such a writing as belonged and was agreeable to the pure primitive state and constitution of man in his very Creation, he had it only naturally from God as Creator, not supernaturally from God as Redeemer. 2. A Supernatural writing of Gods Moral Law, for the Substance of it in the hearts of his people, after the Fall, under the Covenant of Faith. This is evident; Partly, because Gods people under the Covenant of Faith, and before the time of the New Covenant, had in effect some such thing Promised to them, as Gods ([c]) circumcising their hearts to love him; His ([d]) putting his fear into their hearts that they should not depart from him; His ([e]) giving of his Spirit into their hearts, together with many excellent Influences of the Spirit, ([f]) formerly explained. What were these supernatural blessings, but principles of Grace conforming them to the Law of God, and the writing of Gods Laws in their Hearts. Partly, Because before the time of the New Covenant Gods people experimentally received such an Inscription of Gods Laws upon their hearts, as appears by their Renovation, their inward Principles, their holy Practises, and sometimes their express acknowledgements hereof. Thus ([g]) Under Gods Covenant with Adam; ([h]) Abel was a believer, and his works righteous. ([i]) Enoch a believer, and walked with God. ([k]) Under Gods Covenant with Noah; ([l]) Noah was a believer, upright in his Generations, walked with God, and moved with fear, by Gods warning obediently made an Ark. ([m]) Under Gods Covenant with Abraham; Abraham ([n]) believed in the Lord; walked before God, was perfect; most obedient to Gods call and commands, to follow him (even ad cæcam obedientiam) although he knew not whither; and commanded his children and household after him to keep the way of the Lord. So ([o]) Isaac a believer, Feared God. ([p]) Jacob a believer, wrastled with God in prayer and prevailed, &c. ([q]) Under Gods Sinai-Covenant with Israel; Moses an eminent ([r]) believer, and an excellent Self-denyer. ([s]) Caleb and Joshuah, men of another spirit, followed the Lord fully. ([t]) Gedeon, Barack, Jephta, Sampson, &c. were also renowned believers. ([u]) Under Gods Covenant with David; David himself was ([w]) a man after Gods own heart: and himself confesseth; ([x]) I delight to do thy will, O my God, yea thy Law is within my Heart, Hebr. in the midst of my bowels. ([y]) Finally, Under Gods Covenant with the Captives; God assured them of ([z]) a New heart and a New Spirit, promising to take away their heart of stone, and to give them an heart of flesh, that they might walk in his Statutes, and keep his Ordinances, and do them. By all which its very evident, that in some sort God did supernaturally write his Laws in the Minds and Hearts of his people, before the time time of this New Covenant. I ſay, Supernaturally; Becauſe whatſoever writing of this ſort is ſavingly printed upon any mans heart ſince the Fall under the Covenant of Faith in any Adminiſtration thereof, is wrought by Chriſt the Redeemer, by the ſupernatural efficacy of his Spirit. Every ſuch writing is the Epiſtle of Chriſt: his Grace, his Spirit, his efficacy, his image, is illuſtriouſly evident therein. This is the firſt thing to be conſidered, by way of Conceſſion.

2. That, Notwithſtanding all this, thus granted, till the time of this New Covenant Gods Laws were not ſo written in his peoples hearts, as ſince they have been. This is very evident; If we take notice how far The Manner, Efficacy and Extent of this New Covenant-Adminiſtration, differed from, and tranſcended all Fœderal Adminiſtrations that went before it: Anſwerable unto which is Gods Manner, Efficacy and Extent of writing of his Laws, eſpecially under the Old & New Teſtament. 1. The Manner of Gods former Covenant-Adminiſtations was more Carnal and External, and ran for the moſt part upon Carnal and outward bleſſings, as to the Letter of them. As, (t) Bruiſing the Serpents Head by the Seed of the woman; (u) Preſervation in the Ark from the flood of waters that drowned all the world; The (x) Inheritance of Canaan, long life and Proſperity there; The (y) Continuance and Glory of Davids throne and Kingdom to his Seed; The (z) Redemption of the Captives out of Babylon and Reſtitution of them into their own land, &c. And proportionably Gods Manner of writing his Laws, was more Carnal and External; viz. In two Tables of ſtone, Deut. 4. 13. 2 Cor. 3. 3, 7. But the manner of Gods New Covenant Adminiſtration, is more Spiritual and Internal, moſtly conſiſting of Inward Spiritual Bleſſings. Yea as to the Letter of the Covenant it wholly runs upon Spirituals altogether, Jer. 31. 31, 32, 33, 34. Heb. 8. 8. to 13. And proportionably Gods manner of writing his Laws is Spiritual and Inward; not in Tables of ſtone, but in the ſoft fleſhly Tables of the Mind and Heart, Jer. 31. 33. Heb. 8 10 2 Cor. 3. 3. This different Form and Manner of the Old and New Covenants adminiſtration is much to be noted, which eminently holds forth ſuch a different writing of Gods Laws: That, in Literal Tables of ſtones, This, in ſpiritual Tables of the mind and heart. 2. The Efficacy of former adminiſtrations, was very weak and ſmall, in Compariſon of this New Covenant-Adminiſtration which is great and powerfull. Under thoſe The, Holy Spirit was but as it were (a) ſparingly ſprinkled upon them; Their knowledge and love of God was dark, feeble (b) childlike; Their hearts were very ſtony hard and inflexible, as God intimated to them in writing his Laws upon ſtones, &c. But under this, The Holy Spirit is (c) plentifully poured forth as in Streams & Rivers upon them; and into them; Their knowledge and love of God is clear, ſtrong, ripe, man like: Their Hearts very fleſhy and flexible to God and his will, &c. Hence, The Old Teſtament-Miniſtration is called (d) The Miniſtration ſtration of the Letter, that condemns and kills, viz. An ineffectual Miniſtration, ſhewing the Letter of the Duty and Death in caſe of Non-performance, but affording no Ability for that Duty: But the New Teſtament-Miniſtration is called the Miniſtrationn of the Spirit that quickneth, and is a Miniſtration of righteouſneſs, viz. An effectual and powerfull Miniſtration, that affords ſufficiency of ability for the Duty which it requireth. Hence, The Spirit is ſaid (c) Ioh. 7.39. (c) not to be given, till Chriſt was glorified: Not as if it had not been given at all; but becauſe it was beſtowed ſo ſparingly and ſlenderly, in compariſon to what is now, that it might ſeem not to be given at all.

3. The extent of former Covenant-Adminiſtrations, was but to Particular Familes, as of Adam, Noah, Abraham, David; or to ſome Particular Tribes, as to the Captives of Judah and Benjamen; ar to a Select Nation, as to the Jews at Mount-Sinai: Alas, how few, what a ſmall handfull were all theſe to the reſt of the world! And yet of this ſmall number, how few were there that had any ſaving inſcription of Gods Laws upon their hearts at all? And we ſay, Minimum in magno nihil, a ſmall thing in that whch is great is as nothing; a drop is as nothing in the Sea, a grain of ſand is as nothing in the Earth: ſo the writing of Gods Laws in the hearts of ſo few, is as nothing in the world. But the (f) Mat. 28. 19, 20. extent of this New Covenant-Adminiſtration is univerſal, (f) To all Nations in the whole world; and conſequently Gods writing of his Laws in mens hearts is proportionably extended to all Gods people in all thoſe Nations: to many thouſands and ten thouſands more then under all former Covenant-Expreſſures.

Thus the Lord under this New Covenant writes his Laws in his Peoples hearts; (1) Not Naturally, as at Firſt in Adams heart in his ſtate of creation, under the Covenant of Works; But Supernaturally, by the Spirit of Jeſus Chriſt, reſtoring them from their State of corruption under the Covenant of Faith: And this (2) Not ſo imperfectly as under foregoing Covenant-Adminiſtrations, but much more perfectly and compleatly in Efficaciouſneſs and Extenſiveneſs. The chiefeſt of former Covenants, the Old Covenant holding forth, in the publique and open Adminiſtration of it, only a writing of Gods Laws in ſtones: This New Covenant, in the open and manifeſt Adminiſtration of it, revealing only a writing of Gods Laws in the Minds and Hearts of Gods Fœderates.

V. Queſtion. Why will the Lord write his Laws in the Minds and Hearts of his Fœderates, Now under the New Covenant? And why doth God Covenant thus to do?

Anſw. The Lord doth Covenant this, and will accordingly thus write his Laws in the Minds and hearts of his Covenant-people now under the New Covenant;

1. Becauſe, He will. The meer good pleaſure of his will, and his free Commiſerating Grace, is the only original Moving Cauſe inclining him hereunto. (g) Ier. 31. 33. Heb. 8. 10. & 10. 16. (3) I will give my Laws into their Mind, and I will write them in their hearts. Gods Fœderates cannot deſerve this this bleſſing of themſelves, more then others: but God will peculiarly conferr it upon them of the riches of his meer Grace, which he now under the New Covenant diſplaies more eminently and glorioufly then ever, Epheſ. 2. 4. to 11.

2. Becauſe God intended this New Covenant to be a far more perfect and excellent Expreſſure then the Old Covenant. (h) Behold — I will make a new Covenant — not according to the Covenant which I made with their Fathers. Why? wherein ſhall this New Covenant excell and be more Perfect? Herein ſaith God; My Old Covenant was but (i) written in Tables of ſtone: but my New Covenant ſhall be engraven upon better Tables, upon the Mind and Heart. This better writing, theſe better Tables, will make this a better Covenant. Gods Covenants were ſo ordered in their Revealing, that the later was ſtill better then the former; and the laſt, this New Covenant, the beſt of all.

(i) Deut. 4. 13. 2 Cor. 3 3, 7.

3. Becauſe, God would more effectually provide againſt his Peoples breach of Covenant, then formerly. God brought all Iſrael into an Excellent Covenant at Mount Sinai that Old Covenant, and after he had publiſhed it to them by his own immediate voice, he wrote it upon two Tables of ſtone: but preſently they brake this Covenant by their Idolatry in Aarons calf, as Moſes ſignified by breaking the Tables before their eyes. Why did they ſo ſoon break this Old Covenant? Becauſe it was not written in their Minds and Hearts, but only upon Tables of ſtone: They had an Outward Rule, but they had not the inward Principle of obedience, therefore they brake it. Which my Covenant they brake, Jer. 31. 32. (k) Becauſe they continued not in my Covenant, and I regarded them not, ſaith the Lord. For this is the Covenant that I will make with the houſe of Iſrael after thoſe days ſaith the Lord: I will give my Laws into their Mind, and write them upon their Hearts. As if he had ſaid; I will take a more effectual Courſe in my New Covenant, to prevent their breach of Covenant; their inconſtancy and unſtedfaſtneſs in, and their Apoſtacy from my Covenant is very offenſive to me: therefore I will give them inward Principles and Abilities for performance of, and perſeverance in my Covenant, I will not engraven my Laws any more in Stones without them, but upon their Minds and Hearts within them, ſo that they ſhall be no more able to forget and forſake my Laws and Covenant, then they can forget and forſake their own Minds and Hearts; Thus they ſhall be Conſtant, Steady, and Stedfaſt in my New Covenant.

(k) Heb. 8 9, 10.

4. Becauſe, God had reſerved the moſt plenary and efficacious Donation of his Spirit, and all his gracious influences, till the daies of Chriſt, and times of the New Covenant: As the Scriptures (l) often intimate. Hence, Gods moſt eminent, excellent, efficacious, compleat and extenſive writing of his Laws in the minds and hearts of his Fœderates, (which is the immediate and ſpecial work of his (m) Spirit, and hath in it Complexively very many of the gracious Influences, Endowments, Effects and Operations of the Spirit of God, as (n) I have already manifested,) is also reserved till these dayes of Christ and of his New Covenant. The Plenary donation of the Spirit, is the (o) fruit of Christs actual Exaltation and Glorification, then he himself received of the Father, the Promise of the Holy ghost, that is, The Promised Holy ghost, and upon that Receit shed forth the same upon his people: Answerably the Spirits most Plenary and perfect Inscription of Gods Laws in his peoples hearts, is the proper fruit of the Spirits plenary Donation. Both these, are the glorious Trophies of Christs triumphant ascension into heaven, and Exaltation at Gods right hand: and by both these Christ is exceedingly extolled and magnified in his Church.

5. Finally, God will under his New Covenant write his Laws in his Peoples Minds and Hearts, that the Spiritual (p) Consequents and Effects of such his writing of his Laws therein may rest upon them, and really make them Gods Covenant-people indeed. This is eminently intimated in the Connexion of those two Promises together; (q) I will put my Laws into their mind, and write them upon their hearts: And I will be to them a God, and they shall be to me a people. As if he had said; Hereby I will effectually declare and demonstrate my self to be their God in Covenant, and will effectually make them my Covenant people indeed: even by Giving my Laws into their Minds, and writing them upon their Hearts. Till this writing be drawn upon their Souls, I and the sons of men are at a distance, there is no saving Covenant-Relation, nor Covenant-interest between us, &c. but when this shall be once actually done upon the Minds and Hearts of any, then all this distance shall be removed from between me and them, then I will be theirs, and they shall be mine effectually and savingly, according to my New Covenant.

VI. Question. How we may know, Whether God hath Given his Laws into our Minds, and written them upon our Hearts?

Answ. We may know this, 1. By the Antecedents, 2. By the Manner, 3. By the Consequents of Gods writing his Laws in our minds and hearts, as hath already been explained.

1. By the Antecedents foregoing and preparing the Mind and Heart for Gods writing his Laws there. As,

(1) Hath God hewen the Tables of mind and heart by his Spirit of Bondage? Rom. 8. 15.

(2) Hath God razed and obliterated out of the mind and heart all other Laws, Writings, and Impressions which are inconsistent with these Laws of God? Hath he (r) Circumcised thine heart, cutting off thy Natural Corruptions? Hath he (s) taken away the Stone out of thy heart? Hath he stript thee Naked, and emptied thee of thy self by (t) Self-Denial?

(3) Hath God (u) mollified and ſoftned theſe Tables of thy mind and heart to receive the impreſſion of his Laws, by the heart-melting diſcoveries of the Goſpel, laying open the riches of divine Wiſdom, Grace and Mercy in Chriſt for ſaving of Sinners?

(u) Ezek. 36. 26. & 11. 19, 20.

2. By the Way and Manner of Gods writing his Laws in mind and heart, viz. 1. By Chriſt, as his hand, his writer; 2. By his Miniſters, as his Pens in the hand of Chriſt; 3. By the Holy Spirit, as his Ink that immediately makes the characters; 4. And in fleſhly, ſoft, flexible Tables of Mind and Heart.

(1) Hath Chriſt made his ſupernatural draught upon Mind and Heart? Is he the writer? Is the (x) Epiſtle Chriſt's; or anothers, Sin's, The World's, Satan's? Whoſe Image and ſuperſcription is it, thats upon the heart? Are you (y) New-creatures in Chriſt Jeſus? Are you the (z) workmanſhip of God created in Chriſt unto good works, &c? Have ye put on the Lord Jeſus? Rom. 13.14. Gal. 3.26, 27. Chriſt is cloſe at work in the Soul, when Gods Laws are a writing there.

(x) 2 Cor. 3.3, &c.
(y) 2 Cor. 5.17.
(z) Eph. 2.10.

(2) Are the (a) Miniſters of Chriſt, his Pens to delineate Gods Laws in your minds and Hearts? Do you prize, love, obey, and ſubmit to them in the Lord in their Miniſtrations, as Inſtruments in the hand of Chriſt? 1 Theſ. 5.12, 13. Heb. 13.17. 1 Theſ. 1.5, 6. Gal. 4.14, 15. 1 Cor. 4.1. The Corinthians over-valued their Miniſters, 1 Cor. 1.12, 13. & 3.4, 5, 6. The Galatians removed from theirs, and undervalued them, Gal. 1.6, &c. Thoſe, by accounting them above Inſtruments: theſe by debaſing them below Inſtruments, and rejecting them for falſe Teachers; (The Epidemical diſeaſe of theſe our times,) But then we ſhall rightly value them, when we ſhall account them as Miniſters, as Inſtruments, as Pens in the hand of Chriſt. Are they (b) Miniſters of the Spirit, or only of the Letter, to you? Hath their (c) Goſpel come unto you, not in word onely, but alſo in power, and in the Holy Ghoſt, and in much aſſurance?

(a) 2 Cor. 3. 2, 3, &c.
(b) 2 Cor. 3.3, 6.
(c) 1 Theſ. 1.5.

(3) Hath the (d) Holy Ghoſt been the bleſſed Ink that hath immediatly written Gods Laws upon your Minds and Hearts? Hath this Ink been put by Chriſt into his Pens, hath this Spirit co-operated with his Miniſters, hath he left his marks, his characters behind him upon your Souls, or no?

(d) 2 Cor. 3.3.

(4) Have your minds and hearts been found (e) Fleſhly, not Stony Tables, when Chriſt by his Spirit and Miniſters was going to write Gods Laws upon them? Have they rejected, or received his impreſſions? Have they yielded to, or rebelled againſt his Inſcriptions? Have they been like melted mettal, ready to run into the mould of Gods Laws, and to receive any impreſſion thereof?

(e) 2 Cor. 3.3.

3. By the Conſequents and Effects, reſulting from, and remaining after Gods writing his Laws in the Mind and Heart. After writing, there there are Characters and Words remaining, wherein the Mind, Meaning, and Will of the Writer is represented: So after Gods writing his Laws in the heart, Gods Mind and Will remain upon the heart, in many particulars. As, In

(1) An Universal Answerableness of the Heart, to Gods Laws. Have you a Law within, fully answering to Gods Laws without? Is there an (f) universal Counterpain of Gods Laws delineated in your hearts? Is there an Entire Conformity to all his Laws? where God savingly writes one, he writes (g) all his Laws in the heart: His Laws of Religion, his Laws of Righteousness. Theres nothing God Prescribes, but the heart is disposed to do it: nothing God Prohibits, but the heart is careful to decline it. Herod, Pharisees, Hypocrites, Pagans, may have some partial Conformity to Gods Laws in some things: but because it is onely in some things, or in many things, and not in all things, Gods Laws are not savingly written there.

(f) Psal. 119.6.

(g) Heb. 8.10. Ier. 31.33.

(2) A Renovation of the whole Soul (h) according to Gods image. There cannot be in the Mind and Heart an Entire Conformity to the Law of God, but by a Transformed Renovation of the whole Soul according to the Image of God in Knowledge, Righteousness, and true Holiness. The Old frame is so full of Pravity, Malignity and Enmity against God and his Laws: That there must be a Renovation, Regeneration, New-creation, Conversion, Sanctification, &c. or else there can be no Conformity to Gods Laws. Are you thus Renewed, Regenerated, &c? where is this image of God in the Soul?

(h) Tit. 3.5. Col. 3.10. Ephes 4.24.

(3) True Knowledge of the will and all the ways of God, and unfeigned Love both to God and man. Gross ignorance cannot remain in the Soul, when the Law of God comes to be written there: no more then gross midnight-darkness can remain in the hemisphear when the sun appears in the sky. Nor can true Love to God and man be absent from the heart, wherein the Law is present: because such (i) Love is the Law of God, and the Law of God is Love. What light now of true knowledge of all Gods will and ways shines in your Minds? what life and holy flames of true Love to God and man burn in your hearts?

(i) Mat. 22. 36. to 41.

(4) Sincere, Cordial and Entire Obedience to Gods Laws from right Principles of Knowledge and Love. Where (k) Gods Laws are in the heart, the Soul is strongly bowed, inclined, disposed and perswaded to all cordial, sincere, entire Obebience: because it knows what is to be done, because it loves to do what it knows. Dost thou obey (l) knowingly, understandingly? Dost thou obey (m) lovingly? Then thou canst not chuse but obey Cordially, sincerely, entirely. For, Knowledge saith, Every thing is to be done that God requires: and Love saith, I am heartily willing to do every thing that is to be done.

(k) Psal. 40.8.

(l) Ioh. 13.17. (m) 1 Ioh. 5. 2,3.

(5) Chearful delight in the Law of God. Such as is the Inscription ption in the heart, whether of the Law of ſin, or Law of God, &c. ſuch is the Diſpoſition and genuine temper of the Heart: Now ſuch as is the temper and Diſpoſition of the heart, ſuch is the delight of the Heart. The heart delights moſt in that which is moſt homogeneal and connatural to it: So when the Law of God is made homogeneal and connatural to the Heart, by being written therein, the heart cannot chuſe but delight therein exceedingly. What (n) delight now hath thine inner man in the Law of God, to meditate therein and do it? are the (o) Commandments of God joyous, or grievous? Read Davids affections to, and delights in Gods Law, Pſal. 119. and ſee if thine be parallel.

(n) Rom. 7. 22. Pſal. 1, 2. & 40. 8.

(o) 1 Ioh. 5. 3.

(6) The (p) Legibleneſs of this writing, not only by God, but alſo by themſelves, and others. Is Gods Law ſo written in thy mind and heart, That thy ſelf canſt read it within, in thy Conſtitution; That both thy ſelf and others can read it, without, in thy Converſation; That both thy ſelf and others can ſee and read a General Conformity and Anſwerableneſs of thine Heart and Life to Gods whole Law? If there be nothing, or Nothing to the purpoſe, to be read of Gods Law in thine inward Principles and outward Practiſes; but rather the Laws of Sin and Satan, heaps of unmortified Corruptions, Scandals, and abominable Offences; how can it be imagined that Gods Law is written in thy minde or heart? If thine own Conſcience and others obſervation can behold, No ſaving Knowledge, but groſs ignorance; No faith, but infidelity; No Repentance, but impenitency; No Fear of God, but audacious impiety; No Love to God, but utter enmity; No true Obedience, but notorious rebellion; No Spiritualneſs at all, but meer carnality; No Regeneration, Renovation and Sanctification, &c. but an old, unregenerate, ſinful ſtate: The Law of God hath as yet made no ſaving impreſſion at all upon thy Soul.

(p) 2 Cor. 3. 2, 3.

(7) Finally, The Permanency and durableneſs of this Impreſſion. What's written by God in mind and heart will never out. No Time, No Temptation, No Tribulation, No Perſecution, no not Natures diſſolution, can utterly obliterate or expunge the ſame. The writing may be ſlurred, dimmed, defaced, and obſcured by theſe things: but can never be totally razed and blotted out. Is the impreſſion of Gods Law upon thy heart vaniſhing, or Continuing; fading or flouriſhing: dying, or living? Is the tincture of thine heart in grain? Doth thy Soul (q) break for the longing that it hath unto Gods judgements at all times? Is thy (r) delight in the Law of the LORD, and doſt thou meditate therein day and night?

(q) Pſal. 119. 20.

(r) Pſal. 1. 2.

Inferences, Will the LORD thus give his Laws into their Minds, and write them upon their Hearts; as hath been explained and evidenced? Then, Hence theſe things follow: viz.

I. That,

I. That, Gods Moral Law is the Law of Christ. How doth this appear from what hath been spoken? Thus; The Law which God promiseth here to write in their hearts, is Gods Moral Law formerly written upon Tables of stone, as I have ([f]) already proved. Now God writes this Moral Law in their Hearts by Christ and his Spirit, as ([t]) I have also manifested: whereupon they that have Gods Laws written in their hearts, are called ([u]) The Epistle of Christ, written not with Ink, but with the Spirit of the Living God. Forasmuch then as it is Christ, who by his Spirit writes Gods Moral Laws in his peoples hearts, These Moral Laws may justly be denominated the Laws of Christ. Christ is the Author, and effectual writer of them in their hearts by his Spirit: therefore they are his. If the Moral Law be called ([x]) The Law of Moses, because Moses was the Instrument by whom God gave and revealed it: How much more may it be called The Law of God, because God gave it, published it on Mount Sinai, and wrote it with his own finger on Tables of stone: and The Law of Christ and of his Spirit, because by them its written upon the fleshly Tables of the Mind and Heart. So that Jesus Christ, and the Moral Law are not (as some weakly imagine) ἀσύστατα, inconsistent, incompatible and irreconcileable: but most consistent, sutable and sweetly agreeable one to another. Since Mans Fall, God never gave his Moral Law but in his Covenant of Faith in Christ: In Christ typified and promised under the Old Covenant, it was given in Tables of stone; In Christ Performed and Exhibited under the New Covenant, it is given in fleshly Tables of Mind and Heart; but in both there's much of Christ, much of his Wisdom, much of his Merit, much of his Justice, much of his Goodness, Mercy, Free-grace, and Love, much of his Power, much of his Spirit, &c. Christ in both predominates. Hence, 1. The more of Gods Moral Law is supernaturally engraven in the Mind and Heart, the more of Christ is in the Mind and Heart. When Christ comes into the soul, he brings this Law with him thither. If this Law be effectually there, Christ is actually there also. 2. Christ ([y]) came not to destroy the Law, but to fulfil it. To fulfil it in his own Person, Actively doing for his elect all the Duty required in it, which they could not do; Passively enduring for them all the Curse and Penalty threatned in it to the transgressors thereof, which otherwise they could not avoid nor endure. To fulfil it also in his Members, by writing it in their hearts, that they might be able in sincerity and integrity to observe it. 3. They that set Christ and the Moral Law at odds irreconcileably, do neither understand the mysterie of Jesus Christ, nor of the Moral Law solidly.

II. That, Gods Moral Law is not abolished, but established by his New Covenant. Why? Because Gods writing of his Laws in the hearts of his Fœderates, is a primary Promise, miſe, yea the very First Article of his New Covenant; (z) —I will give my Laws into their Mind, and write them in their hearts. Had God intended by his New Covenant to have aboliſhed his Moral Law, he would not have New written it, but utterly have expunged it. But in that God undertakes to write his Laws again, and to write them more durably and indelibly then they were written before, Not in the long-laſting Tables of ſtone, but in the Everlaſting Tables of Mind and Heart: Hereby he eminently confirms and eſtabliſhes the Moral Law, as that which ſhall never be reverſed or repealed till the end of this world, yea the Subſtance and Soul thereof in love to God and man ſhall continue for ever in the world to come. Hence,

1. That grand Antinomian Errour touching the utter abrogation of the Moral Law, (That the Law given by Moſes at Mount Sinai is of no uſe at all for Matter or Form to Chriſtians now under the New Teſtament:) is to be abhorred and abandoned, as repugnant and deſtructive to the very ſubſtance and Nature of this New Covenant. But I have already ſpoken at large to this effect, 1. In handling that intricate Queſtion, (a) Whether the Law of God, given by Moſes on Mount Sinai to Iſrael, be abrogated to us now under the New Teſtament or no? And how far it concerns or obligeth us, if not abrogated? 2. In unfolding (b) In General, How uſeful it is to all ſorts: In Particular, of what uſe it is to Carnal perſons. Of what uſe it is to the Regenerate. 3. In anſwering ſuch Material (c) Objections from Scriptures wreſted and miſunderſtood, as Antinomians make againſt the eſtabliſhment and uſe of the Moral Law now under the New Covenant. And therefore for ſatisfaction in all theſe Particulars, I refer the Reader to the places here alledged in the Margin, that I may not go over the ſame things again.

(b) In the ſame Q. 7. p. 701. to 712.
(c) In Book III. ch. 4. Aph. 1. p. 716. to p. 735.

2. All Detractive and reproachfull ſpeeches derogatory from the continued obligation Force and uſe of the Moral Law to Believers and regenerate perſons now under the New Covenant, ought by all intelligent and conſcientious Chriſtians, eſpecially Miniſters, to be utterly forborn and avoyded. As thoſe ignorant and unſavory expreſſions of ſome: —Legal Preachers, Legal Chriſtians; —Literal-Duty-men —Old Teſtament Spirits; —Moſaical Juſtitiaries, &c. For by ſuch rotten, rayling and reviling language as this, they not only diſcover their groſs ignorance in the myſteries of Old and New Covenant, and of the Moral Law; but alſo blaſphemouſly traduce and Calumniate both Jeſus Chriſt and his New Covanant, and the infinite wiſdom of God, who in them both hath contrived to eſtabliſh and perpetuate the uſe of his moſt perfect Moral Law to all his Old and New Covenant people.

III. That, The New Covenant agrees with the Old in Matter and Subſtance, although they differ in Manner and Circumſtance. For, 1. The Matter and Subſtance of them both, is Gods Moral Law, and that Moral Law written, and that writing made only by the Lord himself: Herein these two Covenants do plainly agree, and are Materially one. 2. The Manner and Circumstance of writing this Moral Law by God is very different under these two Covenants. In the Old Covenant God wrote it in Tables of Stone: In the New Covenant he writes in the fleshly Tables of Mind and Heart. In the Old Covenant it was written, without: In the New, within. In the Old Covenant it was written more imperfectly, weakly, Literally, ineffectually: though the peoples hearts had some impression thereof upon them, yet they remained very stony, stubborn, untractable notwithstanding: but in the New Covenant it is written more perfectly, strongly, spiritually, effectually; the Peoples hearts are more Mollified, Flexible, Tractable and transformed into the image of the Law of God.

(d) See Book III ch.4. Ap. 1. Q.7. p.702. & 722.

IV. That, The Moral Law is a most (d) excellent Law. This is evident, by the singular Care that God hath taken in this his most excellent Covenant, the New Covenant, to hide, treasure up, and fixedly engrave his Moral Law upon the Minds and Hearts of his People. These are Holy, Heavenly, Spiritual, Lasting, Everlasting Treasuries: Consequently Gods Moral Laws written and laid up there, are choice, rich and precious jewels, and so to be accounted by us. Oh what an invaluable estimate did Holy (e) David (that man after Gods own heart, who had the Law of God in his heart) set upon them! and most deservedly. Read, and mark, and imitate his affections and estimations of the Laws of God.

(e) Acts 13. 22. Psal. 40.8. with Psal. 19. 7. to the end. & 119. throughout.

It is very observable; That the Lord hath taken care to write his Moral Law, for the Perpetuating thereof, three several wayes, viz. 1. Naturally, in the (f) heart of Adam before his fall, under the Covenant of Nature, or of Works. 2. Literally, upon (g) Tables of stone, and that twice under the Old Covenant given at Mount Sinai. 3. Spiritually and most efficaciously, upon the Spiritual (h) fleshly Tables of his Peoples Minds and Hearts, under the New Covenant. The First writing was perfect, but not durable: The Second was compleat, but ineffectual: The Third is entire, efficacious, and permanent. Now how high and excellent is this Moral Law of the Lord, which God hath so often written with his own finger upon so many Tables, before and Since the Fall, before and after Christ!

V. That, Naturally, since and by the Fall of Adam, The Laws of God are obliterated or blotted out of mens minds and hearts. Gods new writing his Laws in the Mind and Heart supernaturally, shews that his old writing of his Laws is blotted out of all mens hearts naturally. Gods (i) Laws were once in mans heart before the Fall so perfectly, that he was able fully in every point to keep it, and by his own actual keeping of it, compleatly to have wrought out and compleated his own righteousness and life eternall in the sight of God: but by mans Fall and sin (which makes havock havock of all bleſſings and mercies) Gods Law was ſo extreamly wiped out of the Heart of Adam and of all his poſterity, that nothing at all thereof remains ſufficient for mans Juſtification, but only ſo much as to leave him (k) without excuſe and aggravate his condemnation. Hereupon God provides for lapſed man a Saviour, a Surety Jeſus Chriſt, (in whoſe (l) heart Gods Laws ſhould be perfectly written, and in whoſe (m) Death the penalty of the Law broken by mans Sin ſhould be perfectly Satisfied,) by and in whom The obliterated Law ſhould, Firſt be revived and recorded in Tables of ſtone (n) under the Old Covenant, that hereby man might behold, (1) What integrity he once had before he Fell, (2) What Sin and miſery he was now naturally enwrapped in by his Fall (3) What exact righteouſneſs and ſatisfaction according to this Law is required in and from mans Surety Jeſus Chriſt for lapſed Sinners Reſtauration to Life and Righteouſneſs, (4) As alſo What entire, ſincere and cordial Conformity of heart and life to the Law of God is expected from thoſe that accept Jeſus Chriſt for their Surety and Saviour. Secondly, be given and written in (o) ſpiritual Tables of mind and heart under the New Covenant, That by this ſupernatural Efficacy, The heart might be furniſhed with Ability, for the performance of all Duty which the Law requires. So then, Sin hath expunged Gods Law out of all mens hearts and minds by Nature, till God again inſcribe and engrave it there. Hence flows all the impiety and irreligion of mans heart and life againſt God, all his unrighteouſneſs againſt man, all his intemperance and inſobriety againſt himſelf; even from this, That Gods Law is razed and expunged out of his mind and heart by nature. Whereupon carnal man is naturally become the moſt ſavage, wild, bruitiſh, unruly, rebellious, malicious, miſchievous, and miſerable creature that is on Earth. Ah! how curſed and abominable is the Nature of Sin, that ſo wofully robs and deſpoyles the hearts of the ſons of Adam of this bleſſed and perfect Law of God!

VI. That, The Renewing of the Mind and Heart, even of of the whole ſoul, according to Gods image, by effectual Vocation, Converſion, Regeneration, New creation and Sanctification, is not a Natural, but a meer Supernatural work, is not at all from man himſelf, but wholly from God alone. Why? Becauſe, Its not man, but (p) God alone that gives his Laws into their Midns; not man, but God alone that writes his Laws in their hearts: Now this Effectual Vocation, Converſion, Regeneration, New-creation, Sanctification, &c. is that wherein this his writing his Laws in their Minds and Hearts according to the image of God, eſpecially conſiſts. The carnal (q) mind is nothing but darkneſs, blindneſs, ignorance and ſottiſhneſs; The carnal (r) heart is hardneſs, ſtoniness, impenitency, unbelief, deadneſs, ſenſeleſneſs; and both of them, even the whole Soul is (s) Enmity and Malignity againſt against God and his Laws: So that there remains nothing at all in meer carnal man that may contribute the least saving influence, efficacy or assistance to the writing of Gods Laws in Mind or Heart. This must be let alone, and wholly left to God for ever. He alone prepared the first Tables of Stone, and he alone wrote thereon, the whole (t) Workmanship was his: So here, He alone Prepares the Mind and Hearts, He alone in Christ by his Spirit makes the Inscription of his Laws on the Heart so prepared, and he alone leaves the effectual fruits and consequents of this Inscription upon the Soul: The Preparatives, Acts, and Effects of this writing are all his. Man could obliterate Gods Laws out of his heart, but its the peculiar and proper work of God only to write them again in the Heart. This thing in effect (u) I have formerly cleared, in Answernig that Question; Whether God alone can give A New Heart, and put a New Spirit into us? There See.

VII. That, God First gives his Laws into the Mind, and then writes them in the Heart. In this New Covenant-Promise, (x) the Mind is still put before the Heart. Naturally the Mind must first be informed with the light of Truth, and knowledge of Duty, before the Heart can be conformed to the love of truth and performance of Duty. Natural light was the (y) first particular distinct creature which God made, when he created the world: And Supernatural light is the first particular Grace which God infuseth into the soul, when he New-creates the Heart. (z) —To turn them from darkness to light, theres Gods first work upon the Mind, viz. illumination: And from the power of Satan unto God, theres his next work upon the Heart, will and affections, viz. effectual Liberation, or Actual Restitution out of bondage into spiritual Liberty: In both their Conversion, Effectual-vocation, Regeneration, &c. Sanctification. Though Gods Acts of Grace be supernatural, yet are they not contranatural, or unnatural: they excell Nature, but do not destroy Nature. The Mind must still precede, to direct and guide the Heart: and then the Heart, the will and affections, will orderly follow and obey. The (a) Will doth Naturally follow the ultimate Direction and command of the Understanding: as the rest of the body follows the Guidance of the Eye. If God have illuminated thy Mind: theres good hopes he will bend and bow thine heart. But if thy mind be darkness, thy will and affections can be nothing but crookedness.

VIII. That, Gods giving his Laws into our Minds, and writing them in our hearts, is an Eminent and manifold Priviledge. Forasmuch as every Article of the New Covenant (and consequently this First) contains an eniment and manifold Priviledge for Gods New Covenant-people above all other people in the world: viz. Not only above all Pagans and Heathens whatsoever, that are meer strangers to this, and to all Gods Covenants of Faith; but also above above all Gods Covenant-people under all former Covenant-Expreſſures whatſoever, this New Covenant in many regards far excelling and tranſcending them all, as hereafter in the General Inferences will appear. Now the Eminency and multiplicity of this Priviledge, of Gods giving his Laws into our Minds, and writing them upon our hearts, herein particularly appears: viz.

1. In the Eminent Preparation of Mind and heart to be fit ſpiritual Tables for the writing of Gods Laws therein. The very preparing of the Heart hereunto is an eminent and Manifold Priviledge. For,

(1) Hereby, The (b) ſtony Mind and heart are Hewed away by the Spirit of Bondage, filling them with fear and terrour, becauſe of Sin, the wrath and Curſe of God.

(2) Hereby, The (c) contrary Laws and writings of ſin, world and Satan are obliterated and razed out of the Mind and Heart, to make way for the better inſcription of the Laws of God therein.

(3) Hereby, The mind and Heart are ſweetly (d) Mollified and ſoftned, at the Evangelical diſcovery of Gods rich Grace, Mercy, Loving-kindneſs, Compaſſions, Goodneſs, wiſdom and Juſtice whereby the Sinners Salvation by Jeſus Chriſt through Faith is ſo admirably and al-ſufficiently contrived and tendred. Now theſe ſpiritual Tables of Mind and heart are prepared.

2. In the Eminent and (e) joint operation of Father, Son and Holy Ghoſt to this Inſcription of his Laws in the Mind and Heart by the Inſtrumental ſubſerviency of his New Teſtament Miniſters thereunto. This is his ordinary way. So Infinite, Glorious and excellent an Agent, as God bleſſed for ever, denominates this Act moſt excellent. What manner of Priviledge alſo is this, that the everliving God ſhould ſtoop ſo low as to write his Laws in the Minds and Hearts of poor ſinful duſt and aſhes! what Familiar Condeſcention to our Frailty: That God ſhould make uſe of the miniſtration of weak mortal men as inſtruments in this writing?

3. In the Eminency and tranſcendent excellency of Gods Laws, viz. his (f) Moral Laws, which he writes in mind and heart. No Laws in the world can compare with Gods Laws: And no Laws of God can compare with his Moral Laws, for all manner of excellency. How high an advantage then muſt it needs be to have ſo choice, rich, and precious a treaſure as theſe Laws put ſo effectually into theſe mean and deſpiſed Cabinets!

4. In the Eminent and intenſive (g) efficacy of Gods Giving his Laws into our Minds, and writing them in our hearts. The Divine efficacy of this operation ſhines forth moſt illuſtriouſly in all thoſe Perfective alterations, which thereby are wrought upon the Minds and hearts of Gods ſincere New Covenant-people, viz.

image of God in Knowledge, Righteousnes and true holines.

(3) True Kowledge of the will and all the wayes of God, and unfeigned Love to God and man.

(4) Sincerity of Obedience from right inward Principles.

(5) A chearfull delight and pleasure of Soul in the Laws of God.

(6) The Legibleness of this writing, and the impressions thereof; Not only to the Omniscient eye of God, and charitative eye of man, but also to the experimentall and discerning eye of every particular Soul in some good measure, upon whose mind and heart Gods Laws shall be effectually and supernaturally written.

(7) The Firmness and Durableness of this Sacred Impression of Gods Laws upon the Soul: against all danger of its backsliding from God, or from his wayes.

(h) See In this fifth chapter. Sect. 2. Doubt. 3. & 4 & 5.

5. In the (h) sweet and comfortable Provision which hereby God layes in, for bruised Sinners and distressed Saints, against Sundry of their puzling and perplexing Doubts and Scruples, especially about the Blindness of their Minds, vileness of their Hearts, and extream Inability to do any thing in Spirituals as God requires. His Law given into their Mind, removes the Blindness and gross ignorance of their Mind: His Law written in their Hearts, cures the abominable vileness, badness and viciousness of their Hearts: His Laws engraven in both, supplies them with a sufficiency of Ability sincerely to act what God expects.

6. Finally, In the extensiveness of this Promise, which is exceeding large and broad; even of Gods writing, 1. His whole Law, not only some part of it; 2. In the whole Soul, Mind and Heart, not Mind, or Heart alone; 3. And that of all his true Fœderates in all Nations of the world, and not only (as under the Old Covenant) in the Jewish Nation.

Thus, Gods giving his Laws into our Minds, and writing them in our hearts, is a very eminent and Manifold Privilege.

IX. That, All such as would know, whether they be Gods New Covenant-people indeed, inwardly as well as outwardly, in power as well as in profession: should diligently examine, whether God hath given his Laws into their Minds, and written them upon their hearts, or no? For all those, and those only, that have (m) Gods Laws thus effectually planted within them by the Spirit of the living God, are savingly partakers of an inward New Covenant-state and interest in God through Iesus Christ. But how may we know this, That God hath given his Laws into our minds, and written them in our Hearts? Answ. This I have discovered already, in Answering the VI^th. Question: There See.

(m) Heb. 8. 10. & 10. 16. 2 Cor. 3. 3, &c.

X. Finally,

X. Finally, That Gods sincere New Covenant-People have above all other people in the world greatest cause to live and walk according to the Laws, the Moral Laws of God: in that the LORD hath more excellently and obligatorily given and written his Laws for them, then for any other.

For, 1. His Moral Law (n) was written in Adams heart under the Covenant of works, Naturally: but now it is written in his Peoples hearts, under the New Covenant, Supernaturally. 2. The work of his Moral Laws, remains (o) written upon the very hearts of Pagans and Heathens that have not the Law by other writing or Preaching revealed to them, brokenly, maimedly, confusedly; those characters of the Law being only some dark, dim, shattered, broken, confused, maimed reliques and remains of the Law which was naturally written in Adams heart at his first creation: But now it is written upon the minds and hearts of Gods people under the New Covenant, distinctly, clearly, integrally, in all the Parts and integral perfections thereof, so that they have an universal answerableness to all, and an (p) entire respect to all the Commandments of God. 3. The Moral Law, under the Old Covenant, as to the Apparant visible Administration thereof, was written only in dead (q) Tables of stone Literally; and as to the inward application and operation thereof, it was written in the hearts of the truly believing Jews more obscurely, weakly and imperfectly, according to the (r) Minority of the Church in those times: But now under the New Testament, as to the very administration thereof, its Promised to be written in the living Tables of Mind and heart, Spiritually; and as to the application and operation thereof, it is written in the hearts of all believers Jews and Gentiles much more clearly, powerfully, efficaciously and perfectly, according to the Maturity of the Church in those times. Thus Gods Laws are given and written for his People now under this New Covenant, every way more excellently, then ever they were before for any other: Not Naturally, but Supernaturally; Not maimedly, but integrally; Not Literally, but Spiritually; Not more weakly and imperfectly, but more powerfully and perfectly.

(n) Eccl.7. 29 Gen.1. 26,27 Rom. 2 14.
(o) Rom 2. 14,15,16.
(p) Psal. 119.6.
(q) Deut.4.13.
(r) Gal 4. 1,2,3.

Now the more excellently God hath given and written his Laws for his sincere New Covenant people, the more strongly hath he thereby laid his Obligations upon them to live and walk according to those Laws. The Greater the Mercy is, received from God: the greater and stonger is the tie for all answerable Duty to God. Pagans are bound much, Jews much more, but Christians most of all, to the observance of Gods Laws: for Christians have, not only the Natural reliques of the Law in them, which Pagans have; not only (f) the very Letter of the Law, which the Jews had; but also the Spirit of the Law more then either of them had. If therefore the Christian walk contrary to Gods Laws, his sins will of all other be most hainous, and his condemnation will of all other deserve to be most grievous. Certainly their Errour is very gross, that that think their Christianity absolves them from the observance of the Moral Law of God: for true Christianity, in the power of it, most forcibly obligeth, and even compels them above any thing else to the observance of Gods moral Laws. Therefore O thou regenerate Soul, thou Israelite indeed, thou sincere Christian, think seriously; How strong an Obligation God hath laid upon thy Soul and Conscience to live and walk uprightly according to all his Moral Laws, by giving them effectually into thy mind, and writing them powerfully upon thine heart. Thou, of all other oughtest to be (t) a Law to thy self: Thou of all other oughtest to (u) delight in the Law of God in thine inward man, and (x) meditate therein day and night: Thou, of all other, shouldst forbare what God forbids, and perform what God prescribes in his holy Laws, &c. For furtherance and encouragement of every true hearted Nathaniel herein, let these two things be heedfully considered: viz.

(y) In Book III. ch. 4. Aph. 1. Inference V. p. 716. to 721.

2. Gospel-grounds or Motives inciting to this Evangelical observance of the Moral Law. These also (z) I have already abundantly urged. And if Antinomians themselves, whether in Opinion or in Practise, will but lay aside Prejudice against the Law of God so far, as deliberately, advisedly and seriously to read, consider and weigh (as in the presence of the living God, and great Law giver of Israel) Those Gospel-Directions for walking according to the Moral Law; And those Gospel Motives inciting thereunto: I hope through the blessing of the Heart-Ruling God, who alone can effectually give and write his Laws in his peoples hearts, they may be a convincing, perswading and prevailing Means, to reduce the one from the Errour of his opinion, unto Truth; and to reclaim the other from the errour of his Way, unto Godliness and righteousness.

Article 2. Of Gods Fœderate peoples more excellent and more universal Knowledge of the Lord, then under the Old Covenant.

The Second Paiticular (but more distinct) New Covenant-Blessing here promised, wherein this New Covenant differs from, and excels the Old Covenant, is; His Federate peoples more excellent, and more universal Knowledge of the LORD, then under the Old Covenant. (a) And they shall not teach every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying; Know the Lord: For all shall know me from the least to the greatest. This is a Second Particular, wherein the New Covenant shall not be (b) according to the Old Covenant which God made with the Fathers, &c. but shall much much differ from it, shall far surpass and transcend it: viz. In The Fœderates more excellent and more Extensive Knowledge of the LORD then was under the Old Covenant. This is evidently the Scope and intent of the Holy Ghost in his Promise of this Mercy: as is unquestionably clear by the tenour and current of the New Covenant laid down both by Jeremiah and Paul. And unless this be heedfully and judiciously marked, This promised Blessing of the Fœderates Knowledge of the Lord cannot be rightly expounded and understood: Nor the Abusive (c) wrestings of this Promise by the unlearned and unstable, so clearly and convincingly refelled. Therefore I advertise again and again, That the direct and plain scope of the Holy Ghost, here may be diligently marked: Which that judicious (d) Calvin hath excellently observed, saying; And they shall teach no more, &c.] Here is laid down another difference betwixt the Old and New Testament: viz. That God, who had more obscurely manifested himself under the Law, will send forth his full brightness, that the knowledge of him shall become familiar. But he Hyperbolically extolls this Grace when he saith None shall need Teacher or Master, because every one shall be taught enough. Therefore we have in Sum the Purpose of the Prophet, viz. That the light of the Gospel should by so great, that it may sufficiently appear God would deal more liberally with his people because his truth should shine as the Sun at Noon-day, This same thing Isaias promiseth, when he saith, They shall all be taught of God, Isa. 54. 13. That was true even under the Law, but then God afforded only a slender taste of celestial Doctrine: but at the coming of Christ he opened the Treasures of wisdom and understanding; So that in the Gospel, there's the Perfection of the beginning, because we know the old people were like to children and therefore God kept them under Rudiments: Now because we are become ripe, he vouchsafes us fuller Doctrine, as it were and comes neer to us. So he; very pertinently.

The words of the New Covenant, containing this promised blessing; I have (e) Analytically explained already in brief; there see. But now for the fuller and clearer understanding of them, I shall further open these Particulars, with all possible Brevity: viz. 1. Wherein the Nature of this New Covenant-Knowledge of God more specially consists. 2. How and in what way God furnisheth his New Covenant-people with such a Knowledge of Himself. 3. Whether all Gods New Covenant-people attain to this Promised Knowledge of God, Seeing experience testifies that very many under the New Covenant within the visible Church remain most grosly ignorant of God and all his wayes. 4. Whether God by this Promise intended to take away, vacuate and annull all Humane Teaching, Private and Publike, as altogether useless and needless now under the New Covenant. 5. Why God hath Promised this Blessing in his New Covenant. 6. How we may discover That we so know the Lord, as God here intends in this his New Covenant-Promise. 7. Inferences.

I. Question. Wherein the Nature of this New Covenant-Knowledge more specially Consists?

(e) In this fifth ch. §. 1.

Answ. This New Covenant Promise in Jer. 31. 34. Heb. 8. 11. And they shall not teach every man his brother, and every man his neighbour, saying; Know the LORD: For All shall Know me, &c. doth evidently state this New Covenant-Knowledge of God in these two Particulars especially, viz. 1. In the Excellency of the Knowledge. 2. In the extensiveness and universality thereof.

1. In the Excellency of the New Covenant-Knowledge of the LORD, beyond that which was vouchsafed under the Old Covenant. This I collect thus, viz. 1. Partly, From the Nature of this New Covenant laid down more Generally, by way of Negation; (f) I will make a New Covenant with the House of Israel and with the House of Judah: Not according to the Covenant which I made with their Fathers, &c. that is, I will make a New Covenant, but very unlike to, and different from, and excelling above my Old Covenant. 2. Partly, From the Nature of this New Covenant laid down more Particularly, by way of Affirmation and Explication; (g) But this shall be the Covenant which I will make with the House of Israel, after those daies, saith the LORD; I will give my Law, &c. And they shall teach no more every man his brother, and every man his neighbour, saying; Know the LORD: for they shall all know me from the least of them to the greatest of them, saith the LORD. That is, My People, under the Old Covenant made with their Fathers, had many of them, some sort, some measure, of the Knowledge of the Lord; they did teach one another every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, to know the Lord, according to their Capacity: But my People under the New Covenant shall all of them Generally have a far other and more excellent Knowledge of the Lord, a knowledge far surpassing and transcending mans Teaching, for I my self will instruct them, I will teach them to know the Lord. Thus, there shall be An excellency in the New-Covenant-Knowledge of the Lord, beyond the Old Covenant-Knowledge. 3. Partly, From such Scriptures, as Explicating the nature of that Knowledge of God and his ways, which God vouchsafes his Covenant-people under the New Covenant, declare: That, in many regards, it is a knowledge far excelling and out-stripping the Knowledge which his people formerly had of him under the Old Covenant. As is evident, (1) In the Old Testament-Promises. As, in Joel (h) And it shall come to pass afterwards, that I will pour out my Spirit upon all flesh, and your sons and your daughters shall prophecy; your old men shall dream dreams, your yong men shall see visions: and also upon the servants, and upon the handmaids in those daies, will I pour out my Spirit, &c. In that Evangelical Isaiah, (i) —I will pour out water upon him that is thirsty, and floods upon the dry ground: I will pour my Spirit upon thy seed, and my blessing upon thine off-spring, &c. And elsewhere, (k) And all thy children shall be taught of the LORD. (2) In the New Testament-Performances, witnessed by the Apostles. As, By John; But ye ye have an Unction from the Holy One, and ye know all things. For what man knoweth the things of a man, ſave the ſpirit of man which is in him? Even ſo the things of God knoweth no man, but the Spirit of God. Now we have Received not the ſpirit of the world, but the Spirit which is of God, that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God.* And elſwhere he prefers the New Covenant-Miniſtration far before the Old, upon this very point, Of the excellency of the New Covenant-knowledge beyond that of the Old, ſaying; (n) —— We uſe great plainneſs of ſpeech. And not as Moſes which put a vail over his face, that the children of Iſrael could not ſtedfaſtly look to the end of that which is aboliſhed. But their minds were blinded: For until this day remaineth the ſame vail untaken away, in the reading of the Old Teſtament: which vail is done away in Chriſt.—But we all with open face, beholding as in a glaſs the glory of the Lord, are changed into the ſame image, from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord. In theſe and like paſſages, The excellencies and extenſiveneſs of New Covenant-Knowledge, above that of the Old, is highly magnified, and particularly expounded: which may give much light to this New Covenant-Promiſe, touching the Fœderates Knowledge of the Lord.

Particularly, The Excellency of this New Covenant-knowledge of the Lord, beyond that under the Old Covenant, doth many ways appear and manifeſt it ſelf. And eſpecially in that the Fœderates Knowledge of God, under the New Covenant is, 1. More Divine; 2. More Spiritual; 3. More Clear; 4. More Evidential; 5 More Compleat; 6. More Efficacious; 7. More Glorious.

(1) More Divine. The Knowledge which the Fœderates had of God under the Old Covenant, was More Humane; there was more of man appeared in it when it was taught them: (o) The Parents taught their children, and their children taught the ſucceeding Generation; (p) Moſes and the Prophets taught them in extraordinary, The Prieſts and Levites in ordinary; (q) The Prieſts lips ſhould keep knowledge, and they ſhould ſeek the Law at his mouth, for he is the Meſſenger of the Lord of Hoſts. They had very much of this Teaching which was more Outward and Humane, as this New Covenant Promiſe intimateth, And they ſhall teach no more every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, ſaying; Know the LORD: for they ſhall all know me from the leaſt of them to the greateſt of them, Jer. 31. 34. Heb. 8 11. Hereby God intimates; That under his Old Covenant, His people were taught to know him, by Humane Instruction for the most part, they had comparatively very little of his immediate Divine Instruction, because his (r) Spirit was very sparingly given till Christs glorification: But under his New Covenant, the Knowledge which his Fœderates should have of God should be more Divine, God himself would more immediately Teach them, (s) All their children should be taught of God. Not, that God ever intended by this Promise to lay aside all (t) Humane teaching, Publick or Private, under his New Covenant; For God commands & cals for such teaching frequently & vehemently now under his New Covenant-administration; Ministers must teach the Church and people of God, Publikely, *Mat.*28.18,19,20. *Eph.*4.11,12,13. 1 *Tim.*5.17. 2 *Tim.*4. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5. Parents must teach their children, and Christians must teach one another, Privately, Ephes 6. 4. *Col.*3.16. Heb. 3.13. But under the New Covenant his People should have more of the Spirit of God poured forth upon them, and more teaching immediately from God, then under the old Covenant: Under the New Covenant Gods own immediate Teaching should so predominate and bear sway, that all Humane Teaching should comparatively be ecclipsed and become as nothing. To this effect that of the Apostle is very observable, (u) God who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ. In these words Paul sets forth the Light of the Knowledge of God under that New Covenant-Ministration, as far surpassing that of the old: 1. By the Author of it, God. God that at first commanded light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, in his Ministers dark hearts. 2. By the Instrumental means which God makes use of for imparting the knowledge of God to men, viz. his Ministers, to give the light, &c. that is, (x) God hath illuminated his Ministers, that they may give light to others that they may teach others to know God in Christ: Not in his own immediate essence, that they cannot endure; not only in the Creature, that is not salvifical; but in the face of Christ, thats most saving and comfortable. Christs face is open, unvailed: Moses face was vailed.

(2) More Spiritual. Under the Old Covenant the Knowledge which Gods people had of God and of the things of God, was more Literal and Carnal. God, Christ, and Divine Mysteries were made known to them in the (y) Letter of the Ten Commandments written in two Table of stone, in the Letter of the Ceremonial Law, &c. Thus God was revealed to them as a God, that made Heaven and Earth in six daies, resting the seventh; That brought them out of a Literal Egypt; That Promised them a Literal and Earthly Canaan; That sate between the Earthly Cherubims, &c. And so Christ was represented Literally, under the Tabernacle, Altar, Table of shew-bread, Ark, Mercy-seat, manifold Sacrifices, and such ſuch like Carnal Ordinances: So Spiritual Myſteries were taught that People by weak and Carnal Elements; As, Redemption, by Deliverance out of Egypt; Juſtification, by the ſprinkling of blood: Sanctification, by many Ceremonial waſhings: Communion with God in Chriſt, by the Shew-bread on the Holy Table before the Lord continually: Pardon of ſin, by the Mercy-ſeat covering the Tables in the Ark; The Eternal Reſt in Heaven, by Canaans Reſt, and the Holy of Holies, &c. All this was a kind of Literal and Carnal Teaching, and for the moſt part raiſed up that people to a kind of Carnal apprehenſion and Literal knowledge of God, Chriſt, and Spirituals, they generally reſting in the Letter and Carnality of the Ordinances. But under the New Covenant, The Knowledge which Gods People have of God, Chriſt, and the things of God, is more Spiritual and Heavenly. 1. They have the Spiritual Myſteries themſelves, which were dimly repreſented in thoſe Earthly and Carnal Ordinances: they have not only the (z) Patterns of the things in the Heavens, but the Heavenly things themſelves. 2. They have not a (a) Miniſtration of the Letter, but of the Spirit: abundance of Spirit being now poured forth, which was but ſprinkled heretofore under the Law. 3. Hereby, Their knowledge and apprehenſions of God, Chriſt, and things Spiritual are elevated unto an high pitch of Spirituality. They reſt not in the Letter, the Shell, the Carnality of Manifeſtations: but they penetrate and dive into the Spirit, Life, Kernel, and Myſterie of things. (b) He that is Spiritual diſcerneth all things.——The Spirit ſearcheth all things, even the deep things of God.

(3) More clear. Under the Old Teſtament, though the Fœderates had a true and ſaving Knowledge of God, &c. yet it was very dim, dark, obſcure; They were taught by Types and ſhadows of good things to come, by Prophecies and Promiſes which were to have a future accompliſhment. All things were very remote and at a great diſtance from them. Now Prophecies and promiſes of future bleſſings, are uſually very dim and dark, in Compariſon of Performances: And Types are very obſcure in compariſon of the Truth and Subſtance of thoſe ſhadows: And all things at a great diſtance are beheld darkly, in compariſon of things at hand. Hence, (c) Moſes ſpake to the People with a vail upon his face: which denoted, Partly The darkneſs of the Old Covenants Miniſtration; Partly The darkneſs and blindneſs of the Peoples hearts, the vail of ignorance and unbelief predominating exceedingly there. The Miniſtration was vailed: And their Apprehenſions vailed: All was under a dark vail. But now under the New Covenant, Prophecies and Promiſes are accompliſhed: Types and Shadows are fulfilled; (d) The vail is done away in Chriſt: All that remote diſtance is removed: (e) And we all with (unvailed) open face, beholding as in a glaſs the glory of the Lord, are changed into the ſame image from from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord. Now the shadows of the night are over, and the day is at hand, and the (f) Sun of Righteousness is risen with healing in his wings, as Malachi prophecyed; Jews (as (g) Calvin notes) had some light, but we have the Sun himself. They had Sky-light, Star-light, Moon-light as it were, but we have Sun-light. They had the Morning, we the Noon-tide of Light. Notable is that of our Saviours; Blessed are the eyes which see the things that ye see: For I tell you, that many Prophets and Kings have desired to see those things that ye see, and have not seen them; and to hear those things which ye hear, and have not heard them, Luke 10.23,24. Hereby (as Calvin observes) Christ intimates, That God hath shined out more fully by the Doctrine of the Gospel then formerly. In like sort Christ saith, He that's least in the Kingdom of Heaven is greater then John Baptist, Mat. 11.11. who yet excelled all the Prophets. John Baptist in his Office was more excellent then all the Prophets, and surpassed them in understanding, and yet saith Christ, the least Professor and witness of the Gospel is greater then he. This is not only referred to their Persons, nor ought only to be restrained to them, but rather to the clear and plain manner of teaching, which is found in the Gospel. Now he that's least among the faithful, much more clearly understands whatsoever belongs to the Summ of Salvation, then those which were not vulgar among the Jews: as Calvin expresseth himself.

(g) Et hinc etiam illud Christi, Beati Oculi, &c. Christus ergo optimus est interpres hujus loci; nempe quod Deus affulserit plenius per Evangelii doctrinam; & ideo vocatur Christus apud Malachiam Sol Justitiæ. Mal. 4. 2. Significat enim illic propheta fuisse quidem aliquid lucis Patribus, sed non uti nobis. ——Et eadem ratione dicit Christus, Qui minimus est in regno cœlorum, esse majorem Ioanne Baptista, qui tamen excelluit supra omnes Prophetas. Ioannes Baptista in suo munere præstantior fuit omnibus prophetis, & superavit eos intelligentia; & tamen minimus Evangelii professor & testis major est Ioanne Baptista, inquit Christus. Et hoc non tantum refertur ad personas, neque etiam ad eas restringi debet. Sed potius ad claram & perspicuam docendi formam, quæ in Evangelio comprehenditur. ——Hodie autem qui minimus est inter fideles, eo usque progressus est ut clarius multo cognoscat quicquid pertinet ad Summam salutis, quam qui tunc fuerunt etiam non vulgares. Joan. Calv. in com. ad Ier 31.34.

(4) More Evidential and Ensuring, both in regard of it self, of Spirituals, and consequently of our State towards God. This Evidentialness of New Testament-Knowledge, beyond that of the old, necessarily follows from the former surpassing Clearness thereof. That which is most clear, resplendent and perspicuous, is most Evidential, and best discovers both it self and other things unto us. (h) Whatsoever maketh manifest, is Light. As in the cœlestial bodies, the more light any of them have in themselves, the more clear they are, the more do they discover, evidence and manifest themselves and all visibles to us; The Moon more then the Stars, and the Sun far more then the Moon: Thus, the New Covenant-knowledge of God, having in it much more (i) shining brightness and clearness in the Open face of Christ, then the Old Covenant-knowledge had in the vailed face of Moses, must needs proportionably Evidence it self and Spirituals much more to us, then the former could do unto the Jews. Now this New Covenant-know- knowledge of God doth not only behold God more Clearly and Conſpicuouſly in the face of Jeſus Chriſt, But alſo doth more Evidently diſcover to us, and aſſure us of three things: viz. 1. That, It ſelf, even this knowledge of God which we have, is a right knowledge of him. (k) Hereby we do know that we know him, if we keep his Commandments. He that ſaith, I know him, and keepeth not his Commandments, is a lyar, and the Truth is not in him. We by our knowledge of God, do know that we know God: Partly by the fruits and right effects of the true knowledge of God, as here by Obedience, &c. Partly by the reflect act of knowledge looking back upon it ſelf, and perceiving it ſelf knowing. 2. What Spirituals we have from God. God hath given us ſuch a Spirit of Knowledge in Chriſt, that we thereby aſſuredly know what things the Lord hath done for us by Chriſt. (l) Now we have received, not the Spirit of the world, but the Spirit which is of God, that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God. We know, that Chriſt is in us, 2 Cor. 13. 5. That we are of the Truth, 1 John 3. 19. That we love the children of God, 1 John 5. 2. That we are regenerate, converted, quickened, 1 John 3. 14, &c. 3. That, Conſequently our Spiritual eſtate towards God is good. This we may diſcern by an aſſurance of knowledge. As, that we are paſſed from Death to Life, 1 John 3. 14. That we have eternal life, 1 John 5. 13. That when God in Chriſt ſhall appear, we ſhall be like him, for we ſhall ſee him as he is, 1 John 3. 2. Hereupon (m) Full-aſſurance of Spirituals is aſcribed, not only to Faith and Hope, but alſo to knowledge or underſtanding.

(m) Heb. 10. 22. & 6. 11. Col. 2. 2.

(5) More Compleat, full and Perfect. Under the Old Covenant the Fœderates were as (n) children under age, brought up and inſtructed in Rudiments and firſt Elements of Divine Doctrine, in the A B C or Alphabet of Religion; they had but an imperfect and child-like underſtanding of God and Divine things, they underſtood as children, they were but Alphabetarians in Knowledge: There were many Myſteries which they knew not at all; and what they knew was very darkly, weakly, imperfectly. There was much darkneſs and ignorance upon them. Their knowledge was extreamly imperfect; both Extenſively in regard of Spiritual myſteries known, which were but few Comparatively: and intenſively, in regard of the degree and meaſure of their knowledge, which comparatively was but very ſmall. Touching (o) Chriſt and his Prieſtly office, the Hebrews were dull of hearing, needed milk, not ſtrong meat, were as babes that had need of inſtruction in firſt principles, &c. Touching (p) Regeneration, what a Myſterie and Paradox was it to Nicodemus a Maſter and Teacher among them? &c. But under the New Covenant the Fœderates are as grown men come to maturity, put up to an higher form and harder leſſon, having a more ripe and compleat knowledge of God, and the things of God; both Extenſively for ſorts of things known: and Intenſively for meaſure measure and degree of knowing them. They have more Compleat (q) Revelations in the word, touching God and Divine things to be known: They have more perfect, (r) Donations and Operations of the Spirit of God, illuminating them unto all gradual excellencies in knowledge: And consequently their knowledge is full, ripe, and much more perfect; They are (s) Men in understanding; They (t) know more then the Kings and Prophets of old: They are (u) greater then even John Baptist in knowledge; They (x) have by reason of use their senses exercised to discern both good and evil; They have such (y) an Annoynting as teacheth them all things, viz. All things necessary to their Salvation, to their present New Testament-state, to their Spiritual being and wel-being: They penetrate into the most abstruse and hidden mysteries of Religion, with acute, wel-exercised senses: They have not weak glimmerings, but the full Sun-shine of light (z) without clouds and shadows, wherein they are still increasing: They (a) look not upon the vailed face of Moses, but the unvailed face of Christ.

(6) More Efficacious and powerful. Under the Old Testament, as the Fœderates knowledge of God was less clear and less perfect, so it was less efficacious: The power and efficacy thereof was proportionable. They rested much in a Literal and Notional knowledge: few of them had a Spiritualized knowledge: consequently the efficacy of their knowledge upon them was either none at all, or very slender. Literals and meer Notionals have no efficacy: weak Spirituals have but weak efficacy upon the hearts and lives. But under the New Covenant the Fœderates knowledge of God, &c. is much more powerful, strong, and efficacious. The Apostle signifies this excellently, saying: (b) But we all with open face, beholding as in a Glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord. The intent of the Apostle in this Chapter, is principally to demonstrate the surpassing excellency of the New Testament-Ministration beyond that of Moses in many Particulars, as (c) I have elsewhere shewed: and at last in regard of the Perspicuity thereof. The efficacy of this Perspicuity of Ministration and Knowledge of God, is most notably set forth in this ver. 18. wherein note: (d) The Perspicuity, Efficacy, Progress and Universality of our New Covenant-knowledge of God. (1) The Perspicuity of it: in that, we with open face behold as in a glass the glory of the Lord. Here note The Object beheld, viz. The Glory of the Lord. viz. The glorious Excellencies and Perfections of God in himself, as also his Glorious Manifestations of his grace, mercy, wisdom, &c. in the Gospel towards his people under the New Covenant. The Mean whereby

Deinde, non decere ut hæc sit mortua Contemplatio; sed nos per eam transformari in Dei imaginem. 3. Tertio non impleri utcunque uno momento in nobis; sed crescendum esse continuo successu, tam in notitia quam in conformitate imaginis Dei; hoc enim significat, *A Gloria in Gloriam. Joan. Calv. we

we behold this Object, the glory of the Lord; viz. As in a Glaſs: Chriſt Jeſus is this glaſs, thinks (e) Beza, in whom as in a moſt pure Chryſtal glaſs the glorious image of God ſhines forth to us moſt illuſtriouſly and ſweetly unto ſalvation. In Chriſt, in the face of Chriſt, it is that God offers himſelf to be ſeen ſavingly, 2 Cor. 4. 6. and not elſwhere. The manner of beholding Gods glory in this Glaſs; viz. with open face, without any dark vail or covering: this is elegantly oppoſed to the vail on Moſes face. (2) The efficacy of it: In that this beholding the Lords glory in this glaſs, doth not fright us away from it, as Moſes ſhining face frighted away the Iſraelites, but rather attracts and allures us to it through the intenſive beauty of it; yea, transforms us into the ſame image, as it were by the reflection of its raies upon us. Here's the efficacy and vertue of the New Covenant-knowledge of God, its a transforming knowledge, the more we behold God and know God, the more we become like God, the ſhine and glory of God beheld, makes us ſhine and become divinely glorious. This is a powerful change indeed. The glory of Moſes his face had no ſuch efficacy in it: Iſrael were not, could not be transformed into the ſame image by beholding it, becauſe this efficacy is wholly from the Spirit of the Lord. (3) The Progreſs of this efficacy by degrees. Its not put forth all at once, but from glory to glory. We are ſtill increaſing in knowledge and the image of God, from one glorious meaſure and degree to another. (4) The univerſality of it: In that we all behold this glory of God in Chriſt, and are thus transformed: that is, all we that are inwardly and effectually his Fœderates indeed; but more eminently this belongs to his faithful New Covenant-Miniſters, of whom he is here eſpecially diſcourſing.

(e) Detecta facie, &c.] Non potuit Paulus aut brevius aut Divinius in nobis gratiæ Dei progreſſus explicare. —— Primum omnium igitur gratia Dei in Chriſto nobis velamen adimit; id eſt, Tenebras illas denſiſſimas quibus undiq; obſepti eramus. Deinde recepis jam oculis ad tantam lucem minime calligantibus ſed ultro etiam eam appetentibus, offertur nobis Chriſtus; in quo, non ſicut olim in Moſe, ſed tanquam in limpidiſſimo ſpeculo, & vera Patris imagine, Deum ad ſalutem intueamur. Neque vero ſplendore iſtius ſpeculi effundimur, ſed contra alicimur, magis ac magis in illud intuentes, donec in eam ipſam imaginem transformemur, id eſt, fiamus & ipſe ejus ſplendoris participes, ac tanquam ſecundariæ quædam imagines, ex illorum radiorum veluti reflexione, &c. Beza Annotat. in 2 Cor. 3. 18.

Now this efficacy of the New Covenant knowledge of God is ſuch, and ſo great upon Gods true Fœderates: that, 1. It makes them come to Chriſt by Faith; (f) Every man therefore that hath heard and learned of the Father, cometh unto me. 2. It is the beginning of life eternal in Chriſt. (g) This is life Eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jeſus Chriſt whom thou haſt ſent. 3. It is of eminent note in the ſacred Liſt or Catalogue of ſanctifying Graces, that make the Saints ſpiritually fruitful, 2 Pet. 1. 5, 6, 7, 8. 4. It powerfully puts upon univerſal Obedience to Gods Commands. (h) Hereby we do know that we know him, if we keep his Commandments. 5. It mightily incites unto b tter lamentings, and penetential mournings for ſin, eſpecially as acted againſt Chriſt, Zach. 12. 10. to the end. 6. It is ſuch an univerſal and well-rooted Knowledge, that it makes men Perſevere in Truth and Godlineſs, againſt all erroneous and ungodly defections. (i) But as the same anointing teacheth you of all things, and is truth, and is no lye: and even as it hath taught you, ye shall abide in him. 7. It transforms them that rightly thereby behold God in Christ, (k) into the same image of God, gradually day by day. The reflexion of the divine raies as it were upon us, do make like perfective alterations and impressions in us. It is so efficacious, that it Transforms the whole soul, and Conforms the whole conversation unto God.

(i) 1 Iohn 2, 27.

(k) 2 Cor. 3. 18.

7. More glorious. The Old Testament-Ministration had some kind of Glory, but it was Glory under a vail, 2 Cor. 3. 13, &c. proportionably the Old Covenant-knowledge of God had some sparkles of glory in it. But the New Covenant-Ministration excels in glory; and that not an Outward literal and vanishing glory to be done away, but an inward spiritual and lasting glory that shall remain, 2 Cor. 3. 6. to the end. Proportionably the New Covenant-knowledge of God is a far more glorious knowledge, more inwardly, spiritually and permanently glorious; yea the glory, splendor and lustre of this knowledge is continually increasing, (l) from glory to glory by the Spirit of the Lord, till it be swallowed up in immediate (m) vision of God face to face, when we shall see him as he is, and know as we are known, and then it shall be compleatly glorious.

Thus of the surpassing Excellency of the New Covenant-knowledge of God and divine things, being More Divine, Spiritual, Clear, Evidential, Compleat, Efficacious and Glorious, then the Old Covenant-knowledge of him. This is the first thing wherein this promise placeeth this New Covenant-knowledge, &c. viz. In the singular excellency of it, beyond that of the Old Covenant.

2. In the extensiveness and universality of it. And therefore this knowledge of God under the New Covenant, is promised not only to some few, or to some chief and great ones, or to many; but to all. (n) For, they shall All know me, from the least of them to the greatest of them, saith the LORD. This knowledge, none, no not the greatest, can have, but from God and his promise: and God Communicates it to small, as well as great, without respect of Persons. In like extent and generality, both the Promise and Performance of this knowledge of God, &c. is elsewhere mentioned.

Prophets, as ſo many Doctors, &c. as (q) Calvin hath obſerved. 2. The Performance alſo of this Promiſe is expreſſed very Generally; (r) — But we all with open face, beholding as in a glaſs the glory of the Lord, are changed into the ſame image, from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord. Note here the extent of this New Covenant-knowledge: we all, &c. This hath General reference to the (s) whole body of the Church, but ſpecially to the Miniſters of the New Covenant.

Now, this Promiſe of New Covenant-knowledge, is propounded in ſuch General and large Terms, All fleſh, — All thy children, — All we, &c. To let us ſee how far it ſhall go beyond the Old Teſtament-knowledge, not only in the Degree and Meaſure of it, but alſo in the Extent and Compaſs of it. Not only ſome ſorts, but all ſorts of perſons, great and ſmall, young and old, bond and free, male and female, ſhall be endued with it: And thoſe not only in that one Nation of the Jews, but in all Nations of the world. Nevertheleſs; This univerſal extenſiveneſs neceſſarily admits of ſundry limitations. As, 1. It is to be limited, to Gods Fœderates, to the Church of God. For all theſe New Covenant-Promiſes are peculiarly directed to (t) the houſe of Iſrael, and to the houſe of Judah. They then, that are out of the Church, have actually no part in this Promiſe of Knowing the Lord. 2. It is to be limited to all ſorts of Perſons in Covenant, great and ſmall, young and old, bond and free, male and female, (u) as both the words of this Promiſe, and the expreſs terms in Joel do evince: and is not to be extended to every individual perſon of any of thoſe ſorts. It is evidently to be underſtood (de generibus ſingulorum, non de ſingulis generum) of the kinds of all, not of all thoſe kinds. 3. It is to be limited, To all ſorts of ſincere believing Fœderates, as touching that ſort and meaſure of New Covenant-knowledge which is ſalvifical: Falſe hypocritical Fœderates may have much Notional knowledge, beyond what was under the Old Covenant, but not any ſaving knowledge. Thus our bleſſed Saviour limiteth it; (x) It is written in the Prophets, And they ſhall be all taught of God. Every man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father, cometh unto me Therefore all they, and they only, that come to Chriſt by believing in him, are taught of God, have heard and learned of the Father. That is, all they, and they alone are under the New Covenant taught of God ſavingly, who come unto Chriſt believingly. Hypocritical Profeſſors may obtain the bark, the ſhell, the carkaſe of Knowledge, may go as far in Notionals as the ſincere: But only ſincere Believers gain the ſubſtance, the kernel, the ſoul of Knowledge, which is experimental and efficacious to ſalvation.

II. Question. How, and in what way God furnisheth his New Covenant-people with such a knowledge of himself.

Answ. This may be resolved very briefly. God furnisheth his New Covenant-people with such a knowledge of God, &c. as hath been described, in this way: viz. 1. In Jesus Christ. 2. By his Spirit, and New Covenant-Ministery; 3. In a continual Progress and Gradation, from their Gracious Conversion, till their Glorious Consummation.

1. In and through Jesus Christ. (y) God — hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God, in the (z) face of Jesus Christ. So that in the face of Jesus Christ, the light of the knowledge of the glory of God is communicated to us under the New Covenant. We know God in Christ actually exhibited and performed, clearly revealed: In the face of Christ, the open, evident, unvailed face of Christ; Whereas the Jews under the Old Testament knew God only in the vailed face of Moses, or in the shadowed vailed face of Christ. Hence, Christ is said to be (a) The brightness of his Fathers glory, and the express character or image of his person; (b) The image of the invisible God; (c) The glass wherein we behold the glory of the Lord, which (though by some it be interpreted, The glass of the Gospel, yet) seems peculiarly to be intended of Jesus Christ, because in the beginning of the next Chapter that phrase is used, of giving the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ. And God hath so notably revealed, manifested and made known himself in Jesus Christ: His Properties, his Purposes and Counsel, His riches of free-grace, mercy, love, &c. His Will and Ordinances, &c. That Christ saith, (d) He that hath seen me, hath seen the Father; And, Believe me, that I am in the Father, & the Father in me. The knowledge of God immediately in his Essence, is so high, that we cannot reach it, but be swallowed up with it: The knowledge of God remotely in his Creatures, is so low, that we cannot be saved by it: But the knowledge of God in the face of Christ, (that is, as he hath made himself plainly, clearly, and familiarly known to us in and by Christ, as one man is exactly known to another by his face,) is of all other the most safe, suitable, profitable and comfortable way of knowing God. In Christ, the invisible God hath rendered himself visible to us: In Christ, the most majestical and glorious God hath rendered himself familiar and near unto us: In Christ, the most holy and infinitely offended God hath represented himself most sweetly and comfortably appeased towards us. Oh! to know God effectually, in Christ already revealed, and exhibited actually, is a knowledge next unto the beatifical vision, wherein we shall see God gloriously.

2. By his Spirit, and New Covenant-Ministry. In ordinary God brings his people to the saving knowledge of himself only this way. 1. Efficiently, By his Spirit; more plentifully poured forth under the

the New Covenant then ever. Gods Spirit is the principal and immediate efficient cauſe of this New Covenant-knowledge of God, (e) I will pour my Spirit upon all fleſh, and your ſons and your daughters ſhall prophecy, &c. (f) —We all beholding as in a glaſs the glory of the Lord, are changed into the ſame image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord. If Gods Spirit act not, move not, to the producing of this effect, it cannot be wrought at all. Now Gods plentiful and powerful Spirit becomes the Author of this knowledge of God, &c. under the New Covenant, e pecially theſe three waies. Viz. (1) Partly, By his Revelation. He Reveals God and the things of God, more clearly and fully now under the New Covenant, then ever formerly under the Old: He makes the Object of knowledge more plain and Conſpicuous, and that mightily furniſheth knowledge it ſelf. The Myſterie of the Trinity, of Chriſt, of Free-grace, of Faith, of Juſtification, of the Gentiles calling, &c. were never before ſo manifeſted as now they are in the New Teſtament by the Spirit, Eph. 3. 4, 5. Chriſt hath now (g) brought life and immortality to light, through the Goſpel. Why? had he never done it before? Yes, but never ſo fully and clearly. (2) Partly, By his illumination. Having revealed more perfectly the Object to the underſtanding, in the next place he more compleatly inlightens and opens the eye of the underſtanding to diſcern that Object, 2 Cor. 3. 18. Heb. 6. 4. 2 Tim. 1. 7. The brighteſt Sun affords no light to us, till our eyes be opened and cured. Now the Spirit is that (h) Annointing, which teacheth us all things. He creates a light within, receptive of the light without: and then we ſee clearly. (3) Partly, By his Atteſtation. Gods Spirit atteſts, witneſſeth, and evidenceth to us whatſoever we have from God, and ſo our true knowledge of him, 1 Cor. 2. 12. Hereby we know that he abideth in us, by his Spirit that he hath given us. 1 Joh. 3. 24. The Spirit witneſſeth with our ſpirits, that we are the ſons of God, Rom. 8. 16. Thus God works this true and ſaving knowledge of himſelf, &c. in us by his Spirit. Efficiently, Revealing the Object, Illuminating the eye of the mind, and Atteſting to us what we have of God. 2. Inſtrumentally, By his New Covenant Miniſtry. God hath appointed all his New Teſtament Miniſtry (i) To diſciple all Nations, —teaching them to obſerve all things whatſoever Chriſt hath commanded; (k) To turn them from darkneſs to light; (l) For the Perfecting of the Saints, for the work of the Miniſtry, for the edifying of the body of Chriſt, till we all come in the unity of the Faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, &c. That we henceforth be no more children, toſſed too and fro, and carried about with every wind of Doctrine. Hence Chriſt calls his Miniſters (m) The lights of the world, and (n) The ſtars in Chriſts right hand, ſhining forth unto the Church. But that they may ſhine forth Inſtrumentally in their Doctrine, and Exemplarily in their life, to others; God firſt ſhines into their hearts, and diſpels their natural darkneſs, ſhines away their darkneſs and ignorance; that, making making uſe of ſuch frail earthy inſtruments, all the efficacy of their Miniſtry may palpably appear to be of God, and not of them. (o) For God, who commanded the light to ſhine out of darkneſs, hath ſhined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jeſus Chriſt. But we have this treaſure in earthen veſſels, (viz. this Treaſure of divine light in us as earthen veſſels, as Gideon and his men had their Lamps in earthen pitchers, Judg. 7.) that the excellency of the power may be of God, and not of us. God could have given his Fœderates under the New Covenant this knowledge of God immediately by his Spirit only, without the Miniſtry of man, but he would not: he gains to himſelf the more glory, upon occaſion of the weakneſs of his inſtruments. They then that caſt off the Miniſtry and their Teaching now under this New Covenant; do caſt off God and his Ordinance, for breeding New Covenant-knowledge, and put themſelves quite out of the way of the Spirits operation: remaining ſtill in groſs darkneſs and blindneſs under a ſpirit of deluſion, through Gods juſt judgement: Witneſs the many horrid, prodigious and blaſphemous (p) errours againſt Jeſus Chriſt, and almoſt all the fundamentals of Chriſtianity, (q) publiſhed in print, and otherwiſe by ſuch as have in theſe daies forſaken the Scriptures and way of Truth, and ſeparated from the true Churches and Miniſtry of Chriſt, unto Popery, pretended Revelations, Enthuſiaſms, fabulous Dreams, and damnable Hereſies, even (r) denying the Lord that bought them, and bringing upon themſelves ſwift deſtruction. Many following their pernicious waies, by reaſon of whom the way of Truth is evil ſpoken of, 2 Pet. 2. 1, 2.

3. In a continual Progreſs in the knowledge of God, &c. by degrees, from their gracious Converſion, till their glorious Conſummation. Under this New Covenant, The promiſed knowledge of God is not given all at once in a moment to any of his Fœderates, but gradually, and ſtep by ſtep, according to his peoples capacities. (s) We know but in part, and prophecy in part; we ſee now through a glaſs darkly. Knowledge, as well as the grace of Chriſt in us, is not in compleat maturity, but only in their (t) growth thereunto. For the (u) compleating and perfecting of which knowledge, Chriſt hath given all his New Teſtament-Miniſtry till the worlds end. Hence it is ſaid, that, (x) We all beholding as in a glaſs the glory of the Lord, are changed into the ſame image from glory to glory, viz. From one glorious meaſure and degree of knowledge and the image of God, to another. And to this effect ſome underſtand thoſe (y) expreſſions in Joel, of Prophecying, Dreams and Viſions, becauſe ſo diſtinctly applyed to ſons and daughters, old men, and young men, to imply the gradual increaſe of Knowledge in Gods Fœderates under the New Covenant. yet yet seeing they are distinctly named, and attributed to several sorts of Persons, as Prophesying to sons and daughters; Visions to young men, and Dreams to old men: We may from it take up some steps and degrees of the Knowledge of God, wherein they grow up who are under the Spirits Teaching. As, 1. By Prophesying, attributed to sons and daughters, we may understand simply, The knowledge of divine things. 2 By Visions, attributed to young men, we may understand, Their clearer insight, and up-taking of these mysteries, then they had in their younger dales: For Vision doth represent the thing revealed more sensibly. 3. By Dreams, wherein men have their senses shut up from the world, and which are attributed to old men, we may understand a further degree of illumination, when light received doth take hold on the affections, to sanctifie and subdue them; so that mens hearts are taken off the world, and filled with the things of God. And so this Gradation will teach, That the Knowledge of God which is communicated unto men by the Spirit, will be on the growing hand, till from a common Notion and remembering of it, it come to be more seriously pondered and laid to heart, and till it take hold of the affections, and conquer the whole heart to God. Mr. George Hutcheson in his Exposition on Ioel 2. 28, 29.

New Covenant-knowledge of God, &c. is, Radically and Initially planted in us at our conversion, Acts 26. 18. 1 Pet. 2. 8, 9. Gradually increased in us day by day, whilest we are in our progress of grace in this life, 2 Cor. 3. 18. 2 Pet. 3. 18. Compleatly Perfected and Consummated in us, when we come to be perfected in heaven by full and immediate vision of God face to face, 1 Cor. 13. 10, 11, 12. 1 Joh. 3. 2. Heb. 13. 23. Gods Fœderates therefore are not to be discouraged because their knowledge of God, and of the things of God in them, is very weak and small: but rather they are to make it clear and sure to themselves, that the little knowledge which they have is true saving Knowledge, and then they may conclude it will be daily increasing to more and more Perfection, and at last become compleat in glory.

III. Question. Whether All Gods New Covenant-people attain to this Promised Knowledge of God? &c. Seeing sad Experience seems to speak the contrary, That very many in the visible Church remain most grosly ignorant of God, and of all his waies now under the New Covenant.

Answ. This Question may be resolved by way of Concession, Explication, and Limitation.

1. By way of Concession. Its granted, That even under this brightest Noon-tide and glorious Sun-shine of New Covenant-light, many, alas very many, within the visible Church of Christ, do still remain in gross darkness and ignorance of God and divine things. Which comes to Pass, 1. Partly, From Natural stupidity, (z) incapacity and unteacheableness in some: who are so dull, blockish and unapprehensive of divine mysteries, that though they be (a) ever learning, yet (like those silly women) they are never able to come to the knowledge of the Truth. 2. Partly, From the sinful Pravity and Corruption in many. Who, (z) Either (b) like Swine basely neglect and contemn the Pearls of Instruction, Admonition, Reproof, &c. trampling them under their feet: contenting themselves in an affected ignorance, and despising all endeavours and means of knowledge. (z) Or (c) like Dogs, bark, revile, turn again and rent those that would inform, teach and admonish them. Not enduring, but utterly hating the light, because their deeds are are evil. (d) And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkneſs rather then light, becauſe their deeds were evil. For every one that doth evil, hateth the light; neither cometh to the light, leſt his deeds ſhould be reproved, &c. 3. Partly, From the carnal ſtate and unregenerate condition of moſt, even in the viſible Church, (e) who have no more Chriſtianity then a blade, or lamp, or form of Profeſſion, or ſome common gifts of the Spirit: whereby they reach only to ſome Notional Knowledge and Speculations about God and Spirituals, but, know nothing as they ought to know, experimentally, affectively, ſavingly, &c. Carnal profeſſors, though of the higheſt rank, wanting true ſpiritual ſenſes, (f) cannot perceive or diſcern the things of God, becauſe they are ſpiritually diſcerned. 4. Partly, From the (g) juſt Judgement of God upon ſome, even reprobates and loſt perſons, whom God hath ſmitten with judicial-blindneſs, becauſe they loved not, nor obeyed the Truth of God tendred to them. That foraſmuch as, Seeing, they would not ſee; therefore they ſhall never ſee, Joh. 12. 40. Act. 28. 26, 27. 5. Partly, From the defect of Chriſtian inſtruction, nurture and admonition in their firſt education, want of Family-Duties. This is a grand and general ſin of Parents, that they bring up their children like Pagans, not diligently catechizing, principling and teaching them in the fundamentals of Chriſtianity; as the Lord (h) requireth, and as the godly uſe to do, Gen. 18. 19. 1 Chron. 28. 9. 2 Tim. 3. 14, 15. 6. Partly, From the great Neglect or Inſufficiency of Church-Government and Diſcipline: when Church-Government is not at all eſtabliſhed, or if eſtabliſhed, not duly managed for the Healing of this evil, by (i) Catechizing and other waies. 7. Partly, From peoples (k) caſting off the Churches, Miniſtry, and Ordinances of Chriſt, wherein and whereby Chriſt ordinarily conveys to his New Covenant-people the ſolid and ſaving knowledge of himſelf, and of all his waies, Eph. 4. 11, 12, 13, 14. Mat. 28. 19, 20. 2 Cor. 4. 6, 7. I have diligently obſerved, That as ignorance in fundamentals is the mother of Separation, cauſing it: ſo a further ignorance therein is the daughter of Separation, being cauſed and increaſed by it; whileſt ſuch do uſually lay out all their thoughts and ſtudies, not about the ſubſtantials of Chriſtianity, but about ſuch odd new fangle conceits and opinions as they have entertained. From theſe bitter Fountains the great ignorance of people now under the New Covenant flows: Oh that there were ſome Effectual Remedy, ſome ſpeedy Healing of theſe great evils in England! When ſhall it once be?

2. By way of Explication. Although in the viſible Church there remains much groſs ignorance in many now under the New Covenant, ſo that they attain not to this Promiſed Knowledge: yet notwithſtanding, this Promiſe, that, All ſhall know the Lord, hath its due and intended accompliſhment. For clearing of this, 1. We must distinguish of Gods Fœderates under the New Covenant. (l) Some are his Fœderates or Covenant-people only Outwardly, by visible Profession, &c. As, (l) Simon Magus, who upon his Profession of Faith was Baptized; So (m) Ananias and Sapphira; So all Hypocrites and Formalists. And a great part of the visible Church is only of such: (n) of the four sorts of hearers there were three naught. (o) Some are his Fœderates Inwardly, as well as outwordly, Really, as well as Formally; By invisible power of Faith and Grace, as well at by visible Profession. As, (o) Paul, (p) some of the Corinthians, (q) some of the Thessalonians, and as all sincere Converts effectually called from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God. 2. We must distinguish of the term [All], which may be taken; (r) Sometimes, more Restrainedly, for All sorts of persons, great and small, All shall know me from the greatest to the least, Heb. 8. 11. Ier. 31. 34. — I will pour my Spirit upon all flesh, viz. All sorts, Male and Female, young and old, bond and free, Ioel 2. 28, 29, 30. (s) Sometimes, more largely and universally, for every individual person of all sorts; (t) — We have before proved both Iews and Gentiles, that they are all under sin: that is, All and Singular, All and every individual person of Jews and Gentiles are by nature under sin. 3. We must distinguish of the Knowledge of God. The knowledge which men may have of God is twofold, viz. (u) Notional only and ineffectual, consisting in the meer swimming Notion and Speculation touching God and things of God, without any powerful sanctifying efficacy upon heart and life, (x) They profess that they know God, but in works they deny him, being abominable, disobedient, &c. All the knowledge which meer carnal unregenerate men have of God, is meerly Notional, and in the Head. (y) Real, Effectual, Cordial, and Experimental also; when the heart and affections know God as well as the Head; when they so know God as to believe in him, love, desire, esteem, delight in him, obey him, &c. (z) I know my sheep, and am known of mine. When they have experimental sense, and spiritual feeling of things; (a) — I pray that your love may abound more and more, in knowledge, and in all sense, ἐν πάσῃ αἰσθήσει. It intends, spiritual sense and experience. Gods people have spiritual senses, and those (b) senses exercised unto experimental discernings. 4. We must also distinguish betwixt the publike Administration of Gods New Covenant; and the Private Condition and Constitution of some particular persons in the visible Church under the New Covenant.

These Distinctions premised, we may briefly thus Resolve touching the Extent of this Promise; (c) All shall know me from the least to the greatest, viz. 1. That, In this Promise, God doth not intend only A Notional and ineffectual knowledge of himself under the New Covenant, but also and most especially, A Real, Effectual, Cordial and Experimental knowledge of God, and the things of God. For all the rest of these New Covenant-promises, and so consequently this of knowing God, are so laid down, as evidently and chiefly to intend true effectual and saving Mercies to the Fœderates, such as are proper and peculiar to the Elect only. 2. That, Therefore the Fœderates, to whom this knowledge of God under the New Covenant is specially and peculiarly promised, are not the Fœderates Outwardly by meer visible Profession, but the Fœderates Inwardly by invisible Power of Faith and other Graces, as well as by Outward Profession. The Outward Fœderates may know God Notionally, far more under the New Covenant, then ever the like Fœderates knew God notionally under the Old Covenant: But its only the Inward Fœderates also that now know God Really, Effectually, Cordially, Experimentally: And herein they shall far excell the Inward Fœderates of the Old Covenant. 3. That, Under this New Covenant, All, that is, All Gods Inward Fœderates, living till years of Discretion, even all and every one of them individually and numerically; and those of (z) all sorts of People, Jews, or Gentiles, Male or Female, young or Old, Bond or Free, Great or Small; shall know the Lord, not only with a Notional, but also with a Real, Cordial, Experimental saving knowledge, much more Generally Universally, and Perfectly then Gods people knew him under the Old Covenant. Even the least of Gods true New Covenant-people shall have so much spirit, and knowledge, &c. that they shall so far excell Gods Old Covenant-people therein, that (as (a) Calvin notes) they shall comparatively be (Doctores & Magistri,) even Doctors and Masters, and as it were, all Prophets. Hither to that of Joel 2. 28, 29. and that of our Saviour, He that is least in the Kingdom of Heaven, is greater then John Baptist, Mat. 11. 11. are specially to be referred. Yea (as (b) one hath well noted) Believers under the New Covenant shall not only equalize, but in some sense excell all the Prophets of old. 4. That, Finally, In this Promise we are not so much to consider the Private Condition and Constitution of some Particular persons, visible Fœderates under the New Covenant; As the Publike Oeconomie and Administration of the New Covenant. The Private Condition of many Partitular persons may possibly be very dark and ignorant, having little knowledge of God or his wayes, by reason of the occasions of their ignorance forementioned: and yet the Publike Administration and current of the New Covenant is for an universal Knowledge of God, All shall know him, &c. as hath been explained: In Comparison of which Knowledge, that under the Old Testament (being very imperfect in degree, very dark and obscure for manner, and very much restrained to the Jews only and some few Profelites for extent,) was as nothing; was gross ignorance rather then knowledge, Comparatively. Et semper Comparativè hæc intellegi debent: These things ought still to be understood comparatively, as Calvin notes, Comment. in Jer. 31. 34.

(z) Ier. 31. 34. Heb. 8. 11. Ioel 2. 28, 29.
(a) Joan. Cal. in com. in Jer. 31. 34.
(b) 8. The Knowledge of the Mysteries of Salvation, which is communicated by the Spirit under the Gospel, is comparable to any Measure of Knowledge attained by ancient Prophets of Old. Not only doth extraordinary Revelation under the New Testament in the Primitive times parallel what they had then; But even the gifts of light and knowledge conferred in Ordinary upon men and the saving knowledge conferred upon believers, may be compared therewith. For whereas these Revelations were but at first and times only, this is constant; and these, albeit they were singular in the manner of Communicating, yet the Truth conveyed thereby was but more darkly held out, and under a vell, whereas now Truths are seen with open face. Therefore, as is before cleared, are the Names of Prophesy, Visions and Dreams, given to this Knowledge. So that the Ignorance of men under the Gospel doth speak but little enjoyment of the Spirit. Mr. George Hutcheson in his exposition on Joel 2. 28, 29 p. 318. Lond. 1655.

3. By way of Limitation. Though God in this New Covenant Promiſe, All ſhall know me from the leaſt even to the greateſt of them: and though this Promiſe is Performed upon Gods New Covenant people, as hath been explained; Yet all this is to be underſtood with ſome Caution and Limitation. As, 1. That, Under the New Covenant All thoſe that thus know God come not to this knowledge of him in one and the ſame way. For, In the Primitive Churches, whoſe ſtate and Condition was ſomewhat Extraordinary, God gave unto his Apoſtles and to many others a knowledge of him and his affairs in an Extraordinary way, viz. By Prophecy, 1 Tim. 1. 18. & 4. 14. Acts 21. 9. By Viſions, as to Peter, Acts 10. 10, 11. to Paul, 2 Cor. 12. 1, 2, &c. By Dreams, as to Joſeph, Mat. 1. 20. By immediate infallible inſpiration, as to the Penmen of the Books of New Teſtament, 2 Tim. 3 16. By peculiar Revelation, Gal. 1. 11, 12. & 2. 2. Eph. 3. 5. Acts 27. 23, 24, 25. But in the Succeſsive Churches; whoſe ſtate and condition is more Ordinary, God gives unto his Miniſters and people a knowledge of himſelf in an Ordinary way: As, By illumination of the Spirit, Heb 6. 4. 1 Cor. 2. 10, 11, 12, 13, 14. Some ([f]) are Babes, and children in underſtanding, needing milk: Some are more ripe, grown men in underſtanding, able to digeſt ſtrong meat, &c. But yet even the Knowledge of the weakeſt and meaneſt, ſurpaſſeth the knowledge of thoſe under the Old Teſtament, in diſtinctneſs, integrality, and perſpicuity.

IV. Queſtion. Whether God by this Promiſe intended to take away, vacate, Annull and make void all Humane Teaching, Private and Publike, as altogether uſeleſs and needleſs now under the New Covenant: Seeing he ſaith: ([g]) And they ſhall not teach, every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, ſaying, Know the Lord: And John ſaith elſewhere: ([h]) ye need not that any man teach you?

(g) Ier 31. 34. Heb. 8. 11.

(h) 1 Iohn 2. 27.

Anſw. For Reſolution to this Queſtion I ſhall offer divers things, 1. By way of Conceſſion, That thus ſome have thought; 2. By way of Negation, That God never intended this by theſe or any other like Scriptures; 3. By way of Vindication of thoſe Scriptures particularly objected.

1. By way of Conceſsion. I grant, That in theſe our times ([i]) ſome of unſound judgements, (who decry the New Covenant Miniſtry and Ordinances of Chriſt, would lay all things in the Church in a level, cry up the abſolute gradual perfection of the Saints in this life, are for Enthuſiaſms, Infallibilities, immediate Revelations, and for A Chriſt within them as their only Saviour, &c.) have ignorantly perverted and wrested these Scriptures, Isa. 54. 13. Jer. 31. 34. Heb. 8. 11. 1 John 2. 27. Joel 2, 28, 29. to the voiding of all Humane Teaching as to the Saints; but especially to the abolishing of the Publike Ministry now under the New Testament, as useless and needless, yea as abrogated by God. Knowing well that the publike Ministry of Christ, set for the defence of the Gospel, is the Hammer of their Heresies to break them, and stands most in their way. And thus they revive the old rotten errors of former times. For, as Calvin observes upon this text; (k) they shall teach no more every man his neighbour, and every man his Brother, &c.] I have said, Here the Prophet amplifies the Grace of God. And hence we collect that certain fanatick persons have ignorantly abused this Testimony, when they would take away all use of Doctrine, As in our time some of the Anabaptists have rejected all Doctrine: and when they pleased themselves in their ignorance, yet they proudly boasted they were endued with the Spirit, and that it was an injury done to Christ if we should yet be disciples, because its written among the Encomium's and Praises of the Gospel, They shall teach no more every man his brother. Hence also it came to pass that they became drunk with horrid Dotages. For the Devil, when they did swell with so great pride, could bewitch them at his pleasure. Then every ones pride did move him, to feign dreams to himself. And many knaves have drawn this place to private profit. For when they boasted themselves to be Prophets, and perswaded this to the simple ones, they obliged many to themselves, and made a gain of that Boasting, &c.

(k) Dicit igitur, non Docebit quisq; &c. Dixi prophetam hic amplificare gratiam Dei. Et hinc colligimus quosdam fanaticos inscite & perperam abusos fuisse hoc testimonio, cum vellent tollere omnem Doctrinæ usum, sicuti nostro tempore quidam ex Anabaptistis rejecerunt omnem Doctrinam; & cum sibi placerent in sua insciția, tamen superbe jactabant se præditos esse spiritu, & Deo Christo injuriam si adhuc scimus Discipuli, quia scriptum est inter laudes & encomia Novi Testamenti, Non docebit amplius quisq; proximum suum. Hinc etiam factum est, ut horrendis delirijs fuerunt inebriati. Diabolus enim, cum turgerent tanta superbia, potuit eos fascinare pro suo arbitrio. Deinde etiam unumquemq; propria superbia impulit, ut fingerent sibi somnia. Et multi nebulones traxerunt hunc locum ad privatam utilitatem. Nam cum se gloriarentur esse Prophetas, et etiam simplicibus hoc persuaderent, tenuerunt multos sibi obstrictos, & quæstum fecerunt ex illa jactantia. Atqui Propheta hic non designat enthousiasmum, &c. Joan. Calv. in comment. ad Jer. 31. 34.

2. By way of Negation. God never intended, by these or any other like Scriptures to destroy Humane Teaching, Private or Publike, or the Office of the Publike Ministry in the Church of God. Gods New Covenant-promises do not at all tend to lay aside any such Humane Teaching. For,

(1) Under the New Covenant Gods Fœderates have but at best an imperfect knowledge of God and the things of God. (l) They know but in part, — they see through a glass (as it were a prospective) darkly. Their Knowledge is but growing, 2 Pet. 2. 18. not fully grown up to exact perfection. Therefore in order to their edification and salvation they have still need of teaching, even of all kind of Teaching both Divine and Humane, for removing of the remains of ignorance in them: now God will not deprive them of such Necessaries for their Edification and Salvation.

(l) 1 Cor. 13. 9, 12. Phil. 3. 10, 12, 13.

(2) Under

(2) Under the New Covenant, 1. God doth often Command Private Teaching one of another; As, That Husbands teach their Wives, 1 Cor 14. 35. Parents their children, Ephes. 6. 4. And Christians one another, 1 Thes. 5. 11. 2 Thes. 3. 15. Coloss. 3. 16. 2. God doth also Promise in reference to the Kingdom of Christ under his New Covenant; (m) That it shall come to pass in the last dayes that the Mountain of the LORD'S house shall be established in the top of the Mountains, and shall be exalted above the Hills: and all Nations shall flow unto it. And many people shall go and say, Come ye and let us go up to the Mountain of the LORD, to the House of the God of Jacob, and he will teach us of his wayes, and we will walk in his paths; for out of Sion shall go forth the Law, and the word of the LORD from Jerusalem. Here note, 1. The Glorious exaltation and enlargement of the Church of God under the New Testament. 2. The great Zeal of many, not only themselves to repair to the house of the Lord, but to incite and instruct others also to go with them to be taught of God. 3. The way how they shall be taught, by Gods Law and word going out of Sion and Jerusalem, viz. By the Apostles preaching the Gospel first at Jerusalem, and then all over the world. Thus Gods New Covenant-people should privately provoke and instruct one another to repair to the Gospel ordinances, especially to the word preached, that they may thereby be taught. This is a teaching both Divine and Humane.

(m) Isa. 2. 2, 3.

(3) Under the New Covenant Jesus Christ having (n) dedicated the New Covenant in his own blood, hath taken most effectuall Order for establishing the Publike Ministry, and Teaching of his Church thereby in all the Nations of the world, from his own Resurrection and Ascension, till the very end of the world. For. 1. When he Ascended up on high, he (o) gave gifts to men, viz. All his New Testament Ministry; Extraordinary, Apostles, Prophets, Evangelists; Ordinary, Pastors and Teachers: For what end? For the perfecting of the Saints, for the work of the Ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ: For how long? Till we all (even all the elect of God) come in the Unity of the Faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ. And that will not be till the worlds end, when all the Elect of Christ shall be called, and the mystical body of Christ fully compleated. 2. Jesus Christ immediately before his Ascension (p) gave Commission to his Ministers for Discipling, Baptizing, and Teaching all Nations, Promising to be with his Ministers in this their Ministerial work all dayes, even till the end of the world; Therefore the Ministerial office must continue till the worlds end; and the Ministerial work of Teaching all Nations, (viz. both the Primitive and fundamental work of teaching them, that they may be Disciples of Christ, which is here called Discipling them; And the Successive superstructive work of teaching them after they are Discipled and Baptized, how to walk as Christs disciples, observing all his commands), is to coutinue till the end of the world. By these two full and clear Scriptures it is palpably evident beyond all Contradiction, That Jesus Christ himself under his New Covenant hath ordained, Instituted and Commanded his Pubike Ministry and their publike Ministerial Teaching of the Church and people of God, still to continue and remain from his Resurrection and Ascension till the very end of the world. And therefore neither this Passage (q) in the New Covenant, nor any other in all the Scripture, can rationally and solidly be urged for vacating, voiding, or laying aside the office of Christs publike Ministers, or their Duty of publike teaching the Church of God. 3. Jesus Christ under his New Covenant hath so fixedly settled this way of Ministerial Preaching and Teaching for gaining Sinners to himself by believing, that ordinarily none can come to him by believing but through his Ministers instrumental Teaching and Preaching, The Spirit of God ordinarily working to the Conversion of Sinners, only by the Preaching of the word. (r) Whosoever shall call on the Name of the Lord, shall be saved: How then shall they call on him, in whom they have not believed? and how shall they believe in him of whom they have not heard, and how shall they hear without a Preacher? And how shall they preach, except they be sent? As intimating to us, That in Gods ordinary course these things are impossible.

3. By way of Vindication of those Particular Scriptures, which usually are wrested, perverted, and ignorantly objected against all Humane Teaching Publike and Private, and against the very Ministerial office, now under the New Covenant.

(1) The First objected Scripture. And all thy children shall be taught of the LORD, Isa. 54. 13. Then, what need is there of any Humane Teaching, Publike or Private, any more?

Answ. What need? Great Need of Humane teaching, even to all the Churches children that shall be taught of the LORD. For, 1. Humane Teaching both Publike and Private is necessary, necessitate medii, by necessity of Instrumental Mean, (s) This being Gods ordinary way and mean whereby he teacheth, viz. by the Ministry of men. God teacheth Immediately, primarily and efficiently by his Spirit, John 16. 13. 1 Cor. 2. 10, 11, 12, 13. 1 Iohn 2. 20, 27. Mediately, Secondarily and Instrumentally by Men, by Christians Privately, Col. 3. 16. 2 Thes. 3. 15. By Christs Ministers Publikely and privately, Mat. 28. 19, 20. Eph. 4. 8. to 14. Rom. 10. 13, 14, 15. 2 Tim. 2. 2. Acts 20. 20. (t) The Position of the Principal cause, and of the end, takes not away the less principal and instrumental causes of our Teaching, but rather infers them and implies them, as means appointed by God to that end. God will judge the People righteously, and govern the Nations upon Earth, Psal. 95. 4. Is there therefore no more need of Judges, Governours and Magistrates? God will bless his people so, that the earth shall yield her increase, Psal. 95. 6, 7. Is there therefore no more need or use of Sun, (s) Mat. 28. 19, 20. Eph. 4. 8, to 14. Rom. 10. 13, 14, 15. 1 Thes. 5. 11. 2 Thes. 3. 15. Col. 3. 16.

(t) Posito fine ponuntur omnia Media ad Finem. Arist. 2. Phis. tex. 69. Keck. Log. l. 1. c. 18 Canon 6.

Sun, Rain, Husbandry, Tillage, &c. So here, The LORD will teach all the children of the Church: Is there therefore no more use of Ministers, Preaching, or Publike and private Teaching? How absurd such inferences! When men teach by Gods appointment, The Lord himself teaches by those men. Yea, Because God hath promised All the children shall be taught of the LORD; Therefore there is necessity and utility of Humane Teaching, that being one special way of the LORD'S Teaching. 2. Humane Teaching is also necessary, necessitate Præcepti, by necessity of Command: Christ having commanded both Ministers to teach ex officio, publikely: and Christians to teach one another ex charitate, Privately: as hath been proved. Now (u) Gods Promises do not overthrow his Precepts, nor ought they to be made to fight one against another. Scripture reveals both: and both have their use in their place.

(u) Utrumq; docet Scriptura: Omnes Doceri a Deo; Et omnes debere audire, legere, & meditari Scripturas & verbum dei. Itaq; Promissiones non evertunt præcepta; neq; posita causa prima tolluntur mediæ; Ut enim non sequitur, Deus omnia pascit; ergo non opus est pane & agricultura; per hæc enim media Deus pascit. Ita non sequitur Deus omnes docet; ergo non opus est verbo; per verbum enim auditum & prædicatum omnes docet. D. Pareus in comment. ad Heb 8. 11.

(2) The Second Objected Scripture.—I will pour out my Spirit upon all flesh, and your sons your and daughters shall prophecy, your old men shall dream dreams, your young men shall see visions: &c. Ioel 2. 28,29. Therefore under the New Covenant, all shall be so taught by the Spirit, that they shall be Prophets, not needing any further humane Teaching.

Answ. 1. The Substance of the Answer to the former objected Scripture is also applicable here, and enervates utterly this inference, from that of Ioel. 2. This passage in Joel hath special reference to the times of the New Covenant; The Scope whereof is, to shew, That God will more plentifully for measure, and more Generally for extent, bestow his Spirit and the effects thereof upon his people under the New Covenant, then he did under the Old. For Measure, They should have his Spirit in Prophecy, Visions and Dreams: that is, they should have all sorts of the Manifestations of the Spirit upon them, and this should not be as formerly an extraordinary, but an Ordinary and common thing. For Extent, All flesh, that is, all sorts of Gods people, male, female, young and old, bond and free (as here Joel expounds himself) should partake of this Spirit of God. So that they shall equalize, yea in some sort excell the antient Old Covenant-Prophets themselves, much more the ordinary sort of people, in knowledge; in regard of the Ordinariness, Distinctness, Clearness and Perfectness thereof. This Promise was most Signally and eminently fulfilled (x) by Gods miraculous pouring forth his spirit upon the Apostles on the Feast of Pentecost, And afterwards by his extraordinary and ordinary shedding forth of his Spirit upon others. 3. This Promise of the spirit was never intended to make every one a Prophet to himself himself, and to exclude all teaching by men; (1) Partly, because the Spirit was usually performed to people at the Hearing of the word preached by men. As to Peters hearers (y) at his Sermon; To Cornelius and his company (z) at Peters Sermon: To the Gentiles, (a) at the Preaching of Paul and Barnabas: To the Galatians, by the Ministry and preaching of Paul; (b) This only would I learn of you, Received ye the Spirit by the works of the Law, or by the hearing of Faith? that is, by the hearing of the Doctrine of Faith preached. (2) Partly, because divers having received the Spirit, did presently fall upon Preaching the word to others. As the Apostles at Pentecost, having received the Holy Ghost (c) began to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance, the wonderful works of God, and Peter so preached at that time as to convert (d) three thousand souls. So Saul converted and having received the Holy-Ghost, (e) straight-way preached Christ in the Synagogues, that he is the Son of God. So that the receiving of the Promised Holy-Ghost, is so far from rendring Humane teaching useless and needless, that it contrariwise greatly confirms and establisheth the same.

(y) Act 2.38, 41,42. to the end.
(z) Acts 10. 44,&c & 11. 15,16,17.
(a) Acts 13. 46,47,48 49, 52.
(b) Gal.3.2.
(c) Acts 2. 4,11.
(d) Acts 2. 38,39,41.
(e) Acts 9. 17,18,19,20.

(3) The third Objected Scripture. And they shall teach no more (Gr. And they shall not teach) every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying; Know the LORD: for they shall all know me, from the least of them to the greatest of them, Jer. 31 34. Heb. 8.11. Therefore its most plain that under the New Covenant, all shall so know the LORD, that all mans teaching shall cease and be laid aside as needless. After Christs coming none ought to teach his neighbour: away therefore with the External Ministry, and let it give place to Gods internal Inspiration. As (f) Calvin recites the Objection.

(f) Hæc eorum est Objectio; Post Christi adventum non debet quisq; proximum suum docere; facessat igitur Externum Ministerium, ut internæ Dei Inspirationi detur locus. Joan. Calv. in Com. ad Heb. 8. 11.

Answ. Much hath been already spoken in this Article of the New Covenant, whereby this Objection may be refelled. But yet for clearness sake note,

First, That the intent and purpose of the Holy Ghost is here specially to be observed for the removing of this Objection. His Scope and intent herein is, To shew in Particular, what a different Covenant this New Covenant should be from the Old, and how far the New should excell the Old. That this is his Scope is plain from the Series of the Context: (g) I will make a New Covenant — not according to the Covenant that I made with their Fathers, &c. Here in General he shews that the New Covenant should be different from, and excell the Old Covenant. Then he descends in Particular to shew wherein this difference and excellency of the New Covenant from, and above the Old shall consist: (h) But this shall be the Covenant, &c. As if he had said; In these three points especially the New Covenant shall differ from, and far excell the Old, viz. 1. In the Inscription of Gods Laws in the Spiritual Tables of their Mind and Heart. 2. In the Fœderates more excellent and more universal knowledge ledge of the LORD. 3. In the utter forgiving and forgetting of all their ſins for ever. Whereas, 1. The old Covenant was (i) written in Tables of ſtone: 2 The Fœderates knowledge of God under it was very ſparing, ſmall, dark and vailed: And, 3. In their Sacrifices there was ſtill a renewed (k) Remembrance of ſin every year, every day. Now we have the clear intent and purpoſe of the Holy-ghoſt in this Scripture. And this gives us a notable ground and light for diſcovering the vanity and impertinency of the Objection. For,

(i) Deut. 4. 13.

(k) Heb. 10. 1, 2, 3.

Secondly, Hence it is plain, That thoſe words [They ſhall not teach every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, &c.] are not to be underſtood Negatively; That under the New Covenant there ſhall be no more Humane Teaching, publike or private at all, but that all ſuch teaching ſhould abſolutely and utterly ceaſe for ever, and give way to immediate Inſpirations, Revelations, &c. But are to be underſtood onely Comparatively; That they ſhall not ſo teach every one his neighbour and brother under the New Covenant, as they did under the Old; there ſhall be ſuch a ſurpaſſing, excellent, perfect, clear and general knowledge among all ſorts of the Fœderates ſmall and great. And its uſual in Scripture in divers places to take the word [Not,] Comparatively rather then Negatively: As, (l) If ye were blind ye ſhould have no ſin: Gr. ye ſhould not have ſin. It cannot be taken Negatively, that they ſhould not abſolutely have any ſin at all: but Comparatively, that they ſhould not have ſo much ſin, they ſhould have no ſin in compariſon. For ignorance excuſeth ſometimes a tanto from the greatneſs of the Sin: and Knowledge adds always an aggravation to ſin. So Paul ſaid; (m) Chriſt ſent me not to Baptize, but to preach the Goſpel. [Not] cannot here be an Abſolute and ſimple Negative, as if Chriſt did not at all ſend him to Baptize; for this is contrary to (n) Chriſts Commiſſion, authorizing his Apoſtles and Miniſters both to Preach and Baptize; nor did Paul himſelf ſo underſtand it; for he did (o) Baptize divers; and did he do it unſent, or without a Call? But it muſt needs be here only a Comparative particle. Not, that is, Chriſt ſent me not ſo much to baptize, as to preach; he ſent me principally and eſpecially to preach, rather then to Baptize. To this effect, the Old Covenant-Miniſtration, though glorious, is ſaid to have no glory: Not none abſolutely, but none comparatively, in regard of the exceling glory of the New Covenant. (p) For even that which was made glorious, had no glory in this reſpect, by reaſon of the glory that excelleth. So here; They ſhall not teach, &c. that is, They ſhall not ſo teach, ſo ſtenderly, ſo weakly, ſo ſparingly, ſo darkly, ſo literally, ſo imperfectly, &c. under the New Covenant, as they did under the Old. Our godly and learned Interpreters do very generally underſtand this phraſe, not in the Negative, but in this Comparative ſenſe: But they ſomewhat diverſly explain themſelves herein. 1. Some thus; That whereas in the former Covenant Moſes and the Prophets taught only Literally; in this

New Covenant, they ſhall all be taught of God, ſhall come to Chriſt, and having the Spirits anointing, they ſhall know all things. So (q) Junius. But yet that Moſes and the Prophets taught only Literally, muſt be warily underſtood: They taught more Literally, then Spiritually, 2 Cor. 3. 6. to the end. There was little Spirit then given, in compariſon of what is given now: then, drops; now, Rivers of the Spirit, Joh. 7. 37, 38, 39. 2. Some thus; That God doth not here quite deny mens teaching one of another: but theſe are the words, They ſhall not teach, ſaying: Know the LORD. As if he had ſaid, ſuch ignorance ſhal not poſſeſs mens minds as heretofore, that they knew not who God was: They ſhall not be ſo groſly ignorant of Principles and Fundamentals, as Alphebetarians in Religion, &c. So (r) Calvin; and (ſ) Diodat much to that effect, although in another place he thinks (t) The Divine teaching is here preferred before all Humane teaching, which fals in with that of Junius. 3. Some thus; That the New Covenant-Teaching, ſhall not be reſtrained to a few of one Nation, but to all ſorts of all Nations; ſhall not be only in Fundamentals, but alſo in more perfect and abſtruſe myſteries of religion; ſhall not be with a ſervile Coaction, but with a voluntary inclination to obedience, &c. So (u) Pareus. But ſure we may well put them all together. For this is an high Hyperbolical expreſſion whereby God intends to Magnifie the New Teſtament-knowledge above the Old, that it ſhall be far different, and much more extenſive and excellent, (as I have already ſhewed,) More Divine, more Spiritual, more Clear, more Evidential, more Compleat, more Efficacious, and more Glorious. And yet all this by the Inſtrumentality of the more excellent New Covenant Miniſtry, 2 Cor. 3. 4, 5. to the end, and 4. 6, 7. Therefore this Promiſe doth not at all ſeclude the New Covenant publike Miniſtry, nor Chriſtians mutual, private Inſtruction one of another. The Note in the (x) Large London Annotations is excellent: therefore ſee it in the Margin.

Yea, it is expreſly ſaid, in the Prophecies of the very ſame times here intended, that people ſhould call one upon another to repair together unto Gods houſe, there to be taught: by whom, but by his Miniſters? Iſa. 2. 3. Mic. 4. 2. But the Queſtion is then, How theſe words are to be underſtood? For Anſwer whereunto, Some render the words, They ſhall not only teach one another; as the like defect of the Reſtrictive term is oft found omitted, Gen. 32. 28. 1 Sam. 8. 7. and ſo the meaning ſhould be, That they ſhall not be taught by their Teachers alone, but God ſhould co-operate together with their teaching, and inſtruct them inwardly by his Spirit, Iſa. 54. 13. & 59. 21. Joh. 6. 45. 1 Joh. 2. 20, 27. Others conceive it to be underſtood, That none ſhould ordinarily be ſo ſilly and ignorant, as not to have ſome competent Meaſure of Knowledge of the main grounds at leaſt, and the firſt Principles of ſaving Truth, though having need further to be built up in the ſame, Heb. 6. 1, 2. Others, That they ſhould not need to be urged and preſſed upon the Fear and Service of God: they ſhould be prone and forward to it of themſelves; By the Knowledge of God, after the Chaldee Paraphraſt, underſtanding ſuch a Knowledge of him as worketh in the heart a reverent dread and regard of him, and care to ſerve and obey him, chap. 22. 16. 1 Joh. 2. 4. Others, That men ſhall not need to take ſo much pains and travel about teaching of the Elect, as they had been conſtrained to take with people in former times, and all to no purpoſe, Iſa. 28. 9.—13. The like manner of ſpeech they ſuppoſe to be found Joh. 16. 26. I conceive in this form of Speech to be intimated, 1. The great Meaſure of clear light that ſhould in thoſe times be revealed, 2 Cor. 4. 3, 6. 2. The great meaſure of knowledge that ſhould by reaſon thereof abound, Iſa. 11. 9. Hab. 2. 14. 3. The clearneſs of underſtanding, that many ſhould ſo be poſſeſſed with, that they might ſeem rather to have been taught by ſome immediate irradiation, then by any means of inſtruction, as Gal. 3. 12. 4. The Generality or numeroſity at leaſt of knowing perſons, far above that that had been in former times, and that even amongſt the meaner ſort. See Acts 18. 25, 26. Large Lond. Annotations on Jerem. 31. 34.

(4) The fourth Objected Scripture. But the Anointing which ye have received of him, abideth in you, and ye need not that any man teach you, 1 Joh. 2. 27. Therefore after people receive this anointing from Chriſt, they need no more any Mans Teaching, &c.

Anſw. For removal of this Objection, as quite beſides the Apoſtles intent; Conſider, Firſt, That the Scope and Intent of this Context from ver. 17. till ver. 29. is to exhort them to beware of the dangerous Antichriſts and Heretical Seducers, that ſhould come, yea were in part come already, as Cerinthians, Hebionites, &c. againſt whom he arms them, encouraging them to perſevere in the Truth upon nine conſiderations, as (y) I have elſewhere ſhewed. The eighth is this, That though he had written theſe things to them, concerning them that ſeduce them; yet he had propounded therein no new or ſtrange Doctrine to them, but ſuch as for Subſtance they knew already, by the Ho- ly Spirit, that Anointing teaching them all things, viz. All things neceſſary to Salvation, whoſe abiding in them ſhould enable them to abide in the Truth, ver. 26, 27. This is the direct purpoſe of the words.

Secondly, That therefore this phraſe [Ye need not that any man teach you] doth not at all import, that they were now paſt all need of Mans Teaching, being ſo taught by that Anointing: for John himſelf was now teaching of them, in writing this very Epiſtle to them, and that very many waies, and particularly in this Context (z) he was teaching them to Perſevere in the Truth againſt all Seducements; and will any one ſay, That what here John taught them was more then needed? But this phraſe doth imply; 1. That they were moſt throughly and ſolidly taught by the beſt Teacher, the Anointing, viz. The Holy Ghoſt, received by them, and remaining in them, ver. 20, 27. They that are taught by this Divine Teacher, comparatively need not that man ſhould teach them. The Spirit teacheth moſt Convincingly, Clearly, Fully, Powerfully, Perſwaſively, Efficaciouſly, &c. beyond all mans Teaching. Not that mans Teaching is hereby ſimply and abſolutely excluded: but that the Spirits teaching is magnified and preferred above it. So that Mans teaching (though neceſſary and uſeful in its place, yet is as no teaching, in compariſon of the Spirits teaching, that excelleth. 2. That they needed not that Man ſhould teach them, (1) Either any Fundamental Principles of Faith or of the Doctrine of the Anointing, having ſo well grounded them, and taught them all things neceſſary to Salvation; (2) Or any New Doctrine of a more exquiſite and perfect ſtamp, as yet ſtrange and (a) unknown to them, for they knew all things, and needed no new Goſpel, no new light or Doctrine for Kind and Subſtance, though the beſt had need of mans Teaching in order to growth and further degrees of Knowledge, 1 Cor. 13. 9, 10, 12. 2 Pet. 3. 18. 3. That, Here John himſelf (b) propounds no other Doctrine to them, then what the Holy Anointing within them would approve and give atteſtation to, having written the Effect and Subſtance thereof in their hearts already by his own finger. Thus he excellently confirms and eſtabliſhes them againſt Seducers, in the Doctrine and Truth which they had already received, ſhewing that what now he inculcates unto them, they for Subſtance knew already, and had long ſince not only heard it from their Teachers, but learned it alſo effectually by the Holy-ghoſt within them.

Thirdly. That what here John ſpeaketh of their Anointing, of their Knowing all things, and that they needed not that any man ſhould teach them, being chiefly matters of Fact, is ſpecially and peculiarly to be underſtood of them to whom he wrote this Epiſtle. They were ſo throughly and ſoundly inſtructed by the Spirit, that they knew in a ſort all things requiſite to Salvation and ſufficient to keep them from Seducements, that they comparatively ratively and in some respects had not need that any man should teach them. But this cannot be the Case of all, not of most in the visible Church under the New Covenant: How few are there of whom Ministers can affirm these things? How many children, babes and infants are there in knowledge, but how few adult, ripe, and grown men in understanding? Therefore this cannot be drawn into a President or General Rule for all under the New Covenant, as not needing humane teaching.

Thus it is plain, That God by this Promise of Excellent knowledge under the New Covenant never intended to deprive his Church and people of so sweet and rich a Blessing, as Publike and private Teaching, or the Publike Ministry.

V. Question. Why hath God promised this Blessing in his New Covenant, That all shall know him, from the least of them to the greatest of them?

Answ. These Reasons especially may be given, why God hath Covenanted to confer such Eminent Knowledge upon all sorts and degrees of his New Covenant-people: viz.

1. Because, None in all the world, besides God alone in Christ by his Spirit, can furnish the Soul with right saving Knowledge of himself, and his affairs. For consider 1. There may be a (c) Natural knowledge of God and Religion, such as Pagans may have by the dim light of Nature remaining in them, and by the Book of the Creature. This may be sufficient to leave them without excuse in their damnation: though not sufficient for their Salvation. For Nature cannot elevate the Soul above Nature. 2. There may be A Literal or Notional, and an acquired knowledge of God and Religion by Education, Reading, Hearing, publike or private Instruction, Meditation, &c. such as (d) Hypocrites may have by common illumination; or as Reprobates may have from the meer Capacity of elevated Reason. But this Literal, Notional and Acquired knowledge will not effectually save the Soul: they that are most exquisite herein, may at last utterly fall away and perish. 3. There is beyond all these a Spiritual, Supernatural, Infused Knowledge of God and Religion, which God alone in Christ by his Spirit teacheth to his Elect, viz. (e) God (e) the father of Lights, (viz. of all Lights Natural, Spiritual, and Cœlestial,) he is the fountain of this Light of saving knowledge, he is the First Teacher, it originally comes all from him. (f) All thy children shall be taught of the LORD. Which Christ thus alledgeth and interpreteth, (g) And they shall be all taught of God. Every man therefore that hath heard and hath learned of the Father, cometh unto me. (h) In and by Jesus Christ the Son, our Mediator, God the Father reveals himself and ways savingly to his people. (h) No man knoweth the Son but the Father; neither knoweth any man the Father, save the Son, and he to whomsoever the Son will reveal him. Again, it is said of Christ;

(i) That was the true light, which ligheth every man that cometh into the world. How? Either Naturally with the light of natural reason and humane understanding, so Christ the Word, as Creator, enlightneth every man created with this principle of Natural light; See Joh. 1.1. to 10. Or Supernaturally with saving knowledge, So Jesus Christ as our Mediatour and great Prophet, (k) enlightens every man that comes into the world that is enlightned; Every man in the world that is savingly enlightned, is enlightned by him. Christ is the expreſs character and moſt perfect image of his Father, Heb. 1.3. So that he who ſees and knows the Son, knows the Father alſo, John 14.9. Hence it is ſaid; that the light of the Knowledge of the Glory of God is given in the face of Jeſus Chriſt, 2 Cor. 4.6. As a man reads the Fathers countenance in the face of his Son that is moſt like him: So God repreſents himſelf moſt lively, ſweetly and ſavingly in Jeſus Christ to his elect. In Christ he reveals himſelf as their Redeemer, their Saviour, their Father, their Husband, their God in Covenant, merciful, gracious, long-ſuffering, abundant in Loving-kindneſs and Truth, pardoning iniquity, tranſgreſſion and ſin, &c. All knowledge of God out of Chriſt, is dead, vaniſhing, fruitleſs, ineffectual; but the knowledge of God in Chriſt is quickening, effectual, laſting and ſaving. (3) God gives the ſaving knowledge of himſelf in Chriſt, by his Spirit. His Spirit is that Unction, that (l) Anointing which immediately teacheth them all things neceſſary to Salvation. (m) God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit: For the Spirit ſearcheth all things, even the deep things of God,—— The things of God knoweth no man but the Spirit of God. Now we have received not the Spirit of the world, but the Spirit which is of God, that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God. The Spirit makes uſe of the (n) Miniſtery of men, co-operates with the preaching of the Goſpel, to work this knowledge of God into the hearts of his Elect at their Converſion, and to increaſe it afterwards there: but all the efficacy and enlightning vertue is onely from the Spirit, Men are but only Inſtruments. Thus it is God in Chriſt by his Spirit, and he alone that can furniſh and fill his people with ſaving knowledge of himſelf; he only can rubb off the ſcales of blindneſs, he only can ſavingly open the underſtanding, he only can anoint us with ſuch eye-ſalve, that we can ſupernaturally ſee: and therefore he Promiſeth and Covenanteth to do this for his people, which himſelf alone can do.

(k) It is another kind of teaching, when the Lord teacheth us knowledge, then that is that we can have from the hands of men; Chriſt is another kind of Prophet, you come not to hear him ſpeak, to hear him teaching, as a man hears other Lectures, where his underſtanding is informed; But he is ſuch a Prophet as enlightens every man within, that comes into the world; that is, Every man that is enlightned, is enlightned by him. *D. 2. Becauſe, It is moſt congruous and agreeable to the Nature of the New Covenant to bring in a more tranſcendent and excellent Knowledge of God and his wayes, then was brought in by the Old Covenant. For, 1. This New Covenant is the laſt and beſt Covenant, the moſt perfect of all Covenant-adminiſtrations. 2. The Condition of the Church under the New Covenant is (o) more ripe and perfect then ever it was before. The Church under the Old Covenant, was as a child in minority, under age: but under the New Covenant,

(o) Gal 4. 1,2,3, &c.

Covenant, is as a man in Maturity, of full age. 3. The (p) New Covenant-knowledge and fruition of God, is gradually the very next unto the immediate glorious vision and fruition of God in heaven face to face. Consequently this most excellent and compleat knowledge of God is promised in this New Covenant, as being most congruous to the excellent Nature of the New Covenant.

(p) 2 Cor. 3. 18. 1 Cor 13. 12. 1 Iohn 3. 2.

3. Because, gross ignorance of God and his wayes, is very Sinful, Mischievous, and Dangerous: but especially under the New Covenant. I. Gross ignorance of God and his wayes, is; 1. Very Sinful. (1) Partly, because the Original root of it was Adams great Sin, his first Apostacy from God. Hereby he deprived himself and all his posterity of the image of God: which did partly consist (q) in knowledge. Ignorance then is a rotten branch of a rotten root. (2) Partly, because ignorance, in the Nature of it, is the (r) Souls Darkness and blindness in Spirituals. A miserable and deformed sinfulness. Knowledge in the Soul is as the (s) eye in the body, or Sun in the Sky: Ignorance is contrariwise as a face without eyes, or the sky without a Sun: Oh how mishapen dark and deformed! (3) Partly, Because ignorance hath a (t) stubbornes and enmity in it against the Light. — Men loved darkness rather then light, &c. Iohn 3. 29, 20. (4) Partly, Because Ignorance is the cause, occasion and inlet to many other Sins. It hath a very train of Sin at its heels, Isa. 1. 3, 4. Hos. 4. 2, 3. Through ignorance men crucified Christ, 1 Cor. 2. 7, 8, 9. Through ignorance Paul was a Persecutor, blasphemer and injurious, 1 Tim. 1. 13, 14. Through ignorance men idolatrously worship they know not what, Acts 17. 23. Oh into what extremities of wickedness will not a blind ignorant creature precipitate himself! 2. Very Mischievous and Dangerous. The mischief and danger of ignorance is great and manifold. As (1) Ignorance makes people a Prey to all manner of Seducers, 2 Tim. 3. 6, 7. (2) Ignorance makes men wander in by-paths of Errour and ungodliness they know not whither, Iohn 12. 35. (3) Ignorance hides the Gospel from men, that the light thereof shines not in upon them, to their Conversion, 2 Cor. 4. 3, 4. Acts 26. 18. Iohn 3. 19, 20. (4) Ignorance alienates men from the life of God: that neither God nor Godliness lives in them, or by them, Eph 4. 18. (5) Ignorance involves men in senseless Security, Hos. 7. 9. (6) Ignorance (u) destroyes a people, my people are destroyed for lack of knowledge. It destroyes them both corporally and spiritually, Esai. 5. 13. 2 Tim. 2. 25, 26. (7) Ignorance is the High-way to Hell, and will at last bring upon men the vengeance of God in their everlasting destruction, 2 Thes. 1. 8, 9. II. This ignorance of God and his wayes is most Sinful under the New Covenant. Because against the greatest Light and Compleatest means of Knowledge and fullest Effusions of Gods illuminating Spirit: which the New Covenant brings in above all former Covenants. Ignorance under such light, such means, such effusions of the Spirit is deeply aggravated, and more exceedingly exceedingly sinfull, John 15. 22. & 3. 19, 20. Therefore Seeing gross ignorance of God is so Sinfull and dangerous, especially in this Noontide of light now under the New Covenant, God hath now Covenanted to furnish his people with more excellent knowledge of himself then ever his people had formerly, that the sin and danger of such ignorance may not undo his New Covenant-people.

4. Because, Such New Covenant-knowledge of God as is here intended, is of General necessity, influence and utility to Gods New Covenant-people about all the affairs of the Christian Religion. The light of this supernatural knowledge is as necessary and usefull in the Church, as the Light of the Natural Luminaries, Sun, Moon and Stars, is in the world. Now this Knowledge of God is usefull and necessary these wayes especially; viz. 1. As a Discoverer (x) of God, Christ, and of all the Mysteries of Christian Religion, to the Soul. The right knowledge of God manifests all those; but gross ignorance leaves us wholly in the dark about them all. 2. As a Detector of all our Sins and Corruptions. The right knowledge of God and his infinite purity, in the exactness of his Word and Law most notably laies open unto us the sinfull impurity and pravity of our Hearts and wayes, repugnant to God and his will. Thus in (y) Paul; Thus in (z) Job of old. 3. As an Inlet and open door to all sanctifying Graces. As natural light was the first particular distinct Creature when God made the World, Gen. 1. 3. So supernaturall light is the first distinct Grace when God new-creates the Soul, Col. 1. 10. 2 Pet. 1. 5, 6, 7. and is an introduction to the rest. As, To Faith, Isa. 53. 11. Heb. 11. 2 To Affiance, Trust and Confidence, Psal. 9. 10. To repentance, Iob 42. 5, 6. Ier. 31. 19. To Temperance, Patience, Godliness, brotherly-kindness, and love, 2 Pet 1. 5, 6, 7. To obedience, John 13. 17, &c. Knowledge and illumination still leads the way to all distinct Graces in order of Nature. 4. As A guide to all our Faculties and Affections. (a) Light in the bodily eye guides all the bodily parts and members; So light in the understanding guides all the Faculties of the Soul: there being a naturral subordination of the Affections to the Will, of the Will to the Understanding, & of the Understanding to the Light therein Only violence of corruption oft-times inverts this orderly subordination. 5. As a Pilot to all our Christian Duties and Actions. Knowledge sits at stern in every well-managed Action and service. Whatsoever we do, we should do it Knowingly, Understandingly; we should Preach understandingly, 1 Cor. 14. 19. 1 Tim. 1. 7. & 3. 2. Tit. 1. 9. we should pray understandingly, 1 Cor. 14. 15. we should give thanks understandingly, 1 Cor. 14. 15. we should read and hear understandingly, Acts 8. 30. John 13. 17. we must manage all our actions and service of God understandingly, 1 Chron. 28. 9. Otherwise, all we do are but blind services and Sacrifices of fools, Eccl 5. 1. 6. As an (b) evidence of all that God hath given us, and done for us in Christ: True knowledge lets us see what we have have from God, and so doubles our enjoyment. 7. Finally, As an Espial of our better Condition and state reserved for us in the world to come. (c) Knowing in your selves, that you have in heaven a better and more enduring Substance. These, and many such like, are the advantages and benefits of true Knowledge in the Soul. The Lord therefore knowing how necessary and usefull true Knowledge is unto his people, (in whose prosperity he exceedingly delighteth) hath Promised this Knowledge in abundance to his People in this New Covenant.

(c) Heb. 10. 34.

5. Finally, Because such Universal and eminent Knowledge of God under the New Covenant, exceedingly advanceth the glory of Christ and of his New Covenant. Before Christ came, The Knowledge of God and divine things was restrained to a few, an handfull of Jews and Proselites: and it was imparted to those few under (d) a veil very darkly and obscurely: Then Christ and his Covenant comparatively had but little glory. But since Christs coming, this Knowledge being extended generally to all sorts in all Nations, and imparted to them eminently for measure and degree with a noontide-light and sun-shine of irradiation, The Knowledge of the Lord covering the Earth as the waters cover the Sea, and filling the Church as the light of the Sun fills the whole world: Hereby the Glory of Jesus Christ is most highly advanced, (e) bringing all this glorious light with him: and the glory of his New Covenant is notably exalted above the imperfect, dark, veyled administrations of Gods fore-going Covenants. Now God had a singular intent to glorifie his Christ and his New Covenant in these latter dayes.

VI. Question. How may we discover, that we so know the Lord, as God here intends in this his New Covenant-Promise?

Answ. So much hath been spoken to this effect already, that I need not add much more then briefly to point at the Particulars, which more specially tend to the Resolving of this Question.

In the General, It is plain; 1. That such as know God aright, may know that they know him. (f) — Hereby we do know that we know him, if we keep his Commandments, &c. The discerning of the truth of our knowledge of God is not a thing impossible or unfeazable. 2. That very many do think they know God aright, and the things of God aright: When as yet (g) they know nothing as they ought to know. We all have knowledge, Knowledge is an easie attainment: but how few have such knowledge as they ought to have, how hard is it to know God or Religion as we ought to know? A man my know much of God Theorically or Notionally, That he is; That he is one; That he subsists in three distinct persons; That he is Al-sufficient, Infinite, Eternal, &c. That he hath eternally ordained all things, In beginning of time created all things, &c. And yet notwithstanding all this, not knowing him so as to believe in him, admire him, adore him, love him, fear him, delight in him with all his heart, with all his soul, with all his mind, with all his might, obey him sincerely, &c. such a man knows nothing of God as he ought to know. So a man may know much of Christ of his Natures, Person, Offices, Effects and Fruits of his offices, &c. and yet not knowing him so as to Deny a mans self for him, to forsake all for him, to hate Father, Mother and deerest Relations for him, to count all things loss and dung for the excellency of the knowledge and righteousness of Christ, To believe and rest upon him alone for Salvation, to be acted and ruled by him, his Spirit and Word, &c. such a man knows nothing of Christ as he ought to know. So a man may know much of Gods will, and of the things of God and of Christ of his Commandments, of his Prohibitions, of his Covenant and Promises, of his Ordinances, of the fundamentals and other deeper mysteries of Religion, &c. he may be able to describe them, to teach them to others, to defend them by dispute against all gain-sayers, &c. Yet if after all this Knowledge, he goes on still in his wickedness, he casts Gods commands behind his back, walks contrary to the Principles of Religion, despiseth the Covenant and Promises of God, Prophanes and pollutes all his ordinances, contradicts the will of God by fulfilling his own will and wayes, &c. this man knows nothing of Religion and of the things of God as he ought to know. The like is to be said in other Cases. And therefore there's great need of searching whether we know God aright, seeing we may have much knowledge of him, and yet know nothing of him as we ought to know.

(f) 1 John 2, 3, 4.

In Particular we may discern that our knowledge of God is such as he intends in this New Covenant, especially these four wayes, viz.

1. By the Nature of our Knowledge. If it answer the Nature of the New Covenant-knowledge, which is more excellent then the Old Covenant-knowledge of God, in 1. Divineness, 2. Spiritualness, 3. Clearness, 4. Evidentialness, 5. Compleatness, 6. Efficaciousness, and 7. Gloriousness. All which I have formerly opened in the I. Question.

2. By Gods way and method of bringing and working this Knowledge in us. If God, 1. In Jesus Christ; 2. By his Spirit and Publike ministry have wrought it in us; 3. Increasing it more and more in us by degrees, as hath been explained in the II. Question.

3. By the Properties of true saving knowledge. It hath these more speciall Properties.

(1) It is Affective. It works not only upon the Head, but also upon the Heart: not only upon the Understanding, but also upon the Affections, 1 John 4. 7, 8. Phil. 1. 9. As (h) I have elsewhere shewed. It makes a man so know God, as to love him, fear him, obey him, &c.

(2) It is experimental. It affords a man a spiritual sense, taste and (i) experimental relish of God, Christ, and their sweetness, goodness, Pleasantness, &c. Phil. 1. 9. Heb. 5. 14. Psal. 34. 8. with 1 Pet. 2. 2, 3. This is far beyond all empty Notions, though never so subtile and acute. (3) It

(h) In my Communicant instructed, p. 105. Lond. 1551.

(i) See there p. 99, 100.

(3) It is effective. It is not an idle, but (k) a working Knowledge: Its not ineffectual and weak, but very efficacious: its not only Contemplative, but Active also. It specially produceth these effects, viz. 1. Humbles the Soul for sin, Iob 42. 5, 6 2. Purifieth the heart from Sin, Jam. 3. 17. 1 Ioh. 3. 6. 3. Makes obedient to God and his Commands. Is a Practical knowledge, 1 Joh. 2. 3, 4. & 4. 6. Joh. 10. 4. 4. Disposeth a man to serve the LORD sincerely and willingly, 1 Chron. 28. 9.

(4) It is very pregnant and fruitfull in all goodness, 2 Pet. 1. 5, 6, 7, 8. Jam. 3. 17. A barren, empty, dry, fruitless, useless knowledge, that ends only in knowing, and doth good neither to a mans self nor others. &c. is a bad knowledge.

4. By the Associates or (l) Companions, which the Scripture joyns with true Knowledge, and which actually do accompany true knowledge in the Sanctified Heart. The companions of a mans delight, are notable indications of his Principles, Constitution and Disposition. The Companions of true Knowledge of God, are; (m) Faith, Vertue, Temperance, Patience, Godliness, Brotherly-kindness, Charity. Yea, (n) Knowledge, Righteousness; and true Holiness are copartners in the Image of God renewed in us. Where these sacred Concomitants are indeed: there true saving Knowledge is in some good measure.

VII. Inferences. Shall Gods Fœderates have generally a More excellent Knowledge of God, &c. Under the New Covenant, then they had under the Old Covenant? Shall not every man teach his neighbour and brother, saying; know the LORD? for that All shall know him from the least to the greatest of them: Then,

1. Hence, The Old and New Covenant essentially and substantially Agree, though Accidentally and Circumstantially they differ, about the Knowledge of the LORD. I. Essentially they Agree as to the Essence and Substance of this Knowledge. Both of them teach their Fœderates to know the LORD God, Yea and to know God in Christ in some sort. II. Accidentally they Disagree, as to the Accidents and Circumstances of this knowledge of the Lord. For, 1. That knowledge of God under the Old Covenant was restrained to one sort of People the Jews: But this under the New Covenant is extended to all sorts of people of all Nations. 2. That was more Humane: This more Divine. 3. That more Literal and Carnal: This more Spiritual and Celestial. 4. That more dark and veyled: This more Clear and Revealed. 5. That consequently much less: This much more evidential and ensuring. 6. That more Imperfect and childlike: This more perfect, compleat and Manlike. 7. That more weak and ineffectual: This more powerfull and efficacious. 8. That having some sort of glory: but This being far more excellently glorious. As in all these Particulars hath been formerly manifested. So then, though Old and New Covenant substantially do Agree: yet accidentally they much disagree; The New Covenant far transcending and excelling.

2. Hence, The chief Perfection of knowledge, is to know God aright. For, the most perfect Light and Knowledge, is that which is in the Church of God, surpassing all Pagan-knowledge: The most Perfect knowledge in the Church, is that knowledge which the Church hath in her (o) most ripe grown and perfect state, now under the New Covenant: And the Perfection of this New Covenant knowledge is wholly placed in this, That (p) all his Covenant people know the LORD. For, 1. The LORD God is the Highest and perfectest object knowable: And therefore the right knowledge of the Lord is the Height of Knowledge. 2. The Lord cannot be rightly and savingly known (q) but in Jesus Christ, and in his face; (r) In whom the Divine (s) Perfections are most resplendent; (t) In whom the whole Mysterie of sinners salvation was (u) Contrived and Decreed before all time; (3) By whom the (x) Redemption and Reconcilement of Sinners to God was wrought and effected in fulness of time; (4) Through whom the Redemption, Reconcilement and Salvation of sinners is (y) actually Applied and Appropriated to the Elect in due time; And (5) With whom the everlasting Happiness and salvation of sinners shall be consummated in (z) Heavenly glory after all time. So that the right knowledge of God comprehendeth in it all saving knowledge whatsoever: Its the Center where it all meets; Its the Circumference wherein it is all contained. Know God aright, and know all things. 3. The right knowledge of God, Inchoate in this world, (a) is life eternal, in the root and foundation: The knowledge of God consummate in the world to come, shall be (b) eternal life and happiness in the Compleat Consummation thereof. So then, To know God aright is the chief Perfection of all knowledge. Wouldst thou have the chief perfection of all knowledge? Labour then to know God aright. All light is but darkness; All knowledge is but ignorance; which is besides, or without the true knowledge of God. And all dangerous damning darkness and ignorance vanisheth away, as a Mornings mist before the Sun, when the true glory of this Knowledge of God in Christ begins to shine into the Soul.

3. Hence, The right and saving knowledge of God is a very great and eminent Mercy. Why? Because this, and this alone of Particular graces, is (a) expressly promised in this New Covenant. And nothing is expressed in the New Covenant, but what is a very great and eminent Mercy. As the Sun and Moon are great Mercies to the world; The eye to the body; and Reason to the Mind: So the true knowledge of God is a very great and eminent Mercy to the Soul. All other Graces of sanctification are implicitely promised, in Gods promise of writing his Laws in mind and heart: But Besides that, The Knowledge of the Lord is explicitely promised. O theres a singular excellency in this true knowledge of the Lord: as (b) I have formerly manifested. Then let all that are ignorant of God, press after the right knowledge of him. And let all that know him aright, rejoyce in him, and magnifie him exceedingly who hath so opened their eyes.

(b) In V. Q. 4. Reaso. p. 1432. 1433.

4. Hence, All true saving Knowledge of God is only from God. Why? Because God promiseth it in his New Covenant. If we might have it by Nature or by Art, From our selves or From the creature, or From any other fountain then from God alone (c) The Father of Lights, God might have directed us to repair thither for Supply: but Promising this knowledge to his Fœderates, he declares himself the only Fountain of this Light, and tacitely directs all that want it to come unto him alone for it. He Promiseth, what himself alone can Perform. He shines unto all his Fœderates (d) by the instrumental light of his Gospel and New Covenant: He shines into all his Fœderates, even into their Minds and Hearts (e) by the effectual light of his Spirit. He shines away all their gross sinful darkness, and brings light out of darkness The (f) God of this world Satan can blind mens minds: but its only the Lord our God in Christ can (g) recover sight to the blind, and open their eyes. Therefore, thou that art blind or weak-sighted (h) anoint thine eyes with his ey-salve that thou maist see. Beg him to open thine eyes. Remember his Promises to this effect; (i) If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God that giveth to all men liberally and upbraideth not, and it shall be given him. And here in this New Covenant; (k) All shall know me from the least to the greatest.

5. Hence, As the greatest and highest ought not to despise: so the least and lowest need not despair of the true knowledge of God now under the New Covenant. Why? Because the Promise of this knowledge of the Lord (l) is directed, not only to the greatest but to the least also. Gods Promises are without respect of persons. The least shall know God as well as the greatest. The least had need to know God, because they know him not, or very little: The greatest had need to know him, because they know him not enough. The least shall know God by knowledge implanted into them: The greatest shall know God, by knowledge augmented in them. The least shall know God, that they may be Gods disciples: The greatest shall know God, because they are but Gods disciples. The least shall know God, because their Meaness cannot debase them too low for Gods illumination: The greatest shall know God, because their greatness cannot advance too high for Gods illumination. The least shall know God, that they may not despair of knowing him enough: The greatest shall know God, that they may not presume of knowing him too much. All shall know God: becauſe both great and ſmall have their knowledge from God. Come hither, O ye leaſt of Gods people, and be comfortable; come hither, O ye greateſt of Gods people, and be humble: The leaſt are not ſo ignorant, but God will make them know him; and the greateſt are not ſo intelligent, but God will make them know him more. All knowledge of God in this world is (m) but in part: and all knowledge in part had need to be increaſed.

(m) 1 Cor. 13. 9, 10, 12.

6. Hence, Gods Federates now under the New Covenant ſhould not content themſelves to know only Fundamentals and Firſt Principles touching God and his wayes. Under the Old Covenant they ſeemed to ſtick in Principles and firſt Elements, they taught one another, ſaying, know the LORD, they were but Alphabetarians, (n) As children in their A B C or Primer of Religion: But under the New Covenant they are come to age, They ſhould know the Lord more perfectly; They ſhould not ſtick in plain principles, but proceed to profound and abſtruſe myſteries; The New Covenant-light is far greater, and proportionably their knowledge of God and his wayes ſhould be greatned alſo; They (o) ſhould be no longer Children but Men in underſtanding, of Chriſts higheſt Form, taking out his deepeſt and hardeſt Leſſons. Away with that lazy, ſluggiſh ſtupidity in many profeſſed Chriſtians, who in the knowledge of God take ſo little pains, that they therein come ſhort of the very Jews. Shall Jews under veils and ſhadows of of the Old Govenant, know more of God then Chriſtians under the Sun-ſhine and open face of the New Covenant?

(n) Gal. 4. 1, 2, 3, &c.

(o) Eph. 4. 14. 1 Cor. 14. 20.

7. Hence, All ſuch wayes and Means of knowledge as God hath ordained under his New Covenant, ought to be made uſe of in ſubſerviency to, and for accompliſhment of this Promiſe of knowing the Lord in his New Covenant. Gods New Covenant-Precepts and Inſtitutions, muſt not thwart and croſs his New Covenant-Promiſes and Obligations: nor may his Promiſes be urged to evacuate his Precepts. Gods Promiſes ſet forth the End, which God will bring his Fœderates unto: Gods Precepts ſet forth the Means whereby God is pleaſed to bring them unto that End. The Means muſt be ſubordinate and ſubſervient to the End and conſequently our obſervation of his Precepts unto our expectation upon his Promiſes. He that deſpiſeth Gods preſcribed Means, deſpiſeth alſo Gods Promiſed End: The Contempt of his Precepts doth inevitably infer the contempt of his Promiſes. Private Chriſtian Teaching, and Publike (p) Miniſterial Inſtruction till the worlds end. are (as hath been (q) formerly ſhewed) is Gods ordinary New Covenant way, preſcribed of God for breeding and increaſing the right knowledge of God and his wayes among his people; and by which his Spirit efficaciouſly works in them that effect: They therefore that deſpiſe deſpiſe and would deſtroy Chriſts New Covenant-Miniſtry, Preaching and other Ordinances, or Private Chriſtian and Domeſtical Inſtruction, do therein deſpiſe the true Knowledge of God, The New Covenant Promiſing it, And the Authority of Jeſus Chriſt in his New Covenant-Ordinances and Inſtitutions as his Ordinary fixed Means for the attainment of it.

8. Hence, So long as Men remain groſly ignorant of God and the things of God under the New Covenant, ſo long they are without the Excellent Bleſſing, Influence and ſaving efficacy of the New Covenant. For the true ſaving knowledge of God and his wayes is the very firſt diſtinct particular bleſſing promiſed in the New Covenant, and performed accordingly: The writing of Gods Laws in their hearts, and the grand Covenant Intereſt mutually betwixt God and them, formerly expreſſed in the New Covenant, being more General, Large and Complexive Mercies. If therefore thou doſt not as yet truly and ſavingly know the Lord in ſome degree: thou art partaker of the New Covenants ſaving Mercy, Vertue and Efficacy in no degree. As yet thou (r) art darkneſs, and not light in the Lord; As yet thou art (ſ) not taught of God by his Spirit and Miniſtry, ſo as to come to Chriſt; As yet the Goſpel is (t) hid to thee, as to one that is loſt, the God of this world having blinded thy mind; As yet thou art (u) a child of the night, and not of the day, The (x) Day hath not ſavingly dawned upon thee, nor is the day-ſtar riſen in thine heart; And wanting this firſt New Covenant-Mercy, conſequently thou wanteſt all the reſt; (y) Gods Laws are not in thy Mind and Heart, Thine unrighteouſneſſes, ſins and tranſgreſſions remain ſtill unpardoned, The Lord is not thy God, nor art thou one of his New Covenant-people. Oh how (z) ſinful and dangerous is this thy dark, blind and ignorant Condition! How ſhouldſt thou lament the (a) Cauſes thereof! How canſt thou eat, drink, or ſleep quietly and contentedly in this (b) Godleſs, Chriſtleſs, Covenantleſs and Hopeleſs Condition for a week together?

9. Hence, As we deſire to approve our ſelves to be Gods New Covenant-people; ſo we ſhould ſtrive after the having and Evidencing to our ſelves that we have this New Covenant-knowledge of the Lord. Conſider ſeriouſly; 1. They that do not truly and ſavingly know the Lord according to his New Covenant, are none of Gods New Covenant-people, which are all a Knowing People in ſome good meaſure, and yet there are very many now under the New Covenant (c) extreamly ignorant of God, as I have ſhewed from many grounds. 2. They that are moſt groſly ignorant of God and his ways now under the New Covenant, may poſſibly (if the fault be not their own) attain to a ſufficient meaſure of the ſaving knowledge of the Lord. For the Lord in his his New Covenant hath faithfully promiſed; (d) All ſhall know me from the leaſt even to the greateſt. 3. The Only Ordinary way whereby dark, ignorant Souls may come to the knowledge of God, ſavingly, is; In and through Jeſus Chriſt alone, Fundamentally: By his Spirit, Efficaciouſly: By his New Covenant-Miniſtry, and other more private Inſtruction; Inſtrumentally: And all this in a continual Progreſs, gradually. As I have (e) formerly evidenced. Hither therefore all muſt repair, and here all muſt attend, that want and deſire true ſaving knowledge of God and his wayes. 4. When any perſon hath gained ſaving knowledge of God in Chriſt, He may poſſibly diſcover and evidence to himſelf that he hath ſuch a Knowledge. He may know that he knows God: and that in ſuch wayes, as (f) I have already indigitated. If the Seeing body may ſee that it ſees: why ſhould not the Knowing Soul know that it knows? Now then, would we be aſſured of our good New Covenant ſtate? Let us diligently in Gods way preſs after this New Covenant-Knowledge. And that we may have the Comfort of ſuch knowledge once attained, ſtrive we upon undeceiving grounds to evidence to our own hearts that we have ſuch knowledge of the Lord and of his ways.

10. Hence, Finally, The better we know the Lord, and the things of God now under the New Covenant, the more the Glory of Chriſt and of his New Covenant are Exalted and Magnified in us. God intended to diſplay the glory of Chriſt now under his New Covenant more then ever before: and to that End he hath clothed his New Covenant (g) with far greater excellency and glory, then all foregoing Covenants: Their glory was as no glory in Compariſon of the New Covenants glory that excelleth. Conſequently, when the true light and knowledge of God Efficaciouſly ſhines in our hearts, The glory of Chriſt and of his New Covenant reſteth upon us and is magnified in us, Exceedingly, while we (h) are changed into the ſame image from glory to glory by the Spirit of the Lord.

Article 3. Of Gods Mercy or Propitiouſneſs to them in his utter Remiſſion and Oblivion, Forgiving and Forgetting All their Sins for ever.

The third Particular, & diſtinct New Covenant-Bleſſing here promiſed, wherein this N. Covenant differs from, yea far excels the Old Covenant, is; Gods Mercy or Propitiouſneſs to his Federates in in his utter Remission and Oblivion, in his Forgiving and Forgetting All their Sins for Ever. (i) For, I will be merciful (Hebr I will Pardon; or, I will remit; or, I will be propitious; Gr. I will be propitious, or I will be propitiously-merciful) to their unrighteousnesses, and their Sinful errours, and their transgressions, (or, unlawfulnesses,) I will remember no more (Heb. and Gr. I will not remember again, or, any more.) These words (k) I have already in brief explained both Analytically and Grammatically. Let the Reader look back a little, for his satisfaction, to that Explication. Here the Holy Ghost points out a third Difference betwixt the New Covenant and the Old; and a third Excellency of the New Covenant above the Old. God here (l) Promiseth (as Calvin well observes) to be propitious to his people in another manner, and more perfectly, then of old. Of Old, under the Old Covenant (as (m) the Apostle most Excellently makes the parallel) they had many Sacrifices, as Buls, Goats, &c whose Bodies were offered, and whose blood was sprinkled, year by year continually; The Repetition of which Sacrifices again and again so often, did Evidence: Partly, The utter inability and insufficiency of those Sacrifices to purge the Conscience, take away sin, or to make the Commers thereunto perfect, Heb. 10. 1,2,4. & 9.9. Partly, That those Sacrifices of the Old Covenant were so far from Removing sins away, that in those Sacrifices there was rather a Remembrance again made of sins every year. The Renewed Sacrifices were a Renewed Accusation, Arraignment and Condemnation of the Sacrificers for their Sins still un-purged away. But now under the New Covenant instead of all those many weak and ineffectual Sacrifices, yearly repeated; we have only one Propitiatory Sacrifice Jesus Christ himself Blessed for ever, whose blood being shed and his body offered once for sins for Ever, hath for Ever perfected them that are Sanctified: that is, Hath for ever expiated and purged away their sins that there needs no more sacrifice for sin for ever, Heb. 10. 1, 2, 3. with ver. 14. 18. Hath for Ever perfected his people as pertaining to the Conscience, having purged their Conscience from dead works, that they should have no more Conscience of sins, Heb. 9 9,14. & 10. 1,2. And that thus Christs one Sacrifice hath taken away our sins for Ever, He proves by three Arguments; viz. 1. From the Prophetical Testimony of David; Heb. 10. 5. to 11. 2. From Christs sitting down at Gods right hand, presently after he had sacrificed himself. An evident demonstration of the perfect Satisfaction given by that one Sacrifice to Gods justice for sins for ever, ver. 11. to 15. 3. From the Testimony of the Holy Ghost in this New Covenant, assuring, That their sins and their iniquities God will remember no more, ver. 15. to 19. In the Old Covenant Sins were remembred again every year: But in this New Covenant their sins should be remembred no more, &c. Herein the New shall differ from, and far excell the Old. So that this is a Noted point of Difference betwixt the New Covenant and the Old, and wherein the New far excels the Old: viz. In this Bleſſed, Sweet, and Heart-Reviving Mercy, THE REMISSION OF SINS.

Now in this precious Article or Promiſe of the New Covenant, touching Remiſſion of Sins, (that we may proceed to a more Theological Conſideration thereof) there are Eſpecially theſe two Promiſſory Propoſitions couched, which comprize the whole Subſtance and Intent of this Promiſe in them: viz. 1. That, Under the New Covenant the LORD God, in and through Jeſus Chriſt, will freely, fully and utterly Remit all his true Fœderates Sins. 2. That, Therefore God will beſtow upon his Fœderates all the other Promiſed Benefits of the New Covenant, becauſe he will ſo freely, fully, and utterly Remit all their Sins, in and for the Satisfaction of Jeſus Chriſt. All that ſhall need to be ſpoken for the unfolding and clearing of this Cordial Article about Remiſſion of Sins, may be eaſily referred to theſe two Propoſitions: which I Evince and Explain as followeth.

Proposition I.

That, Under the New Covenant, The LORD God, in and through Jeſus Chriſt, will freely, fully and utterly Remit all his true Federates Sins whatſoever.

In this Propoſition (for clearing the deduction of it from the words of the Promiſe,) note;

1. The Efficient Cauſe or Author of this Mercy, The LORD God; I will be merciful, &c. I will remember no more, ſaith God.

2. The Meritorious Mean, in and through whom this Mercy is Promiſed, viz. In and through Jeſus Chriſt; I will be propitious, or I will be propitiouſly merciful. This hath reference to Chriſts Propitiation, whereby Gods juſtice is (n) appeaſed and pacified, touching their ſins. Chriſt is (ιλασμὸς) the (o) Propitiation for our ſins, &c. Chriſt is (ιλαστήριον) The (p) Propitiatory through Faith in his blood, &c.

3. The Act of Grace, wherein the ſpeciall Nature of this Promiſed Bleſſing is comprized, viz. Remitting of Sins. The Text expreſſeth this in two words, (q) I will be Merciful, I will remember no more. The Firſt word in the Hebrew סלח Eſlach properly ſignifies, I will remit, I will pardon, &c. And the later phraſe of remembring their ſins and iniquities no more, The Apoſtle himſelf interprets of (r) Remiſſion of Sins. So that in both phraſes, Remiſſion of Sins is the Act of Grace and Mercy here intended. This Act of Remitting Sin is in this Propoſition Amplified by three Properties or Excellencies thereof in theſe three Terms, Freely Fully, and Utterly. 1. Freely: becauſe it flows meerly from Gods will and good pleaſure in Chriſt. I will be merciful — I will remember no more. — 2. Fully; Becauſe ſuch full and comprehenſive terms are uſed; Unrighteouſneſſes, nesses, Sinful Errors, and Unlawfulnesses, All in the plural number, and all very extensive, that is, All sorts, all degrees, all aggravations of Sin, (except that (f) Sin against the Holy Ghost, which Scripture elsewhere declares unpardonable) shall be remitted. For what kind, degree, or aggravation of sin can be named that comes not within these three words? 3. Utterly; that is Absolutely, finally and for ever. Their sinful errors and unlawfulnes will I remember no more; That is, I will not remember them any more for Ever, so as to impute them to them, or charge them upon them to their Condemnation.

(f) Mat. 12. 31, 32. 1 Joh. 5. 16.

4. The Object on whom this Act of Grace, this free, full and utter Remission of Sin shall be conferred; viz. All Gods true Fœderates; (t) Their unrighteousnes, Their sinful errours, and Their unlawfulnesses. Here's [Their] thrice over: whose? Theirs of the House of Israel and Iudah, of his whole Church of Jews and Gentiles, that shall become Gods true Fœderates indeed, that shall be Israelites indeed, that shall be effectually called indeed according to Gods purpose.

(t) Heb. 8. 12.

5. The Season of this Promised Blessing, when it shall be otherwise and more excellently vouchsafed to Gods Fœderates, then of old: viz. Under the New Covenant. Sin was Pardoned formerly under the Old Covenant, and before it: but now under the New Covenant Sin shall be more excellently pardoned: as hereafter will appear.

Thus the Deduction is clear: The Proposition fully containing the true sense and substance of this Promise of the New Covenant.

Now, for the more Satisfactory Explication of this Great and Excellent Blessing, viz. REMISSION OF SINS, contained in this first Proposition, and Covenanted here in this sweet New Covenant Promise; I shall, as briefly and clearly as I can, resolve these four Particular Questions; viz. 1. What the Nature of Sin is, which is the Subject of Remission. 2. What the Nature of Remission of sins is, which is here Promised and Covenanted. 3. Whether those that have their sins Remitted, may know that they are Remitted, and How they may know this? 4. Wherein Gods Remission of Sins under the New Covenant, differs from, and excells the Remission of Sins under the Old Covenant? To some of these Particulars, the chief things to be known touching PARDON and REMISSION OF SINS, may be easily referred.

Question 1. What the Nature of Sin is, which is the Subject of Remission?

Resolution. In Remission of Sins, (Sin being the subject, Remission the Adjunct,) this Adjunct, Remission, cannot well be explained, without explication also of this subject thereof, Sin. Touching Sin, I shall especially open, 1. The Denominations of it here in this Promiſe. 2. The Deſcription of it. 3. The Particulars in it, which come under Pardon, and which do not.

I. The Denominations of Sin here in this Promiſe, are in the Greek ([u]) three; All of them very Comprehenſive, All of them in the Plural Number, All of them for Subſtance intending the ſame thing, but differing in the preciſe Notion, way or manner of Signifying the ſame thing. Anſwerable unto which, there are three other words in the Hebrew, viz. Two in this Promiſe in ([x]) Jeremiah, and one ([y]) elſewhere.

2. The ſecond Denomination is, Ἁμαρτίαι. Properly it ſignifies, Errours, wandrings, ſtrayings, miſſings-of-the-mark, ſtraying-ſins, ſinful-errours, &c. Heb. 8.12. It is derived from ἁμαρτάω, or (which is now in uſe for it) from ἁμαρτάνω. To err or wander-away, viz. either out of the way, or from the intended ſcope, mark, or white, as ([b]) H. Steph. ſhews by many inſtances. Thence by a Metaphor it ſignifies To ſin; becauſe To ſin is to err or wander out of Gods way, from the paths of his Word and Laws, &c. Anſwerable to this is the Hebrew חַטָּאת Chattath, Ier. 31.34. which properly ſignifies errour, viz. Either by miſſing the ſcope or mark aimed at; As its ſaid of thoſe 700. left-handed men, Every one could ſling ſtones at an hair-breadth, and not miſs. Heb. not err, Iudg. 20.16. Or, by wandering out of the way; which errour it more uſually denotes. Hence its Metaphorically tranſlated to ſignifie Sin, or Sinful-errour, or Sinful-ſtraying, &c. from the waies and Laws of God.

3. The third denomination is Ἀνομίαι, which properly ſignifies, Illegalities, Unlawfulneſſes, Heb. 8.12. which elſewhere is tranſlated, ([d]) The-tranſgreſſion-of-the Law. This word is derived from a privative, without, or againſt, and νόμος, Law: and ſo ἄνομος ſignifies not only one that is without Law, as 1 Cor. 9.21. but alſo one that is againſt Law, 2 Theſ. 2.8. 1 Tim. 4.9. 2 Pet. 2.8. Anſwerable to this word there is not a third Hebrew word in Ieremiah's Narrative rative of the New Covenant, Ier. 31. 34. but yet there is one (e) elsewhere, viz. פשע Peshaugh, properly defection, prevarication, transgression of the Law, Precept or Covenant through perfidiousness, &c. as (f) Mercer observeth. All these three Hebrew words are together in that one text, — Pardoning iniquity and transgression and sin: properly, — lifting up, crookedness, defection and errour, Exod. 34. 7. Now why doth God use all these terms and comprehensive expressions, but thereby to assure his people of the largeness, fulness, compleatness and comprehensiveness of his Pardons; Sins of all sorts, of all notions, of all degrees and aggravations which his people shall be guilty of, he will fully pardon.

II. The Description of sin. I offer thus in brief. Sin is any evil (g) Habit or (h) Act, (i) against the Law of God, and (k) offensive to him, (l) Drawing away from God, Depriving (m) of righteousness and innocency, (n) defiling the person and action, (o) Deserving Death, and (p) making guilty of the curse of God.

In this Description note, 1. The Genus, or General Nature of Sin; Any evil Habit or Act. Or more exactly, The Pravity, Viciosity or Evilness of Habit or Act. At first in Adam's Apostacy, The evil Acts bred evil habits in him; but ever since the evil Habits produce evil Acts. 2. The Differentia, or Difference specifical that distinguisheth Sin from all other things, Consists in that heap of Properties, Fruits and Events of Sin enumerated. All which are evinced by the Scriptures annexed.

III. Hence, There are many Particulars considerable in Sin: that we may see what it is in sin, that is properly capable of, or curable by Remission, and what not. For Remission is not a fit and proper cure for every thing in sin. Especially take notice of these particulars in Sin, viz.

1. Ἀνομία, (q) An unlawfulness, An Anomy, A swerving, warping or discrepancy from the Law; as John describes it: ἡ ἁμαρτία ἐστὶν ἡ ἀνομία; Sin is the transgression of the Law. Or, Sin is unlawfulness. This Anomy is both in Habituals, and in Actuals, and these in Defect or Excess, in Omission or Commission, &c. This Anomy, this unlawfulness, this discrepancy from, or repugnancy to the Law of God, is most essential and intrinseçal to sin: And this is Healed, Partly by Remission, when it is (r) not imputed, or reckoned to us, but put upon the account and head of Jesus Christ, our true Scape-Goat: Partly by Sanctification and Inscription of his Laws in our Minds and Hearts, Ier. 31. 33.

(q) 1 Joh. 3. 4.

(r) Psal. 32. 2. Isa. 53. 6. 2 Cor. 5. 19. Levit. 16. 20, 21, 22.

31. 33. Heb. 8. 10. whereby both Inward Faculties and Outward Acts, Constitution and Converſation become conform and ſweetly anſwerable to the Laws of God, as hath been explained.

2. Offenſa, The offence or offenſiveneſs of Sin unto God, whereby God is provoked, angred, diſpleaſed, grieved, &c. againſt the Offender. Thus, (f) —— Forty years long was I grieved with this Generation, and ſaid, it is a people that err in their hearts. (t) — They angred him alſo at the waters of ſtrife. (u) — Thus they provoked him to anger with their inventions. So, when David had involved himſelf in thoſe two hainous ſins of Murder and Adultery, its ſaid, (x) But the thing that David had done, diſpleaſed the LORD. Heb. was evil in the eyes of the LORD. Contrary hereunto, Pauls exerciſe was, (y) to have alwaies an inoffenſive conſcience, (ἀπρόσκοπον συνείδησιν) towards God and towards men. This offence, anger and diſpleaſure of God for Sin, is in ſome ſenſe Removed by Remiſſion of ſin, viz. in regard of the enmity, hatred, punitive and vindictive Nature thereof, properly ſo taken; (z) I will heal their back-ſliding, I will love them freely, for mine anger is turned away from him. So that properly God doth not as a Sin-revenging Iudge, puniſh his pardoned people: Yet notwithſtanding, as a Father he is offended and diſpleaſed at them for their ſins, and ſometimes ſeverely chaſtizeth them for their iniquities, as he dealt with (a) Moſes, (b) Aaron, (c) David, the (d) Corinthians, &c.

3. Averſio, A with-drawing, Receſs, Departure, or turning-away from God, from godlineſs, from his Law, &c. (e) — Every man is tempted, when he is drawn-away (ἐξελκόμενος) of his own luſt and enticed. Drawn away, from God; enticed, to evil. Thus, Adam at firſt turned away from God by eating the forbidden fruit: Iſrael turned aſide quickly, Exod. 32. 7, 8. And in every ſin, more or leſs, there is ſome averſion from God, ſome turning of the back upon God, and their face upon ſin, &c. Now this Averſion is not properly relieved by Remiſſion of ſins, but (f) by the Returning or Converſion of the Sinner again unto God.

4. Privatio, A Privation, A Loſs, &c. of Righteouſneſs, Rectitude, Innocency, Integrity, &c. in whole or in part. So, when Adam firſt ſinned, he wholly loſt his concreated (g) Rectitude, Innocency and uprightneſs in the image of God. When David, Peter or other Saints of God ſinned; they loſt their rectitude and innocency in part, viz. that innocency which they had before in reſpect of thoſe particular groſs offences, whileſt un-committed. Now this Privation of Innocency and Integrity, cannot properly be ſo cured by Remiſſion of ſin, as that the Nocent party ſhould be made Innocent again; Innocency loſt, is like Virginity loſt, can never be recovered: It cannot be ſaid, ſuch an one hath not fallen, hath not ſinned, hath not broken the Law, &c. herein; this cannot be repaired properly. But yet ſuch innocency loſt may ſo far be regained by Remiſſion of ſin, as that Sin ſhall (h) not be imputed to them, to make them nocent and and guilty before God; and their Persons may be reputed, accounted and accepted of God as innocent, as (i) the righteousness of God in Christ. 5. Actual Uncleanness; by many other legal defilements, Levit. 5. & 11. & 12. & 13. & 14. & 15. 6. Meritum, The Merit, Desert, or Due wages of Sin, of all Sin, yea of all the Sin of Gods Elect, is Eternal Death and Condemnation. (m) The wages of Sin is Death, but the gift of God is Eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord: viz. Eternal Death, (as appears here by the Antithesis of Eternal life) is the most proper adæquate wages of sin, of all sin. And although deserved Death and Damnation be not actually inflicted upon Gods Elect: Yet in strictness of justice, they do in themselves by their sins deserve it, as well as others. In this regard men are said to be (n) worthy of Death for Sin. This desert of Death is not taken away by Remission of sins.

7. Finally, Reatus, Guilt or Guiltiness of Gods Curse, viz. Of Death. This Guilt is the Actual obligation or binding-over of the Sinner to the enduring or under-going of the Penalty denounced and threatned to sin. (o) In the day thou eatest thereof thou shalt dye the death. And, (p) — Cursed is every one that continueth not in all things written in the Law to do them. As therefore every one that sinneth is guilty of death; that is, obliged to endure the punishment of death: So, in regard of the Truth of Gods threatning, and the vindictive justice of the most righteous judge, it is necessary that one way or other the Sinner should undergo that punishment, Gen. 2. 17. Gal. 3. 10. Rom. 1. 32. & 3. 19. & 5. 12. & 6. 23. Jam. 1. 15. may become guilty before God. ὑπόδικος — τῷ Θεῷ, Under judgement to God, or ſubject to the judgement of God. Hereupon, ſins are called Debts, ὀφειλήματα, (t) And forgive us our Debts, as we forgive our Debtors. They are Debts to God. Not that we owe them to God, or ought to ſin againſt God; but Metonymically, becauſe they render them that ſin obnoxious to Gods puniſhment, even as (u) Pecuniary debts oblige him (that hath not wherewith to pay) unto puniſhment. Hence alſo (as that learned (x) Gomarus hath well obſerved) The name Sin is uſed by way of a double Metonymie. viz. 1. By a Metonymie of the Cauſe for the Effect, when Sin is put for the puniſhment of ſin, as Gen. 19. 15. and 1 Pet. 2. 24 2. By a Metonymie of the Adjunct for its Subject, when Sin is put for the Sacrifice of Sin, which bears the puniſhment of Sin to expiate it. As, He was made Sin; that is, A Sacrifice for ſin. 2 Cor. 5. 21. Thou wouldſt not have ſin, Pſal. 40. 7. that is, thou wouldſt not have legal Sacrifice for ſin; which the Apoſtle by an Ellipſis renders, περὶ ἁμαρτίας, for ſin; that is, A Sacrifice for ſin, Heb. 10. 8. Now guilty ſinners muſt undergo Death and Curſe one way or other, as I ſaid: Either in their own Perſons, according to the expreſs letter of the Law, Deut. 27. 26. Gal. 3. 10. Gen. 2 17. thus all reprobates ſhall endure the puniſhment for ever, Mat. 25. 41, 46. Dan, 12. 2. Or in their Surety, according to the tacit intent of of the Law, manifeſted to be the mind of the Law-giver in the whole current of the Goſpel, in Chriſt Promiſed, Gen. 3. 15. and 22. 18. Act. 10. 43. and in Chriſt exhibited, Gal. 3. 13, 14. Heb. 2. 14. Acts 3. 25. Thus Chriſt dyed and became a Curſe for his Elect, Iſa. 53. 4, 5, 6 Rom. 4. 25. Gal. 3. 13. whoſe temporal Death was of eternal and infinite value, by reaſon of the infiniteneſs of his Perſon, being (y) God as well as man, purchaſing his Church with his own blood, Act. 20. 28. Heb. 9. 14. This Sacrifice of Chriſt dying was fully accepted of God as a Ranſom for all his Elect, Eph. 5. 2. Heb. 10. 6. to 20. 1 Joh. 2. 1, 2. Heb. 9. 12, 13, 14. Mat. 20. 28. 1 Pet. 1. 18. Now Remiſſion of ſins doth moſt properly relieve a ſinner againſt this Guilt of death, Curſe and Condemnation; not by aboliſhing the Deſert of his Guilt, or the Merit of his ſin: But by releaſing him from his actual Obligation and Ordination to Death, Curſe and Damnation; that though it be deſerved by him, yet it never ſhall be inflicted upon him.

Thus we ſee, what the Nature of Sin is, which is the ſubject of Remiſſion: and what it is in ſin that more properly is cured and removed by Remiſſion.

Reſolut. Remiſſion of ſins is a moſt ſweet and comfortable Bleſſing, eſpecially to a poor Sin-bruiſed ſoul. This Bleſſing is more often ſpoken of, then well underſtood: and yet its better underſtood ſtood by many, then experimentally enjoyed. This Queſtion, as it is difficult, ſo it cannot but be very delightfull to be reſolved. For Satisfaction herein, Conſider, 1. The Expreſſions or Phraſes by which the Holy Ghoſt in Scripture ſets it forth to us. He beſt knows how to Signifie and make known his own Mind to us, touching this choice Mercy. 2. The Nature of this Bleſſing, of Remiſsion of Sins.

I. The Expreſsions, Names or Phraſes whereby the Holy Ghoſt deſcribes this pretious & excellent Bleſsing to us, are very many both in the Hebr. of the O. Teſt. & Gr. of the N. & thoſe very Emphatical & comfortable. I ſhall briefly note ſome of the more obſervable expreſſions. As;

1. Remiſsion, Pardon or Forgiveneſs of Sins: Gr. Ἄφεσις ἁμαρτιῶν. (z) That they may receive forgiveneſs of ſins. (a) — Repent and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jeſus Chriſt, for the Remiſsion of ſins. This word is moſt frequently uſed for this purpoſe in the New Teſtament. The original of this word is ἵημι or ἵω, To ſend: whence ἀφίημι, to diſmiſs, Let-go, Send-away, remit, permit, or ſuffer, leave, &c. And thence the Noun ἄφεσις Diſmiſsion, Remiſsion, Releaſing, viz. of Debts, or of bonds for debts, or of Captives out of priſon. And ſo its tranſlated to ſignifie the Pardon and Forgiveneſs of Sins: Becauſe when God pardons ſins, He diſmiſſes them, he releaſes them, he lets them alone, medles not with them, ſo as to impute them to condemnation, He remits their debts, He ſets the offendor at liberty, breaks their bands, and brings them out of priſon, &c. By this Metaphor, Pardon of Sin is ſweetly ſet forth in that of Iſaiah; (b) — To proclaim liberty to the Captives, and the opening of the Priſon to them that are bound: which in Luke is thus expounded; (c) — To preach (ἄφεσιν diſmiſsion, remiſsion, releaſe) deliverance to the Captives, — To ſet at liberty (ἐν ἀφέσει in remiſſion, &c.) them that are bruiſed. ἄφεσις is from the ſame orignal, and is uſed for remiſſion of Sins, Rom. 3. 25. The Hebrew word anſwering properly to this Greek word is (d) סלח Salach, To remit, or forgive, or be merciful to: As here its uſed in this Promiſe; For I will forgive their iniquity. This ſame word is alſo often uſed in this ſenſe elſewhere; As Lev. 4. 20. 2 Chron. 6. 27. Exod. 34. 9 Ier. 33. 8. Pſal. 130. 4. Dan. 9. 9. Hence God is ſtiled אלוה סליחות Eloah Selichoth, A God of Pardons, Neh. 9. 17. That can create, command, give and apply Pardons, as a God. So then, before Remiſsion of Sin, The Sinner is in Debt, in Danger, in Bonds, in Priſon, &c. but after Sin is pardoned, His debt is releaſed, his bonds are cancelled, His priſon is opened, and he is diſmiſſed at liberty: God will have no more to ſay to him in regard of his pardoned Sins; God now accounts of him as if he had not Sinned. This is a great Expreſſion, and very frequent both in Old and New Teſtament.

2. Free-forgiveneſs, gratuitous-Pardon of Sin. So its in the Greek in the New Teſtament. χαρισάμενος ἡμῖν πάντα τὰ παραπτώματα, (e) Having freely-forgiven us all our Sins. And again, — Even as Chriſt (ἐχαρίσατο) freely forgave you, ſo alſo do ye. The word (f) χαρίζομαι doth properly ſignifie nifie a gratuitous-forgiving, not only without, but even contrary to all our deſert. This denotes to us, That pardon of Sin originally flows from that bleſſed fountain of Gods free-grace. He pardons, becauſe he will pardon. He forgives freely for his own ſake, Iſai. 43. 25.

3. Propitiouſneſs, or Propitious-mercifulneſs upon Pacification for Sin. The Greek ἱλάσκειν To expiate, Pacifie, and render-propitious; and ἵλεως, Pacified, Propitious, Favourable, &c. are uſed for this Purpoſe. As (g) ἵλεως ἔσομαι τοῖς ἀδικίαις αὐτῶν I will be propitiouſly-mercifull to their unrighteouſneſſes. Or, I will be pacifiedly-favourable to their unrighteouſneſſes, (that I may ſo ſpeak to expreſs the Emphaſis of the word.) The like word is in the Publicans Prayer; (h) ὁ θεὸς ἱλάσθητί μοι τῷ ἁμαρτωλῷ, O God be mercifull to me a Sinner. Properly; O God be pacified, or, be pacifiedly-merciful to me a Sinner. Theſe are excellent expreſſions indeed, whereby God promiſeth pardon, and the Publican begs pardon of Sin. Theſe Greek words are for Subſtance the ſame. Now ἱλάσκειν hath two principal ſignifications in the New Teſtament, viz. 1. To expiate, or make-reconciliation for ſins with God. So its uſed only once, of Jeſus Chriſt; (i) — That he might be a merciful and faithfull High-prieſt, in things pertaining to God, εἰς τὸ ἱλάσκεσθαι τὰς ἁμαρτίας τοῦ λαοῦ to make reconciliation for the ſins of the people: or, To expiate the ſins of the people. 2. Hence conſequently its drawn to ſignifie, To pacifie God, or To render him propitious, favourable, merciful. Becauſe, when Sins are expiated, when reconciliation is made for them, when the penalty is endured fully that is due to them, &c. then God is appeaſed, pacified, and becomes propitious, favourable, merciſull to the Sinner. And in this ſenſe the word is often uſed in Scriptures, As, Luke 18. 13. Heb. 8. 12. Mat. 16. 22. And in Prophane Authors. And this latter is the moſt uſual and common ſignification of the word. So that as the former word χαρίζειν, freely to forgive, denotes the ſpring-head and fountain whence Pardon of Sin ariſeth, even the riches of Gods free-grace: So this word ἱλάσκειν intimates the Meritorious Mean, or Procuring-Cauſe of Pardon, viz. Chriſts Meritorious expiation of Sin by his own death and blood, whereupon God is pacified and appeaſed touching ſin, and becomes propitiouſly merciful to the Sinner. Hence Chriſt is called, ἱλασμὸς, The Propitiation, (k) If any man ſin, we have an advocate with the father, Jeſus Chriſt the righteous, and he is the Propitiation (ἱλασμὸς) for our ſins. And ἱλαστήριον The Propitiatory or Mercy-ſeat: (l) whom God hath ſet forth to be (ἱλαστήριον) A Propitiatory through faith in his blood, to declare his righteouſneſs for the remiſſion of ſins that are paſt, &c. How excellently do Gods gratuitous Mercy, and his Juſtice meet in this great bleſſing of Remiſſion of ſins! His gratuitous Mercy, in that he remits freely, without any deſert of the Sinners, yea againſt all his deſert: His Juſtice, in that he remits righteouſly, upon expiation made by Chriſts blood, and ſatisfaction given to Gods juſtice for ſin by his death. rable rable to this Greek word, is also the Hebrew word סלח Salach, in one of its significations: for it signifies not only to remit and forgive, but also to be Propitious. And therefore (m) for this the Apostle puts ἱλεως ἐσομαι I will be propitiously-mercifull, or I will be pacifiedly favourable to their unrighteousnesses. More fully answerable is the word חטא Chitte, To Expiate, Cleanse, Purge. This word חטא Chata in the Conjugation called Kall, signifies, To Sin, To err-away, To err from the scope: but in the Conjugation Piel; To Expiate sin, to cleanse or Purge away sin. So David useth it; (n) Thou shalt purge me with Hyssop, and I shall be clean, &c. Or, Thou shalt expiate me, or cleanse me with Hyssop, &c. Herein David alludes to the ceremonial Rite of cleansing the leper or other unclean persons under the Law, The Priest took a bunch of Hyssop, and therewith sprinkled blood upon them. Lev. 14.4,5,6,7,8. and sometimes a clean person with Hyssop sprinkled water upon the unclean. Numb. 19.17, 18, 19. This was a Type of Christs blood and water sprinkled upon the hearts and Consciences of Sinners by Faith for Remission of Sins, Rom. 3.25. Heb. 9.13, 14. The blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin, 1 John 1.7. In this phrase therefore David begged pardon of sin in the blood of Jesus Christ, whereby Gods justice was satisfied for sin. He could easily have had the literal ceremonie: but he wanted and earnestly desired this Spiritual mysterie.

4. Not-remembring of Sin any more. This is another expression for Pardon of sin in this New Covenant; (o) — And their sinful-errour (לא אזכר-עוד Lo escar guhod) I will not remember any more. For which the Greek hath it; (p) And their sinful-errours and their unrighteousnesses I will not remember again, or any more. ου μη μνησθω ετι. Here are two Negatives, which do more vehemently deny, according to the propriety of the Greek language. That is, I will never remember them again, I will in no case remember them any more. I will so forgive, as to forget. Not that in propriety of phrase, God either remembers, or forgets; for all things are present to him, he knows and beholds them in one act all at once: But its an Allusion to the manner of men, who when they forgive injures fully and heartily, do also forget them, blot them out of mind, so as neither to upbraid and reproach them for them, nor seek reparation, satisfaction, &c. by way of revenge. Or rather, its an Allusion to the Manner of the Old Covenants administration, in the (q) Sacrifices, whereof there was a remembrance again of sins every year, they were a fresh inditement and arraignment of the people for sin continually: But under this New Covenant Christ (r) by one offering of himself once offered, hath for ever perfected them that are sanctified, hath for ever taken away the sins of his Elect, there needs no more expiatory Sacrifice for them, they that are sprinkled with the blood of this Sacrifice shall have their sins no more remembred against them, or (s) mentioned to them to their Confusion and Condemnation. An Act of everlasting Oblivion shall be past upon them.

5. Not-imputing of Sin to the Sinner. By this expreſſion David deſcribes the Forgiveneſs of Sin; (t) Bleſſed is the man whoſe tranſgreſſion is forgiven, whoſe ſin is covered. Bleſſed is the man unto whom the Lord imputeth not iniquity. (u) Paul alſo hath the ſame expreſſion for Subſtance, alledging that of Davids. The Hebrew word חשב Chaſhab here uſed by David, and the Greek λογίζω here uſed by Paul have both of them great variety of acceptations in Scripture, and there is an Imputation of evil, and an Imputation of good to one (as (x) elſewhere I have already at large manifeſted): But to our preſent purpoſe they ſignifie, To impute-to, Attribute-to, Aſcribe-to, To account-to, To charge-upon, &c. Thus when God forgives Sin, he doth (y) not impute ſin to ſuch a man, he doth not attribute, account or aſcribe it to him, he doth not charge it, or lay it as a debt upon him, he doth not lay it to his charge to his condemnation. Why? Becauſe he hath imputed all his ſins already unto Chriſt, he hath (z) laid them all upon him, as his Surety, and Chriſt having paid the debt as the Sinners ſurety, its no more to be charged upon the Principal. (a) ——— For he hath made him to be Sin for us (by Imputation,) who knew no ſin (by inherent pollution or perpetration): that we might be made (by imputation) the righteouſneſs of God in him. So that this Non-imputing of Sin to us, leads us to Chriſt our Surety to whom they were imputed, (b) who himſelf bare our ſins upon his own body on the tree. The Expreſſion ſeems to be a Metaphorical alluſion to an Arithmetical accounting, when upon caſting up divers Sums a man at laſt comes to the total Reſult: and accounts, or chargeth ſo much debt upon one, ſo much upon another, &c. but where he will freely forgive the debt, he doth not impute, reckon or account any debt to ſuch an one at all. Thus God in pardoning ſin, imputes not ſin to us, reckons it not to us, puts it not upon our Account, but as it were croſſes all out of his debt-book. Oh he is a bleſſed man to whom the Lord will not thus impute ſin!

6. Covering of Sin, Hiding it, or Hiding Gods face from it. This expreſſion is oft uſed for the Pardon of Sin. The Hebrew hath three words eſpecially to this purpoſe. 1. חסה Chaſah, To cover, or hide out of ſight. Its applyed to any object or thing that is covered by ſomething interpoſed betwixt it and the eye. As the body is covered with Garments, Ezek. 18. 16. The Tabernacle was covered with the cloud, Numb. 9. 15. & 16. 42. The waters of the Red-Sea covered the Egyptians, Exod. 15. 10. Thus when ſin is pardoned, its covered from Gods eye. Not that God doth not ſee it at all, but that he doth not ſee it to puniſh it and requite it with Condemnation. So; (c) O the bleſſedneſs of the man whoſe trangreſſion is forgiven, and whoſe ſin is covered. And elſewhere; (d) ——Thou haſt forgiven the iniquity of thy people, thou haſt covered all their ſin, Selah. 2. כפר Caphar, Our Engliſh word cover is very neer it. This word (e) Generally ſignifies to Cover, to hide, to cover with pitch, &c. as Gen.

Gen. 6. 14. the Ark was covered with pitch. Hence in Piel it signifies, To expiate, cleanse, purge, &c. which is to hide sin or uncleaneſs; To remove Wrath, that it may not appear. Thus the Seraphim laying a live-coal from the Altar upon the mouth of Iſaiah, ſaid; (f) Thine iniquity is taken away, and thy Sin purged, or Covered. And again; (g) Surely this iniquity ſhall not be purged from you (or, covered) till ye dye. From this Root that word כפרת Capporeth is derived, which ſignified the Covering of the Ark, called the Mercy-ſeat or Propitiatory, which was a ſpecial Type of Chriſt, Exod. 25. 17. to 23. Rom. 3. 25. For as the Law in the Ark, by which is the knowledge of ſin, was covered with the Mercy-ſeat: ſo Chriſt by his death Expiates, Remits and Covers our ſins, that the Law ſhall not accuſe or condemn us for them.

3. סתר Sathar, To hide, conceal, &c. when God pardons ſins, he hides his face from them, He will not look upon them in wrath or revenge; he looks as it were another way. So David prayed; (h) Hide thy face from my ſin, and blot out all mine iniquities. It ſeems to be a Metaphor, from a guilty perſon, that cannot endure the face of a ſtrict Judge: or from an offending child that cannot bear the fathers frown. When God pardons, he hides his face. Oh what comfortable words are theſe to a penitent, ſin-bruiſed Soul! Thou uncovereſt, all thy ſins before God, confeſſing them, lamenting them, and ripping them up: but God covers them all, he puts them out of his ſight. Thy ſins are ever before thee, Pſal. 51. 3. thou art ſtill poring upon them, &c. but God hides his face from them, he will not look upon them any more.

(h) Pſal. 51. 9.

7. Taking-away ſin, Removing it, &c. when God Remits ſin to us, he Removes ſin from us. Here are two Hebrew words. 1. נשא (i) Naſa, To lift up, To take-away, To Spare, To Remit, &c. This word is very comprehenſive in ſignifications, if any other. When God remits ſin, which is an heavy burden to the Soul, Mat. 11. 28. He lifts it up off the Soul, he takes away this heavy, troubleſom load that preſſeth it down and oppreſſeth it, he gives lightning and eaſe to the Soul, he unburthens it. Oh this is ſweet to the Heavy-laden! Thus God proclaims himſelf; (k) — Keeping mercy for thouſands, forgiving (נשא) Noſe, lifting up, taking away,) iniquity, and tranſgreſſion, and ſin. That is, All ſort of ſin. Here the Participle is uſed, Taking away: its Gods conſtant, daily and continual act to be pardoning; though we be ſtill ſinning, yet he is ſtill pardoning. So elſewhere; (l) Who is a God like unto thee, pardoning (נשא) Noſe, lifting-up, taking-away) iniquity? &c. there's no God like our ſin-pardoning God: No God, but he can pardon ſin. (m) — Take-away all iniquity, and receive us graciouſly. (n) ——— O the bleſſednesſes of that man whoſe tranſgreſſion is pardoned, or Taken-away! This taking away, or bearing away of Sin noted by this word, was excellently ſhadowed out in the (o) Scape-goat, upon whoſe head Aaron was to lay both his hands, confeſſing over over him all Iſraels iniquities and tranſgreſſions, putting them upon his head, and then to ſend him away into the Wilderneſs, never to return or be found more. And the Goat (נשא Naſa, ſhall take-away) ſhall bear-away upon him all their iniquities unto a land of ſeparation, and he ſhall let go the Goat in the wilderneſs. So Chriſt bears away our ſins, far from us, never more to return to us, or be charged upon us.

2. מוש Moſch, To remove, properly to remove-from-handling. (p) —And I will remove (Hierom renders it, Auferam, I will-take-away) the iniquity of that Land in one day. In that day, ſaith the LORD of hoaſts, ſhall ye call every man his neighbour, under the Vine and under the Fig tree. The Pardon and removal of ſin, is here diſcovered to be the ſweet foundation of all Peace, Tranquility and Proſperity. Sin unremoved, like Jonas in the ſhip, ſtorms and diſturbs all: but Sin removed, like Jonas caſt out, calms and quiets all.

(p) Zech. 3. 9,10.

8. Blotting-out, or Wiping-out, or Razing out, &c. מחה (q) Machah, Properly and Principally it ſignifies, To blott-out-by-wiping, and ſo to remove away from its place, that ſhall not any more appear; David prayes; Blott-out, wipe-out all mine iniquities, Pſal. 51. 9. God ſaith; I, I am he that blotteth out thy tranſgreſſions for mine own ſake, and will not remember thy ſins, Iſa. 43. 25. And again; I have blotted out as a thick cloud thy tranſgreſſions, and as a cloud thy ſins, Iſa. 44. 22. When a cloud is blotted out of the air, it is ſo utterly diſſipated and diſſolved, that it never returns thither again; there's nothing but ſerenity, clearneſs and brightneſs in the Heavens; and when a writing is blotted out of a Table-book, its ſo defaced, that it can never be read more; or, when a debt is wiped out of an Account-book or Debt-book, its never called for or exacted any more: So when God pardons ſin, he ſo utterly blots and wipes it out by the blood of Chriſt, that it ſhall never be exacted more from that ſoul, never be found there more unto Condemnation.

9. Caſting behind Gods back. King Hezekiah ſaid; (r) —And thou haſt loved my Soul from the pit of corruption, for thou haſt caſt (השלכת Hiſhlacta, thou haſt caſt away) all my ſins behind thy back. A Metaphor from the action of man, who caſts behind his back ſuch things as he cares not for, regards not, looks not after, minds not, &c. So God deals with all our ſins which he pardons, and for which he will not condemn us. Contrariwiſe when God puniſheth for ſin, he is ſaid to ſet our ſins before his face; (ſ) ——— For we are conſumed by thine anger, and by thy wrath are we troubled. Thou haſt ſet our iniquities before thee, our ſecret ſins in the light of thy countenance.

(r) Iſa. 38. 17.

(ſ) Pſal. 90. 7,8.

10. Removing our ſins from us as far as the Eaſt is from the Weſt. רחק Rachak, properly it ſignifies, To be far-diſtant, To be afar off, To be far remote. David uſeth this word for Pardon of ſin, (t) He hath not dealt with us after our ſins, nor rewarded us according to our iniquities. For as the Heaven is high above the Earth: ſo great is his mercy towards them that fear him. As far as the East is from the West: so far hath he removed (הרחיק Hirchic, hath made-far-distant) our transgressions from us. Here Gods pardoning Mercy is magnified three wayes, viz. 1. By his forbearance of deserved punishment. 2. By the incomparable transcendency of his mercy above our sins higher then heaven is above the earth. 3. By his far removal of our sins from us, as East is remote from West. A Proverbial Speech. East and West are far distant, never meet: So we and our pardoned sins shall never meet more; our true Scape-goat Christ hath carried them quite away from us into the Wilderness. Augustine here saith; (u) When Sin is remitted, thy sins set; thy grace riseth. Thy sins are as it were in the West: The Grace whereby thou art freed is in the East.—Thy Sins set for ever; and Grace remains for ever. Oh its well for us when our sins are not Rising, but Setting.

(u) Quando peccatum remittitur, occidunt peccata tua, oritur Gratia tua. Peccata tua tanquam in Occasu sunt; Gratia qua liberaris in ortu est. ——— Et peccata in æternum occidunt; & Gratia in æternum manet, &c. August. in Enarrat. in Psal. 102 p. 1166. E. C. Tom. 8. Basil. 1569.

11. Finally, The Pardon of Sin is most excellently set forth even in a Knot or Clustre of choice Expressions in the Prophet Micah, (x) Who is a God like thee, Pardoning (or, Lifting-up, or Taking-away) iniquity, and Passing-by over the transgression of the remnant of his Heritage? He retaineth not his anger for ever, because he delighteth in loving-kindness. He will Return, He-will-tenderly compassionate-us, He will subdue our iniquities: And thou wilt cast-away (or fling-away) all their Sins into the depths of the Sea. In this glorious Scripture, The singular and incomparable Goodness of God is magnified over all Gods in his Pardoning Mercy. The true God is altogether matchless in his Sin-pardoning mercy. Who is a god like thee? &c. This his Sin-pardoning Mercy is, I. Emphatically propounded, by way of interrogation. Who is a God like thee, Pardoning, (נשא Nose, lifting-up, taking-away) iniquity? Of this Term (y) formerly. II. Elegantly Amplified by many sweet and comfortable Expressions. As, 1. Passing-by over the transgression (על פשע —עבר Guhober Guhal Peshaugh) of the remnant of his Heritage. When God Pardons sin, he passes over it, he passes by it, he so sees it that will not see it, He will have nothing to say or do to it or for it, as to the point of curse and condemnation. But onely his Heritage, that little remnant in the world shall share in this Mercy. Thus God (z) passed by the Israelites in Egypt, whose Houses were sprinkled with blood, when he fell upon the Egyptians for their sins and destroyed them. 2. He retaineth not his anger for ever, &c. God may be angry with his people, and sore displeased at them for their sins so as to chastize them severely, though he pardon them graciously: yet he will not be ever angry, he will put off and lay aside his displeasure from them. 3. He de- delights, takes-pleaſure in loving-kindneſs. חסד Cheſed properly notes Benignity, Loving-kindneſs. Loving-kindneſs hath theſe three ſpecial Properties, viz. To impart tokens and teſtifications of kindneſs to the Object loved. To accept the ſmalleſt upright performances or manifeſtations of Duty. To cover and paſs by all weaknesſes and infirmities, as if there were no ſuch things. God excels in all theſe. Loving-kindneſs is his delight. 4. He will return, He will-tenderly-compaſſionate-us. The word רחם (a) Racham properly denotes, To commiſerate, Intimately to tender with inward yerning bowels of compaſſion, Tenderly to embrace, as the Matrix the child. Though ſin drive God away ſometimes, yet he will not utterly depart, he will return again to us: yea, though we have ſinned againſt his Mercy, kicked againſt his bowels, yet his very bowels yern over us. When God pardons a ſinner, Oh how he tenders him, how dearly he claſps and embraces him, how he puts him as it were into his very inward and deareſt bowels! &c. 5. He will ſubdue our iniquities. When God pardons ſin, he ſubdues ſin, he conquers the enmity of ſin. Partly, He ſubdues the great and ſtrong Provocation of ſin, that riſeth up againſt Cod. Gods Pardons prevail againſt, and overcome our ſins Provocations: His Pardons are above our ſins exaſperations and aggravations. They are great, but Gods Pardons infinitely greater. Partly, He ſubdues the great Power of ſin, that riſeth up againſt us. Where God pardons the Guilt, he kils and mortifies the Power of ſin. 6. He flings away all his peoples ſins into the depths of the Sea. That is, God ſo pardons their ſins, that he Pardons all, and that for ever. As that which is flung into the Sea, into the deepeſt places of the Sea, can never again be ſeen or found: Or as the (b) Egyptians were all ſwallowed up in the Red-Sea, and never troubled, terrified or afflicted Iſrael any more after that day; God could as eaſily drown all Pharaohs Army therein, as one man. So their Pardoned Sins ſhall be all drowned in the Sea of Gods Mercy and Chriſts Merit for ever; they (though never ſo huge an Army) ſhall never trouble, terrifie or afflict them any more to their condemnation; in that ſenſe they ſhall never be found any more at all, or heard of in Gods wrath any more at all.

Thus I have opened a Box of rich and precious oyntment. O how fragrant and refreſhing are theſe expreſſions to a ſin-bruiſed ſoul! How appoſitely and ſuitably are they accommodated againſt all the ſadning conſiderations and apprehenſions of ſin! 1. Our Sins ars Debts: But God doth freely remit them. 2. Our Sins are Offences; but God in Chriſt doth expiate them, and is propitious to them. 3. Our Sins are upon record in Gods Book: But God will not remember them, impute them to us, or charge them upon us; but wipe them quite away. 4. Our Sins are foul and deformed: but God will hide and cover them. 5. Our ſins are heavy burdens: but God will lift them off us, and take them away. 6. Our Sins have been acted all in in Gods sight, and they are ever before us. but God will cast them all behind his back, and remove them as far away from us as the East is distant from the West. 7. O think of these things ye penitent souls, that lie bleeding under your sins and the wrath of God: and lift up your selves herewith out of the doleful pit of your despondencies and disconsolations.

Thus of the Scripture-Names and Expressions touching Remission of Sin. The Quid Nominis.

II. The Nature of Remission of Sins; The Quid Rei, what the Thing of Remission of sins is, hath been very much discoverd in all the former excellent expressions, whereby the Holy-Ghost points it out unto us in the Scriptures. But yet, because this is such a Fundamental Article of Faith; upon which the consolation of Believers doth so much depend, And against which it is very dangerous to err, on the right hand or on the left: I shall, for the more distinct and clear Discovery of the Nature of Remission of Sins, Propound and explain these Positions following, viz.

Posit. I. That, Remission of sins, here promised in this New Covenant, is not intended of any Humane Remission, Fraternal, or Ministerial: But of Divine Remission of sins, and that not Particular, but Universal.

We must rightly distinguish, before we can clearly and duly Define or Discribe. Remission of sins, according to Scripture is two-fold. I. Humane, whereby man forgives man, according to Gods appointment. This Humane Remission is also twofold, viz. 1. Fraternal Remission, which every private Christian ought to perform to his Brother sincerely and heartily, as he desires and expects pardon from God. (c) Forgive, and ye shall be forgiven. (d) —— And forgive us our Debts, as we forgive our Debtors. —— For if ye forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you. But if ye forgive not men their Trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your Trespasses. Thus Joseph (e) forgave his Brethren. Nor must we forgive one another, (f) until seven times, but until seventy times seven; Even as often as there is need: as our Saviour teacheth by his Parable. 2. Ministerial and Ecclesiastical Remission, which either The Ministers pronounce Doctrinally according to the Word unto every true Believing and Repenting sinner, which is partly intended in that; (g) whosoever sins ye remit, they are remitted unto them; and whosoever sins ye retain, they are retained. Or the Church, The Governing-Church, (h) pronounceth. Orderly in a way of Diſcipline, and Cenſure, to a Penitent after Eccleſiaſtical puniſhment inflicted. But none of theſe Remiſſions are here intended: but ſuch a Remiſsion as is the immediate Act of God, Heb. 8.12. Jer. 31.34. II. Divine, whereby God himſelf forgives man. And is likewiſe twofold, viz. 1. Particular or Partial, when God remits the puniſhment of ſin in part, or for a time only. As when God remits temporal puniſhment, even unto reprobates: Thus God pardoned the Murmurers, in not bringing the Peſtilence upon them, according to Moſes requeſt, (i) Pardon I beſeech thee the iniquity of this people, —— as thou haſt forgiven this people from Egypt even until now: and yet he afterwards ſhut them all out of the promiſed Reſt for their unbelief. Thus God in part (k) pardoned wicked Ahab, in reſpiting the threatned Judgement. But however God may Pardon wicked perſons in regard of temporal puniſhment: he will never pardon them in regard of eternal, Mat. 25.46. Pſal. 92.7. 2. Univerſal or Total, when God (l) gratuitouſly remits unto truly (m) Penitent and Believing Sinners, (n) all Puniſhment and Curſe of ſin properly ſo called, both Temporal and Eternal, for and through the meritorious (o) ſatisfaction of Jeſus Chriſt, apprehended by (p) Faith. I ſay, All Puniſhment properly ſo called: for even they that are actually pardoned and juſtified, are not exempted from Gods Fatherly chaſtiſements, judgements and tryals in this life, and thoſe inflicted ſometimes upon occaſion of their ſins; witneſs David, the Corinthians, and many others, 2 Sam. 12.13, 14, &c. 1 Cor. 11.32. Heb. 12.6, 7, 8, 9, 10. And this Univerſal Remiſsion of Sin, is that which is propely and plainly intended in this New Covenant.

Poſit. II. That, Remiſsion of Sin is a diſtinct Bleſsing and Grace from Mortification of Sin, and not to be confounded therewith.

For, 1. Remiſsion of ſin is a branch or Part of Juſtification, *Rom.*3. 24,25,26. and 4.6,7,8. But Mortification of ſin is a branch of Sanctification, Col. 3.5. to 11. and 2.11,12. Rom. 6.4. to 15. 2. Remiſsion of ſin properly takes away the Guilt of ſin, the Obligation to Condemnation, Eph. 1.7. Heb. 8.12. But Mortification of ſin takes away the filth, power, and dominion of ſin, and at laſt by degrees deſtroys the very Inherence and being of ſin in us, that there ſhall be neither ſpot, nor wrinkle, nor any ſuch thing, Rom. 6.4. to 16. Eph. 5.27. Remiſsion makes a man no guilty ſinner before God: but Mortification tends daily to make a man no Sinner at all. Its true, Remiſsion of Sin and Mortification of Sin, (q) are divine bleſsings, caſt at the ſame time upon the ſame perſons; but yet they are diſtinct bleſsings.

(q) Col. 2. 11,12,13.

Poſit. III. That, Remiſsion of Sins ſtrictly and properly taken, is not the All, but only a Part of our Juſtification before God; But more largely and improperly it is All. For,

For, Remiſsion of Sin is taken Properly or Improperly. 1. More ſtrictly and properly, it denotes An abſolution of the Sinner from the guilt of ſin, viz. from his juſt obligation unto due Puniſhment, 2 Sam. 12. 13. Mat. 6. 12 Luk. 11. 4. And in this ſenſe, Remiſsion of Sins is not the All and whole Nature of Juſtification, but only a part thereof. For, none are juſt before God perfectly, but ſuch as perform the whole debt due to God. The Debt due to God is twofold, viz. One Directly & perſe; that is, (r) Perfect and perpetual Obedience to Gods Law. The other Indirectly & per accidens, by accident and occaſion of Sin: that is, (f) Undergoing the Puniſhment due to the tranſgreſſion of the Law: Both theſe are neceſſarily to be performed for us; The latter, for obtaining of Remiſsion of Sins, that is, Abſolution from the Curſe and Puniſhment of Eternal death deſerved: The former, for Imputation of righteouſneſs to us unto Eternal life. Hereupon Jeſus Chriſt, becoming our Mediator and Surety, paid and performed both theſe Debts due to God; viz. The Debt of Puniſhment, for obtaining Remiſsion of ſins, or Acquittal from Death and Curſe, for us, Iſa. 53. 4, 5, 6. Eph. 1. 7. 2 Cor. 5. 21. The Debt of perfect Obedience, for Juſtification of life, Rom. 5. 17, 18. 2. More largely and improperly, by a Synechdoche of the part for the whole, it comprehendeth in it the imputation alſo of righteouſneſs. As in that paſſage which Paul alledgeth out of the Pſalms; (t) Even as David alſo deſcribeth the bleſſedneſs of the man unto whom God imputeth righteouſneſs without works: Saying, Bleſſed are they whoſe iniquities are forgiven, and whoſe ſins are covered. Bleſſed is the man unto whom the Lord will not impute ſin. Davids words expreſly mention not a word of the Imputation of righteouſneſs: but run only upon Gods Forgiving, Covering, and Non-imputing of ſin, and yet Paul ſaith, David deſcribes the bleſſedneſs of the man to whom God imputeth righteouſneſs. Here therefore A Synechdoche muſt needs be acknowledged; And, That Remiſsion of ſins, (here expreſſed by Forgiving, Covering, and Not-imputing of ſin) doth plainly import and imply alſo An imputation of righteouſneſs. And ſeeing Remiſsion of ſins is ſometimes uſed in the New Teſtament Synechdochically to comprize in it the whole of Juſtification, why ſhould it be thought ſtrange to underſtand it in this extent and latitude here in this Body of the (u) New Covenant, the Promiſes and Bleſſings whereof are ſo Complexive, Extenſive, and Fundamental? Surely I ſee no Inconvenience contradicting. And certainly, If we may underſtand this Fœderal Article ſo largely, it will ſo much the more advance the rich Grace of the New Covenant, And advantage the Conſolation of the New Covenant Fœderates.

Poſit. IV. That, Remiſsion of ſins, ſtrictly taken, doth moſt properly and eſpecially conſiſt in the Removal of the offence done to God, and in the Acquittal or Abſolution of the Sinner from the Guilt of Sin, that is, from his Obligation, or being bound over, to endure the Punishment of Death, due for such offence.

(x) In Quest. 1.

I have (x) already shewed, that, among other Particulars considerable in Sin, these are two specially to be noted, as to the present subject in hand; viz. Offensa, and Reatus. I. The Offence or Provocation against God, as it were stirring up his Anger and Displeasure. The Act of sin may be transient and speedily pass away: But the offence against God remains and continues, till the Sin be pardoned. God laies it to heart, when the Sinner is pleased with it: God is displeased at it, when the Sinner is pleased at it: God Books it down, and remembers it, when the Sinner forgets it, &c. And God oft-times testifies his deep displeasure because of such offence, before the offendor obtain Repentance or Pardon. But when Sin is Remitted, God (y) ceaseth his conceived anger and displeasure; Blots the Sinners offences out of mind and memory, will remember them to him no more, Heb. 8. 12. II. The guilt of sin, or the Obligation of the Sinner to the punishment of Death and Damnation, (z) appointed of God. As soon as a man hath sinned, he is presently fallen into the hands of God, who hath right and power over him as a supreme and righteous Judge to take vengeance upon him, having already adjudged the Sinner unto death: And he is also presently fallen into the hands (as it were) of his own Conscience, his own Guilty Conscience. God and his own Conscience bind him over to Eternal condemnation, as the proper appointed (a) wages of sin. While this Guilt, while this Obligation to death lies upon the Soul and Conscience, There's no Remission of sin there: but in this guilt, sin still lives; still represents it self with horror to the awakened soul, (b) my sin is ever before me; still cryes aloud for vengeance, as if it were but newly acted, &c. when sin therefore is remitted, this guilt removes, this obligation to threatned and deserved punishment ceaseth; The soul is now set at liberty, this dreadful bond is cancelled, the pain, fear, trouble and terrour of Conscience is over, and the Sinner begins to find some spiritual (c) Rest and ease unto his soul. Herein principally and especially Remission of Sin stands: Not in Removal of the Stain and Power of Sin, that is done by Sanctification: Nor in Removal of the desert of Punishment, for even in a Pardoned person, as well as in an unpardoned, Sin deserves eternal death and condemnation, this is the proper and adequate (d) wages of Sin wherever it is; But in Removal of the Guilt of Sin, and that Obligation to everlasting Death and condemnation, when this Guilt is removed, when this Obligation is cancelled; then Sin is pardoned. This is evident, 1. Partly, By the Metaphors used to express Pardon of sin, which peculiarly intend Acquittal from the Guilt of sin, or disobligation from the punishment of sin. As, (e) Hiding Gods face from them, and blotting them out: A Similitude from Creditors that blot debts out of their Books, so as not to exact them to be paid. remembring them to punish them and damn for them: A Metaphor from Judges that punish not offences forgotten or unknown. If God punish Sin, he still remembers it. (g) Covering of Sin: not simply and absolutely that God cannot see it, but that God will not see it to condemnation, &c. 2. Partly, By the expressions used about the pardoning of the Sins of such as have been forgiven. As of David, (h) —The LORD also hath put away thy sin, (Heb hath made-to-pass-away thy sinful-errour,) thou shalt not dye. In the former phrase, Pardon of sin is assured: In the latter phrase, this assured Pardon is explained, in acquitting him from the Obligation to punishment. So of Hezekiah; (i) Thou hast loved my Soul from the pit of corruption: For thou hast cast all my sins behind thy back. See also, Psal. 103. 9, 10, 11, 12. 3. Partly, By the Method that God takes about Pardoning the Sins of his Elect. Of his free grace he gave Christ to be our Surety and Saviour, Heb. 7. 21, 22. and 9. 15. Upon this our Surety Christ, he laies all the punishment of our sins, that by his Satisfaction, we may be acquitted from our guilt or Obligation to punishment, Isa. 53. 6. Rom. 3. 24. and 5. 8. Mat. 20. 28. Heb. 9. 26. 1 Tim. 2. 2. 2 Cor. 5. 21. As Christ was made Sin for us, by having the punishment of our sins charged upon him: so we are discharged from our sins and pardoned, by being released and discharged from our Obligation unto due punishment deserved by our sins.

Posit. V. That, God alone remits Sin.

Remission of sins is Gods Peculiar Prerogative. Herein he is alone, and None with him. For, I. Remission of sins is in Scripture peculiarly ascribed to God, as belonging properly and only to him alone. (k) The LORD —pardoning iniquity and transgression and sin. (l) —I, even I, am he that blotteth out thy transgressions for mine own sake, and will not remember thy sins. (m) —A God of Pardons. (n) —Who is a God like unto thee, Pardoning iniquity, &c. (o) —Who can forgive sins save God only? And hence Christ declared himself to be God, that he was able to forgive sins to the Palsy man: and he evidenced himself to be able to forgive sins by curing him of his Palsy by his word. II. Our Saviour (p) teacheth us daily to direct our prayers to our heavenly Father, and to none other for remission of sins. And penitent sin-bruised souls repair to God and him alone for pardon See Psal. 51. 1, 2, 3, &c. Hos. 14. 2. Because they know well that this blessed Alms comes only from the bosom of Gods love. III. It is God alone that Justifies, Rom. 8. 33. & 3. 24, 25, 26. & 4. 5. & 8. 30. And therefore its God alone that remits sin: for Remission of sin is one part of Justification, as hath been manifested. IV. Our sins are (q) Debts primarily, properly and peculiarly against God alone; as being against his Will, his Laws, his Authority, his Purity, &c. Hence David; (r) Against thee, thee only have I sinned, &c. Sins Sins are only Secondarily, and in referrence to God againſt others, as thereby his Moral Laws or Law of nature, &c. are violated. Now who can remit the Debt, but the Creditor? who can remit the Sin, but God againſt whom it is committed primarily, and in ſome ſenſe only? V. Remiſsion of ſins in every Notion and Conſideration, both In foro Cœli, & in foro Soli, In the Court of Heaven, and in the Court of a Mans own Heart and Conſcience, belongs only to God. 1. In the Court of Heaven, Remiſſion belongs only to him. For, Againſt him only the offence is done, Pſal. 51.4. And he only can ſave from Hell, and (f) deſtroy both ſoul and body in Hell, and that for evermore. 2. In the Court of a mans own Conſcience. He only that is God and Father of Spirits, having immediate Soveraignty and Power over the Hearts and Spirits of all men, can upon Remiſsion of ſins calm, ſtill and pacifie the Conſcience, and give experimental perſwaſion, ſenſe, evidence and aſſurance of pardon. Men, Miniſters may uſe Arguments, apply Promiſes, Comforts, and many Means to compoſe a troubled heart; but all to very little purpoſe, till the Lord himſelf by his Spirit come in. Then if he do but ſay, Peace and be ſtill: there's a perfect calm. So true is that of Elihu; (t) When he giveth quietneſs, who then can make trouble? And when he hideth his Face, who then can behold him? Whether it be done againſt a Nation, or againſt a man only. Nathan told David (u) that God had put away his ſin, he ſhould not dye: But all this did not ſet Davids (x) broken bones in joynt, nor reſtore to him the joy of Gods Salvation, till God himſelf began to ſmile upon him and ſpeak peace to him. VI. All Humane Pardons are ſmall matters, are as nothing to Gods Pardons. Fraternal Pardons betwixt man and man, Chriſtian and Chriſtian, are only (y) charitative paſsing-by of private perſonal injuries, without ſeeking or meditating of revenge. But theſe cannot at all reach to remove, The offence againſt God, or the Guiltineſs of Gods Iudgement, or the Trouble of Conſcience thereupon. Miniſterial and Eccleſiaſtical Pardons, are only ſubordinate and Declarative: Whereby either the ſpiritual Cenſure and puniſhment inflicted by the Church upon an offendor, is upon teſtification of his repentance (z) removed in a way of Diſcipline; Or Gods own Remiſsion of ſin to the truly penitent and believing Sinner is according to the Holy Scripture (a) Doctrinally aſſured. Both which Remiſsions, or looſings of ſin are only ſo far authentick and prevalent, as they are conform to the Word, and are Ratified in heaven. (As for Popiſh Pardons, They are either wicked Tolerations, Protections and Licences of ſinning, or abominable deluſions and mockeries of Sinners: Meer Antichriſtian Nets for catching of money, and enſlaving ſouls under the Papal Tyrannie.) But Gods Pardons are Abſolutely Supreme, Authoritative and All-ſufficient to take away All the offence againſt God, all the guilt of deſerved puniſhment in this and the world to come, and all the trouble of conſcience thereupon. He fully pardons in Court of Heaven, and Court of Conſcience.

ence. His Pardons are the only Pardons. Hence therefore; 1. All that have their ſins Pardoned, may ſee to whom alone they are to aſcribe them. 2. All that want Pardons, may learn from whom alone they are to expect them.

Poſit. VI. That, God Pardons ſin freely of his own meer Grace, without any the leaſt merit or deſert of the pardoned ſinner.

This is moſt evident. For, 1. The impulſive or Moving Cauſe inclining the Lord to Pardon ſin, is not any thing at all, in the creature, without himſelf: But only his own rich and free-grace, within himſelf: as the Scriptures abundantly Teſtifie (b) —— Being juſtified freely by his Grace. Therefore pardoned freely by his Grace: Remiſſion being part of juſtification, as is there after intimated. (c) —— Having freely-forgiven (χαρισαμενος) you all treſpaſſes. (d) —— Even as Chriſt (εχαρισατο) freely forgave you, ſo alſo do ye. (e) —— In whom we have Redemption through his blood, the forgiveneſs of Sins, according to the riches of his Grace: (f) — I, even I am he that blotteth out thy tranſgreſſions for mine own ſake, and will not remember thy ſins. 2. Though God forgive ſins only in Chriſt and for his Merit and Satisfaction: as after ſhall be ſhewed, yet, in regard of the Pardoned ſinner, that alſo is of meer Grace. (1) Partly, In that God pleaſed to contrive this way of ſaving ſinners by a Surety Jeſus Chriſt, to Provide and accept the Satisfaction of this Surety by his death for the ſins of his Elect: which he might juſtly have demanded and exacted of the Principals themſelves, 1 Tim. 2. 5, 6. Heb. 10. 10. Mat. 29. 28. Dan. 9. 24, 26. Iſa. 53. 4, 5, 6, 10, 11, 12. Heb. 7. 22. Rom. 8. 32. 1 Pet. 1. 18, 19. (2) Partly, In that God pleaſeth actually to apply the blood and Death of Jeſus Chriſt unto the Hearts and Conſciences of ſuch or ſuch ſinners, by his Spirit and Faith, for actual Remiſsion of ſins: when he might juſtly have left them to periſh with others in their ſins and unbelief, Heb. 9. 14, 15. Rom. 3. 22, 24, 25, 26. Heb. 10. 22. 1 Cor. 6. 11. Acts 15. 9. Rev. 1. 5. Col. 2. 11, 12, 13. 1 Cor. 4. 7. Rom. 9. 15, 16, 18, 20. to 25. 3. Although God remit ſins to none, but to penitent and believing Sinners only, yet that Remiſſion even upon ſuch terms alſo is meerly gratuitous: and not at all for any merit or deſert of ſuch Faith or ſuch repentance. For both (g) Repentance and (h) Faith are the meer gifts of his free-grace. 4. That God might moſt clearly evidence to all the gratuitouſneſs and freeneſs of his Pardoning-Mercies, he hath ſingled out moſt notorious Sinners, moſt undeſerving, yea moſt ill-deſerving wretches as Subjects and Receptacles of his Pardons. Hereby his Pardoning Grace appears to be exceeding gracious.

He pardoned, David, his Murder and Adultery, 2 Sam. 12. 13. The ſinful woman, her many ſins, Luke 7. 37, 47. Manaſſes his many horrid impieties, 2 Chron. 33. 2. to 18. Peter, his triple denyal of his Maſter, and every time worſe then other, Mat. 26. 70, 72, 74, 75.

Poſit. VII. That, God remits ſin, only upon and for the Satisfaction made to his Juſtice for ſin by the Obedience and Death of Jeſus Chriſt.

For clearing of this, Conſider; I. That, God (having in his Covenant of works declared to Adam for himſelf and his Poſterity, that, (l) in the day he ſhould tranſgreſs by eating the forbidden fruit, he ſhould die the death,) could not, according to the exactneſs and ſtrictneſs of his Truth and Juſtice, paſs by Adams firſt ſin (wherein (m) all ſinned in him) without puniſhing it with Death. If in ſome ſenſe that ſin had not been puniſhed with Death; How ſhould God have been true, that Threatned it? How ſhould God have been juſt, that ſpared it contrary to juſtice? II. That, Lapſed man being utterly unable to pay this debt, to undergo this (n) Death eternal without ſinking under it, and being ſwallowed up wholly by it for ever, The Lord was pleaſed to (o) find out a ſufficient Suerty that ſhould fully pay the debt, by undergoing Death, (even a Death through the (p) infinite dignity of his perſon, equivolent to Eternal, viz. JESUS CHRIST, (q) God-man. III. That, Jeſus Chriſt, God-man our only Mediatour and Surety by his obedience and Death, did make a proper, real and full Satisfaction to Gods juſtice for the Sins of all his Elect; Wherewith God is for ever well pleaſed, Iſa. 53. 4, 5, 6, 8, 10, 11, 12. Rom. 5. 8, 9, 10, 19. I lay down my life for the ſheep, John 10. 15. of man came not to be ministred unto, but to Minister, and to give his Life (λύτρον) A Ransome for many. (f) — Who gave himself (ἀντίλυτρον i.e. precium-ex-adverso-respondens; vel (t) æquale-redemptionis-precium) a full Ransome for all. That is for all that he would have come to the knowledge of the truth, as in the (u) former verse: viz not absolutely all, but of all sorts some. Again, (x) — But now once in the end of the world, hath he appeared to put away sin by the Sacrifice of himself. (y) — By his own Blood he entred in once into the Holy-place, having obtained (αἰωνίαν λύτρωσιν) Eternal Redemption for us. (z) — In whom we have (ἀπολύτρωσιν) Redemption through his blood, even the forgiveness of sins. Now how acceptable this Ransome, this Price of our Redemption was to God, the Apostle declares; Partly, By Comparing Christs Death to the most fragrant perfume of Incense; (a) — Christ hath loved us, and hath given himself for us, an offering and a Sacrifice to God for a sweet smelling savour. Partly, by declaring how (b) God preferred this one Sacrifice of Christs dying before all the Sacrifices of the Law whatsoever. Partly by the Event and Effects of Christs offering up himself once, viz. (c) His Sitting down at Gods right hand; His perfecting them for ever that are Sanctified; His utter taking away all Need of any more Expiatory Sacrifice for Sin. By all these passages and expressions it is very evident, That Christ hath by his Death and blood, as an (d) invaluable price of our Redemption, made full Satisfaction to Gods justice for the sins of all his Elect, and that God hath fully accepted the same for ever. So that now the mercy of God may embrace the Sinner without the least impeachment of wrong to his Truth or Justice. IV. That, Jesus Christ having fully satisfied Gods justice for the sins of all his Elect, by his Death and Blood, (the incomparable price of their Redemption,) hath thereby meritoriously purchased and obtained for all his Elect Remission of Sins, even their everlasting Relaxation and freedom from the Guilt of sin: that is, from their Obligation to Death, even to all Punishment properly so called, Temporal, Spiritual and Eternal. This is very plain by that expression of Pauls in two of his Epistles; (e) In whom we have Redemption through his blood, even the forgiveness of Sins. Here note, 1. A great benefit obtained for us by Christ; viz. Redemption. From what? From Sin, Heb. 9 13, 14. 1 Pet. 1. 18, 19. From the Wrath of God, 1 Thes. 1. 10. From the power of darkness, Col. 1. 13, 14. From the Curse of the Law, Gal. 3. 13. 2. The way how Christ obtained this Redemption for us, viz. through his blood. By paying of his matchless price. 3. The Interpretation of this Redemption by way of apposition; viz. Even Remission of Sins. Gods justice being satisfied by the price of our Redemption, Christs blood: Remission of sins is obtained for us. His Redeeming us from wrath, takes off our guilt and obligation to eternal Condemnation: and this is properly Remission of Sins.

Thus though God remit our ſins moſt freely, as touching us, who cannot deſerve it, but the Contrary; yet he remits our ſins juſtly, as touching Chriſt, who hath meritoriouſly purchaſed and obtained it by his Death. Remiſsion of ſins coſt Chriſt dear: though it coſt us nothing. Remiſsion of ſins drops down from God to us through Chriſts wounds; and ſwims to us in Chriſts blood. Oh kiſs thoſe wounds with the lips of Faith; Oh drink that precious blood with the mouth of Faith: And then All thy Sins, All thy guilt, All thy condemnation ſhall flee away. I conclude this Poſition with that of Ambroſe; (f) I have not whence I may glory in mine own works, I have not whence I may boaſt my ſelf: and therefore I will glory in Chriſt. I will not glory that I am righteous: but I will glory, that I am redeemed. I will glory, not becauſe I am without ſin: but becauſe my ſins are forgiven. I will not glory becauſe I have profited, or becauſe any hath profited me, but becauſe Chriſt is an advocate with the Father for me, but becauſe the blood of Chriſt is ſhed for me.

(f) Non habeo igitur unde gloriari in operibus meis poſſim, non habeo unde me jactem; & ideo gloriabor in Chriſto. Non gloriabor quia juſtus ſum, ſed gloriabor quia redemptus ſum. Gloriabor, non quia vacuus peccati ſum, ſed quia mihi remiſſa ſunt peccata. Non gloriabor, quia profui, neq; quia profuit mihi quiſpiam, ſed quia pro me advocatus apud Patrem Chriſtus eſt, Sed quia pro me Chriſti ſanguis effuſus eſt. *Ambroſ. de Iacob & vita beat. lib. 1. cap 6. pag.290,291. Hence, The Popiſh Doctrine of Mans own Satisfaction in part for his Sins, is moſt derogatory to the plenary and compleat Satisfaction of Jeſus Chriſt for all the Puniſhment Temporal, Spiritual and Eternal due for the ſins of the Elect, whereby the guilt of all their ſins is univerſally removed. Papiſts ſay, (g) This univerſal Remiſsion of ſin by Chriſts ſatisfaction hath place in the firſt Remiſsion, which is by Baptiſm: But not in the Second Remiſsion, which is given to them that Sin after Baptiſm; In which, Eternal puniſhment is remitted to the penitent, but not Temporal Puniſhment. And (h) that this Temporal Puniſhment is to be endured before a man can enter into the Kingdom of Heaven. 1. Either here in this life by Laborious works, patiently endured; viz. (1) Puniſhments inflicted by God, (2) Enjoyned by the Prieſt, Or (3) Voluntarily undertaken, as Faſtings, Prayers, Alms, &c. 2. Or hereafter in Purgatory in the life to come. But this is (i) a wretched Doctrine, Robbing Chriſt of the Glory of his full Satisfaction which belongs to him, And Attributing to ſinful man a Satisfaction which cannot belong to him, Contrary to what hath been ſaid, and to the clear current of Scripture. So that I need add no more by way of Refutation.

I ſay, Actually: Becauſe Pardon of ſin (Though (k) Purpoſed and Decreed of God, before all time, in which ſenſe God may be ſaid to Remit ſin Decretorily; And though (l) Purchaſed and obtained for all Gods elect by the meritorious Obedience and Death of Chriſt, Christ, in fulness of time, in which sense God may be said to Remit Sin Meritoriously; yet) is not Actually Applied to any Person in due time, but onely to such as truly Believe in Jesus Christ for Pardon, and sincerely Repent of all their sins which they desire to have Pardoned, As afterwards shall be evidenced. Again I say, In his ordinary dispensation: Because of Elect Infants, who dying in their Infancy doubtless are pardoned and justified in and through Jesus Christ, applied unto them by the Spirit of God extraordinarily, according to his unsearchable Wisdom and Counsels, although they attain not to the actual exercise of Faith & Repentance. Yet (m) Luther held that Elect Infants have actual Faith: Calvin, P. Martyr, Whitaker, and others of our acute Protestant Writers, though they dare not go so far, yet they hold they may have Faith as they have Reason, in Principio & Radice, In the Principle Root or Fountain: As the Reasonable soul in them is the Principle and Root of Reason, so the Spirit of God in them is the Principle and Root of Faith. However it be that Elect Infants are Pardoned, Justified and Saved, it must needs be confessed to be in an Extraordinary, not in an Ordinary way. Now setting aside this Extraordinary case, God actually remits sin unto none but such as truly Believe and Repent. Faith and Repentance are in Order of Nature Antecedaneous unto Actual Remission of sins, and pre-required in the Subject to be Pardoned before the Actual application of Pardon to the Soul. But differently. Faith is prerequired, as An Instrumental Cause or Mean for the Reception of the Pardon promised from God in Christ. Repentance is pre-required as a Necessary Qualification of the Sinner for Pardon. But neither of them are pre-required for any merit or desert thereof to the Procuring of pardon from God. God will not pardon without Faith and without Repentance: yet he doth not pardon for Faith and for Repentance, but only for Christ. This is discreetly to be considered, and still to be remembred. Now the Necessity of Faith and Repentance unto Pardon, may thus appear.

(m) Vide Guilhelm. Whitaker. Prælection. de Baptism. Q. 4 cap 5. & 6. p. 282 ad 294. Francofurt. 1624.

I. True Faith in Jesus Christ according to the Promise is Pre-required as a Necessary instrumental Mean to the actual Perception, Reception and Application of Remission of sins: without which theres no Actual Remission of sins, as hath been explained. This is evident by many Scriptures. (n) —— To him give all the Prophets witness, that through his Name whosoever believeth in him, shall receive Remission of sins. (o) —Through this man is preached unto you the forgiveness of sins. And by him all that believe are justified from all things, from which ye could not be justified by the Law of Moses. That is, All believers are justified from all their sins, have remission of all their sins by Jesus Christ really and effectually, which the Rites and Ceremonies of the Law without him could never afford, they being only Types and Shadows of the vertue of Christ that should afterwards be revealed, and they (p) being often repeated, (n) Acts 10. 43.

(o) Acts 13. 38, 39.

(p) Heb. 10. 1, 2, 3.

because of their insufficiency to take away sins, till Christ the life and substance of them all came. One Christ crucified is of more avail and efficacy for Remission of sins, then all the Sacrifices, Purgations, Washings and Ceremonies of the Law. (q) To open their eyes, and to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God, That they may receive forgiveness of sins, and inheritance among them which are sanctified, by Faith that is in me. Faith (as (r) Calvin hath well noted) is here to be referred to the totum complexum: Not to the word Sanctified, as if the Apostle intended to shew they were Sanctified by Faith; but rather to the word Receive, Faith being here declared to be the Hand or Instrumental Mean whereby we Receive both Remission of sins, and Inheritance among the Sanctified. That of Pauls also, touching Justification, is very pregnant; — Being justified freely by his grace, through the Redemption that is in Jesus Christ: whom God hath set forth to be a propitiation through Faith in his blood, to declare his righteousness for the remission of sins that are past, through the forbearance of God, Rom. 3. 24, 25. And all such Scriptures as declare, that we are justified by Faith, (as Rom. 3. 28. 30. & 4. 5, 9, &c. & 5. 1. Gal. 2. 16. with sundry others) do also imply that we have Remission of sins by Faith: Remission being part of our Justification.

II. Sincere Repentance from all sin, and from all dead works, is also pre-required as a Necessary & Congruous Qualification of the Subject that shall receive Pardon of sin. As; (s) — Repent and turn your selves from all your transgressions: so iniquity shal not be your ruine. Christ said after his Resurrection; (t) Thus it is written, and thus it behoved Christ to suffer, and to rise from the dead the third day: And that Repentance and Remission of sins should be preached in his Name among all Nations, beginning at Jerusalem. Thus Peter urged his Hearers to Repent in order to their Remission of sins; (u) Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the Name of Jesus Christ, for the Remission of Sins. Repentance qualifies for Remission of sins, and Baptism Sacramentally assures of that Remission. (x) — Him hath God exalted with his right hand to be a Prince and a Saviour, for to give Repentance to Israel, and forgiveness of Sins. But first Repentance, and then Forgiveness of Sins. (y) — Repent therefore of this thy wickedness, and pray God, if perhaps the thought of thine heart may be forgiven thee. So Conversion, under which repentance is comprized, is made the way to the obtaining of Remission of sins by Faith, Acts 26. 18. And Penitent Confession of sin hath the Promise of Remission, 1 Joh. 1. 9. To this effect said Chrysostom, (z) Do thou speak thy sins, that thou mayst blot them out. — Speak of them here: that thou maist not speak of them there. Speak and weep. Thy sins are written in a Book: Thy Tears are a sponge, weep, and they are wiped away: weep, and the Book will be found clear, &c. Not that all the Repentance or Tears in the world, can give any Satisfaction to God for Sin, or any way demerit or deserve Pardon from him, or or make him amends, &c. As Papist and Pharisaical Persons do fondly imagine: But that its very congruous that such as have offended should have a true sense of their offence, bewail it, confess it, and repent of it, when they expect to be forgiven; which (a) brokenness of heart is a spiritual Sacrifice most acceptable unto God.

What the Nature of true (b) Faith and Sincere (c) Repentance is, I have elsewhere already manifested. Now, Forasmuch as God Remits Sin only to them that Sincerely Believe and Repent; and that True Faith and Repentance are Antecedaneous unto Actual Repentance, as the former Scriptures do clearly evince: Therefore, Hence these Consectaries do plainly Result, viz.

1. Hence, Gods Actual Pardon of the Sins of the Elect (and so Consequently their Justification, whereof Pardon of sin is one part,) is not Eternal before all time: but Temporal, and in time. Why? Because Actual (d) Faith and Repentance, which are necessarily pre-required to the Remission of Sins, are only in time. Its true, That from Eternity God Decreed, that all his Elect should Believe and Repent, and so be pardoned and saved: but its as true that the actual execution of this Decree is onely in time. To say that a man is actually Pardoned and Justified from eternity; is, To confound Gods Decrees with the execution of his Decrees, To destroy the use of Faith and Repentance prescribed in Scripture, And to make a man actually Pardoned, before he actually was a Sinner. Which are very Absurd.

2. Hence, Gods Actual Pardon of the sins of his Elect is not an Immanent, but a Transient Act. Because it is not Eternal, before all time: but Temporal, in due time. Now this is the difference betwixt Gods Immanent and Transient Acts. 1. His Immanent Acts abide in God, producing no real effect out of him, as his Decree, &c. but his Transient Acts make a real effect without, as Creation, Providence, &c. 2. His immanent act, is the same with his essence, and eternal; Gods Decree is God Decreeing, Gods will is God willing, &c. But his Transient Acts are the same with the Effect wrought. By which its plain, That Gods Actual Remission of Sin is not an Immanent, but a Transient Act.

3. Hence, Unto Actual Remission of Sins, The Co-operation of all the Causes of Remission is required. It is not enough, That there be The Efficient Impulsive Cause, Gods free-grace; Or the Meritorious Cause, Christs Death: but there must be also the Instrumental Cause, True Faith. None of these Con-causes can be left out. Till they all meet together in their Influence and Activity, the Effect of Remission is not actually produced. And the Instrumental Cause is in its kind as necessary, as the Impulsive and Meritorious Causes in their kind.

4. Hence, All that desire to have Remission of Sins actually conferred upon them, must sincerely endeavour to be partakers of Actual Faith and Repentance. Its not enough that God freely wils the pardon pardon of his Elect, and that Christ hath dearly bought it by his blood, but they must also actually believe in this Christ and his death, and repent of their sins, if they mean that Pardon shall be actually theirs.

(d) That Faith and Repentance are Antecedents to Justification; is judiciously proved by sundry Arguments, and the contrary Arguments or Objections resolved by my learned and godly Brother M. Anth. Burges, in his True Doctrine of Justification. Lect. xx. xxi. xxii.

5. Hence, As Actual Faith and Repentance are necessary for the first application of Pardon at our first Conversion: so the Renewed Acts of Faith and Repentance are alike necessary for the After Applications of Pardon after Relapses. When (c) David and (f) Peter fell into New sins after their Conversion and Justification: they renewed their Repentance and Faith, for the obtaining of Remission: and so must we. And becaufe we sin daily, we are (g) taught by our Saviour to beg Pardon daily. That the Medicine may be as frequent, as the Malady.

(f) Mat. 26. 69. to the end.
(g) Mat. 6. 12.

6. Hence, All such Persons as are Pardoned actually, are sanctified effectually. For, none are pardoned but such as truly Believe and Repent: And whereſoever there's Actual Faith and Repentance, there's (h) Effectual Habitual Sanctification, whence they are disposed and enabled to Believe and Repent. Acts presuppose Habits. By the Truth therefore of our Sanctification, we may proceed to Assurance of the Remission of our sins and Justification. And on the contrary we may certainly conclude, That such Persons as are unsanctified, are out of doubt un-pardoned.

(h) Act. 26. 18. Rom. 8. 29, 30.

Posit. IX. That, When God actually and savingly Pardons Sin to the believing and repenting Sinner, He pardons fully and finally All his Sins Past and Present, but not his Sins to come.

This Position hath in it three branches very considerable. When God savingly Pardons sin to any, 1. He pardons all sin past and present fully without exception. 2. He pardons all such sins finally, without Revocation. 3. He pardons no future sins by way of Anticipation.

1. When God Pardons Sin savingly to the true Believing and Penitent Person, He Pardons all Sin Past and Present fully and absolutely without Exception. He Pardons Original Sin, whether Original Sin Originating, even their first Sin in Adam, in whom all sinned, Rom. 5. 12.. Or Original Sin Originated; Even the corruption of Nature, Psal. 51. 5. Job. 3. 6. He pardons all past and present Actual Sins, of Omission or Commission, of ignorance or against knowledge, weaknesses or wilfulnesses, against God or man, in thought, word or deed, together with all the sinful circumstances and aggravations thereof. When God savingly pardons one, he also pardons all fully. So fully; that he leaves not one Sin behind unpardoned. So fully, that he takes away all the guilt of Sin totally: that a man is wholly freed from all Obligation to punishment properly so called, whether Temporal, Spiritual or Eternal: So fully, that Sin cannot be more fully forgiven, or better pardoned then they are pardoned. This is plain; 1. Partly by Scripture-expressions about Pardon. (i) God Pardons iniquity, transgression and sin. (k) He will cover, He will not impute sin. He Remits (l) Unrighteousnesses, Sinful-Errours, rours, and Unlawfulneſſes. He (m) blots out their Tranſgreſſions as a cloud. He (n) removes our tranſgreſſions from us, as far as the Eaſt is from the Weſt. He (o) caſts all our ſins behind his back. He (p) Subdues our iniquities, he caſts all our ſins into the depths of the Sea, (q) The blood of Jeſus Chriſt cleanſeth us from all ſin. (r) In thoſe daies, and in that time, ſaith the LORD, The iniquity of Iſrael ſhall be ſought for, and there ſhall be none; and the ſins of Judah, and they ſhall not be found: for I will pardon them whom I reſerve. The guilt of ſin ſhall be ſo fully removed, that it ſhall be as if it had never been. That it ſhall never be proſecuted with deſerved puniſhment. O how ſweet and comfortable a bleſsing is this to every true belie ving and penitent ſoul! None can know it, but they that taſte it. For from theſe and like expreſſions its plain, That God calls not pardoned ſins any more to the touch, nor doth exact puniſhments for them from his reconciled people. For, if God Puniſh ſin, He ſtill imputes it. If he revenge ſin, he Remembers it. If he calls it into judgement, he doth not cover it. If he examine it, he caſts it not behind his back If he behold it and look into it, he doth not blot it out as a cloud. If he ventilate and ſcan it, he doth not caſt it into the bottom of the Sea. To this effect ſaid Auguſtine; (s) Sins are covered, are hid, are aboliſhed. If God hath covered Sins, he will not advert them; If he will not advert, he will not animadvert them; If he will not animadvert, he will not Puniſh, he will not acknowledge them, he had rather Pardon them. Why doth he ſay, Sins covered? That they might not be ſeen. For what was Gods ſeeing ſins, but his Puniſhing ſins? So Hierom, (t) That which is covered is not ſeen, is not imputed: that which is not imputed, ſhall not be puniſhed. —— And a little before that; Whoſe ſins are covered] that is, That by Repentance here, ſins may be vailed, leſt in the judgement they ſhould be revealed. Hence, (u) that Verſe in the Old Gleſſes and Canons, (perhaps taken out of Proſper) which I may thus Engliſh; God Pardons all, or none, To each repenting one. 2. Partly, by Reaſon. For, (1) The ſame (x) Free-grace, that inclined God to pardon one ſin, doth as much incline him to pardon all ſins. (2) The ſame Merit of Chriſt and blood of Chriſt, that hath purchaſed Remiſsion for one ſin, hath alſo done it for all. (3) The ſame perſon that truly repents of one ſin, repents of all: that believes in Chriſt for pardon of one ſin, believes in him for the pardon of all.

II. When God pardons sin, he pardons all sin past and present finally and utterly for ever, without Revocation. No after Sins shall make God revoke his former Pardons. No New sins into which a justified person may fall, shall make void Gods Old pardons, or bring his old Sins to be imputed to him again, unless he re-engage himself sinfully in his old sins again. For, 1. Scripture is very expres for this: therein God assuring his people of their final pardon. (y) I, even I am he that blotteth out thy transgressions for mine own sake, and will not remember thy sins. (z) — But if the wicked will turn from all his Sins that he hath committed, — All his transgressions that he hath committed, they shall not be mentioned unto him; that is, Not one of them all shall be mentioned or imputed to him, &c. (a) — I will forgive their iniquity, and their Sins and their unlawfulnesses will I remember no more. (b) Their iniquities shall be sought for, but they shall not be found, there shall be none. 2. Gods (c) counsel and love is immutable, his gifts and calling (viz. The gifts of his effectual calling) are without repentance. Therefore God will not revive the guilt of pardoned sins.

Object. 1. But its said, (d) When the righteous man turneth away from his righteousness, and commits iniquity, — All his righteousness that he hath done shall not be mentioned: in his trespass that he hath trespassed, and in his sin that he hath sinned, in them shall he dye. Therefore the guilt of sin remitted may be revived. Answ. Not so. For, 1. This Commination doth not necessarily conclude, That a truly righteous man shall thus fall to all the abominations of the wicked: but is an holy caution and means sanctified to him to keep him from such falling, and dying in his sins. 2. The intent of this place, is not so much to shew the righteous mans infirmity, (who of himself, without divine grace upholding, might quickly miscarry): as to set forth the most righteous Gods equity and equality in his proceedings. If a righteous man should become wicked (which yet is not possible, upon supposition of divine Grace, &c.) the righteous God would deal with him as with the wicked. 3. Nothing in this Scripture implyes a Revocation of the guilt of Old sins formerly pardoned, but only a punishment for other new sins since committed.

(d) Ezek. 18. 24, 26.

Object. 2. But in the Parable it is intimated, that (e) The debt formerly remitted by God, may again be exacted, in case we forgive not one another. Answ. 1. The direct scope of this Parable is, not to shew that when we commit New sins, God will charge the guilt of old sins upon us, that have been already pardoned; but to teach us, That unless we forgive one another, we cannot comfortably and groundedly believe that God doth or will forgive us, we are not qualified for his Pardons. This is plain from the Reddition of the Parable, ver. 35. 2. Besides (f) the scope of Parables, there's nothing in them Argumentative.

(e) Mat. 18. 23. to the end. Especially ver. 27, 34.

(f) Theologia Parabolica non est Argumentativa.

gumentative. In a Sword, There's hilt, and back, and edge; but only the edge cuts: In an Instrument there's wood, and braß, and belly, and frets, and strings, but only the strings do make the melody: So there are many passages in parabolical Scriptures subservient to the main Scope, which must only be understood with tendency and reference thereunto. The Scope of a Parable, is the Key of a Parable.

III. Though God Pardons all sin Past and Present to the true Believing and penitent Soul, yet he pardons not any sin to come, by way of Anticipation. God actually pardons no sin, before it be committed: though God hath declared the Pardon thereof before, and Christ hath purchased Pardon before. God so provides for his Elect already pardoned, by supplies of constant grace, that future sins shall be so repented of, and pardoned, that they shall never be (g) condemned for them: But sins are not Remitted by God, before they be Committed by us. For. 1. Scripture speaks of Pardon of sin, still in reference to sins past or Present; not to sins to come. As, 2 Sam. 12. 13. Jer. 33. 8. Ezek. 18. 22. 1 Joh. 2. 1. 2. Gods actual Pardon is his (h) remembring of sin no more. Properly (i) things Past or Present are remembred or not remembred; but not things to Come. 3. God actually pardons no sin, but to such as actually repent of sin, as hath been shewed; now no man actually repents of any sin to Come, but only of sin Past or Present. 4. If sin to come be pardoned to the Elect, as well as sin past and present, then they need not daily pray that Petition as Christ hath taught them, (k) Forgive us our Debts, as we forgive our Debtors. But that's false. 5. If future sin be pardoned before it be acted, Then it need not be confessed nor repented of when it shall be acted, because it is already forgiven. But this is (l) repugnant both to Scripture directions, and the Practises of the Saints.

Posit. X. That, Gods Elect whose Sins are Pardoned, do daily need Renewed Pardons, for future and renewed Sins.

This is very evident. For,

1. The best and holiest of all Gods Pardoned people whilest they continue in this life, have still (m) Original corruption remaining in them; (n) whence they daily break forth into many actual offences, viz. invincible Infirmities, and sometimes into grosser sins, As Noah into drunkenness, Lot into incest, David into murder and adultery, Solomon into Idolatry, Peter into cursing, swearing and denying of his Master. Insomuch that David said, (o) Who can understand his errours? cleanse thou me from secret faults. Keep back thy servant also from presumptuous sins, &c. James said; (p) In many things we offend all. And John is very peremptory, saying; (q) If we say that we have no sin, we deceive our selves, and the truth is not in us. — If we say that we have not sinned, we make him a lyar, and his word is not in us. In the former ſpeech he ſeems to intend our Original, in the latter our Actual ſins. And ſure if we ſin daily, we had need to be pardoned daily. If we daily contract defilements, we daily need cleanſings from thoſe defilements.

2. God ſees and obſerves the ſins of his own people, and is diſpleaſed at them, yea ſometimes judges them ſeverely. Chriſt heard Peter Denying, Curſing and Swearing: and (r) the Lord looked upon Peter. God obſerved Davids Murder and Adultery, was (s) diſpleaſed at them, and did many waies ſeverely plague them. God took notice of the (t) Corinthians prophanations of the Lords Supper, for which cauſe he ſo judged them, that many of them were ſick and weak, and many ſlept. If then our renewed ſins after Pardon, are renewed Offences againſt God, we have need of Renewed Remiſſions from God.

(u) Mat. 6. 12.

Poſit. XI. That, Pardon of ſin, though full without exception, and final without Revocation, yet is not Compleat and Conſummate in this preſent life, till the very day of Judgement.

That this is ſo, is evident by the Teſtimony of Peter, (x) Repent ye therefore and be converted, that your ſins may be blotted out, when the times of Refreſhing ſhall come from the preſence of the Lord. Though ſin repented of, be now pardoned and blotted out fully and irrevocably, yet there remains ſome further blotting out to be accompliſhed when the times of Refreſhing ſhall come. What times are thoſe? The times of the laſt Judgement. Then all the Elect ſhall be raiſed from the Dead, or changed from Mortality: Then all their Souls ſhall be re-united to their Bodies for ever: Then all their Sins, Miſeries and Enemies ſhall be removed for ever: Then they ſhall meet Chriſt in the air, be ſet at his right hand, receive their bliſsful Sentence; Go into Eternal life, and be ever with the Lord. O what glorious refreſhments will theſe be! well may thoſe times be ſtiled, Times of Refreſhing.

(x) Acts 3. 19.

But, How ſhall our ſins be blotted out at the times of Refreſhing, at the laſt Judgement, ſo as not till then? Anſw. 1. Then, and not till then, All the ſcars of our guilt ſhall be taken away. All our guilt, all our obligation to due and proper Puniſhment for ſin, is now in this life removed aſſoon as we are pardoned; but the ſcars of this guilt, viz. Afflictions, chaſtiſements, corporal death, grave, corruption, &c. will remain till the laſt Judgement But (y) then even all theſe very ſcars of ſin and guilt ſhall be totally and finally wiped away. 2. Then, and not till then, All the Elect of God ſhall be ſo compleatly aſſured of the Pardon of their ſins, as that there ſhall not be left in their hearts the leaſt doubt, fear, ſcruple, or beſitancy about it, nor any ſhadow thereof. In this life (z) David himſelf himself had his tremblings about his Pardon, though Nathan had told him from God, The Lord hath put away thy Sin, thou shalt not dye. 3. Then, and not till then, The Elect of God will all of them be beyond sinning, and consequently none of them shall ever any more need the re-iteration of Pardons. In this world iteration of sins still needs iteration of Pardons. 4. Then, and never till then, The Remission and Absolution of all the Elect of God (a) shall be openly published by Jesus Christ before all the world, of men and Angels, to their everlasting glory.

Posit. XII. That, In Persons savingly Pardoned Sin may remain, yet those Persons are in the account of God no longer Sinners, but Righteous.

Sin may remain in Pardoned Persons, in regard of the (b) In-being, In-dwelling, Inherence or Residence thereof, yea in regard of the stain, spot, pollution or deformity of it, yea in regard of the (c) lustings, warrings & rebellings of it against the Spirit and his Graces, &c. I say, Sin may thus Remain in Pardoned Persons: yet (d) not Reign over them, nor bring (e) Condemnation to them. Yet notwithstanding all this Remining of sin in Pardoned Persons, God accounts them not Sinners, but Righteous. As, Righteous Abel, Heb. 11. 4. Righteous Noah, Heb. 11. 7. Gen. 7. 1. Righteous Abraham, Rom. 4. 11. Righteous Lot, 2 Pet. 2. 7, 8, &c. And they are by this Denomination of Righteous (f) Contra-distinguished from the wicked. Yea God accounts them so Righteous, as if they had never been unrighteous: So righteous, that they are called Righteousness it self, yea (g) the Righteousness of God in Christ. Oh what riches of Free-grace mercy and loving kindness, do flow and overflow from God in Christ to a poor Sinner in this Remission of his sins! who would not believe, who would not repent, who would not be content to do any thing or be any thing, that he may be fitted for this blessed Remission?

Posit. XIII. That Sometimes Sin may be universally and savingly Pardoned, when yet The sense of that Pardon may be suspended, and the contrary sense of Gods displeasure for sin may be continued.

This was Davids Case. Nathan (h) had Pronounced his pardon to him from the Lord: and yet Davids Spirit wanted the sweet sense of that Pardon from God; which therefore he so (i) vehemently and frequently begs, still bleeding under the sense of Gods displeasure. Nathan had spoken Pardon to his ear: but God had not yet spoken Pardon to his Heart. He had Gods salvation: but he wanted the Joy of Gods Salvation. He had Gods Spirit: but he wanted the Stablishment of his spirit. The Lord had put away Davids sin from his eye: But David could not put away his Sin from his own eyes, (k) my Sin is ever before me. The LORD by pardoning and acquitting David from Death, had Reconciled him again unto God, and ſo had knit again his broken bones: but yet for all that the bones which God had broken could not rejoyce. Now God may for a time Continue upon a pardoned Soul the ſenſe of his Diſpleaſure, and with-hold from him the comfortable ſenſe and apprehenſion of the Pardon of ſin vouchſafed; for many Cauſes. As, 1. To humble the Soul more deeply for ſome notorious and ſcandalous ſin into which he hath fallen, and make him experimentally feel the Wormwood and the Gall of ſuch an offence upon his heart. Davids ſin (l) was great and Scandalous: God therefore keeps his Conſcience upon the Rack, and with-holds his wonted ſmiles even after Pardon, that David might throughly perceive the extream ſinfulneſs of his ſins. Slender cuts are ſoon healed up, but deep and dangerous wounds require the longer Cure. And in ſome caſes ſcarifying and launcing, yea opening of a vein to bleed a while, are moſt approved for making a ſafe and ſpeedy Cure. 2. To warn the offender, and others alſo by his example, to beware of like ſins for time to come, which coſt the ſoul ſo dear, before Reſtitution. We never read, that David fell into thoſe ſins again: (m) for which his bones were ſo ſorely broken-to-ſhivers. Nor that Peter ever denyed his Maſter again: after he had (n) lamented his denyal with bitter Tears. And what Pardoned ſoul, Conſidering theſe inſtances, even trembles not at the thoughts of ſuch ſins, reſolving by divine Grace aſſiſting (o) not to buy Repentance at ſo dear a rate, nor for a few vaniſhing pleaſures of ſin to contract ſuch deep, and painful, and laſting wounds upon the Conſcience. 3. To Commend ſo much the more unto the Soul the ſweetneſs of Pardon, peace, and reconcilement to God in Jeſus Chriſt, when true apprehenſions thereof ſhall again be recovered. Health is alwaies pleaſant, but moſt pleaſant after ſome deep and dangerous ſickneſs; The Haven is alwaies welcom, but never more welcom then after the rougheſt and violenteſt Tempeſt; life is alwaies ſweet, but to be reſtored to life from the brink of the Grave is a double life. So here, After deepeſt terrours of Conſcience, Peace is moſt welcom; After the Gall of ſin, Pardon is moſt ſweet; After the long frowns of God, his ſmiles are moſt pleaſant to the ſoul. 4. To teach his people wiſdom, tenderneſs and Compaſſionateneſs to the Souls of others in like diſtreſſes. To make them of Patients, experimental Phyſitians. (p) Reſtore unto me (ſaid David) the joy of thy ſalvation; and uphold me with thy free ſpirit. Then will I teach tranſgreſſors thy wayes, and Sinners ſhall be converted unto thee. Paſſion, breeds compaſſion: Suffering, Sympathizing. And oft-times they prove the beſt and tendereſt bone-ſetters, who themſelves have had experience of broken bones.

Poſit. XIV. That, Whereſoever God Remits ſin, not imputing it to the Sinner unto Condemnation: there he accepts the perſon as righteous, imputing Chriſts Righteouſneſs to him unto Juſtification.

Not,

Not, that Gods Remiſsion of ſins, and acceptation of our perſons as righteous, are one thing, or ought to be confounded, (for they are very diſtinct branches of Iuſtification:) But that in regard of Gods actual application of them they ought not to be divided. No mans ſins are remitted for Chriſt: but his perſon alſo is accepted of God as righteous in Chriſt. Theſe are twin-bleſſings, and go together. For, 1. How abſurd were it to imagine, That God may have pardoned all a mans ſins, and yet his perſon remain abhorred of God as an unrighteous Sinner? 2. In Order of Nature, Acceptation of our perſons as righteous, for Chriſts imputed righteouſneſs, goes before the Remiſsion of our ſins in Chriſt, and is as the cauſe thereof: for Chriſts righteouſneſs actually imputed to us, as the matter of our righteouſneſs, is the foundation of our Remiſsion, viz. That robe whereby our ſins are Covered, that Fountain whereby our ſins are cleanſed, That medicine whereby our ſins are healed. So that he who hath his Sins remitted, muſt alſo be looked upon as a Iuſtified Perſon.

Hence, from the whole that hath been ſaid touching Remiſsion of ſins, It may be briefly thus deſcribed; REMISSION OF SINS (viz. univerſal Remiſſion) is a Special act of Gods Grace whereby he fully and finally abſolves or acquits all and every one of his Elect, ſincerely Believing and Repenting, and them only, from the offence, and guilt of all their Sins, that is, from all obligation to any proper puniſhment for them, Temporal, Spiritual and Eternal, for the plenary and meritorious ſatisfaction made for their ſins to the Iuſtice of God by the Obedience, Death and blood of IESUS CHRIST their only Mediator and Surety apprehended and applyed by Faith unfeigned. The Confirmation and Explication of this Deſcription is eaſily deducible from what hath been ſaid already, and therefore avoiding Repetitions, I thither refer the Reader for his further ſatisfaction.

Queſtion III. Whether thoſe that have their Sins Remitted, may know that they are Remitted: and how this may be known?

Reſolution. I ſhall briefly ſatisfie this Queſtion in theſe four Particulars, viz.

1. That, It is a moſt Excellent, Comfortable and Deſirable-Mercy, To know that our ſins are forgiven. For,

1. By knowing that our ſins are forgiven, we may know that Gods (q) wrath is appeaſed, and that the guilt of all proper (r) Puniſhment, Curſe and Condemnation for ſin is for ever removed from us. When God pardons us, he ceaſeth to be wrathful with us; And he removes all our Guilt or Obligation to deſerved

(q) Mic. 7. 18, 19.
(r) 2 Sam. 12. 13. Heb. 8. 12.

deſerved puniſhment from us. To have theſe removed is a great deliverance: To know they are removed is a double deliverance.

2. By knowing that our ſins are forgiven, we may know that we are brought into a Bleſſed Condition. For, (f) O the bleſſednesses of him whoſe tranſgreſſion is forgiven, whoſe ſin is covered! O the bleſſednesses of the man, unto whom the LORD imputeth not iniquity. Its a moſt ſweet thing to be bleſſed: but its a double ſweetneſs to know that we are bleſſed.

(f) Pſal. 32. 1, 2.

3. By knowing that our ſins are forgiven, we may know, that we are (t) effectually called and converted, That we have unfeignedly (u) repented, That we have unfeignedly (x) believed, and that the (y) blood of Jeſus Chriſt is actually ſprinkled upon our Conſciences by believing. For none are pardoned but ſincere Converts, Penitents and Believers that have Chriſts blood ſprinkled upon their Conſciences. To be ſuch, is Comfortable: To know we are ſuch, is double Comfortable.

(x) Acts 10. 43. & 26. 18.
(y) Rom. 3. 25. Eph. 1. 7.

4. By knowing that our ſins are forgiven, we may know that we ſhall be eternally ſaved. For, (z) — Whom he hath juſtified, them he hath glorified. To be ſaved, how glorious: to know aforehand that we ſhall be ſaved, is glory, upon glory.

(z) Rom. 8. 30.

5. By knowing that our ſins are forgiven, we evidently (a) have Peace with God, Our broken bones rejoyce, we have the joy of Gods ſalvation, we joy in hope of the glory of God, and we glory in Tribulation. And to walk before the Lord in the ſenſe and evidence of theſe moſt ſweet enjoyments, is to have an Heaven on Earth, and when we die to paſs from one Heaven unto another.

(a) Rom. 5. 1, 2, 3. Pſal. 51. 8, 12.

II. That, As it is a moſt excellent Priviledge, ſo it is a very difficult Attainment, To know that our iniquities are forgiven. For, 1. Although David was told by Nathan the Prophet that (b) the Lord had put away his ſin, he ſhould not die. Yet even after this, he was deſtitute of this Aſſurance upon his own ſpirit, The Lord did not preſently make it known to his heart, and therefore (c) he begs for pardon and the joy of Gods ſalvation, &c. as fervently as if Nathan had ſaid nothing at all to him about his Pardon. 2. Although The Apoſtles of Chriſt, were (d) all of them (except Judas) waſhed, cleanſed and pardoned, as our Saviour himſelf tells them: yet notwithſtanding for the eſtabliſhing, clearing and increaſing of their aſſurance of Pardon, as well as for other reaſons, Our Saviour teaches them daily to pray; (e) Forgive us our Debts, as we Forgive our Debtors. Pardon of ſin muſt be daily begged; and if by all our Praying we can come to be aſſured our ſins are forgiven, we have obtained a very rich Return to our Prayers. 3. It is by faith eſpecially that we both receive Pardon from God, and alſo come to the knowledge and aſſurance of Pardon Received. Now its a wonderful hard thing to believe that God will Pardon us, and that we are Pardoned, Pardon of ſin in Chriſt being a meer ſupernatural Revelation Revelation of Gods acts of favour without us, and (f) Faith being a meer supernatural Donation from his Spirit within us: unto either of which Natural Reason or Abilities cannot contribute any Assistance, but oftimes rather makes Resistance. 4. Finally, The Multiplicity and Grievousness of our sins committed before Pardon, make assurance of Pardon exceeding hard to be obtained: our frequent lapses into iniquities and infirmities after Pardon, render the assurance of Pardon very difficult to be retained. Our former sins do so amaze and astonish our Consciences, that they can hardly be perswaded of their Pardon: And our Following sins do so blur, soyl and dimm our Evidences, that our Pardon of sin can hardly be discerned. Thus, its a very Hard Matter to know that our sins are forgiven.

(f) Eph. 2. 8.

III. That, Though it be difficult yet it is Possible, to know that our Sins are Forgiven. For, 1. We have (g) Received the Spirit which is of God, that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God. Now the Spirit advanceth our Assurance many wayes, As a (h) Witness, As a (i) Seal, As an (k) Earnest, As a (l) First-Fruits, &c. The Spirit of God helps us to know our Pardon and all our Spirituals which we have of God. 2. Its possible to know that we are effectually Called, Converted and Sanctified, 1 John 3. 14, 24. & 2. 3. & 5. 13. 2 Cor. 13. 5. Consequently its possible to know that we are Justified and Pardoned: For Justification and Remission of Sins are inseparably linked to effectual Calling, Conversion and Sanctification, Rom. 8. 29, 30. Acts 26. 18. 3. Its Possible for Gods people now to know what Gods people knew heretofore: But heretofore Gods people many of them knew that their sins were pardoned. As, Iob; (m) I know that my Redeemer lives, &c. Iob could not know these things, but he must also know his sins were Pardoned. Hezekiah; (n) Thou hast cast all my sins behind thy back. Paul; (o) — Who was before a Blasphemer, and a Persecutor, and injurious. But I obtained Mercy, &c.

(o) 1 Tim. 1. 13, 16.

IV. That, Those that are Pardoned come to know they are forgiven; Extraordinarily, or Ordinarily.

Extraordinarily, As, by the Testimony of a Prophet. So Nathan told David; (p) the LORD hath put away thy Sin, &c. By the immediate Testimony of Jesus Christ in the dayes of his flesh: To his Apostles; (q) ye are clean: To the Palsie-man: (r) Son thy Sins be forgiven thee: To the Penitent woman: (s) And he said unto her, thy Sins are forgiven, &c. But these Extraordinaries may not be drawn into Presidents: We cannot expect to have our Pardon assured in such extraordinary wayes.

(p) 2 Sam. 12. 13.

(q) John 13. 8, 10, 11.
(r) Mark 2. 5, to 13.
(s) Luke 7. 48.

Ordinarily. Thus we may come to know and be assured that our Sins are remitted by certain ordinary Discoveries, Signs or Tokens thereof laid down in the Scriptures. And more especially by these Evidences of the Remission of Sins, viz.

1. By our effectual Calling and Conversion from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God. Effectual Calling and Conversion is still still accompanied (t) with Forgiveneſs of Sins and Juſtification. No unconverted man is pardoned: No Converted man is unpardoned. Now we may try our Converſion by the Newneſs of Heart and Spirit given at Converſion: of which (u) formerly.

2. By the unfeignedneſs and Truth of our Faith. For, Faith is the Hand, the Organ, the Inſtrumental Mean whereby we receive and apply Pardon from God in Chriſt to our ſelves, as hath been evidenced in Poſ. VIII. Queſt. 2. where therefore theres unfeigned Faith apprehending: theres ſaving pardon of ſin apprehended. Now we may try our Faith by the Nature and Acts of true juſtifying Faith (x) formerly deſcribed.

3. By the Sincerity of Repentance required, as a Qualification rendring the Subject fit and capable of Pardon. Repentance and Remiſſion of Sins, ſtill go together; as hath in Poſ. 8. Queſt. 2. been already manifeſted. Make ſure of thy ſincere Repentance, and thy Repentance makes thee ſure of Remiſſion. Try thy Repentance by the Nature and Characters of true Repentance which I have (y) elſewhere unfolded. Pardoned Sinners do of all other moſt abandon and abhor their ſins.

4. By the integrity of true affectionate Soul-melting Love to Jeſus Chriſt. Where ſins are pardoned: Chriſt, pardoning thoſe ſins, is moſt dearly and intirely affected. This is moſt eminently obſervable in the Penitent woman; (z) — Her ſins, which are many, are forgiven, for ſhe loved much. [For] Is not here to be taken cauſally, but illatively. Her love was not any antecedent cauſe, but a conſequent fruit and effect of her Pardon. She was not forgiven, becauſe ſhe loved much: but ſhe loved much, becauſe many ſins were forgiven her. And that this was directly our Saviours meaning, is evident by the next words; But to whom little is forgiven, the ſame loveth little. But whom did this pardoned woman love ſo much? Jeſus Chriſt that Pardoned her. But how did ſhe teſtifie her great Love to Chriſt? (a) She ſtood at his feet behind him weeping, and began to waſh his feet with tears, and did wipe them with the hairs of her head, and kiſſed his feet, and anointed them with ointment. Oh what actions! What affections towards Chriſt! His pardoning mercy overcame her. She had nothing too good, nothing good enough for Chriſt, Therefore ſhe beſtows all her higheſt expreſſions, her weeping, her waſhing, her wiping, her kiſſing, her anointing, upon his meaneſt and loweſt part, his feet. Haſt thou like Love and Affections towards Chriſt? Then thou haſt received like Remiſſion of Sins from Chriſt. The trial of true Love to Chriſt I have (b) elſewhere diſcovered.

5. By an hearty and ſincere Diſpoſition, Inclination and Propenſity to pardon the injuries and offences done againſt us by our brethren. He that is forgiven of God his (c) ten thouſand Talents: can willingly forgive man his hundred pence. None can more readily forgive, then ſuch as are forgiven. Hence (d) Chriſt makes our forgiveneſs of one another to be a great argument and Sign that we ſhall be, yea are Thus of the third Queſtion, whether we may know that our Sins are pardoned? and how we may know it.

Queſtion. IV. Wherein Gods Remiſſion of ſins under the New Covenant, differs from, and excels the Remiſſion of Sins that was under the Old Covenant?

Reſolution. This Queſtion is ſomewhat intricate: And might eaſily occaſion a very large Diſcourſe, but the volume ſwels too faſt under my hand. Therefore thus I in brief Reſolve, viz.

I. Concedendo; By way of Conceſſion. I grant, That, As this New Covenant differs from, and far excels the Old Covenant, in the Firſt Article, about the Inſcription of Gods Laws in their Minds and Hearts; And in the Second Article, about the Knowledge of the LORD: So in like ſort it differs from, and excels the Old Covenant in this Third Article, about Remiſſion of Sins. Calvin alſo accounts this a third point of difference betwixt the Old and New Covenant, wherein alſo the New excels the Old: ſaying; (f) Here he Treats of the Grace of Regeneration: He Treats of the Gift of Underſtanding: and with all he promiſeth that God will be propitious unto his in another Manner, and more Perfectly then he had been of Old. Here then is a difference betwixt theſe to Covenants: and that difference is diligently to be ſought out.

II. Limitando; By way of Caution and Limitation. That Remiſſion of Sins under the Old Covenant, yea and before alſo, did not in eſſence, ſubſtance and kind differ from Remiſſion under the New Covenant. Remiſſion of Sins was Eſſentially, ſubſtantially and Specifically one and the ſame under the New Covenant and the Old. For,

1. All the Elect of God before and under the Old Covenant, as well as under the New, had their ſins expiated and purged away, and Satisfaction made to the juſtice of God for them, and Remiſſion of ſins, by one and the ſame Sacrifice of Ieſus Chriſt our Mediatour. Hence ſaid Chriſt to the Jews; (g) your father Abraham rejoyced to ſee my day: and he ſaw it, and was glad. Hence Chriſt is called (h) The lamb ſlain from the foundation of the world. He was ſlain in the Decree and Purpoſe of God, before the foundation of the world, 1 Pet. 1. 19, 20. He was ſlain in the Promiſes of God, which fore-implied his death, Gen. 3 15. with Col. 2. 14, 15. Heb. 2. 14, 15. In the antient Sacrifices, which were Types of Chriſts death, Gen. 3. 21. with 4. 3, 4. In the efficacious vertue of his Death, extended and reaching backward towards the foundation of the world, as well as forward towards the Consummation of the World, *Heb.11.4,5,6,&c.* (i) Christs Death profited to Remission and Salvation, Before it was, when it was, and after it was: As the Sun at Mid-day, illuminates not only the Meridian where he is; but also the East backwards whence he came; and the West forwards, whither he is going. Hereupon he is stiled; (k) Jesus Christ the same yesterday, and to day, and for ever. And Peter having reference to the Fathers of old, ascribes the same Salvation of Christ to them and to themselves under the New Covenant; (l) But we believe that through the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, we shall be saved, even as they. They then were saved through the Grace of Christ. Yea the Apostle Paul testifies plainly that it was by Jesus Christ, that they were redeemed from their transgressions and the punishment thereof under the Old Covenant; (m) And for this cause he is the Mediatour of the New Testament, that by means of Death, for the Redemption of the transgressions that were under the First Testament, (that is, of Transgressors from their transgresions and the punishments thereof; for properly, as (n) Beza notes, transgresions are not said to be redeemed,) that they which are called might receive the Promise of eternal inheritance. To like effect is that in Rom. 3.25,26. Where the Apostle shews that by the blood of Christ, Both the Sins of the Iews that were past, And the sins of us now in this present time of the New Testament, were propitiated and forgiven. As (x) Beza excellently expounds the place. To whom (y) Ludovic. de Dieu in effect subscribes. Calvin also thinks (z) the Apostle in that to the Romans had reference to the Legal expiations, which were Testimonies of the future Satisfaction by Christ, &c. There being but one Pacification for all. Dr. (a) Sclater also speaks clearly to this purpose in expounding this text: See his words in the Margin.

(a) To declare his justice, &c.] Followeth now an Amplification of the sins forgiven, by a Distinction or distribution of them, according to several times of Committing. Some were προγεγονότα; that is, Done or Committed, In time, before Christs exhibiting in the flesh. Some after. To both which the merit of Christs passion extends it self: προγεγονόσιν αμαρτημάτων. Divers are the Interpretations; that now spicified, I judge most probable, comparing this place with that Heb. 9. 15. Consent of other Interpreters, both Popish and others might be shewn. Whence the Collection is easie; That, the vertue of Christs Passion reached unto the Fathers of the Old Testament; and that the Lord gave the plenary forgiveness of their sins, respecting the future Humiliation of his Son. This point needed not much proof, but that our Romish adversaries, by a Consequent of their Doctrine, seem to deny it. For Truth of it, see these Scriptures, Acts 15. 11. Joh 8. 56. *Heb.*13.8. Rev. 13.8. And what should let then to infer? That they were admitted to heaven properly so called, without detainment in their Limbus, the skirt of Hell, until Christs coming thither to deliver them.——Now if it be true, 1. Their sins were remitted; 2. They justified and reconciled unto God, by faith in Christ to come; 3. Were adopted for Sons: How can it be imagined that they were thus punished? (And so he goes on, refuting the popish Limbus Patrum, and vindicating the Scriptures abused to maintain it.) *Dr. William Sclater in his Exposition on Rom.*3.25, 26 *p.*326 to 332.

2. The Elect of God before and under the Old Covenant, as well as under the New, were justified, and so consequently had their sins remitted through Faith in Christs blood that afterwards was to be shed. Notable is that of the Apostles to this effect; (b) For all have sinned and come short of the glory of God; being justified freely by his grace, through the Redemption that is in Ieſus Chriſt: whom God hath ſet forth to be a Propitiation through faith in his blood, to declare his righteouſneſs for Remiſſion of ſins that are paſt, (viz. before Chriſts coming) through the forbearance of God. To declare, I ſay, at this time (viz. ſince Chriſts coming) his righteouſneſs: that he might be juſt, and the juſtifier of him that believeth in Jeſus. Thus, by Faith in Chriſt to come was (c) Abel, (d) Enoch, (e) Noah, (f) Abraham, and other (g) believers of old juſtified: and received Remiſſion of ſins. And Paul proving our Remiſſion of ſins and Juſtification by faith without works now under the New Covenant, from Davids deſcription of Remiſſion of Sins, under the Old Covenant, doth plainly give us to underſtand: That Remiſſion of ſins and Juſtification, was for ſubſtance and kind one and the ſame under both Old and New Covenant, Rom. 4. 6, 7, 8. with Pſal. 32. 1, 2. As they who lived in the daies of Chriſt, when he was crucified, had remiſſion of ſins by Faith in Chriſt, then preſent: So they who lived before Chriſt was manifeſted, had remiſsion of ſins by Faith in Chriſt, then future, and promiſed; and we who live ſince Chriſt is exalted at Gods right-hand, have remiſsion of ſins in Chriſt, now Paſt, actually performed and glorified. But all have actual Remiſsion of ſins, Before, At, and after Chriſts coming, only by Faith in him.

III. Explicando; By way of Explication. Remiſsion of Sins under the New Covenant (though ſubſtantially the ſame, yet) Accidentally differs from, and excels the Remiſsion of ſins which was under the Old Teſtament and before, in divers regards. Eſpecially in Spiritualneſs, Clearneſs, Perfectneſs and Extenſiveneſs.

1. In Spiritualneſs. Remiſsion of ſins under the Old Covenant and before, was ſet forth more Carnally and Externally, in certain Outward and (h) Carnal Ordinances, as Gift and Sacrifices, Meats and drinks, divers Waſhings, The blood of bulls and of Goats, The aſhes of an heifer ſprinkling the unclean, &c. all which of themſelves had only a Carnal iſſue and effect, viz. cleanſing or Sanctifying to the purifying of the fleſh, as the Apoſtle plainly declares; but none of them (i) could make him that did the ſervice perfect, as pertaining to the Conſcience. So that Remiſsion of ſins was tendered and applied to them in a very Carnal, Outward and Earthly way. But Remiſsion of ſins under the New Covenant is ſet forth more Spiritually, Internally and Celeſtially, without all thoſe carnal ordinances, viz. in that high and heavenly Sacrifice and blood of Jeſus Chriſt himſelf immediately tendered to us in the word; applied to us and ſprinkled upon us, not with a bunch of Hyſſop, but with a lively faith, prevailing even to purge the very Conſcience from all ſinful guilt and defilements. (k) —— How much more ſhall the blood of Chriſt, who through the eternal Spirit offered himſelf without ſpot to God, purge your Conſcience from dead works to ſerve the living God.

(i) Heb. 9. 9
(k) Heb. 9. 12, 14.

2. In Clearneſs. Remiſsion of Sins under the Old Covenant and before, was repreſented and revealed under a dark veil of Figures, Types and Shadows: As, of the (l) Mercy-seat or Covering of the Ark, which did hide the Tables of the Law, by which is the knowledge of sin; pre-figuring Jesus Christ our true Mercy-seat and Propitiation covering our sins with his righteousness: Of the High-priests taking of two (m) Goats, Sacrificing one for a Sin-offering, and presenting the other alive before the LORD, laying both his hands upon his head, and confessing over him all the iniquities, transgressions and sins of Israel, putting them upon his head, and then sending him away by a fit man into the wilderness, &c. shadowing forth Christs death for our sins, and Resurrection for our justification, his bearing all our sins upon his own body on the tree, and taking quite away from his people all their transgressions, never more to return to them, or be charged upon them: Of (n) sprinkling the unclean with blood and water of purifying, &c. typifying Christs blood, and taking away sin off the Conscience, &c. Now what dark and obscure emblems were these of Remission of sins! and How hard was it to spell out this blessed mysterie of Pardon of sin in such Figures! But Now under the New Covenant, Remission of sin in Christ through Faith is represented clearly, plainly, evidently with open face, all shadows being vanished away, Acts 10.43. & 13.38,39. & 26.18. Rom. 3.23, 24,25,26. Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sins of the world, John 1.29. —— The Blood of Jesus Christ our Lord cleanseth us from all sin, 1 John 1.7. —— Who hath loved us, and washed us from our sins in his own blood, Rev.1.5. Besides, Remission of sins was under the Old Covenant revealed in Christ at a great distance as only Promised, but to come afterwards: Now things promised, future and at a great distance, are beheld dimly and darkly: But now it is revealed in Christ as Performed, As come already, as neer unto us; so that it is beheld conspicuously and with open face.

3. In Perfectness. Under the Old Covenant, Remission of sin was held forth very weakly and imperfectively. There were many Sacrifices, washings, and other Ordinances; because no one was enough: and those many were often repeated year by year, because they were all imperfect. They (o) could not make the comers thereunto perfect, They could not take away the guilt of sin from off the conscience, They could purifie the flesh, but not the Spirit, The Law made nothing perfect, yea in all those Sacrifices there was a Remembrance made again of sin every year, and they were thereby still as it were Accused, Arraigned, Convicted and Condemned afresh as guilty of Death before God for their sins. Therefore there was no safety for the People to rest in any or all those Legal Expiations, they must look further to Christ himself, and there was a necessity of (p) disannulling that administration, because of the weakness and imperfection thereof, it was but the ABC of Pardon, &c. But now Jesus Christ (q) by one Sacrifice of himself for sins once for ever hath perfected for ever them that are sanctified, hath expiated all sin from their their Consciences for ever, so that they shall never need any more expiatory Sacrifice for Sins for ever, then that one Sacrifice once offered. (r) —Through this man is preached unto you forgiveness of sins. And by him all that believe are justified from all things, from which ye could not be justified by the Law of Moses. Yea all the Elect of God which obtained Pardon and Remission of Sins from the beginning of the world till the Incarnation of Christ, (s) had that Remission, not from any Rites, Ceremonies, Sacrifices, Washings, or any such like things, but onely from Jesus Christ and the vertue of his Death apprehended and applied by Faith, Rom. 3. 23, 24, 25, 26. with Heb. 9. 15. So that this New Covenant-Remission of sins, is the Perfection, the Life and Soul of all Remission

4. In Extensiveness. Remission of sins under the Old Covenant was extended to One Nation of the Jews, and some few Gentilish Proselytes laying hold of Gods Covenant with that Nation: and before Gods Old Covenant, only to a few select Families in Covenant with God, as Adam's, Enoch's, Noah's, Abraham's, &c. Pardon of sin, and all saving Blessings till Christ came were under a great restraint, and very Sparingly vouchsafed. But now since Christ, under the New Covenant, which is extended to (t) all Nations, Remission of sins and all other New Covenant-Blessings are likewise universally extended to all Nations of the world without Exception, Heb. 8. 8, 9, 10, 11, 12. Rom. 3. 23, 24, 25, 26. Acts 2. 38, 39. & 13. 38, 39. & 26. 18. This Christ himself testified to his Apostles after his Resurrection, saying; (u) Thus it is written, and thus it behoved Christ to suffer, and to rise from the dead the third day: and that Repentance and REMISSION OF SINS should be preached in his name among ALL NATIONS, beginning at Jerusalem. Now in this Extensiveness of Remission of sins to all Nations, The New Covenant far excels the Old, under which Remission was so limited and restrained.

Hitherto of the first Proposition in this third Article; viz. That (x) Under the New Covenant the LORD God, in and through Jesus Christ will freely, fully and utterly Remit all his true Fœderates sins whatsoever. Herein the Body of this Article hath been unfolded.

Proposition II.

That, God will therefore bestow upon his sincere Fœderates all other the Promised Benefits of the New Covenant, because he will so freely, fully and utterly Remit all their Sins in and for the Satisfaction of Jesus Christ. This Proposition flows from the Causal Particle [For] expressed both by Jeremiah and Paul; (y) For I will forgive their Iniquity, &c. (z) For I will be merciful to their unrighteousnesses, &c. wherein the Lord gives a Reason why he will do all the former things to them,

(r) Acts 13. 38, 39. Rom. 8. 3, 4.

(s) Si quis autem roget, Annon Remissa fuerint Patribus peccata etiam sub Lege? Tenendum est solutio quam ante dixi; Fuisse Remissa, Sed Christi Beneficio; ergo quod ad externas explationes, semper tenebantur reatu alligati. Ioan. Calv. Com. in Heb. 9. 15.

them, why he will write his Law in their Minds and Hearts, why he will be their God, and they shall be his people, why all shall know him from the least to the greatest of them, viz. because he will Remit all their sins freely, fully and utterly, For I will be merciful to their unrighteousnesses, and their sinful errours and their unlawfulnesses will I remember no more. This is here laid down as a Reason, Ground or Foundation of all the former Promised favours. That of Calvin's here I highly approve; (a) Theres no doubt (saith he) but that the Prophet here shews the foundation of this Benefit, because God will be favourable to his people, not imputing their sins. If therefore we seek the Original of the New Testament, it is the gratuitous Remission of sins. Because God reconciles himself to his people. And hence we collect, That we are not to imagine any other cause why God hath appeared in his onely Son, and hath used so much liberality: because here the Prophet brings all the glory of Flesh into nothing, and throws down all merits, when he saith, God will be so liberal towards his people, because he will be propitious, he will forgive their sins, he will not remember their iniquities. So he.

(a) Non dubium est, quin Propheta hic ostendat Fundamentum hujus beneficii, quia scilicet Deus redibit in gratiam cum populo suo, non Imputando peccata. Ergo si originem Novi Testamenti quærimus, &c. Io. Calvin. in Ier. 31. 34.

Now Gods Covenanted Remission of all his sincere Fœderates sins freely, fully and finally, in and for the Satisfaction of Jesus Christ, may well be given in here as a Reason why God will do and perform to them all the fore-promised blessings of this New Covenant. For,

1. God freely giving Jesus Christ for the effecting of Remission of sins for us, will with Christ thus given, freely give us all things. Remission of sins is here Promised with reference and respect to Jesus Christ and his plenary Satisfaction by his Obedience, Sufferings and Death to the justice of God for our sins, in that phrase, ἵλεως ἔσομαι ταῖς ἀδικίαις αὐτῶν, Heb. 8. 12. I will be pacifiedly-favourable to their unrighteousnesses. As I have (b) already shewed in this chapter: and therefore shall not now need to insist any further upon it. God decreed, devised and contrived this way of Redemption of Sinners and Remission of sins, from Eternity, Ephes. 1. 3. to 12. 1 Pet. 1. 18, 19, 20. God accordingly sent his Son in fulness of time in the similitude of sinful flesh (yet without Sin) and for sin, to condemn sin in the flesh, to obtain remission of sins for his Elect, by offering up himself a Sacrifice to Gods justice for their sins, and shedding his blood to expiate, purge and wash them away for ever, without shedding of blood, there being no remission, because otherwise no proper and due Satisfaction for our sins to the justice of God, Gal. 4. 4, 5. Rom. 8. 3. Ephes. 1. 7. Col. 1. 14. Heb. 9. 14, 15, 22. to the end, & 10. 10. to 22. Hence Christ is said, to be an offering, a Sacrifice for sins for Ever, Heb. 10. 12. To be offered to bear the sins of Many, Heb. 9. 28. To bear our sins upon his own body on the Tree, 1 Pet. 2. 24. To redeem us from the Curse, being made a Curse for us, Gal. 3. 13, 14. To be made sin for us, who knew no sin, that we might become the righteousness of God in him, 2 Cor. 5. 21.

To

To love us, and waſh us from our ſins in his own blood, Rev. 1. 5. with many like Expreſsions. Now God giving Chriſt thus for effecting of our Redemption and Remiſsion; what Bleſsing in the world will he ſtick at? (c) He that ſpared not his own Son, but hath delivered him up for us all: How ſhall he not with him alſo freely give us all things? Its an Argument from the Greater to the Leſs. Hath God not ſpared, not withheld A Son, His Son, His own Son; but delivered him up to Humiliation, to Reproach, to Contradiction of ſinners, to Sorrows, to Temptations, to Betraying, to Falſe-accuſing, To Shame and Spitting, to Buffetting, to unjuſt Condemnation, to Death, to Death on the Croſs in Golgotha between two Thieves, to Diſertion for a time, and to Burial in the grave; and this for us all, for us Sinners, for us Enemies to God, for us dead in ſins and treſpaſſes, for us worthleſs, loveleſs wretches, abominable, diſobedient, and to every good work reprobate, &c. How ſhall he not with him freely give us all things! How ſhall not he Call us effectually, Juſtifie us freely, Sanctifie us throughly, Glorifie us eternally, and make all things work together for good to us univerſally! How ſhall not he write his Law in our minds and hearts, Make us all know the Lord from the leaſt to the greateſt, and perform all other New Covenant bleſsings unto us! For, 1. Chriſt is nearer and dearer to God then all things elſe in this or the world to come, Temporals, Spirituals or Eternals; Joh. 3. 16. Mat. 3. 17. Col. 1. 13. Heb. 1. 3. 2. Chriſt is better in himſelf then all things: being over all, God bleſſed for ever, Amen; and the Gift of God; and the Mercy of Mercies, Rom. 9. 5. Heb. 1. 3. Joh. 4. 10. Luke 1. 72. 1 Pet. 2. 10. 3. Chriſt brings all other bleſſings with him, All Temporals, Mat. 6. 33. All Spirituals and Eternals, 1 Tim. 4. 8. 2 Cor. 1. 20. 2 Pet. 1. 3, 4.

(c) Rom. 8. 32.

2. Remiſsion of ſins finds us moſt incapable, leaves us moſt capable of all Saving Bleſsings of the New Covenant. Before God pardon us, what are we? (d) Sinners, (e) ungodly, (f) unholy, (g) unrighteous, (h) Enemies to God, (i) Enmity to his Law, &c. bound over by guilt to eternal death, &c. And what is there in the world ſo abominable to God as ſin, ſo obſtructive to all his Mercies as ſin, ſo deſtructive to us as ſin, ſo ſeperating betwixt God and us as ſin? Sin is as a cloud, and a thick cloud between us: Sin is the great partition-wall between us: Sin is as Mountains and Hils between us, &c. Therefore ſin makes us moſt incapable of all Bleſſings. But when God hath pardoned ſin once, then the Enmity is removed, the thick cloud is diſpelled, The partition-wall is demoliſhed, the mountains and hils are levelled; now a facile, plain and eaſie way is made, a ſmooth and large channel is prepared for the ſtreams of all divine Bleſſings to flow in upon us. That of the Apoſtle is very pregnant to this purpoſe; (k) — But God commendeth his love towards us, in that while we were yet ſinners, Chriſt died for us. Much more then being now juſtified by his blood, we ſhall be ſaved from wrath through through him. For if when we were enemies we were reconciled to God by the death of his ſon: much more being reconciled, we ſhall be ſaved by his life If God will Remit ſins unto Sinners: what mercies can God deny unto them who by remiſsion are made righteous?

3. Remiſsion of ſins is in-linked and interwoven with all ſaving bleſsings of the New Covenant in Chriſt: that where Remiſsion of ſins is beſtowed, all other bleſsings are beſtowed likewiſe. This is part of that golden chain of ſalvation, from which no link can be taken away; (l) whom he hath predeſtinated, them he hath called; whom he hath called, them he hath juſtified, (there's Remiſsion of ſins) and whom he hath juſtified, them he hath glorified. All other Spirituals are inſeparably knit unto this Remiſsion of ſins, either as Cauſes or Effects; As Antecedents, Concomitants, or Conſequents; in one regard or another: ſo that our Actual intereſt in this, doth moſt ſweetly and effectually intereſt us in all ſpiritual bleſsings in heavenly things in Chriſt, Eph. 1. 3. to 12. Rom. 4. 6, 7, 8, &c. and 5. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5. and 8. 29, 30. Heb. 9. 12, 13, 14, 15. and 10. 10, to 22. Rev. 1. 5. And therefore, God promiſeth here in the New Covenant this great bleſſing of Remiſsion of ſins, not only as an Excellent diſtinct and moſt deſirable Mercy, but alſo as a radical fundamental Mercy aſſuring his Fœderates of all other Covenant-Mercies.

Thus of the Explanation of Remiſsion of ſins.

Inferences, From the whole thus explained and confirmed. In theſe Inferences I ſhall but briefly point out particulars, having already handled this precious ſubject ſo largely. Will the Lord in this his New Covenant be thus Pacifiedly-favourable to their unrighteouſneſſes, and will he remember their ſinful-errours and unlawfulneſſes no more? Then,

1. Hence, Remiſsion of Sins is a Covenant-Bleſsing. There is ſuch a thing as Remiſsion of Sins. Its not a fancy, figment or meer imagination: but a real Bleſſing and Mercy which God hath in ſtore for his people, And its a Covenant-bleſsing: for, this paſſage in the New Covenant; (m) And their ſins and iniquities will I remember no more, The Apoſtle interprets of Remiſsion of Sins, expreſly. Now every Covenant-bleſſing, eſpecially every New Covenant-bleſsing hath a reality, an excellency, yea a certainty in it. Gods Fœderates may depend upon it.

(m) Heb 8 12. & 10. 16, 17, 18.

2. Hence, Remiſsion of Sins promiſed under the New Covenant, not only differs from, but far excells the Remiſsion revealed under and before the Old Covenant. This point of Remiſsion of ſins is here brought in as (n) one Particular Article wherein the New Covenant ſhould not be according to the Covenant made with the Fathers when they were brought out of Egypt. Now how far this New Covenant-Remiſsion agrees with, differs from, or excels that under the Old Covenant, hath been (o) already manifeſted: There ſee. All Remiſsion miſsion ſalvifical, is from Chriſts blood of the New Covenant. Hither all look, hither all muſt come for Remiſsion, and hence all that have it do receive it: whether living before, at, or after Chriſts coming. Chriſt and his blood of the New Covenant, is the only Center, Root and Fountain of all Remiſsion, Rom. 3. 23, 24, 25, 26. Heb. 9. 15. Acts 13. 38, 39.

3. Hence, The Lord God himſelf alone Remits and Forgives Sin. Pardon of ſin is Gods peculiar Prerogative Royal, Exod. 34. 7. Iſa. 43. 25. Mic. 7. 18, 19. Mark 2. 5. to 13. His glorious Name is; (p) The God of Pardons. But of this enough (q) formerly. Therefore, Haſt thou Remiſsion? Let God alone in Chriſt have all the glory of it. Wanteſt thou forgiveneſs? Repair to God alone in Chriſt for it. (r) I will forgive, —— I will remember no more.

4. Hence, The Lord forgives Sins to all his ſincere Fœderates. To all ſuch he extends this Mercy; and to ſuch alone he limits it. (ſ) I will forgive, —— I will remember their unrighteouſneſſes, &c. no more. Whoſe ſins? The ſins of his true Fœderates, of his ſincere Covenant-people, of the houſe of Iſrael and Judah, in whoſe hearts and minds he hath written his Laws, and who ſavingly know the Lord; and of them only. They that have obtained no effectual Fœderation with God, hitherto have received no Remiſsion of ſins from God. None out of Covenant may preſume of it: None in Covenant need deſpair of it.

(ſ) Heb. 8. 12. 8, 10, 11.

5. Hence, The Lord God forgives Sins to all his ſincere Fœderates, moſt Freely, moſt Fully, and Finally: Freely, without, yea contrary to all their deſert; Fully, without exception of any one ſin of theirs; And Finally, without all Revocation or annulling of Pardon once vouchſafed. Freely, (t) I will be pacified ——, I will remember no more: Fully, Their unrighteouſneſſes, ſinful-errours, and unlawfulneſſes; what comprehenſive expreſsions are theſe? And Finally; I will remember no more; I will obliterate them, and forget them, ſo as not to puniſh them for ever. But of theſe alſo (u) formerly.

(t) Heb. 8. 12.
(u) In this 5. Chap. ſect. 3. Propoſit. 1. Poſit. 6. & 9.

6. Hence, Whatſoever Sins God forgives to his Fœderates, he Remits them all in Chriſt, and for his Meritorious ſatisfaction to Gods juſtice for them. (x) ἵλεως ἔσομαι, &c. I will be pacified, or pacifiedly-propitious to their unrighteouſneſſes. This hath direct reference to Chriſts expiation of our ſins by his blood, whereby Gods juſtice is ſatisfied and appeaſed: As I have (y) formerly proved. Then, 1. Chriſtleſs Perſons are un-pardoned Perſons: The guilt of ſin ſtill remains upon the Conſcience, if the blood of Chriſt have not beſprinkled the Conſcience. 2. They that want Pardon muſt by Faith come to Chriſt for it. They muſt come and waſh in this (z) Fountain opened for ſin and for uncleanneſs. The Old Covenant had a Laver and other veſſels of water for ſprinkling and waſhing the unclean, but they had not the Fountain opened, that was in a ſort ſhut up and ſealed under Types and Figures, &c. But this New Covenant hath this Fountain opened, now no vail or ſhadow hides it from us, now every cover of this Fountain is rowled away, Come all that will, come freely: drink and live; waſh, and be clean. If thy ſins be as an iſſue, ſtill running; if as a well, ſtill ſpringing up: yet be not diſmayed, here's a Fountain againſt a Fountain; Here's Chriſts Fountain ever-ſpringing, againſt thine iſſue and fountain ever running; though thy ſin and uncleanneſs ſpring ſtill, yet Chriſts Purging Pardons and Remiſsions ſpring ſtill alſo; do thou therefore waſh and cleanſe thy ſelf daily in this Fountain. Here's cleanſing enough, and Chriſts Fountain will run longeſt, it will run and overflow for thee till thy fountain be quite dryed up in thee.

7. Hence, The Lord thus Remitting all ſins in Chriſt, freely, fully and finally, there (a) remains no need of any more expiatory ſacrifice for ſin. (b) Chriſt is already offered up for ſins once for all, having by that one ſacrifice for ever perfected them that are ſanctified, having obtained eternal Redemption and Remiſsion for us. He hath fully ſatisfied Gods juſtice, God expects no more expiatory ſacrifice, no more blood, no more ſatisfaction, Chriſt hath done enough, he hath done all. Then, 1. Fare-well all legal ſacrifices, blood, expiations, and waſhings, for ever. Chriſt hath done that, which they could never do, he hath fully for ever purged the Conſciences of his Elect from ſins. And in ſo doing, he hath annulled and abrogated them all. 2. Away with all Papal-Maſſes, as (c) proper propitiatory bloody unbloody ſacrifices for Quick and Dead. They are a bundle of blaſphemous idolatries againſt Jeſus Chriſt, and the Al-ſufficiency of his Sacrifice: and ſo, moſt abominably Antichriſtian, treading under foot the Son of God, and counting his blood of the New Covenant an unholy, imperfect and inſufficient thing. But they who deſire it, may ſee this abſurd and abominable Popiſh dotage about the Maſs ſufficiently (d) refuted by theſe Learned Authors here alledged in the margin.

8. Hence, They that would have ſin Pardoned to them, muſt embrace this Promiſe and accept Jeſus Chriſt by unfeigned Faith. For in Chriſt and through his ſatisfaction alone it is that ſin is pardoned, according to the tenor of the New Covenant, and the promiſes thereof. Actuall Remiſsion comes only by Actual Application of Chriſt by believing. O therefore thou that longeſt for Pardon, come to Chriſt, believe in him, make haſte to him, Actually apply his blood, and deſpair not of Pardon. Think of the great ſinners that he hath pardoned: The (e) Penitent woman, that was a manifold Sinner; (f) Peter, that was a frequent denyer of Chriſt; The (g) Thief, that was a Reviler and Rayler againſt Chriſt; (h) Saul, that was a perſecutor of Chriſt; yea the (i) Jews, that were bloody Murderers of Chriſt, even they were pricked in their hearts, they had Remiſsion of ſins tendred and given to them in the ſame blood which was wickedly ſhed by them, Repent and be baptized every one of you for Remiſſion

9. Hence, They who have not Sin Pardoned are as yet none of Gods sincere New Covenant people. They may possibly be within the External Administration of the New Covenant, by a visible Profession: but they are not within the Internal and effectual salvation of the Covenant, by this invisible Power of Grace. Yea, perhaps they may be within the Decree of Gods Election to Eternal life: And yet they are without the actual Execution of that Decree upon them in a saving Covenant state. And being without Covenant, they are without Christ, without the Law of God in their minds and hearts, without the true and saving knowledge of the Lord, yea and without God himself: for all these have a mutual and inseparable (l) connexion one to another. Therefore, as we desire to be, and to know that we are Gods New Covenant people: so we should strive to be, and to know that we are Gods Pardoned people. Now we may know whether we be Gods Pardoned people or no; by what hath been spoken (m) already, touching the expressions of Pardon, The Nature of Pardon, and The Evidences of Pardon more at large.

10. Hence finally, All Gods sincere New Covenant-people are in a most happy sweet and comfortable state. Why? Because, (n) their unrighteousnesses, sinful-errours, and unlawfulnesses, are freely, fully and finally pardoned to them by God in Jesus Christ. O what tongue of man can tell, or what heart can think sufficiently of the priviledge and comfort of this Remission? For they that are thus pardoned, 1. Are acquitted from all their sins, as if they had never been. God will never (o) impute them more, will never remember them more unto them. 2. Are utterly absolved from all guilt of punishment and condemnation. They may undergo many Fatherly chastisements and tribulations, but shall never come into (p) condemnation. 3. Are (q) Redeemed and Reconciled to God by the blood of Jesus Christ, wiping out all their sins and transgressions. 4. Are (r) Quickned together with Christ, by supernatural principles of life: that they should no longer remain dead in trespasses and sins. 5. Are (s) Justified by God through Iesus Christ; Remission of Sin being a branch of Justification. So that henceforth God looks upon them no longer as sinners, but as righteous; and not only as righteous men and women, but as the righteousness of God in Christ. 6. Are at (t) Peace with God, and with their own Consciences. So that neither the wrath of God above them, nor the horrour, terrour and anguish of Conscience within them, nor the troubles of the creature round about them, shall ever be able to overthrow their Peace: but contrariwise, they joy in hope of the glory of God, and glory even in tribulations also. 7. Are happy now even unto Admiration. O the happinesses of him whose transgression is forgiven, and whose sin is covered! O the happinesses of the man unto whom the

(u) — Whom he hath juſtified, them he hath glorified. Their glory is as ſure, as if they were glorified already, as if they were in heaven already. Here is honey out of the Rock, here is ſweetneſs out of ſtrength, here is a well of ſalvation indeed. Thus of the third Article of the New Covenant. Gods free, full and final Pardoning of all his true Fœderates ſins in Jeſus Chriſt for evermore.

Article 4th. Of the grand New Covenant-Relation, Intereſt and Communion, mutually, betwixt God and his ſincere Fœderates.

Now we are come to the fourth, and laſt, and greateſt Article of all, in this ſweet New Covenant: viz. The Mutual New Covenant-Relation, Intereſt, and Communion betwixt God and his Sincere Federates. (y) — And I will be to them a God, and they ſhall be to me a People. O, what manner of Mercy is here Promiſed, when God himſelf is Promiſed! And what manner of duty is required and reſtipulated, when Fœderates themſelves are Reſtipulated! Here's Mutual Relation of God and his Fœderates, to one another: Here's their mutual Intereſt in one another: Here's their mutual Communion, with one another. What doth not God Promiſe to us, when he ſaith, I will be to them a God? What do not his Fœderates re-promiſe to him, when they ſay, They will be to him a People? Nay rather, what doth not God promiſe and undertake, when himſelf alone doth Promiſe and undertake the Performance of both theſe: Not only, that he will be to them a God, but alſo, that they ſhall be to him a people? That the Lord will be our God, is a raviſhing and ſatisfying Mercy; who can ſufficiently fadom it? That we ſhould be his People, is an amazing and aſtoniſhing Duty; who can exactly fulfil it? But that the Lord undertakes both theſe, that he will, and we ſhall, is a moſt Comfortable and Heart-reviving Priviledge; who can chuſe but exult in it, triumph in it, and be overcome overcome with it? All the former Articles and Promiſes of this Covenant, yea and in the whole Sacred Volume, are but as inferiour limbs in the Body: This is the Head of all. They are as Pearls and precious Stones: but this is the Jewel. They are as drops; but this is the Fountain. They are as ſprings or ſtreams; but this is the Ocean. They are as the glittering Stars; but this is as the Glorious Sun himſelf. If the tongues of men and Angels were ever deſirable for deſcribing and magnifying of any Promiſe in all the Bible: This certainly is the Promiſe in reference to the diſplaying of which they are moſt deſirable. Well ſaid that judicious Calvin; (z) — This is the Fruit of the Covenant; That God takes us for his people, And aſſerts himſelf Preſident of our Salvation. And elſewhere; (a) Generally here God comprehends THE SUMM OF HIS COVENANT. For whereunto did the Law tend, But that his People might invocate him, and he again would take the care of his People? For as oft as God pronounceth himſelf to be our God, He withal offers his Fatherly favour, and declares his care to be for our ſalvation, He gives us free entrance unto prayers, he commands us to rely upon his grace, And to conclude, THIS PROMISE CONTAINS UNDER IT ALL THE PARTS OF OUR SALVATION. — Thence the latter depends, They ſhall be to me a people: for the one cannot be ſevered from the other. Therefore by theſe words the Prophet briefly ſignifies, THE SUMM OF THE COVENANT to tend hither; That he may be to us a Father, from whom we may ask and expect Salvation: And we again may be his people.

(z) Hic fructus eſt Fœderis, Quod nos Deus in populum cooptat; Seq; ſalutis noſtræ Præcidem fore aſſerit. Joan. Calvin. Comment. in Hebr. 8. 10.

(a) Addit, Et ero illis in Deum, &c. Generaliter hic Deus comprehendit Summam Fœderis ſui. Quorſum enim tendebat lex, niſi ut populus ipſum invocaret, & ipſe viciſſim curam gereret Populi ſui? Quoties enim pronunciat Deus, ſe nobis fore in Deum, ſimul offert Paternum ſuam favorem, & declarat ſalutem noſtram ſibi fore curæ. Dat nobis liberum aditum ad preces, jubet nos recumbere in ſua gratia, denique HÆC PROMISSIO SUB SE CONTINET OMNES PARTES SALUTIS NOSTRÆ. — Inde pender poſterius quod dicit, Erant mihi in populum. Neq; enim alterum poteſt ab altero ſeparari. Ergo his verbis breviter ſignificat Propheta, huc tendere Summam Fœderis Dei; Ut ſit nobis Pater, à quo Salutem petamus & expectemus; & nos viciſſim ſimus ejus populus. Joan. Calvin. in Comment. ad Jer. 31. 33

Upon this tranſcendent Theam my very ſpirit hath vehement deſire to expatiate, it is ſuch a delicious Bed of ſpices, flowers and roſes, of moſt ſublime ſpiritual delights. But I muſt compendiouſly contract; Partly, Becauſe the volume ſwels too faſt: Partly, Becauſe I have already at large explained this Promiſe of Promiſes in divers places of this Treatiſe. And therefore, 1. By way of Explication, I ſhall ſuper-add no more: But only indigitate the Particulars already explained, and where they may be readily found. 2. By way of Application, I ſhall ſomewhat enlarge my ſelf; becauſe I have formerly been more brief therein, Reſerving the enlargement of ſome Inferences from this Grand Premiſe, purpoſely for this Article of the New Covenant. Thus this Glorious Promiſe ſhall not be paſſed over, without its due and deſerved Conſideration.

First, By way of Explication, I have already unfolded this Promiſe, Promiſe, 1. More Generally. 2. More Particularly in both the Branches of it.

I. More Generally, I have ſhewed theſe three things, viz.

1. That, This Promiſe is (b) much inſiſted upon in moſt of the Eminent Covenant-Expreſſures. As, In the Covenants of Promiſe, with Abraham, with Iſrael, with David, and with the Captives in Babylon: And In this New Covenant. This being the very Sum, Abſtract, Quinteſcence and Soul of all Gods Covenants.

2. That, (c) Of all Fœderal Clauſes, Articles or Promiſes laid down in the Book of God, This promiſe is, 1. The Higheſt. 2. The Fulleſt. 3. The Sureſt. 4. The Sweeteſt. No wonder then that Auguſtine reciting this Promiſe, I will be to them a God, and they ſhall be to me a people, preſently adds; (d) What is better then this Goodneſs! what is happier then this Happineſs!

3. That, This Promiſe (e) is moſt excellent. And the excellency of it is Atteſted by the high Eulogies of many Eminent learned men, as is Evident in ſome of their Expreſsions particularly recited.

II. More Particularly,

For clearing the First Branch of this Promiſe, I will be to them a God; I have explained theſe Particulars eſpecially, viz.

1. To (f) whom the LORD will be a God.

2. What the LORD Promiſeth, when he promiſeth to be a God to his People, viz. 1. Whatſoever he is as God: (1) In eſſential Properties; (2) In Perſonal Subſiſtences. Book III. Chap. 3. Aph. 3. Sect. 1. p. 409, 410. 2. Whatſoever he hath as God. There, pag. 411. 3. Whatſoever he can do, or is wont to do for his People as God. And this is laid down at large in thirteen Particular Acts of his favour to his People. There, pag 411. to 417.

3. How the Lord will be a God to his People, viz. 1. By (g) Covenant. 2. By Covenant of his own eſtabliſhing. 3. By an Everlaſting Covenant.

4. How the LORD is our Covenant-God only in and through Ieſus Chriſt. Book III. Chap. 4. Aphoriſm 4. Sect. 1. pag. 802, 803.

5. (h) Why the Lord was pleaſed to be a Covenant-God to Iſrael: and ſo proportionably to us.

Thus in theſe Particulars I have already Explained the firſt branch of this Promiſe.

For Opening alſo of the Second branch of this Promiſe; And they ſhall be to me a people: I have explained theſe Particulars, viz.

1. That, This is the greateſt of all Duties impoſed upon Gods people: They therein (i) Promiſing and Reſtipulating to God, 1. All they are; 2. All they have; 3. All they can do; 4 All they can endure: To be for him, and at his command or appointment.

2. That, God required, and Iſrael Reſtipulated, this, viz.

That

(c) Book II. chap. 2. Aph. 2. §. 3. p. 90, 91.

(i) Book II. chap. 2. Aph. 2. ſect. 3 pag. 94, 95.

That (k) they would be Gods Covenant-people.

3. What it implyes, To be Gods Covenant-People. These things especially, viz.

1. To be Gods people (l) only. Not sin's; Not the world's; Not Satan's; Nor their own: But Gods by peculiar appropriation.

2. To be his (m) by Fœderal Profession and Denomination.

3. To be his Covenant-people (n) in Christ.

4. To be his Covenant-people (o) in all Relations.

5. To be his Covenant-people (p) wholly and entirely, viz. 1. In all they are; 2. In all they have; 3. In all they can do or procure; 4. In all they can undergo or endure, according to his Will. These four Particulars, (q) formerly insisted upon more generally and briefly, are here again handled more particularly and fully.

4. Why Israel (and so proportionably we) must be such a Covenant-People to God. (r) Manifested by six Causes hereof.

Thus in all these Particulars I have already explained the Second Branch of this Promise.

By all this the judicious Reader will easily see, especially if he consult the places here quoted, This admirable Promise so far explained already, that I may now wholly desist from any further Explications thereof: Desiring him for his satisfaction in all or any of these particulars, to cast his eye (as he hath occasion) upon these fore-cited Explications.

(r) Book III. chap. 4. Aph. 4. Sect. 2. pag. 857, 858, 859.

Secondly, By way of Application, I offer these Inferences.

Will the Lord be to them a God, and shall they be to him a people: that are his New-Covenant-Fœderates? Doth he by his New Covenant establish and assure them of such a Covenant-Relation, Interest, and Communion betwixt himself and them? Hath God thus undertaken for both Parties; both for himself, that he will be theirs: And for them, that they shall be his? Then, what excellent matter is here, 1. For Information. 2. For Probation. 3. For Exhortation. 4. For Consolation.

I. Here's excellent and manifold Matter for Information; That the Lord will be to his Fœderates A God, and they shall be to him a People. For, This may Inform our Understandings, of these things especially, viz.

1. Of the fulness of the New Covenant. The three former Articles evince, That this New Covenant is very Rich and Full, in regard of (s) Effectual Grace, Saving Knowledge of the Lord, and Remission of sins: But this fourth Article demonstrates, That this New Covenant is is most Rich and full in all regards, It hath in it Gods All and our All, 1. Gods All; For what is there in the whole world, present or to come, of Temporals, Spirituals or Eternals, which comes not within the verge and limits of this vast comprehensive Promise: (t) I will be their God? what fulness is there not in God! Glory, Majesty, Life, Love, Grace, Mercy, Goodness, Sweetness, Beauty, Blessedness, Purity, Holiness, Righteousness, Peace, yea all Desirableness, and all infinite. God made all things: God hath all things: God is All things in all and to all his Covenant-people. And therefore when this New Covenant promiseth; the Lord will be our God: It Promiseth Gods All. What fulness can we desire more? 2. Our All; For, All we are: All we have: All we can do: All we can endure; Comes within the extent of this Promise. And they shall be my People. What fulness can we retribute more? Oh the Plenitude and riches of this New Covenant, in this Grand Promise.

(t) Heb.8.10.

2. Of the Goodness and Bountifulness of God to his Fœderates. Oh how Matchless, how Infinite! God Promiseth for himself, what he will be: God Promiseth for them, what they shall be: God undertakes all for both Parties, and what he undertakes must needs be. Behold, admire, and adore this boundless bounty and Goodness of God. 1. What doth God Promise for himself? That he (u) will be to them a God. And, what could God Promise more, then God? what can God give more, then God? what can his Fœderates want, desire, or enjoy more, then God? God is above all goodness that can be Desired, Promised, Performed or Possessed. What doth not God Promise in this Promise of himself to us? If God had Promised, (x) I will be their Refuge, and Strength and Present help in trouble; (y) I will be their Rock, Fortress, Deliverer, Buckler, Horn of their Salvation, and their high Tower, (z) I will be their Shield about them, their Glory, and the lifter up of their head; (a) I will be their Sun, their Shield, and their exceeding great Reward; I will be their Lord, their King, their Father, their Husband, &c. If I say God had Promised these things, he had promised very great and precious Blessings: but when he Promiseth, I will be to them a God, now he Promiseth most of all. Beyond this Promise, what can be Promised? Or what is there Promisable? 2. What doth God Promise for his Fœderates? That they shall be to him a People. And what can they perform more to God then Themselves! nay because they cannot perform themselves to God, he undertakes for them, He will see this shall be done. There shall be no impediment of unwillingness in him, he will be theirs: there shall be no impediment of weakness in them, they shall be his. Heres bounty upon bounty: heres Goodness upon Goodness.

3. Of the Happiness of all Gods sincere Fœderates. Wherein? In this especially and principally; That the LORD is their Covenant-God, and they his Covenant People. When the Psalmist had reckoned up many Outward blessings, and thereupon concluded, (b) O the Happinesses of that people that is in such a case: By way of Correction he presently presently adds, O the Happinesses of that people of whom the LORD is their God, this is, of all other, The Happiness: No Happiness in the world like this Happiness. For, 1. Herein Gods Fœderates are (as hath (c) formerly been shewed) a Priviledged People above all people of the world. 2. Herein Their Dignity is very high, and their advantage manifold. As (d) hath been in six Particulars formerly manifested. 3. Hence, They may be abundantly assured, that they shall want neither Promises nor Mercies: having this Promise of Promises, this Mercy of Mercies, theirs. As hath been (e) evidenced. 4. Hereby, Gods Fœderates are established, In the sweetest Relation to God, In the richest Interest in God, In the Neerest and Dearest Communion with God. Oh, what Familiarity is there, in that Relation! what Sufficiency, in that Interest! what Felicity, in that Communion! This Familiarity is most delighting: This Sufficiency is most satisfying: This Felicity is most ravishing, to all the sincere Fœderates of God.

(c) In Book III. chap. 3. Aph. 3. Sect. 1. p. 423, 424.
(e) There, p. 427.

4. Of the Fewness of Gods true and sincere Fœderates even under this New Covenant. There are many formall and nominall, but few Real Fœderates with God: there are many Fœderates by Outward Profession; but few, oh how few, Fœderates by Inward Constitution. why? Because they are few, very few, that Have the LORD for their Covenant God, or that have resigned up themselves again unto God to be his Covenant-people. How few are they that are Gods people only? His in Christ; His in all Relations; His wholly and entirely, In all they are, In all they have, In all they can do, In all they can endure? Now none are Gods sincere New Covenant-Fœderates indeed, but those alone who have the Lord for their God, and are themselves his People.

5. Finally, Of the wretchedness of all Non-Fœderates whatsoever. For, 1. The Lord is not their God in Covenant, nor are they Gods Covenant people. They have as yet no saving Covenant-Relation to God, Interest in him, or Communion with him. 2. In (f) despising and neglecting Gods Covenant, they neglect and despise God, Jesus Christ, and all true happiness. And this is wretchedness unspeakable, Eph. 2. 12.

(f) See Book III. chap. 3. Aph. 3. Sect. 1. p. 427, 428.

II. Here's notable matter for Probation and Examination of our true New-Covenant Condition. Let us diligently examine our selves, accurately prove our own selves, whether we be of the House of Israel and Judah, whether we be among the number of Gods sincere New Covenant Fœderates, or no. But how shall we discover this? Two waies; 1. If the Lord be our Covenant-God. 2. If we be Gods Covenant-People. If this glorious Promise and Clause of the New Covenant be effectually verified and performed to us, and fulfilled upon us: If God be savingly ours, and we sincerely his: then we are in a right New Covenant state.

(I.) Is the LORD become our God in Covenant?

That the Lord is our Covenant-God, we may discover three waies, viz. 1. By his Fœderal impressions and operations upon us. 2. By our Covenant-Relation unto him. 3. By our suitable deportment towards him as our God in Covenant.

First, By his Fœderal impressions and operations upon us, as our Covenant-God. When the Lord becomes our Covenant-God, he imprints and works upon us certain marks and characters of his Covenant. He effectually delineates and deeply ingraves upon our Spirits, The Blessings, Benefits, Effects and Fruits of his special favour, promised in his Covenant. Hereby he makes a great, and a very observable alteration upon us: so that they on whom these Fœderal impressions are instamped, cannot chuse but in some measure discern them. Take these Instances;

1. He (g) puts a New Spirit, even his own Spirit, within us: As our Covenant-God. By this New Spirit, I here understand Gods own Spirit. Called Gods Spirit, in Opposition to our own meer carnal Spirit: And, A New Spirit, in opposition to our (h) old natural corrupt sinful frame of heart and Spirit; As also in regard of its excellent New effects upon us, Renewing, New-creating, making all things New within us, Mind, Conscience, Will, Affections, old things pass away, and all things become new, Tit. 3. 5. 2 Cor. 5. 17. This is Gods great Covenant-impression upon us, he puts his own Spirit within us, he makes him ours, he gives us actual possession of him. Hath the Lord put his own Spirit within us? Then he is our God in Covenant.

Hereby we shall know if Gods Spirit be within us, For, then he is become to us; 1. A convincing Spirit, Ioh. 16. 9, 10, 11. He convinceth us, (1) Of our own sinfulness and misery, especially in regard of our not believing in Jesus Christ; Unbelief being the great sin of the world. (2) Of the Al-sufficient Remedy against this sin and misery; viz. Christs perfect Mediatory righteousness; herein clearly discovered, that death and grave were not able to hold him, as they hold sinners, but he Revived, Rose, and Ascended to his Father as a Righteous Conqueror of Sin and Death. Had there been but one sin in him; or but one sin of his Elect imputed to him for which he had not fully satisfied his Fathers Justice, he could never have got out of his grave, or have ascended to his Father. (3) Of Christs supreme Lordship or Soveraignty over all his and his peoples enemies, in that he hath subdued and judged Satan the Prince of this world, his and their grand enemy. 2. A Converting, Renewing, Regenerating and Sanctifying Spirit, Tit. 3. 5. Joh. 3. 3, 5. 1 Cor. 6. 11. The immediate Author and Worker of all grace in the soul: Sanctifying it throughout. So that every true Grace is an evidence of the Spirit of Grace in us. 3. An enlivening or quickning Spirit, Rom. 8. 2. It makes them, that were dead in sin, live live to God. All acts of such life, as Spiritual Nourishment, Growth, Motion, Sense, Fruitfulness, &c. are Discoveries of the power of Christs Spirit of life in us. 4. A Guiding and Governing Spirit, Rom. 8. 14. He guides and leads all Gods children in the wayes of God. Are we led by this Spirit? 5. A Praying Spirit, Rom. 8. 15. 26. He enables us to cry Abba Father, with fervent desires and groans that cannot be uttered. Its not words and phrases and method in praying (which Art may suggest) but unutterable sighs and groans which this spirit of supplication furnisheth us withall. 6. A witnessing Spirit. It beareth witness with our Spirits, that we are the children of God, Rom. 8. 15, 16. It discovers to our Spirites whom the Word counts Gods children, with their several notes and characters. It also discovers to us, that these notes and properties of Gods children are in us. For, The Spirit is therefore given us, that by him we might discover and know the things that are freely given us of God, 1 Cor. 2. 12. And upon these two discoveries it enables our Spirits or Consciences to digest all into a practical Syllogism, or experimental Discourse, for the evincing of our good estate to us. 7. Finally, Gods Spirit is (i) A Comforting Spirit, still dwelling in Gods people, and yielding them a continual stream (if not of sensible refreshing, yet) of secret supporting Comfort. He keeps them from fainting, sinking and despairing under greatest discouragements.

2. He writes his Law (k) in their Hearts and inwards. He writes his Law in their Hearts, Powerfully, Universally, Evidently, Indelibly. 1. So powerfully, that he leaves an impression, a dint, and an image of his Law upon the heart, which the heart is not able to withstand or resist. 2. So Universally, that there is not any branch of Gods Law left out. Every Law, Every branch of his Law, is in some measure put there. He hath something in his heart that answers to every particle of the Law, as the Counter-pain to the Deed. 3. So evidently, that if others cannot (l) read the inscription, yet themselves can spell it out in some good measure by the assistance of Gods Spirit, (m) whereby they know the things given them of God. 4. So indelibly, that the impression of Gods Law can never be blotted out of the Heart. This is not like writing Letters in the dust or water, that are presently obliterated, but like writing in marble or steel, most permanent. Gods Law is enter-woven into the very frame and texture of the heart, that it is inseparably fixed there. Thus it was (n) written in Davids heart, that he could never forget his Statutes. But how may we know that Gods Law is written thus in our Hearts? Answ. This I have (o) elsewhere cleared by four discoveries, viz. 1. The Hearts Conformity to the Law. 2. The Hearts Newness. 3. The Hearts Spiritual Tenderness and Softness. 4. The Hearts Obedientialness. There see.

LORD: the Covenant-keeping, and promise-performing LORD. To know him truly, experimentally, affectively, obediently, &c. Evidences of true Covenant-knowledge of the Lord, have been also (q) elsewhere hinted. Consult them.

4. He takes (r) away their hard and stony heart, giving them a Tender, Tractable, Fleshy Heart. He transforms stone into Flesh. This tender, soft (s) broken spirit is Gods Sacrifice, which he will not despise. The truth of this Tenderness and Brokenness of Spirit, I have (t) formerly elsewhere discovered, I. By the Concomitants or Companions attending upon a broken spirit, viz. 1. A Spirit of Prayer. 2. Humility. 3. Love to Jesus Christ. 4. Obedience. II. By the Adjuncts or Properties of true tenderness of Heart, viz. 1. Mourning for sins of others, especially publike sins. 2. Clearest and saddest apprehensions of its own Sinfulness. 3. Greatest perplexity at Sin, as against God and Jesus Christ. 4. Trembling at Gods Word, and at Gods Rod. 5. Endeavouring seriously, and setting speedily upon a Real Reformation.

5. He Converts them (u) entirely and effectually to himself from Sin and Iniquity. He converts them both in Heart and Life, both in Inward Disposition, and outward Conversation. The truth of such Conversion, I have (x) already discovered in another Treatise: There See.

6. He sets his (y) Tabernacle amongst them, walks amongst them, dwels with them and in them: that is, He affords them (z) Special Communion with himself; fellowship with Father, Son, and Holy-ghost. The sweet presence, influence and refreshments of his Spirit, Graces and Comforts, he imparts unto them. This is Heaven on Earth. Now of this Fellowship with God and Jesus Christ (a) I have elsewhere laid down many Evident discoveries, to which I refer the Reader for his fuller Satisfaction: In perusal whereof I hope he shall not lose his labour.

7. Finally, He (b) makes them Constant and Stedfast to himself in Covenant. He so principles them, and over-rules them: He so secures them, and undertakes for them, that they shall not depart away from him; That they shall be his People. These and like Fœderal Impressions the Lord works and stamps upon us, when he becomes our Covenant-God. And this is one way whereby we may discern whether the Lord be our God in Covenant, or no. Have we these Covenant-impressions and characters upon us?

Secondly, By our Covenant-Relation unto God, we may evidently know whether the Lord is become our Covenant-God. In all Covenants there is established a Covenant-Relation, a mutual reciprocal Relation betwixt the Fœderates. So in this New Covenant most eminently between God and us; if we be Christs, if we be true believers: There is a mutual Relation, Jer. 13.33. Heb 8.10. If the Lord become our Covenant-God: then we become his Covenant- nant-people. And if we become his Covenant-people, he also is our Covenant-God. These Relations do mutually imply one another, do reciprocally and necessarily infer and answer one another. Are we brought into this Covenant-Relation unto God? Are we become, not only in profession and name, but in deed and in truth Gods Covenant-people? Then the Lord is our Covenant-God.

But how may we discover that we are Gods Covenant-people, Not only in name and by visible profession, but also in deed by invisible participation of the saving benefits of the Covenant? Answ. By these ensuing Adjunct, and Properties of Gods Covenant-people, viz.

1. Gods New Covenant-people are effectually called. Not only outwardly and ineffectually, but also inwardly and effectually called. The (c) vessels of mercy fore-prepared unto glory, are a called people, and so become Gods people. They are called from darkness into his marvellous light: From Sin to Grace; (d) From the power of Satan to God. God (e) called Abraham effectually when he first entred into Covenant with him savingly. People uncalled by God, are as yet un-covenanted with God. They are in a Contrary Covenant and League with Sin and Satan, inconsistent with the Covenant of God. This wretched League is broken and dissolved by effectual Calling, that we may joyn in Covenant with God. Are we effectually called?

2. Gods New Covenant-people are an Holy, Select and separated people. They are selected and culled out from among all other people. They are drawn out and segregated from the Common Corrupt mass of the world. Holiness implies a Separation from common, prophane, impure State, Society and Use, to Peculiar, Spiritual, Sacred State and Use. (f) I will dwell in them, and walk in them, said God; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. Wherefore come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing, and I will receive you, &c. upon this their being separated from their common and impure condition and society to God and his wayes, they are stiled, (g) A chosen generation, an holy Nation, and a peculiar treasure unto God above all people. Are we separated from the common, impure mass of mankind, or are we mingled with them? have we renounced ungodliness and worldly lusts, Tit. 2. 11, 12. or do we still live therein? when God brought Abraham to be one of his Covenant-people, he called and separated him from his corrupt, ungodly and idolatrous State in Chaldea, unto himself, and to a godly State in him, Gen. 12. 1, 2, 3, &c.

3. Gods New Covenant-people are a Self-Denying people. This (h) Christ frequently cals for in his Disciples. This (i) the Grace of God, that is, Gods Doctrine of Grace, (which is especially contained in the Gospel, and New Covenant) teacheth them that are to be his people in reference to their enjoyment of God in Jesus Christ; (k) *Hearken, O daughter, and consider, and incline thine ear: Forget also thine own people, and thy fathers House. King greatly desire thy beauty: for he is thy Lord, and worship thou him. And this they perform, that accept Gods Covenant. They are content to deny not only all their Self-sinfulness; but all their self-righteousness, self excellency, self-perfection, self-wisdom, self-will, self-love, self-relations, and what soever self-enjoyments in the world, that might stand in opposition to, or in competition with this Covenant with God. They see so much transcendent worth and excellency in God, that they can freely sell all, part with all, that they may enjoy the Lord as their Covenant-God. Thus Abraham (l) denied and forsook his Native Country, Kindred, and Fathers House, for God. Thus Paul (m) denied all his carnal prerogatives, counting them and all things but loss and dung for the excellency of Jesus Christ, & that he might be found in him. Can we thus deny our selves?

4. Gods New Covenant-people are a willing people. God said to Jesus Christ; (n) Rule thou in the midst of thine enemies. Thy people shall be willing in the day of thy Power. That is thy peculiar people, especially thy true New Covenant-people and members, they shall not be as Naturally they once were; (o) Enemies to God and all his wayes; or compulsorily, forcedly, unwillingly willing through predominancy of fear, danger, punishment, &c. as (p) the Samaritans feared God for his lyons; or half-willing, having in some good pangs or moods, certain imperfect and faint velleities and ungrounded inclinations to good, as Agrippa (q) Almost perswaded to be a Christian: But they shall throughly and willingly subject and devote themselves to thy Government, to thee and thy wayes; and they shall freely yield up themselves souls and bodies as cheerful Voluntiers to serve in thy wars against thine Enemies. Jesus Christ is their (r) chief-captain. He now Rules and will still Rule in the midst of his Enemies, (s) till the worlds End, when they shall all be put under his feet. His peculiar people they shall lay aside their enmity against God and Christ, they shall not remain Enemies with the world as once they were, but shall be a willing people: willing to be ruled by Christ; willing to serve him, to side with him, to do any thing for him; Their (t) Members shall be weapons of righteousness for him, Themselves shall be even Sacrifices to him. They will serve him with a perfect heart and willing minde, They will run the waies of his Commanaements with enlarged hearts, They will delight to do his will, It shall be their meat and drink, &c. murmuring, grumbling, irksomness, &c. shall be far from them. An excellent Pattern of this willing-heartedness see in the Primitive Christians, Acts 2. 41. to the end. & 4. 4, 32. to the end. Are we Gods Voluntiers?

1. The Temple was the Speciall (x) place of Gods preſence and habitation. He (y) dwelt between the Cherubims. There he (z) met with his people, and communed with them. So Gods people (a) are built up a Spiritual Houſe, for an habitation of God through the Spirit. (b) Know ye not that ye are the Temple of God: and the Spirit of God dwelleth in you? (c) God dwells in them, (d) manifeſts himſelf to to them, (e) ſups with them and they with him, affords them ſweet heavenly Communion with himſelf. 2. The Temple was the (f) place of publike worſhip and Sacrifices. So Gods people are the Receptacles of Gods ſpirituall inward worſhip in Heart and Soul. 3. The Temple in regard both of Gods preſence and worſhip was relatively (g) holy, and not to be defiled with legal impurities. So Gods people are (h) Holy, and not to be defiled with ſinful impurities. Are we ſuch Temples of God? Doth God dwell in us? Is his worſhip ſeated in our hearts? Do we keep our ſelves Holy and undefiled?

6. Gods New Covenant people are an Holy and royal Prieſthood. Peter ſtiles them that are Gods people, (i) ſometimes an Holy Prieſthood, ſometimes a royall Prieſthood. That is, (k) Kings and Prieſts to God, as elſwhere it is expreſſed in Scripture. Kings, As having Rule and dominion, in and by Chriſts Kingly power, over all our Spiritual enemies, Sin, The world, Afflictions, Death, and all the powers of darkneſs. Over all theſe we are in Chriſt more then Conquerors, even triumphers. And ſhall at laſt ſit as Kings with Chriſt (l) to judge the world, at leaſt by acclamation and aſſent to Chriſts righteous judgements. After which, (m) we ſhall reign with Chriſt in heavenly glory for ever and ever. Prieſts (n) to offer up ſpiritual Sacrifices acceptable to God by Jeſus Chriſt: As Prayers, Praiſes, Thankſgivings, Obedience, &c. And to (o) ſhew forth the vertues of him, who hath called us out of darkneſs into his marvellous light, viz. to ſhew forth his Power, Wiſdom, Grace, Love, Mercy, Long-ſuffering, &c. Are we ſuch Kings and Prieſts, have we ſuch Kingly and Prieſtly abilities?

7. Gods New Covenant-people are Gods children, his ſons and daughters; and God is a Father unto them. (p) And it ſhall come to paſs, that in the place where it was ſaid unto them, ye are not my people; there they ſhall be called, the children of the living God. Had the exact oppoſition of the phraſe been obſerved here, the words ſhould have run thus; There they ſhall be called the people of the living God: but he ſaith, the children of the living God, intimating that Gods people are alſo Gods children. And elſewhere having ſaid; (q) I will be their God, and they ſhall be my people: he adds, And I will be a father unto you, and ye ſhall be my ſons and daughters, ſaith the Lord Almighty. Are we Gods children? Then certainly we are Gods New Covenant-people. Gods children may hereby be diſcerned; 1. They are (r) born again of the Spirit of God, ſupernaturally. 2. They have (ſ) Received Jeſus Chriſt by Faith, and he dwels in their hearts. 3. They have (t) the

(s) the Spirit of Adoption in their hearts, crying Abba Father, with groans that cannot be uttered. 4. They are (u) like their heavenly Father that spiritually begat them. They partake his divine Nature, and have the very image of God in Knowledge, Righteousness, and true Holiness inprinted upon them. 5. They are (x) conformed to Jesus Christ, the First-born among many brethren. 6. They (y) are led and guided by the Spirit of God. He acts and moves in them, He stears and regulates them, He works all in them. But contrariwise (z) Satan is the spirit that worketh in the children of disobedience. By that evill Spirit they are acted and guided. Now if we have these Characters of Gods children, we are his children and New Covenant-people. But besides these I have (a) elsewhere largely opened and cleared nine other evidences, of our Regeneration, Adoption and Sonship, whereby we may know whether we be the children of God. Thither I refer the reader for fuller Satisfaction: The main body of that Treatise being spent about this very Argument.

8. Lastly, Gods New Covenant-people are Christs. They are more Christs then their own: Yea they are not their own but Christs. (b) All things are yours, and ye are Christs, and Christ is Gods. (c) And if ye be Christs, then are ye Abraham's Seed, and heirs according to the promise. So that all who are Christs, are Abrahams Covenant-Seed and heirs: Now all Abrahams sincere, Covenant-Seed since Christ, are Gods New-Covenant people, See Rom. 4. 10, 11, 12, 16, 17, 23, 24. Gal. 3. 7, 8, 14. & 4. 24, 26, 27, 28, 31. They are first Christs, as Mediatour: and then they are Gods in Christ. Are we Christs? Are we his Redeemed ones, his Branches, his Members, his Espoused ones, &c? Then we are Gods Covenant people. And we may know whether we be Christs or no, by five evidences of being Christs, (d) formerly pointed at only, but now handled at large in the sixth Chapter of this fourth Book: And also by other Discoveries laid down (e) elsewhere to that effect. Consult those places.

By these things we may know whether we are Gods Covenant-people; whether we have a true saving Covenant Relation to God; and consequently whether the Lord be our God in Covenant, which is the Highest Covenant-Mercy of all. For by this Covenant-Relation unto God we may discern that the LORD is our Covenant-God.

Thirdly, By our Deportment and carriage towards him as our God in Covenant, we may notably discern that he is our Covenant-God, and that we have so accepted him. By what carriage of ours towards God, may this be discovered? Answ. 1. By esteeming him as our God. 2. By loving him, as our God. 3. By Trusting in him, as in our God. 4. By fearing him, as our God. 5. By serving him, as our God.

1. Do we esteem the Lord as our God? None can have the Lord to to be their God in Covenant, who do not ſet him up and eſteem him as their God. To eſteem him as God, implies, 1. The Truth of eſtimation. When the Lord is accounted, eſteemed and judged to be, as indeed he is, (f) the only true God: and that all others are but pretended, imaginary and falſe Gods, idols, and nothing in the world. Thus the Pſalmiſt eſteemed God; (g) I know that the LORD is great, and our Lord above all Gods. —— The idols of the heathen are ſilver and Gold, the work of mens hands. They have mouths but they ſpeak not, &c. Do we thus look upon all other Deities mentioned in the world, as meer idols, fancies, lies, and vanities? 2. The height of eſtimation. When the LORD is valued and eſteemed as moſt excellent, abſolutely ſupream, and infinitely High over all beings & creatures in the world. Infinitely above gold and ſilver, infinitely above honours, riches, and pleaſures, infinitely above Heaven and Earth, Men and Angels, infinitely above all creatures and every name that is named both in this and the world to come. Being (h) The King Eternal, Immortal, Inviſible, The only wiſe God: The Bleſſed and only Potentate, The King of Kings, and Lord of Lords, who only hath immortality, dwelling in the light which no man can approach unto, whom no man hath ſeen nor can ſee. When we eſteem and prize him, as the only riches, the only portion, the only treaſure, the only Happineſs, the only Heaven. When we eſteem and value our part and intereſt in him, in his Love and favour in Chriſt, far beyond all our part and intereſt in any or all other created comforts and enjoyments: and upon deliberate choice, could freely part with whatſoever is dear to us, in the world, rather then with him alone. When we thus enthrone the Lord in higheſt eſteem over all, we notably eſteem him and accept him as our God. What we eſtimate over all, that we account and accept as our God.

2. Do we love him as our God? Eſtimating, is an Act of the judgement; Affecting, is an act of the will and heart. Affection anſwers our eſtimation, and flows from it. If we eſteem the Lord as our God, we cannot chuſe but deſire, love and delight in the Lord as our God. That is, We ſhall love him wholly; We ſhall love him only. 1. We ſhall love the Lord wholly, with all that is within us. (i) This is the firſt and great Commandment: Thou ſhalt love the LORD thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy ſoul, and with all thy might, and (as our Saviour adds) with all thy mind. When we once love the Lord as our God, we ſhall not reſerve or divide our affections from him, but we ſhall turn the whole ſtream and united current of our affections towards him. We ſhall willingly let God have all: and think our All, too little for him. Why? Becauſe we eſteem him as (k) moſt deſirable, moſt amiable, moſt delectable over all the world. Becauſe he hath (l) loved us firſt, and that with an infinite love, when we were altogether loveleſs and loathſome. Therefore we owe him our whole love: for what is our love, to his love; or our All, to his All? Do we thus love him as our God, with an intire, perfect and whole love? Do our hearts turn wholly to him, as the needle to the Pole, or Loadstone? Do our affections flow wholly to him, as all the Rivers flow towards the Sea? This is a sign that he is our Covenant-God indeed. 2. We shall love the Lord only, so as to love none besides him with the like predominant and intensive love. When we truly love him as God, we in effect love nothing else but God. We love nothing else that stands in Opposition against God. Not Sin; (m) Ye that love the Lord hate evill. Not the world; (n) The love of this world is enmity against God, &c. We love nothing else that comes in Competition with God. We find more in our God, then in all things else. As David; (o) whom have I in heaven but thee? and there is none upon earth that I desire besides thee. Our love to all inferiour objects will be so small, that comparatively it may be counted as no love at all, yea as (p) hatred to them. Do we thus love the Lord wholly and only as our God? Then the Lord is our God. When we truly love God, we love all things in and for God, and with reference to God, viz. God in them. But contrariwise they that intensively love their Belly over all, make their (q) belly their God; (r) love their pleasures over all, make their pleasures their God; (s) love their Gold, Silver, Children, any thing over all, or above what is meet such creatures should be loved, make such things their God.

3. Do we trust in the Lord as in our God? Then we trust in him, more then in all things else in the world. For, God is to be trusted in, rested and relied upon, more then all Means, helps, refuges, or creatures whatsoever. None can so supply our wants, suppress our fears, remove our dangers, facilitate our difficulties, and bestead us in all deepest and desperate plunges, as God alone. He can do it with means, without means, contrary unto means. Therefore (t) Affiance, Trust and Confidence peculiarly belongs to God, as a special part of that Homage and Naturall worship which is due to him by the first Commandment. (u) Trust in the LORD with all thine heart. (x) Trust in him at all times ye people, &c. Trust and Affiance in creatures, or in corruptions, or in any thing besides the living God, is frequently forbidden and condemned. (y) Lean not to thine own understanding. —— Trust not in the uncertainty of Riches. —— If riches increase, set not your hearts thereon. —— Trust not in oppression. —— It is better to trust in the LORD, then to put confidence in man: It is better to trust in the LORD, then to put confidence in Princes. Creature-Confidence is a kind of Idolatry; A putting creatures in Gods stead. Hereupon Gods faithfull people have fled to their God as their only refuge and relief in straits and extremities, as having their saving interest in him only. Job said (z) though he slay me, yet will I trust in him. (a) Asa being to encounter with the huge hoast of the Ethiopians and Lubims, rested and relyed only upon God. David expresseth himself sweetly; (b) My Soul, wait thou only upon God: for my expectation is from him. He only is my my Rock and my Salvation; He is my defence, I ſhall not be moved. In God is my Salvation and my glory: The Rock of my ſtrength, and my refuge is in God. Truſt in him at all times, &c. (c) What time I am afraid I will truſt in thee. And bleſſed Paul relating his trouble in Aſia, ſaith; (d) We were preſſed out of meaſure, above ſtrength, inſomuch that we deſpaired even of life. But we had the ſentence of Death in our ſelves, that we ſhould not truſt in our ſelves, but in God, which raiſeth the dead. Thus Gods Covenant-people, when they are themſelves, make God their peculiar and only truſt: in ſtraits, difficulties, deep plunges and deſperate extremities, to him alone they fly. And with him they as it were clothe themſelves by faith. (e) The name of the LORD is a ſtrong tower, the righteous fly unto it and are ſafe. But they that are not Gods true Covenant-people, in their exigents and extremities they truſt not in God, fly not to him, but to other vanities and broken reeds. They truſt (f) in Horſes and Charets, in (g) Wealth and Riches, in (h) men and ſecond cauſes, in (i) oppreſſion and perverſneſs, in (k) idols and lying vanities, as the Marriners in Jonas his ſhip in a ſtorm, every man to his God, his paganiſh God, &c. Now what is our confidence and chief refuge in difficulties? Do we fly to God? Is he only our Rock and Salvation, &c? then he is our God in Covenant, who hath enabled us thus to carry our ſelves towards him as to our God.

4. Do we fear the Lord as our God? The Lord is his peoples chief Fear. The chief object of their fear. Hence he is called, (l) The Fear of Iſaac. And the Pſalmiſt ſaith; (m) vow and pay unto the LORD your God, let all that be round about him bring preſents to THE FEAR. So the Hebrew ought to be tranſlated. That is, To God the chief object of Fear; who is The Fear, the Fear of Fears. Such aw, dread and fear is in their hearts towards God, not ſlaviſh but childlike fear, that they fear nothing in the world like him: They are more afraid to offend him, then to offend any Prince, Potentate, yea or Tyrant on earth. Their (n) fear of him that can kill both body and ſoul, and caſt them into Hell, predominates over all other fears, prevails over them, eats them out, ſwallows them up as Moſes his rod devoured the Magicians rods. Moſes his parents (o) hid him three Moneths that he might not be deſtroyed, becauſe fearing God they were not afraid of the Kings Commandment. Noah (p) ſo feared God that he made an Ark to ſave his houſe at Gods command; not fearing what the world of the ungodly could do againſt him for ſuch an undertaking. The (q) three couragious Jews ſo feared God that they would not idolatrouſly worſhip Nebuchadnezzars golden image: and in that caſe they feared not the Kings threats, nor the burning fiery furnace into which they were caſt. Daniel (r) ſo feared God that he would not deſiſt from his worſhipping, calling upon, and praying to his God, as in former time; for any baſe fear of the Kings Decree, Princes malice, or cruelty of the Den of lyons into which he was to be caſt. The Apoſtles ſo feared God, that (s) they could not but preach preach in the name of Jesus Christ: Nor did they fear the Prohibitions and Threats of the Elders, Scribes and Rulers on the contrary. This is to fear the Lord as God, when his fear is most prevalent and predominant in us over all other fear; when his fear more effectually preserves us from evill, then the fear of any creature can push us upon the evil of Sin: when his fear so strongly obligeth us to duty, that no creature-fear can deter us from duty. Do we thus fear the Lord?

5. Do we serve the Lord as our God? The Lords people are (t) his Servants, and they serve him. Yea they serve him, as God, as their God. This serving of the Lord as God, is very Comprehensive, and of large extent. It implies, 1. Their (u) subjecting themselves to him, to his Will, Dominion, Laws, &c. as those that will be acted, ruled, ordered, commanded by him peculiarly: (x) being delivered by him from subjection and traldome to Sin, Satan, &c. Such are said to serve him. 2. Their Devoting, (y) addicting and giving up themselves wholly to God and his wayes: not (z) serving or addicting themselves, to Sinfull lusts and pleasures, to wine, to their bellies, to Mammon, to the wils placits and humours of men in matters of religion, or to any thing either in opposition against God, or in Competition with God. 3. Their worshipping him as God with all acts of religious worship both in publike and in private: As also their pious, holy and religious Conversation before God. Hence Serving of God, is frequently used in Scripture for worshipping of God. As, —— (a) When thou hast brought forth this people out of Egypt, ye shall serve God upon this Mountain. That is, ye shall worship God there. —— (b) Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve. —(c) Anna departed not from the Temple, but served the Lord with fastings and prayers night and day. Serving of God, is also used for a pious and holy Course of life. As, —— (d) That we being delivered out of the hands of our enemies without fear, might serve him, in holiness and righteousness before him all the daies of our life. — This is called, — (e) Serving the Lord in newness of the Spirit; inasmuch as it proceedeth from the renewing Spirit. To this effect, they that fruitfully imploy their Talents which they receive from God, are stiled (f) good and faithful servants to their heavenly Master. Thus Serving of God (not to mention any more acceptations thereof) intimates, Our Subjecting our selves unto God and his Dominion; Our addicting and devoting our selves to him and his wayes; Our worshipping him religiously, and walking piously before him. And thus all Gods people do Serve their God. As (g) Abraham, (h) Job, (i) David, (k) Paul, &c. Do we thus serve the Lord, as God, as our God?

Hereby we may discover whether we serve our God aright, viz. 1. If we serve him Reverently. (l) Let us have grace, whereby we may serve God acceptably with reverence and godly fear. — (m) Serve the LORD with fear. Awfull reverence and child-like fear, becomes comes the ſervice of God. Yea true ſerving of God and obedience to him ariſeth from Gods fear. —— (n) Only fear the LORD and ſerve him. —— (o) Fear God and keep his Commandments. Hereupon God (p) acknowledgeth Iob as his peculiar Servant, in that he was a perfect and an upright man, one that feared God, and eſchewed evil. Have we ſuch a fear of God implanted in our hearts? are we afraid to offend him? have we high and reverential thoughts of him? 2. If we ſerve him Obedientially: when we ſo ſerve him, as to obey him, do his will and keep his commandments. — (q) If ye will fear the LORD, and ſerve him, and obey his voice, and not rebell againſt the mouth of the LORD, &c. —— they that will not obey God, but rebel againſt his mouth and word, they ſerve not God, but Satan, Sin and their own luſts. 3. If we ſerve him chearfully, readily, willingly, from a principle and diſpoſition of love which we bear to him and to his ſervice. Thus David inſtructed Solomon; (r) And thou Solomon my Son, know thou the God of thy Father, and ſerve him with a perfect heart, and with a willing mind. Willingneſs, chearfulneſs in Gods ſervice is moſt acceptable to him. It flows from true love to God. Whatſoever we do from love, we do chearfully, delightfully. God firſt requires love, then ſervice, (s) And now Iſrael, what doth the LORD thy God require of thee, but to fear the LORD thy God, to walk in all his waies, and to love him, and to ſerve the LORD thy God with all thy heart. Are we voluntiers in ſerving God? Are our hearts enlarged, delighted, lifted-up, like Jehoſhaphats, in the waies of God? Do we, with our bleſſed Saviour, count it meat and drink to be doing Gods will? &c. 4. If we ſerve him purely. The Lord (t) is infinite in purity and holineſs, and requires purity and ſincerity in all his ſervants and ſervices. (u) The pure in heart are bleſſed, and ſhall ſee God. He (x) deſireth truth in the inwards. He will be (y) worſhipped in Spirit and Truth. There's a double purity with which we are to ſerve God; viz. (z) Purity of heart and conſcience within. When we (a) regard not any guile, hypocriſie, or iniquity in our heart; we do not approve it, or allow it; it is not mingled or woven into the frame and conſtitution of our ſpirits: but we work it out and reject it, as Lees, Dregs, Droſs and Scum, &c. (a) The blood of Chriſt hath purged our conſcience from dead works to ſerve the living God. With ſuch heart-purity Paul ſerved God; (b) —— I thank God, whom I ſerve from my fore-fathers with pure conſcience. (c) Purity of life and converſation without. When it is without Scandal and Hypocriſie; when we decline evil, and ſtill approve our ſelves in all our actions as in Gods preſence. (c) —— That we might ſerve him, in holineſs and righteouſneſs before him. Hereupon God (d) commendeth his ſervant Job, in that he was a perfect and upright man, one that feared God, and eſchewed evil. He walked purely in the ſervice of God. Do we ſerve the Lord with ſuch Purity of Heart and Life? 5. If we ſerve God only, only. (e) Thou ſhalt worſhip the Lord thy God, and him only ſhalt thou ſerve. How is the Lord only to be ſerved? Thus. God only, is to be ſerved with (f) divine worſhip, and religious adoration. No Idols or creatures may ſo be ſerved; for that were Idolatry. God only, is to be ſerved primarily and for himſelf. He alone having ſupreme Dominion and Soveraignty over us, and over our conſciences. Others may be ſerved ſecondarily, and in ſubordination to God. But nothing may be ſerved which ſtands either in Oppoſition to him, or Competition with him. This is the Integrity and Perfection of Gods ſervice, diſcovering the truth of it. By theſe three ſorts of Evidences we may groundedly diſcover, whether the Lord be our Covenant God or no, according to the New Covenant. And conſequently whether we are actually and effectually brought into a good New Covenant-Condition.

(II.) Are we become Gods People in Covenant?

That we are Gods true and ſincere Covenant-People, we may evidence to our own Hearts and Conſciences theſe three waies, viz.

1. By the Myſterie and Nature of this Being Gods People, formerly deſcribed. To be a People to God in Covenant, hath in it five things Principally: It implyes, They are Gods People only, &c. as (n) hath been manifeſted. Now ſearch and conſider; 1. Are we Gods people only, by peculiar appropriation? Not ſins: Not the worlds: Not Satans: Not our own. 2. Are we Gods People by Covenant, Profeſſion and Denomination? 3. Are we his in and through Ieſus Chriſt? 4. Are we his in all Relations? 5. Are we Gods People wholly and entirely; In all we Are, Have, Can do, or Endure? Conſider we theſe things throughly according to the ſeveral explanations of them here alleadged.

(n) Book III. Chap.4. Aph.4. Sect. 2. p.848. to 857. — And Book II. Chap.2. Aph.2 Sect. 3. pag. 94,95.

2. By the adjuncts or Properties peculiarly belonging to Gods true Covenant- venant-People. These Properties, I have (o) heretofore briefly pointed at in twelve Particulars. And also, in the former branch of this present Inference, have more fully explained the first eight of them. Have we these Properties in our selves? 1. Are we inwardly and effectually called? 2. Are we an holy, select and separated People? &c.

(o) Book III. Chap. 4. Aph. 4. Sect. 2. p. 862.

3. By our due Deportment towards God as becomes his Covenant-People. This due Deportment or Carriage of Gods people towards God, as his People, hath been unfolded in five particulars at large in the former branch of this present Inference. 1. Do we esteem the LORD, as our God? 2. Do we love him, as our God? &c. These two last sorts of Discoveries, do Evidence our Covenant-state, in regard of both the Branches of this glorious Promise, viz. That the LORD is our God: And also, That we are his People.

But this may suffice for Probation.

III. Here's singular Matter for Exhortation. Doth the LORD Promise and Covenant to and with all his sincere New Covenant-Fœderates, That he will be to them a God, And they shall be to him a People? Then heres a threefold word of Exhortation, viz. 1. To those in the visible Church that are Strangers to an inward saving New Covenant State. 2. To all that are of the number of Sincere Fœderates with God in this New Covenant. 3. To the faithfull (p) ministers of the New Testament.

(p) 2 Cor. 3. 6.

First, A word to all those in the visible Church, that hitherto are meer Strangers to an Inward and Saving New Covenant Condition. (And such are (q) all those, 1. Who are in their unregenerate State, having no effectual inscription of Gods Law in their Minds and Hearts; 2. Who are grosly ignorant of God and all the things of God; 3. Whose sins through their unbelief and impenitency, have found no Remission from the Lord.) All such I earnestly exhort and beseech, Sincerely and Speedily to take hold of Gods New Covenant, To accept and embrace it; In the Life and Spirit of it, as well as in the Letter; in the inward power, efficacy and reality of it, as well as in the outward Profession, Name and Formality thereof: If ever they desire savingly to have the LORD to be their God, and themselves to be his People. O Ponder upon this seriously, In the morning when you rise up, in the evening when you lye down to sleep; when you are in the House, and when you are in the Field: Commune with your own hearts, ask your own souls each of you these few Questions. 1. O my Soul, Is there any true Happiness or Salvation actually to be enjoyed by thee, till thou beest effectually brought into New Covenant with God? Is not this the only Happiness, To have the Lord thy God in Covenant, and thy self to be one of his People; And canst thou be thus happy, will God be thine, canst thou be his; till his Laws be written effectually in thy mind and heart, till thou Knowest the Lord savingly, till all thy sins be forgiven and forgotten of God for ever? 2. O my Soul, hast thou not thus far to this very hour contented thy self with a meer outward Profession, Form, name, and shadow of a New Covenant-state; without all inward Life and Substance? And can this ever carry thee beyond the Condition of an Hypocrite, Reprobate, and Cast-away? Do not the greatest number by far of visible Christians deceive and undo themselves eternally, by resting in the meer visibles and externals of the New Covenant: and wilt thou perish with them also? wilt thou have so much part in the New Covenant only as to leave thee without excuse, & aggravate thy Condemnation? 3. O my Soul, Canst thou judge it safe to delay or put off thine acceptance of A New-Covenant State in the inward efficacy, power, life and Spirit thereof, for another week, for another day? What if thou beest snatched by death out of my body before this great work be done? what if God knock no more at the door of thy heart by his Spirit and Word: offer thee no more softning and converting Grace; yea, what if he give thee up to final hardness in impenitency and unbelief, before this work be done, Art thou not then quite undone to all eternity? 4. O my soul, wil not a real, inward, efficacious New-Covenant Condition, immediately vest thee with this matchless happiness: (r) The LORD will be to thee a God, and thou shalt be to him one of his people? will the LORD be to thee a God! Then the Lord will be to thee, more-sweet, then all thy sins, and sinful pleasures; more-rich, then all earthly treasures and enjoyments; more-honourable, then all worldly dignities; more sure and faithful, then all thy friends and relations in the world; yea more then Earth, more then Heaven, more then Grace, more then Glory. Then the Lord will be All, and above All unto thee. Beyond him nothing can be Promised, or Performed by God: nothing can be desired or enjoyed by thee. Wantest thou God? Nothing can make thee happy. Hast thou God? Nothing can make thee miserable. Again, shalt thou be to him one of his People? Then, Thou shalt not be thine own any longer, to be misled by self-delusions; Thou shalt not be the worlds any longer, to be cheated with perishing vanities; Thou shalt not be Satan's any longer, to be (t) led Captive at his will by his Temptations; Thou shalt not be sin's any longer, to be enthralled under its guilt and dominion; Thou shalt not be Death's any longer, to be exposed unto Curse or Condemnation. Thou art and shalt be Gods for thy eternal Bliss and Salvation. O who would not accept Gods New Covenant in inward power and efficacy: wherein he shall thus Accept God, and thus be Accepted of God? No Motives can be more Moving: no Reasons can be more Perswading: no Arguments can be more Compelling.

Secondly, A word to all that are of the number of Gods sincere Faederates within this New Covenant. The LORD hath brought you you and placed you (as once Adam at first) in a very Paradise, when he brought you into this New Covenant. For as Adam sweetly enjoyed God in Paradise: so you as sweetly in Christ enjoy God in this New Covenant. (t) I will be to them a God. And God enjoyed, was the supreme glory of that Paradise, and of this Covenant. Nay, what if I say; This New Covenant is beyond that Paradise. For, In that Paradise God was enjoyed, but a while: In this New Covenant God shall be enjoyed, and that for ever. In that Paradise Adam enjoyed God, but speedily lost him: In this New Covenant ye so enjoy him, that ye shall never lose him. Here's a mysterie; Man hath not lost his Paradise, but changed it: yea changed it for a better, that shall never be lost. This New Covenant is that better Paradise, wherein the Fœderates having tasted of the tree of Life Christ Jesus, shall enjoy their good God alwaies. O give me that Paradise, wherein I may never lose my God, the Glory, and Crown, and Paradise of Paradise. Now O all ye that are savingly enstated in the spiritual Paradise of this New Covenant, and have the Lord your God, and are his People indeed: be perswaded; 1. To live upon this Promise. 2. To live up to this Promise. 3. To bring (what lies in you) all your neer and dear Allies and Relations within this New Covenant effectually, that they may with you partake the blessed fulness and influence of this Promise.

(t) Heb. 8. 10.

1. Live upon this Promise. If there be food and matter of Life for the soul by Faith in any Promise of the blessed Bible, it is in this glorious New Covenant-Promise. (u) I will be to them a God, and they shall be to me a People. Should I be put to point out one Promise only in all the Holy Scriptures, whereupon I would repose my soul with fullest satisfaction; whereon I would daily feed with sweetest delight; wherewith I would enlarge, raise and ravish my heart with richest consolations; whereby I would steel my Spirit against all Spiritual Maladies; Fill my spirit with all compleat felicities, and assure my spirit of eternal salvation: This, this alone should be that Phœnix-Promise, among all the Promises. 1. This Promise hath Free-grace in it: For the meer good-pleasure of Gods will is the Motive of it, I will be their God. 2. This Promise hath effectual Vocation, Sanctification, Justification, and Communion with God in it: for otherwise, how can we be Gods People? 3. This Promise hath All Mercy and Consolation in it: for he, that will be our God, is (x) The Father of tender Mercies, and the God of all Consolation. 4. This Promise hath Christ in it: for the Lord is savingly a God to none, nor are any sincerely a people to God, but only in Jesus Christ through faith. 5. This Promise hath the Spirit of God and of Christ in it: for, actually and effectually we become Gods people (y) by the operation of the Spirit of God and of Christ only. 6. This Promise hath God in it: for herein saith the Lord, I will be to them a God. 7. This Promise consequently, hath all Temporals, all Spirituals, and all Eternals in it: For that Lord that freely gives his Christ, his Spirit, and Himself to us to be our God, who is best of all things, How shall he not with himself freely give us all things?

Now therefore thou that art actually and effectually within this blessed Promise, live upon it, feed upon it, rest upon it, dwell upon it: in thy Prosperity, in thine adversity; in thy strength, in thy weakness; in thine health, in thy sickness; in thy Triumphs, in thy Tryals and Temptations; in thy fulness, in thy wants; in thy joyes, in thy griefs; in thy comforts, in thy disconsolations; in thy youth, in thine age; in thy life, and in thy death. 1. What distresses will not this Promise allay? (z) The Father of Mercies being thy God. 2. What discomforts will not this Promise remove? The (a) God of all Consolation being thy God. 3. What wants will not this Promise supply? The (b) Possessour of Heaven and Earth being thy God. 4. What enemies will not this Promise overthrow? God (c) Al-sufficient, the Lord of Hosts being thy God. 5. What sins will not this Promise subdue? The (d) God of Pardons being thy God. 6. What Grace and Glory will not this Promise assure? The (e) God of all Grace, the Author of every good and perfect gift therein assuring thee that he will be thy God. 7. And, what Doubts, Scruples or Difficulties about thine eternal salvation, will not this Promise resolve and satisfie? Seeing this Promise lets thee know, (1) That the Lord will be thy God: and what (f) cannot God do for thee? (2) That thou shalt be one of his people; and what can (g) creatures do against thee? (3) That, both these God freely promiseth, because he will: and then no unworthiness of thine shall hinder the Inchoation of thine happiness. (4) That, both these God will faithfully perform, because he hath freely promised and undertaken both for himself and his Fœderates: and then no infirmity, impotency or weakness of thine shall ever hinder the consummation of thine Happiness. Therefore live, O live still upon this lively Promise; that thou mayst live evermore. Let thy mind live upon it, by Contemplation: Let thy Conscience live upon it, by Pacification: Let thy will live upon it, by Contentation: Let thine heart and affections live upon it, by Exhileration.

2. Live up unto this Promise. This Promise is most Sweet, Full, High, Holy, Comfortable, &c. let thy life and conversation be answerable.

The LORD is thy Covenant God. O live as one possessing such a God. Live not carnally, but Spiritually. Live not Earthly, but (h) heavenly. Live not so much below, as (i) above. Live not Scandalously, but (k) inoffensively towards God and man. Live not Sordidly, but generously. Live not Murmuringly, distrustfully, and disconsolately: but (l) Contentedly, believingly and Comfortably. Live not as swine, on Husks below: but as Angels, on this manna which is above. Live not like them that are (m) without Covenant, without Christ, without Hope, and without God in this world: but as those those that are effectually in Covenant, full of Christ, full of Hope, and full of God. So live, thou that hast the Lord to be thy God: that it may appear that God lives in thee, and that thou art primarily acted, guided, enabled, over-powered, upheld and Comforted by the Lord thy God.

Thou art one of his Covenant-People. O live as one possessed by such a God, And therefore, 1. Disclaim Sin, the world and Satan; 2. Know God more clearly and experimentally; 3. Endear thine heart to God sincerely and intensively; 4. Fear, serve and obey God uprightly, universally and continually; 5. Walk with God in holy Communion, 6. Stand for God, & take his part against all opposition; 7. And advance Gods glory over all for his admirable vertues expressed in thy effectual vocation: For these are proper and peculiar Duties of Gods Covenant-people, as I have (n) heretofore more at large demonstrated.

(n) In Book III. Chap. 3. Aph. 3. Sect. 1. p. 426.

3. Labour (what lyes in thee) to interess and engage all thy near Allies and dear Relations in this New Covenant effectually, that they with thee may partake the unparalleld influence of this Promise abundantly. Is the Lord become savingly thy God in Covenant: and dost thou not desire that he may also become the Covenant-God of thy husband, wife, parents children, and (if it were possible) of all thine endeared Relations? Hast thou found such a blissfull advantage, by becoming one of Gods Covenant people: & dost thou not heartily wish that all thine Allies were altogether herein as thou art, except thine infirmities? O then commend this New Covenant unto them frequently, Magnifie the Treasures of it highly, Display the glory and fulness of this chief Promise pathetically, Urge them to press after an inward New Covenant Condition sincerely, &c. That the Lord may be their God, and they his people eternally.

Thirdly and lastly; Here's a word of Quickning to the Faithfull Ministers of the New Testament. Your office is To be (o) Ministers of the New Covenant, or New Testament: O strive to be Minsters of the Spirit, not of the Letter. Its your singular Honor and Priviledge to be preachers of Gods New Covenant, which excels all former Covenants: Oh lay out your chief skill, strength and diligence, In disclosing the Glory and perfections of this New Covenant, and especially of this Paramount Promise of the New Covenant to all the flock; In Perswading them to embrace unfeinedly the inward Spirit of this Covenant. Then they know indeed, when they understand the New Covenant solidly: Then they believe indeed, when they embrace the New Covenant unfeinedly: Then they live indeed, when they live upon, and live up unto the New Covenant experimentally: Then they are Christians indeed, and Happy indeed, when the Lord is their Covenant-God, and they his Covenant-people reciprocally and effectually.

But hitherto of Exhortation.

IV. Lastly, Here's wonderfull Matter for Consolation. Here's Manna from Heaven, Here's Hony indeed out of the Bowels of the Lyon. Here's a golden Mine, a living Spring, a spacious Sea of Consolation, to all Gods true Covenant-people, That the LORD is their God, and they his People, according to this New Covenant in Jesus Christ! And this against all the grounds of Discomfort which principally are wont to afflict and sadden their hearts, viz. 1. Reliques of inherent Corruption. 2. Fears and dangers of Apostacy. 3. Outward or Inward wants. 4. Strong and violent Temptations. 5. Sad and dismaying Desertions. 6. Sharp Afflictions and Persecutions. 7. And the very terrours and pangs of death it self! The Comfort of this Grand Promise against all these seven Disconsolations comes now to be enlarged, as (p) formerly I promised.

(p) Book III. Chap. 3. Aph. 3. Sect. 1. pag. 435.

1. What an impregnable Comfort may this be to every of Gods true Covenant-people, Against all Reliques of inherent Sin and Corruption remaining in them: That the Lord is their Covenant-God.

Though they are (q) sanctified throughout in Soul, Spirit and Body; in all the faculties and affections of the Soul, and in all the senses and members of the body: yet in all these they are but sanctified in part. As in every of them there is some spirit: so there remains some flesh, Gal. 5. 17. As there is a Spiritual (r) Law in their minde, so there is a Carnal Law in their members: & this oft-times Captivates them to the Law of sin. So that, (s) the good they would do, that they do not: and the evil they would not, that they do. Yet not they, as sanctified: but sin that dwelleth in them, so far as unsanctified. Hence, How often do they suspect their spiritual Condition, that all's unsound, all's Hypocrisie, their Condition worse then the Condition of any; None of Gods people so hard-hearted, unbelieving, impenitent, hypocritical, and every way so wretched as themselves. Hereupon, How do they break their hearts with sighs and groans! How do their eyes pour out tears to God! How do they cry out and lament, oh when shall all these cursed Canaanites be cast out and subdued; when shall all these iniquities be cast into the bottom of the sea; when shall this old leaven be purged out; when shall this body of sin and Death, and this old man be destroyed; when shall neither spot nor wrinkle, nor any such thing remain in us; when shall we sin no more; O wretches that we are, (t) who shall deliver us from the Body of this death: oh! when shall we be secured of a good spiritual estate!

(t) Rom. 7. 24

Yet against all these Remains of Sin and Corruption, every true Believer may comfort himself by this New Covenant, Assuring him in Christs blood that the Lord is his Covenant-God for ever. And this principally three waies. 1. The Lord is their New Covenant-God, and they his people: therefore in Christ he hath (u) blotted out all their iniquities, and will remember them no more. He will not upbraid them with them, nor not impute them to them: because he is their God in Covenant. This is clear by the tenour of the New Covenant. Satan, wicked men, and their own mis-deeming hearts may impute them to them, and cast them in their face: but God himself will not impute them to them, nor remember them any more. Christ saith, (x) Thou art all fair, my love, there is no spot in thee. How sweet is their comfort! (y) Who shall lay any thing to the charge of Gods elect? It is God that justifieth, who is he that condemneth? It is Christ that dyed, yea rather that is risen again, who is even at the right hand of God, who also maketh intercession for us. 2. The Lord is their Covenant God, and they his people: therefore in Christ, by his Spirit, he is daily (z) writing his Laws in their Minds and Hearts; daily Sanctifying and cleansing them, — that he may present them to himself glorious at last, not having spot or wrinkle, or any such thing, but that they should be holy and without blemish. So that though many reliques of sin remain in them, yet they are daily wasting, weakning, consuming, decaying, dying: like the House of Saul, which waxed weaker and weaker, till it was totally abolished. At (a) death, all the inherent and actual sins of the righteous totally cease: their (b) Spirits being then made perfect, and eternally freed from all corruptions and (c) imperfections. Pharoah and his hoast were strong and terrible, to fright and trouble Israel; but Israels God was stronger to drown them all in the bottom of the Red Sea: The Remains of sin are strong and dismaying to perplex and grieve the Saints, but their Covenant-God is stronger, to (d) subdue their iniquities, and thou wilt cast all their sins into the depths of the Sea. Thou wilt perform the Truth to Jacob, and the Mercy to Abraham, which thou hast sworn unto our fathers from the dayes of old. What a Comfort is this that our God will utterly extirpate every sin, and compleatly obliterate every spot, wrinkle and shadow of corruption? 3. The Lord is their Covenant-God, and they his People notwithstanding all the remains of Corruption. Reliques of sin cannot destroy or disturb their Covenant-Relation to God, nor their Covenant-Communion with God. What sweet fellowship had Noah, Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, Moses, David, &c. with God in Covenant, notwithstanding all their inherent sins and infirmities? Their sins shall not separate them from their Covenant-God: their Covenant-God will separate them from all their sins.

(u) Ier. 31. 34. Heb 8 12. & 10. 16, 17, 18.

2. What a Comfort is this to all Abraham's true Seed Against all fears or dangers of Apostacy!

Their Graces infused are but weak, Their corruptions remaining are strong, Their temptations fierce and violent, Their Difficulties which they wrastle withall in the way to Heaven are not a few, The (e) gate to life is exceeding strait, many miss it, few enter: Hereupon they are apt to faint and be discouraged; They shall not hold out, they shall fall away, they shall not persevere faithful to the death.

But

But oh thou of little Faith, and much Fear, Art thou in Covenant with God, and doſt thou queſtion thy Perſeverance? conſider well, 1. The Lord is thy Covenant-God, and thou art one of his true Covenant-people. Did the Lord ever caſt off, or ſuffer to fall away any one of his true Covenant-people? and will he now begin with thee? (f) with him is no variableneſs nor ſhadow of turning. (g) His gifts of effectual calling are without repentance. He may ſuffer thee to fall, to fall frequently, to fall foully, to fall from ſome ſenſe of Comfort, from ſome degrees of Grace, for thy further Caution, Confirmation and Spiritual advantage, but totally and finally, he will never ſuffer thee to fall away or periſh, becauſe he is thy God in Covenant. For then his Covenant ſhould fail for evermore. 2. The Lords New Covenant is a Covenant of (h) his own Eſtabliſhment in Chriſts blood: And what God hath eſtabliſhed in Chriſts blood, who or what ſhall overthrow? 3. Gods New Covenant is an (i) Everlaſting Covenant. And an Everlaſting Covenant hath no End: From an Everlaſting Covenant there can be no Apoſtacy or total backſliding. 4. The Lord God in his New Covenant with his people undertakes for (k) both parties, and their reciprocal conſtancy in Covenant one to another: as once he did for his Captives. And I will make an Everlaſting Covenant with them, that I will not turn away from them, to do them good; but I will put my fear in their hearts, that they ſhall not depart from me. So in this New Covenant God ſaith, I will be to them a God, and they ſhall be to me a people. He undertakes for himſelf, and for us. In other Covenants and contracts the ſeveral parties undertake onely for themſelves ſeverally: In the Marriage Covenant the husband undertakes not both for himſelf and his wife, nor the wife for her ſelf and her husband; but the husband undertakes onely for himſelf, and the wife onely for her ſelf, to be conſtantly faithful. But God in his New Covenant with his people is pleaſed to be an extraordinary undertaker altogether. He undertakes for both ſides, both for himſelf and for his people: for himſelf, that he will be theirs; for his people, that they ſhall be his. So that the faithful God himſelf, who cannot poſſibly lie; the all-powerfull God, who is fully able to perform what he promiſeth: he hath engaged himſelf ſtrongly for his peoples Conſtancy and Perſeverance towards him, ſo that in this regard there is no place left for utter Apoſtacy, no poſſibility of total and final falling away from him and his Grace, becauſe he is their Covenant-God.

3. What a Comfort is this to all Abraham's true Seed Againſt all Outward or Inward wants: and Conſequently againſt all diſcontents and perplexities thence ariſing! Is the Lord become thy God by this everlaſting New Covenant?

How may this comfort and quiet thy Spirit againſt all Outward wants? wanteſt thou food, or rayment; credit, or wealth; ſtrength, or health; wanteſt thou Liberty, Lands, Livings, Houſe, Harbour, Harbour, Friends, Kindred, Children, or any other near and dear Relations? yea perhaps thou wanteſt theſe things, while thine enemies, while the (l) wicked of the world flow and overflow with them. Yet thou haſt an enjoyment beyond all theſe wants: The Lord is thy God by an Everlaſting New Covenant. Therefore look not down ſo much at thy wants: as look up to thy Enjoyment, to thy God, and Comfort thy ſelf. For, 1. Thy God is thine All. The Lord being thy God in Covenant, is in ſtead of all ſupplies unto thee. Thine Health, in Sickneſs: Thy Strength, in Weakneſs: Thine Eaſe, in Pain and Torments: Thine Honour, in Diſhonour: Thy Glory, in Reproaches: Thy Wealth, in Poverty: Thy Friend, in Friendleſneſs: Thine Habitation, in Harbourleſneſs: Thine Enlargement, in Bondage: Thy Cordial and (m) Strength of Heart, when Heart and Strength faileth: yea thy very Life, in the valley of the ſhadow of Death. Solomon ſaith, (n) A Feaſt is made for laughter, and wine maketh glad the life: but money anſwereth all things. Feaſts and wine, meat and drink, though in the number of externals moſt neceſſary, yet have but a peculiar and limited uſefulneſs: But Money, being an Inſtrument and Mean of Commerce, that hath a general uſe, and anſwereth to all things. Money feeds, clothes, heals, honours, befriends, ſets at liberty, procures all neceſſary Moveables, purchaſeth Houſes, Lands, Manours, maketh war, and maketh peace, &c. But Gods Covenant-people may much more fully ſay, Their God anſwers all things. Money anſwers all things, but reſpectively, reſtrictively, finitely and with many limitations: but their God anſwers all things abſolutely, unlimitedly, infinitely without all exception. 2. Thy God is much more to thee, then the All that thou wanteſt. Why then ſhouldſt thou repine or murmur at thy wants? When Hannah was greatly diſtreſſed through her barrenneſs and want of children, Elkanah her husband thus comforted her; (o) Hannah, why weepeſt thou? and why eateſt thou not? and why is thine heart grieved? Am not I better to thee then ten ſons? How much more may every true New Covenant Fœderate comfort himſelf againſt all his wants, ſaying; O my ſoul, why art thou caſt down? why art thou ſo diſquiet within me? why do I weep, and grieve, and take on for want of theſe externals? Is not the Lord, my God? And is not my God more to me then ten Elkanah's, then ten thouſand earthly enjoyments? What Auguſtin ſaid of Job, may be ſaid of every true believer that hath the Lord for his God, againſt all his wants and loſſes. (*) *A Righteous man ſhipwracked, eſcapes Rich and Naked. blow by which he was thought to be rich a little before: ſuddenly he ſits down a beggar upon the dunghil, abounding with worms from head to feet. What more miſerable then this miſery? what more happy then his inward happineſs? He had loſt all thoſe things which God had given him: but he had him, who gave all things, God himſelf.

Conſider well, O Chriſtian; Hadſt thou all thoſe earthly treaſures, which thou wanteſt, or which this whole world can afford: yet thy God in Covenant is infinitely more to thee then them all. For, (o) Thy God is more (p) deſirable, amiable and delightful to thee then them all. He is the ſupreme Good: The (q) only eſſential and primitive good. Theſe things are ſcarce drops and ſhadows of his goodneſs; infinitely inferiour to him. He therefore is infinitely deſirable before them. (r) Thy God is more influential and comfortable to thee, then they all. All the influence, comfort and benefit that theſe things afford thee, it is meerly from God and his bleſſing. Without him, It is not in Food to nouriſh, in Phyſick to heal, in Clothes to warm, in Beds to refreſh, in Houſes and Gardens to delight, in Friends to comfort, in Strongholds or Armies to defend, &c. and with him any thing ſhall ſerve turn. Gideon and Iſrael ſhall be defended againſt the Midianites (s) with lamps and earthen pitchers; Daniel and his Companions ſhall be beſt-liking with courſeſt (t) pulſe: The blind man ſhall recover ſight by (u) clay and ſpittle put upon his eyes, &c. (3) Thy God is more ſatisfying and contenting to thee then they all. They all have a vanity and an emptineſs in them, and cannot fill thee; they have a diſproportion to thy ſoul, and cannot ſatisfie thee. Thou maiſt have much of them; but never enough, though thou hadſt them all. But thy God is (x) al-ſufficient. He can fill all thy deſires to the full, and make them overflow. Having him, thou ſhalt have enough: yea thou haſt all. (4) Thy God is more conſtant and continuing to thee, then they all. They vaniſh and crumble away, and then all thy ſmall comforts and contentments in them vaniſh alſo. But thy God continues to thee for Ever; and therefore he is the moſt conſtant and laſting conſolation. 3. Thy God can and will, ſo far as is good for thee, ſupply all thy wants, in the fitteſt ſeaſon: becauſe he is thy God. He (y) can do all things. He (z) is able to do for us exceeding abundantly above all that we can ask or think. And he hath promiſed, That, (a) They that fear the Lord ſhall not want any good thing. (b) —The LORD will give grace and glory: and no good thing will he withhold from them that walk uprightly. Why then ſhouldſt thou be troubled at thy wants? ſay with David, (c) The LORD is my ſhepheard, I ſhall not want: yea ſay rather, The Lord is my Covenant-God, I ſhall not want. He can, and will give thee every good thing. He hath given himſelf to thee: how ſhall he then deny thee any thing? If thou wanteſt any thing, either it is becauſe he ſees it not good for thee, or becauſe it is not yet good for thee. Gods time is the beſt time for receiving of mercies. 4. Thy God can so sanctifie and bless thy want of outward blessings, that thy want of them shall be a far greater advantage to thee, then thy enjoyment of them. Outward wants; (1) Sometimes become occasions of inward wealth. (c) Hearken my beloved brethren, hath not God chosen the poor of this world rich in faith, and heirs of the Kingdom, which he hath promised to them that love him? (2) Sometimes they draw forth the Faith and Graces of the Saints to more lively exercise and activity. Abraham's long want of a son by Sarah, greatly improved his faith and expectation on God: So that his Faith thereupon became so famous throughout the world, that he is counted the Father of the Faithfull. Had not Abraham being exercised so long with the want of a Son, his Faith in Gods promise had never been so renowned. (3) Sometimes they Minister occasion to Gods extraordinary provisions and providence for his people. When Israel was in many wants in the wilderness, then was Gods time to furnish them extraordinarily. The (d) Heavens rained them bread; The (e) Rock of flint ran water for them; Their (f) Garments waxed not old; Their (g) feet did not swell for fourty years together. When Elijah in the famine wanted ordinary food, God appointed the very (h) Ravens to feed him with bread and flesh morning and evening. (4) Sometimes Outward wants are Gods opportunites of drawing neerer to his people by secret supports, sensible comforts, sweet refreshments, and reviving experiences of his peculiar presence, assistance & light of his countenance. Hence H. Bradford wanting his liberty, and being in prison, said; (i) God doth thus punish me, nay rather in punishing blesseth me. And indeed I thank him more of this prison, then of any Parlour, yea then of any pleasure that ever I had: for in it I find God, my most sweet good God alwayes. Thus, if the Lord be thy God in Covenant, this may be thine universal comfort against all outward wants.

How Comfortable may this be also against all thine Inward wants? As Israel of old in the wilderness, so the Israel of God in the wilderness of this world are in an imperfect, unsettled and wanting state. Nor have they only Outward, but also Inward wants, to exercise and afflict them. They want degrees of Graces, Assurance and Evidence of their good Spiritual State; The light of Gods Countenance; Peace of Conscience; Comforts of the Holy Ghost; Strength in the Inward man against Corruptions and Temptations, and for all Spiritual undertakings, &c. And because of these defects they are oft-times much discouraged, and drive on very heavily towards Heaven. Now if the Lord be thy God in Covenant, this may abundantly comfort thee against all these inward wants. For, 1. Thy Covenant-God is fully able to supply all these thine inward wants; He is (k) the God of all Grace: and can bestow all Grace for kind and degree upon thee. He that gave such (l) Faith to Abraham, such (m) Meekness to Moses, such (n) Patience to Job, such (o) Zeal and uprightness to David, such (p) Wisdom to Daniel, such (q) Love to John, such (r) courage and Self-Denial to Paul, &c. is fully able to do as much for thee.

He (f) gives his own Spirit to us, that we might know the things which are freely given to us of God. Even his (t) Spirit of Adoption, which witnesseth with our spirits that we are the children of God; which (u) Sealeth us, and is the Earnest of our inheritance. He is (x) the God of peace, (y) whose peace passeth all understanding, whereby he can keep our hearts in the knowledge and love of God. And (z) if he give peace, who can give trouble? He is (a) the God of all Consolation: and can give more comforts, then we can have discomforts. He can (b) fill with joy and peace in believing. Yea he can (c) send the Comforter himself into our hearts to abide with us for ever. Finally, He by (d) his divine power can give us all things pertaining to life and godliness; can (e) grant us according to the riches of his glory to be strengthned with might by his Spirit in the inward man; and can (f) bless us with all Spirituall blessings in heavenly things in Christ. He is God: therefore he can easily do all these things, and so suply all our wants.

2. Thy Covenant-God will daily supply these wants, and at last set thee in a state of perfection above them all. For, (1) He hath in this life (g) prepared such spiritual supplies and blessings for them that love him, as are utterly beyond all carnal mens capacity of apprehension. (2) He hath (h) promised to give Grace and Glory, and to withhold no good thing from them that walk uprightly. And in the tenour of his Covenant hath Promised Explicitely to furnish his Covenant-people with (i) Knowledge, Repentance, Renovation, The fear of the Lord, The Spirit of the Lord, Perseverance, &c. Implicitely to furnish them with all things that pertain to Godliness, in that he promiseth to be their God. (3) He hath ordained and (k) given Apostles, Prophets, Evangelists, Pastors and Teachers for the perfecting of the Saints, for the work of the Ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ: till we all come in the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ. (4) He hath (l) built us upon the foundation of the Apostles and Prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief corner stone: In whom all the building fitly framed together, groweth unto an holy Temple in the Lord. And though (m) now we do but know in part, &c. yet when that which is perfect is come, that which is in part shall be done away. Then all imperfection shall be swallowed up of perfection. There's a four-fold Perfection wherewith God furnisheth all his Covenant people, viz. 1. A Perfection (n) of integrity and uprightness instilled into them, when he first takes them into Covenant with himself. This some call A Perfection of parts: All the other Perfections of degrees. 2. A Pefection of Comparative growth; according to which one believer is counted comparatively Perfect in respect of another of less growth in Grace. (o) Let us therefore, as many as be perfect, be thus minded. 3. A Perfection of incomplecat vision and fruition; when the Souls of believers loosed from their bodies, are convayed instantly into Heaven, and there being perfected in Grace, do see and injoy God immediately face to face:

face: but incompleatly, inasmuch as not the body but only the Soul, doth thus See and enjoy God. (p) But ye are come, — To God the judge of all, and the Spirits of just men made perfect. 4. A perfection of compleat vision and fruition; when believers, not only in Soul, but also in body reunited, Shall (q) See and enjoy God as he is, fully, immediately and eternally. Our God is carrying us on daily from perfection to perfection, from the very lowest to the highest degree of these Perfections: and consequently he is daily supplying all our wants more and more, till in the supream Perfection every want vanish and be done away.

4. What a Comfort is this Against all strong and violent Temptations of the Flesh, the World, or the Devil!

With Temptations of these three grand spiritual enemies none are more evidently exercised then Gods own Covenant-people. For, 1. Carnal men are under their (r) full dominion, like prisoners in dungeons and irons, the Gaoler is sure of them, troubles not himself much about them: therefore they are seldom buffeted by their Temptations. But believers are (s) brought out of prison, rescued from the power of Sin, Satan, &c. therefore Satan raises all his force and fury of Temptations upon them to re-enslave them: as the Gaoler raises all the Country with Hue and Cry after prisoners escaped when they have broke prison. 2. Carnal men need not many Temptations to carry them down the stream: Their (t) whole nature is only prone to evil, and therefore is carried away with every bare suggestion, with every slight proffer of a temptation. They are like tinder, they catch fire at every spark of Temptation. Yea they oftimes tempt Satan, to tempt them. But Gods people having (u) Sanctification as well as corruption, Grace as well as sin: they resist and repell temptations, and often get the victory. Hereupon Satan, &c. re-assaults them more fiercely, with all his malice, stratagems and violence. 3. Gods people are not only the (o) most eminent of all people, but the greatest enemies to Satan, &c. If these Cedars and Oaks fall, many lesser shrubs will be brought down with them: and Satans kindgom more advanced by foyling one of these, then 100. others. Therefore above all (p) Satan desires to have them, to sift them as wheat. Them he will (q) buffet: On them he runs like a (r) Roaring Lyon with open mouth to devour them. Against them he useth all his (s) Depths, all his (t) Devices: He deals with them, sometimes as an (u) Angel of Light, sometimes as a black Devil indeed; but alwaies as an (x) Old Serpent the Devil and Satan. Hereupon what fears, straits, tears, prayers, plunges and discomforts are Gods dear people put upon? yea sometimes they are hereby so buffeted, weather-beaten, tossed and tyred: that they begin to despond and faint, and are even weary of their lives.

But against all possible Temptations no people in the world have greater ground of encouragement and comfort then Gods people.

And what greater comfort againſt Temptations then this, That the Lord is their Covenant-God? For, 1. Their God is ſtronger then all their Tempters or Temptations. Our beſt friend, is above our worſt foe. Our Covenant-God is with us; the fleſh, world and Satan are againſt us: there are more with us, then againſt us: (y) ye are of God, little children, & have overcome them: becauſe greater is he that is in you, then he that is in the world. And ſaith Chriſt in reference to his ſheep, (z) My father that gave me them, is greater then all: and no man is able to pluck them out of my Fathers hand. 2. Their God is wiſer then all their Tempters. Satan is an old crafty Serpent, an old deceiver: hath his depths and devices, &c. but the Lord is (a) God only wiſe; unſearchable in counſel; his underſtanding is infinite. He hath caught Satan in his own craftineſs, both in his tempting of the firſt, and laſt Adam. And (b) the Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptations. He hath depths, beyond Satans depths: and devices, beyond Satans devices. He hath more wiſdom to bring us out of Temptation, then Satan hath ſubtilty to bring us into temptation. 3. Their God is more tender over his people, then the Devil is cruel againſt them. The Devil is cruel againſt them to the uttermoſt of his ability, (c) Your adverſary the Devil, as a roaring Lyon walketh about, ſeeking whom he may devour. (d) —— Wo to the inhabitants of the earth, and of the Sea: for the Devil is come down unto you, having great wrath, becauſe he knoweth that he hath but a ſhort time. Yet as the Devil himſelf, ſo all his cruelty, is finite and limited. But Gods tenderneſs over his people is infinite and boundleſs. No (e) father can be ſo tender over his children; no (f) mother ſo tender over her ſucking babe; no man ſo tender over (g) the apple of his eye: as God is over his peculiar people. How ſweet this comfort! Their God loves them, more then their enemy the Devil can hate them. They may triumph in his Divine Compaſſion, over all Diabolical cruelty. 4. No temptation can befall Gods people, but by the wiſe permiſſion of their God. Satan cannot tempt them but as their God permits. (h) God is faithful, who will not ſuffer you to be tempted above that ye are able. Temptations then befall Gods children, not when and as their Tempters pleaſe, but when and as their God permits. 5. Their God limits both Tempters and Temptations. The Devil himſelf, the grand Tempter, is in Gods chain: and cannot go one link beyond his leave. He could not touch (i) Iob's goods, or children, or his body, but only according to Gods permiſſion and limitation. Yea he was not able to touch the (k) herd of Swine, till Chriſt gave leave. That paſſage is very obſervable; (l) Behold the Devil ſhall caſt ſome of you into priſon, that ye may be tryed, and ye ſhall have tribulation ten daies, &c. Here are four limitations upon the Devils temptations by perſecuting the Church. The Perſons, Their Puniſhment, The event of it, The Duration of it are all limited and confined. The perſons tempted; ſome of you: not all. The Puniſhment inflicted; they ſhall caſt you into priſon: not into mercileſs waters, not into de vouring flames, not into the grave, not into Hell. The event of it; that ye may be tryed: not that ye may be ruined and destroyed. The time of duration; for ten daies: not for twenty daies, not during their pleasure, not for your whole lives, not for ever. All's under restraint. He that bounds the unruly waves of the Sea, saying, Thus far shall ye go, and no further. He bounds the more unruly rage of Satan, that he cannot pass, or tempt beyond his bounds. 6. Their God will not permit them to be tempted above their ability. He knows their strength to the uttermost, and he is so faithful, (m) he will not suffer them to be tempted above what they are able; but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it. The Apostle chiefly here intends temptations by afflictions and sufferings. Against these he comforts them from the faithfulness of their God three waies, viz. (1) In that he will not permit them to be tempted above their ability. That is, he will so allay, qualifie and moderate the temptation, that it shall not be above their ability which they have from God. Otherwise Gods people are sometimes (n) pressed out of measure, above strength: As Paul in Asia, above his own meer humane strength. (2) In that he will with the temptation, make a way to escape; if that be best. As he made way (o) for David often to escape from Saul: so (p) Peter out of prison, to escape Herod, &c. (3) In that they shall be able to bear the temptation, if they escape not. He let Peter escape out of prison, but not (q) James: yet he enabled James to bear it. This is very comfortable against all Temptations of the world or Satan: Our God is so faithful, that he will either decrease and bring down the Temptation to our strength, or deliver from it, or increase and bring up our strength proportionably to the temptation. 7. Their God furnisheth them with compleat armour against all temptations: that they may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all to stand. This is called, (r) The Panoply, or the whole-Armour of God. The Apostle excellently describes it. He makes every Saint, a Souldier: and arms him spiritually from top to toe, but appoints no Armour for the back, because there should be no turning the back, no running away in time of Temptations from Satan. 8. The Grace of their God is sufficient for them against all their Temptations. He that was caught up into the third heavens, which is Paradise, had afterwards (s) a thorn in the flesh, the Messenger of Satan buffeting him. For this he prayed thrice that it might depart from him: The Lord would not remove the Temptation, but encourageth the tempted, with this; My grace is sufficient for thee. (t) Satan desired to have the Apostles, that he might sift them as wheat: and Christ foreknowing that Peter would be peculiarly endangered by that sifting, did especially pray for him that his faith might not fail. And his faith did not totally and finally fail, though he foully fell: for he speedily repented, and his dis-located faith was set in joynt again. 9. Their God shall give them compleat victory over Satan and his temptations.

ptations. (u) Christ hath conquered him in his own person, as our head: Is daily (x) conquering him by his Graces in his members; And will at last day both for himself and his members compleatly tread him under foot. (y) The God of peace shall bruise Satan under your feet shortly. Saith (z) Hierom; Swiftly. Some say shortly, that is, Opportunely, seasonably, when he is in the height of his temptations and insolency against them. (a) Some refer this to the day of judgement, which hasteneth apace, and will come shortly, when Satan shall be utterly crushed under our feet for evermore, and shall never be able to tempt or trouble us any more. 10. Finally, Their God turns their Temptations to great advantage. He that brought light out of darkness at first, is wont to extract medecines out of these poisons, and good to his people out of these evils of Satans temptations. For, (1) Hereby they are made conform to Iesus Christ their Head. (b) He was forty daies together most subtilly and dangerously tempted of the Devil. Yea, (c) he was in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin. (2) Hereby they are frequently necessitated to improve (d) the Compleat Armour of God: especially the shield of Faith, and sword of the Spirit. This Spiritual warfare, keeps their heavenly armour from rusting: and experimentally evidences it to be armour of proof. (3) Hereby they are singularly experienced and instructed in this Spiritual warfare. Exercise makes them expert souldiers of Iesus Christ. So that their hands are taught to war, and their fingers to fight, against all the enemies of their salvation. (4) Hereby they are forced (e) to flye to God by prayer: And obtain at least this sweet Answer, as a Return of Prayer particularly: My Grace is sufficient for thee. (5) Hereby they are driven to cling closer to Iesus Christ, that they be not overthrown. The more the tops of well-rooted trees are Shaken with the winds: the more deeply their roots are fixed in the Earth. When the wind blows hardest, the traveller girds his cloak to him the closest. When Temptations are most violent & impetuous: we cling fastest to Christ lest we fall, and Christ clasps us fastest because we shall not fall. (6) Hereby Christ gives them frequent occasions of triumphant victories. No conflict; no Conquest. No Temptation: No triumph. Christ himself in his own person was pleased to be tempted, that thereby he might take occasion to triumph over the Tempter. And he sometimes leads us into Temptation, that we may conquer by his conquests, and triumph by his triumphs, over temptation. (7) Finally, Hereby they are taught to compassionate and succour others in Temptations, themselves having had a feeling of temptations. Passion breeds Compassion. Yea and if Gods people sometimes be foiled by temptations, yet hereby they are provoked to more watchfulness for future, in regard of themselves; and are enabled to more helpfulness towards others. As Christ said to Peter; (f) when thou art converted strengthen thy brethren. And as David promised after his recovery; (g) ——Then shall

5. What a Comfort is this Againſt deep and diſmaying Deſertions, wherewith the Lord ſometimes exerciſeth his own people! Here Conſider briefly, 1. The Nature of theſe Deſertions. 2. The Comfort which Goas people may have againſt Deſertions, from this, That the Lord is their God by his Everlaſting New Covenant.

(1) The Nature and myſterie of Divine Deſertions, (to omit all other ſorts of Deſertions,) ſeems in General to Conſiſt in Gods Forſaking, or with-drawing from his Creature, viz. Not in Gods with-drawing his Eſſence from his Creature, which is Immenſe, Infinite and Omnipreſent, and cannot be excluded from any Creature: But in Gods with-holding or with-drawing in ſome ſort his Spirit, Grace, Favour, Comforts, Aſſiſtance, &c. from his Creature. According to this later ſenſe, Gods Deſertions or Forſakings of his Creatures are either, 1. Abſolute, or 2. Limited. That, as of a Supream Lord and righteous judge; This, as of a Faithful and loving Father. I. Gods Abſolute Deſertion extends it ſelf to all the veſſels of wrath, whether Reprobate Angels or men. Them he forſakes, from them he totally and finally with-holds all ſaving grace, (which he is no way bound to give them,) as a Supream Lord and righteous Judge of all the world: ſuffering them to periſh. As, 1. He deſerted all the Reprobate Angels ſo that (h) they left their firſt eſtate and habitation, (which was mutable) by Sinning: and God left them in their Sin and miſery (i) without providing any Saviour for them. Though he deſerted mankind ſo as to leave them to (k) fall into Sin and miſery: yet (l) he provided a Saviour for recovery of all his elect among mankind. 2. He Deſerts all reprobate men, denying them the (m) pure, ſanctified and right uſe of Outward Benefits, which is the chief excellency or all ſuch outward enjoyments: and yet (n) he heaps many temporal Benefits upon them, As Honours, pleaſures, riches, friends, peace, liberty, &c. 3. He Deſerts great part of mankind, in vouchſafing them no tender of Ieſus Chriſt or the Goſpel at all. So that he wholly leaves them to periſh in their ſins, without offering them any Remedy: or vouchſafing them ſo much as an external Call to Chriſt. 4. He Deſerts multitudes of people in the viſible Church that have the Outward means of Salvation, by (p) with-holding the effectual and ſaving Co-operation of his Spirit by thoſe means. They have Word, Sacraments, &c. but not ſaving benefit by theſe. 5. He Deſerts many that ſeem to partake of his Spirit, of Faith, Repentance, Obedience, &c. (q) denying them the ſaving truth and perfection of theſe, ſo that they content themſelves with ſhews, ſhadows and imperfect degrees of them, the common endowments of the Spirit. But here's no comfort againſt this Abſolute Deſertion, whereby God forſakes all all Reprobates, and none but Reprobates. II. Gods limited Deſertion, is peculiar to his Elect. Them he deſerts ſometimes as a faithful & loving Father: not abſolutely, but only in ſome reſpects; not Totally, but only in ſome Degrees; Not Finally & for ever, but only for ſome little time. Againſt this limited Deſertion the preſent Conſolation is intended. Now thus The Lord Deſerts and leaves his own people, In Temptation, In Sin and Infirmity, In Trouble and Diſtreſs. 1. In Temptation. Herein God deſerts his people divers waies; viz. (r) Sometimes, By leaving them to be grievouſly exerciſed with them: Even (r) as wheat is toſſed and ſifted with a ſieve, or as a man is beaten and (s) buffeted about his head and face. Thus he left Paul to be (t) buffeted with the Meſſenger of Satan: not delivering him from thoſe buffetings, no not upon his many prayers. Thus probably Chriſt left his Diſciples to be (u) ſifted as wheat by Satan, about the time of his Paſſion. This is to be left to the trouble and vexation of temptation. (2) Sometimes, By leaving them to be overborn and foyled for a Seaſon by the Temptation. As (x) David, (y) Peter, and others. 2. In ſin and infirmity; Thus God deſerted King Hezekiah, and left him to the pride of his Heart expreſſed in his vain-glorious oſtentation before the King of Babylons Embaſſadors, (z) Hezekiah proſpered in all his works. Howbeit, in the buſineſs of the Embaſſadours of the Princes of Babylon, who ſent unto him to enquire of the wonder that was done in the Land, God left him, to try him, that he might know all that was in his heart. In Sin God deſerts his people diverſly, viz. (1) He leaves them in ſome meaſure during this preſent life under (a) Original ſin, the corruption of their Natures. He at their effectual calling ſanctifies them in every part; but not throughout in any part. There are (b) Reliques and powerful Remains of ſin indwelling in them, together with Habits and Principles of Grace: as Canaanites among the Iſraelites. Theſe Reliques of ſin are (c) The fleſh, contrary to the Spirit: (d) The Old man, oppoſite to the new man: (e) A body of Death, and (f) Law of ſin and death, repugnant to the Law of the Spirit of life: (g) A Law in their members rebelling againſt the Law of their mind, and leading them into captivity to the Law of ſin; As Paul notably evidenceth. And this proves matter of great affliction to Gods people. Hence Paul ſadly ſighs and laments; (h) O wretched man that I am! who ſhall deliver me from the body of this death? Theſe reliques of ſin maintain ſuch a continual conflict with the Gracious part in Gods people; that they are hereby oft filled with diſcomfort, yea and ſometimes make queſtion of the Truth of their Grace. (2) He leaves them ordinarily during this Mortality to divers invincible (i) Infirmities; viz. (k) Involuntary weakneſſes, both in omitting good, and committing evil, againſt their wills. As doubts, ſtaggerings, fears, ſpiritual dulneſs, ſluggiſhneſs, liſtleſneſs in the waies of God, wandring and diſtracted thoughts in duties, &c. By which their hearts are oft-times much much sadned and dejected : they think it is not with any of Gods people as with them herein. Thus the Lord Christ left his Spouse in her spiritual sluggishness, slumber and security, once and again. It is the voice of my beloved that knocketh, saying, Open to me, my Sister, my love, my dove, my undefiled; for my head is filled with dew, and my locks with the drops of the night. I have put off my coat, how shall I put it on ? I have washed my feet, how shall I defile them ? —— I opened to my beloved, but my beloved had withdrawn himself, and was gone : my soul failed, when he spake; I sought him, but I could not find him; I called him, but he gave me no answer.* (3) He sometimes leaves them for a time to fall into gross and scandalous sins. As Noah into (n) Drunkenness; Lot into (o) Incest with his two daughters; David into (p) Murder and Adultery; Peter into his triple (q) Denyal of his Lord and Master Jesus Christ, and every time worse then other, &c. And these Falls (r) cost them many bitter tears, when they come to themselves again : yea hereby their very bones are broken, their joy of Gods salvation is lost, their assurance of Gods love and Evidences for eternal life so blurr'd and defaced, that they call all into question. And of all Gods deserting his people in sin, this is most dangerous, and most to be lamented.

3. In trouble and Distress. Herein God Deserts his people many waies. As, (1) By leaving them to be exercised under Affliction, especially after great experience of Gods Mercies. Hence Gideon complained to the Angel; (f) O my Lord, If the LORD be with us, why then is all this befallen us ? And where be all his miracles which our Fathers told us of, saying, Did not the LORD bring us up from Egypt ? But now the LORD hath forsaken us, and delivered us into the hands of the Midianites. God in a sort forsakes his people, while he afflicts his people. (2) By leaving them to unusuall and extraordinary extremities of affliction. Thus (t) God left Iob in the hands of Satan to be miserably afflicted and distressed in his Goods, in his children, and in his own body : So that at last Iob (u) curses his birth, wisheth for Death, utters many passionate and distempered speeches, his friends think him to be a wicked hypocrite, and his wife estranged her self from him. And how hard a thing is it for Gods people not to faint in the day of extream affliction, because their strength is but small ! (3) By leaving them under affliction a long time, the Lord delaying his help. O this is a sad aggravation of their distress, when the Lord deserts them for a long time together ! Hence David complains; (x) How long wilt thou forget me O LORD for ever ? how long long wilt thou hide thy face from me? How long shall I take counsel in my soul, having sorrow in mine heart daily; How long shall mine enemy be exalted over me? And Asaph most sadly expostulates; (y) will the Lord cast off for ever? And will he be favourable no more? Is his mercy clean gone for ever? Doth his promise fail for evermore? Hath God forgotten to be gracious? Hath he in anger shut up his tender Mercies? Selah. (4) By with-holding from his afflicted people the wonted sense and sweet experience of his Comforts, favour and loving-kindness in their afflictions. When God hides his countenance, withdraws himself from them, seems not to lay to heart or Consider their trouble. This was Davids case, the Type: and Christs condition upon the Cross, the Antitype; (z) My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me? &c. This was the lot of (a) Mr. Rob Glover in prison at Coventry, after he was condemned to be burned for the Truth, two or three daies before his Death, his heart was dull, heavy and lumpish, desolate of all spiritual consolation in reference to the bitter Cross of Martyrdom. So that he feared the Lord had withdrawn his wonted favour from him; and made his moan to Austin Pernher, a Minister, his familiar friend, signifying how earnestly he had prayed night and day unto the Lord, and yet could receive no motion nor sense of any comfort from him. Austin wished him to wait patiently the Lords pleasure, and however his present feeling was, yet seeing his Cause was just and true, constantly to stick to the same, and play the man, not doubting but the Lord in his good time would satisfie him with plenty of Consolation, desiring him to shew some signification thereof when his heart began to be touched with them. The next day, as he was going to the place of Martyrdom, and was now come to the sight of the stake; (although all the night before praying for strength and courage he could feel none) suddenly he was so mightily replenished with Gods holy comfort and heavenly joyes, that he cryed out, clapping his hands to Austin, and saying in these words, Austin, He is come, he is come, &c. and that with such joy and alacrity, as one seeming rather to be risen from some deadly danger to liberty of life, then as one passing out of this world by any pains of death. Mr (b) Peacock a learned and godly Minister, in his last sickness, was so far Deserted of God, that he concluded; The Lord had cursed him; That he was a foolish vain-glorious hypocrite; It was against the course of Gods proceedings to save him, he hath otherwise Decreed, he cannot; That he desired no more to believe, then a post, then an horse-shooe, had no more sense of grace then those Curtains, then a goose, then that block. (c) To his friends, saying, Suffer us to pray for you, he replyed; Take not the name of God in vain, in praying for a Reprobate. (d) Mr. Dod asked him how he did? He answered; Lamentably, wretchedly, miserably. No stamp of grace in me. Do you desire to be eased? Infinitely. Oh if God would give me but a drop! (e)—Another time he brake out into this ejaculation; O God reconcile me unto thee, that I may tast one dram of grace, by which my miserable Soul may receive comfort. But after many sad agonies nies ([f]) he received much comfort before his Death, as I ſhall after intimate. ([f]) Finally, By ſetting himſelf, his wrath and terrours againſt his people in their diſtreſſes. It is exceeding ſad, when in afflictions God witholds his conſolations from his people: but it is double grievous and intolerable when himſelf heaps poſitive diſconſolations upon his people. Who may ſtand before him when once he is angry? This was Jobs caſe; ([g]) Oh that my grief were throughly weighed, and my calamity laid in the balances together! For now it would be heavier then the ſand of the Sea, therefore my words are ſwallowed up. For the Arrows of the Almighty are within me, the poyſon thereof drinketh up my ſpirit: The terrours of God do ſet themſelves in array againſt me. This was Heman's condition, who in his Deſertion thus complaineth to God; ([h]) Thou haſt laid me in the loweſt pit, in darkneſs, in the deeps. Thy wrath lieth hard upon me: and thou haſt afflicted me with all thy waves. Selah. ([i]) — LORD why caſteſt thou off my Soul? why hideſt thou thy face from me? I am afflicted and ready to die, from my youth up: while I ſuffer thy terrours I am diſtracted. Thy fierce wrath goeth over me: Thy terrours have cut me off. They came round about me daily like water: they compaſſed me about together. Theſe are the ſad Deſertions wherewith the Lord ſometimes exerciſeth his deareſt people. I have touched at the nature and ſorts of them the more largely, that I may lay their foundations of comfort againſt them more ſolidly, and you diſcern the neceſſity and commodity of ſuch comforts more fully.

([2]) The Comfort which Gods people may have againſt all theſe Divine Deſertions, from this, That the Lord is their God by this Everlaſting New Covenant; is manifold, and ſingularly reviving. For,

First, The LORD remains ſtill a Covenant-God unto his people, in and under their ſaddeſt Deſertions; as well as before, or after ſuch Deſertions. Jeſus Chriſt forſaken by his father when he was dying upon his Croſs, did yet in this extremity of Deſertion cry out, ([k]) My God, My God, why haſt thou forſaken me? Though he had deſerted him, yet ſtill he was his God; and ſtill he apprehended him as his God. David deſerted of his God, could yet plead his Covenant-intereſt in him, and Relation to him, as his God. ([l]) My God, my God, why haſt thou forſaken me? why art thou ſo far from helping me, and from the words of my roaring? O my God, I cry in the day-time, but thou heareſt not, &c. Heman in his moſt doleful Deſertion, yet was able to ſay; ([m]) O LORD God of my Salvation, I have cryed day and night before thee, &c. Yea the Lord in Deſertions ſtill remains their Covenant-God though they ſhould not be able ſo to apprehend him. As the Sun ſtill ſhines, although we cannot alwaies ſee it ſhine, by reaſon of clouds interpoſing, &c. Or as a ſick man hath ſtill a true title to, and intereſt in all his lands and goods, though for preſent he hath neither appre-henſion of it, nor Conſolation in it. And the Lord muſt needs remain their Covenant-God in Deſertion, as well as out; becauſe he is (n) their God by an Everlaſting Covenant. Now temporary Deſertions cannot overthrow an Everlaſting Covenant. What then though thou beeſt under a Divine Deſertion? yet the main is ſafe, The Subſtance of thine happineſs is ſure, The Lord ſtill remains thy God in Covenant. Oh what an heart-reviving Cordial! The Lord hath not taken away his Grace but ſuſpended it. He hath not deprived thee of the ſupport of his Comforts, but only of the ſenſe and experimental feeling of his Comforts. He hath not ſo much left thee, as concealed himſelf from thee: He is preſent with thee as thy God, but hath a little hid himſelf. Its with thee, as once (o) with Hagar: The well is cloſe by thee, and thou lamenteſt for water, becauſe thou knoweſt it not: or as once with the (p) two Diſciples going to Emmaus, they went lamenting Chriſts death, when Chriſt himſelf riſen from the dead walked and talked with them, but their eyes were held faſt that they knew him not. Let this refreſh thy deſerted ſpirit, The Lord hath in ſome ſenſe left thee: yet ſtill remains a Covenant-God unto thee.

Secondly, Gods ſincere Covenant-people may be long and deeply deſerted, but ſhall never be totally, finally or utterly forſaken. For, 1. Gods New Covenant with them in Chriſts blood is (q) ſure and Everlaſting, and can never be reverſed or deſtroyed: no more then Chriſt can dye a ſecond time. 2. The Mediatour of this Covenant Jeſus Chriſt hath not only dyed, to ratifie Gods New Covenant unalterably: but alſo is riſen again, for ever to trample upon all the ſins and enemies of his true New Covenant-people triumphantly. (r) What then ſhall ſeparate us from the love of God which is in Chriſt? ſhall tribulation, &c. Jeſus Chriſt may aſſoon be plucked down from Gods right-hand to ſuffer a ſecond time, as his New Covenant-people be ſeparated from God, and utterly caſt away. 3. The Promiſes annexed to this Everlaſting Covenant of God, do peculiarly ſecure all Gods true Covenant-people againſt his final and total forſaking. Take a taſte of theſe few. (ſ) God promiſing to make a New Covenant with the houſe of Iſrael and Judah, tels them it ſhould not be according to the former Covenant which their Fathers brake: whereby he implies, that this New Covenant ſhould be of ſuch a Nature and Conſtitution, that it ſhould not be broken. God would undertake for both ſides, &c. Chriſt ſaith; (t) All that the father giveth me, ſhall come unto me: and him that cometh to me, I will in no wiſe caſt out. (u)—My ſheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me. And I give unto them eternal life, and they ſhall never periſh; neither ſhall any man pluck them out of my hand. And God hath ſaid; (x) I will never leave thee, nor forſake thee, viz. totally, finally, utterly. The Greek hath five Negatives in this Promiſe, intimating moſt Emphatically, that it is a Reſolute and Peremptory Promiſe. It may be thus rendred to the Original; I will not not leave thee, nor will I not not forſake thee.

Thirdly, God keeps his Covenant-people from ſinking, fainting and deſpairing under Deſertions. Becauſe (y) he will be their Covenant-God and they ſhall be his people; (z) he will not turn from them, nor ſhall they depart from him: viz. not totally, finally, utterly. And conſequently when their God gradually and for a time deſerts them, yet under thoſe deſertions he ſecretly ſupports them from utter deſpondency and deſpair, becauſe he is, and will be their God. Hence, David deſerted, could (a) pray to God as his God upon many grounds of confidence. Yea he could ſay, (b) O my God, I cry in the day-time, &c. (c) — Thou art my God from my mothers belly. Be not far from me, for trouble is near, for there is none to help. (d) — Be not far from me, O LORD; O my ſtrength haſte thee to help me. Thus he was ſecretly ſupported to plead his Covenant-intereſt in his God, though deſerted by his God. Aſaph deſerted, was yet ſo far ſupported as to (e) pray to God prevailingly: And at laſt to raiſe up his ſpirit upon the former experiences of his people. And I ſaid, This is my infirmity: but I will remember the years of the right hand of the moſt high. Heman deſerted, could pray; (f) O LORD God of my ſalvation, I have cried day and night before thee. The Church deſerted of Chriſt, was yet ſo far ſupported by Chriſt, as (g) to ſeek him whom her ſoul loved. She ſtill loved him dearly, and ſought him earneſtly. Yea Jeſus Chriſt himſelf deſerted of his Father upon the Croſs, yet was ſo far kept from deſpondency under his deſertion, as to cry, (h) My God, My God, why haſt thou forſaken me? Though then ſuch Deſertions are ſad and lamentable, yet ſuch ſupport under them againſt fainting is Comfortable. And the Lord as our God thus ſupports us herein, when we could not ſupport our ſelves, nor could any other relieve or help us. As David intimates in his Deſertion; (i) Be not far from me, for trouble is neer, for there is no helper. This comfort Gods people have under Deſertions, in having the Lord to be their God in Covenant.

Fourthly, God ſeaſonably recovers his people out of Deſertions. In his own Seaſon. And his Seaſon is the beſt Seaſon. Becauſe he is their Covenant-God, he will not turn away from them, utterly: and if he turn not away from them utterly, he muſt needs return again to them ſeaſonably. Though he deſert them a long time, it ſhall not be over-long. Chriſt (k) deſerted his Church: ſhe ſought him, enquiring of the watchmen for him; It was but a little (ſaith ſhe) that I paſſed from them, but I found him whom my ſoul loveth. (l) David and Aſaph in the beginning of their Prayers complain of Gods forſaking them: before the end thereof they intimate Gods Return unto them. Chriſt himſelf was (m) deſerted of

of his father upon the Croſs: but the ſame day received by his father into Paradiſe. Mr. (n) Robert Glover Martyr, was deſerted of God, and deprived of all ſweet ſence of his comforts for about three dayes together after his Condemnation, though he prayd to God night and day for divine refreſhments. But when he was going to the place of Execution, and was now come within ſight of the ſtake, The Spirit of God returned to him, with ſuch ſingular comfort, that he triumphantly cryed out to his dear friend, Auſtin, he is come, he is come. Mr. Peacock was ſadly deſerted of God in his laſt ſickneſs: but about two hours or more before his Death, the Lord did ſo graciouſly return to him with the light of his Countenance gladning his Soul, that he brake forth into theſe paſſages; (o) Do ye expect to hear from me, what I believe concerning my eternal Salvation? Truly God doth for ever ſo endearedly tender; and is ſo unconceivably merciſull to all thoſe whom he hath once loved, that he never Finally doth forſake them; and therefore I am moſt aſſuredly confident, that I ſhall depart from hence into heaven. Happy! thrice happy be theſe cords of affliction in which my moſt gracious God hath ty'd and bound me! (p) One telling him, you have fought a good fight; He ſaid, It behoves, it behoves me to ſtrive for heaven. Lift me up, lift me up, rid me hence that I may come to heaven. (q) Being remembred of Gods goodneſs to him, in filling his ſoul with ſuch comfort, after ſo great Temptation, he ſaid; I do (God be praiſed) feel ſuch comfort from that, what ſhall I call it? (Agony; ſaid one that ſtood by:) Nay thats too little; that if I had five thouſands worlds, I could not make Satisfaction for ſuch an iſſue. (r) — What great Cauſe have I to magnifie the goodneſs of God, that hath humbled, nay rather that hath exalted ſuch a wretched miſcreant, and of ſo baſe Condition, to an eſtate ſo glorious and ſtately? The Lord hath honoured me with his goodneſs: I am ſure he hath provided a glorious Kingdom for me. The joy that I feel in my ſoul is incredible! Now O deſerted Chriſtian, ſtay thine heart with this; The Lord that ſadly deſerts thee will ſeaſonably return unto thee. And when he returns, he will come with healing and joy. If he come again to thee but two or three hours before thy death, or as thou art going to the ſtake, it will be ſo ſweet, that all the bitterneſs of former affliction and deſertion will be forgotten.

Fifthly, God over-powers and Orders his peoples Deſertions for their ſingular benefit. He brings light out of this darkneſs: He turns this poyſon into a medicine. For, 1. Hereby, Gods people are mightily put upon prayer. God ſeems to fly from them, by with-drawing himſelf: They fly after him, by ſtrong cryes and prayers, till they overtake him. And when did they ever pray more fervently to God, then when they were deſerted moſt ſadly by God? Witneſs, (s) David, (t) Aſaph, (u) Heman, (x) Paul, (y) The Church, and (z) Jeſus Chriſt himſelf. 2. Hereby, Gods people are proved and tryed, that God may ſee what is in their hearts; yea rather that

God

God may let themselves see, what is in their own hearts. Thus, in the business of the Ambassadors of the Princes of Babylon, (a) God left Hezekiah to the pride, vanity, and vain-glory of his own spirit, to try him, that he might know all that was in his heart. God knew it fully before this Desertion: but Hezekiah knew it not. Hezekiah therefore had need to know it, that he might be sincerely and penitentially humbled for it. 3. Hereby, The Lord provides a singular Remedy and Antidote against his peoples sins, Past, Present and Future. For, by with-drawing from them and deserting them, (1) He corrects their sins past. As in Job, who in his distress thus complains to God; (b) wherefore hidest thou they face, and holdest me for thine enemy? Wilt thou break a leaf driven to and fro? and wilt thou pursue the dry stubble? For thou writest bitter things against me, and makest me to possess the iniquities of my youths. That is, thou makest my sins stick as fast to me in their punishments as a possession to a purchaser: thou bringest all my youths sins fresh to my memory, and they are as an heavy load upon my Conscience, as if I had never repented of them, and thou hadst never pardoned them. (2) He curbs and restrains their sins present. As in the Church, (c) Christ knocks and waits that he might spiritually enter into her by neerer Communion: He invites her to open to him by all sweet alluring words. She was in a slumber on her bed of sluggishness and carnal security: She had put off her coat, how should she put it on? she had washed her feet, how should she defile them? Hereupon Christ leaves some memorials of his love and sweetness behind him, and withdraws himself from her, lest she should be lulled asleep in deeper security. Seeing his presence did not perswade her against it, his absence should rouse her out of it. And now that Christ had left her, she was wakned to the purpose, and restlesly seeks him, and calls after him. (3) He prevents their sins to come. As in (d) Paul after he had been caught up into the third Heavens, he left him a while to be buffeted with temptations, to preserve him from spiritual pride through his Revelations. (e) And lest I should be exalted above measure through the abundance of the Revelations, there was given to me a thorn in the flesh, the messenger of Satan to buffet me, lest I should be exalted above measure. He speaks it twice over, because this was a special advantage which God intended him by his buffeting Temptations. Now then if desertions are thus gainfully improved to Gods people, as to Correct their sins past, Curb their sins present, and Prevent their sins to come; what a comfort may this be against them? 4. Hereby, the Faith of Gods people is awakened and exercised. When God leaves them, then they are put upon search and inquiry into their own and others former old experiences for their support. As (f) Asaph in his desertion complaining, will the Lord cast off for ever? and will he be favourable no more? &c. at last recollected himself, and propped up his Faith by former experiences; And I said, This is my infirmity, But I will remember member the years of the right hand of the most high. I will remember the works of the Lord: surely I will remember thy wonders of old, &c. 5. Hereby, Their love and desires are exceedingly enflamed after God and Iesus Christ, that they cannot rest till they recover some tasts of wonted love and favour. Thus, (g) the drowsie and sleepy affections of the Church are notably awakened to Christ, by his withdrawing. 6. Hereby, Gods return, and renewed discovery of his Grace, Favour and Love, are more eminently commended to Gods people, as double, sweet and acceptable. When the Church recovered Christ after Desertion, then, (h) she entertains him with Complacency of affection; I am my beloveds, and my beloved is mine: he feedeth among the lillies, viz. He feedeth his eye and heart, greatly delighting himself with his people, and his own Graces in them. How welcome was the Lord to Mr. Rob. Glover Martyr, when he met him with his long looked-for Comforts, as he was now going to the stake! his heart and spirit were transported, and his tongue cries out; He is come, He is come. How welcome were the renewed beams of Gods favour to Mr. Peacock about two or three hours before his Dissolution, when he burst out into that rapture; The Lord hath honoured me with his goodness; I am sure he hath provided a glorious Kingdom for me. The joy that I feel in my soul is incredible. 7. Hereby, Finally, Gods people are experimentally instructed to retain the Lord more stedfastly and carefully, when they do recover him. His absence was bitter as Death; his presence is life. Therefore they cling faster to him then formerly, they grow into neerer Communion with him, they charge all about them to take heed of disturbing or offending him in the left degree. How emphatically is (i) this declared in the carriage of the Church! —It was but a little that I passed from them, but I found him whom my soul loveth: I held him, and would not let him go, untill I had brought him into my mothers house, and into the chamber of her that conceived me. I charge you, O ye daughters of Jerusalem, by the Roes, and by the Hinds of the field, that ye stir not up, nor awake my love till he please.

ans must be Crucians, that is, Croſs-bearers, as well as their Lord and Maſter: As Luther notably expreſſeth it. (r) He hath not learned (ſaith Holy Bradford) his A B C in Chriſtianity, that hath not learned the leſſon of the Croſs. Ignatius (s) then counted himſelf a ſcholler of Chriſt, when he began to be a ſufferer for Chriſt: as himſelf teſtifies in his Epiſtle writen to the Romans. Righteous (t) Abel in the beginning of the world was bathed in his own blood by the cruell hands of his wicked brother Cain. Iſaac (u) mocked and perſecuted by Iſhmael. David (x) hunted up and down as a Partridge by King Saul. Iſaiah is (y) reported to be ſawn aſunder with a wooden Saw. Jeremiah (z) was put into a miry dungeon, and (as ſome ſay) ſunk up to the ſhoulders in the mire; and was (a) afterwards ſtoned to death in Egypt. Ezekiel (b) ſlain in Babylon. Daniel (c) caſt into the hungry Lyons Den. Michaiah (d) clapt in priſon, and there fed with bread and water of affliction. Amos brained with a club. Micah thrown headlong down a ſteep place, ſo that his neck brake, &c. Yea Steven tells the Jews; (e) which of the Prophets have not your fathers perſecuted, and they have ſlain them which ſhewed before of the coming of the juſt one, of whom ye have been now the betrayers and the Murderers. In the dayes of the Maccabees, Gods people endured many horrid cruelties; (f) were tortured, cruelly mocked, ſcourged, bound, impriſoned, ſtoned, ſawn aſunder, tempted, ſlain with the ſword, wandred about in ſheep-skins and goat-skins, being deſtitute, afflicted, tormented. Of whom the world was not worthy: they wandred in Deſarts, and in Mountains, and in Dens, and Caves of the Earth. In the times of the New Teſtament what bloody ſtorms of affliction and perſecution fell upon the Church of God! How cruelly was Steven the Protomartyr after Chriſt (g) ſtoned to Death? And Dorotheus relates of 2000. other believers that ſuffered death the ſame day. All the Apoſtles, except John, were violently put to death for Chriſt and his Goſpel: and John himſelf was caſt into burning oyl (thinks (h) Tertullian) at Rome, (think (i) others) at Epheſus, and it is thought by Nero: and ſuffered no harm thereby; but he was afterwards baniſhed by Domitian into the Ile of Patmos, Rev. 1. 9. James (k) ſlain by the ſword of Herod Agrippa. Eccleſiaſtical (l) writers tell us, that Peter was crucified with his heels upwards, counting himſelf unworthy to be crucified like Chriſt; Andrew was crucified by Egeas King of Edeſſa; Philip was crucified, and ſtoned to death at Hieropolis in Phrygia; Bartholomew was beaten down with ſtaves as he was preaching in Armenia, and crucified, his skin afterwards being flead off, & he beheaded; Thomas was ſlain with a dart at Calamina in India; Mathew was run thorrow with a ſword, or as ſome think he was faſtned with nails or ſpears to the Earth, The other James (thinks Jerom) was caſt headlong from the Temple; Lebbeus was ſlain by Agbarus King of Edeſſa; Simon the Canaanite was crucified in Egypt, or as others think, he and Jude were ſlain in a popular tumult; Matthias was ſtoned, and afterwards beheaded;

Paul was frequently and grievously persecuted, imprisoned at Rome, and at last beheaded by Nero. Time would fail to mention the sad and cruel sufferings of the seventy Disciples; Of the Primitive Christians under the ten first Persecutions; of the Church in successive ages, in many Countries, especially in Germany, France, and here in England, till the bloody Marian daies. So that we may still see the Church and people of God in all ages, as (m) A Bush in the midst of flames: and may say with him;

(m) Exod. 3. 2.

Sanguine fundata est Ecclesia; Sanguine crevit;
Sanguine successit; Sanguine finis erit. viz.

In blood the Church was founded; In blood it doth increase;
With blood tis still surrounded; And so in blood will cease.

Now against all their Afflictions and Persecutions, All Gods sincere Fœderates may much comfort themselves in this, That the Lord is their God by this Everlasting New Covenant. And Hence ariseth a seven-fold comfort to Gods afflicted people. For,

First, Their God in Covenant will not forget, nor forsake, nor withdraw his love from his afflicted people in any their sufferings or extremities. Gods people indeed under strong and long afflictions, may sometimes think, and fear, and complain, that the Lord hath forgotten, and forsaken them, and cast them out of his love and favour. As the Iews in Babylons captivity; (n) But Sion said, The LORD hath forsaken me, and my Lord hath forgotten me. And when Gods people are under a thick and black cloud of distress, how hard a thing is it for them oft-times to behold any beam or brightness of Gods countenance through that cloud? Yet notwithstanding all their sad apprehensions, God will never forget, nor forsake, nor alienate his love from them in affliction: no not when he seems most to do it. For, Hear what God saith; (o) When the poor and needy seek water, and there is none, and their tongue faileth for thirst; I the God of Israel will not forsake them; that is, Though my people in Babylon, or elsewhere in their way thence, be in as great wants and distresses, as once of Old when they came from Egypt in their dry and parching Wilderness: Yet I their God will not forsake them. Again, when (p) Sion (in Babylons long Captivity) said, The LORD hath forsaken me, and my Lord hath forgotten me: what saith the Answer of the Lord? Can a woman forget her sucking child, that she should not have compassion on the son of her womb? Yea, they may forget, yet will I not forget thee. Behold, I have graven thee upon the palms of my hands: Thy walls are continually before me. A tender mother may be so unmotherly as to forget her child, her sucking child, the son of her womb: yea the (q) pittiful women did so in Jerusalems siege, when they boyled and eat their own children. But God

(o) Isa. 41. 17.

(p) Isaiah 49. 14, 15, 16.

(q) Lament. 4. 10.

God will not forget his afflicted people: For a conſtant memorial of them, he hath graven or pourtrayed them upon the palms of his hands: their walls, either their ruined walls are continually before him, ſtill before his pittying eye: or their intended walls, in the Idea or Model of them, are continually before him, ſtill in his thoughts and determinations how they ſhall be raiſed, and upon the ſame ground of Gods tender love and faithfulneſs to his afflicted, theſe Promiſes are applicable to Gods afflicted under the New Covenant. And therefore againſt all divorce of Gods people from his love by affliction, or otherwiſe, How doth the Apoſtle triumph? (r) Who ſhall ſeparate us from the love of Chriſt? ſhall Tribulation, or diſtreſs, or Perſecution, or Famine, or Nakedneſs, or Peril, or Sword? —— Nay in all theſe things we are more then Conquerours through him that loved us. For I am perſwaded, that neither death, nor life, nor Angels, nor Principalities, nor powers, nor things preſent, nor things to come, nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, ſhall be able to ſeparate us from the love of God which is in Chriſt Jeſus our Lord. How ſhould this hold up head and heart in deepeſt afflictions and perſecutions, whoever forget us, or forſake us, or with-draw affection from us in diſtreſſes: Our God will never do any of theſe unto us: and then in worſt of ſufferings, the main is ſafe.

(r) Rom. 8. 35. to the end.

Secondly, God is moſt infinitely tender and compaſſionate over his people in all their ſufferings. In tendereſt compaſſions he at firſt made them his Covenant people: His Fœderal tenderneſs he ſtill continues to them, and in afflictions is wont to expreſs it moſt tenderly towards them. (ſ) The LORD'S portion is his people: Jacob the Lot of his inheritance. He found him in a deſart land, and in the waſte howling wilderneſs, (compaſſed about with many and ſore diſtreſſes:) he led him about, (Heb. He compaſſed him about, as it were embraced him, and claſped his arms about him,) he inſtructed him, he kept him as the apple of his eye. As an eagle ſtirreth up her neſt, fluttereth over her young, ſpreadeth abroad her wings, taketh them, beareth them on her wings: So the LORD alone did lead him, &c. Oh what yerning tenderneſs did God ſhew to his afflicted Iſrael! They that (t) touch his people, touch the apple of his eye, his tendereſt part. Their afflictions, are his afflictions: Their ſufferings, are Chriſts ſufferings. He takes all their wrongs as done to himſelf: and accordingly rewards them. (u) In all their affliction he was afflicted. He ſo pitties his ſuffering people, that he ſmarts in their pains, he bleeds in their wounds, he is perſecuted in their Perſecutions. That expreſſion is obſervable; (x) God hath comforted his people, and will have mercy upon his afflicted. Such care and tenderneſs God ſhews to his people in affliction, that they are ſtiled by a peculiar appropriation, His afflicted. No tender (y) Father can pitty his ſick child, as God the Father of Fathers commiſerates his afflicted children. Now as to be un-pittyed in miſery, is a great aggravation of miſery; ſo to be tendered, pittyed and commiserated in distress, is a great alleviation and lessening of distress. And above all compassions, the compassions of our God are most compassionate. Humane tendrest Commiserations are but meer cruelties to divine compasions. O ye Covenant-people of God, comfort your selves against all your sufferings, in that ye are not unpittyed in your sufferings. You have a friend that laies to heart all your afflictions. Your God pitties you, and his bowels yern over you. He washes your stripes, he wipes off your tears, he binds up your bruises, he kisseth your wounds; your (x) tears he puts into his bottle; every drop of your blood you shed, is regiſtred in his book: The very hairs of your head are all numbered, Mat. 10. 30. not an hair falls from your head to your prejudice: Your God tells them all. To him you may make your moan, and pour out all your complaint, for he tenders you infinitly.

(x) Psalm 56. 8.

Thirdly, God will hear the cryes, and prayers, and groans of his people in their distresses. This he hath promised to his Covenant-people, that struck Covenant with him by Sacrifice, whose God he was; (a) Call upon me in the day of trouble; I will deliver thee, and thou shalt glorifie me. And elsewhere he saith; (b) when the poor and needy seek water and there is none, and their tongue faileth for thirst: I the LORD will hear them, I the God of Jacob will not forsake them: because he is Jehovah, and the God of Jacob; that is, because he is their Covenant-God, giving being to his Covenant and Promises: therefore he will hear them, &c. When the Lord appeared to Moses in the Burning Bush, he proclaimed himself before Moses to be the Covenant-God of Israel, saying; (c) I am the God of thy Father, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. And what inferred he thence, for the comfort of Moses and Israel? In seeing I have seen the affliction of my people which are in Egypt, and have heard their cry by reason of their task-masters; for I know their sorrows. Hereby then Gods people may comfort themselves, that when they in their troubles pour out their complaints before the Lord: he will not turn a deaf ear, nor put away their prayers from him, but attend unto them, because he is their God. (d) He will regard the prayer of the destitute, and not despise their prayer. This shall be written for the generation to come. —— Yea, he looks down from heaven, to hear the groaning of the prisoner, and to loose the children of Death. If these were comforts to Gods afflicted people under former Covenants; much more under this New Covenant.

(b) Isa. 41. 17.
(c) Exod. 3. 2, 6, 7.
(d) Psal. 102. 17, 18, 19, 20.

Fourthly, God allaies and qualifies the afflictions of his People. He will not suffer them to be extream and unmeasurable upon them, because he is their God, and they his people in Covenant. Yea though (e) their heart was not right with him, neither were they stedfast in his Covenant: yet, he being full of compassion forgave their iniquity, and destroyed them not; yea many a time turned he his anger away, and did did not stir up all his wrath. He puts a great difference in this regard betwixt his people and others. He adds a great allay to their troubles, either in regard of manner, measure, kind, continuance or other circumstances: that they are able to bear them. (f) Hath he smitten him, as he smote those that smote him? or is he slain, according to the slaughter of them that are slain by him? In measure when it shooteth forth thou wilt debate with it: he stayeth his rough wind in the day of his East wind. All his chastisements upon his people are stinted by measure and favourable proportion: and when he fans them, he blows not all away, but stays, or keeps in, his rough wind, that it should not blow too fiercely and furiously. (f) Isa. 27. 7, 8.

Fifthly, God will supply his peoples extreamest wants in afflictions, with all necessary provisions: and this because he is their God. Wants of necessaries in an afflicted condition, greatly aggravates affliction: yea, are themselves a very great affliction. But the Lord will work extraordinarily, rather then they shall not seasonably be supplyed. How sweet are those Promises! (g) When the poor and needy seek water, and there is none, and their tongue faileth for thirst, I the LORD will hear them, I the God of Israel will not forsake them. I will open rivers in high-places, and fountains in midst of the vallies: I will make the Wilderness a pool of water, and the dry Land springs of water. I will plant in the Wilderness the Cedar, the Shittah-tree, and the Myrtle, and the Oyl-tree: I will set in the desart the Fir-tree, the Pine, and the Box-tree together: That they may see and know, and consider, and understand together, that the hand of the LORD hath done this, and the holy one of Israel hath created it. This seems to have reference, Immediately, to the extream misery of Gods people under the Babylonish Captivity, and the difficulty of their return thence: Mediately, to the Spiritual bondage of his elect under sin, &c. typified and shadowed out under Egypts Bondage, and Babylons Captivity; and so it is most comfortably applycable, even to all Gods afflicted and distressed ones under the New Covenant. The extremity of the Jews sufferings in Babylon, or in the way thence to Sion, are set forth under the Metaphor of extream thirst. Hunger and thirst are intolerable and deadly if not satisfied. But thirst is the far more intolerable of the two. Against such distress the Lord comforts them: More Generally, in that he will hear them and not forsake them. More Particularly, in that he will extraordinarily and beyond the course of Nature provide liberally for their Necessities, viz. Water against their thirst, even Rivers in high-places, Fountains in vallies, Pools in the Wilderness, and Springs in the dry Land. Shade and shelter against the parching heat of the Sun, by replenishing the Wilderness with great variety of pleasant, bushy, shady trees. So that the long, dry, barren and parching Wilderness, which they were to pass through from Babylon to Sion, should not hinder or discourage them. Also under these waters and shady trees, are metaphorically implyed the (g) Isa. 41. 17, 18, 19, 20.

spiritual refreshments and comforts which God affords his called ones in their way to heaven.

Sixthly, God is graciously present with his Covenant-people in midst of their greatest sufferings & afflictions: and that because he is their God in Covenant. Upon this consideration the Lord comforts his Israel against his afflictions and enemies; (h) Fear thou not, for I am with thee: be not dismayed, for I am thy God. Being his God, he was with him: Being with him, he need not fear nor be dismayed by reason of any Evils or Enemies. To like effect was that wonder which Moses saw, (i) The Angel of the LORD appeared unto him in a flame of fire out of the midst of a Bush; and he looked, and behold the Bush burned with fire, and the Bush was not consumed. —— And God called unto him out of the midst of the Bush, and said, Moses, Moses. —— Draw not nigh hither; put off thy shooes from off thy feet, for the place whereon thou standest is holy ground. —— I am the God of thy Father, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Iacob, &c. This was the Marvel: but what was the Mysterie and meaning of it? This Bush, was the Church, the Israel of God. This Fire wherewith the Bush burned, was the Fire of afflictions wherewith Israel the Church of God had been already exercised in Egypt, and should be yet further exercised in the wilderness and in other places. This burning of the Bush without consuming, was the Churches singular and admirable preservation from ruine and destruction under afflictions: She lived, like the (k) three noble Iews, without hurt in midst of flames; Or as Paul, (l) Troubled on every side, yet not distressed; Perplexed, but not in despair: Persecuted, but not forsaken: Cast-down, but not destroyed: under afflictions, but not swallowed up of afflictions: in fiery tryals, but not devoured by fiery tryals: in the furnace and fining pot, but still un-consumed gold in the fining pot. And The Angel of the LORD in the flame of fire in the midst of the Bush, was the LORD God himself, the Covenant-God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, who was graciously and powerfully present with his Church in her sharpest afflictions, preserving her from destruction by those afflictions. Being their Covenant-God, he was present with his people in midst of their sufferings.

(h) Isaiah 41. 10.

(i) Exod. 3. 2, 3, 4, 5, 6.

(k) Dan. 3. 24, 25.

(l) 2 Cor. 4. 8, 9.

O what an admirable Comfort is this to all the LORD's true Fœderates! we may be a bush burning with flames of afflictions, but the God of Abraham Isaac and Iacob, our Covenant-God, is present with us in midst of those flames. We may be sharply afflicted: but our God will be with us in those afflictions. With us by his speciall providence, by his mighty power, by his singular wisdom, by his peculiar graces and Comforts. So with us, as none in the world besides him could be with us. With us in the fire, in the water, in prisons, in dungeons, in the wilderness, in the shadow of Death. God was with Ioseph in prison; with Israel in Egypt, and in the wilderness;

neſs; with Eliſhah endangered by the Syrians; with Paul in the terrible Tempeſt at Sea, when they ſuffered Shipwrack; with Jonas in the bottom of the Sea in the belly of the Whale; with Daniel in the Lyons Den; with the three valiant and noble-ſpirited Iews in the burning fiery furnace; and with his Martyrs at the ſtakes. Who ever ſtart from us, Our (m) God will never ſtart from us, but be near unto us in perplexities. And Gods preſence with his afflicted people, is a manifold comfort to his afflicted people. For, Hence it is that 1. He exactly obſerves and laies to heart their ſorrows. 2. He animates them againſt their fears. 3. He preſerves them from deſtruction. 4. He enables them to endure. 5. He transforms the very Nature of their ſufferings. 6. He avengeth them of their adverſaries. 7. He ſeaſonably delivers them out of all.

(m) 2 Tim. 4. 16, 17.

Hence, (1) He exactly obſerves and laies to heart their ſorrows and ſufferings. He is preſent with them: therefore he cannot chuſe but know and pitty their afflicted condition. He was (n) in the midſt of the buſh burning with fire: therefore he perfectly knew the force, fury and ſharpneſs of that fire, and how the Buſh ſmarted in it. Hence he ſpake ſo ſympathizingly; I have ſurely ſeen the affliction of my people which are in Egypt, and have heard their cry by reaſon of their Task-maſters: for I know their ſorrows; and I am come down to deliver them out of the hand of the Egyptians. He knows their ſorrows, and pitties them; He pitties them, and delivers them. He obſerves and laies to heart, every ſtripe they bear, every groan they ſigh out, every tear they let fall, every drop of blood they ſhed, &c. not one of all theſe ſhall be neglected or forgotten of their God.

(n) Exod. 3. 2, 7.

Hence, (2) He animates them againſt their fears. Afflictions, dangers and troubles are apt to fill them with fears. David before Achiſh King of Gath was full of fears: (o) I ſought the LORD, and he heard me, and delivered me from all my fears. And ſaith Paul, (p) We were troubled on every ſide: without were fightings, within were fears. Now Gods preſence with his people in their moſt dangerous afflicted ſtate, is a ſingular Antidote againſt all their fears. Thus God propounds it; (q) Fear thou not, for I am with thee: be not diſmayed, for I am thy God. And again; (r) Thus ſaith the LORD, that created thee, O Iacob, and he that formed thee, O Iſrael, Fear not: for I have redeemed thee, I have called thee by thy name, thou art mine. When thou paſſeſt through the waters, I will be with thee, &c. And thus Gods people have proved it, eſpecially when they have apprehended Gods preſence with them in their diſtreſſes. With what courage and reſolution have they trampled upon their fears and dangers? (s) Though I walk through the valley of the ſhadow of Death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me, thy rod and thy ſtaff they comfort me. We fear evils, becauſe we apprehend they will be too hard for us, and over-match us: but Gods preſence apprehended, diſſipates theſe fears, becauſe we know that God can over-match all our dangers and diſtreſſes.

(o) Pſal. 34 Title. & ver. 4
(p) 2 Cor. 7. 5.
(q) Iſaiah 41. 10
(r) Iſaiah 43. 1, 2.

Hence,

Hence, (3) He preſerves them from deſtruction. Gods preſence with his afflicted people, is their Al-ſufficient Preſervative. It was Gods preſence ([t]) in the burning Buſh, that kept the burning buſh from being conſumed. It was Gods preſence ([u]) with the three Jews in the fiery furnace, that preſerved them from being burnt to death by the mercileſs flames, yea from the ſmell of fire on their garments. It was Gods preſence ([x]) with Daniel in the Den of hungry Lyons, that ſhut their mouths, that they did not break and tear him to pieces. When God is with us, Safety is with us.

(t) Exod. 3. 2.
(u) Dan. 3. 24, 25.
(x) Dan. 6. 21, 22.

Hence, (4) He enables them to endure and undergo the worſt of ſufferings. Gods preſence is an aſſiſting and an enabling preſence. When God is with us in trouble, he enables us to do and endure beyond our ſelves. ([y]) Fear thou not, for I am with thee: be not diſmayed, for I am thy God: I will ſtrengthen thee, yea I will help thee; yea I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteouſneſs. —— For I the LORD thy God will hold thy right hand, ſaying unto thee, Fear not, I will help thee. If Gods preſence help us, how eaſily ſhall we bear the heavyeſt burdens? how couragiouſly ſhall we oppoſe the greateſt dangers? how conſtantly ſhall we endure the greateſt extremities? How wonderfully did Gods preſence uphold Job in all his un-parallel'd troubles from ſinking and deſpairing! Without Gods helpful preſence, thoſe troubles had broke his back. Though of our ſelves in ſuch caſes we can do nothing: Yet through our God aſſiſting, we ſhall be able to do all things.

(y) Iſa. 41. 10, 13, 14.

Hence, (5) He transforms the very Nature of their ſufferings, that they become as no ſufferings or afflictions, but rather advantages to Gods people. His ([z]) preſence with Daniel in the Lyons Den, changes the tearing Lyons as it were into harmleſs Lambs, and the diſmal Den into a ſafe receptacle. The Lyons were intended for his Executioners, and the Den for his Grave: but the Den became his chamber of ſafe reſt, and the Lyons his quiet companions. Gods ([a]) preſence with the three Iews in the fiery furnace, ſuſpends the fury of the fire, that it burnt them no more, then the temperate air. It burnt their bonds: but ſet them at liberty to walk therein without hurt. To this effect God promiſeth firſt his preſence to his afflicted Jacob, and then from his preſence the transforming of their afflictions into an un-afflicting diſpoſition; ([b]) When thou paſſeſt through the water, I will be with thee: (There's his preſence in affliction:) And through the Rivers, they ſhall not over-flow thee. When thou walkeſt through the fire, thou ſhalt not be burnt; neither ſhall the flame kindle upon thee. For I am the LORD, thy God; the holy one of Iſrael, thy Saviour. Gods preſence turned holy Bradfords priſon as into a pleaſant Parlour. Gods preſence made Laurence Sanders Martyr ſay; ([c]) I was in priſon, till I got into priſon. And at another time; My dear Lord Jeſus Chriſt hath begun to me of a more bitter cup then mine ſhall be, and ſhall I not pledge my moſt ſweet Saviour? Afterwards he took the ſtake, to which he ſhould be chained, in his arms, and kiſſed it, ſaying; Welcome the Croſs of Chriſt, welcome everlaſting life. Gods preſence enabled James Baynham, (as he was at the ſtake in the midſt of the flaming fire, which fire had half conſumed his arms and his legs,) to ſpeak theſe words; (d) O ye Papiſts, behold, ye look for Miracles, and here now you may ſee a Miracle: For in this fire I feel no more pain, then if I were in a bed of down: but it is to me as a Bed of Roſes. By the influence and comfort of Gods preſence, their ſufferings are ſo changed and altered, that they are as no ſufferings, ſhadows of ſufferings rather then realities. As it were reproaches; and yet glory and honour: As it were impriſonment; and yet enlargement: As it were pains; and yet eaſe: As it were torments; and yet contentments: As it were poverty; and yet plenty: As it were miſeries; and yet mercies: As it were troubles; and yet triumphs, &c. To this effect Paul elegantly declares his own and other Miniſters experiences, ſaying; (e) —— As deceivers, and yet true: As unknown, and yet well known: As dying, and behold we live: As chaſtened, and not killed: As ſorrowful, yet alway rejoycing: As poor, yet making many rich: As having nothing, and yet poſſeſſing all things. Thus the preſence of God in his peoples troubles, brings light out of darkneſs, digeſts the Viper into a Triacle, turns all things (beyond the Philoſophers ſtone) into Gold.

Hence, (6) He avengeth his afflicted people of their adverſaries, inſtrumental to inflict or aggravate their afflictions. The Lord (f) aſſuring his people of his preſence in their afflictions, thereupon promiſeth to cruſh their afflicting adverſaries. Gods (g) preſence with the three Iews preſerved them from being devoured by the flames; whileſt they are burnt to death by the ſame flames that caſt them into the furnace. Gods preſente (h) ſaves Iſrael in the bowels of the Sea, and drowns Iſraels enemies, the Egyptians, in the bottom of the Sea.

Hence, (7) Finally, He ſeaſonably delivers his afflicted people out of all their afflictions. Gods preſence, is his afflicted peoples deliverance. When God had declared his preſence in the burning buſh, in the afflicted Church, and had (i) expreſſed himſelf to be the God of Abraham, Iſaac and Iacob, that is, their Covenant God; He preſently added: I have ſurely ſeen the affliction of my people which are in Egypt, — And I am come down to deliver them out of the hand of the Egyptians, &c. He was preſent with the three Iews in the fiery furnace, to deliver them out of the furnace and the fire. He was (k) with Daniel in the Lyons Den, to deliver him both from the horrid Den and from the cruel Lyons. He was (l) with Ioſeph in the priſon and in irons, to deliver him from the priſon, and make him Ruler of the land of Egypt. He was preſent (m) with Paul at his firſt Anſwer before Nero; when no man ſtood with him, but all men forſook him; notwithſtanding the Lord ſtood with him, and ſtrengthened him, that by him the preaching might be fully known, and that all the Gentiles might believe: And he was delivered out of the mouth of the Lyon. And thus Gods promise runs to every true beleiver that makes the Almighty his Refuge, his Fortress, his God: (n) I will be with him in trouble, I will deliver him, and honour him. If God be with us in trouble, we need not fear our deliverance out of trouble. If Christ be in the ship, in the storm, the disciples need not doubt their weathering out of it, and their safe arrival on the shore. These are the Comforts which flow from Gods presence with his Covenant-people in their afflictions. And he will be thus present with them therein, because he is their Covenant-God.

(n) Psal. 91. 1, 2, 15.

Seventhly and lastly, The Lord God will do much good to all his Covenant-people by all their Afflictions and Persecutions. He is (o) their God and Father, and they his children: therefore all his chastisements upon them, are for their benefit. He for our profit, that we might be partakers of his holiness. He actually becomes their God, by calling them effectually according to his purpose: (p) And (saith Paul) we know that all things (and he especially intends afflictions and persecutions) work together for good to them that love God, that are the called according to his purpose. Their God so loves them, and holds them so dear unto him, that he would not suffer any evil of affliction and persecution to befall them, but out of which he will extract a greater Good, yea a manifold Good. For, 1. Hereby he more clearly convinceth them of their sins, and of the sinfulness thereof. As blots appear broadest in wet paper. (q) And if they be bound in fetters, and be holden in cords of affliction: Then he sheweth them their work, and their transgressions that they have exceeded. Iosephs (r) Brethren being brought into some straits and distress in Egypt, call to mind afresh their cruel dealing with their Brother Ioseph many years ago. 2. Hereby he more kindly melteth and humbleth them for their iniquities. The fire of tribulation softneth their hearts like wax to take any impression, and melteth them like mettle fit to run into any mold. Hezekiah, (s) after his recovery, had his heart lifted up: therefore there was wrath upon him, and upon Judah and Ierusalem. Notwithstanding Hezekiah humbled himself for the lifting up of his heart, both he and the inhabitants of Ierusalem. Yea, when that precious King (t) Iosiah discerned but Gods rod shaken against the Land in the threatnings of the Book of the Law, he rent his clothes, and humbled himself, and his heart was tender, and he wept before the Lord. 3. Hereby, He purgeth and purifieth them from their iniquities. (u) Then he openeth their ear to discipline, and commandeth that they return from iniquity. (w) —— He stayeth his rough wind, in the day of his East wind. By this therefore shall the iniquity of Iacob be purged, and this is all the fruit to take away his sin. David himself could say, (x) Before I was afflicted, I went astray; but now have I kept thy word. Afflictions hunt us again into Gods Park, when we have leapt out. They are Gods Furnace, to burn burn up our droſs; Gods files, to rubb off our Ruſt; Gods ſoap and fullers Earth, to fetch out our ſtains and ſpots: Gods fan to blow away our chaff: Gods Purgatives, to evacuate our corrupt and peccant humours. Diſtreſſes and Perſecutions are much like the (f) fiery furnace to the three Jews, which hurt not their bodies, but onely burnt their bonds in ſunder: they conſume not us, but our bonds and cords of Sin, to ſet us at more ſpiritual liberty. 4. Hereby, they are (g) conform to Chriſt the firſt-born among many brethren, who took up his Croſs, and was a man of Sorrows, even perfected and conſecrated through ſufferings. Now it is the honour and perfection of the Members to be conform to their Head. 5. Hereby their Graces are proved and tried, whether they be true or counterfeit. The Heat of perſecution made the fruit of the (i) ſtony-ground hearers to wither away, when the fruit of the good-ground hearers perſevered to perfection. The ſtorm tries the building; and diſcovers (k) which is built upon a Rock, which upon the Sands. (l) The Devil ſhall caſt ſome of you into priſon that you may be tried. (m) — Think it not ſtrange concerning the fiery trial, which is to try you. (n) — That the trial of your faith being much more precious then of gold that periſheth, though it be tried with fire, might be found unto praiſe and honour and glory. The ſtorm tries the Pilot. The Touchſtone tries the mettal, whether it be gold or copper. The furnace tries the gold, whether it be pure or droſſie. So afflictions and perſecutions try the Chriſtian. Paint will rubb off with waſhing, but true beauty by waſhing will appear more beautiful. 6. Hereby their Graces are improved and advanced to greater Perfection. (o) Tribulation worketh patience; and patience experience; and experience hope; and hope makes not aſhamed. As Iſrael, (p) the more they were afflicted, the more they grew; or, As the Palm-tree the more its preſſed downward, the more it contends upward; So their Faith, Patience, &c. are improved and excited by ſufferings and oppoſition. The Sun ſheweth biggeſt face in loweſt ſtate; The Nail ſhines the brighter by wearing; The Pomander ſmels the ſweeter by rubbing; The Camomil grows better by treading upon it: So ſufferings draw forth the activity, beauty and fragrancy of Graces. But for ſufferings (q) Jobs patience had never been ſo renowned. 7. Hereby their Saint-like Duties and Devotions are notably incited and revived. Their Meditations, Prayer, Obedience, &c. are then put upon the wheels. David ſaid, (r) It is good for me that I have been afflicted: that I might learn thy Statutes. David never prayed more pathetically and fervently, then when under Gods rod. We read not of Davids ſcandalous miſcarriages, while he was under Sauls Perſecutions: but then he frequently poured forth his pureſt Devotions. As the ſtrings of an inſtrument make no melody, till they be ſtruck; or as the Birds in the Spring ſing moſt ſweetly, when it rains moſt ſadly. 8. Hereby their (ſ) Son-like Relation to God is notably cleared. He chaſtizeth them as a father: while while they are enabled to endure his chastizements as children. God will not spend his rods upon bastards and strangers; but upon his own children, because he loves them. Such afflictions, though bad things, yet are good Signs. 9. Hereby, Their future Condemnation is prevented; (t) when ye are judged, ye are chastened of the Lord, that ye should not be condemned in the world. 10. Hereby, Finally, God prepares his people for their eternal glory in the world to come. The Cross is the way to the Crown; Martyrdom to the Kingdom. Christ was first Humbled, and then Exalted; First he (u) descended into the lower parts of the Earth, And after Ascended far above all Heavens. And his members must go to heaven the same way. (x) Through much tribulation we must enter into the Kingdom of God. (y) If we suffer, we shall also reign with him. (z) Our light affliction which is but for a moment, worketh for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory. The harbour is more gratefull to the Marriner after a tempestuous voyage; Rest is more sweet to the labourer after a weary day; Health is more gladning to the patient after sharp and tedious sickness; Liberty is more delightful to the Captive after long and rigorous imprisonment: And doubtless Heaven it self will be more ravishing, even a double Heaven to Gods people, after all their earthly sufferings and persecutions. These things being so; write upon all thy Losses, Crosses, Pains, Diseases, Poverty, Reproaches, Bonds, Imprisonments, Chains, Prison-doors, and upon the forehead of all thy Sufferings, this universal and most cordial Consolation: Yet THE LORD IS MY GOD BY HIS OWN EVERLASTING COVENANT.

7. Finally, What a singular Comfort is this Against all the Terrours and Pangs even of Death it self: that the Lord is our God by an Everlasting New Covenant!

Death is the Privation of Life, and separation of Soul from the Body: Life is most precious. (a) Skin for skin, and all that a man hath will he give for his life. (b) Death is the wages of sin; and hath passed upon all men, for that all have sinned. Death is (c) the King of terrours: φοβερων φοβερωτατον, The most Terrible of Terribles. Death is a dangerous Enemy, and (d) the last Enemy that shall be destroyed by Christ. Naturally, till Christ deliver them, men are (e) through fear of Death all their Life-time subject to bondage. What slavish fears, terrours, tremblings, agonies, &c. inthrall men in regard of Death: yea Jesus Christ himself, when his Death approached, prayed earnestly thrice; (f) Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me, &c. No wonder then that the serious apprehensions of Death approaching, sometimes perplex the children of God, fill them with fears, sadness, and discomfort. They had need therefore to store up choicest Cordials against that Hour.

Now against Death what Cordial can more comfort and revive Gods people then this; That the Lord is their God by his Everlasting

New

New Covenant? For, this affords a five-fold Comfort againſt Death.

First, The Lord is ſtill the God of his Covenant-people in Death as well as in life, and in Death they all live unto him. He is (g) their God by an Everlaſting Covenant, therefore he is their God for Ever; their God in Life, their God in Death, their God to all Eternity. Death cannot diſanull an Everlaſting Covenant: though it deſtroy a temporary Covenant. After Abraham, Iſaac, and Jacob, Gods Covenant-people, had been dead and buried long ago, God told Moſes out of the burning Buſh; (h) I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Iſaac, and the God of Jacob Gods Covenant with them lived ſtill, though they were dead: and they were ſtill his Covenant-people, and he their God. Even Death diſſolved not this Covenant union and Relation betwixt them. Hence Chriſt (i) infers the Reſurrection of the dead; ſaying, he is not the God of the dead, but the God of the living; viz. according to his Everlaſting Covenant. His Covenant-people, though deceaſed; yet are not abſolutely dead, but all alive to him: that is, Their Souls are actually alive with him; Their bodies are virtually and potentially alive to him, in that he can, and will at laſt raiſe them from the dead; and their whole perſons are fœderally alive to him, as being ſtill his in Covenant, which cannot be deſtroyed by death. Their living Souls, their dead Bodies, their dead Duſt are his: Death may divide the Soul from the body: and both from the land of the living, from earthly friends, and all worldly enjoyments; but can divide no Soul, nor Body from God and his Covenant. The Lord is ſtill theirs, and they are his. (k) For none of us liveth to himſelf, and no man dyeth to himſelf. For whether we live, we live unto the Lord: and whether we dye, we dye unto the Lord: whether we live therefore or dye, we are the Lords.

What a Comfort is this! The Lord will continue thy God in death, as well as life; in the Grave, as well as in the land of the living. He will look down from Heaven into thy Grave; there he will own thy dead bones and aſhes, which thy deareſt friends abhor to look upon; there he will take care of thy dead duſt, which others trample under foot: there he will keep it as a dear and precious treaſure till the Morning of the Reſurrection. Thou loſeſt not thy God, when thou dyeſt and art laid in grave; no more then when thou lyeſt down in bed to ſleep. He is thy God ſtill in Death it ſelf: and thou art his.

Secondly, Death cannot ſeparate Gods Covenant-people from the boſom of Gods love. This flows from the former. For, if Death cannot ſeparate them from God, It cannot ſeparate them from his love: If in Death he continues their God ſtill, In death he continues his love ſtill unto them. Hence Paul triumphs; (l) I am perſwaded, that neither Death, nor Life, &c. nor height, nor depth, nor any any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God which is in Christ Jesus our Lord. Death may separate thee from the love of Friends, Acquaintance, Kindred, Family, Children, Parents, Wife, Husband, and of all in this world: but can never separate thee from the love of thy God. They may love thee till Death: but God will love thee in Death. God will love thee, when none in this world besides will love thee: when thy strength is weakness, when thy beauty is paleness and gastliness, when thine honour is in the dust, when thou art a deformed lump of dead cold clay, when thou art surrounded with worms and rottenness, when thou art returned into ashes, &c. even then will God continue his dear love unto thee. And Gods love infinitly transcends all love of creatures in all the world.

Thirdly, The Lord is with them in the shadow of Death. For, if the Lord remain their God still, and love them still, even in Death: consequently he must needs be graciously with them in Death it self. (m) Fear thou not, for I am with thee: be not dismayed, for I am thy God, &c. Hence David encourageth himself, (n) The LORD is my shepheard: I shall not want,—Yea though I walk through the valley of the shadow of Death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me, Thy rod and thy staff they comfort me. That is, thy Shepherds Staff and Crook, thy special Providence, Protection and Guidance they comfort me: thou wilt keep me safe in greatest danger, thou wilt order and over-rule all things for best for me, therefore I fear not. He that will be (o) their refuge in straits, a very present help in trouble; will he not be with his people in the greatest strait, and shock of Death, when they have most need? yea he will then be with them peculiarly. And that three wayes, viz. 1. With them by his special Providence, to protect and preserve them from deadly danger, till their appointed time come, as with (p) David, with (q) Paul, &c. and to order their Death and all the Circumstances of it for their best, when their time is come. Herein they are much comforted. 2. With them by his Spirit and Grace; Assisting, strengthening and supporting them against all faintings of spirit, slavish fears, sad apprehensions of Death, and Temptations which may then arise: enabling them constantly to persevere notwithstanding all. Thus he was with Job, when he said; (r) Though he slay me, yet will I trust in him. (s) —I know that my Redeemer liveth, and that he shall stand at the latter day upon the Earth. And though after my skin, worms destroy this body, yet in my flesh shall I see God: whom I shall see for my self, and mine eyes shall behold, and not another, though my reins be consumed within me. Thus he was with David, saying; (t) Whom have I in Heaven but thee, and there is none upon earth that I desire besides thee. My flesh and my heart faileth: but God is the strength of my heart, and my portion for ever. Thus he was with Steven immediately before he was stoned to death; For, (u) He being full of the Holy Holy Ghost, looked up ſtedfaſtly into heaven, and ſaw the Glory of God and Jeſus ſtanding on the right hand of God; And ſaid, Behold I ſee the Heavens opened, and the ſon of man ſtanding on the right hand of God. And hereby he was ſo ſupported againſt that mortall and murdering ſhower of ſtones; that he not only Commended his ſpirit ſweetly unto the Lord, (x) calling upon God, and ſaying, Lord Jeſus receive my Spirit; but alſo he kneeled down and prayed with a loud voice for his bloody Perſecutors, Lord lay not this ſin to their charge. Thus he was with (y) Tho: Hawks Martyr, who, when his ſpeech was taken away by the violence of the flame, his skin drawn together, and his fingers conſumed with the fire, ſo that all men thought certainly he had been gone, ſuddenly and contrary to all expectation, he reached up his hands burning on a light fire over his Head, triumphantly clapping them three times together. Thus he was with (z) James Baynham Martyr in the flames, who when his legs and arms were half conſumed with fire, ſaid; O ye Papiſts, behold, ye look for Miracles, and here now you may ſee a Miracle, For in this fire I feel no more pain then if I were in a bed of down, but it is to me as a bed of Roſes. Thus the Lord being with his people by his Spirit and Grace, is their ſtrength in weakneſs, Their courage in fears, Their Cordial in faintings, Their Eaſe in Pain, their Triumph in Troubles, Their liberty in bondage, Their life in Death.

3. With them by the Miniſtry of Angels (a) ſent forth to Miniſter for them who ſhall be heirs of Salvation. Theſe Angels, Sometimes miraculouſly keep them from Death, in deadly danger; As (b) the three Iews in the fiery furnace, (c) Daniel in the Lyons Den, (d) Paul in his ſhipwrack at Sea, &c. Sometimes comfort, ſtrengthen and encourage them againſt Death. As when Chriſt himſelf was in his agony a little before his Death; (e) There appeared an Angel unto him from Heaven ſtrengthening him. And alwayes they immediately upon diſſolution of Soul and body, conduct the Souls of Gods people into Abrahams boſome, into Heaven. (f) Lazarus the beggar dyed and was carried by the Angels into Abrahams boſome. Yea the Angels like a chariot and Horſes of fire carried up Elijah both ſoul and body (g) by a whirl-wind into Heaven. O then why ſhould Gods people be ſo appaled at Death? Their God is (h) with them in the valley of the ſhadow of Death. Why ſhould they be afraid? Theres more with them then againſt them.

Fourthly, The Lord hath pardoned all the Sins of his New Covenant people, and (i) will remember them no more. This the tenour of his New Covenant with them. Now all their ſins being pardoned. Death is utterly diſarmed. The ſting of death is plucked out, for (m) the ſting of Death is Sin. The ſting of Death being plucked out, Death is become but a Droan, a Name, a Noiſe to Gods people. Who fears an Hornet, or a Snake, or a Scorpion, &c. when he knows they have loſt their ſting? Then they may handle them, put them into their bosomes without harm. In this regard Gods people may Triumph over Death; (n) O Death where is thy sting? O Grave where is thy victory? Our God hath destroyed all thy venom, poyson, curse, mischief: He haah pluckt out thy sting, He hath pardoned our Sins; Now Death do thy worst.

(n) 1 Cor.15. 55.

Fifthly, The Lord God hath given unto his Covenant-people Jesus Christ the Mediatour of his Covenant, as their absolute Conquest and Triumph over Death, and Antidote against Death. If they tremble, when they look down at Death: they may triumph, when they look up to Christ. Christ is their true Joshuah: by him they are called forth to set their feet upon the very neck of this conquered enemy, as sometimes (o) Israel upon the necks of the five conquered Kings. For, 1. Christ by dying hath conquered Death, and hath buried the grave by being buried in the grave, and rising again. He (p) dyed and was buried for our sins, who himself knew no sin: and so receiving in himself the sting of sin, hath plucked out that sting for us. As the Bee striking his sting upon a dead body, retains his sting still; but striking it into a living body he loseth his sting, and becomes a Droan: So death striking his sting into Christs living body wherein was no spirituall deadliness, hath lost his sting as to Christs members for evermore. Actually he hath subdued Death in his own person: and virtually he hath subdued it for his Members. His (q) Rising from the dead proclaimed his victory: His (r) Ascending into Heaven was his Triumph, for then he led Captivity Captive. 2. Christ having conquered Death, hath also, (s) by death subdued him that had the power of Death, that is, the Devil. The Devil hath the power of Death, not Authoritatively; that's Gods prerogative: But Executively, as the Hangman hath power over the Gallows. Him Christ hath destroyed by dying. He hath given him his Mortal Heart-stab, that by death he shall not have such cursed and full dominion over his elect, as once he had. 3. Christ having conquered Death, and him that had the power of Death, the Devil: hath now (t) the Keyes of Hell and Death. Its an allusion to stewards in Kings Houses that have the Rule of the House committed to them, and the keyes thereof delivered to them as a badge of their Authority. So here Christ hath the Keyes of Hell and Death, that is, The power and rule over Hell and Death. He opens and none shuts, he shuts and none opens. He lets in, and he keeps out of, Death, Grave and Hell, whom, when and how he pleaseth. Death and Grave shall not touch any of his members, till he please; nor further then he orders or permits. The time, place, manner and all Circumstances of their Death, are all appointed and determined by him. O Christian, fear not to enter into the House of Death, when thy time is come: for Christs time is the best time. He hath the Keyes of Death, he lets thee in, and he will let thee out again. What a Comfort is this! Not the Devil, nor any of thine enemies have the

Keyes

Keyes of Death but only Jesus Christ thy Saviour. Whilst thou shalt continue in state of the Dead, thou shalt be only under Christs Lock and Key. When Death or Grave fright thee, Remember this. Christ hath the Keyes of Death: shake Christs Keyes at Hell and Death, and triumph over them. Jesus Christ reigns over Death: therefore Death shall not reign over thee. 4. Jesus Christ dyed and rose again, not only to destroy him that had the power of Death, that is, the Devil: but also to (u) deliver his people who through fear of Death were all their life time subject to bondage. Fear of Death hath a bondage and slavery in it: Christ delivers his people from this servile fear by dying for them. For, Hereby he (x) purged away their sins, and so plucked out the sting of death. Hereby he (y) destroyed the power of Death. Hereby he (z) took occasion to rise again from the dead victoriously and to ascend triumphantly. Like Sampson, (a) bearing away the bars and gates of the City wherein he was encompassed: Christ carried away the bars and gates of Death wherein he was held. Fear not therefore this King of Fears, Death. Christ purposely dyed to deliver thee from these fears. If thou givest way to them, if thou sufferest them to have dominion over thee, how dost thou cross and frustate one eminent end of his Death? When Christ came into the world, God sent him, In (b) performance of the Mercy promised to our fathers, and in remembrance of his holy Covenant: The oath which he sware to our father Abraham, That he would grant unto us, That we being delivered out of the hands of our enemies without fear, (Death being one of these Enemies,) might serve him in Holiness and righteousness before him all the dayes of our life. 5. In and through Jesus Christ the Malignity, venom, poyson, and mischief of Death is removed: yea turned into great advantage unto Gods Covenant-people. Not only (c) the world, and Life, but Death also, with things present and to come, even all things are theirs, and they are Christs, and Christ is Gods. Death is theirs for good as well as life, or any other thing here instanced in. What? Death theirs? Were it not better for them, Death were not theirs? No. Death is their friend, not their foe: Their advantage, not their Prejudice. Of carnall men, it may be said, they are Death's; they are Death's slaves, death's Captives, &c. But of Christians it may be said, Death is theirs; theirs to serve them, to befriend them, to do them good, viz. (1) Death is their (d) Dissolution, separating Soul and body for a while: not their Desolation or Destruction. (2) Death is their (e) Rest from their labours in Sin and Sorrow, wherewith they have been so wofully toyled and tyred. (f) They rest in their beds of their Graves, sweetned and perfumed by Christs own buriall for them. What wearied bones or body are afraid to go to rest? (3) Death is their (g) Sleep in Jesus. They sleep as in the arms and bosom of Jesus under his peculiar custody: for he hath the Keyes of Death. If they sleep, they shall do well: They shall awake again in the morning of the Resurrection:

And then they shall awake (h) mightily refreshed with heavenly Qualifications. (4) Death is their (i) unclothing, or putting off of their earthly tabernacle, that they may be clothed upon with their House which is from Heaven: that mortality may be swallowed up of life. Their changing of earthly rags, for heavenly robes: of perishing clay tabernacles, for eternal Mansions in the Heavens. (6) Death is their (l) absenting from the body, that they may be present with the Lord Christ, which is far best of all. (7) Death is their endless (m) Gain of Immortality, of perfect Grace, of Glory, of Paradise, of glorified Saints, of glorious Angels, and of the most glorious God in Jesus Christ face to face, the Glory of Glory. 6. Jesus Christ will at last compleatly (n) swallow up Death in victory. For, he must reign, till he hath put all enemies under his feet. The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death. Christ hath destroyed Death already fully in his own Person: He hath destroyed death also Incompleatly in his members, removing the sting and curse of Death: And he will destroy Death Compleatly for all his members when they shall be wholly freed from the very state of Death and all Corruptibility for ever at the generall Resurrection. For, (o) *then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, Death is swallowed up in victory. O Death, where is thy sting? O Grave, where is thy victory? Thus comfort your ſelves, O ye true New Covenant Fœderates with God againſt Death, the King of terrours; in that the Lord is your Covenant-God, who is the King of Heaven. Upon your Dying Bed, upon your Coffin, upon your Hearſ, upon your Tomb and Tomb-ſtone, write this Triumphant Sentence in Capital Characters; THE LORD IS MY GOD BY AN EVERLASTING NEW COVENANT. Therefore Death is mine: and All's mine.

APHORISM II.

II. THE matter of this New Covenant, On the Part of Gods New Covenant Federates, Conſiſts in certain New Covenant Duties, Implicitly here Required from, and Reſtipulated by his New Covenant-people: viz. 1. Knowledge. 2. Faith. 3. Repentance. 4. Conformity to Gods Law in Heart and Life. 5. And entire ſelf-denying, ſelf-reſignation unto God.

The (r) Body of this New Covenant, explicitly contains only Promiſed Mercies: But Implicitly it alſo intends Required and Reſtipulated Duties. Having already opened the Mercies expreſſed: Come we now to unfold the Duties implyed. And becauſe All theſe five Duties are implyed in the Bleſſings Promiſed, which have been largely explained; it will be ſufficient very briefly to indigitate and delineate theſe Duties Re-promiſed.

(r) Heb. 8. 10, 11, 12. Ier. 31. 33, 34.

1. Knowledge. When in this New Covenant (ſ) God explicitly promiſeth to his Fœderates, A more excellent and univerſal Knowledge of himſelf, and ſo of all the things of God, then ever was (ſ) Heb. 8. 11. Ier 31. 34.

promiſed to his Fœderates of the Old Covenant, as I have already manifeſted in opening the ſecond Article of the New Covanant: Then God in this Promiſe Implicitly requireth, That all his New Covenant-people be diligent and careful to abound and excell in the Knowledge of God and his waies: I ſay, To excell in knowledge thoſe of old under the Old Covenant; And Gods Fœderates do by conſequent Implicitly Re-promiſe, and Re-ſtipulate, through his grace, thus to know God. Gods Promiſe of ſuch Knowledge, obligeth his Fœderates to all poſsible endeavours after ſuch Knowledge, and to all due (t) exerciſe of ſuch Knowledge.

(t) 1 Cor. 14. 14. to 21.

For further clearing of this, it is to be diligently noted. 1. That, God in his New-Teſtament calls for a more Ripe, abounding and increaſing Knowledge. (u) Brethren, be not children in underſtanding: howbeit, in malice be ye children, but in underſtanding be men: τελειοι γινεσθε Be ye perfect: or, Be ye of ripe age. (x) And beſides this, giving all diligence, add to your Faith, Vertue; and to Vertue, Knowledge, &c. for if theſe things be in you and abound, they make you that you ſhall neither be barren, nor unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt. And again; (y) But grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jeſus Chriſt. (z) — For the time ye ought to be Teachers. Under the (a) Old Covenant they knew as children under Elements or Rudiments: but under the New Covenant we ſhould know as ſons come to ripeneſs of age. 2. That, God under his New Covenant hath (b) given his Fœderates a more plentiful meaſure of his Spirit, as an Holy Unction upon them, to make them know God and all things: more then ever was given under the Old Covenant. 3. That, under the New Covenant, God hath purpoſely given all his New Cavenant-Miniſtry, both Extraordinary, and Ordinary; (c) For the perfecting of the Saints, for the work of the Miniſtry, for the edifying of the body of Chriſt; Till we all come in the unity of the Faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the meaſure of the ſtature of the fulneſs of Chriſt: That we henceforth (that is, from the time of the New Covenant diſpenſation) be no more children, toſſed too and fro, and carried about with every wind of Doctrine. The Churches child-like knowledge ſhould be over, and her man-like knowledge ſucceed, now under the New Covenant. 4 That, Jeſus Chriſt makes ſo great reckoning of the knowledge of God under the New-Teſtament, that he by his Prophet aſcribes Juſtification to the Knowledge of Chriſt; (d) By his knowledge ſhall my righteous ſervant juſtifie many: and by his own perſonal Doctrine placeth eternal life fundamentally in the knowledge of God and of Jeſus Chriſt; (e) This is life eternal, to know thee the only true God, and Jeſus Chriſt whom thou haſt ſent. 5. That, Groſs ignorance of God and of his Goſpel, is ſo dangerous a ſin now under the New Covenant in the midſt of the glorious Sunſhine of the Goſpel, That its a great evidence of ſuch perſons (f) loſt condition, that Satan the God of this world hath blinded them, through through the just judgement of God: And that (g) When the Lord Iesus shall be revealed from heaven with his mighty Angels, he shall in flaming fire take vengeance on them that know not God, and obey not the Gospel of our Lord Iesus Christ. By all which laid together its evident, that now under the New Covenant God requires from his Fœderates, and they implicitly restipulate, to endeavour after a more excellent knowledge of God, then was in Ordinary under the Old Covenant.

(g) 2 Thes. 1. 7, 8

II. Faith. This New Covenant is laid down wholly in Promises: And therefore God implicitly requires and expects Faith from his Fœderates to accept, embrace and apply those Promises: Gods Promises and our Faith are Relatives. When God promiseth he intends we should believe: Otherwise how shall his Promises, or promised Mercies be appropriated to us as our own, without Faith? But more Particularly when God promiseth here (i) Remission of sins, and so consequently Iustification in Christ, and for his satisfaction, as hath been shewed in opening the third Article of this New Covenant; He also implicitly requires and expects from all his Fœderates, and they implicitly restipulate (through his grace) true saving and justifying Faith in Iesus Christ already revealed and exhibited. For, as hath been shewed, Remission of sins is Promised only in Christ (k) through Faith: and by Faith only is to be Received. And we are (l) Iustified by Faith without the deeds of the Law.

True Faith in Christ to come afterwards, was required of the Fœderates under the Old Covenant, they being by the Law (not shut out from the faith, but) shut up unto the Faith, that after should be more clearly and fully revealed. The Law being our School-master to bring us to Christ, that we might be justified by Faith. Gal. 3. 22, 23, 24. But True Faith in Christ, come already, humbled and exalted for us already, &c. is now much more called for and required of the Fœderates under the New Covenant. For, 1. Now the Doctrine of Iustification by Faith is come, being now more clearly and fully revealed then ever under the Old Covenant; (m) But after that Faith is come, we are no longer under a School-master: For ye are all the children of God by Faith in Christ Iesus. Now under the New Covenant he saith, Faith is come; Not, that it was not come at all under the Old Covenant, (for even then it was revealed more imperfectly, darkly and sparingly, Gen. 15. 6. with Rom. 4. 3, 4, 5. Deut. 30. 11. to 15. with Rom. 10. 6. to 11. Psal. 32. 1, 2. with Rom. 4. 6, 7, 8.) But, that it is now so clearly and fully revealed since Christ, that all are to be justified by Faith in Christ, that comparatively Faith is not said to come till now. Faith came before, but very darkly, obscurely, ly, imperfectly, ſparingly, &c. But Faith is come now very clearly, evidently, perfectly, plentifully. That coming of Faith, was comparatively as no coming, in reſpect of this coming. Read thoſe two accurate and admirable Epiſtles of Paul to the Romans, and Galatians; and therein you ſhall eaſily ſee, that this bleſſed Doctrine of Juſtification and Salvation by Faith in Jeſus Chriſt, is more plainly and fully ſtated, then in all the Books of the Old Teſtament. 2. Now under the New Covenant, God, more poſitively and peremptorily then ever under the Old, Commands believing in Chriſt for Life and Righteouſneſs, as the great work that he expects and accepts; (n) This is his Commandment, that we ſhould believe on the name of his Son Jeſus Chriſt. (o) —— Jeſus anſwered and ſaid unto them, This is the work of God, that ye believe on him whom he hath ſent. How earneſtly doth our Saviour Chriſt in his Doctrine call for believing? As, Mark 1. 14, 15. Joh. 12. 36. & 14. 1, 11, 29. And how did his Apoſtles preſs believing upon ſuch as deſired Jeſus Chriſt and ſalvation by him? As Acts 8. 36, 37. & 16. 30, 31. 3. Now under the New Covenant The Promiſes of Righteouſneſs, Pardon, Life and Salvation are more clearly and plentifully annexed to Faith in Chriſt, then ever formerly under the Old Covenant. (p) By him all that believe are juſtified from all things, &c. (q) —— Through his name whoſoever believeth in him ſhall receive Remiſſion of ſins. (r) —— That whoſoever believeth in him ſhould not periſh, but have eternal life. (ſ) — Whoſoever believeth on him, ſhall not be confounded. (t) —— Whoſoever ſhall call upon the name of the Lord ſhall be ſaved: How then ſhall they call on him in whom they have not believed? (u) —— He that comes to me ſhall never hunger, and he that believes in me ſhall never thirſt. (x) — Him that cometh to me, I will in no wiſe caſt out. (y) —— He that believes, ſhall be ſaved. With many Promiſes of like nature. 4. Now under the New Covenant, unbelief in Jeſus Chriſt is more condemned as the grand ſin of ſins, and more threatned with damnation then ever under the Old Covenant. Though unbelief in Chriſt to come, was very ſinful and damnable Then: yet unbelief in Chriſt already come, is double ſinful and damnable Now. (z) —— And when he (viz. The Holy Ghoſt) is come, he will convincingly reprove the world of ſin, of Righteouſneſs, and of Judgement. Of ſin, Becauſe they believe not on me. Among pardonable ſins, no ſin is comparable to this not believing in Chriſt: Therefore this is the only ſin mentioned to be reproved (a) — He that believeth not is condemned already: becauſe he hath not believed on the name of the only begotten ſon of God. (b) — He that believeth not the Son, ſhall not ſee life; but the wrath of God abideth on him. From all theſe particulars its very clear that God much more expects and requires Faith under the New Covenant, then under the Old. Under the Old Covenant, Faith was in its Infancy, Minority, Obſcurity, &c. but under the New Covenant, Faith ſhould be in its Maturity, High excellency and Glory.

What true Faith in Christ is; How it acts, and How we may discover it to be in our selves: hath been (c) already unfolded. As also, How we are to (d) walk before God in true Faith: and How we are to (e) live by Faith, in General: and in the (f) Particular Case of tribulations and distresses. See all these, for thy satisfaction, pointed at in the margin.

III. Repentance. God in this New Covenant Promising to write his Laws in the Minds and Hearts of his Fœderates, promiseth in and under that blessing to give them Renovation, Repentance, Sanctification, &c. as hath been manifested in opening of that Article: and Promising (g) Remission of sins, in not remembring them any more, He implicitly requires them to exercise Repentance; and when they close with this Promise, they also implicitly Re-promise to Repent.

This is evident. For, 1. Under this New Covenant God doth command and call for true and unfeined Repentance, more fully and universally, then under the Old Covenant. Of Old God commanded (h) only the Iews to Repent, they only being taken into Covenant with God: But now God Commandeth (i) not only the Iews, but (k) all men every where to Repent, in all Nations, having extended his New Covenant to all Nations. And Christ plainly instructs his Apostles in this point after his Resurrection, saying; (l) Thus it is written, and thus it behoved Christ to suffer, and to rise from the dead the third day. And that Repentance and Remission of sins should be preached in his Name among all nations, beginning at Ierusalem. Thus also the Apostles mannaged their preaching: First calling the (m) Iews, then the (n) Gentiles, to Repentance. And this was Pauls course, according to his Commission; (o) shewing first unto them of Damascus, and at Ierusalem, and throughout all the coasts of Iudea, and then to the Gentiles, that they should Repent, and turn to God, and do works meet for Repentance. 2. Remission of sins (p) is under the New Covenant Preached and Promised more clearly and fully upon Repentance and Turning unto God, then it was under the Old. 3. The Apostolical Practise under this New Covenant was, to Admit men as Fœderates to the New Covenant, and Baptize them, upon (q) testification and Profession of their Faith and Repentance. 4. When any Church-members had been cast out of Church-Society for their Scandalous and contagious deportment, The primitive Churches did not receive them again into wonted fellowship (r) till they had given very good demonstration of their sincere Repentance. By all this its plain, That under this New Covenant, God requires, and his Fœderates restipulate and perform (through his grace) Repentance from dead works.

What true Repentance is, and How we may know whether we have attained to it or no, hath been (s) elsiwhere manifested.

IV. Con-

IV. Conformity to Gods Laws in Heart and Life, in Inward Constitution, and Outward Conversation. In this New Covenant God promiseth this great Blessing, whilest he Covenants to (r) give his Laws into the Minds, and to write them in the hearts of his Fœderates. For what is this his giving of his Laws into their Minds and Hearts, but his new framing and new principling their minds and hearts so with his Spirit, Image, and Grace, that they shall be sweetly conform and answerable in all points to his Laws? And also an harmonious answerableness of Life and practise, resulting from those Principles, is Consequently Promised. Now, The Lord, Promising explicitly such Inscription of his Laws in their mind and heart, to bring their Mind, Heart and Life into a sweet Conformity to his Laws, doth Implicitly expect and require from his Fœderates an Universal Conformity and agreeableness of Heart and Life to his Laws.

(r) Heb 8. 10. & 10. 16, 17. Ier. 31. 33.

This is plain. For, 1. The Lord, in this his New Covenant, doth therefore Promise a New Inscription of his Laws in the Minds and Hearts of his People, that both their Hearts and Lives may be Conform to his Laws, and may keep the same. When God, in the Old (s) Covenant Administration, wrote his Laws only upon Tables of Stone, without the People, that writing did not at all prevail to make either their hearts or lives Conform and answerable to Gods Laws, but they Contrariwise did violate and break the same. God therefore purposely contrives a New Covenant and New Tables for his Laws, (t) the fleshly Tables of Mind and Heart; and a New Inscription of his Laws in these New Tables, by his Spirit: that their Minds and Hearts might be conform and agreeable to his Laws, that they might have a Law within them answerable to the Law without them, that so Gods Law & New Covenant might not be broken as his Old Covenant was. This is a principal thing which God aimed at in the Constitution of his New Covenant, that the Hearts of his People, as fleshy, flexible and Compliant Tables, might in all things so answer his Laws, that in their lives and practises they might sincerely keep them.

2. The (y) Grace of God, the Doctrine and Gospel of Gods Grace in Christ now under the New Covenant, appearing to all men, to all sorts of men, Iews and Gentiles, Teacheth us to live Soberly towards our selves, Righteously towards man, and Godly towards God, in this present world. This comprizeth in it an Universal & Compleat Conformity of Life to the whole Law of God. For what Duties of First or Second Table do not those three words, those three great Adverbs, Soberly, Righteously and Godly, comprehend? As I have (z) already evidenced. And to like effect in the Books of the New Testament there are (a) many Exhortations, Directions and Commands of walking answerably to the Law of God. 3. Christians, now under the New Covenant, are (b) Gods workmanship created in Christ Iesus unto Good works, which God hath before ordained that we should walk in them. Therefore in the New Covenant God intended tended that our walk, way and Course of life should be conform to the Law of God. Especially considering that the inward frame of the (c) Divine nature and Image of God wherein they are New created in Christ, consists in Knowledge, Righteousness and true Holiness. Which implies a plenary answerableness of their hearts (whence their actions flow) to the Law of God. 4. The Doctrine of the New Covenant much Commends and urgeth Love, as the Sweetest principle enabling and inclining to keep the Law of God sincerely, chearfully, delightfully. (d) If you love me (said Christ) keep my Commandments. (e) —— For this is the Love of God, that we keep his Commandments, & his Commandments are not grievous. Love makes every thing light and easie. Yea Love is highly magnified as (f) the very fulfilling of the Law: as the (g) Substance and Soul of the Law and of all Obedience. 5. Sincere observance of Gods Commandments from a Principle of Love, is encouraged by divers great and precious (h) Promises in the Doctrine of the New Covenant. 6. The (i) Sins and abominations against the Law of God are in the Books of the New Testament threatned with severest judgments and eternal Condemnation. And therefore by all this its clear that God expects an universal Conformity of his Fœderates hearts and lives to his holy Laws.

Wherein this Conformity Stands, See in the Opening of the First Article of the New Covenant, and (k) elsewhere in unfolding Walking before God in Obedience.

V. Entire Self-denying, Self-Resignation unto God. When God Promiseth in his New Covenant, this Blessing, And they shall be my People: He implicitly requires from them, & they tacitly Re-promise unto him, in accepting of his Covenant, That they will be his People, That they will yield up themselves Souls and Bodies in an entire Self-denying, Self-Resignation unto God. As God promiseth, they shall be my people: so they sweetly eccho again to God, we will be thy people, that is, we are well contented, To be thine only in Christ, not our own, not Sin's, not the world's, not Satan's: And thine wholly in Christ, in all we are, have, can do or endure for thy Glory. This is a very Comprehensive Duty: Hath in it especially two grand branches, plainly Implied in this New Covenant, and expresly required in the Books of the New Testament again and again, viz. 1. Self-Denyal, or Self-Abnegation, for God in Christ. 2. Self-Resignation to God in Christ.

1. Self-Denyal, or Self-abnegation, for God in Christ. This is one of the First and fundamental lessons in Christ's School. (l) —— If any man (saith Christ) will come after me, let him deny himself. That is, whatsoever belongs to himself, that stands in opposition against God, or comes in Competition with God. As, 1. All Self-sinfulness, ungodliness and worldly lusts Tit. 2. 11, 12. 2. All Self-righteousness. As did Paul, Phil. 3. 4. to 12. 3. All Self-wisdom,

All Self-Relations to deerest Naturall allyes, as Father, mother, wife, children, sister, brother, &c. Mat. 10. 37, 38. Luke 14. 26, &c. 6. All self-possessions and worldly injoyments, Luke 14. 28. to 34. 1 John 2. 15. 7. All self-life. He must deny not only his liberty, but even his very life for God in Christ, Mat. 10. 38, 39. Luke 14. 26. Acts 20. 24. & 21. 13. All must be denyed; that God in Christ, better then all, may be enjoyed.

2. Self-Resignation of all we are, have, can do, or endure unto God. (m) —— Present your bodies a living Sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your service according to the Word. (n) —— Ye are not your own. For ye are bought with a price: Therefore glorifie God in your Body, and in your Spirit, which are Gods.

Inferences.

I. Hence, As Gods New Covenant-mercies expresly Promised, so our New Covenant-Duties implicitly restipulated, are very comprehensive. What Mercy is not comprized in those Mercies! What Duty is not comprehended in those Duties!

II. Hence, The New Covenant-Duties are so required from us, as is most consistent with Gods Free-grace unto us. For he first expresly promiseth Ability; and then implicitly requires answerable Duty. First he enables us to do, what he will require: Then requires us to do, what we are able. We must know him, but first he will teach us: we must believe and Repent, and be conform to his Laws in heart and life, but first he will write his Law in our Minds and Hearts: we must be his people, but first he will make us his people. Well said Augustine, (o) Lord give me to do what thou commandest, and then command what thou pleasest.

III. Hence, As we would receive the New Covenant-blessings from God: So we should return the New Covenant Duties to God.

Of the Blessed MESSIAH, our Lord JESUS CHRIST God-man; The onely Mediator, Testator, and Surety of the NEW COVENANT betwixt God and Man.

HAving thus unfolded the Matter of the New Covenant, Consisting, Partly In Precious Blessings Promised on Gods Part to his Fœderates; Partly In Spiritual Duties required from and actually restipulated by his Fœderates to God, when they come actually to close with God in this Covenant: In the next place, take we into serious Consideration, The (p) Mediator, (q) Testator, and (r) Surety of the New Covenant, JESUS CHRIST; In and by whom, This New Covenant is dedicated or established, and All the New Covenant-Mercies and Blessings are Obtained for us, Promised to us, Applyed and effectually conferred upon us. And touching The Mediator of this New Covenant, I shall principally endeavour to set forth; 1. The Necessity of a Mediator betwixt God and Man. 2. The Person of the Mediator, who and what manner of Person he is, and ought to be. 3. The Office of this Mediator, wherein it consists, and How he executeth it. 4. The Dedication and Application of this New Covenant, by vertue of that his Mediatory Office. These four Heads will easily comprize what is here necessary to be spoken touching the Mediator of the New Covenant, JESUS CHRIST.

And now, being (s) come to JESUS the Mediator of the NEW COVENANT, and to the blood of sprinkling that speaketh better things then the blood of Abel: We are come to look into that profound, supernatural Mysterie, which our B Saviour himself saith: (t) Flesh and blood hath not revealed, but his Father which is in Heaven. And Paul intimates that, (u) The Preaching of Christ, is *according to the Revelation of the Mysterie, which was kept secret since the world began, but now is made Manifest —and made known to all Nations for the obedience of Faith. APHORISM

APHORISM. I.

Of the Neceſsity of a Mediator betwixt God and Man, in General.

THat, A True, Fit, and Sufficient Mediator of the New Covenant was moſt neceſſary betwixt God and man.

For evincing of this, I ſhall ſhew 1. How, and in what ſenſe a Mediator was neceſſary. 2. Why, and in what reſpects ſuch a Mediator was ſo neceſſary betwixt God and man.

I. How, and in what ſenſe a Mediator may be ſaid to be Neceſſary betwixt God and man. For Reſolving this note;

1. There is (as the (i) Schoolmen well obſerve) a threefold Neceſſity. viz. 1. A moſt Perfect and Abſolute Neceſsity, when a thing is ſo, that it cannot not be, by the power of any Agent whatſoever. This Neceſſity belongs only to the Divine Nature which is moſt perfect, and cannot by any Agent whatſoever be brought not to be, or to be other, or otherwiſe then he is, James 1. 17. 1 Tim. 1. 17. 2. A Natural Neceſsity whereby any thing ſo is, that by vertue of a natural agent it cannot be or behave it ſelf otherwiſe. So, The Heavens are neceſſarily moved about, and no natural thing can hinder their Motion. So, fire is neceſſarily hot, and tends upwards: no Creature can take theſe Properties from fire. Thus, Man neceſſarily flies miſery, deſireth happineſs, true or falſe, &c. 3 An Hypothetical Neceſsity, which is alſo called a neceſsity of conſequence when any thing is Neceſſary (aliquo ſuppoſito) upon ſuppoſition of ſome other thing. And this is not A Neceſſity Abſolute, in the things themſelves, but Reſpective and upon connexion of one thing with another. Thus, ſuppoſing that the Sun enlightens all the world, it muſt neceſſarily have light in it ſelf: Suppoſing (k) Gods Covenant, Truth and Juſtice: Man ſinning muſt neceſſarily die, if Satisfaction be not made to Gods Juſtice: ſuppoſing Gods (l) Decree, they that ſhall be glorified muſt neceſſarily be called and juſtified. And in this laſt ſenſe, A Mediator betwixt God and Man was Neceſſary: that is, His ſuppoſitis, Theſe and ſuch like things being ſuppoſed, viz. (1) That, God hath Decreed to create Mankind and to glorifie his Mercy, and Juſtice in Mankind peculiarly, Preparing ſome as veſſels of Mercy unto Glory, and Paſſing by others as veſſels of wrath fitted to deſtruction, Rom. 9. 22, 23. (2) That, thoſe of Mankind whom God intended as veſſels of Mercy for Glory, he elected in Jeſus Chriſt, Epheſ. 1. 4, 5. (3) That, God purpoſed to create man upright under a Covenant of works upon pain of Death, but to leave man to himſelf, ſo as to ſuffer him to fall;

fall, that thereby he might take occaſion to expreſs the riches of his free-Grace and Mercy in ſaving his Elect by Jeſus Chriſt: And that God did this accordingly, Gen. 1.26,27,28. Eccleſ. 7 29. & Gen. 2.16, 17. & 3. throughout. Rom. 5. 12. God working all things according to the Counſel of his own will, Epheſ. 1. 11. (4) That, Man being upright, but mutable, being left to himſelf, fell from God through the enticement of Satan, and ſo in Adam all mankind became guilty of eternal death, and at utter Enmity with God, Gen. 3 throughout. Rom. 5. 12 & 6.23. & 8. 7,8. (5) That God having threatned Death to Adam in caſe of Sin, Gen 2. 16, 17. And Adam ſinning, and in him all mankind, the Elect, as well as others, Gen. 3. throughout. Rom. 5. 12. the Elect could not be reſtored and ſaved according to Gods Decree, without impeachment to his Truth and Juſtice, Gen. 2. 16, 17. Rom. 2. 5, 6, 11. Deut. 32. 4. unleſs Gods Truth ſhould be verified, and his Juſtice ſatisfied, by Man offending, or by A ſufficient Mediator or Surety for man, which ſhould fully pay mans debt by undergoing death for man, Heb. 9. 22. to the end. & 10. 7. to 20. & 7. 22. 1 Pet. 2. 23, 24. ſo reconciling God and man, 2 Cor. 5. 18, 19, 20. 21. Rom. 5. 8, 9, 10, 11. (6) That the Elect according to Gods Decree muſt be eternally ſaved, Rom. 8. 29, 30. Upon Preſuppoſal of theſe, and ſuch like things, A Mediator betwixt God and man was neceſſary. That is, A Mediator was neceſſary by an Hypothetical neceſſity.

2. Again, I ſay, [A True, Fit and Sufficient Mediator was neceſſary under the New Covenant.] True, that is, More then Typical: Fit, that is, equally Middle betwixt God and man: Sufficient, that is, being every way able to reconcile God and Man. Moſes under the Old Covenant was (m) Mediator: but Neither True, Fit, nor Sufficient. Not True, but Typical: being herein a dark Type and Figure of Chriſt. Not Fit, but very Unfit, being no Equally Middle Perſon, but a meer man, nearer to Man then to God. Not Sufficient, but very Inſufficient: being utterly unable to reconcile God and the People, yea (n) himſelf needing Reconcilement to God by an higher Mediator. Such a Typical, Unfit, Inſufficient Mediator was Moſes. But the New Covenant being ordained purpoſely for (o) Reformation of the Imperfections of the Old Covenant, The Mediator of the New Covenant muſt be True, Fit and Sufficient fully to bring God and man into Unity and Peace: he muſt every way tranſcend Moſes.

(n) Pſal. 106. 32, 33. Numb. 20. 12, 13, 23, 24. Deut. 32. 49, 50, 51, 52.

(o) Heb. 9. 10. & 7. 18, 9.

II. Why, and in what reſpects A Mediator of the New Covenant, yea ſuch a True, Fit and Sufficient Mediator, was Neceſſary betwixt God and man.

Reſolut. A True, Fit and ſufficient Mediator of the New Covenant betwixt God and man was Hypothetically moſt neceſſary in divers regards. For,

1. Without a Mediator, and that ſuch a Mediator, Gods Eternal Decree

Decree touching mans true, ſpiritual and Everlaſting Happineſs ſhould never have been brought unto actual Execution, For, As All mans Spiritual and Eternal Happineſs is eternally (p) decreed: So it is all Decreed to Man (q) in and through a Mediator. Mans Redemption is decreed in, and through a Mediator, 1 Pet. 1 18, 19, 20. His Adoption into Gods Family is decreed, in and through a Mediator, Eph. 1, 5. His Holineſs and Unblameableneſs in love is decreed, but in and through a Mediator, Eph. 1. 4. His Obedience is decreed, but in and through a Mediator, 1 Pet. 1. 2. His Eternal Happineſs of both Soul and body (comprized under Adoption, Rom. 8. 23.) is decreed, but in a Mediator, Eph. 1. 4, 5. His Vocation, Juſtification and Glorification are decreed, but in a Mediator, Rom. 8. 28, 29, 30. Therefore without a Mediator Gods Decrees, touching mans ſpiritual and eternal Happineſs cannot have their full execution and accompliſhment. Thus A Mediator betwixt God and man was moſt neceſſary for the execution of Gods Decrees.

2. Without a Mediator, and that ſuch a Mediator, The Prophecies, Promiſes and Types laid down in Holy Scripture could never actually have been fulfilled and accompliſhed. For, 1. Moſes and the Prophets (r) have foretold the Myſterie of a Mediator, and how all ſpiritual and eternal bleſſings are procured for, and applyed unto the Elect of God, by a Mediator. 2. The Promiſes of all ſaving Bleſſings to mankind; As, Of the (ſ) Seed of the woman to bruiſe the Serpents head, Of the (t) Seed of Abraham in whom all the Families of the Earth ſhould be bleſſed, Of a (u) Prophet like Moſes to be heard in all things, Of (x) a Prieſt after the order of Melchizedeck, Of the (y) Seed of David that ſhould ſit upon his Throne to Rule the Houſe of Jacob for ever, Of (z) Redemption and deliverance from all our ſpiritual Enemies, Of (a) Bleſſing all Nations in their effectual Calling and Converſion from their iniquities, Of (b) Remiſſion of ſins and Juſtification, Of (c) the Holy Spirit and Sanctification, Of (d) Eternal Life and Salvation; I ſay all theſe, and all other Promiſes in the Book of God, are either Promiſes of a Mediator, or Promiſes in and through a Mediator: in whom all the Promiſes of God are yea, and Amen, 2 Cor. 1. 20. 3. The Types and ſhadows of old did all intend a Mediator, and Center in a Mediator, repreſenting ſomething or other of a Mediator, viz. Either His Perſon, that he ſhould be God-man, ſhadowed out in the Pillar of Fire and Cloud, Exod. 13. 21, 22. & 14. 19, 20. as formerly I have ſhewed in opening the Sinai Covenant: Or his offices Of Prophet, Prieſt and King; ſhadowed out by thoſe three famous offices among his people. Of his being Sacrificed to expiate our ſins, ſhadowed out by all the Levitical Sacrifices, &c. Heb. 10. 1, &c. & 9. 9, 10, 11, 12. Col. 2. 16, 17. All the Ceremonials were purpoſely ordained to adumbrate a Mediator one way or other; as (e) heretofore I have abundantly evidenced in explaining the Sinai-Covenant. Now that all ſuch Prophecies, Promiſes and Types (ſo notably tably fore-telling, fore-assuring and prefiguring a Mediator) might at last have their due and intended accomplishment, It was necessary there should be a Mediator betwixt God and man, without whom they would have proved false, and vain, and null, and void.

3. Without a True, Fit and Sufficient Mediator, the New Covenant would have been as weak and imperfect as the Old. The Old Covenant was very imperfect, weak, ineffectual, unprofitable. Why? Especially and principally because it wanted the True, Fit and Sufficient Mediator: having only some dark types and shadows of a Mediator, in Moses, in the Priesthood, in the Sacrifices, &c. As the (f) Apostle shews. But the New Covenant was to be, and is a (g) better Covenant, Reforming all the defects and imperfections of the former Covenant, by a better Priesthood, a better Sacrifice, a better and more perfect Tabernacle, &c. that is, By the True, Fit and Sufficient Mediator of the New Covenant, by whom the Covenant and all things under the Covenant are made better. Take away this Mediator from the New Covenant, and its as weak, unprofitable, imperfect and ineffectual as the Old.

4. Without a True, Fit and Sufficient Mediator, the Extream Enmity by reason of sin betwixt God and lapsed mankind could never have been removed, nor God and Man Reconciled. For, Consider deliberately, I. God on the one hand (who (h) made man upright in his own Image,) is, 1. Infinitely pure and holy. So that he cannot endure sin in his Creature; but forbids it upon pain of Death. Isa. 6. 3. Hab 1. 13. Exod. 34. 7. Gen. 2. 16, 17. 2. Infinitely Just. So that he cannot but take vengeance of sin acted by his Creature, and punish it to the uttermost, unless full Satisfaction be made by man, or for man, Deut. 32. 4. Rom. 3. 5, 6. & 6. 23. 3. Infinitely true and faithful. So that his threatning of Death for sin, must be accomplished and verified. Deut. 32. 4 Gen. 2. 16, 17. Rom. 6. 23. II. Man on the other hand, being (i) made in Gods image upright. 1. Was most justly obliged, by the Law of Nature and Creation, to be exactly obedient and subject to the just and equal Law of his Maker. 2. Was as justly exposed to the curse and malediction of Gods Law, in case he transgressed it And therefore assoon as Man had offended God by (k) transgressing his Law, he became presently guilty of Death and Condemnation. 3. Man lapsed could no way satisfie the infinite Justice of the offended God, nor could he of himself do or endure any thing that could prevail to make Reconciliation betwixt God and him: being but a meer finite creature, yea a wretched (l) Sinner without strength, still treasuring up unto himself wrath, by increasing sin continually. III. Hence, from all this it follows; 1. That, Theres an utter (m) Enmity betwixt God and lapsed man, which nor man nor any meer creature in the world can possibly remove. 2. That, of Necessity, The Holy, Righteous and Faithfull God must inflict the the Penalty of his broken Law, Death, upon all mankind lapsed, according to his Truth and Justice; And then, either Mankind should for ever lose all happiness in fruition of God, And God should lose all the voluntary service and subjection of Mankind unto himself: Or God must not punish lapsed man for his sin, which would be utterly against his Truth and Justice: Or some Middle way must be devised, To (n) devolve, translate and put Mans sins and punishment upon some fit and sufficient Person fully able to bear them, and make compleat satisfaction for them to God: As also to interest lapsed man in that sufficient Persons Righteousness for his acceptation with God. And this Middle way, is by way of Mediator. Thus, man lapsed must for ever Perish, Or God must be Unfaithful and Unjust, or there must be a Mediator interposing to satisfie Gods Justice and fulfill his Truth, that the Sinner may be saved.

(n) 2 Cor. 5. 21

5. Without a True, Fit and sufficient Mediator, Lapsed man could never have been Redeemed. This is evident especially two wayes. For, 1. The Bondage and (o) Thraldom into which lapsed man is implunged, is such and so great, that none but such a Mediator can rescue and Redeem him from it, viz. A Bondage, (1) Under the Power and Dominion of sin and iniquity, Rom. 6. 6, 12, 13, 14. & 8. 8. Acts 8. 23. Eph. 2. 1. (2) Under the guilt of eternal Death and Condemnation for sin, Rom. 3. 19. & 1. 32. & 6. 23, Eph. 2. 3. (3) Under the Irritation, Rigour and Curse of the Law, Rom. 7. 8 to 14. Gal. 3. 10. (4) Under the Fear and terrour of Death, Heb. 2. 15. (5) Under the Mercilesse Tyranny and cruelty of Satan and the Powers of darkness, Heb. 2. 14. 2 Tim. 2. 25. Col 1. 13. 2. The way of lapsed man's Redemption and deliverance from all this thraldom, from the hand and power of all those Enemies, is such, viz. By Right, Price and Power, that none in the world but such a Mediator can possibly effect or accomplish the same. The (p) Right of Redemption belongs, not to a stranger, but to a neer Kinsman, by the Law. None but a neer Kinsman is a fit Redeemer. The Price of Redemption must be beyond all Corruptibles, that meer Creatures can perform, that it may be fully Satisfactory to Gods infinite justice, 1 Pet. 1. 18, 19. Acts 20. 28. And the Power of the Redeemer must transcend the Power of all our Spiritual Enemies that enthrall us, Matth. 12. 29.

(o) Luke 1. 74

(p) Heb. 2. 11, 12, 13, 14, 15. Lev 25. 23. to 35, 47. to the end.

6. Without a True, Fit and sufficient Mediator lapsed man could never have been effectually called, Sanctified, Justified, and Saved. For it is by the Bounty, Fulness, Vertue, Power and Efficacy of such a Mediator, that lapsed man is Converted from his Sins and iniquities, Acts 3. 25, 26. Sanctified through the Spirit, 1 Pet. 1. 2. 1 Cor. 1. 30. & 6. 11. Justified in the sight of God by imputed Righteousness, covering all sin, Acts 13. 38, 39. 1 Cor. 1. 30. And Saved from eternal wrath and condemnation, Rom. 5. 9, 10.

By all this we may plainly see, in the General, The great Necessity of a True, Fit and Sufficient Mediator betwixt God and Man.

APHORISM II.

Of the Person of Christ; and of His Mediatory Office, more Generally.

THat JESUS the only Son of God, is also the Son of the Virgin Mary, God and Man in one Person, THE CHRIST and Promised MESSIAH, is, as God-man, the only True, Fit and Sufficient Mediator, Testator and Surety of the New Covenant betwixt God and man.

In this Aphorism is set forth, I. The Person of the Mediator; who and what he is. And this, 1. By his Proper Denomination; (q) JESUS. 2. By his Descent and Filiation; which is twofold, viz. (r) Eternal, before all time. And so he is; (r) The onely son of God. (s) Temporal, in fulness of time, Gal. 4. 4. So he is also, (t) The Son of the virgin Mary. 3. By his two Natures, Divine and Humane, Personally United; (u) God and Man in one Person. God incarnate, The word made flesh; God manifest in the flesh; Immanuel, that is, God-with-us. II. The Office of this Mediator. And this three wayes. 1. By his Designation and Unction for it; (w) THE CHRIST and Promised MESSIAH. The Greek word Christ, and the Hebrew word, Messiah, do both of them signifie Annoynted. 2. By the Nature of his Office, and the peculiar Appropriation of it to him alone; (x) The only True, Fit, and Sufficient Mediator, Testator, and Surety of the New Covenant betwixt God and man. 3. By the Capacity in which he became Mediator, Testator and Surety, viz. Not as God alone, nor as man alone; But, (y) As God-man. All these Particulars touching the Person and office of the Mediator, are couched closely together in this short Aphorism, and are evident by these Scriptures annexed in the Margin.

But, these being Fundamental Principles of Faith, and of very high Consequence to Salvation (yet divers of them very intricate and hard to be understood,) they had need to be more largely Explicated and evidenced. And therefore for greater clearness herein, I shall resolve the Aphorism into these four distinct Positions; withall withall, explaining and confirming them, viz. 1. That JESUS the only son of God, and the son of the virgin Mary, is God and Man in one Person. 2. That, JESUS, God-man, is THE CHRIST the Promised Messiah: and he alone. 3. That, JESUS CHRIST God and Man, is the only True, Fit, and Sufficient Mediator, Testator and Surety of the New Covenant betwixt God and Man. 4. That JESUS CHRIST is Mediator, Testator and Surety of the New Covenant betwixt God and man, as he is God-man. All the former Particulars will easily be reduced to these four Positions.

Position I. That. JESUS, the only Son of God, and the Son of the Virgin Mary, is God and Man in one Person. Here note, 1. What this Name IESUS imports. 2. That this IESUS is the only son of God. 3. That this IESUS also is the son of the virgin Mary. 4. That this IESUS, son of God and of the virgin Mary, is God and man in one Person.

1. What this Name Jesus imports. This Name Ἰησοῦς in the Greek (z) most frequently given to our Saviour in the New Testament, which in Latin and English is IESUS is originally an Hebrew name, viz. יֵשׁוּעַ Jeshuah, or יְהוֹשׁוּעַ Jehoshuah, A Saviour. From יָשַׁע Iashah, which in Hiphil is הוֹשִׁיעַ Hoshiah, To save, To preserve, To help. This Hebrew name was first given to Hoshuah the Son of Nun, whom Moses called Jehoshuah, Numb. 13. 10. and the Apostle cals, Jesus, Heb. 4. 8. He saved Israel from their enemies, the Canaanites, &c. and brought them into the Promised Land of Rest; therein being a type of our TRUE JESUS, that saves all the elect Israel of God from all their Spiritual enemies, and brings them into Heavens everlasting Rest, Heb. 4. 8. to the end. Sundry witty (a) Allusions or Allusive Etymologies are given of this Name JESUS, to shew the Signification and Reason thereof; but waving those curiosities, we are to acquiesce in the Angels Reason, why our Mediator should be called IESUS, as most authentique and unexceptionable. ——— And thou shalt call his name IESUS, for he shall save his People from their sins, Mat. 1. 21.

(z) Mat. 1. 21, 25. Luke 1 31. & 2. 21 & often elsewhere.

(a) – Quod Andreas Osiander. vir doctissimus, in Harmonia sua Evangelica statuat, illud nomen IESUS esse ipsum nomen Dei JEHOVAH, quod cum factum fuisse ἄρρητον seu in effabile, dicit insertione literæ ש (ex voce שִׁילֹה Gen. 49. 10.) effabile, ut ita hoc nomine significatur. 1. Christum esse verum Deum, ob nomen JEHOVAH, & verum hominem ob literam ש ex Schilo, quæ humanitatem ejus notet; & quod sunt unitæ illæ duæ Naturæ in unam Personam, sicut ex divinæ & humanæ Naturæ nominibus factum est unum Nomen. 2. Incomprehensibilem Deum, assumpto homine, cœpisse nobis esse cognoscibilem Scribi igitur, inquit, proprie sub Literis יְהוֹשׁוּעַ & per Contractionem יֵשׁוּעַ *Nomen Glossa in Christologia Messiæ prophetica. p. 167. ad p. 178. Our blessed Mediator is called IESUS, that is, A SAVIOUR; 1. Because He saves his People from their sins. This is the (b) Angels Reason, and its the grand Reason, whereupon other Reasons do depend. 2. Because, He (c) saves them from the wrath of God. Gods wrath being only for sin. 3. Because, He (d) saves and redeems from the accusation, malediction, rigour and terrour of the Law of God. Gods Law accusing, cursing and terrifying only for sin. 4. Because, He (e) saves from Death, Judgement and eternal Condemnation. Those being the proper and peculiar wages of sin. 5. Because, he (f) saves and delivers us from Satan and all the powers of darkness, yea from all our spiritual enemies. Which have got advantage against us only by sin. Now our blessed JESUS so saves: that, 1. He is the only Saviour, (g) Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men whereby we must be saved. 2. He saves (h) universally all the elect people of God that are lost in the first Adam, whether Jews or Gentiles, of what Nation soever in the whole world. 3. He saves variously, with all manner of Necessary Salvation, viz. Meritoriously, (i) by himself and his own Mediation with God for us. Efficatiously, by his (k) Spirit and his effectual operation in us. Instrumentally; On his part, by his (l) Word and (m) Ministers: On our part, by (n) Faith embracing Christ for Salvation. 4. He saves most sufficiently, and for ever, all that come unto God by him. (o) He is able to save to the uttermost (εἰς παντελὲς to all end) all that come unto God, &c. Hence he is called, not only Saviour, but salvation it self, σωτηρία Gen. 49. 18. and σωτήριον Luke 2. 30. He is his Peoples only, manifold, perfect and al-sufficient Salvation: from Sin, Wrath, Curse, Death, Condemnation, and all the Powers of Darkness. All these are comprized in this one word JESUS. (p) The whole Gospel is hid in this Name IESUS. (1) When we are first initiated into the Church: We are baptized into the Name of Iesus, Acts 2. 38. and 19. 5. (2) When we are Converted to God; we put on the Lord Iesus, Rom. 13. 14. (3) When we act any thing, whatsoever we do in word or Deed, we should do all in the name of the Lord Iesus, Col. 3. 17. (4) And when we are dissolved, and lay aside these earthly Tabernacles; we sleep in Iesus, 1 Thes. 4. 14. The Saints dead dust is under the Key and custody of this Iesus. O sweetest, and most delicious Name! For what can be sweeter to a Sinner then a Saviour; to a lost soul, then a Iesus? The Name Iesus, is the Musick of the Gospel, the Comfort of Repenters, the Triumph of believers, the terrour of the Devil and of all the Powers of darkness. (q) The Name Iesus, is Light and Life, Meat and Medicine, Health and Hope unto the Soul. This sweet Name Iesus, is Honey in the Mouth, Melody in the ear, and a very Iubilee in the heart.

II. That this IESUS is the only son of God. 1. How? (1) Not by Creation: so the Angels and all Mankind are sons of God, Iob 1. 6. Heb. 12. 9. Numb. 16. 22. and 27. 16. (2) Not by Adoption: So all the elect of God actually called, are the Sons and Daughters of God, Gal. 4. 4, 5, 6. 2 Cor. 7. 17, 18. Rom. 8. 15, 16. Iohn 1. 11. (3) But by Generation. Even by Eternal, Ineffable and Unconceivable Generation of the Father before all worlds, according to his Deity. He is also called The son of God, according to to his Humanity, in regard of his Miraculous conception in the Virgins womb, without man, by the Holy-Ghost, Luke 1. 35. But that comes not under this present Consideration. 2. Whence may it appear that this Iesus is in this sense, according to his God-head, the only Son of God? Divers waies, viz. (r) From clear Testimonies of Scripture, wherein he is stiled the son of God, yea The only begotten son of God. Μονογενὴς. Peter confessed; (r) Thou art Christ, that son of the living God. Here's a Demonstrative particle, ὁ υἱὸς, that son: denoting Christ to be Son of the living God so peculiarly, as neither Eliah, nor Ieremiah, nor Iohn Baptist, nor any of the Prophets were the sons of God. (f) And the word was made flesh, and dwelt amongst us, and we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father. (t) —— The only begotten son, which is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared him. (u) — God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten son, &c. (x) — Because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten son of God. (y) — God sent his only begotten son into the world, that we might live through him. (z) From the glorious & exact resemblance of this son begotten, to the Father begetting. (z) God hath in these last daies spoken to us by his son, —— who being the brightness of his glory, and the express image (or character) of his Person, &c. None but Jesus Christ is the brightness of Gods glory, and the express image of his person, this is here ascribed to him alone by peculiar appropriation. Therefore he alone is Gods Natural and eternal Son. (3) From the sufficient Enumeration of the Persons of the Blessed Trinity. Those Persons or Distinct Divine Subsistences are only three in one Essence. (a) There are three that bear record in Heaven, The Father, The Word, (elswhere called, the Son) and the Holy-Ghost: and these three are one. Among these three, there's but One Son, the Word; as there is but one Father: and this Son, this word, was made flesh, Iohn 1. 14. This is that Iesus, the only eternal Son of God.

Hence, In Holy Scripture, 1. The Names, 2. Attributes, 3. Works, And 4 Worship, which properly and peculiarly belong to God, are Ascribed to IESUS, this Son of God. I. The Names of God are given to IESUS the Son of God. As, 1. God. The Word was God, Joh. 1. 1. (b) —— The flock of God, which he hath purchased with his own blood. (c) —— *God manifest in the flesh. And the (d) Apostles so render it also. —— My Lord and my God, John 20. 28. —— One Lord Iesus Christ, 1 Cor. 8. 6. —— The only Lord God, and our Lord Jesus Christ, Iude 4. — He is Lord of all, Acts 10. 36. The Lord from Heaven, 1 Cor. 15. 48. The Lord of glory, 1 Cor. 2 8. Lord of Lords, and King of Kings, Rev. 19. 16. 3. III. That, This IESUS, the only begotten Son of God, was also the Son of the Virgin Mary. For the more clear evincing of this, These Particulars are to be evidenced, viz. 1. Whence the Virgin Mary her self descended. 2. That Iesus was the Son of the Virgin Mary. 3. How Iesus was the Son of the Virgin Mary. 4. What Denominations are given to him in Scripture hereupon. These things had need to be rightly understood, for the due Knowledge of Iesus our Mediator. I. Whence the Virgin Mary her self Descended? Answ. The Virgin Mary Naturally descended of David, and was of his House in the Tribe of Iudah. For, 1. Our Lord Iesus, Son of the Virgin Mary, sprang of the Tribe of Iuda, out of the House of David. (e) —— For it is evident that our Lord sprang out of Juda. (f) — Concerning his Son Iesus Christ our Lord, which was made of the Seed of David according to the flesh. 2. It is said; (g) The Angel Gabriel — was sent, to a Virgin, espoused to a man whose name was Joseph, of the House of David, ἐξ οἴκου Δαβίδ, whose name was Mary, &c. (the intent of the Angels message, was to assure her that Iesus should be conceived conceived and brought forth of her.) Here those words (of the house of David) may refer, according to the Greek, to Mary as well as to Ioseph. 3. The (h) Genealogy described by Luke, puts the matter quite out of Question, that the Virgin Mary descended of David Naturally, and not only Legally. For, Its evident beyond doubt, that (according to the Genealogy by Matthew) Ioseph the husband of Mary was the natural Son of Iacob: because its said; (i) And Jacob begat Joseph the husband of Mary, &c. So that Eli, mentioned in Luke to be Iosephs Father, was only his Legal or Civil Father, but Maries Natural Father. Husband and wife becoming one flesh, the Father of one is Father of Both, Gen. 37. 35. As (k) P. Galatinus hath well observed. The Genealogy therefore described by Luke, doth plainly describe the Natural descent of the Virgin Mary from the House of David. Object. But why then doth Luke carry his Genealogy upwards from Ioseph: and not from Mary, she being not mentioned in his Genealogy. Resol. Because (as (l) Galatinus hath noted) it is not the manner of Scripture to make up Genealogies by women, therefore Luke in the Genealogie of the glorious Virgin, did put Ioseph himself in stead of the Virgin, calling him the Son of Eli, that is, of Jehojakim. Thus the Genealogies of Matthew and Luke are clearly reconciled, as touching the Father of Ioseph and of Mary: Iacob was Iosephs Natural Father, but Eli was Iosephs civil, and Maries Natural Father. Or, they may thus be easily reconciled without forcing any thing in the text, by placing the Parenthesis in that of Luke, not as it is in our Translation — being (as was supposed) the Son of Ioseph, &c. but thus; And Iesus himself began to be about thirty years of age, being (as was supposed, the son of Ioseph,) the son of Eli, &c. that is, the grand-child of Eli, by his daughter Mary. And this Resolution greatly satisfies that learned (m) Spanhemius. And he (n) very well answers Calvins objection against drawing the line of Mary and of Christ, from David by Nathan, and not by Solomon. The learned Reader may consult him for his further satisfaction. II. That Jesus was the son of the Virgin Mary. This is very plain. For, 1. This was fore-prophesied by the Prophet Isaiah, Behold a Virgin shall conceive, &c. Isa. 7. 14. Mat. 1. 22, 23. 2. This was fore-promised by the Angel Gabriel to the Virgin Mary her self, That she should conceive and bring forth a son, and call him Iesus, &c. Luke 1. 28. to 39. 3. This was actually fulfilled, for when the daies were accomplished, she brought forth her first-born son in the City of David, which is Bethlehem, and on the eighth day when he was circumcised, his name was called IESVS, who was so named of the Angel before he was conceived in the womb, Luke 2. 4, 5, 6, 7, &c. 21, &c. Mat. 1. 18. to the end. & 2. 1, &c. III. How IESUS was the Son of the Virgin Mary. Answ. Iesus became the Son of the Virgin Mary; 1. Extraordinarily; in a way altogether extraordinary and miraculous. Partly, In that he was conceived, not by ordinary Humane Generation,

(e) Heb. 7. 14.

(o) Then said Mary unto the Angel, How shall this be, seeing I know not a man? And the Angel answered and said unto her, The Holy-Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the highest shall over-shadow thee: therefore also that Holy thing which shall be born of thee, shall be called the Son of God. Partly, In that he was conceived and born of a (p) Virgin: she still remaining a Virgin till after his Nativity. For a Virgin to conceive is ordinary: but for a Virgin to conceive and bring forth, remaining a Virgin, this is extraordinary and miraculous. Partly, in that he was conceived (q) most purely, in the womb of a Sinner, without Sin. For the Virgin was a sinner, and needed a (r) Saviour, and was liable to death. 2. Truly and really. Iesus partaking the true Humane Nature of the Virgin, Luke 1. 31, 35. & 2. 6, 7, 21, 22. and not only a phantasm, imaginary or seeming Nature only, as the Marcionites, Manichees and other Hereticks falsly pretended. He had the true Properties, Affections and Actions of man: He was conceived, born, circumcised, did hunger, thirst, was weary, was cloathed, did eat, drink, sleep, hear, see, touch, speak, sigh, weep, grow in wisdom and stature, &c. as the four Evangelists do abundantly testifie. 3. Compleatly and perfectly. He took to himself the whole Humane Nature, in both the essential parts of man, soul and body. A true humane and reasonable (s) soul. A true real humane body also, Mar. 14. 8. John 2. 21. Col. 2. 22. Luke 24. 39. Mat. 26. 26. Theres often mention of his flesh, blood and bones, &c. Rom. 1. 3. Luke 24. 39. John 19. 33. Acts 20. 28. John 6. 54. —— Hence said Augustine; (t) Therefore he took the whole man without sin, that he might heal the whole, of which man consists, of the plague of sin. And Fulgentius to like purpose; (u) As the Devil smote by Deceiving the whole man; so God saves by assuming the whole man. — Yea he so took the Humane Nature of the Virgin, that he (x) took our infirmities, wants and weaknesses (but without sin) together with our Nature. Not mans personal infirmities, which from some particular causes befall this or that Person, as Leprosie, Blindness, Dumbness, Palsey, Epilepsy, &c. I do not say he took any such infirmities. But mans natural infirmities, which belong to all mankind since the fall: As, hunger, thirst, wearisomness, sorrowfulness, sweating, bleeding, wounds, death, burial, &c. as the Evangelists abundantly testifie. IV. Denominations given unto Iesus in Scripture hereupon, are many: setting forth further unto us the Verity and Reality of his Humane Nature. Hence, Jesus is called, The Son of the Virgin, Isa. 7. 14. Her first born son, Luke 2. 7. The branch, Zech. 3. 8. & 6. 12. The branch of righteousness growing up to David, Ier. 33. 15. & 23. 5. A Rod out of the stem of Jesse, and a branch out of his roots, Isa. 11. 1.

IV. That, This IESUS, son of God and of the virgin Mary, is God and man in One Person. That he is God, and that he is Man: hath been sufficiently proved. Now we are to Consider, that Iesus our Mediator is not two Persons, but only one Individual Person, consisting of two Natures really & essentially distinct one from another; viz. The Divine and Humane, whereupon he is God man. He is one and the same begotten of the Father without time, The Son of God without Mother: and born of the virgin in time, The son of man without Father. The Natural and Consubstantial son of both. This (y) without Controversie is the great Mysterie of Godliness, God Manifest in the flesh. Here note touching this Mysterie. 1. The fitness of the Son, the Second Person to become man. 2. The Nature of the union betwixt his Divinity and Humanity. 3. The Unity or Oneness of his Person, though consisting of these two Natures. 4. Similitudes illustrating this Union. 5. The Effects or Consequents resulting from this union.

(y) 1 Tim. 3. 16.

(1) The Fitness of the Son of God, to become the son of man, the son of the virgin. It was more fit the Son should be incarnate for the office of Mediatorship, then either, The Father or Holy-Ghost. For, 1. The son is the Middle Person betwixt the Father and the Holy-Ghost: and therefore fittest to be a Middle officer betwixt God and man. 2. By the Son all things were at the beginning (z) Created: therefore by the Son most fitly all things were to be (a) Re-created, New created Hence said Augustine; (b) It would be an injury to him, if the work formed by him should be Re formed by another. 3. Having lost the image of God by sin, in which image we were at first fashioned by the Son, the substantial image of God and express character of his Person, Gen. 1. 27. Col. 3. 10. Ephes. 4. 24. Heb. 1. 3. (2) The Nature of the Union betwixt the God-head and Man-hood of Iesus Christ, is; 1. Personal. 2. Indivisible. 3. Of Natures remaining still distinct one from another. I. Personal and intimate. Its not a Natural, but a Personal Conjunction of two Natures, not of two persons, in Christ: not such as is of Superiours with Inferiours, of Accidents with Substances, or of the Part with the whole; but whereby two Natures mediately are united in one Person, and the Humane Nature is Immediately united to the Divine Person in a secret and most strict manner, 1 Tim. 3. 16. Gal. 4. 4. Col. 2. 9. II. Indivisible. This Conjunction is made (g) indivisibly and inseparably for ever, so that the son of God will never lay aside the assumed Man-hood, and cease to be man, nor shall the humane Nature be severed from his Person, from the first moment of his conception. Yea when his soul and body were divided by death, yet even then the Humane Nature remained united to the Divine. For should the Humane Nature of Christ ever subsist without the Divine; then Christ must needs have two Persons; which is repugnant to Scripture, 1 Tim. 2. 5. 1 Cor. 8. 6. Eph. 4 5. III. Of Natures preserved and remaining still distinct one from another. Though this Union of Divine and Humane Nature in Christ be Personal, intimate, and indivisible, yet these two Natures in Christ are preserved from (h) Confusion and Commutation. From Confusion; so that of these two Natures is not made one: From Commutation; so that the one is not changed into the other. But they remain distinct, and their Properties distinct: The Humane Nature being created, finite, visible, &c. The Divine, increated, infinite, invisible, &c.

(3) The Unity or Oneness of his person, though consisting of two distinct Natures. Though Jesus Christ be God and Man, yet is he only One Person God-man. Divers things evince this Oneness or Unity of his Person consisting of two Natures. As, I. Scripture Testimonies. For, Iesus Christ is, (i) —— Immanuel; that is, God with us. (k) —— The Son of God; which should be born of the Virgin Mary. The Properties and Actions of each Nature, Divine and Humane, attributed to one and the ſame Chriſt, who as God and man, is, Eternal, yet born in time: Infinite, and finite; A Creator, and a creature: Inviſible, and viſible: was Dead, and yet immortal, &c. viz. Eternal as God, born in time as man, &c. III. The End, Scope or Intent of Chriſts Incarnation: viz. That Jeſus Chriſt might be a True, Fit, and Sufficient Mediator betwixt God and man; evinceth that it was requiſite, God and Man ſhould become One in Perſon: Not by Communication of Grace, but by Truth of Nature: not by Confuſion of Subſtance, but by Unity of Perſon. For, 1. He muſt be God, one with God in his divine Nature, that he (y) might Purge away our ſins by his death, Juſtifie us by his Reſurrection, Be King and head of his Church, cruſh all our enemies, and captivate our very captivity, Appear in the Preſence of God for us, as our continual interceſſor and advocate, Send forth his ſpirit into us, ſanctifie our Natures in us, Perfume all our ſpiritual ſervices and ſacrifices by his merit, Raiſe up our bodies at the laſt day, and preſent us to himſelf a glorious Church, not having ſpot or wrinkle, or any ſuch thing. 4. He muſt be man, that he might be humbled deeply, and ſo diſcharge all the Acts and parts of his Mediatorſhip which were to be executed in his Humiliation: He muſt be God, that after his Humiliation he might be highly exalted, and ſo accompliſh the reſt of his Mediati-

(4) The similitudes used, by both antient and modern writers, to illustrate this mysterious union of God and man in one Person of Iesus our Mediator: are divers, and very useful. These are more observable; I. Of (z) the Soul and Body making but one man. The soul and body are different natures; The soul immortal, the body mortal; the soul Reasoneth, the body accordingly executeth; yet soul and body united make but one individual man: So there's God-head and Man-hood in Christ; They are two different and distinct Natures; the God-head immortal, the Man-hood mortal; The God-head wrought miracles, the Man-hood was crucified, &c. yet both make one Christ. But this similitude (a) comes short; in that, 1. Soul and Body are imperfect Natures, and make up but one perfect Nature of man: but Christs God-head and Man-hood are Perfect distinct Natures. 2. Soul and Body have no perfect subsistence, but in the whole: but Christs God-head perfectly subsists of it self without the man-hood, and assumed unto it, and sustaineth in it the man-hood which never had subsistence of it self, but in union with the God-head. II. Of The (b) Primordial light at first created, Gen. 1. 3, 4. and of the Body of the Sun in which that light was afterward Seated, Gen. 1. 14, &c. both making one Luminary. The Light and Solar body are two distinct Natures, which make one Sun: So the two Natures, the Divine which subsisted first, eternally, and the Humane which was created in subsistence with the Divine, make one Christ. But this similitude comes short, in that, 1. Neither Light nor Solar body did ever perfectly subsist alone. Not the Solar body: for in the Creation, light was seated in it. Not the light, for that (c) subsisted all abroad in the air, before it was seated in the Sun. 2. Neither Light nor Solar Body are drawn into the unity of the Subsistence of one another. III. Of (d) A Sword fired and enflamed. The Subsistence of a sword and fire are so conjoined, that their Operations notably concur, and there is as it were a Communication of Properties from the one to the other. For, this fiered sword in cutting burneth, and in burning cutteth. And we may say, that this fiery thing is a cutting sword, and this cutting sword is a fiery thing. But in this it comes short, viz. In that the (e) Nature of fire is not drawn into the Unity of subsistence with the sword, nor the sword of fire: So that we cannot say, this sword is fire, or this fire is a sword. IV. Of (f) One man having two accidental Forms, or Qualities, as Skill in Divinity and in Physick. For, here are two Qualities or Natures different, meeting in one and the same person. And that one Person may be denominated from either, either, And doth the works of both, and there is a Communication of Properties hence reſulting. So that we may ſay; This Divine is a Phyſitian, and this Phyſitian is a Divine: This Divine is happy in curing diſeaſes, and this Phyſitian is happy in converting of ſouls. V. Of a (g) Cion or Branch grafted into a Tree. This Similitude Dr. Field (of the Church, Book 5. Chap. 12.) prefers before all the former for ſetting forth the Perſonal union of the two Natures of Chriſt. And ſaith; it fails but in two things, viz. 1. In that the branch hath a diſtinct and ſeparate ſubſiſtence of it ſelf, and then looſing it, is drawn into the Unity of ſubſiſtence with the Tree or Stock into which its grafted. 2. In that the branch, wanting a root, and ſo wanteth an integral part of the Nature of a Tree. But if the Branch of one Tree ſhould by Divine Power be created in the ſtock of another Tree, then this ſimilitude would fail only in one point, viz. in the want of the Root, whereas Chriſts Humane Nature wanted neither Eſſential nor Integral part. VI. Finally, Therefore to ſupply theſe defects, I will add my Similitude alſo to illuſtrate this profound Myſterie in Chriſt, viz. Of the Miſcelto in the Oak, or in the Apple-tree. In this Similitude thoſe two defects are not, but an excellent and manifold reſemblance. For, 1. The Apple-tree and the Miſcelto are two perfect and different Natures in one Tree; the Miſcelto wanting no integral part that belongs unto Miſcelto: So the God-head and Man-hood are two perfect and different Natures in one Perſon, in one Chriſt. 2. The Miſcelto never had a ſeparate and diſtinct ſubſiſtence of its own; but only ſubſiſteth in union with the Apple-tree, which ſuſtaineth and maintaineth it: ſo the Humane Nature of Chriſt never had any diſtinct and ſeparate ſubſiſtence of its own, but from the firſt conception ſubſiſted in union with the Divine Subſiſtence. 3. The Apple-tree & the Miſcelto are ſo one tree, that their two different Natures are neither confounded together, nor changed one into another, to make up a third Nature, but are ſo individually united, that retaining their different Natures, they are but one tree: ſo the two Natures of Chriſt are without Confuſion or Commutation united in one Perſon, and yet ſtill retain their reall differences. 4. The Apple-tree and Miſcelto, though one tree, yet having different Natures, bear different fruits, viz. Apples and Berries: So the God-head and Man-hood of Chriſt, though but one Perſon, yet being different Natures, perform diſtinct and different Actions peculiar to each of them. 5. As we may truly ſay, by reaſon of this union, This Apple-tree is a Miſcelto, and this Miſcelto is an Apple-tree, and Conſequently this Miſcelto beareth Apples, and this Apple-tree beareth Berries: So we may truly ſay, by reaſon of the Perſonal union of God and man in Chriſt, This ſon of Mary is the ſon of God, and this ſon of God is the ſon of Mary; The ſon of God was crucified, and the ſon of Mary Created Heaven and Earth.

the Humane nature into the Person of the Son of God. These are of three sorts; I. The (h) Communication of Properties. When the Properties of either nature, are attributed, & truly agree to the whole person, whether they have their denomination from either Nature, or from his Office, in the Concrete. And this Communication of Properties is of divers sorts. II. Endowments. The Humane Nature, by reason of its union with the Divine, being adorned and fitted to the utmost with most excellent and admirable Gifts, Iohn 3. 34. Col. 2. 9, 10. & 1. 19. III. Operations accomplished. The Person of our Mediator, by reason of this Personal union, performs his Mediatory Acts according to both Natures, of which more hereafter. This Personal union is the Base and Foundation of all these three.

But thus of Posit. 1. That, JESUS the only Son of God, and the son of the virgin Mary, is God and man in one Person.

Position II. That, This JESUS, God-man, is THE CHRIST, The Promised MESSIAH; and he alone. To err about the Person of Iesus Christ the Mediator, accounting the true Christ to be False, and a false Christ to be true; is a most dangerous and desperate Error: Forasmuch as there is (i) no salvation to be had under Heaven, but only in the true Christ. The Iews (k) rejected the true Messiah of Gods providing, when he came and expecting another Messiah of their own devising, to come they know not when: have miserably dashed themselves upon this stumbling stone, now for 1600 years together, to their own destruction & eternal ruine. This therefore is an high and necessary point, wherein we should be fully resolved and stablished. To this end I shall, 1. Explain. 2. Confirm this Position.

(i) Acts 4. 12.

(k) Iohn 1. 11. & 5. 43.

I. For Explanation, There are only two words, viz. MESSIAH, and CHRIST, that are to be Expounded. They are two Eminent Names given to the true Mediator betwixt God and man, and true Saviour of sinners: That, in the Old Testament; This in the New; Both of them signifying one and the same thing, viz. Annointed. MESSIAH משיח Mashiach, Annointed. From משח mashach, To Annoint. This Name is often given to the true Mediator in the Books of Old Testament. As; (l) —— And exalt the Horn of his Messiah. (m) —— The Rulers take Counsel together against the LORD, and against his Messiah. This Prophecy is interpreted of, and applyed to Christ by the Apostles in the New Testament. But especially in Daniel. (n) —From the going forth of the Commandment, to Restore and to build Jerusalem, unto the MESSIAH the Prince, shall be seven weeks ——. And after threescore and two weeks shall MESSIAH be cut off, but not for himself. The Greek word also χριστὸς, Christos, CHRIST, signifies, Annointed. From χρίω. To annoint. It answers to the Hebrew word Messiah, as not only the LXX but also the (o) New Testament renders it. The New Testament gives

(l) 1 Sam. 2. 10.

(m) Psal. 2. 2. with Acts 4. 25, 26, 27, 28.

(n) Dan. 9. 25, 26.

gives and appropriates this name to Jesus God-man very often. As Luke 2. 26. John 4. 25. Math. 1. 1, 16, 18. & 16. 16, 20, &c. Now these two Names are attributed to Jesus, God-man, our Mediator, in reference to his Mediatory office, which as Prophet, Priest and King he was to execute, and did actually execute for us: and they denote his Qualification & Designation to his office. For under the Old Testament God ordained an Holy Annointing oyl, and gave the (p) Composition of it, wherewithal three sorts of Officers were Annointed, viz. Prophets, 1 Kings 19. 16. Priests, Exod. 40. 12, &c. Kings, 1 Sam. 10. 1. & 16. 13. 1 Kings 19. 16. The annointing oyl being poured upon their heads, ran down to the skirts of their garments, Psal. 133. 2, 3. This was a sign & mean of their qualification for, and designation unto those offices. For, As that sacred Oyl did outwardly warm, refresh and make agile the bodily Members to imployment: So the endowments of Gods Spirit, did inwardly fit the Soul with prudence, wisdom, joy, chearfulness, zeal, courage, fortitude, magnanimity, &c. for managing those offices. Thus JESUS (of whom Prophets, Priests and Kings were but Types) was (q) annointed by God, not with Material Oyl, but with the Holy ghost and with power for his Mediatory office. And (r) having the fulness of the God-head in him; and all fulness; and (s) receiving the Spirit not by measure, but above measure: he is said to be (t) annointed with the oyl of Gladness above his fellows. The Holy-Ghost being called oyl of gladness, from the effect thereof upon us, by Christs office: And with this oyl Christ was Annointed more abundantly then all his fellows, viz. above all his Members, and above all Prophets, Priests and Kings before him. Or (as (u) Illyricus hath observed) the Particle מ prefixed in the word מחבריך Mechabareka, above thy fellows, may be rendered, For thy fellows. Christ being thus annointed, (x) that out of this fulness they might receive, and grace for grace, and so be Compleat in him. Now Iesus being thus annointed, is thereby fully Qualified for, and constituted in his Mediatory office; As Prophet, like Moses. Deut. 18. 15, &c. Acts 7. 37. Isa. 61. 1, 2, &c. A Priest after the Order of Melchizedeck, Psal. 110. 4. Heb. 7. throughout. A King in Sion, to Rule over the house of Iacob for ever, Psal. 2. 2, 6. Luke 1. 32, 33. Hence, from CHRIST, his Disciples are called (y) CHRISTIANS, (it being usual to Denominate Disciples from their Master,) and deservedly; because they partake of Christs annointing, being annointed in their measure with the Holy Ghost, teaching them all things as Prophets, and making them Kings and Priests unto God. 2 Cor. 1. 21, 22. 1 John 2. 20, 27. Rev. 1. 5, 6.

II. For Confirmation of this Necessary Position; That this Iesus, God-man in one Person, is the Promised MESSIAH, is the only true CHRIST, the Annointed, Qualified and Constituted of God Mediator betwixt God and man, and none but he alone: take these few Demonstrations, viz.

1. From

1. From Gods eternal Decree before the foundation of the world. This IESVS, God-man, and he alone, is that very person whom God hath eternally fore ordained before the world began to be our Mediator and Redeemer, and that by means of his Death. (z) 1 Pet. 1. 18, 19, 20. (z) —— Ye were not redeemed with corruptible things, &c. but with the precious blood of Christ, as of a lamb without blemish and without spot. Who verily was fore-ordained before the foundation of world, but was manifest in these last times for you. Hence Christ is said, To be (a) delivered by the determinate Counsel and fore-knowledge of God, &c. (a) Act. 2. 23. And that (b) Herod and Pontius Pilate with the Gentiles and people were gathered together against this holy child IESVS, for to do whatsoever Gods hand and his Counsel determined before to be done. To this effect, all that are Predestinated and Elected to Adoption, Life and salvation, are (c) Elected thereunto in this Iesus Christ, and Predestinated to be Conform unto him. (b) Acts 4. 27, 28. (c) Eph. 1. 3, 4, 5. 1 Pet. 1. 2. Rom. 8. 28, 29, 30.

2. From Gods Promises and Prophetical Predictions which have been since the world began. For, This IESUS and he alone is the Person which in all the Promises and Prophecies in former ages was intended by God for a Restorer, Redeemer and Saviour of Lapsed mankind, and a Mediator betwixt God and man. As may appear more Generally and more Particularly. I. More Generally, That the Law and Prophets intended him. As is very observable in divers Testimonies As, 1. Of Iesus Christ himself. (d) Search the Scriptures, —— they are they which testifie of me. —— Moses wrote of me. To the two disciples going to Emmaus (e) —— O fools and slow of heart to believe all that the Prophets have spoken! ought not Christ to have suffered these things, and to enter into his glory? And beginning at Moses and all the Prophets, he expounded unto them in all the Scriptures the things concerning himself. To the Apostles a little before his Ascension; (f) These are the words which I spake unto you, while I was yet with you, That all things must be fulfilled which were written in the Law of Moses, and in the Prophets, and in the Psalms, concerning me. 2. Of Peter, who preaching Christ to Cornelius, said; (g) To him give all the Prophets witness, that through his name, whosoever believeth in him, shall receive remission of sins. And before that, he told the Iews that killed the Prince of life; (h) —— I wot that through ignorance ye did it, as did also your Rulers. But those things which God before had shewed by the mouth of all his Prophets, that Christ should suffer, he hath so fulfilled. 3. Of Steven the Proto-Martyr, Acts 7. 52. 4. Of Paul; (i) —— Saying none other things then those which the Prophets and Moses did say should come: That Christ should suffer, And that he should be the first that should rise from the dead, and should shew light unto the People and to the Gentiles. II. More Particularly; It is not difficult to shew from Promise to Promise, and from Prophecy to Prophecy, throughout all ages before Christ, How they did all intend, and had their accomplishment in this IESUS. To mention some noted Instances. 1. This IESUS is that (d) Joh. 5. 39, 46. (e) Luk. 24. 25, 26, 27. (f) Luk. 24. 44 (g) Acts 10. 43. (h) Acts 3. 13. to 19. (i) Acts 26. 22, 23. & 13 26, 27, 29.

Seed

Seed of the woman, that should bruise the Serpents Head, Gen. 3. 15. with Gal. 4. 4. Col. 2. 15. Heb. 2. 14, 15. 2. This Jesus is that Seed of Abraham, in whom all the Nations of the earth should be blessed, Gen. 12. 3. & 22. 18. with Acts 3. 25, 26. Gal. 3. 8, 13, 14. Heb. 2. 16. Mat. 1. 1, &c. 3. This Jesus is that Great Prophet like unto Moses, which God would raise up to Israel, from among themselves, Deut. 18. 15 to 20. with Acts 3. 20, 21, 22, 23, & 7. 37. 4. This Jesus is that Priest for ever after the Order of Melchizedeck, consecrated by Gods own sacred Oath, of which he will not repent, Psal. 110. 4. with Heb. 7 throughout. 5. This Iesus is that Seed of David which God would raise up to sit upon his throne to reign over the House of Iacob for ever, Psal. 89. 3, 4, 19. to 38. & 132. 11, 12 with Acts 2. 22. to 37. Mat. 1. 1, &c. Luke 1. 32, 33. 6. This Iesus is the Sure Mercies of David, raised from the dead, and not suffered to see corruption, Isai. 55. 3. Psal. 16. 10, &c. with Acts 13. 28. to 38. 7. This Iesus is that Annointed of the Lord, against whom the heathen raged, and the people imagined a vain thing, The Kings of the Earth stood up, and the Rulers took Counsel together, Psal. 2. 1, 2, 3, &c. with Acts 4. 25. to 29. Thus Iesus is the Scope and Mark at which the Promises and Prophecies of old do peculiarly aym: and therefore he alone is the very Christ.

3. From the Lineal descent of Christ, according to the Flesh. For (k) This Jesus, and he alone, did Lineally and Naturally descend according to his Humanity, of Abraham, and David, by a Virgin, according to the Scriptures: As is evident in the Genealogy of this B. JESUS described by Luke, Luke 3. 23. to the end. This being the Natural Line of Christ, as hath been formerly noted, though the Name of the virgin Mary his mother be not expressed, but her husbands in stead of hers, according to the custom of the Jews, who draw down Genealogies by men and not by women, as is observed by (l) P. Galatinus, and others.

(k) Gen. 12. 18. Psal. 89 3, 4. & 132. 11, 12. with Heb. 2. 16. Rom. 1 2, 3. Isa. 7. 14. Mat. 1. 18. to the end.

(l) Pet. Galat. l. 7. c. 12.

4. From the compleat and exact accomplishment of the Scriptures of the Old Testament. They are most admirably fulfilled and accomplished in all Particulars touching the Messiah, in this Jesus Christ: As is most evident in all the four Evangelists Hystories, and the Acts. This being one Principal intent of the four Evangelists Histories of Iesus Christ, to prove that this Jesus is the Christ. (m) —— These are written that ye might believe that JESUS is THE CHRIST the son of God, and that believing ye might have life through his name. Hereupon (n) Piscator hath very appositely digested into a Syllogism the Predictions touching Christ in the Old Testament, and the accomplishments thereof in this Jesus according to the History of those four Evangelists, Those in the Major, These in the Minor of a Syllogism: thence Concluding, That this Iesus is the very Christ. Let the learned Consult him diligently.

5. From Jacobs Prophecy, and the accomplishment thereof. The Prophecy; (o) The Scepter shall not depart from Judah, nor a Law giver from between his feet, untill Shiloh come, and unto him shall the gathering of the People be. (p) By Judah, we are here to understand not the Person of Judah, one of Iacobs sons, but the Tribe of Judah so denominated from him. By Scepter we are generally to understand the Political Rule, Regiment, or Government of the Common-wealth. It cannot be restrained to Kingly Rule; for that was taken away by Nebuchadnezzar from Zedekiah, as was foretold; Ezek. 21. 26, 27. Nor to Princely Government, by Princes and Governors, who governed after the Captivity; for that is confessed by learned men to be injuriously translated by the Assamanai (or Maccabees) Levites and Priests to the Tribe of Levi, and so propagated in that Tribe. But to be extended also to such Magistrates and Iudges, as the Greek calls συνέδριον The Councel, which the Jews corruptly stiled Sanhedrin: A grand Councel at Jerusalem, Governing the Common-wealth. After Judah became a distinct Kingdom, it was not destitute of Civil Government, either by Kings, or by Princely Governours, or by the Councel, till Shiloh came: Although this grand Councel was extreamly weakned, and divided into lesser Councels, by the Romans, as (q) Iosephus confesseth; Yet it was not wholly taken away and demolished till Shiloh came, for then the Jewish Common-wealth would have been wholly dissolved. By Shiloh its generally agreed that Christ is intended, though the proper signification of the Hebrew word שילה Shiloh is much controverted. So then, till Jesus Christ came, the Government in one kind or another remained in Judah: but after he was come, the Scepter quickly departed, and that Iewish Common-wealth was utterly dissolved to this day; And therefore this Iesus must needs be the Shiloh, the true Christ here intended.

6. From Daniels Weeks. Daniel Positively determines the time when the Messiah should be cut off, but not for himself, to finish transgression, make an end of sins, and bring in everlasting righteousness; viz (r) 70. Weeks of years. There is some small difference among learned men about the beginning and end of these 70. years by reason of several Commands that went forth to restore and build Jerusalem. Hence, (s) some place the Messiah's death in the year of the world 3960. Some (t) in the year 3952. Helvicus (u) in the year 3983. As the (x) Late large English Annotations note there was a fourfold Commandment, Decree or Precept went out for re-building of Jerusalem, mentioned in Ezra and Nehemiah, to some of which the beginning of these 70. weeks must be referred, and to the ending of which the cutting off of Iesus Christ the Messiah doth exactly agree. Not to enter now into that intricate dispute, which of them it was: It is plain on all hands against the Iews, that the Promised Messiah is already come and cut off, and that Daniels weeks had their particular accomplishment in this IESUS CHRIST.

7. From the General agreement of all the Types to this JESUS, is the Body and Center of them all, Col. 2. 16, 17. Heb. 10. 1. John 1. 17. There were many (x) Types and shadows, Personal and Real, Ordinary and Extraordinary, &c. But this JESUS, God-man, is the Truth and Substance of them all. He is the true (y) Adam that justifies and quickens all his supernatural Seed, as the First Adam condemned and killed all his Natural Seed. He is the true (z) Melchizedeck, First King of Righteousness, and then King of Salem, that is, King of Peace: without Father according to his manhood, without Mother according to his God-head, without beginning of Dayes, or end of Life. He is the true (a) Passover that is sacrificed for us. He is the true (b) bread of life, that true manna that came down from Heaven, whereof a man may eat and not dy. He is the true (c) Rock that affords living water indeed to his Church in the wilderness of this world. That Rock that followed them was Christ. And that Mannah and water are called Spiritual meat and drink, because they were Types and Sacraments representing Christ unto them. He is the true (d) Serpent lifted up in the wilderness to heal the mortal stings of the Old Serpent the Devil, that whosoever believeth in him, looks up to him by the eye of Faith, may not perish but have eternal life. He is the true (e) Prophet, like Moses, to be hearkned to in all things, &c. He is the true (f) Joshuah that brings his Israel, all true believers, into the eternal Rest. He is the true (g) Seed of David, that reigns over the house of Jacob for evermore. And what shall I say, He is the Mysterie and Substance of all the Levitical Ceremonies, They all intended him, shadowed out him, (h) as I have already manifested at large in opening the Sinai-Covenant. Now he that is the Body and Substance of the Types of Old, must needs be the MESSIAH, the very Christ: For those Figures and Types were Gods way of Revealing Christ unto his People, till he was exhibited.

8. From the Testimony of John the Baptist. John Baptist was the Elias that was to come, in the power and spirit of Elias, as the Harbinger of Christ, to Prepare his way before him: And he (i) began to preach a little before Christ began his Publike Ministry. Now he pointed out Christ as with the Finger, (k) Behold the lamb of God that taketh away the sins of the world. And John Baptist confesseth; (l) I knew him not: but he that sent me to baptize with water, the same said unto me, upon whom thou shalt see the Spirit descending and remaining on him, the same is he that baptizeth with the Holy Ghost. And I saw and bare Record, that this is the Son of God. And after he tels the Jews plainly, (m) I am not the Christ, but sent before him: Not the Bridegroom that hath the Bride the Church, but the Bridegrooms friend, rejoycing to hear the Bridegrooms voice. He must increase: but I must decrease, &c.

9. From Gods Authorizing, Constituting, Ordaining and establishing this Jesus to be THE CHRIST. None can be the Messiah, or Christ, but whom God cals, annoints, seals and appoints thereunto.

Now God hath Constituted and ordained this JESUS, God-man, and him alone to be the Christ, the Mediator and Saviour, the Judge of quick and dead, &c. (n) God sent his son into the world, —— that the world through him might be saved. (o) —— God sent his son, made of a woman, made under the Law, to redeem them that were under the Law. (p) —— Labour for the meat which endureth to everlasting life, which the son of man will give unto you: for him hath God the father Sealed. (q) —— Christ glorified not himself to be made an High-Priest: but he that said unto him, Thou art my son, this day have I begotten thee, &c. (r) —— God anointed JESUS of Nazareth with the Holy Ghost and with power, &c. — and he commanded us to preach unto the people, and to testifie, that it is he, which was ordained of God to be the judge of Quick and Dead. Hence, God furnished him with all authority, power and ability for his Mediatory office, Mat. 28, 18, 19, 20. John 5. 21, 22, 23. & 3. 34, 35. Col. 1. 19. and 2, 9, 10.

10. From the Testimony of Father, Son and Holy Ghost. He must needs be the Mediator, Messiah and Christ, whom Father, Son and Holy Ghost testifie and declare to be such. Now this IESUS hath the Testimony of Father, Son, and Holy Ghost. 1. The Father testifieth twice by voice from Heaven; (s) this is my beloved son, in whom I am well pleased. Hence God the Father is said (t) to have sealed him. And Christ hereupon said; (u) The Father himself which hath sent me, hath born witness of me. And the Fathers Testimony of him, hath special respect to his Mediatory Person and office. The Father bare record to Christ, Sealing and Approving him, at his Baptism, and at his Transfiguration. 1. At his Baptism; and that (x) three wayes, viz. (1) By opening of the Heavens unto him. (2) By sending down his Spirit in likeness of a Dove upon him. (3) By voice from heaven, this is my well beloved son, in whom I am well-pleased. 2. At his Transfiguration also, and that (y) three wayes, viz. (1) By the Heavenly Glory put upon Christ, to encourage him against his Passion approaching. (2) By the appearance of Moses and Elias, talking with him about his decease which he should accomplish at Ierusalem, according to the Law and Prophets, which meet in Christ and bear witness to him. (3) By his voice from Heaven, This is my beloved son, in whom I am well-pleased, hear him. II. The Son himself testifieth, by his works and Miracles that he was the CHRIST, sent of God. (z) The works which the Father hath given me to finish, the same works that I do bear witness of me that the Father hath sent me. And therefore when John in Prison heard of the works of Christ, and sent to him, saying: (a) Art thou he that should come, or do we look for another? Jesus answered and said unto them, Go and shew John again the things which ye do hear and see: The blind receive their sight, and the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, and the poor have the Gospel preached to them. And blessed is he whosoever ever shall not be offended in me. As if he had said, my Works, my Miracles are an evident demonstration that I am the Christ.

III. The Holy Ghost testifieth that this Jesus is the Christ: Partly, By his (b) descending and resting upon him in a visible shape of a Dove, when Jesus was baptized, and began solemnly to enter upon the publike execution of his Mediatory office. Partly, By his plentifull and miraculous falling upon the Apostles, Acts 2. 2, 3, 4 32, 33, 36. and Primitive Christians, Acts 10. 43, 44, 45, 46, &c. Partly, By his effectual attestation to our Hearts and Consciences, 1 John 5. 6. to 12. Who can experimentally discern and feel the efficacy of the Spirit of Jesus upon his heart, Inlightning, Converting, Sanctifying, Comforting, Attesting, Sealing, &c. and not conclude that this Jesus who gives such a spirit into us must needs be the Christ?

(b) Mat. 3. 16, 17.

These, among many other arguments, may suffice to Convince any sober mind; That this IESUS, God-man, and he alone is the Promised MESSIAH, The Christ. And that (c) there is no other name under heaven given among men whereby we may be saved.

(c) Acts 4. 12.

Position III. That, IESUS CHRIST, God and man, is the only True, Fit and Sufficient Mediator, Testator and Surety of the New Covenant betwixt God and Man. This I shall evidence in two branches, viz.

I. That Jesus Christ is the Mediator, Testator, and Surety of the New Covenant. This is clear in all these three branches.

1. Jesus Christ is the Mediator of the New Covenant. (d) — For there is one God, and one Mediator betwixt God and Men, the Man CHRIST JESUS. (e) ——— He is the Mediator of a better Covenant, which was established upon better Promises. (f) ——— And for this cause he is the Mediator of the New Testament, &c. (g) — But ye are come unto Mount Sion, ——— And to IESUS the Mediator of the New Covenant. The Greek word Μεσίτης in all these places, doth most Properly signifie, A Mediator; or, a Middler (that I may so express it:) becaule he is, Both a Middle Person, and a Middle officer betwixt God and man, to reconcile and reunite God and man. This of all other, is the most proper and genuine signification of this name Μεσίτης. Jesus Christ (h) is the Middle, that is, the Second Person in the Trinity, betwixt the Father and the Holy Ghost. He is the only Middle Person betwixt God and man, being in one person (i) God-man. And he is the (k) Middle Officer, intervening, or interposing, or coming between God and man by office; Satisfying Gods justice to the full for Mans sins by his Obedience to the Death, and Continually interceding for his Elect: To whom he Reveals and effectually applies this his satisfaction, intercession, redemption, &c. for their actual Reconcilement unto God. Hence (as (l) one observes) Jesus Christ as a true Mediator, is still found, in Medio, in the Middle. He was born, as some think think from Wisd. 18. 14. about the Middle of the Night; He suffered in the Middle of the world, that is, at Ierusalem, seated in the Middle of the Earth; He was crucified in the midst between the two thieves; He died in the air on the Cross, in the midst between Heaven and earth; He stood after his Resurrection in the midst of his disciples, Iohn 20. 19. He promiseth, where two or three are gathered together, to be in the midst of them, Mat. 18. 20. He walks in the midst of the Golden Candlesticks, the Churches, Rev. 1. 13. And He, as the Heart in the midst, distributes spirit and vertue to all the parts of his mystical body. So he. Thus Iesus Christ is the Mediator betwixt God and man; Middle in Person, and Middle in Office. Yea Iesus Christ is Mediator of the New Covenant, and that κατ' ἐξοχὴν more peculiarly and eminently then of any other Covenant. (m) Moses was a Typical Mediator under the Old Covenant, he went betwixt God and Israel, He typed out Christ the only true Mediator, 1 Tim. 2. 6. Heb. 13. 8. Gal. 3. 19, &c. But Christ is the true Mediator of the New Covenant, the better Covenant most eminently and singularly; For, 1. He (n) dedicated and established the New Covenant in his own blood. The best blood that ever was shed, for Covenant-Sanction, in the world. 2. He ratified and confirmed this New Covenant with the Sacramentall Tokens of his blood, (o) Baptism and the Lords Supper. 3. He obtains for us all New Covenant Blessings from God, by his Merit fully (p) satisfying Gods justice for all our sins and debts: And enables us to all New Covenant-Duties to God by his Spirit. 4. He brings God and man into this blessed New Covenant, as confœderates in him: To which end he manageth all the Mysteries and affairs of this New Covenant, as Prophet, Priest, and King most advantagiously and effectually.

2. Iesus Christ is the Testator of this New Testament. As this New Covenant is a Fœderal Testament, or a Testamental Covenant: So Iesus Christ, Mediator of this New Covenant is a Mediatory Testator, or a Testatory Mediator. Hence in the same context Christ is stiled, μεσίτης A Mediator, And διαθέμενος A Disposer, or Testator. (q) And for this Cause he is the Mediator of the New Testament, that by means of Death, &c. they which are called might receive the Promise of the Eternal inheritance. For where a Testament is, there must also of Necessity be the death of the Testator. How fitly is Iesus Christ counted the Testator of this New Testament, of this his last will and Testament. For, 1. Iesus Christ confirmed and made of force this his New Testament (r) by his blood and Death as Testator. 2. All the blessings promised in this New Testament, are as so many bequests and Legacies of Christ the Testator, that was dead, and is alive, to his Church and members in this his last Will. 3. are (x) three that bare record in Heaven, the Father, the Word, and the Holy Ghost: And three that bear witness on Earth, The Spirit, and the water, and the blood. 7. The Executor of Christs last Will and Testament is Jesus Christ himself by his Spirit, effectually applying it and the benefits of it to all his members. And to this end though he Dyed to ratifie his Testament, yet he Revived and rose again to Execute it, and behold he is alive for evermore. But of these things I (y) have already spoken heretofore.

3. Jesus Christ is Surety of this New Covenant. (z) By so much was JESUS made Surety (ἔγγυος) of a better Covenant. Our English Translation hath it, Of a better Testament; but not so fitly, because properly a Testament neither useth to have, nor needeth to have a Surety; as a Covenant doth. (a) Beza therefore justly blameth both Erasmus and the Vulgar Translation for rendring it Testament: For that A Surety is not added in Testaments, and should he be added, How can the same be both a Testator and a Surety? So that this word Surety hath reference properly to A Covenant, and Not to A Testament. The Greek Ἔγγυος, Sponsor, Fidejussor, Praes: A Surety, a Pledger, &c. is very significative: being derived, as (b) some think, from γύιον An Hand, as it were ἐν γυίοις In hands, because the Security, or Pledge is given in hand. Or as Suidas and others, from γύη or γύια The Earth; because the Earth is the most firm and stable of all the Elements. A Surety, is properly one that willingly promiseth and undertakes to pay and discharge the Debt, if the Debtor fayl and be not able to make satisfaction himself. Thus Paul willingly and spontaneously, from the love that he had to his Converted Onesimus, promised and undertook to make satisfaction to Philemon for any wrong that Onesimus had done to him; (c) If he hath wronged thee, or oweth thee ought, put that on mine account. I Paul have written it with mine own hand, I will repay it. Hence Jesus Christ being called, Mediator of a Better Covenant, Heb. 8. 6. and Surety of a better Covenant, Heb. 7. 22. viz. So a Mediator, As a Surety; and So a Surety, as a Mediator: This may clearly let us see what Manner of Mediator Christ is. For, one of these words is to be explained by the other, viz. Mediator, by Surety. So that Jesus Christ is not only such a Mediator, as is a Legate Ambassador, or Messenger, only betwixt God and men, (d) as that dangerous heretick Socinus pretends: but properly an Intercessor, a Pacifier, an Attoner, a Satisfier; because Christ the Mediator, is Surety of the New Covenant, that is, Our Satisfier, our Pacifier, our Appeaser, our Intercessor, &c. with God. How? Its expressed, 1 Tim. 2. 5, 6. by giving himself (ἀντίλυτρον) A Ransom for us; & Heb 1. 3. by purging our sins by himself; & Heb. 2. 17. by making reconciliation for the sins of the people as a merciful and faithfull High Priest, & Heb. 7. 27. & 9. 12, 14. by offering up himself once for the sins of the people to God the father, by the eternal spirit, having obtained eternal Redemption for them; & 2 Cor. 5. 21. 1 Pet. 3. 24, Heb.

Heb. 10. 10, 12. by being made sin for us, bearing our sins (that is, the Punishment and curse of our sins) upon his own body on the tree, even by offering one Sacrifice for sins for ever, the body of Jesus Christ once for all. Thus Christ, as our Mediator was our Surety, and as our Surety, fully paid all our debt, setting us perfectly free for ever.

Thus, Jesus Christ is Mediator, Testator and Surety of the New Covenant.

II. That, Iesus Christ is The only True, Fit and Sufficient Mediator, &c. of the New Covenant betwixt God and man. Christ is the sole and whole Mediator: Not the Blessed Virgin, not any Saint, nor any or all the Prophets, Apostles, Martyrs, or glorious Angels, as the Papists fondly do imagine. Here consider, 1. The State of this Position. 2. The Confirmation of it.

For the State of this Position: note. Theres a twofold Mediation, viz. of Redemption and of Intercession. I. Of Redemption and Reconciliation; whereby a full Price or Ransom is paid for us, by enduring Death for our sins to the satisfying of Divine Justice. And in this sense (e) Christ alone is Mediator: He alone Redeeming us by his Death, and Reconciling us to God by his blood. II. Of Intercession; And this again is twofold, viz. 1. Meritoria, Meritorious: by way of Merit or Desert. And so Christ only is Our Advocate with the Father, and continual Intercessor, appearing in the presence of God for us, presenting his Death and Merits before God, and so making intercession for us. 2. Petitoria, Petitory: by way of Petition or supplication; whereby, the Saints on earth more Generally, or this or that Saint more Particularly, Pray one for another in this world (f) according to Christs command, having in General or in Particular a Knowledge and fellow-feeling of one anothers wants, miseries, temptations, &c. Thus Paul prayed earnestly for the Churches, As Heb. 13. 20, 21. Philem. 4. 1 Thes. 1. 4. Phil. 1. 4. And desired most earnestly their prayers again for himself, Eph. 6. 18, 19. Heb. 13, 18, 19. 1 Thes. 5. 25. Rom. 15. 30, 31, 32. This state of the Position duely improved, will easily cut asunder all the Popish Arguments made to the contrary.

For the Confirmation of this Position, thus stated, briefly consider;

1. That, The Scripture mentions only (h) one Mediator and Surety of the New Covenant; only one (i) Testator of the New Testament, between God and man; Onely one (k) Advocate and Intercessor with the Father; and only one (l) Saviour: viz. JESUS CHRIST the righteous, God and man. And therefore Jesus Christ and he alone, is Mediator, Surety, Testator and Saviour. The Scripture Reveals no other: and we ought to receive no other. Christ was the true Mediator, even of the Old Covenant, Gal. 3. 19, 20. Heb. 13. 8. but more darkly and more imperfectly revealed, and that under the Type of Moses that stood between God and the People, Exod. 20. Deut. 5. And under the shadows of Typical pical Sacrifices and blood of innocent Beasts. Heb. 9. & 10. But he is Mediator of the New Covenant most eminently, clearly, perfectly, by his own Death and Blood, &c.

2. That Iesus Christ, and he alone was a Fit and Sufficient Person, for the Office of a Mediator of the New Covenant betwixt God and man. This his Fitness and Sufficiency, 1. As the Second Person in Trinity, the Son of God, 2. As God-man, an exact Middle Person betwixt God and man, equally near to, and interessed in both God and man: hath been (m) already declared.

3. That, IESUS God-man, and he alone, is the MESSIAH, THE CHRIST, Annointed with the Holy-Ghost and with Power, for the Mediatory office, Sealed, Commissionated, and Called by the Father to this Office, Accepted and approved in this office, As (*) hath been abundantly manifested, and therefore Iesus Christ alone must needs be the only Fit and Sufficient Mediator of the New Covenant, able to save to the uttermost all that come unto God by him, Heb. 7. 25.

Thus, Jesus Christ is the Only Mediator, Surety and Testator of the New Covenant and Testament betwixt God and man.

(m) In this sixth Chap. Aph. 1. Posit. 1. Sect. 1 V.

Position IV. That, JESUS CHRIST is Mediator, Testator and Surety of the New Covenant betwixt God and man, as he is God-man. He is Mediator, &c. not as God only, nor as Man only, but as God-man in one Person. Here Consider, 1. The sense. 2. The grounds of this Position.

1. For the Sense of this Position, note; 1. There is a Conjunction and Union of two Natures Divine and Humane in one and the same individual Person of the Mediator. This is by some stiled, Substantial Mediation. And this is so necessary to the Office of Mediatorship; that without this (as is confessed on all hands) Christ could not have been a fit Mediator. 2. There is a Co-operation and Concurrence of these two Natures in the Person of the Mediator, unto the Acts or Works of Mediation, according to the peculiar propriety of each Nature: which Acts he performs, Divine as God, Humane as Man, One and individed as Mediator; The real difference of the two Natures being still preserved distinct and entire. Papists do grant the former, viz. The Conjunction of the Divine and Humane Natures in the Person of the Mediator: But they deny the latter, viz. The Co-operation of both those Natures in the Acts of Mediation. For, (*) they hold that Christ performs the Acts of Mediatorship, not as God, but only as Man: From his Humanity, not from his Deity.

(o) Christ was head of the Church, and our chief Bishop and Priest according to his Man-hood, &c. Rhem. Annotat. on N. Testam. on Act. 9 §. 6. & 8. ——— Christ is the chief Minister, according to his man-hood, of all our Reconcilement to God. Rhem. Annotat. on 2 Cor. 5. 18. ——— And elsewhere, Beware of the wicked Heresie of the Arrians and Calvinists, ——— that dare not to say, that Christ was a Priest, or did Sacrifice, according to his God-head. Which is to make Christ, God the Fathers Priest, and not his Son: and to do sacrifice and homage to him as his Lord, and not as his Equal in Dignity and Nature. Rhem. Annot. 1. on Heb. 5. v. 6.

Bellarmine also insists much upon this, as the Common Opinion of the Catholicks. Est autem sententia Communis Catholicorum, ipsum quidem Mediatorem, sive (ut Theologi loquuntur) Principium quod operabatur opera Mediatoris, non fuisse Deum solum, vel hominem solum, sed utrumque simul, id est, verbum incarnatum, sive Deum Humanatum. Principium tamen quo illa opera à Mediatore fiebant, fuisse Naturam humanam, non divinam. Tametsi enim Deus inest natus erat, qui orabat, patiebatur, obediebat, satisfaciebat, tamen hæc omnia faciebat secundum formam servi, non secundum formam Dei. Bellar. de Christo, lib. 5. c. 1. & c. 2. Tom. 1.

Bellarmine speaks plainly, thus distinguishing; The Principium Quod, The Principle or Beginning which did the works of Mediatorship, was not God alone, nor man alone, but both together, viz. God-man; but the Principium quo, The Principle or Beginning whereby these works were done of the Mediator, was his Humane Nature, not his Divine. But the Orthodox resolve better. That Jesus Christ acts as Mediator from both his Natures, his Humanity doing what is properly Humane, His Divinity what is properly Divine, both of them concurring unto one work of Mediatorship. The Worker is one Person, The Work is one Mediation, But the Formal Principles or Beginnings of this work are the two distinct Natures in that one Person of the Mediator. As the Divine and Humane Nature concur to make one Person of Christ the Mediator: So the Distinct Acts of these two Natures in Christ concur to make up one and the same compleat work of Mediation. Christ did his Opera Authoritatis or Magisterii, his works of Authority from his God-head: but his Opera Ministerii, his works of Ministery, from his Man-hood: But as his Natures are united in one Person: so his Acts and Operations from his two principles, are conjoyned in one Mediation.

II. The Grounds of this Position, thus stated and explained, are divers, For,

1. The Holy Scriptures do frequently ascribe the Acts of Christs Mediation to his Divine, as well as to his Humane Nature. And the Holy Scriptures are our best guides in this Mysterie, which is not of Natural cognisance; but only of meer supernatural Revelation. As,

(1) God was in Christ reconciling the world to himself, not imputing their trespasses unto them, 2 Cor. 5. 19. Therefore God in Christ, as well as man in Christ, Acted to the Reconcilement of the world, and to their Justification: Consequently to the works of Mediation.

(2) The Law (that (p) Covenant of God at Mount Sinai) was ordained by Angels in the hand of a Mediator, (q) Gal. 3. 19, 20. Of what Mediator? Not of Moses, who was only an intervening Messenger betwixt God and Israel, in the solemn Transactions of that Sinai-Covenant, or at most but a Typical Mediator; but of Christ the Promised Messiah, that (r) Angel (viz. the (s) Angel of the Covenant) which spake to Moses in the Mount Sinai, and with our Fathers, of whom Moses was but a dark Type or shadow. This Promised Messiah did then Act as Mediator of the Covenant, Covenant, and that according to his God-head; for at that time he had not assumed the Man-hood.

(3) — To Feed the Church of God, which he hath purchased with his own blood, Act. 20. 28. Therefore, Iesus Christ as God hath purchased his Church with his own blood as man. The Purchase, is the Church: The Price whereby this purchase was made, was the blood of God, viz. The Humane blood of Christ: God-man: But the Purchaser, was Christ as God, his God-head making his Humane blood a price sufficient. His God-head therefore did co-operate with his Man-hood in this work of Redemption.

(4) How much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal spirit, offered himself without spot to God, purge your Conscience from dead works to serve the living God? And for this cause he is the Mediator of the New Testament, &c. Heb. 9. 14, 15. Here touching Christ our Mediator, note; That Christ as Priest, offered himself without spot as man, Through the eternal spirit, viz. By the power and vertue of his own God-head. As God-man, he was Priest: As Man, he was Sacrafice: As God, he made his sacrifice sufficient and prevalent for our Redemption.

(5) The Lord sware and will not repent, thou art a Priest for ever after the Order of Melchizedeck. — The word of the Oath maketh the Son (High priest,) who is consecrated for evermore, Heb. 7. 21, 28. If Christ be High-priest as he is the Son: then as he is God, for as he is the Son (t) when God sware, he is God. Again, if he be an eternal Priest after the order of Melchizedeck, then he must be Priest as God and man: For Melchizedeck is set forth, (u) Without Father, without Mother, without Pedigree, having neither beginning of dayes, nor end of life. And all, that he might be a fit Type of Christ: who is without Father, according to his Man-hood; without Mother, according to his God-head; without beginning of dayes, according to his Divine Nature; without end of life, according to his Mediatory Person. And if Christ must needs be Priest as God and man: Consequently he must needs Act in his Priestly office, as both God and man.

(t) Psalm 110. 4.

(u) Heb. 7. 3.

(6) There is one God, and one Mediator between God & men, the man Christ Iesus: who gave himself a Ransom for all, to be testified in due time, 1 Tim. 2. 5, 6. Here Iesus Christ is Declared, that one Mediator betwixt God and men: And his Mediatorship is described by one eminent Act thereof, his Redemption; who gave himself a Ransom for all. The Ransom-given, is himself, viz. As man: The Ransom-giver, is himself also, viz. As God, his Man-hood also Consenting. Therefore as God he acted in his Mediation, as well as Man. Ob. But its said; The man Christ Iesus: (x) why doth he add, [The man,] but to express according to which Nature Christ is Mediator. Answer 1. He expresseth the Nature according to which he is Mediator, not according to which only. 2. The word [man] here may be taken Personally, to denote the Person of Christ,

(x) Cur quæso addidit, Homo; nisi ad explicandam naturam, secundum quam Christus est Mediator? Bellar. de Christo Mediator. lib. 5. cap. 3. Tom. 1.

Christ, who is man as well as God; rather then Naturally to design out his Humane Nature onely. It being usual with Scripture to denominate the whole Person from either Nature. So Christ is called, (y) The Lord of Glory, when his Person is understood. Thus here The Man Christ Iesus; to shew (z) that in him there was the Humane, as well as the Divine Nature in one Person, and that Consequently he was a fit middle person, or Meidiator betwixt God and man. And we have the more cause to understand this word [Man] here, not Naturally, but Personally; because it is not barely said The Man, but The Man Christ Iesus: Christ Iesus denoting that Person, who is God and Man. 3. This Phrase, The Man Christ Iesus, seems also to be added; partly, for our greater Consolation and Encouragement, that we may the more confidently draw near to him and to God in him, who is our elder brother, partaker of flesh and blood with us, that he might be a mercifull and faithfull high-priest for us in things pertaining unto God. Partly, (a) To admonish us not to despair of the salvation of any sort of men: Christ taking unto him the common Nature of man.

2. The Scope, End or intent of the Personal Union of the Divine and Humane Natures in one Christ, was (b) that he might act and execute his Mediatory Office Compleatly according to both those Natures. Agents do act or work, according to their Essence and Form. If Christ do not act according to both his Natures, as Forms and Beginnings of his Mediatory Actions; to what end was his Person Constituted of those two Natures, when one would have sufficed? Are there not some Mediatory Actions so proper and peculiar to one Nature, that they cannot belong properly to the other? Do not divers Necessary and Essential Acts of Christs Mediatory Office, flow from his God-head, as the immediate, proper and formal beginning thereof? 1. His Incarnation was from his God-head, assuming his Man-hood: for the Man-hood, not being, could not assume it self. 2. His (c) manifestation of God in the flesh, was efficiently and primarily from his God-head. Instrumentally in and by his Man-hood. 3. His Delivering and Offering himself up to God by Death for us, was Actively from his God-head, (d) through the eternal Spirit he offered up himself, (e) —— I have power to lay it down, &c. But Passively from his Man-hood. Christs dying was an Act of Power, and an Act of weakness: that power belonged to his God-head, this weakness to his Man-hood. 4. His Resurrection from the dead, was (f) by the power of his God-head. His Humane flesh was that which did rise: but his Divine power was that whereby he did rise. 5. His Ascention into Heaven, was in his Humanity: but the Vertue or Power whereby he ascended, was from his Deity. 6. His Captivating Captivity, was in his Humane Nature ascending; but from his Divine Nature, Conquering. 7. His Sitting on the right hand of God; and coming again to judge the world, belong to his Man-hood, but from from his God-head, &c. These, and like Acts, which primarily and necessarily appertain to his Mediatory office, have their proper rise and original from Christs Divine Nature. And therefore he was God and man in one Person, that he might act as God and man in one Office.

3. The Nature of the Mediatory office is such, that it could not be compleatly executed and fulfilled, if Christ God-man should not act therein both as God and man. This may be easily evinced in all the Primary Parts or Functions of his Mediatorship, by Induction of Particulars. As, I. In his Prophecy. Jesus Christ as God, (g) knows his Fathers will fully, reveals it Compleatly, And (h) opens our understandings to receive it effectually: As man he Teacheth us (i) familiarly and according to our capacity. II. In his Priest-hood, many ways. For, 1. Jesus Christ, As man, suffered: As God, supported himself under his sufferings. 2. As man, was sacrificed for us: As God, did offer up himself for a sacrifice, Heb. 9. 14, 15. 3. As (k) man, Dyed and was Buried: As God, overcame Death, and Rose again from the Dead. 4. As (l) man, was in his Body and blood the Price of our Redemption, and a Ransom for us: As (m) God, he made that price and Ransom of infinite worth, dignity, value, efficacy, acceptableness, &c. 5. As man, (n) he did bear our sins upon his body on the Tree, and the wrath of God for them: As God he sustained his man-hood from sinking, and being utterly swallowed up under the wrath of God, which no meer creature in the world could ever have undergone without being utterly overwhelmed. 6. As man, he prayed with strong cries and tears, and intercedes for us, Heb. 5. 6, 7. & 9. 24. 1 Iohn 2. 1, 2. Rom. 8. 34. As God, he makes his Intercession of infinite acceptance with his heavenly Father for ever, Heb. 7. 21, 25. III. In his King-ship. For, 1. As man, He did conflict with his and our spiritual enemies, Sin, Satan, Death, &c. But as God he conquered them, by being in his Humanity in some sort conquered by them, Rom. 8. 3. Col. 2. 14. Heb. 2. 14, 15. 2. As man, he did triumph over them in his going up into heaven, and shall finally doom and judge them in his coming again from heaven: but As God he hath the Power and Authority of this Victory, Triumph and Judgement, Acts 10. 42. & 17. 31. Rom. 2. 16. Ioh. 5. 22. And what shall I say? As all his Acts of Ministery and Meanness in his Mediation, have their primary and proper rise from his man-hood; As, To be Conceived, Born, Circumcised, Afflicted, Scourged, Crucified, Slain, Buried, &c. So all his Acts of Magistery and Authority have their proper and primary rise from his God-head; As, To know the heart, To work Miracles, To Rise from the Dead, Ascend into Heaven, Sit down at Gods right hand, shed forth his Spirit, Gather and Preserve his Elect, subdue their enemies, and judge the world, &c.

A Prince in the midst of them: Thence he is Mediator both of God and man, because he is God with the Father, and man with men. Not a Mediator as man besides the Deity: Not a Mediator as God besides the Humanity. Behold the Mediator. The Divinity is not Mediator without the Humanity, The Humanity is not Mediator without the Divinity: But betwixt Divinity alone, and Humanity alone, Christs Humane Divinity, and Divine Humanity is Mediator.* To which I will only add the notable Testimony of Claudius Espensæus a Sorbon Doctor among the Papists, who at large defends Christs Mediation according to both his Natures, and hath this passage; (p) And this is altogether a Saving and Enlivening Mediation, And the Action, Execution, Efficacy, Efficiency, and (as the Greeks speak) the Energy thereof AS SUCH, is Neither Divine only, being not of meer God, but of God-man, or made man: Nor Humane only, being not of meer man, but of man Deified: But Theandrical, viz. Of God and man existing together. Let the Learned Reader for his further Satisfaction about Christs Mediation according to both Natures, consult that learned and judicious Andr. Rivet in his Cathol. Orthodox. Tract. 2. Quæst. 50. Tom. 1.

(o) Ego, inquit Dominus, ero illis in Deum, & servus meus David princeps in medio eorum. Quare in medio eorum? Quia verbum caro factum est, & habitavit in nobis. Princeps in medio eorum: Inde & Mediator Dei & hominum, quia Deus cum Patre, quia homo cum hominibus. Non Mediator homo præter Deitatem: Non Mediator Deus præter Humanitatem. Ecce Mediator. Divinitas sine humanitate non est mediatrix: Humanitas sine Divinitate non est Mediatrix; Sed inter Divinitatem solam, & humanitatem solam, Mediatrix est humana Divinitas, & Divina Humanitas Christi, Augustin. in lib. de Ovibus cap. 12. Tom. 9.

Hitherto, Of the Person of CHRIST: as also of his Mediatory office, more Generally.

APHORISM

Of CHRIST's Execution of his Mediatory Office, more Particularly.

THat, JESUS CHRIST, God-man, Executeth his Mediatory Office in a (q) Prophetical, (r) Priestly and (s) Kingly way, or, As Prophet, Priest and King; both in his state of (t) Humiliation, and (u) Exaltation.

For the better clearing of this Aphorism, three things are to be explained especially, viz. 1. Whence it may be evinced, that Christ executes his mediatory office these three waies. 2. Wherein the Nature of Christs Prophecy, Priest-hood, and King-ship consists. 3. What are those two states of Christs Humiliation and Exaltation, wherein he thus executes his Mediation betwixt God and man. I shall unfold these in three distinct Sections.

SECTION I.

WHence it may be evinced, That Christ executes his Mediatory Office, in a Prophetical, Priestly and Kingly way. These three, some call, the Species or Kinds of his Mediatory office; some, the Parts or Branches thereof: It is not much material whether notion we make use off, seeing for substance they come both to one. Now, that JESUS CHRIST executes his Mediatory Office in this threefold Capacity. As, Prophet, Priest and King, may be evinced these six waies especially, viz. 1. From the condition of lapsed man, without Christ; and his Necessity of Restauration by Christ. 2. From the personal Types of old prefiguring these functions in Christ. 3. From the Order of conferring salvation upon us. 4. From the Reality of Christs Unction hereunto. 5. From the sufficient Enumeration of Christs Benefits, and his way of procuring them. 6. From Christs many Denominations given to him in Scriptures, and notably reducible to these three Functions.

1. From the Condition of lapsed man, without Christ; and his Necessity ceſſity of Reſtauration by Christ. Lapſed man by reaſon of ſin is miſerably involved in a threefold Diſeaſe; viz. 1. (t) Groſs Ignorance of God and of all the Myſteries of Salvation, yea and (u) of his own poor, blind, naked, wretched and undone Condition. 2. (x) Alienation and Eſtrangement from God and all Happineſs, yea ſtream Hoſtility and Enmity to God, his Laws, & all his wayes. 3. Mortal (y) impotency and inability of Returning again to God from ſin and Satan, for Recovering of his Favour, Happineſs and Salvation. Now, lapſed man had need to have ſuch a Mediator, as hath an office and ability ſufficient for healing of all theſe grand Evils and Diſeaſes: otherwiſe he cannot be Reſtored and Saved. The Remedy muſt fully anſwer the Malady. Behold therefore how richly and fully God hath Provided for lapſed mans Recovery in Christ. For His Ignorance is cured by Chriſts Prophecy. His Alienation from, and Enmity againſt God, is healed by Chriſts Prieſt-hood. His Impotency, and inability, is Remedyed by his Kingſhip. All which will evidently appear in the particular opening of theſe Functions.

2. From the Perſonal Types of Old, prefiguring theſe three Functions in Christ. Chriſt under and before the Old Teſtament was revealed to his Church more darkly and imperfectly under Types and Figures, repreſenting ſome excellency or other that ſhould be in the Perſon, Office or Benefits of the Promiſed Meſſiah. Thoſe Types and Shadows were either Perſons or Things. Perſons repreſented Chriſt in many regards: amongſt others, in the Eminent offices which they did bear and diſcharge for the good of Gods People; viz. of Prophets, Prieſts, and Kings. By which three offices God uſually Conveyed all his choice bleſſings to his people of old, as (z) I have formerly Shewed. Thus, 1. Moſes (a) the great Prophet, was a ſpecial Type of Jeſus Chriſt, Gods greateſt Prophet of all: that Prophet of Prophets. 2. The Levitical (b) Prieſts, eſpecially the High-prieſt, and Melchizedek the Prieſt of the moſt high God, of another and more excellent order, were ſpecial Types of our great High-Prieſt Jeſus Chriſt. 3. The excellent (c) Kings alſo, as Melchizedeck King of Salem, David and Solomon, Kings of Iſrael, &c. were ſingular Types of Jeſus Chriſt our true King of Righteouſneſs, Prince of Peace, and King of Kings, to whom (d) the Lord God gave the throne of his Father David, that he might reign over the Houſe of Jakob for ever, & whoſe Kingdom there ſhall be no End. Now, How Moſes, Melchizedeck, the Prieſts, David, and Solomon did Typifie Chriſt in theſe three Functions, I have (e) already manifeſted.

3. From

3. From the Order of Conferring Salvation upon us. Which is especially threefold, viz. 1. It must be Revealed in the Mysterie of it, to us that are Ignorant. 2. It must be Acquired and Procured, for us that are Aliens and Enemies. 3. It must be Applyed effectually, to us that are without strength and Impotent. If it be onely Revealed, and not Acquired: Its onely as a Remedy in the Theory or Contemplation. If it be onely Revealed and Procured, but not Applyed: It is onely as a Remedy in Readiness or in Composition. But if it be Revealed, Acquired, and Applyed: It is as a Remedy in actual and effectual operation to the Cure. Now Iesus Christ Reveals the whole way and mysterie of Salvation; as a Prophet: Acquires and Purchaseth Salvation Revealed; As a Priest: Applyes, effaciously Salvation Revealed and Purchased as a King.

4. From the Reality of Christs Unction hereunto. For, as in former times Men were Annointed with material oyl, with the (e) Holy Annointing Oyl, denoting their Designation and Vocation to, their Endowments and Qualifications for, those three eminent Offices of (f) Prophet, (g) Priest, and (h) King: So Iesus Christ was Annointed with the true Spiritual Immaterial oyl, (i) with the oyl of gladness above his fellows, viz. with the Holy-ghost and with power most plentifully and abundantly, whereby he was most plenarily and transcendently qualified for, and most authentically called unto his tripple office of Prophet, Priest and King to his Church, and became the true CHRIST, Messiah and Annointed of the living God.

5. From the sufficient Enumeration of Christs Benefits, and his way of Procuring them for us. 1. Christs Benefits towards us are chiefly of three sorts, viz. 1. He (k) makes known unto us the whole Counsel and will of God touching Sinners Salvation in his word: Inlightning our Minds by his Spirit to understand the same. This he doth as a Prophet. 2. He (l) suffers and Satisfies for the sins of his elect: He (m) redeems them from spiritual thraldom by the invaluable price of his own blood: He reconciles (n) them to God by his own Death: He obtains (o) Remission of their sins, removing their Guilt, & covering all their iniquities, that they may become the righteousness of God in him, who was made sin for them: He (p) ever lives to make intercession for them, and thereby to impetrate all saving blessings upon them. All These and such like blessings he works for us, as A Priest. 3. He effectually applyes to us all the Benefits and purchases of his Mediation: He Subdues, Calls and Governs us by the spiritual Scepter of his word and Spirit, Psal. 110. 2, 3. Acts 26. 17, 18. Rom. 10. 14, 15. &c. & 8. 14. He Restrains and conquers all our Enemies, Psal. 110. 1. 1 Cor. 15. 26. Heb. 2. 14, 15. Col. 2. 14, 15. And he will come again at last to judge the world, to take us home unto himself, that we may be where he is, to behold his glory, Acts 17. 31. Matth. 25. 31. to the end. Iohn 14. 2, 3, 4.

(f) 1 Kings 19. 16.

(g) Exod. 28. 41. & 30. 30.

(p) Heb. 7. 25.

3, 4. & 17. 24. Now all these and such like Benefits he vouchsafes to us, As a King.

II. Christs order and way of working and procuring such Benefits for us is answerable. For, 1. He first Teacheth, as a Prophet. 2. Then He offereth himself, as a Priest. 3. At last Enters into his Kingdom most powerfully and gloriously administring the same, as a King.

6. Finally, From Christs many Denominations given to him in Scriptures, which are eminently reducible to these three Functions. For, I. Christ is stiled, A Counseller, Isa. 9. 6. A Teacher come from God, John 3. 2. A Master, Mat. 23. 10. The Apostle of our Profession, Heb. 3. 1. A Shepherd, Ezek. 34. 23. & 37. 24. That good Shepherd, John 10. 11. The great Shepherd of the sheep, Heb. 13. 20. The chief Shepherd, 1 Pet. 5. 4. A Prophet like Moses, Deut. 18. 15. to 20. That great Prophet, Luke 17. 19. & 24. 19. Our Law-giver, Isa. 35. 22. These and such like point out his Prophetical Office.

II. Christ is stiled, Our Peace, Eph. 2. 14. Our Propitiatory, Rom. 3. 25. The Propitiation for our sins, 1 John 2. 1, 2. A (r) Ransom for many, Mat. 20. 28. 1 Tim. 2. 5, 6. The Lamb of God; alluding to the Lamb daily sacrificed, John 1. 19. Exod. 29. 38, 39. The Lamb slain from the foundation of the world, Rev. 13. 8. Our Pass-over which is sacrificed for us, 1 Cor. 5. 7. A sacrifice for sin, Rom. 8. 3. Heb. 10. 12. Our Advocate with the Father, ever living to make intercession for us, 1 John 2. 1, 2. Heb. 7. 25. The Minister of the Sanctuary and true Tabernacle which God hath pitched, and not man, Heb. 8. 2. A Priest for ever after the order of Melchizedeck, Psal. 110. 4. Our High-Priest, Heb. 3. 1. An High-Priest of good things to come, Heb. 9. 11. An High-Priest over the House of God, Heb. 10. 21. A merciful and faithful High Priest in things pertaining to God, to make Reconciliation for the sins of the people, Heb. 2. 17. These and such like Appellations have special reference to Christs Priestly office.

III. Christ is stiled, The Head of the Church, Eph. 5. 23. Head over all things to the Church, Eph. 1. 22. A Governor that shall rule Gods people Israel, Mat. 2. 6. He that is to be Ruler in Israel, Micah 5. 2. The (s) Arch-Duke of our Salvation, Heb. 2. 10. The Prince of Peace, upon whose shoulder is the Government, Isa. 9. 6, 7. The Prince of Life, Acts 3. 15. The Lord of glory, 1 Cor. 2. 8. The Lord of Lords, Rev. 19. 16. A Leader and Commander to the people, Isa. 55. 4. Our Judge, our Law-giver or Statute-maker, our King, Isa. 33. 22. David their King and Prince for ever, Hos. 3. 5. Ezek. 37. 24, 25. Gods King set on his holy hill of Sion, Psal. 2. 6. The Son of the highest, having the throne of his Father David, reigning over the house of Jacob for ever, Luke 1. 32, 33. King of Kings, Rev. 19. 16. Ordained of God to be Judge of Quick and Dead, Acts 10. 42. These and such like glorious and majestical Titles, do eminently denote his Kingly office.

From all these it is evident, That Christ executes his Mediatorship, as Prophet, Priest and King.

SECTION

Section II.

Wherein the nature of Christs Prophecy, Priest-hood and King-ship consists. This may best be resolved, by considering them Particularly.

I. Christs Prophetical Office, is that branch of his Mediatorship, whereby he fully Reveals to, and in his Elect, his Church, both before, and under the New Covenant, the whole counsel and will of God touching their Restauration and Salvation.

The Nature of his Prophetical Office, Consists in his Primary and Plenary Teaching of his Church: viz. 1. By Revelation or Promulgation of his Doctrine. 2. By Illumination of his peoples minds to receive the same.

1. Christ Reveals and promulgeth his Doctrine, in his word; called therefore (t) The word of Christ. And he Reveals his Doctrine in his word, Immediately, and Mediately. I. More Immediately, by himself, 1. Under, and before the Old Covenant. Thus (u) Iesus Christ according to his Divine Nature, Made known the Doctrine and will of God touching Sinners Restitution, and Salvation, To the Patriarchs, Prophets and Holy men of God, (x) By Visions, Dreams, Urim and Thummim, Inspirations, Vocal Oracles, &c. Till at last by the inspiration of his spirit, They had written all the Books of the Old Testament, Comprizing fully and Perfectly the whole Counsel of God, sufficient for their Salvation who lived before Christs Incarnation. Christs Revelations of his doctrine were still from age to age more and more clear, though alwayes far short of those now under his New Covenant; yet sufficient for his Elects Instruction to salvation in every age respectively. 2. Under the New Covenant. Thus Iesus Christ, according to both his Natures, as God and Man, (y) in whom are hid all the Treasures of wisdom and Knowledge, hath finally, clearly and compleatly Revealed the last, fullest and perfectest Counsel and will of God touching Sinners life and Salvation. This is that (z) Manifold wisdom of God: That (a) so great Salvation which at first began to be spoken by the Lord, the neglect whereof is much more dangerous then the neglect of the Old Covenant, which yet was severely punnished. This is (b) the wisdom of God in a Mysterie, the hidden wisdom which God ordained before the world unto our Glory. Which none of the Princes of this world knew, &c. Touching such things as Carnal mans eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entred into the heart of man. (c) Things that the very Angels desire to look into, and disdain not to learn (d) from and by the Church of God. This plenary and final Revelation of saving doctrine Iesus Christ our (e) Teacher come from God, Hath most gloriously vouchsafed under the New Covenant, Ioh. 1. 18. Math. 11. 27. For himself self testifieth; (f) All things that I have heard of my Father I have made known unto you. And again in his Prayer to his Father; (g) I have given them the words which thou gavest me, and they have received them, &c. Now Iesus Christ God-man hath under this New Covenant, Immediately Revealed or Promulged this so great Salvation, principally two waies, viz. (i) By his own Personal Ministration in the Church of God, according as was (h) formerly Prophecied of him. He, after his Baptism, beginning to be about thirty years of age, did in the daies of his flesh, for the space of about three years and an half, or four years, preach the Gospel of the Kingdom; expound the Law of God, vindicating it from the corrupt glosses and mis-interpretations of the Pharisees; Erect and appoint New Covenant Ordinances and Officers: and indefatigably discharge all the then necessary parts of his Prophecy. And this in Judea, Samaria, and Galilee, throughout the Holy Land: and that not in private, but publikely in the Temple, Synagogues, or other places where the multitude resorted to him. And in regard of his Personal coming into, and teaching in Zerubbabels Temple, (i) The glory of that later house was greater then the glory of the former. And the Church in these last daies, is dignified and priviledged far more then in all former ages; In that, (k) God, who at sundry times, and in divers manners, spake in time past to the Fathers by the Prophets, hath in these last daies spoken unto us by his Son, —— who is the brightness of his glory, and the express character of his Person. (l) By his Instruction and Information of his Apostles about the Mysteries of the Kingdom. (l) Opening their understandings, and (m) giving them Commandments, not only before, but also and especially after his Resurrection, about his preaching of the Doctrine of Salvation. (n) Go disciple all Nations, —— teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you, &c. Yea, Christ did by his Spirit so infallibly inspire his Apostles and other holy men, (o) leading them into all truth, taking of Christs, and shewing it unto them; and bringing all things unto their remembrance: that they Penned the whole Scriptures of the New Testament compleatly, The Revelation (setting forth the affairs of the Church till the end of the world) closing up the Canon of Holy Scripture so perfectly, that nothing may be added thereto, or taken thence from, but (p) under severest Penalties. And thus Iesus Christ as our great Prophet, Revealed his Doctrine of salvation Immediately by himself, both under and before the Old Covenant, and under the New Covenant.

II. More Mediately, Christ our Prophet Revealed his Doctrine for Sinners Life and Salvation, to his Church and people; 1. Under the Old Covenant and Before, Christ Teaching his Church the mysteries and waies of salvation: (r) Sometimes extraordinarily, by the Ministery of Fathers, Patriarchs, and Prophets. To which effect it is said, that (q) Christ by his Spirit, (that is, by his God-head assisting Noah, a preacher of righteousness, 2 Pet. 2. 5.)

went and preached to the ſpirits in priſon, (that is, to men then on earth, but dying impenitent, now ſpirits in the Priſon of Hell, when Peter wrote this epiſtle,) which ſometimes were diſobedient, when once the long-ſuffering of God waited in the dayes of Noah while the Ark was preparing. Chriſt by his God-head preached to the world in the dayes of Noah, but it was Mediately by the Miniſtry of Noah, who Preached Repentance and righteouſneſs to the wicked world both by his doctrine and Life; and ſpecially by his making the Ark 120. years together, every knock upon the Ark being a warning to the wicked world. II. Chriſts Prieſtly Office, is that branch of his Mediatorſhip, whereby he is our Great High prieſt, Compleatly fulfilled the Law of God and Suffered Death for his Elect, ſo making a Proper and plenary Satisfaction to Gods juſtice for them, And alſo preſenting himſelf and his merit before God, he undertakes for them, and makes continual Interceſſion for them.

This Prieſtly Office of Chriſt was notably ſhadowed out under the Old

Old Covenant, under the Type of the (d) High-priest; and of (e) Melchizedeck, of whose order Christ is said to be, both for the dignity of his Person, and Manner of his Calling. Now the High-priest typed out the Priesthood of Jesus Christ our Great High-priest, Heb. 4. 14. many wayes, as (f) I have already manifested. To which now I further add; The High Priest Typed out Christs Priesthood in the Acts of his Office chiefly three wayes, viz. I. By his keeping and fulfilling the Law of God. The High-priest was singularly to fulfill the Law. And therefore to his peculiar care the keeping of the two Tables of the Law in the Ark of the Covenant was singularly committed, and none but he was to enter into the Holy of Holies. Thus Jesus Christ most exactly fulfilled the Law of God. For, 1. His Person was holy, harmless, undefiled, seperate from Sinners, Heb. 7. 26. The Law of God was in his heart fully, as the Law was in the Ark, Psal. 40. 7, 8. His mind and will being perfectly conform thereunto. 2. His (g) Life and actions were also exactly agreeable in every point to the Law of God, without sin in the least degree. And Christ fulfilled the Law exactly both in Person and Conversation for our sakes. As he became θεάνθρωπος God-man for our sakes; So whatsoever he had, or did, as man, was for us. Hence its said; (h) By the Obedience of one shall many be made righteous. (i) —— Christ is the end of the Law for righteousness to every one that believeth. II. By his offering unto God, Expiatory and propitiatory Sacrifices of innocent Beasts, to Purge away sin and make Reconciliation with God for the People. This he did, 1. By the Burnt-offering, slain, and wholly burnt to ashes, Levit. 1. 23, &c. This was, (1) Ordinary and Perpetual: Either for every day, morning and evening, two lambs, Exod. 29. 38. to 43. Or for the Sabbath dayes, the offering was to be doubled, Numb. 28. 9, 10. Or Monethly in the New-Moons, Numb. 28. 12, &c. Or yearly, as on several set Feasts, Num. 29. throughout. (2) Extraordinary and Incidental, Either for the whole People, As, 1 Sam 7. 9, 10. Or for particular persons, as for David, 2 Sam. 24 25. 2. By the Sin offering, whereby some certain sins were expiated and purged away. As, (1) Sins done ignorantly, Lev. 4. (2) Sins done Knowingly and willingly, Lev. 5. and 6. And both these at the Feasts of New Moons, Passover and Pentecost, Lev. 23. 19, &c. Numb. 28. 11. to the end. Thus Jesus Christ the Antitype, (k) Offered one Sacrifice for sins for ever, when (l) through the eternal spirit he offered himself without Spot to God, to purge our Conscience from dead works. And by this (m) One offering he hath perfected for ever them that are Sanctified, so that there needs no more expiatory Sacrifice for sin. In this offering of himself Christ was Priest, Sacrifice and Altar-Priest, as God and man, Heb. 5. 6. Sacrifice, as Man. Heb. 12. 13. 1 Pet. 2. 13. Col. 1. 22. though the vertue, force and excellency of this Sacrifice depended chiefly upon the God-head to which it was personally united. His whole Man, Soul and Body

Body suffered: that thereby our whole man, soul, and body might be saved. Altar as God, Heb. 9. 14. & 13. 10. The Altar, sanctifying the gift, being greater then the gift, Mat. 23. 19. III. By his Intercession. The High-priest Presented himself daily before the Lord, (n) offering Incense upon the Golden Altar morning and evening for an odor of a Sweet smell, (o) Praying for, and blessing the People. Thus Jesus Christ, 1. Appears in the (p) presence of God for us as our advocate: 2. Presents the sweetest (q) Odours of his own Merits. 3. And makes Continual (r) Intercession for us.

Thus the Priesthood of Christ is executed by him chiefly two wayes, viz. 1. In his making Satisfaction to God by his sufferings and Death for the sins of his People. 2. In his Continual Intercession for them with the Father. This Priesthood of Christ is a most excellent foundation of hope, and fountain of Consolation to poor Sinners; And therefore Satan hath extreamly bestirred himself against it by dangerous and Heretical opinions sown in the Minds of many, (Socinians on the one hand denying Christs satisfaction, Papists on the other hand extending his Death to all, and destroying Christs Intercession by setting up Saint-intercessors,) that by this Means he might eclipse the glory of Christs Priesthood, and so dash the hopes and comforts of Poor Sinners. And were not this volume swelled too big already, I should here very much have enlarged my self against these intollerable errours. But I must, full sore against my will, forbear. Only let me a little more fully explain these two sweet Points ad Parts of Christs Priesthood, viz. His Satisfaction, and His Intercession. Wherein I shall Positively assert the Truth against those Errors, by some brief Scripture grounds for the support and benefit of Christs purchased People.

1st, That Jesus Christ by his Obedience and Death hath made a true, real, proper and full Satisfaction to God for his Peoples Sins. The word Satisfaction, I grant, is not Syllabically and literally expressed in the Scriptures; but the thing is expressed abundantly therein, and thats enough. As the words, Trinity, Sacrament, &c. are not expressly named, yet the things which we intend by them, are sufficiently set forth in Scripture. Now that Christ hath by his Obedience and Death made a True, real, proper and full Satisfaction to God for his Peoples Sins, is evident many wayes. For, ty confirms the Agreement, Promiseth to pay the debt, and actually doth pay it, if the principal fail. As Philem. vers. 18, 19. Thus Christ is not only Mediator and Testator, but also Surety of the New Covenant. God is as the Creditor, We as Debtors, Our sins the Debts, Christ the Surety, His obedience and death the Satisfaction, the New Covenant the Deed according to which Christ hath made voluntary Satisfaction to God. If Christs Satisfaction be denyed, his Suretyship is destroyed. Now that Christ suffered punishment and Death for us and our sins; not only for our Good, as one man may suffer for the good of another, as Paul, Col. 1. 24. and martyrs suffered for the Good of the Church, but also as our Surety substituted, and voluntarily substituting himself, in our room and stead, is evident many wayes. As, 1. By Christs dying and suffering for us. The Scriptures often testifie that Christ suffered and dyed for us, or words to that effect. (u) — In due time Christ dyed for the ungodly. ——— when we were yet Sinners Christ dyed for us. (x) ——— He that spared not his own son, but delivered him up for us all. (y) ——— He gave himself a ransom for all, &c. (z) ——— To give his life a Ransom for many. (a) ——— I lay down my life for the sheep — no man taketh it from me, but I lay it down of my self. The Scripture abounds with like expressions: As, Mark 10. 45. John 11. 50. Heb. 2. 9. 2 Cor. 4. 14. & 5. 21. Gal. 3. 13. Christ hath once suffered, — the just for the unjust, being put to death in the flesh, 1 Pet. 3. 18. &c. Therefore if Christ hath suffered Death for us, he suffered as our Surety substituted in our stead: And not as Socinus falsly pretends, only for our Good, to confirm his Doctrine, and make way for his glory and Intercession, &c. For, 1. The Apostle Paul suffered for the Church in this sense, that is, for her good, Col. 1. 24. Who yet counts it an haynous thing to say, that any other then Christ was crucified for us. (b) Is Christ divided? was Paul crucified ὑπὲρ ὑμῶν for you? 2. Though the words ὑπὲρ for, and περὶ for, are sometimes used to denote, for any good or utility: Yet the word ἀντὶ for, which Scripture often useth in this Matter, doth alwaies signifie a Substitution of one for another, in anothers stead and place, a compensation. As (c) — Not rendring (κακὸν ἀντὶ κακοῦ) evil for evil. (d) — (ὀφθαλμὸς ἀντὶ ὀφθαλμοῦ, ὀδὼς ἀντὶ ὀδόντος,) An eye for an eye, tooth for a tooth. So Luke 11. 11. Rom. 12. 17. 1 Cor. 11. 15. Heb. 12. 16. Nor can there be given an instance in the New Testament of any other sense of this word. And thus its used in the present case; (e) ——— That he might give his life a Ransom (ἀντὶ πολλῶν) for Many, in stead of, Many. And so the Compound word (ἀντίλυτρον, A Ransom,) used, 1 Tim. 2. 5. doth (as (f) learned Gomarus hath well noted) properly signifie, an equal price of Redemption; An answerable price, even as one scale Answers another exactly. 3. In some passages this substitution of Christ for us, and this Compensation, is manifestly noted. ——— It is expedient for us, that one man should dye for the people (ὑπὲρ τοῦ λαοῦ) and that the whole Nation perish not, John 11. 50, 51. So, ——— In due time Christ

1. Christ is Εγγυος (t) The Surety of the better Covenant, the New Covenant. Of the sense of which word (u) formerly. A Surety

(s) Heb. 7. 22.

Christ dyed for the ungodly. For scarcely for a righteous man will one die, Rom. 5 6, 7, 8. And, —If one dyed for all, then were all dead, 2 Cor. 4. 14 Here were no Consequence in this inference, unless that phrase One dyed for all do signifie that he dyed in their room and stead as their substituted Surety. So, Christ hath once suffered, the just for the unjust, being put to death in the flesh, 1 Pet 3. 18. that is, Jesus Christ being in himself most just and innocent, suffered as Surety substituted for us unjust. The Scripture is much in such expressions. II. By Christs Bearing our sins upon himself, Suffering and dying for our sins, Being made Sin and a Curse for us. By these and such like expressions, Christs Suretyship, subrogation, substitution, Compensation, Satisfaction, &c. for us and for our sins is very significantly denoted in the Scriptures. 1. Christ bare our sins upon himself, viz. Our sins were imputed to him, charged upon him, and he bare the punishment of them. As, (g) ——Who his own self bare our sins in his own body on the tree. (h) — For he shall bare their iniquities. (i) —— The LORD hath laid (or, made to meet) on him the iniquity of us all. He was oppressed and he was afflicted. That is, He bare our sins, by bearing the affliction of them. Our sins and their punishment were divolved and translated upon Christ. And this phrase of (bearing sin) in Scripture use, denotes frequently (k) bearing the punishment of sin. Christ then bearing the punishment of our sins, stood as our Surety, in our stead, to satisfie for our debt. 2. To these also may be referred those phrases; (l) He knew no sin, was made sin for us. (m) —— Christ hath redeemed us from the curse of the Law, being made a curse for us, &c. 3. Besides Christ is said to suffer and die for our sins, offences, &c. —That Christ dyed (ὑπὲρ) for our sins according to the Scriptures, 1 Cor. 15. 3. giving himself (ὑπὲρ) for our sins, Gal. 1. 4. —But this man having offered one sacrifice (ὑπὲρ) for sins, Heb. 10, 12. See also Rom. 5. 6. 2 Cor. 5. 21. —Because even Christ once suffered (περὶ) for sins, 1 Pet. 3. 18. Who was delivered (διὰ) for our offences, Rom. 4. 25. In which passages, those Greek particles, ὑπὲρ, περὶ, and διὰ, translated, For, being applied to Christs sufferings, do note to us the Meritorious, deserving, procuring cause of those his sufferings, viz. our sins. Applied to other things they may sometimes denote the Final cause, but being applied to sufferings, they point out only the Meritorious cause. III. By Gods (n) delivering of Christ up to death for our sins, and that an ignominious, violent, curled, judicial Death, having the sense of Gods wrath annexed. Death is to the Proper wages of Sin, Rom. 6. 23 & 5. 12. That divine justice inflicteth it not, not can inflict it upon any, but either upon the Sinner, or the Sinners Surety. Death could not be inflicted upon Christ, as a Sinner; for (o) he was absolutely without all sin: Therefore it was inflicted on him only as the Sinners Surety; making true, proper and real satisfaction for Sinners to offended Justice and the Law of God.

Purchase us with a price, to give himself a Ransome or Price of Redemption, &c. for us: Therefore as in all Redeeming, Purchasing, &c. So in this of Christs there is given a price, a Compensation, a Satisfaction for that which is bought, purchased or Redeemed. The former is evident abundantly. As, (q) the son of man came — to give his Soul (λύτρον) a Ransom for many. The Greek word properly signifies, a price-of-Redemption-for-which-we-are-set-at-liberty. (r) — There is one Mediator betwixt God and man, the man Christ Jesus, who gave himself (ἀντίλυτρον) An-equal-Ransom, (or, a fully-answerable-Ransom) for all, &c. (s) ——— In whom we have (ἀπολύτρωσιν) Redemption by his blood. Eternal Redemption, &c. ——— ye are bought with a price ἠγοράσθητε τιμῆς, 1 Cor. 6. 20. (t) ——— Thou wast slain, (ἐσφάγης) and hast bought us to God by thy blood. Thats the price. (u) Christ (ἐξηγόρασε) hath-thoroughly-bought us, (or, bought us-out) from the curse of the Law, being made a curse for us. (x) ——— Made under the Law, that (ἐξαγοράσῃ) he might buy out them that are under the Law. Now buying us, and Redeeming us with a Price, Even the price of Christs invaluable blood, doth plainly import the substitution of Christ, and his Compensation or Satisfaction made for us by his Death, to God, Eph. 5. 2. Heb. 9. 14. Rev. 5. 9.

3. The sins of those that lived and died before Christ was revealed, were expiated, purged and pardoned only by the Death and blood of Jesus Christ. The (y) Legal Sacrifices did expiate Typically as pertaining to the flesh: but only Christ and his blood typified by them did purge as pertaining to the Conscience. (z) And for this cause he is the Mediator of the New Testament, that by means of death, for the Redemption of the transgressions that were under the first Testament, they which are called might receive the Promise of the Eternal inheritance. (a) ——— whom God hath set forth to be a propitiation through faith in his blood, to declare his righteousness for Remission of sins that are past. Hence, this is one Reason why Christ is called. (b) The Lamb slain from the foundation of the world: because the vertue of his Death profited and saved his elect, even from the foundation of the world. To this effect it was only (c) once that Christ appeared in the end of the world to put away sin by the Sacrifice of himself. The vertue & merit of his Sacrifice extending it self backward to the foundation of the world: Otherwise Christ should have suffered often from the foundation of the world, as the High-priest every year entred into the Holy place with the blood of others. Now if Christs Death & blood did redeem them from their Transgressions that were under the first Covenant, his death could be no other then a Meritorious Moving cause of their Redemption, by way of Satisfaction for them. For Christs death being then not distinctly understood by them of the Old Covenant, it could not possibly profit them as an example or Confirmation of Christs Doctrine, but as a real Satisfaction only.

mies we were reconciled to God by the Death of his son: much more being reconciled, we shall be saved by his Life. (e) —— God was in Christ reconciling the world unto himself, &c. For he hath made him to be sin for us, &c. All things are of God, who hath reconciled us to himself by Jesus Christ, and hath given to us the Ministry of Reconciliation. (f) —— And that he might reconcile both (viz. Jews and Gentiles) unto God in one body by the Cross, having slain the enmity thereby. (g) —— And (having made peace through the blood of his Cross) by him to reconcile all things unto himself, &c. In that to the Corinthians the Apostle hints to us a double Reconcilement, 1. The One virtual and Meritorious, by the Death of Christ, in our Redemption: When the Enmity betwixt God and us is by Christs Satisfaction taken away, and we that were children of wrath are restored to favour. In which respect Christ is called, the (h) Propitiation for our sins; and (i) a propitiatory through faith in his blood. The other Actual and efficacious, by the Spirit and Ministry of the Gospel, in our Conversion: When we who hated God before, do now actually love him, and set our hearts upon him. This later is the fruit of the former. But here we are chiefly to understand the former, even that Reconciliation of God and sinners by Christs bloods, So that in Christ God becomes propitiously favourable to them. Now in what way, or in what sence can Christ be said to reconcile us to God by his Death: but by Satisfying his offended Justice and violated Law?

And Christ (l) intercedes for us in heaven, appearing there in the presence of God, and still representing before God his merit and Satisfaction. Otherwise if Christ by his Death had only confirmed his Doctrine, and not made Satisfaction for our sins, he had not dyed as our Priest, whose office it is to offer Sacrifice, and make Atonement thereby.

6. As there were many Expiatory Sacrifices, both Burnt offerings and Sin-offerings forementioned for purging away of Sin Typically under the Law: So Christ, the Truth of all those Types, the Substance of all those shadows, did truly and really expiate all his peoples sins by the Sacrifice of himself, and therefore made satisfaction to God for them. Here note, 1. That the Sacrifices under the Law were in the Nature of them Expiatory Sacrifices, to purge away sin, and make Atonement for the Sinner, that his sin should not be imputed to him, nor the punishment thereof inflicted upon him. As, the Burnt-offerings, And he shall put his hand upon the head of the burnt-offering, and it shall be accepted for him to make attonement (or, expiate, or, purge away sin by Cove- vering it, as the Hebr. (m) לכפר le-cappar properly signifies) for him, Levit. 1. 4. The sin-offerings also were expiatory, with them the Priest made attonement for sin, and the sin was forgiven. See Levit. 16. 11, 24, 27, 33, 34. & 4. 20, 26, 31, 35. The Goat of the sin-offering made attonement for the Priest, and his House, and all the Congregation of Israel: after which, on the live-Goat, the scape-Goat Aaron laid both his hands, and confessed over him all the iniquities of the children of Israel, putting them upon the head of the Goat, and sent him away by the hand of a fit man into the wilderness, that he might bear upon him all their iniquities, into a Land not inhabited, Levit. 16. 15. to 23. And in a word, The blood of all the Sacrifices was Expiatory, and therefore it was not to be eaten; (n) For the life of the flesh is in the blood, and I have given it to you upon the Altar, to make an Attonement for your souls; for it is the blood that maketh attonement for the soul. Thus the Typical Sacrifices were Expiatory. 2. That Christ and his Sacrifice of himself, the Truth of all these Types, was also truly Expiatory, and Satisfactory, much more. (1) Those Sacrifices (o) were shadows of good things to come, but the body and truth of them all was Christ. Hence Christ is called, One offering, Heb. 10. 14. One Sacrifice for sins for ever, Heb. 10. 12. The Lamb of God taking away the sins of the world, Ioh. 1. 29. alluding to the daily Lamb for a burnt-offering, Exod. 29. 34. to 43. Christ our Pass-over sacrificed for us, 1 Cor. 5. 7. He is our scape-Goat, on whom God laid the iniquities of us all, that he might bear them away from us for ever, Isaiah 53. 4, 5, 6. (2) And Christ the true Sacrifice of Sacrifices did much more sanctifie to the purging of the conscience, then those Typical sacrifices sanctified to the purifying of the flesh. (p) Christ being come an High-priest of good things to come, by a greater and more perfect Tabernacle, not made with hands, that is to say, not of this building: neither by the blood of Goats and Calves, but by his own blood he entred in once into the Holy-place, having obtained eternal redemption for us. For if the blood of Bulls, and of Goats, and the ashes of an heifer sprinkling the unclean, sanctifieth to the purifying of the flesh: How much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal spirit offered himself without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead works to serve the living God? And afterwards; (q) — And almost all things are by the Law purged with blood; and without shedding of blood is no Remission. It was therefore necessary that the Patterns of things in the Heavens should be purified with these; but the Heavenly things themselves with better sacrifices then these. And again; (r) — Every Priest standeth daily ministring and offering often-times the same sacrifices which can never take away sins: But this man, after he had offered one Sacrifice for sins for ever, sate down on the right hand of God, from henceforth expecting till his enemies be made his foot-stool. These things declare Christs satisfaction for, and expiation of, his peoples sins by his own death and blood, by his true, real, proper and expiatory expiatory ſacrifice of himſelf, beyond contradiction.

7. Finally; The perfection, fulneſs and compleatneſs of Chriſts Satisfaction for ſin and Expiation of ſin by his Obedience, Death and blood, (and not by a fiction in Law, or Divine acceptilation, as they diminutively phraſe it,) is evident many wayes; (it being ſtill preſuppoſed, that God (f) gave a Law, Promiſed life upon perfect and perpetual perſonal obedience, but threatning death in caſe of failing, &c.) As,

(f) Gen. 2. 16, 17.

(1) By the Extremity of Chriſts Death and ſufferings. His ſufferings were various and grevious throughout his whole life: but eſpecially towards his diſſolution. As, 1. His agony in the Garden. (1) Sadning and wounding his ſoul moſt deeply even unto ſore amazement, Math. 26. 37, 38. Mark 14. 33, 34. Iohn 12. 26. (2) Making him pray more earneſtly, with ſtrong cries and tears, that that cup might paſs from him, and this thrice over, Math. 26. 39, &c. Luke 22. 44. Heb. 5. 7. (3) Cauſing, in a cold night, a bloody ſweat, in ſo great abundance, that it went through his apparel, and fell in great drops to the ground: wherewith he was ſo ſpent and weakned, that at preſent an Angel from heaven was ſeen to comfort him, and the next day he was not able to bear his Croſs, Luk. 22. 43, 44. & 23. 26. 2. His Deſertion upon the Croſs by his heavenly father for a time. So that he cried out; (t) My God, my God, why haſt thou forſaken me? 3. His curſed and bitter Death it ſelf upon the Croſs, Phil. 2. 8. Gal. 3. 13. The wages of ſin, Rom. 6. 23. Now why did God exact ſuch ſufferings, ſuch an Agony, ſuch a Deſertion, ſuch a bloody and curſed Death of his ſon Ieſus Chriſt: if it had pleaſed him to acquieſce in any ſlight ſatisfaction for our ſins? Theſe ſufferings of Chriſt were neceſſary to make full Satisfaction, becauſe it is impoſſible that the blood of bulls and goats ſhould take away ſins, Heb. 10. 4, 5, &c. Which Argument concludes not, if Chriſt ſatisfied onely imperfectly, and the father accepted of his imperfect as if it had been perfect Satisfaction.

(t) Mat. 27. 46. Mark 15. 34.

(2) By Chriſts Mediation and ſufferings as our ſurety, to whom it properly belongs to pay and ſatisfie fully for the whole debt, Heb. 7. 22. Of which formerly.

(4) By the infinite valor and boundleſs worth of his Obedience, blood and Death, being his that was God as well as man. The infinite Dignity of his Perſon infinitely dignified his Paſſion. So that his Sufferings for a time were equipollent to our deſerved ſufferings for ever. Hence, blood is called; (u) The precious blood of Chriſt: (x) The blood of Ieſus Chriſt his ſon: (y) The blood of God. He is called; (z) The bread that came down from Heaven. And it is ſaid of him; (a) The blood of Chriſt, who through the eternal ſpirit offered himſelf without ſpot to God.

(5) By

(5) By the witness of the New Covenant it self dedicated & established in this blood of Christ. Wherein God saith, (b) ——— And their sins and iniquities will I Remember no more. Now, where remission of these is, there is no more offering for sin. For by one offering he hath perfected for ever them that are sanctified, as the Holy Ghost by these words of the Covenant witnesseth.

(6) By the effects and fruits of Christs Obedience, Sufferings and Death. As, His (c) purging our sins by himself, and then sitting down on the right hand of the majesty on high. His (d) obtaining eternal Redemption for us. His (e) perfecting for ever, by one Sacrifice, them that are Sanctified. His (f) giving himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity. (g) The blood of Jesus Christ our Lord cleansing us from all sin. (h) Reconciling us to God by his Death. His (i) Condemning sin in the flesh, that the righteousness of the Law may be fulfilled in us, which walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit. And Christs death was so fully satisfactory and pleasing to God for us, that its said: (k) Christ hath loved us, and hath given himself for us, an offering, and a sacrifice to God for a sweet smelling savour.

(b) Heb. 10. 14,15,16,17, 18
(c) Heb. 1. 3 & 10. 12,13.
(d) Heb 9.12.
(e) Heb. 10. 14.
(f) Tit. 2. 14.
(g) 1 Joh. 1. 7.
(h) Rom. 5. 10
(i) Rom. 8. 3, 4.
(k) Eph. 5. 2.

By all this its evident, that Jesus Christ by his obedience, sufferings, blood and death, hath properly, really, truly, perfectly, and plenarily satisfied God Justice and Law for the sins of all his people, and hath by that perfect sacrifice of himself expiated and purged them away for ever.

Secondly. What are the branches, or cheif parts of Christs satisfaction. The parts of Christs satisfaction are chiefly two, viz. I. His exact, perfect, and constant fulfilling of the Law for us: for our Redemption, Justification, and salvation. This is called his active obedience. This is that, whereby in part we are redeemed and justified, &c. (l) ——— God sent his son, made of a woman, made under the Law, (that is, under the obedience of the law, as well as under the penalty and curse thereof for our disobedience) to redeem them that were under the Law, that we might receive the adoption of sons. (m) ——— By the obedience of one shall many be made righteous. (n) ——— Christ is the end of the Law for righteousness to every one that believeth. And Christ said, (o) Thus it becometh us to fulfill all Righteousness. And again, (p) Think not that I am come to destroy the Law or the Prophets: I am not came to destroy, but to fulfill. This therefore is one branch of his satisfaction. II. His undergoing or voluntary suffering the punishment, penalty or curse of the Law, even unto death it self, the death upon the Cross, as our Surety for our transgressions. As, Phil. 2. 8. Gal. 4. 4. 5. & 3. 13. 14. Isa. 53. 5, 6. Rom. 8. 3. 4. This is stiled his Passive Obedience. Both were necessary for our Righteousness and Salvation: This against our iniquity and sin whereby we had broken Gods Law already for time past; That, against our impotency and inability, whereby whereby we are wholly insufficient to keep the Law for time to come. Now both Christs Active and Passive Obedience, in order to Satisfaction, must be, Perfect, Meritorious, and For us. 1. Perfect. Not only in regard of Parts, but also of Degrees, Math. 3. 15. Heb. 10. 14. And this Perfection must needs be, and be acknowledged, in Christ. Partly, in regard of the sanctity of his Person, which was altogether holy, pure and spotless, without sin Heb. 7. 26. & 4. 15. Isa. 53. 9. John 8. 47. Heb. 9. 14, 15. 1 Pet. 3. 18, 22. Partly, in regard of the infinite dignity of his Person, 1 Cor. 2. 8. Luke 1. 31, 32, 33. Heb. 1. 2, 3. Heb. 9. 14. Zech. 12. 10, &c. Acts 20. 28. 2. Meritorious. Able to impetrate, obtain and deserve Redemption and Life for sinners. As, Heb. 9. 12, 14, 15. 1 Cor. 6. 20. 1 Pet. 1. 18, &c. 1 John 2. 1, 2. & 1. 7. 3. For us, and for his Elect people. That all his Obedience was performed, not for himself, but for us and in our stead, by Christ as our Surety, is plain in many Scriptures, Heb. 7. 22. His active Obedience, Gal. 4. 4, 5. Rom. 5. 19. 1 Cor. 1. 30. His Passive Obedience also, Isa. 53. 4, 5, 6, 7. John 1. 29. 1 Pet. 2. 24. Gal. 3. 13, 14. 2 Cor. 5. 21. Jesus Christ suffered and satisfied for us, (q) who had no need at all to suffer for himself.

(q) Pro me doluit, qui non habuit quod pro se doleret.

Thirdly, What are the Fruits or Effects of Christs Death and Satisfaction. The Fruits and Effects of Christ Death and Satisfaction thereby, are Many and most Comfortable. As,

1. Sanction, Dedication and Establishment of the New Covenant and all the Promises thereof, Matth. 26. 28. Heb. 9. 15, 16.

2. Pacification, or Appeasing of God: Christ is our Peace, Eph. 2. 14. Our Propitiation, 1 John 2. 1, 2. Our Propitiatory, Rom. 3. 25.

3. Reconciliation to God; The Enmity being taken away and destroyed by the Cross of Christ: (r) More Generally, Col. 1. 20. (s) More Specially, Ephes. 2. 20. Rom. 5. 10. 2 Cor. 5. 18, 19, 20, 21.

4. Redemption, purchasing and buying of his Elect unto God and to himself, from all manner of thraldom and bondage whatsoever, Rev. 14. 4. 1 Cor. 6. 19, 20. Tit. 2. 14. More Particularly, Christ by his Death and Satisfaction hath Redeemed us, 1. From all our Sins, Original and Actual, Tit. 2. 14. Heb. 1. 3. 1 John 3. 8. 1 Pet. 1. 18. 2. From the wrath to come, 1 Thes. 1. 10. 3. From the curse of the Law, Gal. 3. 13, 14. 4. From the wages of Sin, Death, Heb. 2. 14, 15. 5. From Satan, and all our Spiritual enemies, Heb. 2. 14, 15. Luke 1. 74. 6. From this present evil world, Gal. 1. 4. 7. From the earth, and from among men, Rev. 14 3, 5.

5. Donation of the Spirit promised, the great comprehensive blessing of Abraham, Gal. 3. 13, 14.

6. Ado-

6. Adoption unto Gods own Family, Gal. 4. 4, 5, 6.

7. Remission of sins and Justification, Eph. 1. 7. Col. 1. 14. Rom. 5. 19. 2 Cor. 5. 20, 21. Rev. 1. 5. Rom. 5. 9. Heb. 10. 16, 17, 18.

8. Sanctification, 1 Cor. 6. 11. & 1. 30. Tit. 2. 14.

9. Free liberty of entrance by Faith now, and fruition hereafter, into the Holiest of all, heaven it self, by the blood of Jesus, by a new and living way, which he hath consecrated for us, through the vail, that is to say, his flesh, Heb. 10. 19, 20.

Fourthly, For whom Christ made this his Proper and Plenary Satisfaction by his Obedience and Death. In General it may thus be resolved; Jesus Christ did properly and fully satisfie for them, for whom he peculiarly, purposely, intentionally, and savingly dyed. In Particular, Jesus Christ did not by an universal Grace and favour suffer and die intentionally and savingly for all and singular, as well Reprobates that are damned, as the Elect that are saved: but by special grace and favour, Christ did peculiarly, intentionally, savingly die for the Elect of God, and in their stead, who shall be eternally saved. For the Scripture doth peculiarly limit and appropriate Christs death to his Elect only; Declaring that Christ suffered, dyed, &c. for, His Church, His Sheep, His People, His Brethren, His Children, The People and children of God, and for those that are given to him of the Father. 1. For his Church; (r) Christ is the head of the Church, and he is the Saviour of the Body. —— Christ loved the Church, and gave himself for it, &c. (s) Take heed to your selves, and to all the flock, over which the holy Ghost hath made you over-seers, to feed the Church of God, which he hath purchased with his own blood. Hence the Church confesseth to Christ; (t) Thou art worthy to take the Book, and open the seals thereof: for thou wast slain, and hast redeemed us to God by thy blood, out of every kindred, and tongue, and people, and Nation. (u) ——— Unto him that loved us, and washed us from our sins in his own blood. (x) ——— Who gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity, and purifie unto himself a peculiar people, zealous of good works. 2. For his Sheep; (y) As the Father knoweth me, even so know I the Father, and I lay down my life for the sheep. —— I am the good Shepherd, the good Shepherd giveth his life for the Sheep. Hence Christ is stiled; (z) The great Shepherd of the sheep, through the blood of the Everlasting Covenant. But as for the goats, opposed to Christs sheep, Christ will shed and divide them from his sheep, fully and finally at last day; setting his sheep at his right hand, the goats on the left, judging these to eternal Punnishment, but those to life eternal, Mat. 25. 32. to the end. 3. For his People; (a) ——— Thou shalt call his name Jesus; for he shall save his people from their sins. 4. For his Brethren; (b) For both he that sanctifieth, and they who are sanctified, are all of one: for which cause he is not ashamed to call them Brethren, &c. Wherefore in all things it behooved him to be made like unto his Brethren, that he might be a merciful and faithful high priest, in things pertaining to God, to make reconciliation for the sins of the people. 5. For his children, Sons and Seed; (c) —— Behold I, and the children which God hath given me. Forasmuch then as children are partakers of flesh and blood, he also himself likewise took part of the same, that through death he might destroy him that had the power of death, that is the Devil, &c. (d) —That he by the grace of God should taste death for every man; (viz. for every sort of men, Gentiles as well as Jews: which after is limited to Sons, Brethren and Children of Christ, ver. 10, 11, 12, 13, 14.) For it became him, for whom are all things, and by whom are all things, in bringing many sons unto glory, to make the Captain of their salvation perfect through sufferings. (e) —— When thou shalt make his soul an offering for sin, he shall see his seed. These spiritual children and seed of Christ, are Christs all, and Christs many, which shall be justified: As the Natural children and Seed of the first Adam, are his All, his many that are condemned Rom. 5. 15. to the end. And that's the true intent of that parallel, betwixt the two Adams. 6. For the people and children of God; (f) — And this spake he not of himself; but being High priest that year, he prophecyed, that Jesus should die for that Nation: and not for that Nation only, but that also he should gather together in one, the children of God that were scattered abroad. 7. Finally, For those that are given to Christ by the Father; (g) As thou hast given him power over all flesh, that he should give eternal life to as many as thou hast given him. And Christ gives eternal life to them, by dying for them, and applying his death to them by Faith here, & full fruition hereafter, Joh. 6. 50, 51, 53, 54. & 17. 24. And Christ would not dye for all, or give eternal life to all: for he would not pray for all. (h) I pray for them, I pray not for the world, but for them which thou hast given me; for they are thine. Thus the Scripture declares for whom Christ peculiarly, intentionally and savingly dyed; and for whom he satisfied Gods Justice and Law by dying. And though Christs death in some expressions of Scripture seem to be extended to all, to every man, to the world, to the whole world, &c. Yet in all such places, those large and universal expressions are restrained, limited and appropriated to the Elect in some or other of those forementioned Notions: as the intentive and intelligent Reader may observe, if the context be heedfully considered.

If any learned Reader desire to see further into the state of this Question; And what further Arguments may be drawn from Scripture for Asserting of this Truth, And how the contrary Arguments from pretended Scriptures may be refelled, and the Scriptures cleared: I must for brevity sake, refer him to (i) others, who have learnedly and judiciously handled this Question at large; because I may not now expatiate, nor is it my intent (further then needs must) to be Polemical in this Treatise.

(II) Of CHRIST's Intercession. This is the second Part of Christs Priest-hood. Touching the Intercession of Christ, Consider; 1. That Christ is our Intercessor. 2. The Nature of his Intercession. 3. The difference of it from his Satisfaction, and from his Spirits Intercession. In the fruits and benefits of it in reference to his People.

1. That Iesus Christ is our Intercessor, interceding with God for his People: is evident two waies, viz. 1. By the Title of Advocate given to him. (k) And if any man sin, we have an Advocate (παράκλητον ἔχομεν) with the Father, Iesus Christ the righteous: And he is the Propitiation for our sins. Christs Person is righteous: His Priestly office is, To be our Propitiation, by way of Satisfaction; And our Advocate, by way of Intercession. Παράκλητος, Advocate, signifies also a (l) Comforter, and so its translated when ascribed to the Holy Ghost. But (m) learned men are of opinion, that it most properly and primarily signifies, an Advocate. Advocates, in Common acceptation, were friends of guilty persons called in to intreate for them: and differed from the Patron or Orator that mannaged their Cause, as (n) Beza noteth. More strictly it imports an Officer at Law, An Advocate, Atturney, &c. That appears and answers in Court for a man that is there accused, and pleads his cause. Thus Iesus Christ is our Advocate by Office, appointed of God, to appear for us, Answer for us, plead and intercede for us: when the Iustice or Law of God shall object any thing against us for our sins; or when Satan, who is (o) ὁ ἀντίδικος, properly) our (o) Court-adversary, 1 Pet. 5. 8. with Matth. 5. 25. The old accuser of the brethren, Rev. 12. 10. 2. By the Acts of intercession ascribed to him. He prayed on earth for them that did believe, or should believe, Iohn 17. 9, 20. He now appears in the presence of God for us, Heb. 9. 24. He ever lives to make Intercession for us, Heb. 7. 25. He is at the right hand of God, who also maketh intercession for us, Rom. 8. 34. The greek word (p) ἐντυγχάνει, maketh intercession, prorerly signifies one that attains the mark intended by darts or other weapons cast, &c. And thence metaphorically it denotes, To impetrate, to obtain what we desire, &c. Thus Christ attains exactly, impetrates and obtains fully, for us from the father, whatsoever he desires.

2. The Nature of Christs Intercession, Consists in (q) Christs gracious will, fervently, immovably and continually desiring, that, for the plenary (r) Merit and Satisfaction of his Obedience and Death, (s) the Persons and Spiritual Sacrifices (t) of all and every one of his elect members might be for ever acceptable with the Father, whereunto the Father fully and continually (u) assents. Here note, 1. The Execution. And 2. The Perfections of Christs Intercession. I. The Execution of Christs Intercession. Christ Executes his Priestly Intercession, 1. Inchoatively, on Earth, in his State of Humiliation, by Prayers for all and singular his elect people, with strong cries and Tears: and in such Posture or gesture, lifting up his eyes, Kneeling down, Prostrating himself or falling to the ground, &c. as was suitable to his Humiliation, John 17. 9, 20. Luk 22. 31 32. Heb. 5. 7. John 17. 2, &c. Luke 22. 41, &c. Matth. 26. 39, &c. Mark 14. 35. John 11. 42. Mat. 3. 17 & 17. 5. & 26. 53. 2. Perfectively and Consummatively in Heaven, in his State of higheſt exaltation. And this he doth, (1) By his appearing or presenting of his Person God man, as our Mediator and Suerty, in the presence of God for us, Heb. 9. 24 with Heb. 8. 6. & 7. 22. As (x) Judah both Mediated, and engaged as Suerty for Benjamin. Or, As (y) Paul Mediated, and became Surety for Onesimus. Christ Appears as a publick officer in our stead: As the High-priest of old did appear in the Holiest of all with the Names of the twelve Tribes of Israel upon his breast, and upon his two shoulders, for a Memorial, before the Lord, that Israel might never be forgotten, Exod. 28. 9, 10, 11, 12, 17, to 22. To which the Church alludes; (z) Set me as a seal upon thine heart, As a seal upon thine Arm. That, denoting Christs Love: This, the Manifestation of his Love. Iesus Christ still appears before God, for an Everlasting Memorial of his Elect: that they may never be forgotten any of them before God. (2) By his presenting his Obedience and Death, together with the infinite Satisfaction and Merit thereof, before his Father in Heaven, desiring continually that for the same all his elect in their Persons and Sacrifices may be fully and eternally accepted of God, 1. John 2. 1, 2. Rom. 8 34. Heb. 7. 25. This was notably Tipifyed in the Action of the High-priest of old, (a) He killed the sin-offerings, and then brought the blood of them within the vail into the holiest of all, and sprinkled it upon the Mercy-Seat, and before the Mercy Seat. This was one continued action of the High-Priest: his Act was not compleat, till the blood was represented within the vail, before the Mercy-Seat. Thus Christ first shed his blood, and offered himself by dying: and then entred as our Intercessor within the vail, into heaven it self, there to present his blood before God, to sprinkle it as it were on and before the Mercy-Seat, and to present his satisfaction and merit perpetually there for us. Otherwise, (b) if Christ were still on earth, he should not be a Priest (that is, not a compleat Priest) seeing that there are Priests that offer gifts according to the Law, that is, till Christ, by consummating his sacrifice, in presenting it before the Mercy-Seat in heaven, did abrogate the Levitical Priests. The inchoation of Christs Priest-hood did not abolish the Levitical Priest-hood on earth, but the consummation thereof in heaven by his Intercession did. Now Christ in his Appearing, Presenting his Satisfaction and merit, and Interceding for us in Heaven, doth not fall down, kneel, prostrate himself or pray to his Father as he did on earth; for such acts are inconsistent with the Majesty of his Glory and Exaltation: but all this must be understood to be performed suitably to his present and most excellent glory.

II. The Perfections and Excellencies of Christs Intercession are many and matchless. For, 1. It is grounded and bottomed upon his (c) Satisfaction and meritorious Propitiation, which was, by reason of the dignity of his Person God-man, of Infinite value. He first pacified God for us: then Intercedes with him on our behalf. 2 Hence, It is not Charitative, as our Intercessions are for others when we pray for mercies of free-grace for them, which nor we nor they can any way deserve; But (d) Authoritative, when Christ so intercedes for blessings for his members, as that he hath merited them, and hath also a joynt right and Authority of bestowing them. 3. Hence, It is universally (e) Prevalent with God. The Father infinitely accepts him and delights in him: and hears him always in all his Suits. This Master of requests is never denyed. His one Intercession, the voice of his blood of sprinkling, is more prevailing and effectual, then the Prayers and Intercessions of all the Saints in the world. Whilst (f) Christ appears and intercedes, no Accusations of Gods justice, Law, our Sins, or Satans malice shall be heard against his members: The voice of his blood silenceth all. 4. It is Glorious: viz. his (g) Intercession now in Heaven for it is at Gods right hand. 5. It is (h) General and universal: for all and singular his elect that are, or shall be his members. 6. It is fully (i) Salvifical to all that come unto God by him. 7. It is Perpetual and eternal. (k) He ever liveth to make Intercession for us. Oh! no intercession, is like Christs intercession. When we know not what to pray for as we ought, Rom. 8. 26, 27. Christ intercedes, and speeds for us. Our Names are alwayes upon the heart and shoulders of this our great High-priest before God.

3. The Difference of Christs Intercession from his Satisfaction, and from his Spirits Intercession is observable.

Christs Intercession and Satisfaction are joynt acts of Christs Priesthood, that may not be severed; yet must be distinguished. For, 1. His Satisfaction, was properly (l) Expiatory by his death and sufferings. His Intercession, is especially presentatory, (m) presenting himself and his Merits for us in Heaven. 2. His Satisfaction, was chiefly accomplished on Earth, in his Humiliation, when (n) he suffered without the gate; No sin, nor punishment for sin, can come within the Holy-place. His Intercession is (o) chiefly accomplished and compleated in Heaven, in his exaltation, at Gods right hand. 3. His Satisfaction, was by offering himself up for a Sacrifice. His Intercession is by Commemoration of that Sacrifice. 4. His Satisfaction, was by suffering. His Intercession is now without Suffering. 5. His Satisfaction tisfaction was made but (p) once by once dying, though the vertue of his Death be everlasting. His Intercession is (q) continual and uncessant for evermore. 6. His Satisfaction, obtained our Redemption, Reconciliation, &c. His Intercession tends specially to apply those Benefits obtained to us.

Christ and the Spirit, are both of them called our (παράκλητος) Advocate. Compare 1 John 2. 1. with John 14. 16, 17, 26. & 16. 7. And both of them are said to make Intercession for us. Compare Rom. 8. 34 Heb. 7. 25. with Rom. 8. 26, 27. But theres a great deal of difference betwixt their Intercession. For, 1. Christ intercedes (r) without us, with the Father. But the Spirit intercedes (s) within us, to the Father. 2. Christ intercedes for us, (t) as our High-priest and advocate by office, by Presentation of his Death, Satisfaction and merit, and undertaking our Cause with the Father against all contrary charge, or accusation of any adversary whatsoever. But the spirit intercedes, not as our High-Priest, but (u) as an Assistant to us by his Energy and operation, who by Christ are made Kings and Priests to God to offer up spiritual Sacrifices acceptable to God by him. The Spirit instructs, counsels, inspires, acts, moves, suggests, assists us: and so makes intercession for us, by enabling us to intercede for our selves, and plead our own cause with God in Christ. 3. Christ intercedes for us, (x) by the voice of his own blood speaking better things then the blood of Abel, by the Merit whereof he covers our Infirmities and iniquities. But the Spirit intercedes for us, by (y) raysing up in our hearts groans unutterable, by his vertue and efficacy helping our infirmities.

4. The Fruits, effects or benefits of Christs Intercession are manifold and very precious. As is evident by these particularly, viz.

(1) Hereby, All the infirmities, sins and iniquities, which the People of God, the Elect Members of Christ may possibly fall into, are remedied, and the full Pardon of them assured. (z) If any man sin, we have an Advocate with the Father Jesus Christ the righteous: and he is the Propitiation for our sins: and not for ours only, but also for the Sins of the whole world.

(2) Hereby, The Persons, Performances, and all the upright spiritual Sacrifices of Gods people, are presented to God as acceptable, and remain as a sweet memorial in his presence continually through Jesus Christ, Exod. 28. 9, 10, 11, 12, 17. to 22. Heb. 7. 24. Rev. 8. 3. 1 Pet. 2. 4, 5. notwithstanding all their frailties.

(3) Hereby, All Gods elect in Christ are sweetly secured against all the Oppositions, Temptations, Charges, Accusations, &c. that any spiritual Enemies whatsoever, World, Flesh or Satan can possibly lay against them. (a) I pray not that thou shouldst take them out of the world, but that thou shouldst keep them from the evil. They may, ye must be tempted: but shall be delivered from the mischief of the Temptation. Christ would not intercede for Peter, that he might not be sifted, but (b) that his faith might not fail.

(c) Rom. 8. 33, 34.

(4) Hereby, Gods people become more Plentifully Partakers of the Holy-Ghost the Comforter to lead them into all truth, and dwell in them for ever. (d) — If I go not away the Comforter will not come unto you, but if I depart I will send him unto you. (e) —— I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, (or, Advocate) that he may abide with you for ever, Even the Spirit of Truth, &c. Christ our Advocate, will intercede for the spirit another Advocate: that so we may have an Advocate in Earth, as well as an Advocate in Heaven; An Advocate within us, as well as an Advocate above us with the father. Oh, where this Comforter comes and dwels, there a Confluence of all Grace, Truth, Peace, Consolation, joy and spiritual blessings comes and dwels also. The Comforter brings all fruits and effects of the Spirit with him.

(5) Hereby, We have great encouragement, to (f) hold fast our profession, against all our Infirmities within, and Temptations without. For our Great High-Priest is in heaven, who was in all points tempted as we are, yet without sin, and therefore he hath a feeling of our infirmities.

(f) Heb. 4. 14, 15. & 10. 19, 20, 21, 23.

(6) Hereby, The faithful have sweet and free access to the throne of Grace for all manner of Blessings in time of need. (g) —— Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of Grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find Grace to help in time of need. We have a friend in the high Court of Heaven, the Great Master of requests, that will succeed and speed our Petitions. (h) Whatsoever ye shall ask in my name; that will I do, that the father may be glorified in the son. If ye shall ask any thing in my name, I will do it. Ask, and have: Oh what an encouragement unto Prayer! Christ (i) offers up much incense with the Prayers of all Saints. If the incense of Christs intercession be offered up with our Prayers, they must needs be most fragrant, acceptable and prevalent.

(7) Hereby, The faithfull are assured of that sweetest oneness, Union and Communion with the Father and Jesus Christ This is that one only thing on earth which Christ begs for the faithfull in his solemn Prayer, John 17. 21, 22, 23. They that gain this, gain all spiritual blessings with it, and in it.

(8) Hereby, The Saints obtain Perseverance and stability in Grace, and inseperableness from the Love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord against all adversaries and posible oppositions, Luke 22. 32. Rom. 8. 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39. It is Christ — Who is even at the right hand of God, who also maketh Intercession for us, who shall seperate us from the love of Christ? &c.

(9) Hereby, All the faithful that come unto God by Christ are assured of eternal salvation. (k) Wherefore he is able to save to the utmost utmoſt (Gr. to all-end) all that come unto God by him, ſeeing he ever liveth to make interceſsion for them. He intercedes eternally: therefore they ſhall be ſaved eternally.

(10) Finally, Hereby, Chriſt takes care that all his Elect may live with him im heaven, to behold his glory beatifically for their glory. (l) Father I will that they alſo whom thou haſt given me, may be with me where I am, that they may behold my glory which thou haſt given me. What a Raviſhing, Beatifical, Transforming, Inneffable viſion will that be! For unfolding of this Regal Office of Chriſt more particularly, I ſhall very briefly ſhew. 1. That Jeſus Chriſt our Mediator is King. 2. The Nature of his Kingdom. 3. His Regalities appertaining to him as King. 4. His Actual adminiſtration or execution of his Kingly Office. 5. The Benefits of his Kingſhip. 6. The Continuance of this Royal Office.

1. That Jeſus Chriſt our Mediator is King: is evident divers wayes. As; 1. By the Prophecies that went of him: which are true and muſt needs have their due Accompliſhment in him. As, That the Scepter of Judah ſhould terminate in him, Gen. 49. 10. That he ſhould be Gods King in Sion, &c. Pſal. 2. throughout, with Acts 4. 25, 26, 27, 28. That he ſhould be full of glory and majeſty, *&c. Ezek. 34. 23, 24. & 37. 24, 25. That he ſhould be a Prince of Peace, having the Government upon his ſhoulder, of the increaſe of whoſe Government and Peace there ſhall be no end, end, upon the Throne of David, and upon his Kingdom, to order it, and to establish it, with judgement and with justice, from henceforth and for ever, Isa. 9. 6, 7. That he should be the Messiah, the Prince, Dan. 9. 25. who should break in pieces all other Kingdoms, but of his Kingdom there shall be no end, Dan. 2. 44. & 7. 14, 27.

(b) See Heb. 7. throughout. Rom. 5. 1.

2. By the Types and shadows prefiguring Christ as King. As, of (b) Melchizedeck, first King of Righteousness, then King of Peace: A singular type of Christ our King, who first Justifies and then Pacifies. Of David, and Solomon: Both Royal Types of Jesus Christ the true DAVID, and Solomon; as I have (c) already manifested in many particulars.

(c) In Book III. Ch. 5. Aph. 7. Inference 2. p. 1072, &c.

3. By the many Regal and Princely Titles attributed to Christ in holy Scripture. Which (d) I have in this Chapter already mentioned.

(d) In Aph. 3. §. 1. at the end of it.

4. By Christs own (e) acknowledgemant before Pilate, that he was a King, that his Kingdom was not of this world, and that for this end he was born, and for this cause he came into the world, to bear witness to the truth; viz. Especially to the truth touching his Kingly office. For which cause especially he was (f) condemned and put to death, having this Title written upon his Cross in Latine, Greek and Hebrew, Jesus of Nazareth the King of the Iews. The truth of whose spiritual King-ship the Convert-thief had revealed unto him upon the Cross, whereupon he prayed; (g) Lord remember me when thou comest into thy Kingdom.

(g) Luke 23. 42, 43.

2. The Nature of Christs Kingdom. It is not A carnal, earthly, temporal Kingdom, but a Spiritual, Heavenly and Eternal Kingdom (h) My Kingdom is not of this world, — but now is my Kingdom not from Hence. (i) He shall raign over the house of Jacob (that is, the Church) for ever, and of his Kingdom there shall be no end.

(h) Iohn 18. 36.

The Kingdom of the Son of God, is twofold. Essential, and Personal. I. Essential, Which belongs to him in regard of his Divine Essence and Nature, as well as to the Father and Holy-Ghost. God, which is Father, Son and Holy-Ghost, Creator of the whole world, is absolutely Lord and King of the whole world. This Essential or Natural Kingdom belongs, as to the Father and Holy-Ghost, so to the Son, as God the Creator. But of this Essential Kingdom I am not now to speak. II. Personal, (k) which by the Fathers voluntary Dispensation, doth properly and peculiarly belong to the Person of Jesus Christ, God-man, as our Mediator. This his Personal Kingdom is hereupon by some stiled, His Mediatory Kingdom; because it properly appertains to him, and is administred by him as Mediator. By others his Oeconomical, or Dispensatory Kingdom: because (l) it is Delegated, Committed and Dispensed to him as Mediator from the Father. This Personal and Mediatory Kingdom of Christ God-man, dispensed to him from the Father, is again twofold. General, and Special. 1. General and Universal over all the world for his Churches good, and his own glory. Jesus Christ God-man, as our Mediator is constituted and ordained of God, Head, Lord, King and Iudge over all creatures in Heaven and Earth,

Earth, to the Church. (m) — According to the working of his mighty power, which he wrought in Christ when he raised him from the dead, And set him at his own right hand in the heavenly places, far above all principality and power, and might, and dominion, and every name that is named, not only in this world, but also in that which is to come: And hath put all things under his feet, and gave him to be the HEAD OVER ALL THINGS to the Church, which is his Body, the fulness of him that filleth all in all. To the like effect are these ensuing Testimonies, and such like, Mat. 28. 18. John 5. 22. & 17. 2. Phil. 2. 9, 10. 11. Acts 2. 36. & 17. 31. Rev. 1. 8. & 2. 23. 1 Pet. 3. 22. And therefore all Persons, Kingdoms, Creatures, and Revolutions of affairs, times and seasons in the whole world are ordered and over-powered by our Mediator Jesus Christ. Nothing (n) comes to pass in the world, but what he wills: and all one way or other shall at last be turned about in a sweet subserviency and co-operation, to his peoples good. The Parts of this Universal Kingdom of Christ are two, viz. (1) The Government of it, ruling over all creatures with supream and greatest power, Psal. 110. 1, 2, 3. Mat. 28. 18. 1 Pet. 3. 22. (2) The bringing of all Creatures, according to Gods appointment, into a certain and plenary Subjection at last to himself, and puting all things under his feet. Psal. 110. 1. Heb. 1. 6. Phil. 2. 9, 10, 11. 1 Cor. 15. 27. and although all things are not as yet in act and perfectly put under him, Heb. 2. 8. yet in Right and Inchoatively all things are put in Subjection under his feet, Heb. 2. 8. Ephes. 1. 22. 1 Cor. 15. 27. And this subjection of all things to him shall at last be universally compleated. The Manner how these things are done and shall be done, is divers, according to his two distinct Natures, viz. According to his Divine Nature, By manifestation and approbation of that power which the Son of God, made man, hath by his own right for ever over all Creatures as their omnipotent Creator. (o) For, as he in a sort emptyed himself of the glory of his Kingdom for the time of his Humiliation; not by any Privation of his Dominion; but by veiling of it under mean flesh and in a servile afflicted Form, Phil. 2. 7. So contrariwise he is said to have received a Kingdom, after the Glorification of his flesh; Not by accession of New power, which he formerly wanted, but by a famous Revelation and Confirmation of his ancient Kingdom which he alwaies had; whereby he, though clothed with flesh, may be by all acknowledged, to be LORD, Psal. 110. 1, 2. Phil. 2. 9, 10, 11. And According to his Humane, By having all finite Power, far above and over all creatures attributed to him, Math. 28. 18. Eph. 1. 21. And this is the Nature of his Personal Mediatory-Kingdom, which is General and Universal. 2. Special and Particular Over his Church and People Peculiarly. This Special Mediatory kingdom of Christ, is that his suprem and glorious power and authority for Calling, Governing, Defending, and Saving, or

Now from all this its evident, who are the Subjects of this King; viz. More Generally, All the Creatures in the world. More specially and peculiarly, The Church and people of God.

3. The Regalities appertaining to Iesus Christ as King, are many and very Majestical. As, 1. His Unction. 2. His Inauguration. 3. His Throne. 4. His Crown. 5. His Scepter. 6. His Laws. 7. His Prerogatives.

(1) His Unction. Kings in former times were Annointed with the Holy oyl, before their actual investiture and Coronation: as David was (p) Annointed, long before he was Crowned. This unction did import, their Qualification for, and Designation to the Royal office, 1 Sam. 16. 12, 13. Thus Christ was (q) annointed with the oyl of Gladness above his fellows: viz. With the Holy-ghost and with power; and God gave not the spirit to him by measure, as to others of his members. Christ had all fulness dwelling in him, for his mediatory offices: Extensively, all kinds of fulness; Intensively, All degrees of fulness. And all for us, See Col. 1. 19. Ioh. 1. 14, 16. By this Unction he was (r) fitted for his Kingship.

(p) 1 Sam. 16. 12, 13. 2 Sam. 2. 4.

(r) Isa. 11. 1, 2, &c.

(2.) His Inauguration. Christ was designed to be King, by Gods Decree, Psal. 2. 6, 7, 8. He was fore-promised, and fore-typified to be King, in the Old Testament, as hath been shewed; He was proclaimed to be Lord & King before and at his Birth, Luk 1. 31, 32, 33. Mat. 2. 2, 11. Luk. 2. 10, 11. He was acknowledged to be King at his Death, Ioh. 18. 33. to 38. & 19. 12. to 23. Luk. 23. 42, 43. But his Solemn Investiture, Installment or Inauguration was when he Ascended into heaven and Sate down on the right hand of God. (s) Who is gone into Heaven, and is on the right hand of God, Angels, and authorities, and powers being made subject unto him. (t) —— He hath set him on his own right hand in the heavenly places, far above all Principality, and Power, and Might, and Dominion, and every name that is named, not only in this world, but also in that which is to come: & hath put all things under his feet, and gave him to be the Head over all things to the Church. (u) He is set down at the right hand of the throne of God. (x) —— He is set on the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in the Heavens. This is Christs advancement far above Angels. For, (y) To which of the Angels said he at any time, sit on my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool? This phrase of Sitting at Gods right hand the Apostle expounds of Reigning there; (z) For he must reign, till he hath put all enemies under his feet. Iesus Christ is said; To be at the right hand hand of God, Rom. 8. 34. 1 Pet. 3. 22. To ſtand at the right hand of God, Act. 7. 56. Moſt uſually to ſit at the right hand of God, &c. Pſal. 110. 1. Heb. 1. 13. Mark 16. 19. Luk. 22. 69. Heb. 1. 3. & 8. 1. & 12. 2. All which are Metaphorical expreſſions, borrowed from men. Mans right-hand, is the hand of Honor, 1 Kings 2. 19. The Hand of Might and power, as Pſal. 26. 10. & 144. 8, 11. The Hand of skil and cunning, Pſal. 137. 5. Anſwerably, The (a) Right hand aſcribed to God, denotes His Majeſty, Glory, Honor, Authority, Power, Strength, Aid, Aſſiſtance, Counſel, Fidelity, &c. As is evident by many phraſes in Scripture. To ſtand at the right hand, implyes in Scripture phraſe; (1) To oppoſe, reſiſt, withſtand or hinder the acts or endeavors of any one, as Zech. 3. 1. Pſal. 109. 6. (2) To aid, aſſiſt, protect, defend againſt Enemies, Evils or Dangers, As Pſal. 16. 8. & 109. 31. (3) To have the next place and degree of honor to them at whoſe right hand they ſtand; Pſal. 45. 9. Thus Chriſt ſtanding at Gods right hand, Is next to God in honor, majeſty and power; Protects and Defends his Church againſt all evils; Oppoſeth and withſtands all their adverſaries. To ſit at the right hand, imports ſpecial Honor, Dignity, Majeſty, Rule, Power, Authority, love and favor, manifeſtified, or conferred upon them that are ſo ſet, 1 King. 2. 19. Math. 10. 21, 23. Thus, Chriſt ſitting at Gods right hand, denotes the ſupream exaltation of Ieſus Chriſt God-man, after his death and ſufferings, far above all created beings; to be immediate & next unto God in majeſty, glory, honor, power, authority, &c. Over all things, for his Church, 1 Pet. 3. 22. Eph. 1. 20, 21, 22, 23. Heb. 2. 7, 8, 9. Phil. 2. 8, 9, 10, 11. I ſay, The Supream Exaltation of Ieſus Chriſt God man: For, though properly the God-head of Chriſt be not capable of any intrinſecal and eſſential exaltation or Humiliation, as His Man-hood was: yet the Majeſty, (b) glory, &c. Of his God head, veiled and ſhadowed a while under his Man-hood in his Humiliation, by Manifeſtation is magnified at Gods right hand. And ſo in ſome ſence Chriſts whole perſon may be ſaid to be exalted, Act. 2. 33, 36. Eph. 1. 20, &c. Phil. 2. 9, 10, 11. Act. 5. 31. & 10. 42. Heb. 2. 7, 8. More Particularly, Chriſts Sitting down on the right hand of God, doth imply theſe things, viz. 1. The Fathers Supreameſt, Higheſt and Compleateſt Manifeſtation of his infinite love, favor, delight, and acquieſcence to, and in Ieſus Chriſt God-man our Mediator, for his ſufferings and Death for his elect. Upon this account God (c) teſtified his love to him often: but moſt compleatly and gloriouſly in ſetting him at his right hand, next to himſelf for evermore, Eph. 1. 20, 21, 22, 23. Phil. 3. 8, 9, 10, 11. with Iohn 10. 17. 2. The matchleſs and incomparable repleniſhing of Chriſts Humane Nature to the uttermoſt Capacity with all (d) fulneſs of the ſpirit in Knowledge, Wiſdom, Grace, Life, Power, Authority, &c. beyond all creatures, for the plenary, powerfull and moſt effectual adminiſtration of his Mediatorſhip. The ſpirit was not given to him by measure, Ioh. 3. 34. As to Steven and other Saints, said to be (e) full of the Holy-ghost; viz. according to their Measure, as a bottle or glass is full of water, or as a star, or torch is full of light: but beyond measure. Not infinitely: but Comparatively, in regard of all creatures. Christ being full extensively with all kinds, Intensively with all degrees of fulness: as the Sun is full of light, or as a fountain, or the ocean is full of water. For his fulness is to be diffused and communicated to his church: He is full, that he might fill all things, Eph. 1. 22. & 4. 10. Ioh. 1. 14, 16. 3. Christs Preheminence and Prerogative, not onely as God-man, but also as Man; above all creatures in Heaven and Earth, Men or Angels. In him the Humane Nature is advanced next to God himself, Eph. 1. 19,20,21. (f) He is the beginning, the first born from the dead, that in all things he might have the Preheminence. 4. Not onely Christs Dignity above, but his Power and supream Authority as God-man over all things in the world for the good of his Church: having all things (de jure, & inchoative) of right, and by inchoation, put under him. (g) And he hath put all things under his feet, and gave him to be the Head over all things to the Church. Here he is also called; The Head of all Principallity and Power, Col. 2. 10. 5. Christs glorious Head-ship more peculiarly over the Church. Christ is Head over all things to the Church, More Generally: but he is Head onely of the Church peculiarly; To animate, guide, direct, inform, actuate, and repleniſh the Church with all saving influences. (h) And he is the Head of the body, the Church, (i) —— Christ is the Head of the Church, and he is the Saviour of the body. And as supream and sole Head of the Church he hath all power and authority in heaven and earth given to him as Mediator, for her Constitution, Conservation and Salvation, Mat. 28. 18, 19, 20. 6. The due of Divine Adoration and worship from all men and Angels. (k) The father hath committed all judgement to the Son: That all men should honor the Son, even as they honor the Father. (l) —— And let all the Angels of God worship him. The Scriptures frequently ascribe divine worship to him, and require it to be performed, See Phil. 2. 9, 10, 11. Psal. 2. 12. Joh. 14. 1. Isai. 45. 23. Rom. 14. 11. Act. 7. 59, 60. (3) His Throne. A (m) Throne is a Majeſtical ſeat of Royalty, peculiar to Kings and Princes when they would appear in all their Glory and Majeſty. Chriſt hath his Throne: As God, the ſame throne with his Father; As God-man, the Next Throne unto his Father, which he ſate down upon after he Overcame all his and our Enemies. (n) To him that Overcomes will I grant to ſit with me on my Throne: even as I alſo overcame, and am ſet down with my father in his Throne. The further ſenſe of theſe words I have laid down (o) elſwhere. Now this Throne of Chriſt is in the Higheſt Heavens, according to his Humanity. (p) He is ſet on the right hand of the Throne of the Majeſty in the Heavens. There Chriſt is, Eph. 1. 20. Heb. 1. 3. Col. 3. 1. There Chriſt intercedes for us, Heb. 9. 24. & 8. 4. There he muſt be received, until the times of Reſtitution of all things, Act. 3. 21. Thence at laſt we expect him, and he ſhall be revealed, Phil. 3. 20, 21. 2 Theſ. 1. 9, 10. Chriſt according to his Humanity, is onely in heaven: according to his God-head he is every where, and ſo with his Miniſters and Churches to the worlds end, Mat. 28. 20. Now this Throne of Chriſt is Glorious, and everlaſting: (q) Thy Throne O God is for ever and ever.

(4) His Crown. Kings have (r) Crowns of Gold put upon their heads: Eminent Enſigns of Royalty. So Ieſus Chriſt, after his Croſs, came to his Crown: and that not a fading Crown of coruptible Gold, &c. but an unfading Crown of incorruptible Glory. (s) —— But we ſee Ieſus, who was made a little lower then the Angels, for the ſuffering of Death, Crowned with Glory and Honour. His Crown of Thorns on earth, could not keep him from his Crown of Glory in Heaven. And his members, (t) that are contented here to be crowned with Chriſts Thorns, ſhall hereafter be Crowned with Chriſts Glory.

(5) His Scepter. Kings have (u) Scepters to ſway; Signal Rods of Royal Majeſty, Rule, and Dominion: Scepters of Gold. Ieſus Chriſt alſo hath his Scepter; (x) Thy throne O God is for ever and ever, a Scepter of Righteouſneſs (Gr. Rightneſs, or Straitneſs) is the Scepter of thy Kingdom. Now Chriſt hath a double Scepter aſcribed to him in Scripture. 1. The one, as it were a Scepter of Gold, wherewith he Rules and Governs his Subjects, Pſal. 45. 6. Heb. 1. 8 The LORD ſhall ſend the Rod of thy ſtrength out of Sion: Rule thou, &c. Pſal. 110. 2. This Rod of his ſtrength out of Sion, is Chriſts Ruling Rod, or Scepter. Now there were two things ſent out of Sion (as is by (y) ſome well obſerved,) viz. (z) The word or Goſpel of the Lord; The Law ſhall proceed out of Sion, and the word of the LORD from Jeruſalem, Mic. 4. 2. (a) The ſpirit of the Lord, which was firſt ſent unto Sion, upon the Apoſtles at Ieruſalem, Act. 1. 4 & 2. 4 &c. And from thence was ſhed abroad upon all fleſh, Act. 2. 17. Both theſe are the Power or ſtrength of Chriſt. His word, a Goſpel of Power, the (b) power of God to Salvation. And his ſpirit, a (c) ſpirit of Power, which is therefore fore called the finger and arm of the LORD, Luk. 11. 20. Math. 12. 28. Isa. 53. 1. Thus Christs Rod, or Scepter of his Kingdom is his Word and Spirit. By these he powerfully Rules and Guides his Kingdom and all his Subjects. 3. The other Scepter is his rod of iron, wherewith he ([b]) breaks and dasheth in pieces all his enemies, as a Potters vessel.

([b]) Psal. 2. 9. Rev. 2. 27.

(6) His Laws. Kings rule according to certain known Laws: Tyrants rule arbitrarily, their will and pleasure is their Law. But Jesus Christ Rules by Laws, known Laws, ([c]) Holy, Just and Good: the best Laws in the world. The whole Scriptures stiled ([d]) The word of Christ, is his great Pandect, or Statute-Book: An Excellent Abridgement whereof we have in the ten Commandments. Christs Laws are Holy, without the least corruption or sinfulness; Righteous, without the least injustice or oppressiveness; Good, without the least incommodiousness; Perfect, without the least defectiveness; True, without the least errour or deceivableness; Pure, without the least drossiness; Wise, without all shadow of foolishness &c. See how ([e]) David extolls and admires them. And lest they should be, as mens Laws are, a meer weak, ineffectual dead letter without us, Christ ([f]) puts his Laws into our minds, and writes them in our hearts, that they be most powerful and efficacious within us. Not only outward Rules of Duty, but also inward principles of ability.

([c]) Rom. 7. 12. ([d]) Col. 1. 16. ([e]) Psal. 19. 7, &c. & 119. throughout. ([f]) Heb. 8. 10.

(7) His Prerogatives. Kings have many Prerogatives Royal, and they insist much upon them, that they should not in the least be infringed or diminished. As, 1. Tributes and Customs, Rom. 13. 6, 7. So Christ hath a spiritual Tribute of worship due unto him, Psal. 96. 8. 2. Magazins for Military provisions for defence of his Kingdom. So Christ hath his Armory for our defence against our spiritual enemies, Armour of light, &c. The Panoply of God, Eph. 6. 11. to 19. Rom. 13. 12, 13, 14. 1 Thes. 5. 8. 3. High waies, are called the Kings waies, wherein men go under the Kings Protection. So Christ hath his Royal waies of Faith, Repentance, New-obedience, called the Law of Christ, Gal. 6. 2. And the Royal Law of ([g]) liberty, Iam. 2. 8. They who walk herein are under Christs Protection. 4. Embassadors, 2 Chron. 32. 31. So Christ hath his Embassadors, beseeching men in his stead to be reconciled unto God, 2 Cor. 5. 20, 21. 5. Goods of an uncertain Lord, concealed Lands, not challengeable by any particular owner, &c. belong unto Kings as supream within their dominions. So those persons belong to Christ in the world, ([h]) who belong not to Satan, Sin, or other Lords. 6. The Laws and values of coyn that shall be currant in their dominions. So it ([i]) appertains to Christ only to coyn and institute what Ordinances he will in the Church. 7. Power of judgement is in Kings, as fountains of humane Equity to their inferiour officers and subjects. So Christ hath all judgement committed to him from the Father, John 5. 22. To which may be referred the Power of Princes to reprieve and pardon Malefactors factors and condemned Persons. Herein Christ excells, (k) He Remits sins, he Redeems from the curse of the Law, and delivers from Death, poor condemned sinners.

4. Christs Execution or Actual Administration of his Kingly office. This hath a twofold consideration. viz. 1. According to his General Mediatory Kingdom over all things for his Church. 2. According to his special Mediatory Kingdom over his Church.

(1) His General Mediatory Kingdom over all things for his Church, Eph. 1. 22. Christ manageth and administreth, especially by these and like Royal Acts, viz. 1. Sustentando. By (l) sustaining and upholding all things by the word of his power, continuing the world, &c. till all his Elect be gathered and perfected. 2. Permittendo. By Permitting Satan and his Instruments, wicked men in the world, to hate, oppose, afflict and persecute most cruelly the Church and people of God, for wise ends, according to the counsel of his will, Rev. 2. 10. & 12. 2, 4, 17. & 13. 6, 7. & 19. 19. & 20. 7, 8, 9. 3. Coercendo. By restraining, limiting, chaining up, girding in, both Satan, wicked men, and all their malitious rage against the Church and Members of Christ, that they cannot do what they list, but what, and when, and how Christ will let them or suffer them, Rev. 2. 10. He (m) laies hold of the Dragon, that old Serpent the Devil and Satan, and binds him a thousand years with a great chain: how much more doth he chain up devillish and wicked men. 4. Protegendo. By protecting, preserving and defending his Church and people from ruine and destruction by Satan and his instruments, Rev. 2. 10. (n) Michael and his Angels fought against the Dragon and his Angels, who would have destroyed the Man-child, Christ mystical, assoon as he should have been born, in Primitive times: the child being caught up unto God. And the (o) woman, the Church, persecuted by the Dragon, had wings given her to flie into the wilderness for her preservation, The earth helping her, and swallowing up the flood of persecution which the Dragon cast out after her. And in the corrupteſt times, Christ preserved (p) a pure Virgin-Company of sincere worshippers, viz. 144000. following the Lamb whithersoever he goes, having his Fathers name written in their fore-heads. 5. Ordinando. By Ordering, Disposing, Directing, and over-powring all things in the world, yea their worst afflictions and persecutions, one way or other for the good of his Church, People, Gospel and Kingdom at last, Rom. 8. 28. 2 Cor. 4. 17. Phil. 1. 12, 13, 14. The (q) Persecution about Steven, is made an occasion of spreading the Gospel and increasing the Church. Saul is powerfully (r) made a Paul, Christ from heaven converting him miraculously from a Persecutor to be a Preacher, from a Destroyer to be a Builder of the Church, from a Wolf to be a Shepherd, &c. The (s) Antichristian cruelties against Christs pure worshippers, do but provide for them a First Resurrection, a thousand years before the rest of the dead revive, and a Reigning with Christ. Yea all things are so wheel-

6. The Continuance of Chriſts Royal office. Chriſts Eſſential or Natural Kingdom which belongs to him as God equally with Father and Holy-Ghoſt, is abſolutely eternal, without beginning or end. Chriſts Mediatory Kingdom, for the Eſſence and Subſtance of it, (e) ſhall never end, but continue for ever and ever; otherwiſe the Church ſhould be deprived at laſt of her Head, and Chriſt ſhould ceaſe to be Mediator, &c. which things cannot ſtand with the Churches

ches eternal happiness. But, For the Manner of his Royal Government, and Administration of his Kingly office, so it shall (f) cease; He shall Rule his Church no more, after the last judgement, by his Word, Sacraments, Censures, and such Ordinances as he Rules her now by; but more immediately, gloriously, triumphantly, ineffably.

By all this that hath been said, The Nature of Christs Prophecy, Priest-hood and King-ship, wherein he actually exerciseth his Mediatorship is in some measure represented.

Section III.

What are those two States of Christs Humiliation and Exaltation, wherein he, As Prophet, Priest and King, thus executes his Mediation betwixt God and Man. This will best be discovered, by unfolding the Several steps or Degrees of Christs Humiliation and Exaltation severally.

ad 1638 Lo:

I. Christs state of Humiliation, was that his exceeding abased Condition, wherein, for his Elect, He for a time Emptied himself of his glory, taking upon him the form of a servant, Phil. 2. 6, 7, 8. Which he did especially in his Conception, Birth, Life, Death, Burial, and Continuance in the state of the Dead under the dominion of Death for three daies.

1. In his Conception, Christ deeply Humbled himself. Forasmuch as, 1. Being the eternal son of God, he Assumed the true Humane Nature Perfectly, into Personal union with his Divine Nature in fulness of time. Oh what Self-abasure! The maker of all things, was made man, (g) made of a woman, &c. God was manifest in the flesh, and so veiled in that manifestation. 2. He was conceived by a virgin, of Davids Race, but of a very (h) low, mean, poor and despicable condition for the outward man.

(g) Gal. 4. 4. Iohn 1. 14. 1 Tim. 3. 16.
(h) Luke 1. 48. Mat. 13. 55. Mark 6. 3.

2. In his Birth Christ deeply abased himself. For, 1. He (i) that from Eternity to Eternity was the living God, was in fulness of time born of a woman. He that (k) gives life and breath to all his living and breathing Creatures, took life and breath of a woman. 2. His birth was attended with many abasing Circumstances. As, He was born, Not at his Mothers Home, but in her absence from home: Luke 2. 4, 5, 6. Not in a Palace, but in a Common Inn: Not in the Guest-chamber, but in the very Stable, there being no room for such poor Guests as they in the Inn, Luke 2. 6, 7. he thats (l) clothed with bright bright glory and majesty, is wrapped in swadling clothes: He that ([m]) laid the foundations of heaven and earth, is laid in a manger, Luk. 2. 6, 7. Oh, how extreamly was he debased below the ordinary sort of men! Oh, how highly is humane nature advanced, even above the Angels! Oh why should sinfull dust and ashes, disdain or be ashamed of mean birth and parentage, when the undefiled Saviour of sinners, became thus mean in his conception and nativity!

3. In his life, Christ greatly humbled himself. For, 1. He ([n]) was made under the law, to fulfill it, and he did exactly fulfill it, though himself was the law-giver. 2. He was exposed to the violent, and subtile ([o]) temptations of Satan, who holds Satan in his chains of darkness to the judgment of the great day. 3. He was exercised with much course entertainment, and many vile indignities of the world. What hatred, opposition, contempt, reproach, contradiction of sinners, conspiracies, treacheries, and persecutions did he undergo? Joh. 15. 18. Mat. 13. 55. Mark 6. 3. Psal. 22. 6. Heb. 12. 2, 3. Mark 3. 21. Math. 12. 10, 24. & 22. 15. & 26. 14, 15, 16. 4. He had much ([p]) experimentall sense of humane infirmities, and afflictions; both common to humane nature, as ([q]) hunger, thirst, weakness, faintness, &c. and Peculiar ([r]) to his own low estate wherein he had debased himself. Yea his whole life, as it were from his manger to his cross, was a continued passion. Oh! why should sinners think they should live without afflictions in the world: when Jesus Christ, Gods only Son, without sin, could not pass through the world, without many sorrows?

4. In his death, Christ yet humbled himself more deeply. For, 1. He was villanously ([s]) betrayed by one of his twelve Apostles, Judas. 2. He was sadly ([t]) deserted by all his disciples, when he was apprehended. 3. He was ([u]) thrice most shamefully denyed by Peter, who a little before professed he would die rather then he would deny him. 4. He was most odiously ([x]) abused by false witnesses, by spitting in his face, blindfolding, mocking, buffeting, &c. 5. He was most causelesly, and unjustly ([y]) condemned by Pilate. 6. He ([z]) was disgracefully handled after he was condemned, by the barbarous souldiers. 7. He was ignominiously ([a]) crucified, between two notorious theives, and in that filthy stinking place, without the gate of the city, called Golgotha; to fix the deeper infamy upon him. 8. As before his condemnation in the garden of Gethsemane ([b]) he was in so deep an Agony, that he was sorrowfull to the death, and sweat great drops of blood falling down to the ground: so whilest he was hanging on the cross, the wrath of God was so heavy upon him for our sins, that he cryed out, ([c]) My God my God, why hast thou forsaken me? 9. Whilest he hanged upon the cross ([d]) he was reviled, reproached and mocked most blasphemously by the by-standers, yea by the very theives that were crucified with him. 10. He ([e]) yeilded up his life an offering for our sins, by enduring a painfull, shamefull, cruell, and cursed death upon the cross; being made a curse, to redeem us from the curse. Thus, the light of the world, was extinguished; the health of the world, was wounded; the life of the world, was put to death and murdered; and the Saviour of the world, who knew no sin, was made sin, for sinners.

5. In his buriall, Christ was yet further abased. 1. In that, he who hath the (f) keyes of hell and death, of grave and death, was laid dead in the grave: He (g) who should see no corruption, was buried in the pit of corruption, as the grave is stiled, Isa. 38. 17. 2. In that, He was buried meanly and obscurely without funerall, pomp or solemnity. Not by his own kindred, but by two strangers, yet disciples of Christ, (h) Ioseph of Arimathea, and Nicodemus. Not with Heralds, Escutcheons, Hearse, or Coffin: but in (i) a winding sheet of linnen with spices, as the Iews manner is to bury. Not in any burying-place of his Ancestors: but in the (k) new sepulchre of Ioseph of Arimathea which he had in his garden, near the place of his execution. As he (l) had not where to lay his head, while he was alive, so had he not where to lay his body, when he was dead; although (m) he was Lord of all, and Heir of all things. Oh, why should sinners stand so much upon pompous funerals, when Jesus Christ the sinners Saviour was so obscurely interred!

6. In his continuance in the state of the dead, and under the Dominion of death for (n) three dayes currant. Christ was also yet further abased. For, 1. So long Christ remained as a bondman and prisoner of death for our sins, as if he himself had been a sinner: so long (o) the power, pains, or cords of death did hold him fast. 2. So long he was a companion of the dead, in the land of darkness and forgetfulness. 3. So long, (p) Satan, sin, death, and the world, seemed to have gotten the victory of him, and to have insulted over him. This now was his last, and lowest degree of abasement, which some think is expressed in the Apostles Creed, by those words, (q) He descended into hell: which, being so understood, do set forth very clearly, and orderly, the series and degree of Christs humiliation, beyond any other interpretation given thereof.

(q) This Article [He descended into hell] is not anciently found in the Apostles Creed. For, divers of the ancient writers in their recitals, and expositions of this Creed, do presently pass from the Buriall, to the Resurrection of Christ, not once mentioning his descending into hell. As, 1. Irenæus. Adverſ. Heriſes, lib. 1. cap. 2, p. 50, 51, 52. Col. 1596. 2 Tertullian. De virginibus velandis, lib. cap. p. 188. Franck. 1597. & lib. adverſus Praxean, de Trinitat. cap. 2. p. 494. 3. Origen. libr. περὶ ἀρχῶν. ad initium. 4. Augustine, He expounds the Apostles Creed often: As, (1) In lib. de fide & Symbolo, pag. 139. ad 151. Tom. 3. Basil. 1569. (2) In lib. 4. de Symbolo ad Catechumenos. p. 1094. ad 1139. Tom. 9. (3) De tempore, Serm. 123. pag. 869, &c. Tom. 10. (4) And Serm. 125. pag. 872, &c. ibid. In all these places Augustine expounding the Apostles Creed mentions not the Article of Christs descent into hell at all. (So that Bellarmine takes it for granted that Augustine mentions not this part of the Creed at all, though he expound the Creed five times.

times. Bellarm. de Chriſti Anima lib. 4. cap. 6. Tom. 13. But Bellarmine is much miſtaken: For though Auguſtine in thoſe forecited places mentions it not, yet in three other places he expreſſeth it plainly: viz. (1) De Tempore, Serm. 115. De traditione Symboli, p. 849. Tom. 10. He, ſhewing what every Apoſtle contributed to the making up of the Creed, ſaith; Thomas ait Deſcendit ad inferna, tertio die Reſurrexit à mortuis. (2) De expoſitione Symboli ad Competentes. Serm. 131. de Tempore p. 887, 888. Tom. 10. Reciting the whole Creed, he ſaith, Deſcendit ad inferna, &c. (3) De expoſitione Symboli. Serm. de Temp. 181. pag. 989. Expreſſing that Article, Deſcendit ad inferna, he expounds it, but very unſoundly. Had Ballarmine obſerved his words, he would greatly have triumphed in them.) 5. Ruffinus, Aquileienſis, Presbyter, expounding the Apoſtles Creed, mentions and expounds this article, but adds: That it is not in the Creed of the Roman Church, nor of the Eaſtern Churches. Apud Cyprian. Tom. 3. p. 570. Sect. 20. Preux 1593. & apud Hieronim. Tom. 4. pag. 101. ad 116. Baſil 1553. 6. This Article is not in the Nicene Creed.

But this Article of Chriſts deſcent into hell is very generally received in after times, and found in the Recitals and expoſitions of the Apoſtles Creed, both with Proteſtants and Papiſts. Yet there is very much diſcord among writers about the ſenſe of this clauſe, He deſcended into hell. I. Some thus, He deſcended into hell, viz. He deſcended into the grave. And (as Beza Annot. in Act. 2. 27. notes) To deſcend into hell, Properly ſignifies to be buried; Tranſlatitiouſly, to be ſo oppreſſed with extream dolours of ſoul or body, as to be nigh unto utter deſtruction, as Gen. 37. 35. & 42. 38. 1 Sam. 2. 6. Pſalm 18. 6. & 49. 15. and elſewhere frequently. But this interpretation is rejected. 1. Partly, becauſe it brings in a needleſs Tautology into the compendious Creed. 2. Partly, becauſe this darker expreſſion is made exegeticall or explanatory to the former (and buried) which is far clearer, and thats abſurd. II. Some thus, He deſcended into hell, viz. His ſoul deſcended into the place of the damned, to deliver the Fathers from the skirts of hell, Limbo Patrum. So the Papiſts. Yet herein they differ among themſelves: (1) Some of them holding that his ſoul deſcended thither not in its ſubſtance, but in certain effects wrought there by it. So Durandus in 3. D. 22. Q. 3. whom Bellarmine refutes, lib. 4. de Chriſti Anim. cap. 15. Tom. 1. (2) Some that Chriſts ſoul in ſubſtance went really and locally into hell. So Bellarmine, de Chriſt. Anima. lib. 4. cap. 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16. Tom. 1. But this Popiſh interpretation is unſound. 1. Partly, becauſe that Limbus Patrum, and Chriſts fetching them thence, is a mear fable, without any ſolid ground of Scripture. As Joh. Calvin in inſtitut. lib. 2. cap. 16. Sect. 9. 2. Partly, becauſe Chriſt dying, and ſatisfying for our ſins, his ſoul went that day into Paradiſe: as Adam ſinning; was that day caſt out of Paradiſe, Luk. 23. 43. Gen. 3. 23, 24. Perkins on the Creed, p. 232. vol. 1. Lond. 1626. And his ſoul could not be in two places at once: Though Bellarmine be forced to grant this abſurdity, ſaying; Nec enim Deo impoſſibile erat efficere, ut Chriſti Anima ſimul, eſſet in duobus locis. Bellarm. de Chriſti Anim. lib. 4. cap. 15. ſub fin. Tom. 1. 3. Partly, Becauſe this deſcent of Chriſts ſoul was altogether needleſs, and to no end. What need was there of it, or to what end? Not to ſuffer in hell: For that was finiſhed on the croſs, John 18. 30. Not to Redeem or Reſcue the Fathers out of hell: For, the Elect were never there; and Redemption from hell was wrought by Chriſts death, Heb. 9. 12. 1 Theſ. 1. 10. Not to triumph there over the devils, &c. For Chriſt triumphed over them, on his croſs, Heb. 2. 14, 15. Col. 2. 14, 15. and by his aſcenſion —— Epheſ. 4. 8, 9, 10, 11. III. Some thus, He deſcended into hell, viz. He endured helliſh torments of loſs, and ſence in his ſoul. As in his agony, and eſpecially on the croſs. And theſe ſufferings of his ſoul, are in this phraſe of deſcending into hell, ſet after all his bodily ſufferings, for the more diſtinctneſs of order. This interpretation is embraced by many learned and godly writers: as Calvin in Inſtitut. lib. 2. cap. 16. Sect. 10, 11, 12. Vrſin & Paræus, in Urſin. Catechet. Explicat. Queſt. 44. Keckerm. in Syſtem. Theolog. lib. 3. cap. 4. With many others. And extram ſorrows or ſufferings are in Scripture phraſe ſomtimes ſtiled, ſorrows of hell, &c. Pſal. 18. 5. and 116. 3. 1 Sam. 2. 6. and this expoſition is pious. But yet ſeems not ſo ſu-

table here: 1. Partly, Because those helliſh ſufferings in Chriſts ſoul were implied in the former expreſſions, ſuffered under Pontius Pilate, was crucified, dead and buried. For they were not any ordinary ſufferings and death which Chriſt endured, but curſed and extream, and having deepeſt impreſſions of Gods wrath upon them, to his ſoul for our ſins. Gal. 3. 13. Therefore here to mention theſe ſoul-ſufferings of Chriſt again, would bring in a kind of tautology. 2. Partly, becauſe the phraſe of his deſcending into hell ſeems to point out ſome degree of his humiliation betwixt his buriall and Reſurrection, not expreſſed nor implyed before, viz. His bondage under deaths power and dominion for a time. IIII. Some thus, He deſcended into hell, viz. when he was dead and buried, he was held captive in the grave, and lay in bondage under death for the ſpace of three dayes. Thus Mr. Will. Perkins, in his Expoſition of the Creed, pag. 233. vol. 1. Lond. 1626. And the Aſſembly of Divines in their larger Catechiſm, as alſo in the leſſer Catechiſm and confeſſion of Faith. This interpretation I prefer before the reſt: 1. Partly, becauſe it ſets forth a degree of Chriſts humiliation after his buriall, and before his Reſurrection, which is no where elſe expreſſed, or neceſſarily implyed in the Creed: and this degree is alſo pointed out in Act. 2. 24. viz. his bondage under death, and grave three dayes. 2. Partly, becauſe this moſt excellently agrees with the ſeries and order of the Creed, ſetting laſt in order this his laſt and loweſt degree of humiliation as it befell Jeſus Chriſt. Theſe things may a little clear that dark, but uſefull clauſe in that excellent and very antient Creed, called the Apoſtles Creed, 1. More conjecturally, by ſome of the Ancients, who ſay, It is a tradition of the Elders, that after Chriſts aſcenſion, when the Holy-ghoſt fell upon the Apoſtles, enabling them to ſpeak all manner of languages, that they might preach the Goſpel to all nations, before they departed to this work, one from another, they joyntly agreed upon a rule of Faith or ſum of true Doctrine, which they would preach, and ſo being altogether, and full of the Holy-Ghoſt, they compoſed this rule of Faith, to be given to beleivers. See Auguſtine. Serm. 181. de Tempore. Tom. 10. & expoſit. Symbol. per Ruffinum apud Cyprian. Tom. 3. p. 564, &c. 2. More certainly, by ſome modern writers: who count it an Apoſtolicall Creed, only becauſe its very conſonant to the Apoſtolicall Doctrine recorded by them in the New Teſtament.

II. Chriſts ſtate of exaltation, is that his highly exalted condition after his abaſement, wherein he hath obtained (r) a name above every name, in heaven, earth, and under the earth; (f) being ſet at Gods right hand, in a heavenly place, far above all principality, and power, and might, and dominion, and every name that is named, not only in this world, but alſo in that which is to come: God having put all things under his feet, and given him to be the head over all things to the Church. This his exaltation more parculiarly conſiſts, in his Reviving, Reſurrection from the dead, Aſcenſion into heaven, ſitting down at Gods right hand, and his coming again to judge the world at the laſt day.

(r) Phil. 2. 9, 10, 11.
(f) Epheſ. 1. 20, 21, 22.

1. In his Reviving, Chriſt was exalted very much. For, 1. He was reſtored (t) from death to life; never to die more, but to be alive for evermore. 2. He revived, and quickned himſelf (u) by the ſpirit, viz. by the power of his own God-head: before He ſhould ſee corruption. 3. He ſo quickned himſelf, as really to unite his ſoul to his own numericall body that was crucified and buried, retaining all the eſſentiall properties thereof, yet the mortality, and all other infirmities thereof being utterly removed for ever, Luk. 29 39. Joh. 20. 27. Rom. 6. 9. Act. 13. 34. Rev. 1. 18. Chriſt that quickned his own dead body, can eaſily quicken our dead ſouls and bodeis.

2. In his Resurrection from the dead, Christ was exalted more. For, I. Christ (x) rose from the dead the third day, by the Power of his own God-head, never more to return to the pit of corruption. II. Christ by Rising thus from the dead, mightily and convincingly declared himself, 1. To be the son of God, Rom. 1. 4. 2. To have satisfied divine Iustice to the uttermost, for the sins of all his Elect, Rom. 8. 34. 3. To have purged away their sins for ever, by his death and blood, once offered, Heb. 10. 10. to 15. 4. To have conquered death and grave fully, and him that had the power of Death, the Devil, Acts 2. 24. Heb. 2. 14, 15. and much more, to have defeated the malicious Iews that sealed and watched his Sepulchre, Mat. 27. 62. to the end. & 28. 1, 2, 3, &c. 5. To be Lord of quick and dead, Rom. 14. 8, 9. III. Christ rose from the dead, not in a Private, but in a Publick Capacity; As a second Adam, As the first fruits of them that slept, 1 Cor. 15. 20, 21, 22, 23, 45. to 50. Directed them to tarry at Ierusalem till the Promised spirit was shed forth upon them, Luke 24. 49. Acts 1. 4. to 9. 6. Lift up his hands and blessed them, and as he blessed them, he was taken up into heaven, Luke 24. 50, 51, 52. Acts 1. 9, 10, 11. Thus he was exceedingly exalted by his Resurrection from the Dead.

(a) Luke 24. 50, 51, 52. Acts 1. 3, 9, 10, 11. Eph. 4. 10.

3. In his (a) Ascending visibly up on high into Heaven, yea far above all Heavens, fourty daies after his Resurrection: Christ was yet further exalted. For, I. Christ Ascended into Heaven in a Publick capacity, for us, as our Head and Fore-runner, and great High-Priest entering within the vail, Heb. 6. 19, 20. II. Christ Ascending, did triumphantly lead Captivity Captive; as it were chained all his and our conquered enemies to his triumphant Chariot, Eph. 4. 8. Psal. 68. 18. III. Christ Ascended into heaven for high and excellent ends. As, 1. That he might be both Lord and Christ, Acts 2. 34, 35, 36. 2. To receive gifts for men, and to give them, Eph. 4. 8, 11, &c. 3. To prepare a place in heaven for us, John 14. 3. 4. To allure and draw up our hearts and earnest affections after him into heaven, Col. 3. 1, 2. Phil. 3. 20. 5. To fill all things, Eph. 4. 8. 6. To sit down at Gods right hand, enthroned in highest Majesty and Glory, Heb. 1. 3. & 8. 1.

(b) In §. II. of his Kingly Office. 2. His Inauguration.

4. In his Session at Gods right-hand, Christ was most gloriously exalted. But of this (b) formerly.

5. Finally, In his coming at last to judge the whole world, Christ shall be most visibly and openly exalted before Men and Angels. But of this also (c) heretofore.

(c) In §. II. at latter end.

These are the two states of Christ, his Humiliation, and Exaltation, wherein he most mysteriously executes his Prophetical, Priestly, and Kingly Mediation for his Church.

Thus of the third Aphorism.

APHORISM

APHORISM IV.

Of Christs Eſtabliſhment of his New Covenant, and Application of it to Gods Elect.

THat JESUS CHRIST, by vertue of this his Prophetical, Prieſtly and Kingly Mediation, Surety-ſhip and Teſtator-ſhip, hath eſtabliſhed his NEW COVENANT for ever; And is continually bringing all thoſe whom the Father hath given him into this New Covenant with God, To Partake all the Mercies, and Perform all the Duties thereof. In this Aphoriſm are two things eſpecially conſiderable, viz. 1. Chriſts Eſtabliſhment of his New Covenant. 2. Chriſts bringing of perſons into this Covenant with himſelf. That, is his Dedication of it, to make it of force in it ſelf: This, is his Application of it, to make it of force and efficacy unto us. Without that, there had been no New Covenant: Without this, we have no benefit by the New Covenant.

I. JESUS CHRIST, as Mediator, Surety and Teſtator, hath eſtabliſhed his New Covenant for ever.

1. As Mediator. By vertue of his Mediation Chriſt hath ſtabliſhed the New Covenant divers waies, viz. 1. By his Prophecy, Revealing it, and founding it upon better Promiſes then thoſe of the Old Covenant. (d) ——— He is Mediator of a better Covenant, which was eſtabliſhed upon better Promiſes. 2. By his Prieſthood; (1) Dedicating, and by ſolemn ſanction (e) confirming it at firſt by Sacrifice and blood; by the beſt blood that ever was ſhed, even his (f) own moſt precious blood, the blood of God: and by the beſt Sacrifice that ever was offered up to God, even (g) the Sacrifice of himſelf, by the Eternal Spirit. The (h) Old Covenant was Dedicated with blood and ſacrifices, but alas thoſe were but ſhadows: no blood is like Chriſts blood, no Sacrifice like Chriſts Sacrifice, whereby he dedicated his New Covenant for ever. This is (i) the blood of the Everlaſting Covenant. The vertue of this blood ſhall laſt ever: and ſo the vigour of this New Covenant ſhall laſt ever. Chriſt can never die more: nor ſhall the New Covenant in his blood ever die, for the ſubſtance of it: nor ſhall any other Covenant ſucceed it, for the Adminiſtration of it, ſo long as the world ſhall continue. (2) Ratifying it ever ſince his Aſcenſion into heaven, (k) by his Continual Appearing there in the preſence of God for us, repreſenting the Merits of his Obedience and blood, ſo making continual Interceſſion for us: that all the New Covenant Benefits may be eternally ours. 3. By his Kingſhip

(3) And powerfully bestowing the great blessing of the New Covenant, the Holy-Ghost and his Influences, both upon his Ministers and on other Believers, Acts 2. 1, 2, &c. & 10. 44, &c. As a pregnant Seal both of the New Covenants Authority and Efficacy.

2. As Surety. By vertue of his Surety-ship, Christ hath established his New Covenant. (o) —— And in asmuch as not without an Oath, he was made Priest, (for those Priests were made without an Oath: but this with an Oath, by him that said unto him, The Lord sware and will not Repent, Thou art a Priest for ever after the Order of Melchizedeck) By so much was Jesus made a Surety of a better Covenant. Hence, 1. Christ is Priest after the Order of Melchizedeck for ever. 2. Christ is made Priest by Gods Oath which cannot be changed, of which God will not repent. 3. Therefore the New Covenant, wherein he exerciseth this his Melchizedeckian and unchangeable Priest-hood, is a Better Covenant, then the Old (The word Διαθήκης, should be here translated, Covenant, rather then Testament, because properly a Surety hath no place in Testaments.) 4. And of this Better New Covenant Christ is so Priest and Mediator, that he is Surety, to confirm, establish and make good the Covenant. The term ἔγγυος, Surety, I have already explained in this Chapter. Jesus Christ, as Surety establisheth this New Covenant especially three waies, viz. 1. Solvendo. By (p) paying our debt, enduring a cursed death upon the Cross under the wrath of God for our sins, against Gods Law, and in our stead, (q) as hath been manifested. Christ hath redeemed us from the curse, being made a curse for us. When the Surety hath discharged the debt, the Principal is set at liberty from it, it can in justice be exacted no more of him: Christ having satisfied for our sins, God requires no more satisfaction from us, if we will accept and apply Christs satisfaction to our selves. 2. Servando. By keeping and fulfilling Gods (r) Law and Covenant of works most exactly for us, who in our selves are utterly unable to keep it. By whose Obedience, as well as by his Satisfaction, we are made Righteous, Rom. 5. 9, 19. 3. Spondendo. By Promising and undertaking for us, as our Sponsor and Fidejussor, (f) that we shall in uprightness keep the Law of God. Now, Jesus Christ having as our Surety fully satisfied Gods Justice for our breach of the Law, fulfilled the Law perfectly for us who could not keep the Law, and enabled us by his Spirit and Grace to keep it in uprightness, the Law and Justice of God have now nothing against us, that may hinder our acceptance with God in Christ, according to this New Covenant. So Christ, as our Surety stablisheth this New Covenant, for us, and to us.

3. As

3. As Teſtator. By vertue of his Teſtator-ſhip Chriſt eſtabliſheth alſo this New Covenant, as his laſt will and Teſtament (t) by his Death. Whileſt a Teſtator lives, he hath power and liberty of altering his Teſtament as oft as he pleaſeth: Hence no mans Teſtament is of force while the Teſtator liveth, but after he is dead; then none may add thereto, or take thence from, or alter therein. Thus Chriſt is Teſtator: His New Covenant is his (u) New Teſtament, confirmed by his Death, beyond all Revocation, Addition, Detraction, or Alteration for ever. It can no more be diſanulled, then Chriſt can be brought down again from the right hand of God to die a ſecond time.

II. Jeſus Chriſt our Mediator, Surety and Teſtator, having eſtabliſhed his New Covenant for ever, eſpecially (x) by his blood of the everlaſting Covenant; In the next place he proceeds to Apply this New Covenant, and to bring men into this Covenant with God in Chriſt, by Vocation or Calling them thereinto. Here Conſider, 1. That Chriſt brings men into this New Covenant, and applyes it to them, by Vocation, or Calling them. 2. Wherein the Nature of this Vocation conſiſts.

(x) Heb. 13. 20.

1. That Ieſus Chriſts our Mediator, Surety and Teſtator, brings men into this New Covenant with God, by calling them; is evident. I. By Scripture-Teſtimony. For, 1. Peters hearers are exhorted to repent and be Baptized (Baptiſm being the New Covenant Token) becauſe the Promiſe (viz. The famous Promiſe made to Abraham, Iſaac and Iacob of bleſſing all Nations in their Seed, Chriſt) belonged not only to the Iews and their Seed; but alſo to all the Gentiles afar off, who ſhould be called by God, and to their Seed: But the Gentiles muſt be firſt called, and then partake the Promiſe, (y) —— Repent and be baptized —— For the Promiſe is unto you, and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God ſhall Call. So, though the New Covenant be extended to all Nations, yet they muſt be brought into it, and have it actually applyed to them by Calling. 2. Paul tells the Hebrews, that Chriſt by his Death redeemed not only us under the New, but the Fathers alſo under the Old Teſtament, from tranſgreſſion: but the benefit of this Redemption, and the Covenant, are applyed unto the called only. (z) And for this cauſe he is the Mediator of the New Covenant, that by means of Death, for the redemption of the tranſgreſſions which were under the firſt Teſtament, they which are called might receive the Promiſe of eternal inheritance. II. By Chriſts Miſſion of, and Commiſſion to his Apoſtles, for Preaching the Goſpel and New Covenant Doctrine to all Nations in the world, that they might be brought into this New Covenant, upon embracing whereof they were to be marked with Baptiſm the firſt New Covenant-

(a) — Who hath blessed us with all spiritual blesings in heavenly things in Christ. (b) — All things are yours, whether Paul, or Apollo, or Cephas, or the world, or life, or death, or things present, or things to come, All are yours, and ye are Christs. And usually the Covenant-blessings of Christ, are said to be ours, in reference to our union to Christ, or being in Christ. As, Redemption, Eph. 1. 7, 8, 9. Reconciliation, 2 Cor. 5. 19. Adoption, Iohn 1. 11, 12. Iustification, Phil. 3. 9. Sanctification, 1 Cor. 1. 2. Inheritance, Acts 26. 18. Eph. 1. 11. All things, Rom. 8. 32, &c. Thus all our Communion with Christ in his Redemption, Reconciliation, Son-ship, Righteousness, &c. flows from our Union to Christ: and our Union to Christ is effected by our Vocation or Calling to him, 1 Cor. 1. 9. Now, when by Calling we are United to Christ, and by Union to Christ have Communion with him in all his New Covenant Benefits promised, By this Calling we are actually brought into this New Covenant with God, and enstated therein.

2. Wherein the Nature of this Vocation or Calling consists, by which Iesus Christ brings men into his New Covenant with God, to partake the Benefits, and Perform the Duties thereof. Thus I shall open it very briefly: by Considering, The Author, Instrumental Means, Matter, Terms, Form, and End thereof. I. The Author or Efficient Cause of Calling, is God, Father, Son and Holy-ghost, viz. The Father by the Son, Through the Holy-Ghost. (c) — According to the Power of God, who hath saved us, and called us with an Holy Calling. (d) God is faithfull, by whom ye were called unto the fellowship of his son Iesus Christ our Lord. See also, 1 Cor. 1. 26, 27, 28. 2 Thes 2. 13, 14. Rom. 8. 28, 30. (e) —— But the God of all Grace who hath called us into his eternal glory by Christ Iesus, — (f) Renewing of the Holy-Ghost. God calls, 1. According to his eternal Decree and Purpose, and not otherwise, 2 Tim. 1. 9. Rom. 8. 28, 30. 2. Therefore, of his own meer Grace, whom, when, whereby, and how he pleaseth: not according to any works or worth in man, 2 Tim. 1. 9. Rom. 9. 15, 16, 18.

16, 18. Tit. 1. 5. Iam. 1. 18. 1 Cor. 1. 26, 27, 28. II. The Instrumental Means of Calling, under God, is ordinarily, the New-Covenant Gospel preached. (g) God hath from the beginning chosen you to salvation, through Sanctification of the Spirit and belief of the Truth, whereunto he called you by our Gospel, to the obtaining of the glory of our Lord Iesus Christ. Somtimes by reading the Scriptures, and Scripture-Doctrine in good books, as also by Conference even with private Christians, men may instrumentally be called: but Ordinarily this is wrought by the publick preaching of the New Covenant Doctrine. This onely is that Doctrine which extends the Gospel, and offers Christ to all Nations, Mark 16. 15, 16. Math. 28. 18, 19, 20. Heb. 8. 8, 9, &c. Act. 9. 15. The Law is herein of use to Detect sin, Convince and Humble the Sinner, and so to prepare him for Christ, Rom. 3. 20. & 7. 7, 9, 10. But herein the Law is to be used with subserviency to the New Covenant, and in order thereunto. Hence the Ministers of the New Testament are sent forth to preach this New Covenant doctrine to all Nations, thereby Calling, Inviting, Perswading men to come in, believe in Christ, and be converted, Math. 28. 19, 20. Mark 16. 15, 16. Act. 9. 15. & 26. 17, 18. And therefore, (h) they are said to call men, Gal. 1. 6. They are the servants that call to the Marriage of the Kings son, Mat. 22. 2. to 15. They are Planters, Waterers, Co-workers with God, Ministers by whom men believe, &c. 1 Cor. 3. 5. to 11. But all the efficacy is of God. III. The Subject-Matter of this Calling, or Parties Called, are wretched, lost, undone Sinners of all Nations, Iewish or Gentilish, of all Sexes, Ages, Conditions, even of all sorts of Sinners some, without respect of persons, Math. 22 2. to 15. 1 Cor. 1. 26, 27, 28. Act. 10. 34, 35, &c. & 26. 17, 18. & 9. 15. Luk. 24. 46, 47. IV. The Terms, points or states from which and to which they are called, are: From Sin, Satan and the world: To Iesus Christ, to his Grace, fellowship, glory, &c. and in him unto God. (i) —To shew forth the vertues of him that hath called you, out of Darkness into his marvellous light: which in time past were not a people, but now are the people of God, &c. (k) — Delivering thee from the people, and from the Gentiles, unto whom now I send thee, To open their eyes, and to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins, and inheritance among them that are Sanctified, by faith that is in me. (l) — from him that called you into the Grace of Christ. (m) — By whom ye were called unto the fellowship of his son Iesus Christ our Lord. (n) — Who by him do believe in God. V. The Form or Manner of this Calling, is chiefly, (1) In the tender or Offering of Christ, and of all saving Happiness in him, unto Sinners. (2) In Sinners accepting, embracing or closing with this Tender. 1. Christ, and all saving Happiness in him, is offered or tendered unto Sinners, on Gods part, &c. Act. 4. 12. Heb. 7. 25. 1 Cor. 1. 23, 24. 2 Cor. 5. 19, 20, 21. Math. 22. 2. to 15. Math. 11. 28, 29, 30. This tender tender or offer of Christ to Sinners is twofold, viz. Ineffectual, and Effectual. (1) Ineffectual, which becomes not fully efficacious to Conversion and Salvation. And this again is either, Outward onely, when Christ and his benefits are onely outwardly tendered in his Gospel, New Covenant Promises, &c. preached and propounded, Act. 2. 38, 39. & 9. 15. & 13. 38, 39. As, when the Preaching of the Gospel is tendered to them, that refuse to hear it, but put it from them, stop their ears against it, contradict, &c. Act. 7. 57. & 13. 45, 46. or if they do hear it, yet do not understand it, (much less assent to it,) as the Hearer compared to the ground by the way side, Math. 13. 4, 19. Inward also, when the word is not only offered and propounded to the outward Ear, but also to the inward heart: So that they not onely hear it, but understand it, Math. 21. 45, 46. Yea sometimes not onely understand it, but also by a temporary Faith for a time Assent to it and receive it with Joy, Math. 13. 5, 6, 20, 21. Luke 8. 6, 13. All these degrees of Calling, Outward and Inward, are ineffectual, and insufficient to Salvation: yet are they of great use, consequence and advantage to the interessing of persons in the visible Church, to the partaking of all the ordinances and means of Grace, whereby much sin may be prevented, and perhaps true grace may be conveyed. (2) Effectual, when Christ and his benefits are so tendered to the Mind and Heart in the New Covenant-Doctrine, That the mind is savingly illuminated to understand, and the heart effectually opened to assent to the tender, and fiducially to apply it, Luk. 8. 15. Eph. 1. 17. Iohn 6. 45. Act. 16. 14. & 8. 35, 36, 37. From this different tender of Christ Ineffectual and Effectual, ariseth that Distinction of Ineffectual calling; (o) Many are called and few chosen: and effectual Calling, viz. (p) according to Gods purpose of Election. That, may befall Hypocrites and Reprobates: This, is peculiar onely to the Elect. Thus Christ and all saving Happiness in him is propounded and tendered to Sinners. 2. This Offer and tender of Christ and of all saving happiness in him; is Accepted, Entertained and Embraced by Sinners: so that Christ becomes theirs, and they Christs, Ioh. 6. 56. 1 Cor. 3. 23. His house, Heb. 3. 6. Christ dwelling in their Hearts by faith, Eph. 3. 17. His branches, Ioh. 15. 1, 5. His Members, 1 Cor. 12. 12. Members of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones, Eph. 5. 30. yea the very name Christ is given them, in a collective sense, 1 Cor. 12. 12. As this tender of Christ, is properly stiled vocation, wherein (q) the Father draws the sinner to Christ: So this Acceptance or Reception of Christ tendered, is called (r) Regeneration, and (s) Renovation, as it is a beginning of New Life; And Conversion, in as much as they that obey the divine Call are (t) turned from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God. This Reception of Christ tendered is twofold; viz. Passive and Active. (1) Passive, when God apprehends the sinner, infusing into his soul, Habits, Principles, Seeds of Faith, Repentance, Grace, Grace, &c. whereby the dark mind is enlightened, the dead heart is quickned, the unwilling will is made willing, &c. Phil. 3. 11. Eph. 1. 17. 2 Cor. 4. 6. Iohn 6. 44. Eph. 2. 1, 5. Phil. 2. 13. This mighty work of grace upon the heart and will of the Sinner, is not upon the will or heart, either as a free agent, or as a Natural patient, but in regard of that Obediential disposition wherein it stands to Gods Almighty power, which it cannot but obey, and yield unto, coming to any thing whereunto he will bring it, powerfully and efficaciously, Phil. 2. 13. Iohn 6. 44. Eph. 2. 8. (t) Active, when the mind, will and heart of a sinner thus apprehended, qualified and principled by God, through his assistant and co-operating grace, doth accept Iesus Christ by faith, fiducially resting and relying upon Christ alone, and upon God in him, for life and salvation, Iohn 6. 37, 44. & 3. 15, 16. 1 Pet. 1. 21. And as the Soul by Faith turns to Christ as his chief good: so by Repentance it also turns from sin as the chief evil, inconsistent with that good. Hence, Faith and Repentance are linked together in Scripture, as two inseparable Twin graces, Mark 1. 15. Acts 19. 4. And as Faith, so true Repentance, is the meer gift of God, Acts 11. 18. 2 Tim. 2. 25. But of the Nature both of (u) Faith, and (x) Repentance, I have spoken heretofore: there see. And thus the Sinner is savingly brought by Christ into his New Covenant.

Inferences from the whole, touching Iesus Christ the Mediator of this New Covenant.

I. Hence, Behold and admire the infinite Severity and Goodness of God, in giving so necessary and sufficient a Mediator betwixt God and man, as Jesus Christ God-man. His Severity against sin: His Goodness to the Sinner. His Severity against sin was such, that he would not pass it by without full Satisfaction; by Sinners or their Surety: The violation of his Law must be duly punished with death, The (y) Truth of his threatning must be fulfilled, his offended justice must be appeased: otherwise no Pardon or Peace with God could be obtained. The Sinner could not do it; The Surety must: that the creature might not lose his happiness, nor the Creator his glory. His Goodness therefore was boundless towards Sinners, that rather then they should die and perish periſh eternally as they had deſerved, Jeſus Chriſt, God-man, the ſpotleſs Son of God, Heb. 7. 25. ſhall ſuffer and die for them, Iob. 3. 16. Rom. 5. 6, 7, 8, 9, 10. & 8. 32. 1 Pet. 2. 24. & 3. 18. 2 Cor. 5. 21. Gal. 3. 13, 14. Here is love, mercy, bowels, goodneſs, even to aſtoniſhment; that God ſhould give a ſon, his own ſon, his righteous ſon, his only ſon, his ſon who was God; for whom? for us, us wretches, us ſinners, us rebellious enemies. Oh who can eſtimate this love ſufficiently (ſaith (z) Salvian,) God loves us more then a father his ſon: for he ſpared not his own ſon, but delivered him up for us all, Rom. 8. 32. To this point Auguſtine ſpeaks ſweetly and pathetically; (a) Oh admirable condition of the cenſure, O ineffable diſpoſition of the myſterie! The unjuſt ſins, and the juſt is puniſhed: the guilty tranſgreſſeth, and the innocent is ſcourged: the impious offends, and the pious is condemned: The good ſuffers, what the bad hath deſerved: The Lord payes, what the ſervant hath perpetrated: God undergoes, what man hath committed, &c.

(z) Plus nos amat Deus, quam filium pater. Evidens quippe res eſt, quod ſupra affectum illorum nos Deus diligit, qui propter nos filio non pepercit. Et quid plus addo? & hoc filio juſto, & hoc filio unigenito, & hoc filio Deo. Et quid dici amplius poteſt? & hoc pro nobis, id eſt, pro malis, pro impiiſſimis, pro iniquis. Quis æſtimare hunc ergo nos Dei amorem queat, niſi quod juſticia Dei tanta eſt, ut in eum aliquid injuſtum cadere non poſſit? &c. Salvian. Miſſ. de Gub. Dei, lib. 4. p. 121, &c.

(a) O mirabilis cenſuræ conditio. & ineffabilis myſterii diſpoſitio! Peccat iniquus, & punitur juſtus; delinquit reus, & vapulat innocens: offendit impius, & damnatur pius: Quod meretur malus, patitur bonus: Quod perpetrat ſervus, Exolvit Dominus: quod committit homo, ſuſtinet Deus. Quo nate Dei, quo tua deſcendit humilitas? quo tuos ingravit charitas? quo profluxit pietas? quo excrevit benignitas? quo tuus attigit amor? quo pervenit compaſſio? &c. Aug. lib. meditat. cap. 7. Tom. 9.

II. Hence IESUS the ſon of God, and of the Virgin Mary, the mediator, ſurety and teſtator, of the New Teſtament, is the only true CHRIST and promiſed MESSIAH. This (b) hath been already demonſtrated. And therefore every one pretending to be Chriſt, (beſides that Jeſus,) to whom this perſon and office doth not, nor can agree, or belong, is a falſe Chriſt, and an Antichriſt. This is a moſt high, and neceſſary fundamental of Chriſtian Religion, to beleive (c) that Ieſus is the Chriſt, to pitch our faith upon this one only true Chriſt: All other Chriſts being but meer humane fictions, vanities and lies. Conſider; 1. The whole (d) Scriptures of Old and New Teſtament do ſingularly intend to ſhew, that this Ieſus is the Chriſt: and are for this end ſpecially written, that we might believe that Ieſus is the Chriſt the Son of God, and that beleiving, we might have life through his name. 2. This is that grand truth (e) which the miniſters of the Goſpel ſhould prove and clear from the Scriptures, that this Ieſus is the Chriſt; As they diligently did in the primitive times almoſt in every Sermon. 3. This is that ſaving truth (f) beyond the ability of fleſh and blood to reveal, which makes ſuch as truly receive it by faith, really and preſently bleſſed. 4. This is that (g) Rock upon which Chriſt builds his Church ſo firm and ſure, that the gates of hell, all the policie and power of Satan, ſhall not prevail againſt it.

5. This truth rightly believed, is a notable evidence of regeneration. (h) Whoſoever believeth that Ieſus is the CHRIST, is born of God. But then in the viſible Church all will be regenerate. Not ſo: Its right believing this, that diſcovers regeneration. So to believe this, as to come to Chriſt, to accept Chriſt, to love Chriſt, to obey Chriſt, to live to Chriſt, and upon Chriſt, to be wholly Chriſts. Notably Auguſtine, (i) who doth not believe that Ieſus is the Chriſt? He that doth not ſo live, as is commanded by Chriſt. Many ſay, I believe: but faith, without works doth not ſave. 6. The denying of this point makes a man a lyar, and an Antichriſt, a lying Antichriſt, and an Antichriſtian lyar. Who is a lyar, but he that denyeth that Ieſus is the Chriſt? He is Antichriſt, that denyeth the Father and the Son, 1 Ioh. 2.22. 7. The believing of this truth is of ſuch neceſſity to ſalvation, that the not believing it will inevitably bring damnation. If ye believe not (ſaid Chriſt, that I am He, ye ſhall die in your ſins, Ioh. 8. 24. Oh this is a bleſſed and glorious truth! believe it; not only with a bare dogmaticall aſſenting faith, but alſo with a fiduciall and practicall faith, Gal. 5.6.

(h) 1 Ioh. 5. 1.

(i) Quis eſt qui non credit quod Ieſus ſit Chriſtus? Qui non ſic vivit quomodo præcipit Chriſtus. Multi enim dicunt, Credo: ſed fides ſine operibus non ſalvat. Auguſt. in Expoſ. 1. Epiſt. Ioan. Tract. 10. Tom 9.

III. Hence, Ieſus Chriſt is indeed (k) the wonderfull, and the (l) great myſterie of godlineſs, both in his perſon and office. I. How wonderfull, what a myſterie in his perſon! His perſon conſiſting of God and man, of Creator and creature, of Son of God, and ſon of man, of Omnipotent, and impotent, of Infinite, and finite, of Eternall, and temporall, of Omnipreſent, and ſitting only at Gods right hand, of Omniſcient, and yet (m) Neſcient when the day and hour of the laſt judgement ſhall be, of Inviſible, and viſible, &c. Oh wonderfull and myſterious perſon! who can underſtand, or ſufficiently admire, this Humanized Deity, this Deified Humanity, this God-man (n) Immanuel! II. How wonderfull, and what a profound myſterie alſo is his office! He is God offended: and yet a mediator betwixt God, and man offending. He is both (o) ſurety and teſtator of the New Teſtament. He is both Covenant, Iſa. 49.8. & 55.3. and Mediator of the Covenant, Heb 8. 6. & 9. 14. & 12. 24. He is a Propheticall and Preiſtly King, a Propheticall and royall Prieſt, a Prieſtly and royall Prophet: being at once both Prophet, Prieſt and King. He is Prieſt, Sacrifice and Altar: Altar as God, Sacrifice as man, Prieſt as God-man. He died, and yet is (p) a Prieſt for ever, after the order of Melchizedeck. He could not ſin, knew no ſin, and yet was made ſin for us. He could not ſuffer: and yet ſuffered death for us He is glory, yet was abaſed. He is innocency, yet was condemned. He is the life, and yet was murdered. He is the Reſurrection, and yet was buried and enthralled in the grave. He deſcended to deepeſt abaſement: He aſcended to higheſt advancement; and all for his Elect, that they might be brought to glory. Oh, how wonderfull and myſterious are the effects of his offices: and his way of producing them! By Chriſts offices, we slaves are redeemed; we enemies are reconciled; we aliens are adopted; we dead are quickned; we buried are raised; we cursed are blessed; we sinners are Sainted. But How? By his bondage, by his condemnation, by his rejection, by his death, by his buriall, by his curse, and by his becoming sin for us. How are we bound to God for the Matter of our salvation! How bound also for the Mysterie of our salvation! His Incarnation, is our deification; His humiliation, is our exaltation: His stripes, are our healing: His blood is our balm: His accusation is our clearing: His condemnation is our righteousness: His curse is our blessing: His death is our life and victory over death and Satan: His temptation is our triumph: His exaltation is our glory. Here are mysteries upon mysteries, in Christ our wonderfull. What Paradoxes are these to flesh and blood! Blessed Lord, bring about our salvation as strangely and mysteriously as thou wilt, so we may be eternally saved. We adore thy Christ, we admire his mysteriousness.

IIII. Hence, As Gods Covenants are the marrow of Holy Scriptures; and the new Covenant the flower and Spirits of the Covenants: So Jesus Christ our mediator, is the life and soul of the New Covenant. The (q) Covenant of works before mans fall; the Covenants of faith, since his fall, either in Christ promised, as all the (r) Covenants of promise; or in Christ performed, as the (s) new Covenant, do plainly take up the whole body and series of the Scriptures. Among all these Covenants, the (t) new Covenant excels and predominates; as the Sun among the Stars. But whence hath this new Covenant such preheminence? especially from IESUS CHRIST. He is the Author, the chief matter, the mediator, surety, and testator, the end and primary mysterie of the new Covenant, more clearly and fully then of any other: He exhibited is the very life and soul of it. (u) Before Iohn Baptist, was Gods time of promises; since (as Augustine hath well noted) is his time of performances. And all Gods performances of promises meet in Christ. O therefore wouldst thou compendiously be possest of all Covenant treasures at once! possess thy self of this one treasure of treasures, Jesus Christ, and thou hast all.

(u) Tempus enim constituit Deus promissis suis, & tempus eis quæ promisit implendis. Promissionum tempus erat tempore prophetarum usque ad Joannem Baptistam: ab illo autem & deinceps usque ad finem, tempus est implendi ea quæ promissa sunt, &c. August. in Psal. 109. Enarrat. in initio. Tom. 8.

V. Hence, The new Covenant far excels the old Covenant and all foregoing Covenants, in having IESUS CHRIST actually exhibited, to be mediator, surety and testator thereof. Christ was (x) promised darkly, and (y) typified obscurely in former Covenants; And especially under the old Covenant, wherein he is set forth as a Mediator, (z) the law being ordained by Angels in the hand of a Mediator. By which Mediator, whether we understand understand the Son of God according to his God-head, (a) as some; or Moses as a typicall Mediator shadowing out Christ, as others, and perhaps better: yet still we are to understand the Mediator only promised, not as yet performed in humane flesh. But Christ actually exhibited and incarnate is Mediator, Surety, and Testator of this New Testament, most immediately, clearly, fully, efficaciously, &c. Therefore this new Covenant must needs as far exceell the old, and all before, as the performance excels the promise.

(a) Andr. Rivet. in Cathol. Orthodox. Tract. 2. Que. 49. 4.

VI. Hence, Jesus Christ God-man, mediator, surety and testator of the new Covenant, is an all-sufficient Saviour of sinners. His person, and office demonstrate undeniably this his all-sufficiency. What can be required to sinners plenary salvation, which is not fully found in him? Is sinners salvation, and the way of it to be revealed? Christ is our Prophet, in the Fathers bosom. Is it to be obtained, by satisfying Gods Law and justice for sin, by fulfilling the law for the sinner, and by appearing in the presence of God for the sinner for ever? Christ is our great High-priest, who satisfies, by dying; who fulfils by exact obeying; who appears before God, ever living to make intercession for us. Is salvation to be effectually applied to the sinner? Christ is our King at Gods right hand, who sends forth his spirit to apply all his benefits to us. Are we slaves? He redeems us: Are we enemies to God? He reconciles us. Are we carnall? He cals and converts us: Are we filthy? He sanctifies us: Are we aliens? He adopts us: Are we guilty? He justifies us: Are we inglorious? he glorifies us. Could not these things be effected for us, only on earth, or only in Heaven? On earth, Christ was deeply humbled; in Heaven he is highly exalted: that both in Heaven and Earth our salvation might be accomplished. And must our Mediator be a right middle person betwixt God and man, having equall interest in both? Thus also Jesus Christ is true and perfect God man, that he might be an all-sufficient Mediator. As man, he could discharge all mean acts, As God, all magisteriall acts of his mediation. The infinite dignity of his person, adding infinite worth to all his mediation.

VII. Hence, Jesus Christ the new Covenant Mediator, surety, and testator, is the only hope, and refuge of bruised sinners: and compleatest consolation of believing Saints. For, 1. Whither else shall bruised sinners fly hopefully for refuge against sin, guilt, wrath of God, curse of the law, malice of Satan, &c. but to Jesus Christ alone? He, he (b) alone is their door of hope, and tower of safety: He hath (c) condemned sin in the flesh. He (d) justifies them by his blood. He (e) delivers them from wrath to come: He (f) redeems them from the curse of the law: He (g) by death hath destroyed death, and him that had the power of death, the devil. He is mighty to save, He is ready to save, ſave, He alone can ſave: whither then can the ſinner fly but to ſuch a Saviour? (1) mighty (h) to ſave. For, He is a mighty Mediator; He hath a mighty mediation; His merit is beyond all our miſery, His righteouſneſs is above all our unrighteouſneſs, His pardons, are more then all our debts, His life is ſtronger then our death, His ſalvation far tranſcends our condemnation. Why? Becauſe we ſinners, are but finite men, but he the Saviour is alſo the Infinite God. When he ſaved Matthew the publican, Mary Magdalen, the Demoniack poſſeſt of ſeven devils, Saul the perſecutor, and blaſphemer, the theif upon the croſs, (that famous experiment of his croſs,) yea the betrayers and murderers of himſelf; who can but admire, as the grace, ſo the power, of his ſalvation; (2) He is ready to ſave. Why elſe (i) came he into the world, but to ſave ſinners? Why elſe did he preach ſo many heavenly Sermons, work ſuch divine miracles to confirm his Doctrine, endure ſo much contempt, ignominy, reproach, hard uſage and ſufferings in the world, ſhed ſo many tears, pour out ſo many ſtrong cryes and prayers, ſweat ſo much blood, and at laſt expoſe himſelf willingly to ſuch a painfull, ſhamefull and curſed death; his head, hands, feet, ſide and heart, ſtreaming out his vital blood, but that he thirſted for ſinners ſalvation? Why elſe did he riſe again, aſcend into heaven, and ſit down at Gods right hand: but to allure and draw ſinners after him? Why elſe doth he (k) invite ſinners by ſo many ſweet promiſes and importancies to come to him, and believe in him? And why elſe doth he denounce ſo many ſad and ſevere threatnings to them that will not come to him that they might be ſaved? (3) He alone can ſave, and none other under heaven, Act. 4. 12.

2. As for believing Saints, Chriſt is their compleateſt conſolation. For, In his Perſon their humane nature is elevated above that of Angels: By his office they are redeemed, reconciled to God, called, ſanctified, adopted into his own family, juſtified, priviledged, and glorified: by him (m) the new Covenant is irrevocably ſtabliſhed, and they inſtated in it; (n) In him all the promiſes of God are Yea, and Amen, and all entailed upon godlineſs: In him they have abounding conſolations in all their abounding tribulations; 2 Cor. 1. 5. And in a word, having Chriſt, with Chriſt they have (o) all things. Therefore Chriſt that affords believers ſuch heaps of cordials, ſuch a ſea of comfort, muſt needs be their compleateſt conſolation.

VIII. Hence, The new Covenants dedication was moſt bitter to Chriſt; although the new Covenant Application be moſt ſweet to Chriſtians. This new Covenant was dedicated by his blood, this New Teſtament (p) was eſtabliſhed and made of force by his death. And what death? a death upon the croſs. Therefore, a death painfull, ſhamefull, curſed, having alſo the wrath of God imptinted on it. Oh this was a bitter Dedication! Conſider well, his agony in the garden, his bloody ſweat, his pricked head, his his ſcourged back, his pierced hands and feet, his opened ſide, his wounded heart, his ſad Deſertion and doleful cry upon the Croſs: and then think how bitter this New-Covenants Eſtabliſhment was to Chriſt, it coſt him very dear. But on the other hand, how ſweet is the New Covenant Application unto Chriſtians! yea therefore this Covenant was ſo bitter to Chriſt in its Dedication; that it might be the ſweeter to us in its Application. This makes all the Promiſes and Bleſſings of the New Covenant ours: This makes Temporals, Spirituals and Eternals ours: This makes JESUS CHRIST, and all thats Chriſts ours: This makes God, and all thats Gods ours. O ſweet and bliſsful Soul inriching Application! The Agony was Chriſts; but the Victory was ours The Condemnation Chriſts; the Juſtification ours. The pain Chriſts; the eaſe ours. The ſtripes Chriſts; the healing by thoſe ſtripes ours. The wounds Chriſts; the Balm flowing out of thoſe wounds ours. The Gall and Vinegar Chriſts; the Honey ours. The Curſe Chriſts; the Bleſsing ours. The Death Chriſts; the Life ours. The Crown of Thorns was Chriſts; but the Crown of glory ours. O what pleaſant fruit doth ſpring from this bitter root! Oh how was Chriſt abaſed, that we might be exalted! How willing ſhould we be to be abaſed for Chriſt, that he may be exalted! What a value ſhould we ſet upon this New Covenant, which was ſo bitter and coſtly for Chriſt to confirm, which is ſo ſweet and gainful to us to enjoy!

IX. Hence, Let all ſuch as long to know that they are within this New Covenant ſavingly, examine with all diligence whether they be brought into it by being called to Chriſt, and made Chriſts effectually. For Chriſt brings his Elect into this New Covenant by effectual (q) vocation, as hath been evidenced: And whom he effectually calls, he (r) calls unto himſelf, that he may be theirs, and they Chriſts.

Now (having (ſ) formerly Promiſed more largely to unfold in this fourth Book, The Signs of being Chriſts) hereby we may diſcover whether we be Chriſts, or no: and conſequently whether we be in New Covenant with God or no.

1. Have we Chriſts Spirit dwelling in us? Ye are not in the fleſh, but in the ſpirit, if ſo be the Spirit of God dwell in you. Now if any man have not the Spirit of Chriſt, he is none of his, Rom. 8. 9. The Spirit of God, and the Spirit of Chriſt, are here counted one and the ſame. And as all the members of the natural body are actuated and enlivened by one and the ſame humane ſpirit from the Head: ſo all the Members of Chriſts Myſtical body are actuated and enlivened by one and the ſame divine Spirit from their Head Chriſt. Hath Chriſt given his Spirit into our Hearts? we have no ſaving gift from Chriſt, till we have this gift: But whereby may we know that we have Chriſts Spirit? Anſw. Hereby Chriſts Spirit is, 1. A Convincing Spirit. Effectually convincing the Sinner, both of his own own sinful malady, and of Christs saving remedy, Ioh. 16. 9,10,11. 2. An enlivening Spirit. Instilling spiritual life into the dead soul, freeing it from the Law, or power of sin and death, Rom. 8. 12. 3. An Holy and Sanctifying Spirit, purifying and washing the persons of those that are Christs from the stains and defilements of sin, 1 Cor. 6. 11. by infusing holy habits and principles of grace into the heart: which resist corruption, and work it out daily more and more. As pure honey works out the wax and dross: As generous wine works out the Lees and Dregs. 4. A filial child like Spirit, enabling all that are Christs to cry Abba Father, Gal. 4. 6. Rom. 8. 15. His Spirit is a Spirit of supplication in their Hearts: A Praying Spirit. He teacheth them to pray with child-like confidence, familiarity and importunity, to God as their tender and compassionate Father. Of our selves we know not how to pray, or what to pray for as we ought, but the Spirit it self maketh intercession for us, (that is, enables us to pray for our selves) with groanings which cannot be uttered: (that is, with such fervent desires and groans of the heart, as the lips and tongue cannot express.) Rom. 8. 26. 5. A Comforting Spirit. Secretly, but strongly supporting, cherishing, encouraging, and comforting their hearts that are Christs; against Corruptions, Temptations, Tribulations, Persecutions, and all Occasions of Disconsolation whatsoever, and that Continually, Ioh. 14. 16,17. Acts 9. 31. Rom. 14. 17. 2 Cor. 1. 3, 4, 5. They that are Christs have manifold Discomforts: but yet their Comforts from Christs Spirit, viz. Either their Sensible refreshing Comforts, or at least their Secret Supporting Comforts, are prevailing and predominant over them all.

2. Are we New-Creatures? All that are in Christ, that are Christs; are New-Creatures. If any man be in Christ, he is a New Creature: Old things are past away, behold all things are become New. And all things are of God, who hath reconciled us to himself by Iesus Christ. 2 Cor. 5. 17, 18. The first Adam by sinning made all things old, decaying and vanishing; he ruined and destroyed all things. The last Adam, Jesus Christ by suffering and satisfying for sin, repaired and renewed all things. More generally, he renews the whole frame of the creation: creating A New Heaven and New Earth, wherein dwells righteousness, according to his Promise, Isa. 65. 17. 2 Pet. 3. 13. Rev. 21. 1. More specially, he new-creates his Church, breaking down the wall of Partition betwixt Iews and Gentiles, — for to make of twain one New man, so making peace, Eph. 2. 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18. whereupon this time under the New Testament wherein this is effected, is called, The time of Reformation, Heb. 9. 10. Yea More particularly and individually Iesus Christ calling his Elect from their sinful state and condition, He new-creates their persons; makes every one of them A new creature. He leaves them not in their old condition, in their old sins, 2 Pet. 1. 9. in their old carnal state, but he makes old things pass away; and he brings them into a New

ſtate of Grace and righteouſneſs. Not that he aboliſheth the Subſtance of ſoul or body, or the Natural Eſſence of the Faculties, Affections, Senſes and Members thereof: but only the Qualifications, Qualities or Diſpoſitions of theſe. The old carnalneſs, ſinfulneſs, &c. he makes paſs away: and makes the whole man more holy and ſpiritual, &c. More diſtinctly, they become New creatures that are in Chriſt, in theſe three reſpects, viz. in regard of their 1. Condition, 2. Conſtitution, and 3. Converſation. I. In reſpect of their Condition, they are New creatures: They (t) were in the fleſh, in the gall of bitterneſs, and bond of iniquity: (u) Are in the Spirit, placed in a ſweet and free ſtate of righteouſneſs by the Son of God. They (x) were under the power of Satan: Are under the Dominion of God. They (y) were enemies to God by their ſins: Are reconciled to God by Chriſts ſufferings. They (z) were children of wrath even as others: Are veſſels of mercy. They (a) were not a people: but now are the people of the living God. They had not obtained mercy: but now they have obtained mercy: They (b) were quite loſt, but are found. They (c) were dead in treſpaſſes and ſins: but are alive again with and by Ieſus Chriſt riſen from the dead. Art thou brought into this New-created condition? II. In reſpect of their frame and inward conſtitution, they are New creatures. 1. Their faculties are new created. (d) Their minds that were wholly (d) blinded with groſs darkneſs, ignorance, errour and inapprehenſiveneſs of the things of God: Are now (e) opened, become light in the Lord, and ſavingly furniſhed with truth, wiſdom and apprehenſiveneſs of all the things of Chriſt. (2) Their conſciences, that were (f) evil, ſecure, ſenſeleſs, ſeared, full of guilt, and oft-times filled with horrour: Are become (g) good, tender, pure, void of offence towards God and towards man, and filled with peace paſſing all underſtanding. (3) Their wills, that were (h) Averſe to all good, froward, rebellious, and perverſe in all evil, and wholly oppoſite to the will of God: Are now (i) made averſe to all evil, fixed and reſolute in all good, holy, righteous and univerſally ſubordinate to the will of God, in willing what he wils, being acted and carried by Gods will, as the ſtar in its proper orb, ſo far as it is New-created. 2. Their affections are New-created. Their deſires, love, joy, delight, &c. were (k) wickedly ſet upon ſin, (l) inordinately upon the empty periſhables of this world, not at all, (m) unleſs hypocritically, upon ſpirituals and the things of a better life; and contrariwiſe their flight, hatred, grief, deteſtation, &c. (n) were againſt God, his people, and all his waies: But now they deſire, love, joy, delight in nothing more, in nothing ſo much as (o) in God, Ieſus Chriſt. in in all Spirituals; and they flie, hate, grieve for, Abominate nothing so much, as (p) sin, corruption and all ungodly waies. 3. Their senses and bodily members are New-created. They (q) were thorow-fares for vanity, instruments and weapons of all unrighteousnes unto sin: but now (r) are receptacles and harbingers of spirituals, and weapons of righteousnes unto holines. Are thy Faculties, Affections, Senses and Members thus New-created? doubtless then thou art in Christ. III. In respect of their life and conversation, they that are Christs are New creatures. (s) For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus unto good works, which God hath before ordained that we should walk in them. By nature we are (t) abominable, disobedient, and to every good work reprobate. Altogether (u) without strength to any spiritual acts or exercises. Walking (x) according to the course of this world, according to the Prince of the power of the air, the spirit that now worketh in the children of disobedience. Among whom also we all had our conversation in times past, in the lusts of our flesh, fulfilling the wills of the flesh, and of the mind. And (y) running with them to all excess of ryot, &c. But by the grace of this New-creation, we are brought to (z) walk in Newnes of life: To deny ungodlines and worldly lusts, and to live soberly, righteously and godly in this present world: To live by faith, walk in love, and abound in (a) all well pleasing, being fruitful in every good work: (b) To have our conversation in heaven, and to mind the things that are above: In a word, (c) To walk worthy of the Lord, and of his Kingdom whereunto we are called; (d) Herein exercising our selves to have a conscience alwaies void of offence, both towards God, and towards men. Art thou thus renewed and new-created in thy conversation?

3. Are we One with Christ, by faith and Love? They that are Christs, are mystically One with him. And this Oneness is most near and intimate. As (e) stones are one with the foundation; As (f) vine-branches are one with the root; As (g) Members are one with the Head; As (h) the wife is one with her husband, For we are members of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones. Yea, (i) he that is joyned to the Lord, is one Spirit. Insomuch that both Head and members thus united, are, and are stiled, One (k) CHRIST. Are we thus united, incorporated, consolidated with Jesus Christ? This union is wrought, Partly by Christs (l) Spirit apprehending us, that we may be Christs. Have we Christs Spirit, according to former evidences of it? Partly, by our Faith and Love re-apprehending Christ Jesus.

By Faith, we (m) Come to Christ; we (n) receive him; we (o) put him on; we (p) eat his flesh, and drink his blood; we (q) have Christ living in us; yea by Faith we have (r) Christ dwelling in our Hearts.

By Love, we are sweetly en-linkt and endeared to Christ, and Christ to us reciprocally. So that from this spirit of sincere Love to him, him, 1. We bear a most Benevolent affection towards him, (f) wishing him all Good, all glory, &c. 2. We have strong desires and longings after more Compleat union to him; (t) make haste O my beloved, & be as the Hinds or the Roes upon the mountains of spices; 3. And so far as we are united to Christ, we have delightful complacency and heart-satisfying acquiescence in him: Glorying herein with the Church; (u) My beloved is mine, and I am his.

4. Have we crucified and mortified our corruptions? (x) They that are Christs, have crucified the flesh, with the affections (Gr. passions) and lusts. Christ our Head was crucified for the sins of his members: Therefore all that are Christs true members, must be conform to their Head, by being crucified and dead to their own Sins. By [The flesh with the Passions and lusts,] Understand the Original Corruption of Nature, together with Actual Sins thence flowing, whether Elicit or Imperate, Inward or Outward. As Calvin, well; (y) Flesh and its lusts, are put for the Root and fruits: For the flesh is the vitiosity of corrupt Nature, whence all evils proceed. These are the Malefactors to be Crucified. By [crucifying] (which is a Metaphorical allusion to Christs Crucifying) understand, The Mortifying, Deadning, Destroying of sin Original and Actual, and that by exemplary imitation of Christs Death, and by efficacious vertue from Christs Death. Not that Sin in this life can be compleatly crucified all at once: For Sin will be in the (z) best of Saints, while this Natural life continues. But when we first become Christs, Sin receives its Deaths wound, The Reign and dominion of it is destroyed: and it is daily a wounding, bleeding, weakning, decaying, gasping and dying. By that phrase, [They that are Christs,] understand all that are Christs: Being an indefinite expression, its equivalent to an universal. All that are Christs, one as well as another, have in some good degree (though not equally) crucified the flesh with the passions and lusts.

More particularly they that are Christs do crucifie the Flesh with the Passions and lusts, by their Conformity to, and Communion with Iesus Christ and him crucified, viz. 1. Christ was discovered: So they detect and discover their sins convincingly, (a) The Spirit convinces them of their sin: spreads all open before them, that they see the extream sinfulness thereof. As (b) David, (c) Paul, (d) Peters hearers. True Sight of Sin, is the first Step to Repentance. 2. Christ discovered was apprehended and attatched: So they apprehend and lay hold of their sins, and bring them into the presence of God, and before his tribunal. 3. Christ was arraigned, indited and accused before Pilates judgement-Seat: So they that are Christs, arraign, indite and accuse their sins, and themselves for their sins, with all the aggravations they can, before Gods Bar. As (e) David. 4. Christ was judged and condemned: So they that are Christs, judge and condemn their sins, and themselves for their sins, that they may not be condemned. They (f) judge themselves worthy of shame, confusion, condemnation and death. 5. Christ after he was condemned was executed: So they that are Christs, having judged and doomed themselves for their sins, proceed to execution of them, and actual crucifying and deadning them, divers wayes. viz. (1) Partly, By applying to themselves Christs Death and Cross for their sins by Faith. Hereby they fetch vertue from Christ crucified, to crucifie their flesh. Thus they reason; Christ dying bare our sins, represented our persons. Therefore Christ being crucified, we were crucified: Christ dying, we died. If then we be one with Christ: we may no longer sevre sin. (2) Partly by making Christs crucifying an exemplary cause, pattern or motive, to the crucifying of the flesh. In this sort; Did Christ endure such sorrows, such shame, such bruises, such wounds, such pain, such a cruel and cursed Death for our sins? & shall we love, or live in those sins, shall we love those sins for which Christ was hated: or excuse those sins, for which Christ was accused: or justifie those sins, for which Christ was condemned: or cleave to those sins, for which Christ was deserted of God: or spare those sins, for which Christ was pierced; or live in those sins, for which Christ was crucified and murdered? Oh hate, abhor, destroy the flesh with the affections and lusts; As the Iudas that betrayed him, as the Pilate that condemned him, as the nailes and spear that pierced him. How shall we be destroyed for our own sins: if they be not destroyed by Christs Death? Thus let (g) our old man be crucified with Christ, that the body of Sin may be destroyed, that henceforth we should not serve sin. (3) Partly, By daily stabbing, wounding and hewing in pieces this body of sin, (h) by the Sword of the Spirit, the word of God: as Samuel hewed Agag in pieces. Opposing the flesh and the lusts thereof by Gods Commands, prohibitions, threats and judgements, recorded in his word. (4) Partly, By (i) ceasing to make provision for the flesh, to fulfill the lusts thereof. And so starving sin out. (5) Partly, by (k) cutting off, and shunning all the Occasions, inlets, inducements, Temptations, and beginings of sin.

5. Do we walk after the Spirit, not after the flesh? They that are in Christ, walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit. They do not habitually follow the lusts, motions, guidance, instigations, &c. of the flesh: as Somtime (m) they did: but the motions, stirrings, actings and guidance of Gods Spirit, (n) being led by him according to the word. They may somtimes step awry after the flesh, but thats not their walk, their course which they delight in, but their error and infirmity which they (o) strive against.

X. Hence, Finally, Let all who are convinced they are (p) Christless and Covenantless Persons, and yet thirst after a New Covenant-state, sincerely (q) accept Christ tendered:

(p) Eph. 2. 12.
(q) Iohn 1. 11, 12.

And

And let all that find they are in New Covenant with God through Christ, (r) walk worthy of Christ accepted.

1. Let all that thirst after a New Covenant state, sincerely accept Christ tendered. For they that accept Christ aright, accept his New Covenant also Christ is the jewel: The New Covenant is the Casket or Cabinet that contains this jewel. (s) Sell all that you have, to purchase this pearl of greatest price. (t) Count all things loss and dung, deny all self-sinfulness, all self-righteousness, all self-fulness suffer willingly, the loss of all things, that you may win Christ, and be found in him. Christ is wrapped up in the (u) promises: embrace them, and Christ therein. Christ is tendered in all the Gospel-Ordinances, especially in (x) the Word and (y) Sacraments, and this pathetically, importunately, frequently: accept the tender of Christ, (z) neglect not so great Salvation. Christ (a) stands at the door of thine heart and knocks: He stands, patiently; he knocks, importunately: He waits, and knocks. He knocks by his Word; He knocks by his Rod; He knocks by his Spirits convictions, motions, impulses, strivings, instigations, &c. he knocks restlesly, audibly; How fain would he enter! O shut not Christ still out of thy soul. Set (b) open the Everlasting doors, and this King of glory shall come in. Christ is the best Guest, the most blessed In-mate that can possibly be entertained in thy soul. O lodge him in the inmost Cabinet of thine Heart. That day, that hour that Christ comes into thy soul, Salvation comes into thy soul, Heaven comes into thy soul, yea God blessed for ever comes into thy soul. Deeply lay to heart, and seriously ponder upon these ensuing Considerations. They may be as so many steps or degrees towards Christ, and as so many urgent Motives to thee to press and strive after him.

(1) By Nature since mans fall in Adam, all the people in the world are utterly without Jesus Christ. Naturally all people are Christless; having no saving right at all to him, or interest in him. This is true of the Gentiles. (c) Remember that ye being in time passed Gentiles in the flesh, —— That at that time ye were without Christ. And it is also true of the Jews, while in their carnal and unregenerate state; As (d) Peter, writing to the dispersed Jews, notably testifieth. They came not to Christ the living stone by faith indeed, so as to taste that the Lord is gracious, till they were new-born-babes. Till then, they were not a people, had not obtained mercy, viz. saving mercy in Christ the mercy of mercies. And (e) of both Iews and Gentiles the Apostle Paul hath proved, that they are all under sin. And consequently, that all the world is become guilty before God. Now to be under sin, viz. under the state, dominion and curse of sin, is to be without Christ. For, (f) they that are in Christ, are freed from the state, power and curse of sin, though not from the in-being of the reliques of sin.

(2) All persons, whilest Christless, are most wretched and miserable.

For, 1. Whose are they, whilest they are not Christs? They are the worlds. (g) Men of the world; (h) Children of this world; the worlds (i) own, &c. They are Sins: they are sins (k) vassels, drudges, slaves; they (l) serve sin, they (m) are in sin, (n) in the flesh, (o) in the bond of iniquity, &c. they are wholly involved, ingulfed, overwhelmed therein. They are Deaths; Death spiritual hath actual dominion over them, (p) they are dead in sins and trespasses: and the curse of death corporal with the adequate (q) wages of death eternal do wait upon them. Yea they are the Devils: (r) Cain was of that wicked one, and slew his Brother; (s) Ye are of your Father the Devil (said Christ to the wicked Iews) and the works of your Father ye will do; (t) Iudas was a very Devil. Not to be Christs; but the Worlds, and Sins, and the Devils, how sad and woful is it! 2. Christless persons, are (u) Aliens from the Common-wealth of Israel, strangers from the Covenants of Promise, having no Hope, and without God in the world; that is, Churchless, Covenant-less, Promise-less, Hope-less and God-less. Forasmuch as Jesus Christ is the only Head of the Church, Testator and Mediator of the New Covenant, substance and accomplishment of the Promises, Foundation of our Eternal Hope, and the only way unto God. 3. Christless persons are actually under the rigour and (x) curse of the broken Covenant of works, the Law: in that they have not accepted of Christ, nor the Covenant of Faith in him, by way of Remedy. And besides Christ, there is no remedy against that curse in the whole world. 4. Christless persons are (y) enemies to God, and utterly unable to please God in any thing, whilest they so remain. 5. Christless Persons (z) are without Faith: in state of unbelief. And (a) unbelievers have the wrath of God abiding on them: so remaining cannot possibly be saved; (b) shall certainly be damned; yea, (c) are condemned already, because they believe not in the only begotten son of God. Who would not strive to be Christs, and to have Christ theirs: rather then still remain in this Sea of misery?

(3) Theres such necessity of Iesus Christ for saving of sinners, that without him there is no escaping of Damnation, no obtaining of salvation. They that become not Christs, must inevitably (d) die in their sins. (e) — Neither is there salvation in any other: For there is no other name under Heaven given among men whereby we must be saved. And, no wonder: For, 1. No lapsed sinner can possibly save himself. Being (f) darkness, how should he illuminate himself? being (g) without strength, how should he help himself? being (h) enmity against God, how should he reconcile himself to God? being wholly (i) lost, how should he find himself? being utterly (k) dead in trespasses and sins, how should he quicken himself? &c. Nay, the sinner is so far from effecting his own salvation, that without supernatural grace he cannot (l) will or desire his own salvation: but contrariwise is (m) wilfully set upon his own destruction. 2. No meer creature or created being can save sinners. Nay, all the Angels gels in Heaven are not able to ſave one ſinner from eternal wrath, though they ſhould give themſelves to die for his ſins to all eternity. For they are but finite creatures, and therefore their ſufferings being finite alſo, can never fully ſatisfie Gods infinite juſtice offended. Should all the meer Creatures in the world burn for ever in Hells Torments for mans ſin: all theſe ſufferings could not expiate one ſinfull thought. 3. None in all the world can ſave ſinners, but he that was eternally ordained to be a Saviour of Sinners. For Sinners ſalvation is only effected according to Gods eternal Decree and predeſtination. Now (n) Jeſus Chriſt alone is from eternity pre-ordained to be a Saviour of ſinners. 4. None in all the world can ſave ſinners, but he that was ſince the Fall of man, fore-promiſed, fore-typified and fore-prophecied, all along under the Old Teſtament, before the fulneſs of time, to be the only Saviour of Sinners: and was in fulneſs of time accordingly exhibited. But Jeſus Chriſt alone is he that (o) was fore-promiſed, fore-typified and fore-prophecied in all ages of the Old Teſtament, as (p) the Seed of the woman, (q) Seed of Abraham, The (r) Prophet like Moſes, Our (s) Great High-Prieſt after the order of Melchizedeck, the Son of David, &c. and was accordingly performed under the New Teſtament as a Saviour of Sinners. 5. None in the whole world can ſave ſinners, but he that can fully and to the uttermoſt Reveal Gods Counſels touching their ſalvation, ſatisfie and appeaſe divine juſtice offended. By the (i) patience and long-suffering of God abused, they are the more encouraged and resolved in evil; By the (k) Mercies and prosperity they enjoy, they embolden themselves to cast off Gods fear, to forget God, to despise and oppose God; By the (l) judgements inflicted on them, they are hardned the more in their wickedness, and trespass yet more against the Lord: yea sometimes proceed to blaspheme the most high; By the (m) lewdness of the wicked, they are emboldned to run with them to the same excess of riot; By the (n) godliness of the faithfull, they are exasperated to hate, revile, and persecute them, yea sometimes to the death; yea by the very (o) Gospel and Means of Grace, they are blinded, hardned and wax worse and worse; While they live, (p) they treasure up wrath against the day of wrath; and when they die, (q) they are actually plunged into a Sea of wrath for evermore. Thus all things help Christless persons to perdition. Hence, without Christ theres no Salvation, nothing but Condemnation.

(4) Jesus Christ is fully able to save sinners, and to make them compleatly happy to all eternity. For, mark what Scripture testifieth. He is able to save them to the (r) uttermost, (Gr. εις το παντελες, perfectly, wholly, fully, absolutely, or for evermore) that come unto God by him, seeing he ever liveth to make intercession for them. All saving abilities, all perfections of a Saviour, are eminently in him: whether we respect his Person, or his Office.

The Person of Jesus Christ is such, that he is fully able to save Sinners. For, he is (s) God-man in one Person. The son of God, the second Person in Trinity, personally and individually uniting to himself the whole Humane Nature both Soul and body. (1) This Humane Nature of Christ, Never distinctly subsisted but in union to the WORD; (2) Is so united to the Word, as therewith to make up but one distinct individual person. (3) And in that personal union still retains its true Humane Nature and essence wholly distinct and differing from the Divine nature and person. As the Miscelto in the Apple-tree; (1) It never distinctly subsisted but in union to the Apple-tree; (2) It is so united to the Apple-tree, as therewith to make up but one individual tree; (3) And yet in that union it still retains its own Nature really differing from the Appletree. Now, 1. This Θεανθρωπος God-man in one Person, Jesus Christ, is most sufficient and suitable for saving of Sinners. Being medius persona, that he might be Mediator officio, He is a Middle person between God and man, that he might be a (t) Mediator in office betwixt God and man. God and man are united in Christs Person, that they might be united and Reconciled by Christs office. Christ as man (u) suffered and died for mans sin, without shedding of blood there being no remission: Christ as God fully (x) satisfied Gods justice by such suffering, the infinite dignity of his Godhead putting a kind of infinite and incomparable value upon the sufferings of his Manhood. Had Christ been God only, he could not have suffered

The Office of Jeſus Chriſt God-man is ſuch, that he is fully able to ſave Sinners. For, 1. His office taken upon him for ſaving of Sinners is full and compleat for Sinners ſalvation: viz. his Mediatorſhip, wherein he is (c) Prophet, (d) Prieſt, and (e) King, as God-man. Prophet, fully to (f) Reveal the great myſterie of Gods counſel and will touching the ſaving of Sinners by Chriſt: of which lapſed ſinners were wholly ignorant. Prieſt, fully to effect and accompliſh ſinners ſalvation Revealed, (g) by his perfect ſatisfaction to divine juſtice for ſinners through his obedience and Death, and by his continual interceſſion for them in Heaven. Theſe things lapſed ſinners were never able to effect or work out for themſelves. King, (h) to conquer fully all the ſpiritual enemies of ſinners ſalvation, Sin, Death, Grave, World, Hell and all the powers of darkneſs; To ſubdue loſt Sinners compleatly to himſelf, and apply effectually the purchaſed ſalvation to them, as their King and Head, Inchoately in this life, Conſummatively in the life to come. This Regall Conqueſt and Application of Salvation purchaſed, lapſed ſinners could never have atchieved of themſelves. And therefore that Mediatory office of Chriſt whereby, He Reveales Salvation to Sinners wholly ignorant thereof, He Obtains Salvation revealed for ſinners wholly alienated from God, and He applies Salvation Revealed and obtained to Sinners wholly impotent thereunto: that Mediatory office muſt needs be fully compleat and ſufficient for Sinners ſalvation. 2. His Calling to this office was ſuch as fully proclaimed his compleat ability for Sinners ſalvation. For, (1) He was (i) pre-ordained to be the Saviour of ſinners before the foundation of the world was laid. (2) He was (k) Sent, Sealed and Commiſſionated by his heavenly Father in fulneſs of time, to ſave ſinners. (3) He was incomparably qualified and furniſhed (l) with all Mediatory fulneſs, perfections and endowments, that he might be able to ſave ſinners to the uttermoſt. (4) He hath fully executed and diſcharged this office whereunto he was called. For he hath (m) revealed the whole myſterie of Gods Counſel for ſaving of Sinners, (n) effectually wrought that Salvation revealed for all his elect, and (o) actually applies in all ages that Salvation wrought for all his choſen. So that no ability for ſaving of Sinners, can poſſibly be Jeſus Chriſt is (p) the laſt Adam: (q) The Firſt Adam by his diſobedience damned all his naturall poſterity; Jeſus Chriſt the Laſt Adam is much more able by his obedience to ſave all his ſpiritual poſterity.

(5) Jeſus Chriſt is as willing, as able to ſave Sinners. He is infinitely able and infinitely willing to ſave Sinners. Shall the Saviour be ſo willing to ſave, and ſinners be ſo unwilling to be ſaved? Behold and admire Chriſts incomparable willingneſs to ſave ſinners, moſt abundantly diſcovered; 1. By his cheerfull willingneſs to ſuffer and die for ſinners ſalvation. Hence Chriſt is prophetically brought in by the Pſalmiſt, ſaying; (r) Lo I come, in the volume of the book it is written of me: I delight to do thy will, O my God; yea thy Law is in the midſt of my bowels. Which doing of Gods will, the Apoſtle expounds of Chriſts ſufferings, ſaying; (ſ) By the which will we are Sanctified, through the offering of the body of Jeſus Chriſt once for all. So that Jeſus Chriſt delighted even in ſuffering his fathers will for ſinners. And he profeſſeth; (t) My meat is to do the will of him that ſent me, and to finiſh his work. He finiſhed his fathers will, in Dying: Then, (u) it was finiſhed. Would Chriſt ſo humble himſelf, to ſuch ſufferings and ſuch a death, and that ſo readily for ſinners ſalvation: And was he not moſt willing to ſave them? 2. By his frequent and ſweet invitations of ſinners to come to him for ſalvation. (x) Ho, every one that thirſteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no mony; come ye, buy and eat, yea, come, buy wine and milk without mony, and without price, &c. (y) —— If any man thirſt, let him come to me and drink (z) —— Come unto me all ye that labour and are heavy laden, &c. (a) —— Let him that is athirſt, come; And whoſoever will, let him take of the water of life freely. 3. By his precious ſoul-alluring promiſes. What variety of bleſſings and mercies doth he promiſe to all that will come to him and believe in him? As (b) plentoeus enjoyment of the Spirit; (c) Reſt of ſoul; (d) life; (e) living water; and (f) ſalvation it ſelf. 4. By his rejecting of none that truly come unto him, though never ſo weak, and worthleſs in themſelves. (g) All that the Father giveth me, ſhall come to me; and him that cometh to me, I will in no wiſe caſt out. Chriſt never yet rejected any: and he will not now reject thee. 5. By his expoſtulating lamentations, when ſinners neglect their own ſalvation, deſpiſe their own mercy. (h) Caſt away from you all your tranſgreſsions, whereby ye have tranſgreſſed, and make you a new heart, and a new ſpirit; for why will ye die, O houſe of Iſrael? (i) —— O Ieruſalem, Ieruſalem, —— how oft would I have gathered thy children together, even as an hen gathereth her chickens under her wings, and ye would not! 6. By his ſingular joy when ſinners are ſaved, or in the way of ſalvation. occasion, (k) was his meat to eat which his disciples knew not of. Christ is so dearly and delightfully affected with the truly godly, that he saith; (l) whosoever shall do the will of my Father which is in heaven, the same is my brother, and sister, and mother. To this effect (m) the parables of the lost groat, of the lost sheep, of the lost son, emphatically declare the surpassing joy that there is in Heaven upon the recovery of the lost sinner. 7. By his actuall saving, even of greatest offenders, Christ shews his singular desire and willingness to save lost sinners. Palpable instances of this kind are these; (n) Mathew, and (o) Zacheus, the publicans: (p) the woman of Samaria, and other Samaritans, reputed as a refuse people: (q) the prodigall son, adumbrating the miserable Gentiles: (r) the penitent woman, that had many sins, and was a sinner with a witness: (s) Mary Magdalen, that had been a very cage of unclean spirits, out of whom Christ cast seven devils: (t) the thief upon the cross: (u) Saul himself, that was a cruel persecutor of Christ and his Church, and a blasphemer, and injurious; yet he obtained mercy, that in him first Christ Jesus might shew forth all long-suffering, for a pattern to them which should hereafter believe on him to life everlasting: yea (x) many of them that had an hand in crucifying Jesus Christ, were saved by Jesus Christ. Oh! when Christ saves such sinners as these, who is not encouraged to believe? Oh how infinitely doth Jesus Christ our Saviour thirst and long after sinners salvation! And shall not lost sinners thirst after their own salvation: and cheerfully hasten to such a Saviour?

(6) None can ordinarily become Christs, or be saved by him, but (y) By rejecting what is inconsistent with him; (z) By strong desires after him; and (a) By actuall accepting of him, as the Gospel propounds him. 1 All that would be Christs, must reject and deny all things inconsistent with Christ, viz. they must deny (b) themselves, their (c) self-sinfulness, their (d) self-righteousness, their (e) self-wisdom, their (f) self-will, their (g) self love, their self-excellencies and perfections of all sorts, and all their self-interests in the creature that are any way repugnant to, or inconsistent with Christianity. Otherwise whilst a man remains self-full, he is incapable of Christs fulness. 2. All that would be Christs must have strong and fervent desires after him. True sense of the want of Christ, and of the misery of that want, fils the soul with pantings and longings after him, hungerings and thirstings for him. The more Christ is desired and thirsted after while wanted, the more he will be esteemed and delighted in when enjoyed. Christ loves not to come to the soul, till he shall be welcome indeed. Hence, such (*) fervent hungrings after him have the promises of satisfaction. 3. All that would be Christs must actually close with him, and accept him as the Gospel propounds him, viz. They must (f) receive him by true faith, (g) as their Jesus, their Christ, their Lord, to be saved and ruled by him, to live upon him, and every way to walk worthy of him. This is the way to become Christs, and consequently Gods new Covenant-people in him.

(7) Finally, The great cause why most people in the visible Church do not become Christs; is not because they cannot, but because they (h) will not become his. And at the last day the greatest part of visible professors that shall perish, shall be damned, not so much because they could not, as because they would not come unto Christ for salvation. Let us therefore so strive to be Christs, so vigorously press after him, and salvation by him, to the uttermost of all our ability and opportunity: that we may not through wilfulness neglect or reject Christ, and salvation by him, lest thereby we receive the greater damnation: let us never be found among the number of the will-not's.

(h) Ioh.5.40.

I grant indeed that no meer carnall man, can compleatly come to Christ, accept him, and become his by any, or all his meer naturall abilities, or perfections whatsoever, without divine, supernaturall renewing grace. For, 1. Holy Scriptures are full and clear for this. (i) Iesus said, — No man can come unto me except the father which hath sent me draw him. (k) — It is God which worketh in you, both to will, and to do, of his good pleasure: (l) — which were born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God. 2. Repentance and faith, whereby we come out of our selves to Christ, are not of our selves, but are the meer (m) gifts of God. 3. The meer carnal man hath, in and of himself no abilities sufficient to bring him unto Christ. He is, (n) without strength, (o) without light, (p) without life, without hope. His (q) mind is enmity against God, and his law: His (r) conscience is defiled: His (s) will is rebellious against Christ: His (t) heart and affections are hardned and estranged from God. His (u) way is abomination to God; (x) The poyson of asps is under his tongue; yea (y) every imagination of the thoughts of his heart is only evill continually. He is (z) dead in sins and trespasses; (a) In the gall of bitterness and bond of iniquity; (b) under the power of Satan, the prince of the air, (c) led captive by him at his will; (d) reprobate to every good work; and (e) remaining in the flesh cannot please God. 4. Effectuall calling and conversion of a carnall man to Christ is so great a work, as that it utterly transcends, not only all carnall mans abilities, but all meer finite creatures activities: and can only be effected and compleated by the infinite power of God himself. For it is no less then (f) the renewing of them that were wholly old and corrupt; the (g) Regenerating of them that were unregenerate; the (h) releasing of them that were wholly captivated under sin and Satan; the (i) quickning and passing of them from death to life, that were dead in sins and trespasses; and the (k) New-creating of them, that were wholly old creatures. Hence in the first and fundementall saving work of God upon the soul, the infusion of gracious habits and principles into the soul, the carnall man is meerly passive, and can actively do nothing at all therein. Notwith-

Notwithſtanding, A meer carnall man by naturall abilities and activities, helped forward by common and reſtraining grace, may make a great progreſs towards Chriſt, and go very far towards ſalvation. For, 1. He may diſclaim and (l) avoid many groſs ſins and pollutions of the world: ſo that he may be blameleſs among men 2. He may do all imperate acts of piety and righteouſneſs, viz. all outward imitable acts that a true believer can do. As no carnall man can of himſelf fully come to Chriſt, and be his, ſo few carnall men will come to him, few will put forth themſelves towards Chriſt ſo far as they are able, few will go ſo far as they may go in theſe four ſteps forementioned; therefore they are willing to be without Chriſt, willing to periſh, yea wilfull to their own deſtruction. Seeing then that all theſe things are ſo, 1. That naturally ſince the fall, all people in the world are Chriſtleſs; 2. That all perſons, whileſt Chriſtleſs, are moſt miſerable; 3. That without Chriſt there is no eſcaping of damnation, no obtaining of ſalvation. 4. That Jeſus Chriſt is fully able to ſave ſinners to the uttermoſt. 5. That Jeſus Chriſt is as willing as able to ſave ſinners. 6. That ordinarily none can be ſaved by Chriſt, but by rejecting what is inconſiſtent with Chriſt, by ſtrong deſires after him, and actuall accepting of him according to the tender of the Goſpel; And 7. That the great cauſe why moſt in the viſible Church become not Chriſts, is not ſo much becauſe they cannot, but becauſe they will not; For one cannot, a thouſand will not's ſhall be condemned; Oh how ſhould all ſtrive and endeavor to the utmoſt to accept Chriſt tendered, and

Of the Form of the New Covenant.

APHORISM

THE Form of this New Covenant conſiſts; Inwardly, In the mutual obligation betwixt God and his New-Covenant Federates in Jeſus Chriſt the Mediator thereof: Outwardly, In the way and Manner of this New Covenants Manifeſtation, Confirmation and Adminiſtration. This Aphoriſm needs very little Explanation or Proof, ſo much (1) having been already ſpoken to this effect. Therefore briefly thus:

(1) In Book III. chap. 2. Aph. 2. & ch. 3. Aph. 1. & ch. 5. §. 2.

(1) The

(1) The Inward more Eſſential and Conſtitutive Form of the New Covenant, eſpecially ſtands, In the mutual and reciprocal Obligation of God and his Fœderates in Jeſus Chriſt one to another. This is the Inward Form of all Covenants: herein they all agree. Without this the very Nature of a Covenant is deſtroyed. 1. The LORD God, (k) Father, Son, and Holy-Ghoſt on his Part expreſly obligeth himſelf to his Fœderates, by Promiſing moſt excellent New Covenant-Bleſſings, Heb. 8. 10, 11, 12. Jer. 31. 33, 34. And (l) faithfull (ſaith Auguſtine ſweetly) is God, who hath made himſelf our debtor: Not by receiving any thing of us, but by promiſing ſo great things to us. His Promiſe was little, He would be bound by writing alſo, making as it were an hand-writing of his Promiſes to us: that when he ſhould begin to perform the things which he hath promiſed, in the Scripture of promiſes we might Conſider the order of Performances. The time of Prophecy, was the time of the Prediction of Promiſes: The time from John Baptiſt to the end, is the time of Performances. 2. The Houſe of Iſrael and Judah, even all the New Covenant Fœderates with God in Chriſt in all Nations, Jewiſh and Gentiliſh, do on their Part Implicitely re-oblige themſelves to God by Re-promiſing many important New Covenant-Duties anſwerable to, and grounded upon, or flowing from thoſe New Covenant-Bleſſings, as I have formerly noted, in Chap. 5. Sect. 2. General. II. Theſe promiſed Bleſſings and Repromiſed Duties, of the New Covenant, have been abundantly unfolded, in ch. 5. Sect. 3. Aph. 1. & 2.

(k) See before in ch. 3. Aph. 1. p. 1271, 1272.

(l) Fidelis Deus qui ſe noſtrum debitorem fecit; non aliquid a nobis accipiendo, ſed tanta nobis promittendo. Parum erat Promiſſio, etiam ſcripto ſe teneri voluit, veluti faciens nobiſcum chirographum Promiſſorum ſuorum: ut cum ea quæ promiſit ſolvere inciperet, In Scriptura Promiſſorum conſideraremus ordinem ſolvendorum, &c. Auguſtin. in Pſal. 109. Enarrat. in init. Tom. 8.

(II) The Outward and more Accidental Form of the New Covenant, is principally comprized in the way and manner of this New Covenants, 1. Manifeſtation, 2. Confirmation, and 3. Adminiſtration.

I. The Manifeſtation of this New Covenant, hath in it two things: viz. I. Gods firſt and Promiſſory Revelation of it. God (m) Revealed his New Covenant at firſt, Immediately to the Prophet Jeremiah, Mediately by him unto the People of God under Babyloniſh thraldom: God promiſing therein what manner of New Covenant he would make with his Church after thoſe dayes, viz. in the dayes of Chriſts incarnation. God revealed and firſt manifeſted promiſſorily his New Covenant, 1. Partly, in reference to the Jews his own people, to comfort them in their ſad Babyloniſh afflictions. 2. Partly, in reference to the old Covenant, which being weak and unprofitable did need to be reformed. 3. Partly in regard of the Greatneſs of mans ſin and miſery, that could not be healed but by the New Covenant Mediator actually revealed. All which I have (n) formerly Manifeſted. II. Gods after and Preparatory Inchoation of this New Covenant. The New Covenant had its Preparatory Inchoation, as I have (o) already ſhewed, 1. By the Miniſtry of John the Baptiſt, who by his Doctrine and Baptiſm made way for Chriſt and his New Covenant Kingdom, as a middle Prophet betwixt twixt the Old and New Covenant. 2. By the Miniſtry of Ieſus Chriſt himſelf in Perſon, and of his Diſciples, who, by New Covenant-Doctrine Miracles confirming the ſame, and Baptiſm the firſt New Covenant-Token, began to lay the foundation of the New Covenant. But touching theſe things I need ſpeak no further.

II. The Confirmation of this New Covenant, is ſurpaſsingly eminent, viz. 1. By the Lords choiceſt Promiſes. 2. By the inviolable Oath of God. 3. By the irrevocable death and moſt precious blood of Ieſus Chriſt. 4. By the beſt Sacramental Tokens, Baptiſm and the Lords Supper.

1. By the choiceſt Promiſes of God. Notable is that of the Apoſtles touching Chriſt; (p) —— But now hath he obtained a more excellent Miniſtery, by how much alſo he is the Mediator of a Better Covenant, which (νενομοθέτηται) is eſtabliſhed upon better Promiſes. This Better Covenant, whereof Chriſt is Mediator, is the (q) New Covenant: Therefore this New Covenant is eſtabliſhed, Confirmed, &c. upon Better Promiſes. The Greek word here, for (eſtabliſhed,) doth properly ſignifie; Is-put-as-a-Law, Is-enacted-as-a-Law, Is-made-authentical, Is-Confirmed, Is-eſtabliſhed. It denotes ſuch an eſtabliſhment of the New Covenant as is of authority, force, vertue & efficacy like an eſtabliſhed Law, like a Law enacted by good Authority. The Promiſes of God (for ſuch only are here intended) are Gods gracious Declarations of the good-pleaſure of his Will in Ieſus Chriſt, touching any future Good, Temporal, Spiritual or Eternal, which he will perform unto his People, Tit. 1. 2. Eph. 1. 9. 2 Pet. 1. 4. 2 Cor. 1. 20. 1 Tim. 4. 8. This is the Nature of Gods Promiſes in the General. Now Gods New Covenant Promiſes, upon which it is eſtabliſhed, are Better Promiſes. Note here, 1. How they are Better Promiſes. 2. How this New Covenant is Stabliſhed upon them. I. The New Covenants Promiſes are Better Promiſes, then thoſe of the Old Covenant, and Conſequently much more then thoſe of the fore-going Covenants, in many regards. As, 1. Better in regard of Perſpicuity and Clearneſs. The Promiſes of the Old Covenant were very dark, dim and obſcure. They were Promiſes under a veil, under ſhadows & types, eſpecially if we conſider Spirituals and Eternals. Chriſt is promiſed under (r) the Types of Moſes, Aaron, Melchizedeck, David, &c. Redemption is Promiſed under the (ſ) Types of bringing Iſrael out of Egypt, and Judah out of Babylon: Remiſſion of ſins and Juſtification is promiſed under the Tppes of Expiatory Sacrifices, Burnt-offerings, Sin-offerings, the Scape-goat, &c. Sanctification is promiſed under divers Ceremonial waſhings, cleanſings, Purifications: Heaven and eternal reſt there, is Promiſed under the Types of the Land of Reſt, Canaan, and of the Holy of Holies in the Tabernacle and Temple, &c. Thus thoſe Promiſes were under a veil, very dark and obſcure: and it was an hard matter for the people to diſcern theſe myſteries in thoſe ſhadows. Beſides, The Promiſes of Chriſt, and the things of Chriſt, under and before the Old Covenant, were at a great diſtance; As to come long after; The Fathers beheld them afar off, Heb. 11.13. And what we see at a distance afar off, we behold very darkly, weakly and imperfectly. But the Promises of the New Covenant are clear, plain, perspicuous, without veil, the veil being so done away in Christ come, and exhibited already in our flesh, So that we may with open face behold them, 2 Cor. 3. 12, 14, 18. 2. Better in regard of Spirituality. The Promises of the Old Covenant, and of those before, were in the current and tenour of them more Carnal, Literal, External, and Temporal about temporal and outward blessings for the most part: As, Bruising the Serpents Head, Preservation in the Ark from the Flood, Possession of Canaan, Prosperity, Peace & Rest there, A visible and earthly Sanctuary, &c. And great part of the people did carnally rest in these externals onely, not aspiring to the Spirituals intended therein. But the New Covenant Promises in the expres tenour and strain of them are more Spiritual, Celestial and Sublime, very few externals in comparison being insisted upon in all the New Covenant explanations. And the (t) whole body of the New Covenant (as (u) I have already manifested) consists onely of Promises: And all those Promises, onely of Spirituals, far excelling all Temporals whatsoever. Diligently consult what hath been formerly said to this point. 3. Better in regard of Divine efficacy and sufficiency. For, (1) The Old Covenant-Promises under Levitical Rites and Shadows did Figure, Propound and Promise that which themselves did not perform, (as (x) Beza noteth) in that they did transmit or send the minds of believers to Christ that was to come, and to the New Covenant. (y) The Law made nothing perfect, but the bringing in of a better hope did, &c. But the New Covenant-Promises Perform what they Promise, and refer us not to any further Covenant or Promises to supply their defectiveness. Those under the Old Testament, as well as those under the New, that were savingly Redeemed, Pardoned, Justified &c. Received these blessings from the vertue of the blood of the New Testament, Heb. 9. 14. (2) The Promises of the Old Covenant assured of many Blessings in case of Such obedience to the Law, such Performances, &c. Deut. 28. to 15. Exod. 19.5, 6. Deut. 11.13. to the end. But furnished not with Ability for such obedience and performances, The Covenant being written onely in hard (z) Tables of Stone. But the Promises of the New Covenant, do not only Assure of blessings from God, but also of Ability to perform all our Duties to God, God covenanting to (a) write his Law in our Minds and Hearts to that end. Yea (as (b) hath been shewed) This New Covenant in the body of it Consisting only of Promises. All our Duties & Abilties for them aswell as Gods mercies are founded on those promises, & to be fetcht from them. (3) The Promises of the Old Covenant running mostly in a low, carnal, earthly strain, did not so powerfully raise the Fœderates, to Spiritualness, Heavenliness and (c) Participation of the Divine Nature, as those of the New Covenant do. (4) The Promises of the Old Covenant, being for the Generality about outward things, did not, could not so inwardly refresh and revive the Souls of wounded Sinners or Distressed Saints. But the New Covenants Promises are evidently so Contrived, Disgested and Propounded, as may most sweetly and sufficiently remove all the Principal Doubts, Discouragements and Objections, which either a Bleeding, Heart-wounded Sinner, or a Distressed Saint, may make against his own Salvation: as (d) hath been already manifested in many Particulars. So that of all Gods Promises, his New Covenant-Promises must needs be acknowledged most Consolatory, and most exquisitly Cordial to a distressed Soul. 4 Better in regard of Extent. The Old Covenant-Promises, and others before, (e) were more peculiarly directed and limited to certain Peculiar Families, or to that one Particular Nation of the Iews: The Nations of the Gentiles being (f) Strangers from the Covenants of Promise. But the New Covenant Promises are, without restraint or limitation, (g) extended to all Nations of the world. 5. Better in regard of Duration. A very great part of the Promises of the Old Covenant and of others fore-going, as touching deliverance from Egypt, from Babylon, bringing into Canaan, victory over Canaanites, The temple at Jerusalem, &c. Having received their accomplishment, are expired. But the New Covenant-Promises, with the New Covenant, which is (h) Everlasting, do and shall still endure till the end of the world. And the more Durable Promises are, the better they are. Thus the Promises of the New Covenant are far Better Promises then those of the Old and of other fore-going Covenants. II. Now, upon these Better Promises the New Covenant is established and firmly setled: and that divers wayes, viz. 1. Materially; As these Better Promises are the very Matter of the New Covenant, of which it is Composed and Constituted. For, The (i) New Covenant-Mercies Promised on Gods Part to his Fœderates are contained in these better Promises, Expressly: And the New Covenant-Duties restipulated are comprized in these better Promises, Implicitly. Now all the Promises of God, and consequently these better Promises in an eminent sort, have these two Properties in them; (1) Infallible verity and Truth. It being utterly (k) impossible that God (who is the Supream Truth, and fountain of all Truth) should lie in them. (l) —God who cannot lie hath promised. (2) Immutability or unchangableness. As with God there is (m) no variableness nor shadow of turning: So Gods Promises are (n) Immutable Promises. Now Gods New Covenant being Materially moulded up and composed of better Promises, having these two Properties, Certain verity, and Infallibility; it must needs be notably established upon such Promises. 2. Relatively and Reductively; As these Better Promises Relate to Christ, and Reductively bring this New Covenant to Christ, who is the proper Base & foundation upon which it is bottomed. For these, as (o) all other the Promises of God since the Fall, are in Christ Yea, and in him Amen.

Christ is as the center where the lines of all the Promises meet: Christ is as the glorious Sun, whence all the resplendent beams of the Promises flow: Christ is as the very Sea or Ocean, whither all the streams and Rivers of the Promises Run. Jesus Christ is the primary and precious foundation of both Promises and Covenants, The Promises are as Pillars of Gold upon this foundation, and the Covenants as Chapiters of gold upon those Pillars.

2. By the inviolable Oath of God. Although God established not his Old Covenant by his Oath, but (as (p) I have shewed) by another Manner of Sanction, because that (q) Covenant was to wax old and vanish away: yet hath he established this New Covenant (which is still to remain New, fresh and vigorous, 2 Cor. 3. 14. Heb. 13. 20.) by his own sacred and inviolable Oath, of which he will never repent, In establishing Christs New Covenant-Mediation in his everlasting Melchizedeckian Priest-hood by his Oath irrevocably, unalterably. (r) The LORD hath sworn, and will not repent, Thou art a Priest for ever after the Order of Melchizedeck. The Old-Covenant-Priest-hood was made without an Oath, but Christs New Covenant Priest-hood with an Oath: Hence the Apostle concludes the New Covenant it self to be Better, Heb. 7. 20, 21, 22. viz. More firm, unchangeable, lasting, &c. then the Old Covenant. So then, Christs everlasting Melchizedeckian Priest-hood, and his New Covenant have such a near, close, inseparable Relation and connexion to, and dependance upon one another: that God confirming Christs Priest-hood by his Oath, he consequently confirms this New Covenant by his Oath. Now God established his New Covenant by Oath; 1. To declare hereby the Immutability of his counsel in his New Covenant. Though Gods bare saying, may sometimes implicitly leave a liberty for revoking or altering, Jer. 18. 7, 8. as in case of the Old Covenant: Yet Gods swearing, puts things sworn past reversing. See Heb. 6. 17, Psal. 89. 34, 35. Isa. 54. 9, 10. For God by his Oath pawns his own Being, Life, Power, Truth, Holiness, &c. to make good what he hath so ratified. 2. To exalt and magnifie by his Oath the excellency of the New Covenant so sworn, above the old, Heb. 6. 20, 21, 22. 2 Cor. 3. 11. Every Covenant or thing, the more firm and permanent it is, the more excellent it is. 3. To fill and furnish the hearts of his true Fœderate People with strong consolation, assurance and encouragement in his New Covenant, who have fled for refuge to lay hold upon the Hope set before us, Heb. 6. 17, 18, 19, 20. An Oath is the strongest and most inviolable bond amongst men, (s) An Oath for Confirmation is an end of all strife: How much more strong and securing is Gods Oath. Who shall doubt, when God swears: who cannot possibly deny himself, or forswear himself? O comfort we our selves in the New Covenant, and in Christs New Covenant-Mediation, in this: That God hath confirmed them by his Oath, and he will never Repent, they shall stand for ever.

3. By

3. By the irrevocable Death and Blood of Jesus CHRIST our Mediator, Surety and Testator. The (t) old Covenant or Testament had a Solemn Typical Sanction by slaying of Sacrifices, and blood sprinkled: But the New Covenant or Testament had the most solemn, Antitypical and Substantial Sanction, by the Death, Blood and Sacrifice of JESUS CHRIST himself, (u) who is over all God blessed for ever, Amen. By Christs own Death, Blood and Sacrifice of himself, this New Covenant was Dedicated and established, Heb. 9. 12, 14, 15, 16, 17, 23, &c. Mat. 26. 27, 28. Mark 14. 23, 24. Luke 22. 20. 1 Cor. 11. 25. Now Christs Death (and consequently his Dedication and Sanction of his New Covenant thereby,) was with greatest solemnity: as (x) I have already manifested in divers particulars. And as Christs Death, Bloodshed and Sacrificing of himself, was with greatest solemnity; So it was of greatest force and efficacy for the establishment of this his New Covenant for ever. For, I. Christ Jesus dyed, shed his blood, and offered up himself without spot to God by the Eternal Spirit, As (y) Mediator, Surety, and Testator of the New Covenant. He dyed not in a Private, but in this Publick capacity: to Seal up his New Covenant, and his Elects salvation according to it, with his own Blood. 1. As Jesus Christ is Mediator, He stablished his New Covenant by his Death, Blood and Sacrifice. In that hereby he hath fully Pacified God towards his Elect, as their Propitiation; Heb. 8. 12. 1 John 2. 1, 2. Rom. 3. 25. and reconciled his Elect meritoriously unto God, Rom. 5. 10. So that now God and they are in Christs blood brought unto terms of sweetest Unity, Peace and Favour, Eph. 2. 13. to 19. 2. As Jesus Christ is Surety, he hath by his Blood established the New Covenant. In that he hath thereby compleatly discharged our Debt which we had contracted by the violation of Gods Laws, having therein satisfied Gods justice and Laws to the uttermost for all his Elect, Heb. 7. 22. & 9. 12, 13, 14. & 10. 10. to 19. Eph. 5. 2. 3. As Jesus Christ is Testator, he hath by his Death confirmed, made authentical, and consummated this his last Will and Testament: In asmuch as (z) A Testament is of force after men are dead, otherwise it is of no strength at all while the Testator liveth. The Testator while he liveth hath power of Revoking his Testament, and of making a later as oft as he will, and (as the First Deed, so) the last Will stands in force: But when the Testator hath once ratified his Testament by his death, there can be no more Revocation or Alteration thereof. Therefore Christ the Testator being dead, his New Testament is irrevocably confirmed: Nothing can be added thereto, taken thencefrom, or changed therein, till the worlds End.

II. Jesus Christ dying as Mediator, Surety and Testator, established this New Covenant by his Death, Blood and Sacrifice of himself, virtually and consequentially. And this divers waies. 1. Adimplendo. By fulfilling and Abrogating the Old Covenant: By his Death he fulfilled and vacated all the Sacrifices of the Old Covenant: and the Body being being come, he drew a curtain over all those Pictures and Shadows thereof. This was one thing intended in Christs speech on the Cross; (a) It is finished. This Old Covenant and Sacrifices thereof were taken away, that the New Covenant, in Christs blood might be established. (b) ——He taketh away the first, that he may establish the Second. Both could not be in full force at once. The Old therefore is abolished, that the New may be established. 2. Vincendo. By Conquering (c) Sin, Satan, Death and Curse, those Spiritual Enemies, that stand in the way of our enjoyment of the blessings of the New Covenant. And he conquered them by his Death and Cross. 3. Merendo. By Meriting for his Elect by his Death All the Blessings of the New Covenant, As Redemption, Reconciliation to God, Vocation, Sanctification, Adoption, Iustification, &c. (d) these are the Purchases of his blood and Death, Heb. 9. 12. Rom. 5. 9, 10. Heb. 9. 14. Gal. 4. 4, 5. Rom. 3. 25. Heb. 10. 19, 20. Now Christ meriting and obtaining for us by his Death all the New Covenant-Benefits from God, hath thereby established most notably the New Covenant it self. Thus, the Death of Iesus Christ, was the Life of the New Covenant: His Sacrifice of himself was the stablishment of the New Covenant. The New Covenant can no more fail, then Christ can die again, or shed his blood again.

4. Finally, The New Covenant is confirmed and stablished by the best Sacramental Tokens, Baptism, and the Lords-Supper. Ever since Gods Promises were in Scripture called Covenants, they have been confirmed by visible and sensible Tokens: As the Covenant with Noah, by the Token of the Rainbow; The Covenant with Abraham and Israel at Sinai, by the Ordinary Tokens Circumcision and the Passover, and for a time in the Wilderness by the four Extraordinary Tokens, The Cloudy fiery Pillar, Sea, Mannah, and water out of the Rock: The Covenant with David and with the Captives, by Circumcision and the Passover. Thus this last and most excellent Covenant is confirmed by two Sacramental Tokens excelling all that went before, viz. Baptism and the Lords Supper; which are, In signification, Clearer; In vertue, Greater; In utility, Better; In act, Easier; In number, fewer, &c. As (e) I have formerly noted out of Augustine. Those Sacraments were bloody, these not bloody: Those signified darkly Christ to come afterwards, These signifie clearly Christ come already; Those were painful and costly, These without pain, and cheap: Those did wax old and vanish away with the Old Covenant, These are still to continue in force till the worlds End with the New Covenant. Now both in Those Old, and These New Covenant-Tokens; 1. Some were First, For Initiating of Persons visibly into the Mystical body of Christ the Church, &c. As Circumcision, Ordinarily; The Cloudy fiery-Pillar and the Sea, Extraordinarily: To all which, Baptism under the New Testament most fully Answers, and plainly succeeds them, Col. 2. 10, 11, 12, 13, &c. 1 Cor. 10. 1, 2, &c. 2. Some were Second, For Continuing & Nourishing

Now as (f) I have formerly Opened the Nature of the Covenant-Tokens or Sacraments of old, ſhewing How they did confirm Thoſe Covenants whereunto they were Annexed, reſpectively: So I ſhall, touching Baptiſm and the Lords Supper, thoſe two Tokens of the New Covenant, briefly ſhew; 1. That Baptiſm and the Lords Supper do confirm and eſtabliſh the New Covenant. 2. Wherein the Nature of Baptiſm and the Lords Supper doth conſiſt. 3. How theſe two Tokens do confirm this New Covenant.

(f) See book 3. chap. 2. Aphor. 3. pag. 273, 274. & Chap. 3. Aph. 4 p. 542. to 559.

(1) That Baptiſm and the Lords Supper do confirm the New Covenant; is evident. I. Baptiſm confirms the New Covenant. This is plain; 1. From Chriſts Commiſſion. As Chriſt gave Commiſſion to his Apoſtles, To (g) Diſciple all Nations, by preaching to them the New Covenant Doctrine: So he appointed them to Baptize all them that ſhould be ſo diſcipled, profeſſing their Faith. To what end ſhould they be ſo Baptized, and at that time: but to initiate them into, and eſtabliſh them in the New Covenant. 2. From the Apoſtolical practiſe. (h) Who, when (upon their preaching the New Covenant-Doctrine) any did believe and profeſs the ſame, did forthwith confirm, ſtabliſh and Seal them in that their New Covenant-Faith and Doctrine, by Baptizing them. 3. From the New Covenant-Bleſsings confirmed by Baptiſm. It confirms to us, Regeneration, John 3. 3, 5. Tit. 3. 5. Remiſsion of ſins and Juſtification, Rom. 8. 38. Sanctification, by dying unto ſin and living unto righteouſneſs, Rom. 6. 3. to 12. Col. 2. 11, 12, &c. Adoption into Gods Family, and Communion with Chriſt, Gal. 3. 26, 27. Now theſe are (i) New Covenant-Bleſsings. Therefore Baptiſm confirming the New Covenant-Bleſsings to us, conſequently confirms the New Covenant it ſelf. 4. From the Analogy betwixt Circumciſion and Baptiſm. Circumciſion was a Sacramental Token confirming the Old Covenant: Conſequently Baptiſm ſucceeding in the room of Circumciſion, Col. 2. 10, 11, 12, 13. is a Sacramental Token confirming the New Covenant. II. The Lords Supper alſo confirms and eſtabliſheth the New Covenant. This is clear; 1. From the words of the Inſtitution. Chriſt ſaith of the Cup in this Ordinance; (k) This cup is the New Teſtament in my Blood: that is, This wine in the Cup is a Token, Sign, Seal and Inſtrumental Conveyance of the New Teſtament in my Blood. The New Teſtament is confirmed, By this Cup, Sacramentally and Symbolically; By the Blood of Chriſt Fundamentally. 2. From the end and uſe of the Lords Supper; which is, To confirm (l) Communion with Chriſt and his members; Remiſſion of ſins; and and such like New Covenant-Benefits, Heb. 8. 10, 11, 12. and consequently to confirm and establish the New Covenant it self.

(2) Wherein the Nature of Baptism and the Lords Supper doth Consist.

More Generally, Touching all Sacraments, as also touching both these Sacraments of the New Covenant, Note; 1. That, As God hath been pleased in all ages to deal with his Church by way of Covenants, as I (m) have already shewed: So in all ages to those his Covenants he hath annexed Sacraments, proportionably. 2. That, Sacraments are Part, not of Gods Natural, but only of his Instituted worship. And therefore both in their Nature and use they wholly depend upon Gods Institutions. 3. That, All Sacraments Instituted by God since Adams Fall, were Tokens, Pledges, &c. of the gratuitous Covenant of faith. 4. That, All Sacraments or Tokens of the Covenant of faith in all ages, did Principally represent Iesus Christ, and him as suffering death for his Elect. 5. That, these Sacramental Tokens were of several sorts, viz. Some representing Christ as to suffer afterwards: and those both Ordinary and Extraordinary, As all before Christ. Some representing Christ as having suffered already, As these of the New Covenant since Christ. 6. That, In all Sacraments, There are two parts, viz. Outward signs, Representing; and Inward Mysteries, thereby Represented: As also a Sacramental Union, or Relation betwixt those two Parts. Of all these, (n) I have elsewhere spoken; Let the Reader consult the Particulars. 7. That, As touching these two Sacraments or Tokens of the New Covenant, Baptism and the Lords Supper, The Rise of them seems to be from some Rites or Customs in use among the Jews before these Sacraments were Instituted. Christ appointed not new and unusual Matters unknown to the Jews; but antient, usual and well-known Matters, Rites and Actions, but to new ends and purposes: (o) He set a new stamp or superscription (as some observe) on the Old mettal. And hereby the Iews Reception of his Institutions was exceedingly facilitated: their own familiar Rites, Customs, and usages being improved by him to further and more excellent uses, ends and advantages under the New Covenant. Thus, (1) Touching Baptism, the Initiating Sacrament of the New Covenant, it seems, (as (p) learned men have observed,) to have had its Rise, from the Iewish custome of entering themselves into Covenant with God, and of admitting Heathens thereinto after the same manner, viz. (q) By Circumcision

(q) By three things (say the Hebrew Doctors) did Israel enter into the Covenant; By Circumcision, and Baptism, and Sacrifice. Circumcision was in Ægypt, as it is written; No Uncircumcised shall eat thereof, Exod. 12. 48. Baptism was in the Wilderness before the giving of the Law; As it is written; Sanctifie them to day and to morrow, and let them wash their cloaths, Exod. 19. 10. And Sacrifice, as it is said; And he sent young men of the sons of Israel which offered Burnt-offerings, &c. Exod. 24. 5. And so in all ages, when an Ethnick is willing to enter into the Covenant, and gather himself under the wings of the Majesty of God, and take upon him the yoak of the Law; He must be Circumcised, and Baptized, and bring a Sacrifice. And if it be a woman, she must be Baptized, and bring a Sacrifice; As it is written, Numb.

Numb. 15. 15. As ye are, so shall the stranger be. How so? By Circumcision, and Baptism, and bringing of a Sacrifice: So likewise the stranger throughout all Generations; By Circumcision, and Baptism, and bringing of a Sacrifice. And what is the stranger's Sacrifice? A burnt-offering of a Bullock, or two Turtle-Doves, or two young Pigeons, both of them for a burnt-offering. And at this time, when there is no Sacrificing; They must be Circumcised and Baptized, and when the Temple shall be builded, they are to bring the Sacrifice. A stranger that is Circumcised, and not Baptized; or Baptized, and not Circumcised; he is not a Proselyte, till he be both Circumcised and Baptized, &c. Maimony in Misn. Tract. Jebamoth. cap. 13. s. 1, 6, 11, 14, 15. Hereupon (saith Ainsworth) Baptism was nothing strange unto the Jews, when John the Baptist began his Ministry, Mat. 3. 5, 6. They make Question of his Person that did it, but not of the thing itself, John 1. 25. H. Ainsworth in his annotat. on Gen. 17. 12.

sion and Baptism, and Sacrifice. (2) Touching The Lords Supper, the Nourishing Sacrament of the New Covenant, it seems also to have had its Rise from the Jewish customs in celebrating the Paschal Supper, and in their After Supper, or Second course at the same time. They are described by Ainsworth in his Annotat. on Exod. 12. 8. and by that learned Buxtorf, well acquainted with the Jewish customs, see his Synagog. Judaic. cap. 13. Let the diligent Reader peruse them throughly; and as Ainsworth there observes, These observations of the Jews — may give light to some particulars in the Passover that Christ kept. As: Why they lay down, one leaning on another's bosom, John 13. 23. (a sign of Rest and Security) and stood not, as at the first Passover, neither sate on high, as we use. Why Christ rose from Supper & washed, & sate down again, Joh. 13. 4, 5, 12. Why he blessed, or gave thanks for the Bread apart, and for the cup, or wine, apart, Mark 14. 22, 23. And why its said, He took the cup after Supper, Luke 22. 20. Also concerning the Hymn which they sung at the End, Mat. 26. 30. And why Paul calleth it, The shewing forth of the Lords death, 1 Cor. 11. 26. as the Jews usually called their Passover, Haggadah, that is, A Shewing or Declaration. But especially we may observe, How the bread which was of old a Remembrance of their deliverance out of Egypt, was sanctified by the Son of God, to be A Remembrance of his Death, and of our Redemption thereby from Satan, 1 Cor. 11. 24, 25, 26. For which we have much more cause to praise, honour and magnifie the Lord, then the Hebrews had for their Temporary Salvation. So he.

More Particularly, Touching these two New Covenant-Sacraments, Baptism and the Lords Supper, thus their Nature may in brief be represented, viz.

Baptism, and the Nature thereof, may clearly be discovered to us by the 1 Author, 2 Matter, 3 Form, and 4 End thereof. I. The Author of Baptism, as a New Covenant-token, is God by Jesus Christ: and that by a double Commission, viz. 1. By a Commission given to John the Baptist, for Baptizing only of that one Nation of the Jews. This was done in the Preparations for, and Inchoations of the New Covenant, (r) that Jesus Christ might be made manifest unto Israel. And (saith John) I knew him not: But he that sent me to Baptize with water, the same said unto me, Upon whom thou shalt see the Spirit descending and remaining on him, the same is he which Baptizeth with the Holy Ghost. This was the first Institution of Baptism: But this Commission was very much limited and restrain-(r) John 1. 31, 32, 33. with Mat. 3. 5, 6, 7, 11, 13. to the end.

ed. 2. By a Commission given to the Apostles after Christs Resurrection, and by Christ Risen, (f) for Baptizing not only of the Iews, but also of All Nations throughout the whole world. This was done after the solemn Sanction of the New Covenant by the death and blood of Iesus Christ. This was for substance the same Commission, but exceedingly Enlarged. II. The Matter of Baptism, is twofold, viz. 1. The matter Constituent, whereof Baptism is made up and constituted. And this is, (1) Partly, Outward, viz. The Element signifying water, John 1. 31, 33. Acts 8. 36, 37. The Action of Applying this water, Baptizing, or Washing, Mat. 28. 19. John 1. 31, 33. Acts 8. 36. & 16. 33. This washing may be done by Sprinkling, or Effusion, or Dipping. (2) Partly, Inward, viz. The Spiritual Mysteries signified by this Element and Action, which is twofold; namely, The Blood of Christ, sprinkled upon the soul and heart through Faith, washing away the guilt of sin, unto Remission of sins and Justification, Rom. 6. 3. Eph. 5. 25, 26. with 1 John 1. 7. Heb. 9. 12, 14. Acts 3. 38, 39. And The Spirit of Christ poured upon the soul through grace, washing away the filth, stain and power of sin, by Regeneration, Vocation, Sanctification in dying to sin, and living to righteousness, &c. John 3. 3, 5, 6. Tit. 3. 5. Rom. 6. 4, 5, 6, 7. Col. 2. 11, 12, 13. 1 Pet. 3. 21. 2. The Matter Recipient, or subjects capable of Baptism are of two sorts, viz. (1) Professed Believers of all Nations, Iews or Gentiles, Mat. 28. 19. Mark 16. 15, 16. Acts 2. 38, 39. & 8. 37, 38. & 16. 14, 15, 33, 34. yea though their profession of Faith be not sound and sincere, but hypocritical, Acts 8. 13, 23. (2) All the children, even the Infant-children of such profest Believers, Iews or Gentiles, Acts 2. 38, 39. But this I have already demonstrated at large, Proving both, (t) That all such Infants are together with their Parents Fœderates in this New Covenant; And (u) That all such Infants may and ought to be baptized, as well as their Parents. There See. III. The Form of Baptism is twofold, viz. 1. Inward and Essential, constituting Baptism, viz. That Sacramental Union or Relation, which (by vertue of Christs Institution) is established betwixt the Sign and Things Signified; which Relation or Union consists in, (1) Signifying fitly the Mysteries represented: (2) Sealing strongly the Benefits Signified: (3) Exhibiting truly and really the Blessings Signified and Sealed, to the Believing Soul. And This, Not (ex opere operato) from the bare work done; which worketh not physically, like a medicine: Nor (Ex opere Operantis) from the work of the worker, or any worthiness of the Minister Dispensing it; for though none, no not in any pretended Case of Necessity, can warrantably dispence the Sacrament of Baptism, but (x) a true Minister of Christ lawfully called, yet the perfectest Minister and his actions are full of frailties and imperfections. 2. Outward and Accidental; viz. The Form or Manner of Administring Baptism, (y) in (f) Mat. 28. 18, 19, 20. Mark 16. 15, 16, &c.

(y) in the Name of Father, Son and Holy Ghost. That is, 1. By authority and warrant from Father, Son and Holy Ghost. 2. Into Professed Covenant and Communion with Father, Son and Holy Ghost: To partake from all three, All the Benefits, Blessings and Priviledges of the New Covenant, which are also Signified and Confirmed by this Sacrament; As also on our parts to perform to all three all Restipulated and Conditioned New Covenant Duties sincerely. IV. The End of Baptism, 1. Negatively considered, is (1) Not an utter Obliteration of all sin and Punishment; Act. 8. 13, 23. (2) Nor A Collation of Grace from the meer work done, or from the Dignity of the Minister Dispensing it. (3) Nor any impression of an indelible character. (4) Nor an absolute Alligation or Tying, either of the thing signified to the Signs, or of Persons to the Sacrament, as if no New-Covenant Grace could be conferred without this Sacrament. For God can Confer Grace when and how he will, ordinarily or extraordinarily, with Means or without Means, when himself denies the Means. God ties us, but not himself, to the use of means. Nor is it the Simple Privation, but the neglect, and contempt, and Prophanation of Baptism that is sinful and dangerous. 2. Affirmatively Considered, the End of Baptism is chiefly twofold, viz. First, The Primary and Antecedent end, having peculiar respect to Faith in God and Christ; And so Baptism is intended to signifie, Seal and Exhibit, (1) Our Implantation or Insition into Christ, Union to him, and Communion with him. Hence those phrases of (z) Being Baptized into Christ; Putting on Christ; Being (a) baptized into the name of the Son; Being (b) buried with Christ by baptism, being baptized into his Death and Resurrection, &c. (2) Our (c) Remission of sins and Justification by the blood of Jesus Christ. (3) Or Regeneration and Renovation by his Spirit, Tit. 3. 5. Eph. 5. 25, 26, 27. 1 Pet. 3. 21. already explained all these Particulars, I refer the Reader thither, for brevity Sake.

(3) How these two Sacramental Tokens, Baptism and the Lords Supper do confirm the New Covenant. This may in great measure be Resolved by what hath been already said. But I add More Generally, Baptism and the Lords Supper confirm the New Covenant; Not Physically or Naturally by any Natural Quality, Property, vertue or operation thereof: But Sacramentally and Spiritually, as Sacramental Signs or Tokens, Seals and Instrumental means for Conveying Jesus Christ and the Benefits of the New Covenant to Gods Fœderates, and all this by vertue of Christs Institution of these Ordinances to this end. More Particularly;

Baptism confirms the New Covenant; I. As a Token or Sign of the New Covenant. That Baptism is a Token or Sign of the New Covenant, is plain: For, (1) It succeeds in the room and stead of Circumcision, and to all such Fœderal uses and Purposes, Col. 2.10, 11, 12, &c. Now Circumcision in the Nature and use of it according to the first Institution thereof, was (i) a Token of the Covenant. Therefore consequently, so is Baptism. (2) In Christs Commission, (k) Baptism is annexed to the Doctrine of the New Covenant. (3) In Apostolical Practise, Baptism (l) was still Administred to all that embraced the New Covenant and the Doctrine thereof: whereby as Fœderates they were initiated and implanted into Christ, into his mystical body, &c. Now Baptism, As a Token or Sign, Confirms the New Covenant, divers wayes. viz. 1. As a Memorative Token; Being a notable Memorial of the actual Incarnation and exhibition of Jesus Christ to Israel. For Iohn the Baptist therefore (m) came Baptizing with water, that he might be made manifest to Israel. For, (n) John knew him not, but he that sent him to baptize with water, the same said unto him, upon whom thou shalt see the Spirit descending and remaining on him, the same is he that baptizeth with the Holy Ghost. And accordingly, (o) when Jesus came to John to be baptized of him, He saw the Heavens opened, and the Spirit of God descending like a dove and resting upon him, and lo, a voice from heaven, saying, This is my beloved son in whom I am well pleased Now Jesus Christ, actually incarnate, being thus Manifest by Baptism to John; (p) John bare record, that this is the Son of God: and pointed him out as with the finger (q) behold the Lamb of God that taketh away the Sins of the world. Baptism therefore is a notable Memorial of Christs actual incarnation and Manifestation to Israel in our flesh in fulness of time; for establishment of his New Covenant. 2. As a Significative Token; Baptism signifying and assuring of those seven excellent fore-mentioned New Covenant Benefits, Implantation into, and union with Christ, Remission of Sins, &c. 3. As a Distinctive Token; Baptism distinguishing Baptized Christians from all Unbaptized Pagans, Jews, &c. 4. As an Instructing Sign; Discovering to us,

The Lords Supper Confirms the New Covenant alſo. I. As A Sign and Token of the New Covenant in Chriſts blood; or as a Sign of Chriſts blood of the New Covenant, confirming and individually applying the New Teſtament, with all the promiſes, Benefits, Priviledges and comfort thereof to right Receivers, Luke 22. 20. 1 Cor. 11. 25. Mat. 26. 28. Mark 14. 24. Now the Lords Supper, as a Token or Sign Confirms the New Covenant ſeveral wayes, viz. 1. As a Memorative Sign, lively remembring, and bringing freſh into mind the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, his Paſſion, Death, &c. for his elect, his infinite love, &c. in ſo dying. (t) Do this in remembrance of me. —— As oft as you eat this bread and drink this Cup, ye ſhew forth the Lords death till he come. This is a Monumental Memorial of Chriſt crucified to the worlds end. And by Chriſts Death the New Covenant was eſtabliſhed, Heb. 9. 14, 15, 16, 17. 2. As a Significative Sign or Token; The Lords Supper ſignifying; (1) Chriſts (u) Body broken for us, and Chriſts blood of the New Covenant ſhed for us. (2) Our (x) Communion with Chriſt crucified in all the Benefits of his Croſs and Death. (3) Remiſſion of ſins in his blood, ſhed for that end. Mat. 26. 28. (4) Spiritual (y) nouriſhment of Faith in Chriſt, and all Grace by this Lords Supper. (5) Sweet (z) Union and Communion of the Saints one with another. 3. As an Inſtructive Sign; The Lords Supper inſtructs us in many things; as, (1) That, Chriſt Jeſus is already actually betrayed, and put to Death for our ſins, 1 Cor. 11. 23, 24, 25. (2) That, the Old Covenant and the Sacraments thereof are already abrogated, and the New Covenant actually eſtabliſhed, by his Death, 1 Cor. 11. 25. Mat. 26. 28. (3) That, Jeſus Chriſt already crucified is compleat New Covenant-Nouriſhment for us, 1 Cor. 11. 20, 24, 25. (4) That, The Contempt and abuſe of the Lords Supper is an high contempt of Jeſus Chriſt himſelf, of his Death, and of his New Covenant: and puniſhed by God accordingly, 1 Cor. 11. 24, 25, 26, 27, 29, 30. (5) That, therefore to come to the Lords Supper Ignorantly, Unbelievingly, believingly, Impenitently, Uncharitably, or any way unworthily, is a most dangerous Sin, 1 Cor. 11. 27, 28, 29. And to come to it in Knowledge, Faith, Repentance, &c. is a most necessary Duty. (6) That, the Lords Supper is no Propitiatory Sacrifice, but a Remembrance of Christs Propitiatory Sacrifice, 1 Cor. 11. 24, 25, 26. (7) That, The Lords Supper is to continue till Christ come, 1 Cor. 11. 26. and consequently the New Covenant is so long to continue also, and that in the present form of administration, Mat. 28. 19, 20. Heb. 13. 20. 4. As a Distinctive Token; Distinguishing New Covenant-Fœderates, from all aliens to the New Covenant. 5. As an Obligatory Sign; Binding and Obliging all Communicants according to the Tenor of the New Covenant, Fitly to prepare for it, duly to use it, and afterwards to walk Sutably and answerably to it. II. As a Seal of the New Covenant in Christs blood; Sealing all the Former matters and mysteries signified. Why shall one Sacrament be (a) a Seal, and not every Sacrament? III. As an instrumental Mean of Conveyance. In the right use, according to Christs Institution, it so effectually conveyes Christ and New Covenant benefits to believers, by vertue of Sacramental union and divine benediction, that it is said; (b) This is my body, This is my blood, This is the New Testament in my blood.

But thus of the New Covenants Confirmation.

III. The Administration or actual execution of the New Covenant is Singularly eminent, viz.

1. With Universal Reference to all Nations of the world Jewish and Gentilish, and to the Oecumenical or General Church to be gathered out of them all: But in the first place to the Jews, and then unto the Gentiles, Mat. 28. 18, 19. Mark 16. 15, 16. 1 Cor. 12. 12, 13, &c. 28. Luke 24. 46, 47. Acts 13. 46, 47. & 26. 19, 20.

2. By the Preaching of the New Covenant Doctrine, The Gospel of Iesus Christ exhibited, Most clearly, fully and efficaciously, by (c) Catechetical Instruction in Principles and otherwise, for the Discipling of all Nations, for bringing People of all Nations in the world to be Christs Disciples, Mat. 28. 18, 19, 20. Mark 16. 15, 16. Luke 24. 47. To whom, By whom, and How, the New Covenant-Doctrine is to be preached, (d) hath elsewhere been further manifested. And this course of Preaching the Apostles diligently observed, Acts 10. throughout. & 15. 6, 7, &c. & 13. 46, 47. & 26. 20. Their doctrine did principally run upon Christ now already performed, and actually exhibited, according to Gods Promises of old: whose Birth, Life, Sufferings, Death, Burial, Resurrection, Ascension, Sitting down at Gods right hand, Effusions of his Spirit, Giving gifts to men, &c. for the Collection, Edification and Consummate Salvation of his Church, even of all his elect throughout the whole world, through Faith and Repentance for Remission of Sins &c. is the Principal Subject-matter of their Doctrine, See Acts 2. 22. to 37. & 3. 13. to the end. & 5. 29, 30, 31, 32. & 9. 20, 22. & 10. 34. to 44 & 13.

This New Covenant-Doctrine in Christ, since Christs (e) establishment of his New Testament by his Death, is Preached, 1. Most clearly, plainly and with open face, The veyl of all dark Types, figures and shadows being done away in Christ, 2 Cor. 3. 12. to the end. 2 Cor. 4. 6, 7. 2. Most fully and compleatly, The Mysterie of Christ touching the Gentiles incorporation into the Church of God with the Iews being now more fully revealed by the Spirit to the Apostles and Prophets, then ever in any former ages, Eph. 3. 3, 4, 5, 6. As also the mysteries of all future affairs and Conditions of the Church till the end of the world, Rev. 4. to the end of the Book. The mysteries of the Iews calling again, after the Gentiles fulness, Rom. 11. Of the Resurrection of the Dead, change of the Living, Final judgement of all, &c. 1 Cor. 15. 1 Thes. 4. Mat. 25. These and many other Mysteries of Christians were never so fully and compleatly discovered as now by and under the New Covenant. 3. Most efficaciously to the Conversion of many, (1) Both among the (f) Iews, Acts 2. 41. & 44. & 5. 14. & 6 7. & 9. 31. & 12. 24. & 21. 20. 5. By a Viſible and Succeſſive New Covenant-Miniſtry, Extraordinary, and Ordinary; and by other New Covenant officers. I. By a New Covenant-Miniſtry, to which Chriſt hath promiſed his Preſence to the end of the world, Mat. 28. 18, 19, 20. This Miniſtry is, 1. Extraordinary, unlimited to any particular Place, imployed chiefly in the firſt Planting of the New Covenant-Church, by laying the (h) foundation of the New Covenant Doctrine: As, (1) Apoſtles, (2) Prophets, (3) Evangeliſts, Eph. 4. 8, 11, 12, 13. This Extraordinary work ceaſing, Theſe extraordinary officers alſo ceaſed, The Ordinary Succeeding them. 2. Ordinary, limited to particular Places, building upon the foundation laid: As (1) Paſtors, (2) Teachers, Eph. 4. 8, 11, 12, &c. Theſe Paſtors and Teachers are to continue till the worlds end, Mat. 28. 19, 20. (h) 1 Cor. 3. 10, 11, 12, &c.

6. With more Plenary, palpable and viſible effuſions of the Spirit, both in Extraordinary and Ordinary Endowments, then ever was under any foregoing Covenant-Adminiſtration, Acts 2. 1, 2, 3, &c. to the end. 1 Cor. 12. 4. to 12. Acts 10. 44, 45, 46. 1 Cor. 1. 5, 6, 7. John 7. 37, 38, 39. Before Chriſts Aſcenſion the Spirit was ſparingly given in drops, &c. but ſince as it were in ſtreams and rivers.

7. With more Perfect Filial Chriſtian Liberty, Both from fear and bondage under Sin, Satan, Curſe, Death, and all our Spiritual Enemies, Luke 1. 74, 75. Tit. 2. 14. Gal. 3. 13, 14. Heb. 2. 14, 15. And alſo from all the Servitude of the Moſaical Pedagogie, the Church being now paſt her Minority, and come to Maturity, Col. 2. 14. Gal. 4. 4, 5, 6. (1) Hagar the bond-woman and her children are Caſt out, and we are children not of the bond-woman, but of the free. Not of the Servile Old Covenant from Mount Sinai: but of the Free New Covenant from Mount Sion. (k) If the Son ſhall make you free, ye ſhall be free indeed.

(i) Gal. 4. 21. to the end. & 5. 1, &c.

(k) Iohn 8. 36.

8. Finally,

8. Finally, This New Covenant is managed and Adminiſtred with far more Glory then the Old, or any that went before it. The Old Covenant was glorious, as apears by the glory and ſhining of Moſes Countenance. (1) But that which was made glorious, had no glory in this reſpect, by reaſon of the glory that excelleth. Herein the New Covenant glory Excelleth; 1. Its a ſpiritual, not a carnal glory, 2 Cor. 3. 7, 8. 2. Its a Comfortable and ſaving, not a diſmaying and condemning Glory, 2 Cor. 3. 7, 8. 3. Its a clear, open and unveiled, not a veiled glory, 2 Cor. 3. 12. to the end. 4. Its an Effectual, Transforming, not an ineffectual Glory, 2 Cor. 3. 14, 15, 18. 5. Its a Permanent and Remaining, not a tranſient and vaniſhing glory, 2 Cor. 3. 7, 11.

(1) 2 Cor. 3. 7, 8, 9, 10.

Inferences.

1. Hence, The New Covenant is of all other Moſt comfortable. For it was at firſt Maniſeſted and Revealed to the Captives by Jeremiah, as a ground of ſtronger Comfort to the Captives then the Covenant with the Captives, or old Covenant; as (m) hath been already obſerved. Now the comfortableneſs of the New Covenant againſt, 1. Sin, 2. Apoſtacy, 3. Wants, Inward or Outward, 4. Temptations, 5. Deſertions, 6. Afflictions and Perſecutions, and 7 Death it ſelf, (n) hath been already at large unfolded in this Book. There See. This New Covenant is a bleſſed Cabinet of ſweeteſt ſoul-reviving Cordials.

(m) In this fourth Book ch. 3. Aph. 2. 1 p. 1275.

(n) Book IV. chap. 3. Aph. 2. p. 1283. to 1289 But eſpecially ſee ch. 5. §. 3. Ap. 1. p. 1516. to the end of that chapter.

2. Hence, The New Covenant is of all other Covenants moſt ſufficient. For, It was firſt Revealed and diſcovered for Redreſs of the Old Covenants weakneſs, unprofitableneſs and inſufficiency, Heb. 7. 18, 19, & 8. 6, 7, 8, 9, &c. & 9. 10, 11, 12, 13, 14. And all ſaving bleſsings, obſcurely pointed out in former Covenants, are moſt clearly revealed and accompliſhed under this New Covenant, Acts 13. 38, 39. Rom 3. 25. Heb. 9. 15. All former Covenants, lead and tend to this New Covenant, as the Center, Perfection and Accompliſhment of them all.

3. Hence, The Grace of the New Covenant is moſt compleat. And this, 1. Extenſively, In that it takes in all Nations of the world, Luke 24 47 Mat. 28. 18, 19 Mark 16 15, 16. 2 Intenſively, In that it more efficaciouſly Converts the Abundance of both Jews and Gentiles, then any Covenant-Expreſſure ever did before: And in that it more fully affords the Effuſions of the Spirit.

4 Hence, The New Covenant is moſt Sure For it is moſt ſtrongly ſtabliſhed by, and founded Upon, 1. The Lords better Promiſes, 2. His Sacred Oath, of which he will not repent. 3. The Death and blood of Jeſus Chriſt once for all, never to be repealed. 4. The beſt and ſureſt Sacraments, which ſhall not wear away while the world ſhall continue, Mat 28. 19, 20. 1 Cor. 11. 26.

5. Hence, The New Covenant is utterly irrevocable. It can no more be Revoked, Repealed, called in, or made void: then

God can belie himself, or forswear himself, or then Christ can be brought down again from Gods right-hand to be barbarously crucified between two theives

(o) Heb. 13. 20. 6. Hence, The New Covenant must needs be (o) Everlasting. Everlasting absolutely in the Substance of it: as that which shall so continue with us in Heaven. Everlasting respectively for the Circumstance and Administration of it, as that which shall so continue till the worlds end. The Promises of the New Covenant are of everlasting Truth: The Oath of the New Covenant is of everlasting stability: The blood of the New Covenant is of (p) everlasting vertue: and the Tokens of the New Covenant, of (q) everlasting appointment till the end of the world.

(p) Heb. 9. 12. & 10. 14
(q) Mat. 28. 19, 20. 1 Cor. 11. 26.

7. Hence, In all these respects the New Covenant is most excelling. But of the excellency and Preheminence of the New Covenant hereafter.

Thus of the Form of the New Covenant.

CHAP. VIII.

Of the intended Sope, or End of the NEW COVENANT.

HAving viewed at large, The Efficient, Matter, and Form of the New Covenant; come we now to take special notice of Gods intended Scope or End therein.

The intended Scope or End of God and Jesus Christ our Mediator in this New Testamental Covenant, is; 1. More Immediately, To Represent and Describe to Israel and to all Nations of the world most fully and ultimately, (1) The Person of JESUS CHRIST actually, in fulness of time Exhibited; (2) His Office of Mediation betwixt God and man already Executed both in his state of humiliation and exaltation; (3) As also the Fruits and Benefits of his Mediation. 2. More Mediately, (1) To extend his Church universally to all the Nations of the whole world; (2) To Advance the Condition and Enioyments of his New Covenant Church to an higher Perfection then ever before, in order to eternal Salvation; (3) And by all to exalt the Glory of his own holy name most transcendently and gloriously.

As

As the New Covenant, ſo the End thereof, is moſt excellent and tranſcendent: As laid down in this Aphoriſm. Which thus in brief I Explicate.

1. The More Immediate End intended by God in this New Covenant, is, The moſt full and ultimate Repreſentation of the Perſon, Office and Benefits of Ieſus Chriſt actually exhibited, to Iſrael and to all Nations. All Gods Covenants of Faith intend more immediately the Diſcovery and Deſcription of Ieſus Chriſt. But this New Covenant intends this more then they all. Here note, 1. What this New Covenant intends Immediately to Repreſent and Deſcribe. 2. How. 3. To whom.

1. What this New Covenant intends more Immediately to Repreſent and Deſcribe, viz. Ieſus Chriſt as actually exhibited. All former Covenants of Faith intend to ſet forth Chriſt, as Promiſed, and to be afterwards in fulneſs of time Performed: But this New Covenant intends to ſet forth, and doth repreſent Chriſt, as (r) actually Performed and exhibited already, according to all the Promiſes of Gods former Covenants. And this principally, 1. In his Perſon. 2. In his Office. 3. In the Fruits, Effects and Benefits of his Office.

(r) Gal. 4. 4, &c. Ioh. 1. 14, &c. Mat. 1. throughout. Luke 1. & 2. & 3. throughout.

(1) IESUS CHRIST in his Perſon is moſt excellently and clearly Deſcribed in this New Covenant, and the explications thereof in the Books of the New Teſtamant. As,

That, He is the Only Son of God, The true God, eſſentially one with, and co-equal to the Father, Creator and Preſerver of all things in Heaven and Earth, Iohn 1. 14, 18, & 3. 16. & 6. 69. Math. 16. 16, 17, 18. 1 Iohn 5. 20. 7. Iohn 1. 1. Phil. 2. 6. Iohn 1. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 9, 10. Heb. 1. 2, 3. Col. 1. 15, 16, 17.

That, He is True and Perfect man, deſcending of the woman, of Abraham, Iſaac and Iacob, and of David, by the virgin Mary according to the Fleſh, 1 Tim. 2. 5. with Iohn 20. 25. to 30. & Luke 24 37, 38, 39, 40. & 1 Iohn 1. 1, 2, 3. Gen. 3. 15. with Luke 3. 38. Gen. 12. 3. & 22. 18. & 26. 4. & 28. 14. with Luke 3. 34. Pſal. 132. 11. with Luke 1. 31, 32, 33. & 3. 31. Math. 1. 16, 18. to the end. & Luke 1. 26. to 39. & 2. 1. to 41. with Iſai. 7. 14.

That, He is God-man in one Perſon, Ioh. 1. 14. Gal. 4. 4. 1 Tim. 3. 16.

That, (s) This Ieſus God and man is the very CHRIST, promiſed in all ages of the Church from the beginning of the world, Iohn 20. 31. Act. 2. 36. & 10. 43. & 3. 22. to the end. & 9. 22. & 18. 28. This is one ſpecial intent of the Books of the New Teſtament, by ſhewing how all the Promiſes of old touching the Meſſiah have their plenary accompliſhment in this Ieſus, to demonſtrate that this Ieſus is the CHRIST.

(s) Vid Ioh. Piſcator. Præfat. in Evang. ſecund. Mat. Mar. Luc. & Johan. Et Argument. Evangel. Mat. & Marc.

His (t) State or Condition of Humiliation, Phil. 2. 6, 7, 8. Is moſt lively and accurately deſcribed in all the Degrees thereof, by the four Evangeliſts eſpecially, viz. His Conception, Nativity, (t) Of Chriſts Humiliation, and Exaltation. See in Book 4. chap 6.

Life, Acts, Passions or Sufferings, Death and Burial; together with the Circumstances of Time, Place, Manner, &c. attending thereupon respectively.

His State or Condition of Glory and Exaltation also is excellently delineated, especially by the four Evangelists. and by Luke in the Acts of the Apostles, viz. His Reviving, Resurrection the third day, Ascension into Heaven, Sitting down on Gods right hand, and His coming again to judge the world at the last day: together with the Cicumstances attending thereupon.

(2) IESUS CHRIST, in his Office of Mediation betwixt God & Man, is also most notably and particulerly represented, in the New Covenant and the explanations thereof. As, That he alone is Mediator; That He is a Fit and Sufficient Mediator; That he is mediator as God man; That he Executes his Mediation actually in his Prophecy, Priest-hood, and King-ship, both in his states of Humiliation, and Exaltation, and that by sundry Acts of those three branches of his Mediation. All this ([u]) I have already evidenced heretofore out of the New Testament particularly.

(3) IESUS CHRIST, in regard of the Benefits, Fruits and Effects of all his Offices, is likewise set forth most excellently in the New Covenant, and the Explanations thereof throughout the Books of the New Testament: As ([x]) I have already manifested abundantly.

2. How the New Covenant Represents and Describes Iesus Christ, exhibited already, in his Person, Offices and Fruits of his Offices. The New Covenant represents and sets forth Iesus Christ actually exhibited, Fully and Ultimately. 1. Fully. So that now the ([y]) whole and entire mysterie of Christ is clearly and compleatly revealed in the New Testament, in all the Essential, Integral and Gradual Perfections thereof, for the Happiness and Salvation of the New Covenant-Church, so as it was never formerly made known in any foregoing Covenant-Expressure. Christ made known to his Apostles, ([z]) all things that he had heard from his Father: commanding then to teach all things whatsoever he had commanded them, to the world. And his Apostles accordingly ([a]) kept back nothing that was profitable, not shunning to declare to the Churches the whole counsel of God; which is so compleat and perfect, that ([b]) nothing is to be added thereto, or taken thence-from. 2. Ultimately. So that after this New Covenant, no further Revelation of the mysterie of Christ, in regard of his Person, Offices, or Benefits, for his Elects salvation, is to be expected or harkened unto till the End of this world. For, This is Christs ([c]) New and everlasting Covenant, that shall still remain New, and never wax Old till the end of this world. This is Christs ([d]) last Will and Testament, confirmed and consummate by his Death, from which nothing can be detracted, to which nothing can be added, in which nothing can be altered. Christs New Covenant-Priesthood is ([e]) everlasting, confirmed by the irrevocable Oath

II. The more Mediate end of the New Covenant, is two-fold, viz. Subordinate, and Ultimate.

1. Subordinate. And that also is two-fold. 1. To extend, spread, propagate and plant the Church of God far and near (i) among all the Nations of the world: which before the New Covenant was confined to certain Particular Families or Tribes, or to that one select Nation of the Iews. This Extent and Enlargement of the Church under the New Covenant, was frequently foretold by the Prophets, and sometimes most Emphatically. See Isa. 49. 6. to 14. & 54. throughout. & 60. throughout. & 65. 1. & 66. 12. to the end. Christ was born (k) to be a light to lighten the Gentiles, as well as to be the glory of his People Israel. And the Amplitude of the Church of God, by the access of the Gentiles and their incorporation thereinto (l) is most abundantly revealed and fulfilled in these New Covenant-Daies. 2. To advance the Condition and Enjoyments of Gods enlarged New Covenant-Church to a far higher perfection, in order to salvation, then ever heretofore. As, (1) To more ripeness and maturity, Gal. 4. 1. to 8. (2) To Christian freedom and liberty from the Old Covenant-yoak of bondage, Gal. 4. 9, 10, 21. to the end. & 5. 1, 2, 3, 4, &c. (3) To Better Promises of a better Covenant, Heb. 8. 6. & 7. 22. (4) To higher and more perfect Fœderal blessings, Better Inscription of Gods Laws, Better Knowledge of the Lord, and Better Remission of transgressions, Heb. 8. 10, 11, 12. (5) To more sweet, perfect and comfortable fellowship, Heb 12. 18. to 25. (6) To more clear and spiritual Ordinances, 2 Cor. 3. throughout. (7) To more Plenary and powerful effusions of his Spirit, John 7. 38, 39. with Acts 2. throughout, &c. The condition of the New Covenant-Church comes neerest to that of the Spirits of just men made perfect, and therefore should be now more then ever heretofore advanced to a sublime excellency of Graciousness, Spiritualness and Heavenliness.

(i) Mat. 18. 18, 19, 20 Mark 16. 15, 16. Luke 24. 46, 47. Acts 13. 46, &c. Iohn 11. 52.
(k) Luke 2. 30. 31, 32.
(l) Eph. 2. & 3. chap. throughout.

2. Ultimate. To exalt the glory of God transcendently in all. The

The ([m]) Glory of Gods infinite Grace, Goodneſs, Mercy, Loving-kindneſs, Wiſdom, Iuſtice, Holineſs, and Powerfulneſs ſhines forth in this New Covenants Contrivance, Manifeſtation, Dedication, Publication, and Application of it to poor ſinners, even to admiration. This New Covenant is fulleſt of God, of Chriſt, of the Spirit; and therefore moſt glorious unto God. This New Covenant hath in it the Marrow and Extract of all fore-going Covenants, and many other ſuperadded Priviledges approaching neareſt to cœleſtial Perfection: and therefore thereby Gods glory is rendred exceeding glorious.

(m) This is evident in all the former Particulars opened about the New Covenant: eſpecially in the Author, Occaſion, Impulſives, Fœderates, Matter and Form thereof.

Inferences.

1. Hence, This New Covenant in its intended Scope and End far Excells all former Covenants. Their End was to Reveal Chriſt, as Promiſed, and to come afterwards: The New Covenant is to Repreſent Chriſt as Performed, and come already. They intended the Happineſs of the Church in particular Families or Tribes, or one ſelect Nation: This intends the Happineſs of the Church in all Nations of the world. They intended to Reveal bleſsings agreeable to the Churches Minority: This intends and reveals bleſsings ſuitable to the Churches Maturity.

2. Hence, Of all Gods Covenant-expreſſures, The New Covenant ſhould be moſt precious, dear and delightful to us. Why? Becauſe, Hereby the Church is moſt Enlarged; Hereby the Churches Condition & Enjoyments are moſt happily improved; Hereby Ieſus Chriſt in his Perſon, office and benefits is moſt plenarily and ultimately revealed; And Hereby Gods glory is moſt gloriouſly advanced. All which ought to be very dear, delightful and precious to us.

3. Hence, They that would be acquainted with Ieſus Chriſt moſt fully, ſhould ſtudy and exerciſe themſelves in the New Covenant moſt frequently. Some Covenants repreſent Chriſt much, Some more; but this New Covenant moſt of all. There you have Chriſt Promiſed: Here Chriſt actually Performed and exhibited. Oh peruſe the New Teſtament diligently, there you have Chriſt diſplaid moſt clearly, compleatly and tranſcendently. The New Covenant is the Rock, Chriſt the water that flows from it: The New Covenant is the Cloud, Chriſt the Manna that rained from it: The New Covenant is the Honey-Comb, Chriſt is the Honey that drops from it: The New Covenant is the Cabinet, Chriſt is the Iewel thats lockt up in it.

4. Hence, They that deny Ieſus Chriſt to be actually exhibited and already come in the fleſh, do utterly evacuate and make void a Primary End of the New Covenant. For the New Covenant eminently intends to repreſent Chriſt as actually Performed according to all the Promiſes of old. Oh how ſadly have the Iews hitherto denyed Chriſts coming in the fleſh, and diſpiſed the New Covenants ([n]) great ſalvation! Such([o]) Spirits are not of God, but the very Spirit of Antichriſt.

5. Hence, The Gentiles Converſion and Churches Dilatation are peculiarly liarly to be aſcribed to the New Covenant. The Old Covenant-Diſpenſation hindred it: This (p) New Covenant-Diſpenſation promotes and effects it.

(p) Eph. 2. 15, 16, 17, 18, &c.

6. Hence, Gods New Covenant-People ſhould not content themſelves with leſs then a New Covenant-Condition and enjoyments. They ſhould aſpire to a more perfect condition and enjoyments then any other Covenant affords: Elſe they fall ſhort of the New Covenants intention. They that under the New Covenant content themſelves, (q) without Heart-conformity to Gods Laws, without clear knowledge of the Lord, without Remiſſion of ſins, without Covenant-Relation to God, without Chriſtian Maturity and filial liberty, &c. they put away the New Covenant from them, counting themſelves unworthy of its bleſſed intendments, and of Eternal Life.

(q) Heb. 8. 10, 11, 12.

7. Hence, They that are truly Partakers of Gods New Covenant, ſhould highly extoll him for his New Covenant. Oh how hath he therein diſplayed the riches of his Grace, Mercy, Love, Wiſdom, &c. for poor Sinners, for loſt Gentiles! Herein he greatly intended the glory of his own great name: Oh let us hereupon moſt triumphantly declare and ſpread abroad his glory.

Thus of the End or intended Scope of the New Covenant.

CHAP. IX.

Of certain General Inferences reſulting from the whole of this New Covenant.

HAving thus (through the help of my moſt gracious God in Jeſus Chriſt) in ſome meaſure ſet forth and repreſented, 1. The terms, or limits of continuance; 2. The Denominations, and General Nature; 3. The efficient Cauſe or Author, together with the Occaſions, and Impulſives, moving thereunto; 4. The Fœderates with God; 5. The Matter, on Gods part, and on theirs; 6. The Lord JESUS CHRIST, as Mediator, Surety and Teſtator; 7. The Form, Inward and Outward; 8. And alſo the intended Scope or End, of this Higheſt, ſweeteſt and moſt excellent Fœderal Expreſſure, The NEW TESTAMENTAL COVENANT, or The NEW FEDERAL TESTAMENT, which is the Glory of all Covenants: I ſhall now cloſe up this whole diſcourſe about the New Covenant, and alſo my whole Treatiſe about the Covenants of of God, (as (r) I formerly propounded) with certain General Inferences from the whole of this New Covenant; which I ſummarily offer in this enſuing Aphoriſm, viz.

From the whole Myſterie of the New Covenant thus diſcloſed, theſe things are evident; 1. That The New Covenant is the Covenant of Covenants. 2. What The Properties and Perfections of the New Covenant are. 3. What Agreement and Difference there is betwixt this New Covenant and the Old, and conſequently all other Covenants. 4. What The New Covenants Preheminencies and Excellencies are above the Old, and all former Covenants. 5. How great are the privileges of Gods New Covenant-people. 6. How we may diſcover, that we are Gods New Covenant-people. 7. How much it concerns all, eſpecially us Gentiles, to Eſteem, Embrace, Reſt upon, Conform to, and Triumph in, this bleſſed New Covenant. 8. That, Gods New Covenant people ſhould approve themſelves, anſwerably to this New, Better and more illuſtrious Covenant, A New, Better, and more Excellent people in their Hearts and Converſations. 9. That, All diſtreſſed and diſconſolate ſouls ſhould chiefly have recourſe to this New Covenant for their ſweeteſt and fulleſt conſolations. 10. That, This New Teſtamental Covenant approacheth neareſt, as in Contiguity of time, ſo in Excellency of nature, to the celeſtial Glory.

Theſe Conſectaries or Inferences are ſo fluent from the Premiſes, that it ſhall ſuffice very briefly to explain them, eſpecially divers of them.

I. Hence, The New Covenant is the Covenant of Covenants. As Gods Covenants ſurpaſs all other Covenants, ſo this New Covenant is the laſt and beſt of all Gods Covenants. For 1. No former Covenant ſince the foundation of the world had ſuch a (s) Sanction and Dedication, as this New Covenant; by the Death and Blood of Ieſus Chriſt. 2. No fore-going Covenant had ſuch a Conſtitution, (t) wholly of Promiſes, and thoſe meer Spiritual Promiſes, as this New Covenant: as hath been already obſerved. 3. No former Covenant had ſo ſucceſsful a Promulgation or Firſt Publication, as this New Covenant to the Converſion of three thouſand, Acts 2. throughout. 4. No former Covenant was univerſally extended to all the Nations of the world, but only this New Covenant, Heb. 8. 8, 10. with Mat. 28. 18, 19. Mark 16. 15, 16. Luke 24. 46, 47. 5. All former Covenants were but as Preludium's and Introductions to this New Covenant, The (u) Perfection of them all, The End and (x) accompliſhment of them all. 6. All former Covenants, like Rivers run into this Sea, like Lines meet in this Center, like Beams meet in this Sun of the New Covenant, being all their their fulneſs, wealth and glory into it. The Treaſures which are found diſperſed and ſcattered in and among other Covenants, are all collected and united in this New Covenant: The ſeed of the woman, The true Noah, The Seed of Abraham, Iſaac and Iacob, The Prieſt like Melchizedeck, The Prophet like Moſes, The King like David, &c. all theſe Diſcoveries of many ſeveral Covenants in ſeveral ages meet together in this one New Covenant, &c. are at once moſt richly and fully repreſented in Ieſus Chriſt the Son of God, and of the Virgin Mary, actually exhibited to be Mediator, Surety and Teſtator of the New Teſtament. 7. No former Covenants afford ſuch admirable Events and Occurrents in their reſpective Periods or Revolutions, (x) as this New Covenant. 8. Finally, This New Covenant ſucceeds and ſwallows up all other Covenants, but none ſhall ſucceed this, (y) which is to remain of force ſo long as this world ſhall continue. Upon theſe and ſundry like conſiderations it is clear, That this New Covenant is a peerleſs and matchleſs Covenant: God ſtill proceeding in his Covenant-Expreſſures from the leſs to the more perfect, till at laſt he came from the firſt and leaſt, to this laſt and Greateſt Covenant of all.

II. Hence, We may eaſily perceive what the Properties and Perfections of the New Covenant are, viz. Eſpecially theſe: The New Covenant is, 1. Moſt Divine; 2. Gratuitous; 3. Evangelical; 4. Wiſe; 5. Holy; 6. Promiſſory; 7. Spiritual; 8. Teſtamental; 9. Clear and glorious; 10. Full; 11. Free; 12. Efficacious; 13. Sure and Faithful; 14. Conſolatory; 15. Extenſive; 16. And Continuing.

1. Moſt Divine. For, this New Covenant hath much of God, and of his Divine Authority, Excellency and Efficacy engraven upon it. 1. God, Father, Son and Holy-Ghoſt, is the ſole Author of it. 2. The Father, of Old time Revealed it: The Son, in Fulneſs of time Eſtabliſhed it; The Holy-Ghoſt in due time Applyes it. 3. The Father, Son and Holy-Ghoſt do joyntly undertake (but according to their Order of Subſiſting) to confer all the New Covenant-bleſſings upon his Fœderates: which bleſsings are more peculiarly referred to the ſeveral perſons, according to their peculiar order and manner of working. (a) All theſe things have been already cleared.

2. Gratuitous. Of the meer grace and good-pleaſure of Gods will, in Ieſus Chriſt. Theſe were the (b) Impulſive or Moving cauſes inclining God to Reveal, Eſtabliſh and Apply this New Covenant: Not any worth, dignity or excellency at all in Iews or Gentiles.

(b) See Book IV. Chap. 3. Aph. 2. pag. 1278, to 1282.

3. Evangelical. All Gods Covenants of Faith were Evangelical, as I have ſhewed: But Gods New Covenant is of all other moſt purely Evangelical. See (c) the General nature and deſcription of the New Covenant. Former Covenants were Goſpel in minority; This New Covenant is Goſpel in maturity. Former Covenants, were Goſpel veiled: This New Covenant is Goſpel Unveiled. Former Covenants were Gospel (that is, Glad tidings of Sinners Salvation by Faith) in Christ Promised and to come afterwards: This New Covenant is Gospel in Christ Performed, and come in the flesh already. Former Covenants were Gospel Inchoate: This New Covenant is Gospel Consummate. In this New Covenant especially, (d) Mercy and Truth are Met together, Righteousness and Peace have kissed each other, &c. In this Covenant, the goodness and mercy of God hath most eminently shined forth to the Sinner, the severity and justice of God hath most notably been expressed upon Jesus Christ the Sinners Surety: And this Mystery of Mercy and Justice in the Sinners Salvation upon Gods Pacification, is excellently Evangelical; By way of eminency and singularity, This New Covenant is called, (e) The Grace of God bringing Salvation; (f) The Gospel through which Christ hath brought life and immortality to light; The (g) Coming of Faith for Remission of Sins past, and justification of the elect under former Covenants. The Grace of God, The Gospel, and Doctrine of Faith were before: but comparatively they were not till the times of the New Covenant.

4. Wise. The New Covenant is eminently Wise. For, 1. It is contrived by the only wise God, Father, Son and Holy-Ghost. 2. It is stored and filled with all accomplishments of wisdom for sinners Happiness: as (h) hath been already manifested in many particulars.

(h) In Book IV.ch.3.Aph.2. p.128.

5. Holy. This New Covenant is very Holy, in divers regards; 1. The Author of it is God, most Holy, Heb. 8. 8,10. with Isa.6.3. 2. The Fœderates in it, are The House of Israel and Judah, the Israel of God, The whole universal Church of Jews and Gentiles, which are an Holy Nation, an Holy Temple of God, &c. Heb. 8. 8, 10. with 1 Pet. 2.9. 1 Cor. 3. 16, 17. Eph. 2. 21, 22. 3. The Matter of it, is; Holy blessings promised on Gods part, expressly, Heb. 8.10, 11, 12. And Holy Duties of Faith, &c. re-promised on their part, Implicitely, Jude 20. 1 Pet. 1. 15, 16. 4. The Mediator of it is Holy, Jesus Christ, (i) The Holy one of God. (k) Holy, harmless, undefiled, seperate from Sinners. 5. The Form of it Holy. Consisting in an Holy Manifestation, Confirmation and Administration; as hath been evidenced. It is (fœdus Sanctum, quasi Sanctum, as Augustine) an Holy Covenant, because a firmly setled and established Covenant. 6. The End of it Holy.

6. Promissory. The Old Covenant was chiefly Mandatory and Minatory: But this New Covenant if we look at the (l) body of it, is, (as (m) hath been manifested already) 1. Altogether Promissory. 2. The Promises thereof whereupon it is established being better Promises. 3. And all those Promises being meerly (as to the express terms thereof) only of Spirituals. Oh how sweet is this Dispensation, wherein we may fetch not only Gods mercies, but also our Duties and Abilities for them from Gods Promises.

7. Spiritual. Of all Covenants this New Covenant is most sublime, heavenly and purely spiritual. Former Covenants were more Carnal, External, Literal Administrations: but this New more (n) spiritual, ritual, called therefore (o) the miniſtration of the Spirit. In former Covenants Spirituals were darkly couched under Carnals and Externals: As under the (p) Seed of the woman, bruiſing the Serpents head, Chriſt incarnate ſubduing Satan; Under (q) Noahs ſaving of his houſe in the Ark by water, Chriſts ſaving his elect remnant in his Church by his blood; Under the Promiſed (r) Seed of Abraham, Iſaac, and Jacob, Chriſts bleſſing of all the Nations of the world. Under all the Ceremonial Types and Shadows, Chriſt the Truth and Body intended, the better hope perfecting us as pertaining to the Conſcience and bringing us neer unto God, John 1. 14, 17. Col. 2. 17 Heb. 7. 18, 19. & 9. 14 & 10. 1. to 9 Under (s) Davids Seed promiſed to ſit upon his Throne for ever, Chriſt his Primary Seed that ſhould Rule the Houſe of Jacob the Church for evermore; Under the (t) Redemption of the Captives out of Babylon, Chriſts Redemption of his elect from their Spiritual thraldome was repreſented; So that though they had many Spirituals repreſented in them, yet all was under a cloud or veil of Carnals; Thereby the Spirituals of former Covenants were much darkned and Carnalized: But in this New Covenant Spirituals are ſet forth moſt openly, immediately and expreſly in clear view, and as with open face, (u) the veil being done away in Chriſt; and (x) Carnals being comprized in, and annexed to Spirituals, the Carnals of this New Covenant are therein Spiritualliz'ed. And as under former Covenants the Fœderates of God remained more Carnal: So under this New Covenant they become more (y) Spiritual, to worſhip the Lord in Spirit and Truth; A Spiritual Houſe, and holy Prieſthood to offer up Spiritual Sacrifices acceptable to God by Jeſus Chriſt.

8. Teſtamental. The New Covenant, is ſo a (z) Covenant, in reſpect of God: that it is alſo a (a) Teſtament, in reſpect of Jeſus Chriſt the Teſtator. It is a Fœderal Teſtament, or a Teſtamental Covenant: As I have already ſhewed at large in this fourth Book chap. 2. Aph. 1. there ſee. The Old Covenant was Chriſts (b) Firſt Will and Teſtament, ſtabliſhed by Typical blood and Sacrifices: But this New Covenant is Chriſts (c) New, Second or laſt will and Teſtament, revoking his Old Teſtament, being finally & irrevocably confirmed by the blood, death and Sacrifice of Jeſus Chriſt himſelf the Teſtator. In what regards it is A Teſtament, and a New Teſtament, hath been there unfolded.

9. Clear and Glorious. Under this New Covenant, The dark ſhadows and (d) veil, both upon the Myſteries of the Covenant, and upon the Fœderates Covenanting, are done away in Chriſt; ſo that now we may behold as in a glaſs clearly and transformingly the Glory of the Lord in the face of Jeſus Chriſt, having a more clear and excellent Knowledge of God, & (e) giving of his Laws in our minds, Promiſed, then ever formerly. Now the Covenant of God ſhines out in its perfect Day. Now The Sun of righteouſneſs hath appeared in his perfect Glory. Now the Church of God hath attained to her Maturity, &c. 10. Full. Never Covenant ſince the Fall of man was ſo rich, full and compleat as this New Covenant. They that went before were but as Springs and Rivers: This is as a very Sea. And no wonder: For, 1. This is the only Covenant (g) ſtabliſhed in fulneſs of time, by the fulleſt Sanction and Dedication, in the blood of Jeſus Chriſt, full of Grace and Truth for us, in whom all fulneſs extenſive and intenſive dwells, yea the fulneſs of the God-head Perſonally. 2. This is the only Covenant in and under which (h) the Spirit of God and all ſaving Bleſſings are Revealed, Obtained and Applyed to the elect of God moſt fully. So that under this Covenant Gods people are Compleat in Chriſt now in all Eſſential and Integral Perfections pertaining to ſalvation, Col. 2.9. and ſhall be at laſt conſummate in all graduals, Eph. 4.11, 12, 13, 14. Jeſus Chriſt having (i) aſcended up far above all Heavens, that he might fill all things; And his Body the Church becoming (k) the fulneſs of him that filleth all and in all. 3. This is the only Covenant, unto which all former Covenants collime, ſcope, tend and refer; Into which they joyntly and univerſally empty themſelves as the Rivers into the Sea; and from which they derive and extract all ſalvifical vertue for the elect under former Covenants, *Heb.*9.15,16,17. Rom 3.25. 4. This is the only Covenant that ſhall (l) continue to the worlds end, having no need of any more Additional perfections, or any other Fœderal Adminiſtrations, to be annexed thereto, or to ſucceed in room thereof.

11. Free. Much ſervitude and Bondage did predominate in former Covenants; Witneſs the many gravaminous Rites and obſervances of (m) Sacrifices, Circumciſion, Purifications, and other Carnal Ordinances, (impoſed till the time of Reformation.) Which were (n) a yoke that neither they nor their fathers were able to bear. But in this New Covenant God hath ſo abundantly Provided for the Spiritual Redemption, Releaſe, Liberty and Freedom of his Church and People more then ever Heretofore, that this Peculiar time of Chriſt, this whole New Covenant time is as the Churches Laſt, Greateſt and Continued (o) Jubilee. Eſpecially this is moſt obſervable in the Old and New Covenant, compared by the Apoſtle to Abrahams two wives; viz. Hagar the Bond-woman, which brought forth Iſhmael her Bond-ſon, who with her ſon was caſt out of Abraham's Houſe, repreſenting the Old Covenant from mount Sinai, begetting children unto Bondage, which Covenant with her children is caſt out and laid aſide; And Sarah the Free-woman, which brought forth Iſaac her free Son, the Son of the Promiſe, the Heir of Abraham, repreſenting this New Covenant from Mount Sion, gendring children unto liberty, who are Heirs according to Promiſe. Now this New Covenant is in a Peculiar and Eminent ſort, above all that went before, A Covenant of true liberty and freedom; 1. Becauſe, Under this New Covenant, All the ſpiritual, ſalvifical and eternal (p) Redemption, Liberty or Freedom of Gods Elect, which have been, are or ſhall be from the beginning to the end of the world, from Sin, Death, Death, Satan and all ſpiritual enemies, hath been meritoriouſly purchaſed, procured and wrought by the merit of Jeſus Chriſt our only Lord and Mediator. The vertue of Chriſts Redemption reached to all ages by-paſt, even to the beginning of the world: but the tranſaction and accompliſhment of it was only under his New Covenant, Inchoate or Compleat. 2. Becauſe, Under this New Covenant all the Bondage, Servitude and Slavery of fore-going Covenant-Adminiſtrations is utterly aboliſhed and done away: Eſpecially that of the Old Covenant, Reſtraining to dayes, moneths and years, to external Rites in worſhip, to places, to meats and drinks, *&c. The Church while (q) under age, was in a ſervile Condition, under Tutors and Governors, though heir of all: but when come to maturity, ſhe was redeemed by Chriſt from all that ſervitude, to receive the Adoption of Sons. (r) Ye have not received the Spirit of Bondage again, to fear: but the Spirit of Adoption, whereby we cry Abba Father. Chriſt gives Ability, as well as requires Duty: therefore Chriſts (ſ) yoke is eaſie and his burden is light. 3. Becauſe, Under this New Covenant, all Reſtraint of the Church, Goſpel, Ordinances and Means of Salvation to the Particular Nation of the Jews is quite taken off: theſe Bleſſings being without exception or limitation Extended to all the Nations of the world, Mat. 28. 18, 19, 20. Mark 16. 15, 16. Luke 24. 46, 47.

12. Efficacious. For, 1. This New Covenant is a (t) Miniſtration of the Spirit, not of the Letter; A Miniſtration of Life, not of Death: Now Spirit and Life are full of efficacy. 2. The New Covenant is moſt effectually given and graven, viz. in (u) Mind and Heart, not in dead Tables of ſtone. 3. The (x) Spirit is moſt powerfully and efficaciouſly given under the New Covenant, The more Spirit, the more efficacy. 4. In this New Covenant, The fulneſs of Chriſt is moſt magnifically diſplaid, more then in all former Covenants, John 1. 14, 16. Col. 1. 19. & 2. 9, 10. Eph. 3. 8, &c. and Chriſts fulneſs is moſt efficacious. 5. The Converſion of the Jews by (y) thouſands; and of the Gentiles as it were by floods and (z) Seas to God, under the New Covenant, demonſtrate the tranſcendent efficacy thereof before all the world, &c. But of this New Covenants efficaciouſneſs, I (a) have ſpoken already in divers Particulars. There ſee.

13. Sure and Faithfull. How can this New Covenant chuſe but be moſt Sure, Faithfull and Infallible? For, 1. The Author of it is moſt faithfull, IEHOVAH, Heb. 8. 8, 10. that gives Being and Subſiſtence to all his Covenants and Promiſes (as that his moſt eſſential name imports, Exod. 6. 3.) This name of his, IEHOVAH, is mentioned (b) four ſeveral times in this New Covenant, for the greater Aſſurance of this Covenants Fidelity. 2. The Impulſive, or or ([c]) Moving Causes of it were meerly Gods most rich and free-grace in Iesus Christ without any respect at all had to any thing in Jews or Gentiles. It was not founded in mans worthiness: nor shall be confounded by mans Unworthiness. 3. The Matter of it is so laid down ([d]) in the Body of the Covenant, that God himself in effect undertakes both for himselt and for his Fœderates. He will be theirs, and they shall be his. Their restipulated Duties, are all implicitely comprized, in his expresly Promised Mercies. He first promises Ability to them, before he calls for Duty from them. 4. The Form of it is partly with such Establishment and Confirmation as can never be shaken or removed. It is confirmed (as ([e]) hath been evidenced abundantly,) ([1]) By the choicest and best Promises of God; ([2]) By the Sacred and inviolable Oath of God. ([3]) By the irrevocable Death and precious blood of Jesus Christ; As also, ([4]) By the best Fœderal Tokens, Baptism and the Lords Supper. Now, God that promised cannot possibly lie; God that hath sworn cannot repent or forswear himself; Christ that Died, dieth no more, &c. Therefore this New Covenant can never be overthrown. 5. The Mediator of this New Covenant is ([f]) al-sufficient: Both to enrich us with Covenant-Mercies from God, and to enable us unto Covenant-Duties to God; That as there can be no Fayler on Gods part, so there shall be none on ours. Oh with what affiance and Consolation may we lean upon this Sure, Faithful and immutable New Covenant in all exigents and extremities!

14. Consolatory. No Covenant is Consolatory like the New Covenant. For no Covenant is Dignified with such ([g]) Promises, such a ([h]) Mediator, such a ([i]) Comforter: And these are the very springs of Consolation But of this Consolating Property which abounds in the New Covenant I have spoken so much already, that I need not to add further. Having shewed, I. That, ([k]) the matter of this New Covenant is so contrived, as may most sweetly and sufficiently remove all the principall Doubts, Discouragements and objections, which either a bleeding Heart wounded Sinner, or a Distressed Saint, may make against his own Salvation. This is evinced in seven chief Particulars. II. That, ([l]) This New Covenant is an excellent Antidote against the greatest Adversities and afflictions of Gods Covenant-people. This is manifested in five Particulars. III. That, Heres wonderfull Matter of Consolation in that clause of this New Covenant, I will be to them a God, &c. Heb. 8. 10. And this, Against 1. Remains of Sin. 2. Fears and dangers of Apostacy. 3. Outward or Inward wants. 4. Strong and violent Temptations. 5. Sad and Dismaying Desertions. 6. Sharp Afflictions and Persecutions. 7. The very Terrors and pangs of Death it self. Against all and every of which many sweet Consolations ([m]) are extracted from that great and Glorious Promise. Consult all these diligently, if thou desirest to taste and suck the delicious sweetness of the New Covenants Consolations.

15 Extensive. This New Covenant is beyond all other most extensive. It (n) spreads forth its Arms even to all Nations of the World, Jewish and Gentilish, accepting all Profest Believers Jews and Gentiles, and their children, into visible Federation with God, and all true sincere believers into Federation invisible. This is (o) already handled at large in three distinct Positions. Consider them heedfully.

16. Continuing and Everlasting. It continues still (p) New when the former Covenant waxeth old and weareth away. How long doth it Continue, hath been already explained, viz. (q) From Christs Death till the end of the world. As also in what sense it is everlasting, viz. (r) Absolutely, in regard of its Substantials: Respectively, only in regard of its Circumstantials.

III. Hence, we may manifestly discern, what Agreement and Difference there is betwixt this New Covenant and the Old, and Consequently betwixt it and all other Covenants. The Agreement and Difference (s) betwixt the Old Covenant and the three fore-going Covenants hath been stated already: Therefore if now we can come to a clear and true state of the Agreement and Difference betwixt this New and that Old Covenant, we shall consequently most easily discern the Agreement and Difference betwixt this New Covenant and all other fore-going Covenants of Faith. The New Covenants Agreement with, or Disagreement from the Old Covenant, I have referred to this, as to its most fit and proper place: according (t) as I have heretofore propounded. The due Discovery of this Agreement and Disagreement betwixt them is of much Consequence: For, 1. Hereby the Nature of the New Covenant will be the more distinctly discerned. 2. Hereby, the excellency of it above the Old will be discovered. 3. Hereby, Divers Errors of men in mis-stating the Agreement and Difference betwixt the Old and New Covenant, purposely devised for their own sinister ends and advantages, will be detected and defeated. 4. Hereby, That Singular Art of Right distinguishing betwixt the Law and Gospel, shall in some measure be exerted; which Luther so much extols; (u) He that well knows to discern the Gospel from the Law, Let him give God thanks, and Know himself to be a divine. For, the Law given at Mount Sinai, is that Old Covenant: And the Gospel strictly taken, is this New Covenant. 5. Hereby divers Scriptures which put sundry Differences betwixt the Old and New Covenant, shall be better understood, As, Heb. 8. 8, 9, 10. & 12. 18. to 25. 2 Cor. 3. 6. to the end. Gal. 4. 21. to the end. Here therefore I shall lay down, 1. The Agreement; 2. The Difference; betwixt the New Covenant and Old, which to me seems most Consonant to the Scriptures. And this with all possible Brevity and perspicuity.

The Agreement betwixt the Old Covenant, (x) given at Mount Sinai; and this New Covenant, from (y) Mount Sion, (that I may use the Apostles terms,) doth stand especially in these Particulars, and such like, viz.

4. Both of them expressed in General the same Bounty and Benevolent affection to their Fœderates, Accepting into Covenant with God, Not only Parents, but also their Seed and Posterity together with the Parents. The old Covenant took in the (d) whole body of Israel, Men, Women, Little ones, &c. Exod. 19. 10, 11, & 20. 18, &c. Deut. 5, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, &c. 22. compared with Deut. 29. 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, &c. All Israel of old, both Parents and Children were Fœderates with God, and circumcised, till the dayes of Christ, Gen. 17. 9, 11, 12. Exod. 12. 48. Luke 1. 59. & 2. 21. Phil. 3. 5. And the New Covenant takes in as Fœderates all Professt believing Parents, Jewish and Gentilish, and their Seed, or Children; who are therefore to be baptized. As (e) I have proved at large by many Arguments.

5. Both of them contain for Substance, the same Subject-Matters or Articles of Agreement betwixt God and his Fœderates, in many things. As, I. God on his Part Promiseth in both; 1. To be a God to his Fœderates. 2. To give Christ to them. 3. To bestow his Spirit upon them. 4. To Furnish them with many Spirituals; As Acceptance of them as his people, Sanctification, Justification by Faith in Christ, freely Remitting all their sins, Ability supernatural to keep his Covenants, &c. II. Gods Fœderates on their part Re-promising expresly or implicitely (as God requires from them)

1. To

1. To be Gods people. 2. To keep Gods Covenant; by true Faith; By ſincere conſtant Obedience in Chriſt. 3. To Repent in caſe of failings and miſcariages. 4. To take Gods Law (the ſame Law of God which is written for Gods Fœderates, under Old and New Covenant, Deut. 4. 13. with Heb. 8. 10.) as their Rule for their Faith and Obedience. (f) All theſe things are very clear by what hath been already manifeſted and proved touching the Matters of theſe two Covenants; as the diligent Reader may eaſily obſerve.

(f) compare Book III. ch. 4. Ap. 4. throughout; with Book IV. chap. 5. Sect. 3. Ap. b. 1. & 2.

6. Both of them have for Subſtance one and the ſame Mediator, JESUS CHRIST: though (g) Typically repreſented in the Mediation of Moſes, in the Old Covenant; (h) Truly, in his own perſon actually exhibited in Humane Fleſh, in the New. See Book IV. chap. 6.

9. Both of them were further confirmed and eſtabliſhed in the ſame way, for the General, viz. 1. By Promiſes, Both were eſtabliſhed upon Gods Promiſes, Heb. 8. 6. 2. By viſible Tokens of the Covenants. See Luke 1. 59. & 2. 21. & 22. 7. to 19. with Mat. 28. 18, 19, 20. Acts 2. 38, 39. Luke 22. 19, 20.

10. Both of them effect, produce and conſtitute one and the ſame Church of Chriſt eſſentially and Subſtantially. The Old Covenant Church and New Covenant Church are in eſſence and eſſential unity one and the ſame: Having, one and the ſame Covenant (k) God, JEHOVAH; One and the ſame Mediator, Redeemer and Saviour (l) JESUS CHRIST; One and the ſame (m) Holy Ghoſt for their Sanctification and Conſolation; One and the ſame everlaſting Goſpel for ſubſtance, Revealing Chriſt and ſalvation to both; One and the ſame way of Juſtification, both of the Circumciſion and Uncircumciſion, viz. by, or through Faith, Rom. 3. 29, 39. & 10.

One and the same (n) Kingdom of God, wherein men from East, West, &c. shall sit down with Abraham, Isaac and Jacob; yea One and the same Hope of Resurrection and Eternal Life, Acts 26. 6, 7. This Essential Oneness and Sameness of the Church of Old and New Testament is notably demonstrated in these times of the New Covenant, by their (o) Union, Incorporation and Consolidation into one body, through the death of Jesus Christ: which mysterie of their Oneness the Apostle most highly and emphatically magnifies.

11. Finally, Both Old and New Covenant agree in the same common End, viz. More Immediately, the Revealing of Jesus Christ for sinners happiness. More Mediately, The Happiness and Salvation of Gods Fœderates by Christ; And the glory of their Covenant God in all; As (p) hath been more at large explained touching both.

(p) Compare Book III. chap. 4. Aph. 6. with Book IV. chap. 8.

Herein especially, and in particulars of like Nature reducible hereunto, the Old and New Covenant do most sweetly and harmoniously Agree.

The Disagreement or Difference betwixt the Old and this New Covenant is manifold; as Divers Scriptures, yea the very body of this New Covenant doth expressly intimate, Heb. 8. 8, 9, 10, 11, 12. & 12. 18. to 25. Gal. 4. 21. to the end. 2 Cor. 3. 6. to the end. But the Difference is not so easily assigned as the Agreement betwixt these two Covenants; because sundry False Differences, either corruptly devised, or inconsiderately embraced, are pretended and obtruded, and some of them for sinister and unsound Interests. Here therefore I shall propound The Disagreements betwixt the Old and New Covenant, 1. Negatively, what they are not. So I shall discover the chief, false and pretended Differences. 2. Affirmatively, what they are. So I shall propound the true Differences. We had need to judge and distinguish here exactly; for Errour here is dangerous.

(1.) Negatively. The Disagreement and Difference betwixt the Old and New Covenant, doth not stand in these Particulars following, viz.

1. Not in this; That the Old Covenant is a Covenant of Works, holding forth Righteousness, Life and Salvation, only upon terms of perfect and perpetual Personal Doing: But the New Covenant is a Covenant of Grace, holding forth Righteousness, Life and Salvation upon terms of believing in Christ. For, It hath been already Proved by many Arguments, 1. That this Old Covenant (q) was not given on Mount Sinai as a Covenant of Works. 2. That this Old Covenant, (r) was given at Mount Sinai as a Covenant of Faith. And the contrary Arguments are repelled, &c.

(q) In Book III. chap. 4. Aph. 2. Opinion 2. p. 739. to 745.

(r) In Book III. chap. 4. Aph. 2. Opin. 4. p. 753.

2. Not in this; That the Old Covenant is a meer carnal earthy Covenant, containing meer carnal, external and earthly Blessings, as as Canaan, Honour, Riches, &c. But the New Covenant is a Spiritual and Coelestial Covenant, containing also Spiritual and Eternal Blessings. This the Difference assigned, by (t) Bellarmine, and other Papists. And after them by the (u) Socinians (who mudd and poyson the Fountain-Truth of God by their carnal subtilties, as the Papists do by their Heresies and Superstitions,) who hold that the Spirit of God and eternal Life, were not promised under the Old Covenant. And this device serves the Socinian excellently, for his better debasing and decrying of the Scripture. This Device is also taken up by some of the (x) Anabaptistical Party. Thereby the more colourably to defeat Infants of their Baptism; and to withstand that shrewd Argument for Paedobaptism drawn from Circumcision. Doubtless this is a very carnal and earthly Opinion. But the falshood and folly of this pretended Difference may sufficiently appear, 1. Partly, By considering the Matters or Blessings Promised in the Old Covenant, viz. The Spirit of God, many Spirituals and Eternals; In Book III. Chap. 4. Aphorism 4. Sect. 1. p. 800, &c. And Chap. 6. Aph. 2. Sect. 1. p. 1127. &c. 2. Partly, By perusing what my learned, judicious and godly friend Mr Tho. Blake (whose dexterity of judgement in matters of Religion hath been of high account with me ever since my first acquaintance with him) hath said in Refutation thereof. In his vindic. Fœderis. chap. 25. throughout.

3. Not in this; That the Old Covenant is a mixt Covenant, Partly Legal, Partly Evangelical; Mixt of two divers Covenants, The Covenant of Works, and the Covenant of Grace, (as (y) one, who otherwise was very pious and learned, expressed himself; but not so soundly and wisely, as were to be desired:) But the New Covenant is a pure Evangelical Covenant. He seems to have run into this mistake, Partly by considering the Moral Law too Abstractedly, Abstracting it from Moses dispensation. Partly by not observing heedfully the mysterious and singular way of Gods Revealing this Sinai Covenant. But against this Errour, be pleased diligently to consider, 1. That this Covenant at Mount Sinai, was given as a pure unmixed Evangelical Covenant of Faith, (as (z) is already proved by many Arguments, &c. 2. That Gods way of Revealing and Establishing this Old Covenant was very singular, profound and mysterious; as (a) hath been manifested in the Parts of this Old Covenant. Which two things heedfully perused, will I hope satisfie any un-byassed judgement, That this Sinai Covenant was not in this sense a mixt Covenant.

4. Not in this; That the Old Covenant (in a far other sense) is mixed, viz. (b) Not a pure Gospel Covenant, but mixt; Having Promises mixt; Some Evangelical, belonging to those to whom the Gospel belongs; Some Domestical or Civil, specially respecting the House of Abraham, and policy of Israel. But that the New Covenant is purely Evangelical; This notion, I doubt, is mixed and made up of ——, The better to seclude Infants of Believers from Baptism. But ([b]) Mr. Blake hath sufficiently laid open the weakness of it: To whom for brevity sake the Reader is referred.

(b) Mr. Tho. Blake in his Vindic. Fœderis. chap. 26.

5. Not in this; That Gods Covenant is threefold, Of Nature, of Grace, and Subservient to the Covenant of Grace. The New Covenant is this Covenant of Grace: The Old Covenant, is this subservient Covenant. This Difference is given by that learned Camero. How dissatisfactory this his Notion is, I ([c]) have declared already: there see diligently.

(c) In Book 3. chap 4. Aph. 2. Opin. 3. pag. 748. to 753.

6. Not in this; That the Old Covenant admitted and accepted, as Fœderates with God, all the Natural Seed of Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, &c. though only professing Faith. &c. But the New Covenant accepts none as Fœderates, but Elect and Regenerate Persons. Against this Pretended but groundless difference betwixt Old and New Covenant, and against that unwarrantable Restraining of New Covenant-Fœderates only to Elect and Regenerate Persons, much might have been said, and not without great need, considering how this false difference is improved for sinister purposes both by Papists, Anabaptists and other Separatists: But my worthily honoured friend ([d]) Mr. Tho. Blake hath done this to my hand so fully and satisfactorily, that I need say nothing, but only request the Reader diligently to peruse what he hath said.

(d) Mr. Tho. Blake in his Vindic. Fœd. chap. 27. to chap. 34.

7. Finally, The true Difference betwixt Old and New Covenant stands not in this; That the Old Covenant comprized in it as Fœderates with God All Persons professing true Faith and Obedience to God, and all their Seed: But the New Covenant is made so personally with them that actually make such Profession, that it terminates in their persons, not taking in their Seed as Fœderates with them. This Difference is plainly levelled against Infant-Baptism. But, That Profest Believers, Jews and Gentiles and their Seed, are taken in as Fœderates with God in his New Covenant, I ([e]) have abundantly proved already. There See. Mr. Blake hath also exceedingly, and to very good purpose, enlarged himself upon this Particular, In his Vindic. Fœderis. chap. 34. to chap 43. Consult him diligently.

(e) In Book IV. chap. 4. Aph. 1. pag. 1292. to 1321.

These especially are those unsound and unjustifiable Differences betwixt the Old and New Covenant, some whereof are unadvisedly expressed by men of sounder judgement; others are most corruptly contrived for the abetting of Errour by men of corrupt minds. Let all the sincere lovers of the Truth with vigilant circumspection decline them all.

(II.) Affirmatively. The true Difference and Disagreement betwixt the Old and New Covenant, doth (as is evident from the Natures of them both, already unfolded) consist especially in these Particulars, viz.

1. In the Distinct peculiarity of their Natures. For though both of them are Gods Covenants of Faith, yet they are two distinct individual vidual expreſſures of the Covenant of Faith; The Old Covenant being one of the (f) Covenants of Promiſe, in Chriſt Promiſed, and to come afterwards; The New Covenant being that eminent Covenant of Performance, in Chriſt actually Performed and exhibited, and come in Humane fleſh already; As (g) I have formerly diſtinguiſhed them, and cleared the Diſtinction by Scripture: So that they are rather diſtinct Individuals of the ſame Species, then diſtinct Species or kinds of the ſame Genus: In aſmuch as they differ not Eſſentially, but only Accidentally.

2. In the peculiar Notion and Conſideration of the Author. God was Author of the Old Covenant, as The LORD, Iſraels Covenant-God, Iſraels Redeemer, Law-giver, and endeared Husband, as (h) hath been formerly explained: But God was Author of the New Covenant, as the LORD. Hence in laying down of this New Covenant, this his great and glorious eſſential name (i) JEHOVAH is ſo often mentioned. Beſides, this being a Teſtamental-Covenant, Jeſus Chriſt (k) as Teſtator is Author of it, confirming and eſtabliſhing this his laſt Will and Teſtament by his death and blood, beyond Revocation or Alteration.

3. In the Peculiarity of Occaſion which God took of making theſe two Covenants. God eſtabliſhed his Old Covenant with Iſrael at Mount Sinai upon occaſion of that great and eminent Redemption of them out of Egypt, that he might carry them into the Poſſeſſion of the Promiſed Canaan, as hath (l) been already evidenced in many Particulars. But the occaſion which he took of eſtabliſhing his New Covenant, was, (m) The Diſconſolate condition of his captives in Babylon, The weakneſs and unprofitableneſs of the Old Covenant, and the extream ſinful and miſerable condition of mankind, no man to be cured but by the Proviſions of the New Covenant in Jeſus Chriſt exhibited.

4. In the Diverſity of Agents, Officers and Inſtrumental Cauſes which God made uſe of for Manifeſtation and Adminiſtration of theſe two Covenants. The Old Covenant, was firſt given by the miniſtration of (n) Moſes a ſervant in Gods Houſe, as an intervening perſon or typical Mediator; was Ordained by Angels in the hand of a Mediator: And was afterwards adminiſtred and managed, Ordinarily by (o) Prieſts, Extraordinarily by (p) Prophets. But this New Covenant (fore-promiſed of God by the Prophet Jeremiah, Chap. 31. 31, &c.) was in fulneſs of time that Great Salvation, that great Doctrine of ſalvation, which began to be ſpoken by (q) JESUS CHRIST, as a Son over his own houſe, and was confirmed unto us by them that heard him, God alſo bearing them witneſs both with ſigns and wonders, and with divers miracles and gifts of the Holy Ghoſt, according to his own will. And JESUS CHRIST hath (r) committed the after-Adminiſtration of this New Covenant, and of all the Ordinances thereof, Partly to his Apoſtles, Prophets and Evangeliſts, Officers Extraordinary, for a time till the New Covenant-Church was planted planted throughout the world; Partly, To Pastors and Teachers, &c. Ordinary Officers, till the end of the world, that the Church be edified, and the Saints perfected.

5. In their extensiveness towards Gods Fœderates. The Old Covenant was of less and more limited extent, only to the (f) Nation of the Jews, the Natural Seed of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, and their children, and to some (t) few Gentilish Proselytes embracing the Jewish Religion. These only were (u) Gods Covenant-people, others no people; These near unto God, others far off; These having obtained mercy, others not having obtained mercy: These of the household of God, others strangers; These Gods children, others Dogs, &c. But this New Covenant is enlarged and extended to all Nations of the World, and accepts as Fœderates with God all Profest Believers Iewish or Gentilish, and their seed without exception, as (x) hath been abundantly manifested, Mat. 28. 18, 19, 20. Mark 16. 15, 16. Luke 24. 46, 47. Acts 13. 46, 47. & 26. 20. Eph. 2. 13. to the end. & 3. 1. to 13.

6. In the Gradual Perfections and Excellencies of Promised Blessings and Restipulated Duties. As to the substance of these, both these Covenants agree: but as to the excellent degree and perfection thereof they differ. I. Promised (y) Mercies under the New Covenant are, as extensively, so gradually, full, larger and higher, Heb. 8. 8, 9, 10, 11, 12. 1. The Law of God is given into, and engraven in, the minds and hearts of his Fœderates more fully and efficaciously. 2. The Spirit of the Lord is poured forth more abundantly, John 7. 37, 38, 39, 40. Acts 2. throughout. 3. The Knowledge of the Lord is vouchsafed more excellently and universally. 4. Remission of sins is vouchsafed more singularly, &c. II. Re-promised Duties and Abilities for them, are in the New Covenant more sweetly provided for then under the Old; that they may be performed, not so carnally, but much more Spiritually; Not so servilely and slavishly, but much more freely and lovingly; not so (z) erroneously as to seek justification by working, but regularly so as to seek justification by believing, and to express the truth of Justification and Sanctification by working, &c.

7. In their Different Representation of the mediator. Iesus Christ was Mediator in both: But in the Old Covenant he was represented Darkly, under the (a) Type of Moses, and as Future, to come afterwards; In the New Covenant he is set forth clearly, as the Mediator, Surety and Testator thereof actually exhibited already in humane flesh, yea Dead, Risen, Ascended and Set down already on the right hand of God, Heb. 9. 15, 16, 17, &c. & 7. 22. & 12. 24. Gal. 4. 4. &c.

8. In their Outward Form or Manner of Manifestation, Confirmation, Administration. Much of these two Covenants Difference lies in their Outward Form. As, I. In their Outward Form of Manifestation. For, 1. The (b) Old Covenant was manifested with great great terrour, out of the midst of the devouring fire: The New without terrour, with as much sweetness. 2. The Old Covenant was (c) written literally in two Tables of stone; The New is written Spiritually in the (d) fleshly Tables of mind and Heart. 3. The Old filled the Fœderates with a spirit of bondage to fear; The New fills with a spirit of Adoption and liberty to love, &c. Rom. 8. 15. Gal. 4. 4, 5, 6. compared with Heb. 12. 18. to 25. Notable is that of Augustines; (e) This is the shortest and plainest difference of the two Testaments, Fear and Love, &c. 4. The Old, hence, is called a ministration of death and condemnation: The New a Ministration of Life and righteousness, 2 Cor. 3. 7, 8, 9. 5. The Old was glorious, but veiled: The New much more glorious, and unveiled, 2 Cor 3. 9. to the end, &c. II. In their Outward Form of Confirmation. For, 1. The Old Covenant was confirmed and dedicated by Typical blood and death of innocent Sacrifices, Exod. 24. 3 to 9. with Heb. 9. 18. 19, 20, &c. But the New Covenant was Dedicated with far better blood and Sacrifice, viz. with the true blood and death of Iesus Christ the Lamb of God without spot, taking away the sins of the world, Heb. 9. 15, 16, 17. Mat. 26. 28. 2. The Old Covenant was without an Oath: The New with the Oath of God, of which he will never repent, Heb. 7. 19, 20, 21, 22. 3. The Old Covenant was stablished upon Gods good Promises: but the New upon Gods better Promises, Heb. 8. 6. 4. The Old was confirmed by more dark, difficult, chargeable tokens, Circumcision and the Passover, signifying Christ to come; The New is confirmed by more clear, easie and cheap tokens, Baptism and the Lords Supper, signifying Iesus Christ already come, Mat. 28. 19, 20. Mat. 26. 28. 1 Cor. 11. 25, 26. III. In their Outward Administration. For, 1. The Old Covenant had a worldly Sanctuary, whereunto the Publick Ministrations were principally affixed, Heb. 9. 1. to 11. The New Covenant hath (f) a better and more perfect Tabernacle, that of Christs Humanity wherein our great High-priest officiated, performing more perfect sacrifices, and releasing his Church from restraint places, to worship him in any place, John 4. 21. 23. 1 Tim. 2. 8. 2. The Old Covenant had many dark (g) carnal Ordinances, Rites, Ceremonies and Appointments of divine Service imposed on them till the time of Reformation, which could not make the comers thereunto perfect as pertaining to the conscience, they being only shadows of good things to come, but the body is of Christ, Heb. 10. 1, &c. Col. 2. 17. But the New Covenant being established by the death, blood and sacrifice of Christ himself, doth raise the people of God from more carnal to more clear, Spiritual Sacrifices and services of Divine worship; as Preaching, Praying, Baptism, Breaking of bread, Thanksgiving, &c. acceptable unto God by Iesus Christ, 1 Pet. 2. 5. Heb. 13. 15. Rom. 12. 1. 1 Tim. 2. 1, 2. Acts 6. 4. & 2. 42. Mat. 28. 18, 19, 20. 1 Cor. 11. 23, 24, 25, 26, 27. 9. In certain Accidentals appertaining to the Condition of the Church of Christ, which was essentially one under both Old and New Covenant: as the New Moon and the Old is one Essentially, differing only accidentally. For, 1. The Church under the Old Covenant was ([i]) as an heir in minority: but the Church under the New Covenant is as an heir come to maturity of age. 2. The Church under the Old Covenant was ([k]) in a more servile condition, under Tutors and Governors: but the Church under the New Covenant is in a more free condition, stated in Son-like, and Heir-like liberty. 3. The Church under the Old Covenant ([l]) was under a veil: but under the New Covenant the veil is done away in Christ. 4. The Church under the Old Covenant was very small and of narrow extent, confined to that one little Nation of the Iews: But the Church under the New Covenant is of most large extent, enlarged to all Nations of the world, Mat. 28.18,19,20. Mar. 16.15,16. Luke 24.46 47.

11. In regard of memorable Occurrents, falling out under these two Fœderal Expressures; which were most various, yet these of the New Covenant far transcending, compare Book III. chap. 4. Introduct. with Book IV. chap. 1. Aphorism 2.

12. Finally, In Particularity of Ends. For, 1. The Old Covenant intended a fuller ([o]) Revealing of Christ then formerly, as the Promised Saviour: The New Covenant intends the fullest Revealing of Iesus Christ, as the Exhibited and Performed Saviour. 2. The Old Covenant intended the Particular Happiness of Israel, one Nation in the world: The New Covenant intends the General Happiness of all the Nations of the world.

(o) See Book III. chap. 4. Aphorism 6. And Book IV. chap. 8.

IV. Hence,

IV. Hence, we may evidently Diſcover, what the Additional Excellencies and Prehemunencies of the New Covenant are beyond thoſe of the Old, and of all other foze going Covenants. The New Covenant excels them all, and particularly the Old.

1. In clearneſs. Gods Covenants with Adam and Noah, were as the Day-dawning, of ſaving light and grace to poor ſinners: His Covenant with Abraham, was as the Sun-riſe: His Old Covenant, comprizing thoſe with David and the Captives, was as the Morning light growing clearer and clearer till the Perfect day: but his New Covenant, is as the Brighteſt noon-tide, the Perfect day, the Mid day of cleareſt light, wherein the Sun of righteouſneſs ſhines forth in his ſtrength moſt glorioufly. Now, Gods (p) myſteries are moſt clearly unveiled; Gods Ordinances are moſt clearly laid down, (q) The veil is done away in Chriſt: Gods (r) Promiſes are moſt clearly propounded: (ſ) Ieſus Chriſt is moſt clearly revealed, and all Spirituals in him: The (t) way into the Holieſt of all, Heaven it ſelf is moſt clearly opened and made manifeſt by the blood of Ieſus: And the (u) Minds of Gods Fœderates are moſt clearly illuminated for underſtanding of all the deep things of God.

2. In Spiritualneſs. In the Old Covenant adminiſtration, there was much Outwardneſs, Earthineſs, Carnalneſs in Ordinances, Times, Places, Inſtruments, Officers and Performers of Divine worſhip: And theſe outward ſervices could reach only the fleſh, the outward man, they could not purifie the conſcience: So there was much earthineſs in the Promiſes, and in the hopes of the people, looking at an earthly Canaan, and earthly happineſs there, &c. But under this New Covenant, the (x) Promiſes are moſtly Spiritual, the (y) Ordinances and whole worſhip of God very Spiritual: yea, the (z) Hearts and lives of Gods true Fœderates very much ſpiritualized. See Infer. II. Property 7.

3. In Spiritual liberty, and holy freedom from all ſort of ſpiritual thraldom. This New Covenant-time is to the Church of God the greateſt Jubilee, the greateſt year of Redemption and Releaſe, that ever was or ſhall be in this world. See Iſa. 61. 1, 2, &c. Luke 4. 18, 19, 21. But of this (a) formerly.

5. In Extenſiveneſs. The Old Covenant was extended to the Iſrael according to the fleſh, in one Nation, Rom. 9. 4. Eph. 2. 12. But this New Covenant is extended to the Iſrael according to the Spirit, in all the Nations of the world, *Mat. 28. 18, 19, 20. Mark 16. 15, 16. 8. In (e) Durableneſs. The Old Covenant vaniſheth away, this New ſtill remains. Its as heart of Oak: yea its an everlaſting Covenant, Heb. 9.13. & 13.20.

9. In Glorioufneſs. This New Covenant out-ſhines the Old, as far as the Sun out-ſhines the Moon. Yea as the Moon derives and borrows all her clear light from the Sun, having nothing but a dim blackiſh darkneſs of her own: So the Old Covenant (having only a darkiſh blackiſh body of it ſelf) derived and borrowed as it were all her cleareſt light from Chriſt, and the myſteries of the New Covenant. There was a glorioufneſs in the Old Covenant: but a far greater glory in the New. (f) —— For even that which was made glorious, had no glory in this reſpect, by reaſon of the glory that excelleth. And no wonder; For, 1. The (g) glory of the Old Covenant, was only a veiled Glory, Glory under a veil, Moſes put a veil upon his ſhining face: But the glory of the New Covenant is unveiled, the veil is done away in Chriſt. 2. The (h) Glory of the Old Covenant, was but the glory of the Letter: the Glory of the New Covenant is the glory of the Spirit. 3. The (i) Glory of the Old Covenant, was but the glory of the Miniſtration of Death and Condemnation: but the glory of the New Covenant is the glory of the Miniſtration of Life and Righteouſneſs. 4. The (k) glory of the Old Covenant, was but a ſervile glory of bondage, like ſhining golden Fetters: but the glory of the New Covenant is a glory of ſweet filial liberty. 5. The (l) glory of the Old Covenant was an affrighting and dazling glory: But the glory of the New Covenant is an alluring and transforming glory. 6. Finally, The (m) glory of the Old Covenant was vaniſhing: but the glory of the New Covenant is abiding. In all which regards the glory of the New Covenant is a glory far tranſcending and excelling.

V. Hence, How great are the Priviledges of Gods New Covenant-people! To be in a Covenant-leſs condition, is moſt wretched: ſuch are (n) Chriſtleſs, Churchleſs, Hopeleſs and Godleſs in the world. To be in Covenant with God, not only by Outward, but alſo by Inward Fœderation, is moſt advantagious: ſuch are ſafe in the Ark, when the reſt of the world is drowned; ſuch are bleſſed with Abraham, when all the reſt of the world are curſed; ſuch are Gods peculiar Treaſure and ſpecial People with Iſrael, when all the reſt of the world are not his people, &c. But to be Gods ſincere New Covenant-people, in power as well as form, in truth as well as Name, is moſt glorious; As the New Covenants Prehemineneies are above thoſe of all other Covenants. So the New Covenant-peoples Priviledges are above all other Fœderates Priviledges. God hath done much for all his Covenant People in all ages; But he hath done moſt for his New Covenant-People in this laſt age. They had many and great Priviledges, but ours are more and greater. Caſt a diſcreet eye upon the New Covenant, as already here ſet forth, and then extoll and admire the Priviledges of Gods

(n) Eph. 2.12.

Gods New Covenant-people, even our Priviledges. For,

1. We are Fœderates in a Covenant, that hath (o) removed all the darkneſs, weakneſs, imperfections, unprofitablneſs, bondage and gravaminouſneſs of all former Covenants; and that compleatly. So that now we have a Covenant diſveſted of all inconveniencies.

2. We are Fœderates in ſuch a Covenant as is the common Ciſtern, Receptacle and Treaſury of all the light, ſtrength, profitableneſs, perfections, benefits, liberties, ſweetneſs, and comfortableneſs of all fore-going Covenants, Touching (p) Temporals, Spirituals and Eternals. Oh what a Priviledge! God in this New Covenant hath given us his Honey without ſting, his Roſes without prickles, his wine without water, his (q) Burden without weight, his Yoak without trouble.

3. We are Fœderates in ſuch a Covenant as far tranſcendeth and ſurpaſſeth the Old Covenant, and all former Covenants in multiplicity of excellencies: Anſwerable whereunto are our enjoyments, and our Priviledges therein.

Being Gods New Covenant-people,

We have Gods beſt and richeſt Mercies wherewith his New Covenant is furniſhed, Heb. 8. 10, 11, 12.

We have Gods beſt and choiceſt Promiſes, whereupon his New Covenant is eſtabliſhed, Heb. 8. 6, 10, 11, 12.

We have the ſweeteſt way of reſtipulated Duties. All our Duties being (r) comprized in Gods Promiſed mercies, wherein God aſſures us of Ability from himſelf, for all the Duty which he expects from us, yea in effect the Lord himſelf undertakes for our Ability, and for our Duty.

We have the laſt and beſt Diſcoveries of JESUS CHRIST, the only Mediator betwixt God and man, in this New Covenant. Here we may ſee, This Seed of the woman bruiſing the Serpents Head, Col. 2. 14, 15. with Gen. 3. 15. This true Noah ſaving his Elect remnant by water, 1 Pet. 3. 21. with Gen. 6. & 7. This Bleſſed Seed of Abraham, bleſſing all Nations, Acts 3. 25, 26. Gal. 3. 13, 14. with Gen. 12. 3. This true Prophet like Moſes raiſed up from among the People Iſrael, Acts 2. 22, 23. & 7. 37. with Deut. 18. 15. to 20. This Seed and Son of David, ſitting upon his Throne, and ruling the houſe of Jacob for ever, Luke 1. 31, 32, 33. with Pſal. 132. 11. Here we may ſee, the Deſire of all Nations already come into his Temple, the Meſſiah already incarnate and cut off, not for himſelf, but for our ſins; The Sinners only Saviour, Suffering, Dying, Buried, Revived, Raiſed from the Dead, Aſcending into Heaven, and ſet down on Gods right hand in higheſt glory. Never Covenant ſet forth Chriſt ſo fully and gloriouſly as this New Covenant. (s) Many Kings and Prophets deſired to ſee theſe things which we ſee, and have not ſeen them; to hear theſe things which we hear, and have not heard them.

(o) 2 Cor. 3. 6. to the end. Heb. 7. 18, 19, 22. & 8. 6. to the end. & 12. 18. to 25. & 10. 5. to 19. Gal. 4. 22 to the end. & 5. 1, &c.

(r) Heb. 8. 10. 11, 12. See Book IV. chap. 5. ſect. 2. Gener. 2. & 3.

(s) Luke 10. 24.

We have the compleateſt (t) effuſions of the Spirit under this New Covenant.

We have A Covenant moſt excellently Manifeſted, moſt admirably Eſtabliſhed, and moſt Spiritually Adminiſtred. (u) Chriſt himſelf hath Revealed it, Chriſts own blood and the Oath of God hath confirmed it, And by moſt ſpiritual Ordinances, Seals and Cenſures it is Adminiſtred.

We have attained a better ſtate and condition, then was ever attainable under any fore-going Covenant. All (x) former Covenants advanced the Fœderates no higher then to a Servile ſtate of Minority: This New Covenant brings us to a free Son-like ſtate of Maturity.

We are by this New Covenant enſtated in the (y) compleateſt Church that ever was on Earth, viz. The Oecumenical or General Church of God extended to all the Nations of the world.

We are Fœderates in ſuch a Covenant, as (z) hath, doth and will repreſent during its continuance, the moſt rare, deſirable and wonderful occurrents, that were ever diſcovered to the world.

Yea Finally, We have ſuch a Covenant as Abides and Remains when others are Removed, and (a) will continue ſo long as the world ſhall continue; Till it hath gathered all the Elect, Perfected all the Saints, Edified the Church to the top-ſtone, and made all things ready for the bleſſed Return of JESUS CHRIST to Judgement.

VI. Hence, We may, by this New Covenant, very ſweetly aſſure our ſelves that we are Gods New Covenant-People. And I need not ſuperadd any further Diſcoveries, or Notes of Tryal, of our true, inward, ſaving New Covenant-ſtate, but only point at ſuch as have been already laid down in ſeveral places of this fourth Book.

We may be ſolidly and comfortably aſſured that we are truly and ſavingly Gods New Covenant-people.

1. By Gods writing of his Laws in our minds and hearts. Many Notes whereof, See in Book IV. Chap. 5. Sect. 3. Aph. 1. p. 1388. to 1392.

2. By our being furniſhed with true New-Covenant-knowledge of God, and of the things of God. Many Evidences hereof, See in Book IV. Chap. 5. Sect. 3. Aph 1. pag. 1433, 1434, 1435.

3. By Gods actual Remiſſion of our ſins. All of us who have our ſins actually remitted, are Gods ſincere New Covenant-people. Now thoſe that have their ſins Pardoned, may know that their ſins are pardoned, and that by many diſcoveries: Laid down in Book IV. Chap. 5. Sect. 3. Aphor. 1. pag. 1477. to 1481.

4. By our being brought into this New Covenant by being called to CHRIST, and made Chriſts effectually. Now whether we be truly and effectually Chriſts or no, may be diſcovered by many many Evidences thereof, unfolded in Book IV. Chap. 6. Inference IX.

5. By the Lords being our Covenant-God. For if he be savingly our Covenant-God, we must needs be his Covenant-people. These are Relatives. Now we may notably discern whether the LORD be savingly our Covenant-God.

(1) By his Fœderal Impressions and Operations upon us, as our Covenant-God. Here seven are laid down in Book IV. Chap. 5. Sect. 3. Aph. 1. p. 1498, 1499, 1500.

(2) By our Covenant-Relation unto God. Evidenced in 8. Particulars. There, p. 1500. to 1504.

(3) By our deportment and carriage towards him, as towards our God in Covenant. Which is set forth at Large in five particulars. There, p. 1504. to 1511.

These Evidences of our true and salvifical New Covenant state, dispersed in several parts of this fourth Book, are here summarily collected together, and represented in one view unto our eyes. Do we desire to know that we are Gods New Covenant people indeed, and that savingly? Then, consult we all these Topicks of Evidences diligently. Let us weigh our selves in these Sanctuary Scales heedfully; Let us try our selves at these sacred Touch-stones impartially.

VII. Hence, How much doth it concern All, especially us Gentiles To Esteem, Embrace, Rest upon, Conform to, and Triumph in this blessed New Covenant. For, I. Of all Covenants which since the foundation of the world God revealed to man, this New Covenant is; 1. Every way most excellent; and therefore to be esteemed by all. 2. Every way most desirable, amiable, and delectable; and therefore to be embraced by all. 3. Every way most firm, sure, faithful, immutable and irrevocable: and therefore to be believed, assented to, acquiesced in, and rested upon by all. 4. Every way most Holy, Just and Good, most equal, upright, spiritual and heavenly: and therefore to be complyed with, and conformed unto by all. 5. And it is every way, Sufficient for our miseries; Suitable to our necessities; Satisfactory against our scruples, doubts and objections; Confirmatory against our spiritual enemies and their Temptations, & Consolatory against all our imaginable Disconsolations: and therefore it is to be triumphed in by all. II. Of all the people in the world, we Gentiles have far the greatest cause, thus to Esteem, Embrace, Rest upon, Conform to, and Triumph in, this blessed New Covenant. For, 1. From what Extremities of misery did God restore us Gentiles when he brought us first into this New Covenant! we (b) were no people, we had not obtained mercy, we were without Christ, being aliens from the Common-wealth of Israel, and strangers from the Covenants of Promise, having no hope, and without God

(b) Eph. 2. 12, 13. 1 Pet. 2. 8, 9, 10.

God in the world. Could there be a more wretched people in the world, then ſuch Gentiles? 2. To what high Eminencies of Priviledges did God at the very firſt advance us Gentiles, when he accepted us at firſt Fœderates with himſelf in this New Covenant! His own peculiar people the Iews muſt wait many ages for this Covenant, and paſs many Gradual Preparatories, eſpecially under the Old Covenant, before they could be fitted for, and capable of this Covenant: And yet we ſtrangers, aliens, enemies to God, were at once exalted from our deepeſt Paganiſh miſery, to this higheſt New Covenant Felicity. 3. The Gentiles are ſo taken into Covenant, that they are fellow heirs, and of the ſame body with the Jews. This a great myſterie, *Eph.*3.4.to 12. And what more? 4. The Gentiles are ſo (c) Generally and Univerſally taken in as Fœderates with God in this New Covenant, even all profeſt believing Gentiles in all Nations and their ſeed, that their glory far out-ſhines the glory of the very Jews. (d) Sing O barren, thou that didſt not bear, break forth into ſinging and cry aloud thou that didſt not travel with child: for more are the children of the deſolate, then the children of the married wife, ſaith the LORD. The abundant acceſs of the Gentiles to the Church, is the great glory of the Church, Iſa. 60. 1. to the end. And what further? 5. The Gentiles are entertained and retained as Fœderates with God in this New Covenant, when Gods antient Covenant-people the Jews are rejected: (e) Jews are broken off, and Gentiles are graffed in. Gods only people become no people: and they that were not a People become the people of the living God. Behold here the Goodneſs and Severity of God! And what may be further added? 6. When the Jews ſhall again be converted unto God, and graffed in, they ſhall obtain mercy through the Gentiles mercy, as the Gentiles obtained mercy through the Jews unbelief, Rom. 11. 25, 26. to 32. Let all this be duly conſidered, and then all we Gentiles may cry out with the great Doctor of the Gentiles, (f) O the depth, &c. How can we look upon this New Covenant, and not be raviſht with it!

VIII. Hence, Gods New Covenant-people, (anſwerably to this (g) New, Better, and more Illuſtrious Covenant,) ſhould approve themſelves as a New, Better and more Excellent people both in their perſons and converſations. Our hearts and lives, our Inward Conſtitutions, and Outward Converſations ſhould bear an harmonious Agreement and Correſpondency with Divine Diſpenſations under which we live. Thus, (h) Chriſt our Paſſover is ſacrificed for us: therefore we ſhould keep the Feaſt, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedneſs, but with the unleavened bread of Sincerity and Truth. All this New Covenant time ſince the death of Chriſt till the worlds end, is our great Paſſover-Feaſt: therefore it is to be kept without all ſpiritual leaven. Again, (i) —— ye were ſometimes darkneſs, but now now are light in the Lord: walk as children of light, &c. And elſwhere, (k) —— And that, knowing the time, that now it is high time to awake out of ſleep: for now is our ſalvation nearer then when we beleived. (That is, then when we firſt believed.) The night (viz. Of Paganiſm) is far ſpent, the Day (viz. of Chriſtianiſm) is at hand: Let us therefore caſt off the works of Darkneſs, and let us put on the armour of light. Let us walk honeſtly, as in the day, &c. Gods merciful Diſpenſations to us, ſhould be ſtrong obligations upon us. The like we are to judge here touching the New Covenant Diſpenſation under which we live: we ſhould be conform to this New Covenant in Heart and Life. 1. The Covenant is (l) New: ſo ſhould we be New, New Creatures, having New minds by illumination, New Conſciences by Purification, New wills by Renovation, New Affections by Sanctification, and New Lives and actions by Reformation. What a ſhameful incongruity were it for us to perſiſt ſtill in our Old Carnality, in our old ignorance and unbelief, in our old ſins and wicked courſes, under this New Covenant, eſpecially profeſſing our ſelves to be Gods New Covenant-people? 2. This New Covenant is (m) better then ever the Old Covenant was: So ſhould we that are profeſſed Fœderates therein, be a better people then thoſe under the Old. We New Covenant Chriſtians, ſhould be better then the Old Covenant Iews. Better in our minds & Judgements; not having a veil of blindneſs and errour upon them, wandring from Gods truth and will: Reſting in the Law, ſeeking for righteouſneſs by the deeds of the Law, ſtumbling at that ſtumbling ſtone, Rom. 9. 31, 32, 33. Better in our Conſciences: not corrupt, ſecure, erroneous, counting it Duty, and doing God ſervice to betray and murder the Prince of Life Jeſus Chriſt, and to kill his Apoſtles, &c. Better in our wills and hearts: not being perverſe, froward, crooked, ſtubborn, rebellious, hard-hearted, impenitent, earthly, carnal, &c. Better in all our Principles: Abounding much more with love, out of a pure heart, good conſcience, and faith unfeigned, 1 Tim. 1. 5. Better in all our Practiſes: being therein, Not ſuperſtitious, but truly religious; Not ſcandalous, but inoffenſive: Not rebellious, but obſequious unto God; Not carnal and literal, but ſpiritual; Not earthly; but heavenly, Phil. 3. 20. Not hypocritical, but ſincere; Not Apoſtatizing from God and his fear through unbelief, drawing back unto Perdition, but ſtedfaſtly perſevering with God in well-doing, through faith to the ſaving of the ſoul, Heb. 10. 38, 39. 3. This New Covenant is more illuſtrious and excellent then the Old, or any that went before: Proportionably ſo ſhould we, and all that are Gods New Covenant Fœderates, illuſtriouſly excell the Fœderates of old. We ſhould excell them, In maturity of apprehenſions of God and all divine myſteries; In vivacity of faith, (n) living by the Faith of the Son of God; In activity of love, To God and Jeſus Chriſt over all; In fervency of zeal to the glory of Gods moſt excellent Name; In Heroick perfections of all the graces of Sanctification; cation; In deareſt Soul-raviſhing Communion with Father, Son and Holy-Ghoſt; In integrity of obedience to Gods whole revealed will, w th true delight; In unceſſant (o) growth in knowledge, grace and all the perfections of the inner man; In (p) unmovable ſtedfaſtneſs and conſtant abounding in all the work of the Lord; In diligent (q) preſſing towards the mark for the price of the High-calling of God in Jeſus Chriſt; In (r) loving, longing for, and haſtening unto the appearing of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, who ſaid, (ſ) Surely I come quickly. IX. Hence, All bruiſed, diſtreſſed and diſconſolate ſouls ſhould in an eſpecial manner have recourſe to this bleſſed New Covenant for their ſweeteſt and fulleſt conſolations. Much (t) conſolation is to be had from former Covenants and their Promiſes; but moſt of all from this New Covenant and its Promiſes. They abound: but This ſuperabounds. They flow: but This overflows (like the Land of Canaan) with milk and honey of moſt delicious conſolations. What is it that wounds thine heart, ſads thy ſpirit, or makes thy perplexed ſoul droop within thee; which this New Covenant will not remove? 1. Is it guilt of ſin: 2. Is it the wrath of God: 3. Is it the groſs darkneſs of thy mind: 4. Is it the hardneſs, deceitfulneſs, and vileneſs of thine heart: 5. Is it the want of ſpiritual excellencies and abilities: 6. Is it the greatneſs of the diſtance betwixt God, Chriſt and thee: 7. Is it the great difficulty or ſeeming impoſſibility of ever obtaining aſſurance of ſalvation: 8. It is the reliques of corruption: 9. Is it the fears and dangers of back-ſliding: 10. Is it any Inward or Outward wants: 11. Is it ſtrong and violent Temptations: 12. Is it ſad and diſmaying deſertions: 13. Is it ſharp Afflictions or Perſecutions: 14. Or Is it the very terrours & pangs of death it ſelf? Is it any, or many, or all of theſe, that fills thee with diſcomfort, and girds thee about with Sackcloath? Againſt all and every one of theſe, this New Covenant is a moſt rich and precious Antidote; as (u) hath been abundantly evidenced in every one of theſe Particulars. Come hither therefore O thou poor toſſed and weather-beaten ſoul; that (x) walkeſt in darkneſs and haſt no light: Learn here of this New Covenant to wait upon the Lord, and ſtay thy ſelf upon thy God: Come Anchor in this ſweet Haven of peace: Come lick the honey out of this Rock; Come draw and drink water out of theſe wells of ſalvation with joy. Theſe New Covenant-conſolations, are the ſweeteſt, ſtrongeſt and moſt laſting conſolations.

in the Earthly Paradiſe: This laſt and higheſt Expreſſure of the New Covenant, will End in the Heavenly Paradiſe. This New Covenant which is to continue (z) till the worlds end, will reach to the very Borders of the Heavenly Countrey, the cœleſtial Canaan: And of all Covenants the ſublime Nature of it is moſt neerly elevated to the Perfection of the Heavenly Fælicity. The three Firſt Covenants with Adam, Noah and Abraham, were ſuitable to the Churches Extream Infancy: The Old Covenant, as alſo thoſe with David, and the Captives in Babylon, were anſwerable to the Churches Non-age and Minority: But this New Covenant is moſt agreeable to the Churches full-age and Maturity. Under the three Firſt, the Church was only Domeſtical, in Private Families: In the three next, the Church was come to be National, in that One Nation of the Jews: In this laſt the New Covenant, the Church becomes Oecumenical, being generally extended to all Nations of the world. In thoſe CHRIST was only Promiſed: In this CHRIST is actually Performed and Exhibited. In thoſe Redemption, Reconciliation and Salvation of Sinners was fore-ſhadowed: In this all theſe glorious things are actually fulfilled. In thoſe there was much of Heaven: In this there is moſt of all. In this, the Truth of God is moſt clear, The myſteries of God are moſt plain, The Grace of God diſcovers it ſelf moſt full and free, The Goſpel of God is moſt glorified, The People of God are moſt multiplyed, The Saints of God are moſt perfected, And the Church of God is moſt compleated and Prepared for the eternal Solemnities of her Marriage with the Lamb, Where (a) the Reward of Vertue (as Auguſtine ſweetly) will be, he that is the giver of vertue, who hath promiſed himſelf, then whom nothing can be better or greater, &c. When we ſhall be like him, for that we ſhall ſee him as he is, 1 Joh. 3. 2. —We ſhall Reſt and See, we ſhall See and Love, we ſhall Love and Laud. Lo this ſhall be, in the End, without End. Oh happy New Covenant that at laſt will incloſe the Church in the boſom of God, and bliſsful Arms of Jeſus Chriſt! Make haſte my beloved, and be thou like to a Roe, or to a young Hart upon the Mountains of Spices, Cant. 8. 14. —And the Spirit and the Bride ſay, come; and let him that heareth ſay, come: and Chriſt himſelf ſaith, Behold I come quickly. Amen. Even ſo come Lord Jeſus, Rev. 22. 17, 20.

It is not an humane Remiſſion, Fraternal, or Miniſterial: but Divine, and that not particular, but univerſal. p. 1457, &c. 2. It is diſtinct from mortification. p. 1458. 3. Strictly and properly taken, it is not the All, but only a part of our Juſtification: but largely and improperly it is All. p. 1458. 1459. 4. Strictly taken it moſt properly conſiſts in removal of the offence done to God, and abſolving of the ſinner from guilt, viz. from his obligation to endure the puniſhment of death for ſuch offence. p. 1459. to 1461. 5. God alone remits ſin, ſix reaſons. p. 1461. to 1463. 6. God pardons ſin freely of his own meer grace, without any deſert in the ſinner. p. 1463, &c. 7. God remits ſin only upon and for Chriſts ſatiſfaction to his Juſtice for ſin, by his obedience and death, evinced four waies. p. 1464. to 1466. 8. God actually remits ſin to believing, and repenting ſinners, and (in his ordinary diſpenſation) to them only. Hence, ſix conſectaries. p. 1466. to 1470. 9. When God ſavingly Pardons ſin to the believing and repenting ſinner, he Pardons fully and finally, all his ſins paſt and preſent, but not his ſins to come. p. 1470. to 1473. 10. Gods Elect whoſe ſins are Pardoned, do daily need renewed Pardons for renewed ſins, p. 1473. 11. Pardon of ſin is not compleat and conſummate till the day of judgement, p. 1474. 12. Sin may remain in pardoned Perſons, yet God accounts ſuch, not ſinners, but righteous. p. 1475. 13. Sin may be pardoned, when the ſenſe of that Pardon is ſuſpended, and the contrary ſenſe of Gods wrath continued, for four reaſons. p. 1475, &c. 14. Where God remits ſin, &c. there he accepts the perſon as righteous. p. 1476, &c. III. To know that our ſins are remitted, 1. Is moſt comfortable and deſirable. 2. Is difficult. 3. Is poſſible. 4. Is obtained ordinarily five waies. p. 1477. to 1481. IIII.
